Mr. Walter Stocker brought up the question yesterday of the small grant received from the county authorities, and referred to five county children, one from Buckhorn, one from Apsley, three from Norwood, who have been taken into the Shelter during the last month. Mr. Malott agreed with Mr. Stocker, that the County Council should be once more interviewed with regard to increasing the grant to the Children's Aid Society. Mr. Edgar was of the opinion that a better method would be to let the matter stand at present, and then bill the county with the cost of maintenance of its uncared-for children, the amount of the account, in his opinion, probably being far in excess of the small grant received from the Council. According to him, it was within the legal rights of the Society to demand payment of such account. Mr. H. B. Cowan agreed with this view, but, on the question going to a vote, it was decided to send a deputation, composed of Messrs. Walter Stocker (convenor), H. B. Cowan, F. H. Dobbin, J. Edgar and Mesdames Gibbs, Welsh, Fanning and Knox, to interview the Council at their next meeting. Mrs. Joseph Knox was of the opinion that the action of the Council in making such a small grant was due to their lack of knowledge of the actual work carried on by the Society in caring for neglected children.

Additional Medical Attention.

Mr. H. B. Cowan made the suggestion that another doctor be added to the Board, to help with care of sick children at the Shelter. Dr. D. C. King, the present Board physician, had done a great deal of hard work in this connection, and, during his unavoidable absence at times, the Shelter was left without adequate medical attention in case of sickness among the children. It was decided that Dr. King's co-operation be requested in choosing a substitute for such work.

Live Stock.

Mr. W. Stocker suggested that a cow would be a welcome addition to the assets of the Shelter, enlarging on his original idea by adding fifty chickens and two or three pigs to the suggested farm family. The idea met with the approval of the entire Board, Mr. B. F. Ackerman remarking that the cost of supplying milk to Nicholls Hospital had been cut to about one-third of the original amount by the institution maintaining its own cows. The purchasing committee was given power to buy a cow, the ladies requesting the assistance of Messrs. W. Stocker and H. B. Cowan in the transaction.

Rev. F. E. Malott.

Mr. Malott, in tendering his resignation as president of the Society, referred in feeling terms to the splendid support received by him from members of the Society during his tenure of office, commending particularly the work of the ladies at the Shelter. His resignation was received with "deep regret" by the vice-president, Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, in the name of the society, and the following resolution was then read by the secretary, Mr. John Edgar:

"To Rev. F. E. Malott, B.A. — Dear Mr. Malott: We, the members of the Children's Aid Society of Peterborough, City and County, desire to express our deep regret at the necessity of your departure from our city and to express our most sin-

YOUR HAIR CUT AND FREE EATS

West of the river the barber fraternity are watching with interest the local warfare in the trade in East City, according to report.

Two East City tonsorial artistes are said to be engaged in a trade war that started a week ago after various skirmishes had taken place. One cut the price of hair cuts and shaves, the other countered with a more drastic cut, and so the cost of getting groomed tonsorially has gone down and down, until one of th two down and down, until one of the two is alleged to have declared that if the other started free cuts he would not only give free cuts, but would go one better by giving away free chocolate bars to his patrons.

The latest advice from the scene of battle is to the effect that one is charging 25 cents for hair cuts and the other 35 cents, and that on Monday the barber charging 35 cents is going to throw a broadside into his opponent by announcing hair cuts at 20 cents and shaves at 10 cents—Prices that prevailed a generation ago.

The barber fraternity west of the river are more amused than alarmed by the downward movement in East City, and say that it will have no effect on the general prices.

The barber who first cut his prices is alleged to have instituted an unpopular movement to have the hours for keeping open at night extended to 7.30 or 8 o'clock, instead of 7, and when the other barbers expressed disapproval of the proposal, he is said to have replied, 'that he would cut the prices, then."

NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL MEETING

The Council of the Township of North Monaghan, held their regular monthly meeting at the Court House on Monday of this week, with all of the members present, and Reeve Rye presiding.

Miss L. Hurley was present at this meeting and presented a petition, requesting the Township Council to intercede in the matter of having a road opened through private property from High street to Ford avenue. No action was taken by the Council at present.

A resolution was passed, authorizing the clerk to notify two of the past collectors that the municipality holds them responsible for arrears of taxes collected by them, and that they must settle with the county treasurer for same. A resolution was also passed that Mr. Fallis, tax collector, continue to collect all dog taxes remaining unpaid.

Re Park Lot One.

A communication was read from the Department of Lands and Forests, Toronto, with regard to Park Lot One, Township Lot 13, Concession 11, Miss Anna Crawford having made application to the Department during the past winter for title to the said Lot One. An inspection was made bp an official of the Department, which thereupon stated their terms and conditions to the municipality and a meeting was arranged for Tuesday evening, at which the matter will be fully discussed. If the municipality becomes the owner of the said Park Lot One, it does so under certain conditions, as defined in a letter from the Department. All boat-houses and anything that might be considered a public nuisance must be removed from the said property, which must be used solely for park purposes for the benefit of the general public. The continuation of Monaghan road from Concession 10 to the river must also be open to the public.

Salaries and Allowances.

The following salaries and sessional allowances were passed and ordered to be paid: Fees for Council and committee meetings: H. B. Rye 48, R. T. Lillico $48, R. A. Dobbin $36, J. S. Bell $30 Jno. Barnes $27. To Bert Sanderson, one-half year's salary as assessor, $112.50; W. H. Bradburn, one-half year's salary as treasurer, $100; Bruce Johnston, one-half year's salary as clerk, $230.

A resolution was passed that men and teams working on the wheel scraper in the gravel pit be paid fifty cents per day extra, or $5.50 a day.

Accounts Passed.

The following accounts were passed and ordered to be paid: Bert Sanderson, for repairs to town hall fence, $6.50; E. H. Mann & Co., lumber for culverts, $42.81; A. Comstock & Sons, for burial of unknown child found in St. Peter's cemetery, $18.00; Peterborough Examiner, for printing and display ads, $31.50; A. E. Saunders, groceries (charity), $4.01; Jas. Juby, ditto, $3.25; Robt. Fair & Co., clothing (charity) $4.18; Cressman Co., Ltd., ditto, $15.03; W. J. Byers, groceries (charity) 93 cents; W. J. Byers, ditto, $23.03.

The meeting then adjourned until the next regular meeting on Monday, July 10th.

TO SEEK INCREASED GRANT, ETC.

cere appreciation of your valuable services to our Society. You have been a striking exception to the rule that ministers generally take only a perfunctory interest in the work we are doing, and ever since coming to our city you have been one of the most active members of our Executive, the last two years being our honored President. We will miss you very greatly, but we rejoice that you go to fill one of the most important Methodist pulpits in the Province. Even as the people of Trinity Church, Peterborough, love and admire you now, so will the people of Bridge Street Church, Belleville, love and admire you in a very short time.

"We thank you for the co-operation you have given us; we wish you continued health and vigor for your increased activities; and we pray that a gracious Providence will some day bring you and Mrs. Malott back to our midst.

Alice Sanderson, Vice-President.
John Edgar, Secretary.

Mr. Malott expressed himself as "deeply moved" by the eulogy of the Board, and once again reiterated the pleasure experienced in his happy relations with it.

Mr. Edgar then announced the name of Mr. B. F. Ackerman as Mr. Malott's successor, which received the unanimous approval of the members, and Mr. Ackerman accepted in a few brief words, asking for the support and co-operation of the members.

Mr. Malott suggested the name of the Rev. Harold W. Young for membership of the Board, seconded by Mr. W. Sangster, and approved by the members.

There were present at yesterday's meeting: Rev. F. E. Malott (chairman), Mesdames Kimberley, Knox, Wright, Devey, Hodgson, Fanning, Gibbs, Sanderson, Hopwood, Welsh, Messrs. Edgar, Powell, Cowan, Ackerman, Stocker, Cummer, Sangster, Dobbin.

Donations.

A list of donations, read by Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, included: Mrs. Mowat, 1 can fruit, 1 dozen oranges; A Friend, toys; Normal School, cake and sandwiches; St. Paul's Church, milk; H. H. Cameron, sandwiches; Kiwanis Club, cake, pie and meat; St. John's Church, meat, salads and bread; Mrs. Bard, clothing; Mrs. R. A. McKee, coat and stockings; Mrs. R. McGill Hood, clothing; Mr. Malott, records. Mrs. Best's Sunday School Class entertained the children of the Shelter and provided their tea.

Accounts.

Accounts for the month were as follows: Peterborough Milk Products, $12.70; L. M. Brooks, $7.50; W. H. Hamilton, $2.55; Peterborough Hardware Co., $3.10; Coleman Bros., $30.00; H. Abramson, $5.62; Turnbull Co., $3.75; Mrs. J. P. Bickell $7.73; Jopling & Sons $7.46; Warne Drug Co., $1.50; W. E. Leopold, $1.12; Telephone bills, $6.38; G. W. Powell, $2.90; Veteran Bread Co., $12.32; Utilities Commission, 97c; Delegates' expenses to convention, $18.90; total, $124.50.

Mr. Powell's report showed applications for children, 5; children brought in (not wards), 3; children made wards, 4; wards placed out, 4; returned to Shelter, 2; wards visited, 25.

The matron's report gave the total number in the Shelter during the month as 18, with 3 sent out and 5 brought in.

LITTLE WELSHMAN AGAIN SUCCESSFUL WEATHERS STORM

205 TO 111.

LONDON, June 14. — (Canadian Press.)—Premier Lloyd George successfully resisted another powerful attack in the House of Commons yesterday when a proposal to reduce the vote for the cost of his Cabinet secretariat was rejected by 205 to 111 amid scenes of excitement. The majority was considerably smaller than customary and caused shouts of "Resign."

The secretariat consists of the Premier's private secretaries, with a large staff, costing about £33,000 yearly. It is an outgrowth of the war and in the opinion of the Opposition parties is no longer needed, giving the Premier too great an executive control, especially in the domain of foreign policy, besides destroying the traditional cabinet secrecy, as the members of the secretariat now attend Cabinet meetings and take notes.

Mr. Asquith attacked the system mainly on this ground, inasmuch as it destroyed the confidential nature of Cabinet Councils.

Austen Chamberlain, defending the vote, said he had had experience with both systems and greatly preferred the new one. He would not think of again returning to the old unbusiness-like practice, when the only record of Cabinet business was a brief letter, perhaps, from the Premier to the King.

Mr. Lloyd George, in discussing the subject, predicted that no responsible Minister in the future would cast away this new machine. He denied that the secretariat exercised mysterious functions or usurped the functions of Parliament, or enabled the Prime Minister to override the Parliament's decision. The secretariat had nothing to do with politics; it had no control over foreign policy. He asserted that the world wanted new methods, and ridiculed the idea that there should be a return to the old system, which had plunged the world into war.

TEMPERANCE ACT IS UPHELD IN THE MANITOBA COURTS

MOOSEJAW, June 14.—(Canadian Press).—Justice Taylor in a judgment handed down yesterday in the application of the Canada Drugs Limited, heard before him at Regina ten days ago, in which it was sought to have the Saskatchewan Temperance Act declared ultra vires, finds that the clauses in the Act referred to are intra vires of the Saskatchewan legislatures and dismissed the application.

The question under review by the court relate to the export business. The provisions of the Act attacked prohibit the keeping of liquor stocks and sales records to the liqthousand population, also prohibit transporting liquor by automobiles and requires the export companies to make weekly returns of their stocks and sal s records to the liquor commission.

Counsel for plaintiff company announced that the decision will be taken to the court of appeals at a sitting to be held within the next few days.

GOOD CROP REPORTS COME FROM WEST.

WINNIPEG, June 14 (Canadian Press). — The Canadian National Railway crop report for the week ended 10th June shows continued favourable conditions in all parts of the West.

During the week there were rains everywhere, which furnished moisture where it was most needed, and benefited the young crops generally.

The hot spell in the early part of the week was succeeded by cool weather, which checked the too rapid growth, and is causing better stooling.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(Canadian Press)—Attack on the Shipping Board for permitting the sale of liquor on United States ships was made in the House to-day by representative Gallivan, Massachusetts.

Holding up what he said was a wine list from the steamship, President Pierce, paid for, he added, by Federal appropriation, Mr. Gallivan declared that under the Volstead Law "we cannot get drunk on land, but we can at sea."

There was a roar from members as the Massachusetts rereseantative read from the list to show that American rye whiskey could be bought aboard ship at twenty cents a drink, "and Jamaica rum—think of it— for two bits."

HAS OPTION TO SELL OR RECLAIM HIS FARM

Judgment For Apsley Minister in Real Estate Deal.

Judgment was given Monday by Mr. Justice Middleton in the case of Samuel Robson of Toronto against Rev. Wm. Hall of Apsley. Two years ago Mr. Hall sold Robson a farm near Pontypool receiving a deposit of $600. Afterwards discovering apparent defects in the title Robson entered action against Hall for the return of the deposit. Hall counterclaimed for the balance of the purchase price. In the judgment the claim of Robson was dismissed and Hall was given the choice of either the balance of the purchase price or repossession of the farm and the retention of the $600 as damages for breach of contract. Mr. John MacBeth of Toronto acted for Robson and Mr. Joseph Wearing for Rev. Mr. Hall

GOVERNMENT WINS OUT ON BUDGET IN EARLY HOURS OF THE MORNING

MISS McPHAIL VOTED WITH OPPOSITION.

OTTAWA, June 14.—(Canadian Press. — In the early hours this morning by a vote of 119 to 101, the House of Commons carried the sixteenth Fielding budget. A majority of 18 was unexpectedly large. Nine Progresives and one Independent voted with the Government. The Progresives were Reid, Hodgins, Elliott (Dundas), Elliott (Waterloo), Sexsmith, Hammell, McBride, Binnette and Humphrey. The Independent was Neill (Comox, Alberini.) The division bells rang for the vote on the Drayton amendment at 12.10 this morning. Crowded galleries watched each member vote. The vote as finally announced was 51 for to 169 against. Miss Agnes Macphail (Progressive) voted with the Conservatives, as did also Messrs. Irwin and Woodsworth (Labor) and E. J. Garland, Progressive of Bow River. Mr. Meighen called attention to the fact that eight Progressives did not vote and they were then asked to do so.

He mentioned members of the Calgary seats, one from Winnipeg and, the member for South-east Grey, Miss MacPhail. He pointed to the rule of the House that all the members in their seats must vote unless paired.

"No loafing on the job," commented Hon. James Murdock, reminding the House of the stirring time he had some weeks ago with Labor men loafing on the job.

The members who did not vote were then called upon to declare themselves. A couple of them led by Mr. Shaw of Calgary, said if they voted they would have voted against the amendment. Again Mr. Meighen rose, "I desire to call your attention, Mr. Speaker to the fact that they are not voting," he said, "and it had to be done all over again."

Upon recount clerk said vote on amendment was 49 to 169. It is thought an error occurred as ten of members stood up in response to call of Speaker and revised figures do not tally when ten names are added to first count. There were four vacant seats among Conservatives and four among Liberals.

Second vote caused tense excitement. Whips looked worried. Vote was taken on Liberal side. Not a Liberal bolted. Then the assistant clerk looked across floor. There was short pause for nobody rose. There was no order of voting over on that side pause to some meant good omen to others evil. Then up rose A. W. Neill, Comox, Alberta, to vote with government. Clerks calling of names was lost in up roar from Liberal benches, for when that vote was nearly sufficient. Others rose, but nobody could hear names so terrific was the applause from the Liberal side. Speaker Lemeux was obliged to call for order and there after names. Then up rose Ontario and British Columbia Progressives. At about the fifth vote from Progressive Party the face of the Prime Minister relaxed into a smile. The Government was safe. Even Sir Lomer Gouin, Sphinx of Canadian policies thrust his paper aside almost playfully and smiled at his colleagues. Mr. Fielding remained calm as ever. When vote was announced there was a silence where a pin drop could be heard. After announcement, bedlam broke loose in house. Liberals applauded and cheered and threw papers. Over at Conservative and Progressive camps they cheered also, because they had the government down to the narrowest majority of the session.

TENSE INTEREST.

Throughout the day the debate had proceeded almost listlessly but to crowded galleries and with an under current of tense interest. Every gallery was packed from early afternoon until the House divided on the main motion at 1.30 in the morning.

The Government majority was the result of a division in the Progressive ranks. It was expected that three or perhaps four of Progressives would vote with the Government.

The vote on the main motion came after the division on the Drayton amendment, which sought to censure the government for "flagrant violation" of pledges amounting to "disregard of political honor," tending to "lower standard of public life." This was declared defeated by a majority of 116, namely, against 169, for 51. The amendment had the solid support of Conservatives. Liberals voted solidly against it. Five Progressives among them being Miss MacPhail, voted for the amendment, the remainder against it.

Following the adoption of the main budget motion the House formally resolved itself into Committee on Ways and Means, but almost immediately afterwards reported progress and adjourned. The budget resolutions will now be considered in committee in detail.

MANY ATTEND GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

FEDERAL AID.

VICTORIA, B.C., June 14—(Canadian Press).—The second day of the Canadian Good Roads Convention opened here yesterday with a considerably increased number of delegates in attendance.

J. A. Duchastel of Outremont, Que., presided and addresses were given by G. P. Graham, Engineer of Albany, N.Y., on asphalt and its use in highway construction; by A. W. Campbell, Chief Commissioner of Highways, Dominon Government, Ottawa and by J. C. Robertson, Deputy Minister of Public Works, Alberta, who spoke on 'how to improve earth, clay and sand roads."

.."Federal aid, its implications and results, was "the title of an address given by A. W. Campbell of Ottawa. He first complimented the Canadian Good Roads Association for the important part it was playing in the promotion of good roads in Canada.

Proper location of roads and more economic methods in construction and maintenance are important factors which must receive proper consideration.

The speaker said he was surprised at the amount of good roads construction going on in Canada and it would only be a few years before every section of the Dominion constructed all the permanent roads required. There are 18,000 miles of main roads in the various provinces and in due course these would be linked up so that there would be a main highway across Canada. He referred to the operation of the Highway Aid Act, passed in 1919 providing for the Federal aid to provincial road undertakings under the sixty-forty basis for main highways. Every kind of road from dirt to concrete in every part of Canada was receiving aid.

No one section of Canada was progressing more than another, but all were making big headway in road construction.

One department of construction and one for maintenance in Government engineering branches was suggested by Mr. Campbell, who said that now is the time to organize for maintenance.

DIVERS LOCATED TREASURE BOXES.

One of Seven Large Boxes Brought to Canada By Jesuites About to Be Recovered.

PENATANG, June 14. — (Canadian Press.)—Buried beneath the waters of River W-ye for more than three hundred years, the long lost treasure box of Jesuit mission to Huronia has been located by the needle of a magnetic diving rod. It lies beneath twenty feet of water and mud and divers are now starting to raise it. The needle shows that the box contains gold in great quantities.

One of seven boxes brought to New France by jesuits was lost and never recovered, and records show that it contained altar candelabra and pay chest of troops who accompanied the mission. If this is true the value of the find will be enormous, as vestments were of solid gold and a present of the court of France.

WRITS SERVED ON TOBACCO COMPANIES

NEW YORK, June 14.—(Canadian Press.)—Writs of mandamus commanding the American Tobacco Company and P. Lorillard and papers concerned in the investigation of the alleged "Tobacco Trust" were handed down late yesterday by Federal Judge Knox.

Tre Federal trade investigation resulted from complaints alleging the American and Lorillard Companies were violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

FOUR MEN CHARGED WITH ROBBING BANK

SARNIA, June 14.—(Canadian Press)—True bills on a charge of robery with violence at Wyoming last October, were brought in against the four Londoners, F. McMullen, G. Anderson, G. Yohn and W. Ayers arrested last month on suspicion of being the bandits, by the Grand Jury at the opening of the general sessions of the Peace, county of Lambton June sittings here yesterday. The trial will open today.

MANY DROWNED IN RIVER FLOOD.

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, June 14 (Canadian Press). —Three hundred persons are known to have been drowned and many persons are missing, following an abnormal rise in the Acolhuate and Arenal Rivers, which overflowed their banks and joined together in one stream inundating the candelaria of this city.

Several houses were swept away by the raging torrent.

PREMIER SURVIVES POWERFUL ATTACKS.

LONDON, June 14. — (Canadian Press.)—Premier Lloyd George sustained another powerful attack in the House of Commons yesterday, when the proposal to reduce the vote for cost of his cabinet secretariat was rejected by 205 to 111.

JAP POLICY UNCHANGED.

TOKIO, Japan, June 14 (Canadian Press). — The change in Japan's Cabinet will not alter the nation's policy to give effect to the agreements reached at the Washington Conference, said a statement yesterday by Foreign Minister Uchida.

6 CONDITIONS ON WHIGH GERMANY WILL PAY DEBTS

Editorial in a Prominent Berlin Newspaper Used to Present the Views of Hugo Stinnes.

THE POINTS.

BERLIN, June 14. — (Canadian Press.) —Under the caption "Germany's Six Points," the Deutsche Allgermeine Zeitung this morning in an edtiorial, evidently inspired by Hugo Stinnes, designated half a dozen specific conditions on which the Entente must yield before Germany is enabled to fulfill her reparations obligations. The six points, the fulfillment of which the Allgemeine Zeitung declares would essentially enable Germany to regain her feet and become solvent as follows:

"First— Evacuation of Duisburg, Dusseldorf and Ruhrort and abolition of the 26 per cent. export levy.

"Second —Evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine.

"Third— Evacuation of the Saar Basin.

"Fourth—Free trade for Germany with Danzig and through the corridor specified in the Versailles Treaty.

The newspaper likens the German industrial system to a body which today is merely a torso and is daily subjected to further "white bleeding." Despite this, it says, such a body is expected to work and lift its burdens, which is impossible.

ELECTION RESULTS ARE AIRED IN COURT.

OTTAWA, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Concluding argument was heard by the Supreme Court of Canada yesterday in the controverted election case of Calgary West.

The case is an appeal by the Hon. R. B. Bennett, claiming that he is entitled to represent Calgary West in the Dominion Parliament.

On election day, the returning officer declared Mr. Bennett elected with a majority of six votes, but this was changed, on recount, to a majority of 16 for Mr. Shaw and on the petition to Judges to a majority of 17 for Mr. Shaw.

The Supreme Court reserved judgment.

COAL OPERATORS WILL STAND FAST

Statement Says They Are Not Even Considering Renewing Contract With Striking Miners.

NEW YORK, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Samuel D. Warringer, the spokesman for the anthracite coal operators, issued a statement yesterday denying reports that the operators were contemplating, "or even considering," renewal of the contract with striking coal miners, which expired on 1st April.

"The operators," declared Mr Warriner, "are firm in the position they have taken that unless the miners are willing to consider our proposal for a decrease in wages, the only alternative is appointment by the President of a tribunal, "to ascertain and consider all the facts and determine the questions concerning wages and conditions of employment at issue between us."

FRENCH EXPERTS CHOSEN FOR THE HAGUE MEETING

Charles Benoist Will Be at the Head of the French Delegation. Other Prominent Men.

STARTS JUNE 15.

Paris, June 14. — (Canadian Press) — Charles Benoist, French Minister at The Hague, will head the delegation which France will send to The Hague. The delegation however, will only attend the preliminary meeting on June 15th, the experts not being expected to arrive until later, about June 25.

The Premier has nominated the following experts: M. Alphand, of the Foreign Office, who is director of the office of private property interests created under the Versailles and other treaties; Count Massigli, secretary of the Ambassadors' Council; M. Charle, of the Ministry of France; Francois Poncet, Director of the Bureau of Economic Studies and Professor A. G. De Lapradelle of the law faculty of the University of Paris, legal expert.

M. Poincare will on Thursday take 150,000 france from the amount left over from the 500,000 francs voted for the Genoa Conference, to defray the expenses of The Hague delegation.

H. E. HOOPER DIES.

NEW YORK, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Horace Everett Hooper, 50, president of Encyclopaedia Brittanica, Inc., died yesterday at his home in Bedford Hills.

THE TAX ON CHEQUES.

The modification of the stamp tax on cheques, as announced by Hon. Mr. Fielding on Monday, is a change that will meet with approval, although there will undoubtedly be criticism from those who oppose the imposition of a graded tax and prefer a fixed tax on all bills, regardless of their amount. Mr. Fielding has not abandoned the graded tax system. He still proposes to make it two cents per unit of $50, but he has made a very important change, inasmuch as he has placed a limitation upon the tax, extending up to the amount of $5,000, which would mean a tax of $2. No matter how much the value of the cheque exceeds $3,000, only $2 will be required as a tax. It was first proposed that the tax would increase 2c for every $50, with no limit, so that on a cheque for $100,000 the tax would have been $40, instead of $2. Mr. Fielding, however, has listened to the argument of financiers who have pointed out to him that many large transactions where huge sums of money are involved are handled on a very small margin of profit, and the stamp tax as first laid down in the Budget would have in many cases greatly reduced these profits, if indeed it did not wipe them out completely. In its present form the tax on cheques should produce a considerable amount of revenue, and at the same time the burden will be fairly well distributed.

EVERYBODY'S RESPONSIBILITY.

For some time The Examiner, actuated by the increasing number of accidents, has endeavored to impress upon motorists the necessity of a more faithful observance of the traffic regulations and of the need for careful sane driving. There is, however, another angle to the question. The pedestrian as well as the man at the wheel of a car has to bear some share of the responsibility. And just as there are drivers who seem to think that people on foot have no right to be on the streets at all, there are many pedestrians who conduct themselves as if there were no such thing as a car in the world. They not only cut suddenly across a street in the middle of a block, but even at the street intersections they wander over the roadway as if there were no cars within miles. The result is that motorists who are conscientiously endeavoring to carry out the regulations and to drive according to the dictates of common sense, finds themselves under a nervous strain scores of times every day. Just as it is imperative that car owners must take every precaution to avoid accidents, it is equally necessary that many pedestrians should learn to appreciate the fact that the advent of the motor car has laid new obligations upon them as well. Especially should the children be taught that under present-day conditions the streets are not safe playgrounds, and that it is necessary to be constantly on the look-out for the menace of the speeding car. There are too many accidents, and the blame cannot all be laid upon the shoulders of the motorists. Those who walk, as well as those who drive, must realize the necessity of co-operative effort to make conditions on our streets safer for everybody.

"A CRAVEN FEAR OF BEING CREAT."

Demagogues who denounce industrial combinations would, logically, have no objection to unsuccessful combinations. No improved service to the public, no increased employment at higher wages, no triumph over the foreign competitor by the production of an indisputably better article, would compensate, in his mind, for the fact that some people concerned in the combination would thereby grow rich. This is the basis of the objection to a combination of independent steel companies. If the steel corporation is a monopoly—and the Department of Justice spent many millions of the taxpayers' money to discover that it was not—the demagogue is fighting to preserve that monopoly.

Stripped of all apology, efficiency is a monopoly in itself, like a patent. The man who can perform a necessary service better than anybody else will name his own price. There will be a public capable of appreciating the best which will insist upon his employment. But the demagogue demands two incompatible things. He wants cut-throat competition, not to benefit the consumer but to keep the competitors poor; and he wants regulation, with fixed prices and conditions of service, as, for instance, in the business of transportation. Cut-throat competition inevitably creates monopolies, and has exactly that end.

Obviously these two things will not go together. The United States Steel Corporation was organized with wisdom and vision. It was a genuine combination, where every part helped every other part; and it developed an efficiency which set it easily above its competitors. It has the honorable record of keeping prices down, especially during the temptations of the war, when some independent concerns wish to charge everything they could extort. Its present price for steel billets is still measured by Carnegie's cut-throat reduction to $17 a ton, a price which he well knew was ruining his competitors, for he was at the same time buying scrap from the very purchasers of his billets at $19 a ton. But this false price is always offered in comparison with anything established since, by demagogues who bank on the ignorance of the public.

No experience seems to teach them anything. They persuaded the Supreme Court to resolve the Standard Oil Company into its thirty-three constituent parts. They did not see that the consumer would have to pay for thirty-three managements instead of one. He paid it in a triple price for gasoline. It had previously been treated as a by-product of petroleum, and sold below the producing cost for any of the constituent companies, although not at a loss in a large and economical amalgamation.

To anyone of common sense the only competition with efficiency is more efficiency. The way to secure this in the steel trade is by an amalgamation as reciprocally helpful, a management as sound and disinterested as that which is given to the United States Steel Corporation. But the demagogue doesn't want a merger and doesn't want a monopoly. It would be useless to ask him what he does want. He doesn't know.—Wall Street Journal

A MUCH BETTER PLAN.

By a simple and unique plan, Mr. Fielding has made the dumping of German goods into Canada impossible, and thus removed the feature of his original Budget proposals which had caused so much anxiety among manufacturers in Peterborough and throughout the Dominion. Under the system adopted by the late Government, German goods were valued for Customs purposes at 11.9 cents per mark, or fifty per cent. of the pre-war value of the mark. Mr. Fielding in his first Budget speech proposed the cancellation of these regulations, and with no other safeguard provided the proposal would, if put into effect, have given German manufacturers, with their low labor and operating costs, an opportunity to flood Canada with their products at prices that neither Canadian nor British firms could possibly meet. The peril in such a situation to Canadian industry was apparent, and manufacturers everywhere in Canada voiced their protests. The Finance Minister has recognized the justice of the complaints and has evolved a new plan that protects the industries of this country from unfair competition on the part of German or Austrian manufacturers. Mr. Fielding imported into Canada by requiring that if the articles are of a kind manufactured in Britain, their value for Customs purposes shall be the same as the British value, while if they are goods of a nature not made in Britain, the value of similar goods manufactured in some neighboring country, such as Holland or Switzerland, whose currency is not depreciated, will be taken as a basis. That is a plan that is original and that overcomes the defect in Mr. Fielding's first proposal which opened the way for the dumping of German goods in this country. The gap has been closed by the new plan, and the change is a welcome one.

FOREST FIRES.

There is always danger that in the stress of immediate danger measures will be put in force which, if continued after the particular exigency is past, became instruments of autocracy, says the Monetary Times. Such was Canada's experience with Government by Order-in-Council under the War Measures Act. During the past two weeks there has been a rather acute situation in the danger of forest fires in Eastern Canada, and it is reported that the Quebec Cabinet at a session on Wednesday passed an Order-in-Council empowering the Government to close forest lands to anyone who has not a permit. Such a measure does not seem unduly strict, yet it might be so administered as to be autocratic, or lead to others which would be.

Campers are undoubtedly too careless in their methods, and by the time a fire is discovered the guilty party is too far away or the evidence too uncertain to prove his guilt. According to G. C. Piche, the chief forestry engineer, of Quebec, the recent fires had their origin in the heart of the forests far removed from settlements or habitation of any kind, and equally far removed from railway tracks. Mr. Piche discredits entirely the spontaneous combustion theory, and the only remaining alternative is that these fires were started by campers or sportsmen, who neglected to put out their fires or threw cigar and cigarette butts away, without making sure they were out.

Another thing which increases the fire danger is the amount of slack that is heaped up after extensive lumbering operations. This can be prevented by stricter forestry regulations. The control is a more delicate matter, however, for absolute security would mean complete exclusion, which is far from the wish of the general public. It is not for forestry officials to devise regulations which, recognizing the liberty of the citizens and their right to enjoy the public domain, will reduce the present undue loss.

That too much property has been burned in this way is unquestioned. Dr. Howe's comment as to the effect of forest fires is highly interesting. He says that "of the million square miles of our forest inheritance that has been devastated by fire, much has been burned not only once but two, three and even half a dozen times. These repeated fires on the same area render abortive nature's attempt to reclothe the old burns with commercial valuable trees. Whole townships that once supported magnificent forests of pine or spruce are now, because of repeated burning, covered with worthless brush or trees of no market value.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

"Only cash will save the Soviet"—newspaper heading. But why worry about saving it?

"General" Riley's army abandoned their trip on receiving a promise that they would be medically reexamined. But will they accept the verdict?

Premier Drury, in his Western trip, announces that he is trying to forget politics. After an 80-day session one can hardly blame him.

The Canadian Forestry Association's advice to campers is worth repeating. "Remember," says a bulletin, "all big fires start as little ones. One minute's care may save a century of waiting."

The tax on cigarettes has been decreased by $1.50 per thousand, the new figure being $7.50 instead of $9.00, as at first proposed. Will the prices to the public re-act to the amended tax as quickly as they did to the increase first announced by Mr. Fielding?

Peterborough can hardly pride itself upon the fact that there are 1,200 houses in the city without modern sanitary conveniences.

Somebody is always taking the joy out of life. Just when a big fruit crop is announced comes the news that sugar is climbing to higher levels.

The stamp tax worries few newspaper men. They don't use many any way.

When the firemen and police play baseball it should be easy for the former to put the Bobbies out.

The advice given by The Examiner last night as a result of Monday's meeting of the Board of Health—to boil all milk—need not be followed in the case of the pasturized milk supplies by the Peterborough Milk Products Company. The company has been able to cope with an abnormal situation, and their milk does not require boiling.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 14.—On Tuesday evening a motor car belonging to Mr. Joseph Poulton skidded and turned turtle into the ditch on the south side of Napier street while being driven by the Misses Poulton, who were returning from playing tennis at Christ church. Fortunately the young ladies escaped injury but the car with much difficulty lifted to its right position on the road by a crowd of men who came to assist.

Camp Meetings.

The service at the Camp meeting conducted by Evangelist Jorrie was most largely attended, many being forced to stand outside while the big tent was taxed to capacity. The singing which was of a most inspiring and helpful nature was led by the local choir and assisted by the choir of Murray street Baptist Church, Peterboro under the efficient leadership of Mr. Asa Huycke. Their numbers "O' Worship the King", "Alas and did my Saviour Die" as was also their last all showed precision of attack, careful modulation, revealing careful training and were much appreciated. Mr. Huycke rendered the solo "Alone" in clear, sweet voice which was much enjoyed, as was also Mrs. Torrie's solo, Rev. H. S. Bennett pastor, and Rev. Mr. Butcher of Brighton, assisted in the opening exercises. Mr. Torrie delivered a most impressive message from John, Chapt.. 14, verse 6: I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the Father but by me.

The services will be continued every night this week, and it is expected the Baptist choir of Norwood will assist one evening.

Some of Mr. Torrie's topics for the coming services will be "Where is Judas?" (2) "Choosing a Wife", (3) "Can a person know absolutely that he is saved."

Graduation Day at Methodist Sunday School.

The morning service at the Methodist Church which was in charge of its capable sperintendent Mr. G. A. Kingston was most largely attended by young and old and the manner in which the graduating class acquitted themselves in a great credit to Mrs. W. Aston and Mrs. E. E. Wragg who are in charge of the Primary Department. As in former years each little graduate was presented with a testament by the superintendent. A most interesting feature of the service was a cantata "God's Flowerland" taken by groups of girls prettily attired in white representing daisies, violets, buttercups, butterflies, roses lilies angels, all bringing ray of hope and cheer to a lonely stranger, impersonated by Miss Francis Dingman. Much credit is due Mrs. C. W. Turner who had charge of the cantata, and the musical part of the service for the excellent manner in which all took their parts.

Millions Have Been Made By Pioneers in Oil Fields

Pennsylvania, Texas, California—In the great oil fields of these districts fortunes have been amassed almost overnight by the pioneers, those who had the courage to lead the way. To-day there has been proven to exist in Central Ontario one of the greatest northern oil fields in the world. This new field was located by Central Ontario Oil Fields, Limited (No Personal Liability), and this company has acquired 7,000 acres of the choicest oil-bearing properties in the district.

Think of it—potential millions hidden in the earth almost at your door!

All that is necessary to turn this natural wealth into profits is the purchase and installation of drilling equipment, pipe lines and storage facilities. Once the wells are drilled the Government bounty of 60 cents per barrel produced should be sufficient to pay the cost of maintenance. This company has brought in its first two wells at Kerwood, and by the purchase of the necessary equipment will be able to place this field on a basis of profitable production immediately. It is to finance the purchase of this equipment that the present offering of shares is made. The intention of the organizers of this company was to keep it a closed corporation, but they found that they were unable to finance so large an enterprise themselves and they reluctantly opened the company to the public by placing a block of shares on the market.

We believe that this is an unusual opportunity to get in on the ground floor of a great development work in which the possibilities of enormous profits are unparalleled and which will form an important step in the progress of this district. As it is likely that the price of the shares will be forced up at an early date because of an important development now pending, we advise you to fill in the attached subscription form and mail it at once.

OUR RECOMMENDATION

We control and offer for sale 100,000 Shares at $2.00, and subscriptions will be received in any amounts.

This offering by us is made only after the most careful consideration and investigation. Our decision to offer this investment is based on the belief that this Company will enjoy an unusual degree of prosperity.

The reports of geologists and all other information regarding this Company can be inspected at our Offices, or will be mailed on request.

Chas. Ireland and Wife Allege Improper Act Against Bruce McKenty and Ask For $500 Damages in the County Court.

DEFENDANT DENIES IT

Evidence that was completely contradictory in its chief points of contact marked the hearing of a claim for $500 damage brought by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ireland of Harvey Township against Mr. Bruce McKenty of the same township in the June sittings of the County Court and general sessions of the Peace, which opened before Judge Huycke Tuesday afternoon. The plaintiffs alleged that on December 15th last the defendant committed an improper act against Mrs. Ireland, as a result of which her nervous state was upset, aggravating a condition which caused protracted ill-health, from which she had not yet fully recovered.

The defendant denied the whole story as unfolded in the presentation of the case by the plaintiffs and their witnesses. The case is being tried by jury. Mr. J. A. O'Brien appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. F. Kerr, K.C., for the defendant.

Charles Ireland.

Charles Ireland, one of the plaintiffs, called first, said he was married in July, 1921, and since then had been living with his wife. Their baby was born on February 3rd, a month prematurely. On December 15 last plaintiff was living on the 'Oregon Road" in Harvey Township. He had worked for the defendant, Bruce McKenty, and left him on speaking terms last August.

On December 15 plaintiff was working in the woods about one-quarter of a mile from his house. It was impossible to see the house from the woods. Returning for dinner at noon he noticed that his wife was nervous.

"She didn't want to stay alone. She wanted to go to the woods with me," said Ireland. "Her actions were nervous, and she appeared not in good humour."

Continuing his evidence under examination by Mr. O'Brien, plaintiff said that when he arrived home he saw the tracks of a buggy that had been driven up the lane to his house. The tracks were made in new-fallen snow.

Ireland said he saw McKenty at Buckhorn about January 18th.

"McKenty wanted to scrap. My arm had been injured and was no use at the time. He admitted he had been in my place on the day in question."

Mr. O'Brien: "How did that topic come to be discussed?"

"He said: 'It's money you're after.' I said: 'No; only what the law calls for.' He said he'd show me what he was at my place for."

To Mr. Kerr, plaintiff said he had worked two months for McKenty. He had "a few words" with him, but left on good terms. The dispute was over an extra dollar which Ireland claimed was due him.

Mr. Kerr: "There were no more words after he paid you the dollar?"

"No."

"On one occasion you met him in the store at Buckhorn?"

"Yes. He was in a hurry. He said good day and went on."

Ireland said his wife first saw a doctor on December 29. On that occasion the doctor was called to attend Ireland himself, who had suffered a broken shoulder.

Mr. Kerr: "Being at your place, she had a chat with the doctor about her condition?"

"Yes."

"On the occasion of the dollar transaction, did you say you'd take more than that dollar out of him before the year was up?"

"No, sir."

"Nor words to that effect?"

"No."

"Did you say you'd never been beaten in law and that he had better look sharp about his business or you and your wife would take more than that dollar out of him?"

"No, sir."

"Did you say to him last January at Buckhorn: 'I told you last fall I'd get a way of taking more than a dollar out of you?'"

"No, sir, I did not."

"Did you offer to settle for $100?"

"No, sir."

"You know there is a Police Court where men are punished for crimes?"

"Yes, sir."

"And where no damages could be obtained?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you say you didn't want to get a dollar out of it?"

"Yes."

Ireland said he knew Leslie Hall. They had worked together for McKenty.

"Within the last two weeks, either at your place or Buckhorn, did you ask Hall to go to McKenty and tell him that if he would pay the costs the case would be dropped?"

"No, sir. Hall came to me."

Mr. Kerr: 'Wait a minute. Did you have a conversation with Leslie Hall?"

"Yes, sir."

"More than once?"

"Yes."

"Did you tell him that if McKenty paid the costs you'd drop the case?"

"No, sir. He asked me. Leslie Hall asked me if I'd do it, and I said yes if he paid the expenses. If he'd apologize and pay all the costs, I'd drop the case."

"What were the expenses apart from lawyer's fees?"

"Five trips to Peterborough."

Mr. Kerr: "About $25?"

"Something like that."

"Did you tell Hugh Given that McKenty would never let the case go to court, that he was too scared?"

"No."

"Did you have any conversation after Christmas with Melville Hall?"

"Yes."

"Did you say that you'd get $300 or $400 out of McKenty and that would be easier than cutting cordwood?"

"No."

Plaintiff said that his wife continued to do the house work from December 15 to February 3. She then had a girl for about a month.

Mrs. Charles Ireland.

Mrs. Charles Ireland followed her husband on the stand and was examined by Mr. O'Brien. She had been a neighbour of Bruce McKenty before her marriage, and had last seen him in April, 1921.

Describing the events of the morning of December 15th last, she said she was in the kitchen of her home about eleven o'clock peeling potatoes. Bruce McKenty came in with something of a rush and said his feet were cold. He stood warming himself at the stove. Mrs. Ireland said her back was to him while she went on with her work at the table. He came toward her and put his hand on her knee.

'I told him he'd better mind his own business," she said. Two men in the top row of the gallery snickered. Chief Newhall went quietly down the aisle until he was opposite them and called them out of their seats. He escorted them out of the court-room and left them on the outside. They didn't return.

Mrs. Ireland said McKenty put his hand a little bit under her skirt. "He said he didn't think I'd get offended, and begged me not to tell my husband. He stood at the door a minute and then went out, after staying fifteen or twenty minutes altogether."

Plaintiff said she was very upset and nervous and couldn't eat any dinner.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kerr, she said she got dinner and tea for her husband and his brother, who was working with him. She didn't get any special medicine for the nervous feeling, but she had nerve tablets in the house, which she took.

"Did he make any improper suggestion to you as is said in the statement of claim?"

"No."

"Did he try to induce you to leave your husband?"

"No."

Mrs. Maude Ireland.

Mrs. Maude Ireland, mother of Charles Ireland, blushed at Judge Huycke's bit of blandishment, when he remarked that he thought she was the plaintiff's sister. And His Honour may quite possibly have been speaking his exact impression, for the mother might almost have passed for an elder sister.

Her story was that she was on the way to the school-house to get the school teacher's order for goods in Buckhorn, which witness intended to buy that afternoon. She swore she saw McKenty turning into the lane leading to her son's house about 11 a.m. Later he came to her own house, and driving up to the back verandah asked to be directed to Frank Standeaven's camp.

Her husband, George Ireland, also testified that he had seen the buggy tracks that day, and John Ireland, a tall straight young chap with the stamp of military training implied by his war service button still upon him, said he had been in the woods with his brother on the morning of December 15. They returned to the house together, and witness saw the marks of buggy wheels in the yard.

"I knew something was wrong with Mrs. Ireland," he said. "She was nervous and didn't eat any dinner. Later she called her husband into the bedroom. Afterwards whenever she was alone the doors of the house have always been locked."

This closed the case.

Frank Standeaven.

Mr. Kerr first called Frank Standeaven of St. Mary's, who owned the lumber camp McKenty visited on the morning of December 15th. He testified that he had met McKenty there at noon that day.

Defendant's Story.

Bruce McKenty, the defendant, related that Charles Ireland had returned to his place three weeks after he had paid him off and said there was a dollar still due him.

"To keep peace I gave him the dollar. He said: 'I'll get more than a dollar out of you before another year is up.' He also said he was never beaten in law. That was about October 6th."

Continuing, McKenty said: "I next saw him on January 21 at Shearer's store at Buckhorn. I said: 'What's this you're telling around about me?' He said: 'You'll find out soon enough. I told you last fall you'd better look out.' He said that if he could make a hundred or two that way it was easier than cutting wood. I told him he couldn't get away with that, and he said he had shot a horse and got away with it."

McKenty continuing: "He told me that if I would give him $100 he'd drop the case. I told him he could go to hell."

Mr. Kerr: "Did you tell him you were at his house on December 15?"

"No."

"Were you there?"

"No."

"Did you enter his house as Mrs. Ireland says you did?"

"That's absolutely untrue."

McKenty said he was at Standeavens camp that day. He arrived there shortly before twelve o'clock. He wanted to see about getting some umber to rebuild his barn, which had been destroyed by lightning.

Didn't Know the Way.

"On the road there I met Joe Johnston and asked him the time. He looked at his watch and said 11.15.

Mr. Kerr: "Did you know whose property the camp was on?"

"No."

Defendant swore he was not on Charles Ireland's property. "I drove into George Ireland's. I saw Mrs. George Ireland and her daughter on the verandah. I didn't know the road past George Ireland's to the camp and that's why I asked."

"Did you admit to Charles Ireland that you had been at his house that day?"

"I made no such admission, because I wasn't there."

"Did you ask Hall to go and arrange a settlement with the plaintiff?"

"No."

"Did you make any offer of a settlement with any one at any time?"

"No."

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Brien, McKenty said Leslie Hall was his nephew. Reading from a list of names, Mr. O'Brien asked defendant if he ever had any trouble with other women similar to that alleged in this case. He answered with a denial.

Paid $200 Before.

Mr. O'Brien read off five names, and Mr. Kerr observed that in justice to these women their names should not be read out unless there were good grounds for doing so. Mr. O'Brien said that from his information he believed these matters to be true. Judge Huycke remarked that the information might be faulty.

McKenty said he had met Joe Johnston about 3½ miles from the camp. According to Johnston's information it was then 11.15 o'clock, and McKenty stated that on account of the condition of the roads it took him about half an hour to drive the rest of the way.

Mr. Kerr added: "Allowing for the stop at George Ireland's."

Referring to the case McKenty had settled by paying $200, defendant said he had consulted G. N. Gordon about it.

"Was there anything wrong on your part in connection with that charge?"

"No. Mr. Gordon told me they hadn't any money and the costs would be charged against me anyway, and it would be cheap to pay the $200, although he said he was certain I'd get off. He said it was a case of blackmail."

THE HORRORS OF INDIGESTION

Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives" the Fruit Medicine

Indigestion, Weak Digestion or partial digestion of food, is one of the most serious of present-day complaints—because it is responsible for many serious troubles.

Those who suffer with Indigestion, almost invariably are troubled with Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart, Sleeplessness and excessive Nervousness.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve Indigestion because these tablets strengthen the stomach muscles, increase the flow of the digestive juices and correct Constipation, which usually accompanies Indigestion.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ELECTED OFFICERS.

The Reports Showed Encouraging Progress During the Year For Warsaw Organization.

WARSAW, June 14.—The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held here. Reports from the different officers were read and adopted. That of the Treasurer showed that though the Institute began the year with pretty low finances and have had or undertaken quite a bit of expense, there is $66.00 to the credit of the Institute. It was voted to re-unite the office of Secretary-Treasurer.

The following are the officers for the year 1922-23: President, Mrs. David Miller; Vice-President, Mrs. Richard Batten; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Ferena Cooper; Directors, Misses Olive Clements, Cressa Crowe, Emma Batten and Helen Morgan; Auditors, Mrs. Thos. Crowe and Miss Violet Payne.

Mrs. Woellard was expected to visit the Institute from the department and give an address. Mrs. Boyes, who had never been here before, came instead and spoke on "Trifles," "Open Secrets" and some of the work in her own district. Trifles, the little things we do every day—the kindly word, the finishing of a task, the little bit that makes the difference between well done and poorly done work. Open secrets are the wonderful things all around us which so few notice—the birds, trees, stones, vegetation and all the wonders of how these things come the beauty all around us, if we will but see it. These things and many others are secrets to many, but with just a little extra thought the secrets open to us—our lives are brighter and better and count for more.

In Mrs. Boyes' own district, at an open meeting, they had a collection of relics, belonging to members and their friends. Some very old articles were shown and the histories told.

Mrs. Boyes regretted very much she could not remain longer and visit the points of interest. She noticed how very beautiful the Indian River is at Warsaw. She also noticed the old mill, which proclaims itself a landmark, and wanted to know about the cave and the potash kettle, and seemed to think there were many open secrets around here.

McGRATH'S SAW-MILL PARTLY DESTROYED FIRE

HASTINGS, June 14.—At 2.15 o'clock Tuesday morning the resident of the village were awakened from their slumbers by the ringing of the firm alarm. On reaching the scene of the fire, it was discovered that McGrath's saw-mill had caught fire and might endanger the Fowlds Company electric light plant, but the fire brigade soon had the fire under control and it did not do much damage.

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMINATIONS

Havelock and Norwood Will Be Examination Centres.

LAKEFIELD, June 14. — The dates of the departmental examinations are as follows: Lower school, June 13th to June 16th; middle school, June 19th to 27th; entrance, June 28th, 29th and 30th.

Mr. Lawlor of Norwood will preside as usual at Lakefield.

Owing to the increased numbers writing at different centres, assistant presiding officers will be present. Inspector R. Lees, assisted by Miss Duff, will be in charge of the entrance examinations here, it is probable. There is a general increase in the number of candidates writing on the entrance this year. Miss Corkery will preside at the entrance examinations at May's School. Miss Corkery, Miss Stark and Mr. Simpson will assist as presiding officers at Havelock and Norwood. Miss Stark and Mr. Simpson have been appointed as assistant associate examiners in the lower school departmental examinations, Toronto.

HASTINGS LOST AN OLD PIONEER

HASTINGS, June 14.—Blakely Shaw, one of Hastings' oldest residents, passed away yesterday at the ripe old age of eight years.

The late Mr. Shaw came to the village about sixty years ago. He afterwards married Miss Mary Ferguson of Renfrew, who survives him, as well as three children, Mrs. A. Lynn, of Maple Creek, Sask., and Misses Annie and Gertrude, at home.

While never active in municipal matters, he was always deeply interested in all affairs pertaining to the welfare of the community.

Funeral on Wednesday. Service at the house at 2 o'clock, thence to Trent Valley Cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Jones of Toronto occupied the pulpit in the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

COULD HARDLY STAND AT TIMES

Hips, Back and Legs would Have That Tired Ache

Everett, Washington.—"For several years I have had trouble with the lowest part of my back and my hips and my legs would ache with that tired ache. I could hardly stand on my feet at times. I was always able to do my work although I did not feel good. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and having heard several praise it I decided to try it. I feel first-rate at the present time. It has done wonders for me and I keep it in the house right along. I always recommend it to others who are sick and ailing."—Mrs. J. M. SIBBERT, 4032 High St., Everett, Washington.

To do any kind of work, or to play for that matter, is next to impossible if you are suffering from some form of female trouble. It may cause your back or your legs to ache, it may make you nervous and irritable. You may be able to keep up and around, but you do not feel good.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women. It is especially adapted to relieve the cause of the trouble and then these annoying pains, aches and "no good" feelings disappear.

A few of the intimate friends of Mrs. Brown enjoyed a dance in the hall on Monday evening.

Sweet clover cutting is general in the vicinity.

Slight damage was done by the frost on Monday night.

HASTINGS NEWS

HASTINGS, June 14.—On Monday afternoon the fire brigade had a run to the south side of the river. Sawdust that had been set on fire to get rid of had been fanned to a blaze by the excessive wind and caught on the ice-house of Mr. E. J. Lynch. After a short fight the fire was soon extinguished.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sharpe spent Monday in Kingston.

Misses Annie and Lillian Parker of Toronto are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Parker.

He Entered the Lists As An Independent Candidate and His Enemies Clipped His Whiskers Off. A Night Raid.

DUBLIN, June 14. — (Canadian Press.) — Three armed young men knocked at the door of the apartment of Darrell Figgis at midnight Monday night. Mrs. Figgis opened the door and the men pushed past her and rushed Figgis into his study.

Figgis was told that the men had instructions to cut off his whiskers. Notwithstanding the pleas of Mrs. Figgis, the raiders seized her husband and clipped off the greater part of his beard and moustache. Figgis, who is chairman of the Irish Constitution drafting committee and an independent candidate for parliament for Dublin county, says he would easily recognize the miscreants. He sported the most talked of whiskers, luxurious and bright red, in Dublin, and the affair in which they were considerably impaired is believed to have been in the nature of a joke.

Figgis, interviewed yesterday, placed responsibility for the attack on the anti-treaty leaders. He declared his assailants told him they were acting under army orders.

"I asked them if they realized what disgrace would be thrown on Ireland's name when the news of the outrage got abroad," he declared. "They could not be deterred, however, and would have cut off my hair as well as my beard but for the intervention of Mrs. Figgis."

The appearance of Figgis as an independent candidate opposing the Sinn Fein panel was one of the biggest surprises of the nominations. He not only is chairman of the committee which drafted the constitution, but still is a member of the Standing committee of the Sinn Fein Party.

Eamon De Valera's organ, the Republic of Ireland, attacked him for his independent candidacy, to which Figgis replied in a letter to the Dublin press Monday, asserting that many Republican Coaltion candidates were avowed enemies of the treaty.

Mr. Figgis declares that the outrage has made him more determined to persist in his candidacy and not yield to intimidation and proves that the pact and panel here are hollow shams.

"RILEY'S" ARMY FACES DEADLOCK

TORONTO, June 14.—(Special.)—Veteran hikers and government representaives have reached a temporary deadlock over the relief question. Yesterday it was arranged for the two officials, D. S. Rowe, of Ottawa, and E. N. Compton, of Toronto, to visit a number of cases of alleged distress. It was intended that they visit the homes in company with Riley and members of his executive. This morning, however, Mr. Rowe decided that he would go alone. He also objected to any representative of the press going along. He felt that the information intended for the Minister of Re-establishment should not be published at present. Riley, therefore, refused to give him the names and addresses of distress cases, and nothing was done. At noon Mr. Rowe was contemplating seeing a number of families on his own.

Who Has a Cow to Donate?

Eighteen Hungry Kids Are in the Market for A Good Motherly Producer of Pure Milk.

(By F. H. Dobbin.)

What is here written concerns a cow at one end and eighteen small children at the other. For a good cow is, what is often said about husbands who are otherwise punk, a good provider, which is a virtue that is now better appreciated in these days of unemployment than it was before the war. The war, it may be remarked, has given us all a new snubbing post to hitch times and occasions to for general reference. The cow is the most beneficient of all our domestic animals, for she gives all she has for the welfare of others, a characteristic of her sex. But to resume.

About a month ago a farmer man thought him to carry out a certain commercial transaction requiring coin to complete, so he drove into the city a perfectly good cow, one of the pet kind, and offered her for sale on the public market. Of the trials and bothers he had in herding the cow along the highways, he said something. What with predatory automobiles, dismantled culverts, new gravel on the roads, hurrying mail distributors that cow would head in any way but the direct road to the city. It involved mental strain and some language. But, on the market there were no takers. He even offered to part with the cow for $32.00 but no one living in apartments had any use for such. And all the aldermen were too busy over the paving contract to bother much, including the affable Chairman of the Board of Works. So in the end of the afternoon the farmer man started to drive the cow back home. He had gotten him a long rope, and on approaching street crossings the cow would be on one side of the street and he on the other. And a rushing auto coming along in between.

When he and his care got along the stret and road to about the Children's Shelter, he took thought. Why not leave the cow in town over night, or for several nights, and come back some day when cattle were at a premium and dispose of the animal. No sooner said than done.

He guided the cow along the concession line to the door of the Children's Shelter, and knocked on the door with the end of the rope. The able matron appeared, and to that lady he made known his proposition. Could he bestow the cow on the community for a short time? The institution took in derelict children, why not homeless cows. Under proper urging the cow would dispense milk. And he saw twelve thirsty little throats standing by open-eyed and open-mouthed in anticipation. Presence of mind is a valuable attribute. The matron recognized opportunity. The deal was made, and the farmer man departed, taking, of course, the rope with him.

Behind the Shelter there was plenty of good pasture but no housing. So the chairman of the Board of Works, who is a member of the executive of the Society, took time enough off from trying to definitely locate which point of the Romaine street sewer was sinking the fastest, to run up in a corner of the lot some sort of cover from the weather, for the cow. Daily the kids went out and gathered arms full of long grass, mullens, thistles and burdocks from the road side and brought these herbal offerings for the delectation of the cow. Such kind attentions were deeply appreciated, for the cow loosened up, as the saying is in regard to men who are said to be tight-wads, and gave some milk to keep the kids well supplied with the real thing. There was no necessity for pasturization and no chance for the milk to spoil. But the kids were happy in big drinks of good milk. The able matron, like all the other professional men and women of the city, having been brought up on the farm, was able to milk the cow with elegance and precision. The only damper to the whole proceeding was when the man came for his cow. The children were solely bereft when "Amelia," as the cow had been named, was hastened way. And the inmates went back to what they called blue milk.

Such grief to find expression, so the matter was brought to attention of the monthly meeting of the Society, Tuesday afternoon. It was decided to get a cow. And further on make proper provision for the shelter of the stock and in the meantime keep things going. So the detail of getting the cow was handed to the Purchasing committee, (three ladies) to enquire, and with power to act. A couple of men kind were added, just for the sake of peace in the family, and the joint five called the Agricultural Division, and told to go to it. So all of this brings us to the matter of finances. After, mentally, taking the cost of the cow out of capital account, it left a hole that anyone could easily see through. The suggestion was timidly put forward, couldn't some one be induced to give the Society a cow, instead of another child. As a matter of fact people bestow children on the Society with more alacrity than substantial things, though the Society gets very many on occasion. And badly needed, too.

Now we get down to business, setting aside for the moment, romance and allegory. All over the lands of the townships are cows, perfectly willing to exchange the humdrum life of the farm for metropolitan surroundings. And the hope is that some one, who reads this appeal, will with high resolve, bestow a cow. A young one preferred, not a "flapper" so to speak, but a young matron, for there will be years of service in the future. And the cow, if given, will assume high responsibility, of looking after the subsistence of many kids, instead of having her milk just mixed in with the general decoction that is sent to the cheese factory. All this can be explained to the cow, further on.

Who will be the donor. There is, we are sure, some helpful soul who has a spotted cow down in the terra-cotta colored barn on the edge of the summer fallow who will bestow, knowing that the animal will get the best of care. Social service work in cows will prevail at the Shelter. And if there could be a small calf projected along with the cow, why things would be real spiff. The kids would go fairly wild. Something to pet and loll over. The calf would be the 'Our Mary' of the establishment.

Don't all speak at once. He who gives should give quickly, and his name shall be as apples of gold in pictures of silver. For such is fame and appreciation.

BLUE KITCHEN.

A kitchen that ought to be conducive to pleasant labor is done in a very soft shade of blue. The supboard, kitchen cabinet, and even a part of the kitchen stove are painted to match, and the indirect lighting fixture is arranged in a blue shade.

ORGANDIE.

Organdie used to be considered the most approved material for the unsophisticated costume. Now we find organdie trimmed with metal embroideries and with exotic colors that have quite changed its character and made it a most sophisticated fabric.

PORCH FROCK.

The porch frock has developed into a straight line frock, made up in bright colored fabrics, or printed designs, not too conservative in color. Usually they have round necks, short sleeves and elastic bands at the waist.

So extra delicious

With fresh fruits on a hot day

No other food has such an appeal on a hot day as Kellogg's "WAXTITE" Corn Flakes! They win fickle appetites, they satisfy hungry folks! As an extra-summer taste thrill, eat Kellogg's "WAXTITE" with the luscious fresh fruit now in season. Such a diet is not only ideal from a health standpoint, but it is refreshing—cooling and enjoyable beyond words.

Eat Kellogg's "WAXTITE" Corn Flakes liberally because they digest easily. Let the children have all they want. All will be better for a lighter diet—and free from headaches and sluggish drowsiness.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, June 14.— (Canadian Press.—There is a heavy falling off in production in Ontario reported at some producing centres to be as much as 40 per cent. compared with two weeks ago. Quality is also considerably off, which tends to further reduce the specials and extras on the market. For these grades the market is firm, but weak for firsts and seconds. The best offer on five cars western seconds was 20 cents.

Toronto firm specials 36, extras 35, firsts down to 30, seconds 27. Ontario country shippers paying 23 to 26, making sales straight gathered 25 1-2 to 26 1-2.

Live fowl shipped from western Ontario to Buffalo brought 26 and 28 delivered.

Montreal trading more active account cooler weather. Specials jobbing 36, extras 33 to 34, firsts 30 to 31, seconds 27 to 28. Poultry in good demand and prices very firm.

WOODSTOCK, June 14.—(Canadian Press.) —The price of cheese was substantially increased on the local board yesterday. There were 1,360 cheese offered by ten factories; bidding started at 13 1-2c. and closed at 14 1-4c. The indications are that prices will go higher during the next two weeks.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, June 14.—(Canadian Press.)—Power to rally from a price break of more than seven cents compared with last week's high point, showed itself in the wheat market yesterday. Assertions that wheat values were being reduced below the cost of production tended somewhat to bring about upturns. The close was steady, 1-8 to 5-8c. net higher, with July $1.10 1-4 to $1.10 3-8 and September $1.10 5-8 to $1.10 3-4. Corn finished unchanged to 1-4 and 3-8c. off; oats down 1-2 to 1 1-8, and provisions varying from five cents decline to seven cents advance.

FIERY, ITCHY ECZEMA HEALED RIGHT UP BY APPLYING SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream

POWWOW IS LIKELY

So Far Indian not Militant

LEAMINGTON, June 14.—(Canadian Press).—A conference between the Chiefs of the Walpole Island Indians and officials of the Federal Department of Indian Affairs will likely be the next step in settling the dispute that has arisen about the ownership of land on Point Pelee. Apparently there is no intention of the Indians of invading the lands of the government park on which they lay claim.

Stops Pain Instantly

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a colorless, clear liquid (one drop does it!) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same. Safe, gentle. Made in a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

CROP REPORTS

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The generous rains of Friday night, and those that have fallen at intervals since, have done great benefit to agriculture all over the Province.

Fall wheat, which was starting to head with a rather short straw, will be now assured of a fuller head. All other grains will also be greatly helped in their growth.

Clover and other pasture crops were much in need of rain, and already the benefit of the showers can be observed.

Alfalfa and sweet clover have been cut freely during the week, and already some sweet clover is in the silo.

The germination of corn has been very satisfactory so far. The grain was of good quality, owing to the excellent earing last season, and the land was in good condition, with warm weather for a nice start. A large acreage has already been planted, and more ground remains to be put in.

Early potatoes, which have had an increased acreage in many counties, are promising better than for years.

There are many complaints of the depredations of the cutworm, wireworm and cabbage maggot. The canker work has also been doing considerable injury to orchards.

Representatives are practically unanimous as to the good yields of most varieties of orchard fruits, except perhaps late apples and sour cherries.

Raspberries will have the lightest yield comparatively of the small fruits, some putting it at about 60 per cent.

Lambton reports about a normal number of cattle on the grass, and says that they look well. One man near Petrolia is pasturing 264 herd.

Huron says that some moderately fitted cattle have been selling at from 7½ to 8 cents a lb. off the grass.

North Simcoe states that prices for cattle have been encouraging, in some cases bringing as high as 9½ cents a lb.

The heel fly has been making its appearance in Peel.

Little pigs are in considerable demand all over the Province, and are selling at from $7 to $9 each.

Early spring lambs are bringing from $6 to $9 each at weights ranging from 50 to 80 lbs.

Lanark says: "Cheese sold on the Perth Board on Friday as high as 15½c. a jump of 2½c a lb. over last week."

Timiskaming says: "We have had an exceedingly favorable spring for honey bees, and some colonies by June 3rd had stored almost a super of honey, from the willow. Beekeepers tell me that this is practically a new record for the bee industry in this district."

Lambton reports: "I could place from 50 to 60 good farm laborers, the majority on a yearly contract, if the help were available. Wages are averaging $20 to $25 per month for inexperienced and $30 to $35 for experienced."

Haldimand states that some farmers are offering $45 a month and board for help during haying.

CASTLE ATTACKED.

Sinn Feiners Driven Off by Ulster Constabulary.

CATTLE EMBARGO STILL IT THE RING

LONDON, June 13.— (Canadian Press.)— Live Stock Defence committee's stand against removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle is severely criticized in Times' editorial, which says the committee's attitude will not have much effect. — Times upholds the standpoint from which Canadian farmers advance their arguments for removal of the embargo, and says Canadians will continue to believe that a slur is being maintained upon their cattle if the embargo is not removed.

CANADIAN CATTLE.

LONDON, June 13.—(Canadian Press).—Replying to questions in the Commons last night, Hon. Austen Chamberlain said he would endeavor to find opportunity for discussing the embargo on Canadian cattle in about two weeks.

INSPECTOR TO SHOOT HOUNDS

All Dogs Suspected of Running Deer Will Pay the Penalty

Following a trip through the north country Inspector M. J. Woodcock, of the Game and Fisheries Department, announced to-day that hereafter he intended to exercise the power with which he was clothed and shoot on sight hounds suspected of running deer. At Ketchecum Lake he saw a dog chasing a deer, and around Burleigh encountered other hounds hot on the trail. "They's got to keep their dogs tied up. I have to enforce the law and intend after this to shoot all the dogs on sight," he said.

The section of the Game and Fisheries Act relating to hounds running at large he quoted as follows: No owner of any dog known by the owner to be accustomed to pursue deer, shall permit such dog to run at large during the close season for deer in any locality where deer are usually found.

THE J. C. Turnbull CO. LTD

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Fairmount Church Held a Garden Party. Wedding Anniversary. Personals.

MILLBROOK, June 14.—The annual garden party in connection with Fairmount church was held on the lawn of Mr. Howard Staples' residence, 12th Line, Cavan, on Friday evening, June 9th, tea being served from 5 until 8 p.m. There was also a booth on the grounds, where ice cream, soft drinks, etc., were offered for sale, and which was well patronized all evening. The attendance was not as large as would have been the case had the affair been more widely advertised, and for a longer period beforehand; however this mistake will be rectified another year. As is aways the case the Fairmount ladies served an excellent supper, and the programme which followed, and which was given from the wide verandah of Mr. Staples' home, was equally good and enjoyable. Mr. George Hootan, sup't of the Sunday school, acted as chairman, and the talent included Mr. and Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Doig, and Mr. Lee, of Peterborough, who gave general satisfaction with their musical numbers, and readings by Mrs. Barton.

The total receipts were $76, $50 at the gate and $26 from the booth.

Closing Meeting.

The closing literary meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, for the summer months, was held on Monday evening. Mrs. P. Stinson, the 3rd vice-president, under whose department the programme was provided, occupying the chair for the first time since her election to that office. The "God in Nature' topics were continued, the one for Monday's meeting being a study of "Trees," the Scripture lesson taking the form of brief Bible references to this subject with their consequent application to growth in Christian character.

Mrs. Stinson read an excellent prose essay on the topic, and Miss Olive Fallis Joyce Kilmer's poem, "Trees," while Miss Gertrude Richards gave "The Oak," and Miss Estelle Hetherington "Under the Willows," both the latter being by James Russell Lowell.

Only two other departments have meetings now before the holidays, next week when the Tuxis' Boys have charge (citizenship dep't), and the "Missionary Pageant" on June 26th, under the direction of Mrs. G. W. Sayes, who is the 2nd vice-president; this promises to be a most interesting programme, and was much enjoyed last winter at Cobourg, where it was given at the Boys' Conference. Slides will illustrate the different provinces, and characters in costume will take the spoken parts. Proceeds in aid of the Forward Movement; the money from the League here going toward Rev. Mr. Hibbard's salary who is our dissionary in China.

A Garden Party.

A number from Millbrook had intended motoring over to Cavanville on Monday evening for the garden party given under the auspices of the Methodist church, but the high wind storm and unusually low temperature for June, prevented their doing so. However the tea was served in the basement of the church, and the programme given in the auditorium upstairs, instead of outdoors as was at first the intention, so no inconvenience was experienced by the large number present. As usual the tea served was excellent both in quantity and quality, the tables presenting a most attractive appearance, and the waiters being as attentive as possible to the needs of the guests who filled the places more than once before the last ticket holder was satisfied, and all wer ready for the entertainment which followed. The latter was given by Peterborough talent, and the audience showed their appreciation by generous applause. Mr. B. F. Carley acted as chairman, filling the position in his usual capable manner, and the total receipts were satisfactory to all concerned.

Wedding Anniversary.

The fact that the twentieth anniversary of the wedding day of Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Tucker fell due on Monday, June 12th, having accidentally become known, a number of friends in the League and Sunday school sent to the parsonage during the afternoon a beautiful buquet of American Beauty roses (one for each year), with a card expressing their kindest greetings and best wishes for "many happy returns of the day." Unfortunately Mrs. Tucker has not yet fully recovered from her recent attack of flu, so no social gathering in connection with the event was possible under the circumstances. In thanking the Leaguers, that evening, for their share in the gift, Rev. Mr. Tucker expressed his surprise that the fact of their "china wedding" was known to anyone but themselves and their immediate relatives, and voiced the appreciation, both of Mrs. Tucker's and himself, of the kind thoughtfulness which prompted the fragrant remembrance.

Martha Ann Willan.

Died— At Cobourg, on Monday, June 12th, Martha Ann Willan, relict of the late Mr. Marshal Willan, in her 54th year. The funeral will take place from the family residence, South Monaghan, on Wednesday, June 15th, at 2 p.m., to St. Paul's cemetery, Cavan. Service at the house at 1.30 p.m.

March to Church.

The J. B. Hall Lodge, A. F. & A. M., G.R.C. No. 145, will attend divine worship in the Methodist church on Sunday, June 18th, at 7 p.m., when Rev. S. T. Tucker will preach the annual sermon to the organization. The choir is preparing special music for the occasion. Members are requested to gather at the Lodge rooms not later than 6.30 p.m., so all may march together to the church.

Bowlers Active.

Mr. J. W. Hutchison, of the Commercial House at the west end of the village, has recently improved his premises by the addition of a good bowling green. As there appears to be no liklihood of a local club being organized again this year, owing probably to the interest being taken in baseball by many of the former players, Mr. Hutchison's enterprise will be the more appreciated by those who still enjoy using the bowls. Local players may pay so much for the season, travellers and transient guests according to time of use.

Wardens' Excursion.

Mr. W. Pendrie and his sister, Miss Lillie Pendrie, are taking in the Wardens' excursion to Rochester, on Wednesday, June 14th, going over to visit their brother, Mr. John Pendrie, and other friends of that city, intending to remain for a few days beyond the time the excursion tickets are good for.

Personals.

Rev. Canon Allen was in Toronto last week attending the meetings of the Synod.

Mrs. H. Argue, of Port Hope, who was the guest of Mrs. S. E. Eakins and Mrs. A. Ferguson, over the week end, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Mrs. A. Ferguson, Mrs. S. E. Eakins and her little daughter, Mary, also her father, Mr. Joseph Ferguson, of Flesherton, were guests at the home of Mr. A. Kelly, 8th Line, Cavan, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burnham and daughter, Mary, and Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Tucker, motored to Peterborough on Tuesday, combining business with pleasure for the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawson, Mr. George Dawson, and Mrs. S. E. Eakins and daughter, Mary, motored to Peterborough on Monday, spending the afternoon and evening in that city.

GEORGE F. WEIR.

Regarding the funeral of George F. Weir, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Weir, of this city, who passed away at Trail, B.C., the local newspaper stated:

"Friday afternoon of last week occurred one of the biggest funerals in the history of Trail, when George F. Weir was laid to rest. Both the Masons, who had charge of the service, and the Oddfellows turned out in numbers and marched to the grave. The stores were all closed during the funeral service."

"Your Baby in Hot Weather"

IF YOU MUST WEAN BABY DO IT CAREFULLY

SIX MONTHS OLD AND PERFECTLY HAPPY.

BY MRS. MAX WEST

Late of the United States Children's Bureau.

Shall I wean the baby in hot weather?

This question is asked by many mothers whose babies are approaching the age of one year. The best answer probably is "do not wean the baby suddenly, in the very midst of the hot spell."

But on the other hand, it is most unwise to keep the baby at the breast after the milk has become scanty and poor in quality. The best plan is to begin the weaning process by the sixth month, or there abouts, giving a little properly modified fresh milk, once a day.

From this age on, each month may see the gradual introduction of certain foods, and the cautious substitution of bottle for breast feedings, until by the tenth month or a little earlier or later, as the case may be, the baby is well accustomed to the new food and can be fed thus through the hottest weather in safety.

If the baby is still in the first half of the first year, every effort should be made to keep up the supply of breast milk, even if a little supplementary bottle food must occasionally be given.

In such cases, it is best to "strip" both breasts at each nursing, giving the supplementary milk only after the baby has taken all the breast milk he can get.

If, however, the baby must be fed on the bottle, it will be well to make the feedings weaker than usual, when the weather is very hot. It is far better to under-feed the baby for a little while, than to run the risk of an attack of diarrhoea.

The easiest way to weaken the food is to pour off an ounce or more from each bottle and make up the amount of fluid by adding an equal quantity of water. Or the milk and suagr may be released and the water increased when the feedings are made up.

If the baby does not care to eat, do not urge his food upon him. A flagging appetite is very common in summer, and the baby will make up for his lack, as soon as the cooler days come. Give him a great deal of cool (not iced) drinking water. It is well to boil all the water used for the baby. It can be cooled in glass jars, either on ice or by standing the jars in running water.

Little babies should be given drinking water in a nursing bottle between feedings and at night. Older ones should be offered water very frequently.

"Our First Year"

(BY A BRIDE)

Chapter LXIII.

JESSIE LANGDON SNUBS ME— BUT I TURN THE TABLES.

Before I was married, I never imagined there would be storms in our first year, or any other for that matter. But the lightning flashed below my horizon for of our trip, and I was glad to get home again.

Bonny spent much time with me after our return. Her immediate interest was the management of a morning bridge party I was getting up for Jessie Langdon and other wives of men in the office.

Bony said she came to help but I felt sure she stayed to hear me talk about Bart. They had agreed not to eb engaged, she said she had urged an elopement, but Bart simply wouldn't.

Of course her heart was almost broken. She had found true love so completely satisfying. After Bart, as she had long ago hinted to me, she never could listen to any other man making love. When her father came home maybe he could manage Bart. Her daddy could manage anybody.

Jack didn't approve of my morning bridge. I found that out too late—after I had invited my guests. Jack said we simply couldn't afford to keep up with the office crowd.

That speech proved to me Jock was pretty melancholy. In fact, he came home a little bluer each night —a little quieter. Not even chess amused his.

I didn't tell him that Jessie Langdon, afer accepting my invitation, had decided to leave at once for the mountains. And after she withdrew all the others were unable to accept.

To Jack, it would look only like a tempest in a teapot, but to me these cards of regret, had a deep significance. I knew Jac'- was tremendously popular with the men at the office. And such being the case, it appeared I had failed to make a hit with the wives.

"Goodness!" Isn't Jessie Langdon the litle snob!' murmured our frank Bonny when I spread the cards or regret before her. "She could have come—Ill bet my crystal cigaret case—you know Bart won't let me smoke!

"Say, Peg- I see a way out. I'll fix Jessie for once. You know Florence Carter is coming to visit me next month? I'll wire her to come now. Everybody will be crazy to say they've met her. So you'll invite her—as my guest. And watch Jessie Langdon turn green."

Florence Carter was a senator's daughter, so I asked quite a crowd.

And Jessie aLngdon and the rest of the office wives who followed her lead were furious because they hadn't met the senator's daughter. And they blamed me—Mary Smith told me!

HEARTBURN A SEVERE CASE

In cases of this trouble there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by disturbed appetite. It is generally caused by great acidity of the stomach, and whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment and becomes extremely sour, causing heartburn. In such cases vomiting often occurs, and what is thrown up is sour and sometimes bitter.

The way to get rid of heartburn is to keep your liver active by using and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles such as constipation, jaundice, water brash, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath, etc.

Miss Agnes Cutting, Shallow Lake, Ont., writes:—"I have had heartburn for a long time. There were gnawing and burning pains in my stomach, and then when I vomited there was a sour and bitter taste. I used two vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of my heartburn. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine."

New and Interesting Facts from Science and Life

The Fruit of the "Taraktogenos Kurzii" Tree Found in the Jungles of Burma by Prof. J. F. Rock After a Search of Eleven Months. Very Few White Men Have Ever Seen This Tree, from the Seeds of Which Is Produced an Oil That Is Claimed to Be a Cure for Leprosy. It Was Only Last June That the First Photograph of This Tree Ever Exhibited Was Shown to the Botanical Society in Washington.

AFTER the best medical and scientific minds of the world had wrestled with the dread disease of leprosy for ages the one cure came not from a learned man's laboratory, nor yet from the factory of the patent medicine man. It was the studious doctor armed with modern science who conquered smallpox, yellow fever, cholera, malaria, typhus and a thousand other ills to which flesh is heir; but all their assaults on the terrible disease of leprosy were in vain and left them baffled. And all the while the cure was going to waste; it was the long-looked-for sovereign remedy—chaulmoogra oil.

Even in the time of Moses the disease was greatly dreaded, and a careful study was made of it, though not by doctors, as is shown in the 13th chapter of Leviticus. It was ordered that a man or woman who had symptoms of the malady should be brought to Aaron the priest for examination, and if it could not be determined that it was or was not leprosy, the person was confined seven days and examined again, and then he might be confined for another seven days for another examination.

It was specified as a precaution that if a man's hair "is falling off his head" he may be merely bald and not necessarily leprous. But "if there be in the bald head, or the bald forehead, a white, reddish sore, it is leprosy sprung up in his bald head, as the leprosy appeareth in the skin of the flesh." "And the leper in whom the plague is, his clothes shall be rent, and his head bare, and he shall put a covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry, 'Unclean, unclean.'" It was decided, however, that when the whole skin became white with the disease, instead of spotted with it, the person became "clean" again.

While Moses was still in Egypt he was told to thrust his hand into his bosom, and when he withdrew it it was "leprous white." The disease may not have originated in the country of the Nile as the ancients believed, but it is certain that in very early times it was widespread throughout the East, including India and China. The Greeks and Romans called it a "foreign disease," but in the first century B. C. it was known in Italy. It was said to have been contracted in Syria by the soldiers of Pompey's army.

It was during the Crusades, and through them, that all Europe became afflicted with the awful malady brought back by the zealous pilgrims. The scourge became terrible, and leper houses were set up in every town; most of these were named after St. Lazarus. Lepers were isolated by law. They were made to wear a special costume, usually a long gray gown with a hood over the face, and they carried wooden clappers to give noise of their approach. The disease began to decline in the 15th century and had almost disappeared from Europe in the 17th.

It is generally in tropical countries that leprosy has persisted, though it took a hold on Norway and Iceland, where leper hospitals are still maintained. China and India have long been affected, and the Hawaiian islands have especially suffered. Sporadic cases have constantly developed in all large countries, in spite of the care taken to prevent it.

The chaulmoogra oil remedy is regarded as a new discovery, for nothing was heard of it until comparatively recently. It was only in 1902 that Dr. Frederick B. Power, director of chemical research laboratories in London, began experiments with the oil from which he isolated some new active acids. He also prepared the "ethyl ester" of these acids, in which form it can be injected into the muscles so as to effect a cure. It was in this form that it was used on 200 Hawaiian lepers, who were said to have been cured. But this oil was used as a remedy long before Dr. Power's time. Probably very few have any idea of the source of chaulmoogra oil, and even they will be surprised to find what a job it is to get it.

The voyages of Sindbad the sailor, the search of De Soto in the American wilds for the fabulous El Dorado, or of Ponce de Leon for the fountain of youth, were tame affairs compared with a trip recently made to get some seeds of the tree, "taraktogenos kurzii," from which chaulmoogra oil is produced. Very few white men have ever seen this tree, and it was only last June that the first photograph of it was exhibited. This was shown to the Botanical Society in Washington by Prof. J. F. Rock, who had been commissioned to get some of the seeds, and who spent 11 months in doing so.

The story of Prof. Rock's search and his success, as told in The Pathfinder, is a thrilling one of modern adventure. It may be mentioned that he first tried in 1919 but failed. In the first place, no white man knew where a single tree was, and even the natives who sold the seeds could not tell where they came from. Those seeds had a way of coming into the market in the Far East from time to time, very irregularly, and of being sold in the bazaars to the small trade without question as to origin or extent of the supply. Until the Hawaiian experiment the remedy was regarded as a palliative rather than a cure.

The names of the places visited by Prof. Rock in his search sound as if they had been taken from the poems of Rudyard Kipling. He made his start at Bangkok, the principal city of Siam, and journeyed north about 800 miles to the town of Chieng Mai. A part of the trip was made by railroad. After camping in the mountain forests of Doi Scotep and Doi Choin Chieng, northwest of Chieng Mai, where he found three species of chestnuts, he went by house-boat on the Meh Ping river to Roheng, and thence across a range of hills lying between that river and the Salwen river to Moulmein, lower Burma.

On this journey Prof. Rock discovered many new trees but no "taraktogenos kurzii." From Moulmein he went to Rangoon by boat and then made a difficult journey of many days to Mawalaik on the upper Chindwin river. He had been told he would find the looked-for tree there, but at Mawalaik he was told that he would have to go five or six days into the country to Kyokta. At this place the trail became warm and he got some definite information. He was directed into the hill country back of Kyokta, and there he found the object of his long, painful and hazardous journey.

The tree is a large one and grows to be very old. It flourishes in the depths of the jungles, which are infested by all kinds of wild animals, and this is one of the reasons the natives gather the seeds at such irregular intervals. The fruit is about the size of an orange, with the seeds so closely packed as to make them angular in appearance. The fruit ripens in July, and at that time the natives will not go into the forests at all on account of the bears, which infest the whole woods at that time.

The bears leave the seeds, and then come the monkeys and porcupines gathering them up eagerly. Some of the seeds are washed into the streams and are swallowed by fish.

Whale-Headed STORK

FROM the papyrus marshes of the Nile river the American Museum of Natural History in New York city has just received a skin and skeleton of the very rare whale-headed, or shoebill, stork. Only four other specimens of this strange bird are known to be in the United States. They were all secured by the late Col. Roosevelt and are all in the National Museum at Washington.

bird found only in the marshes of the Upper Nile and along the northern edge of Lake Victoria and on the Upper Lualaba. It is uncommon, even where found and very wild. It is now carefully protected by all the European governments which have colonies in Africa, special permission being required for hunting it. It is of scientific importance for the reason that it may be related to the herons, and, if so, constitutes a very remarkable link between two orders of birds.

In appearance it is of gaunt, gray figure, some five feet in height. Its large head is surmounted by a little curled tuft. The expression of its eyes is scowling. Its huge bill, in shape similar to a whale's head, is tipped with a formidable hook.

PRINTER'S INK FROM GAS

PRINTERS' ink is made from carbon black, a pure, flocculent form of carbon which is manufactured from natural gas. How it is made by burning gas under very low pressure in a low flame with not enough air admitted to produce complete combustion is described in The Scientific American by Henry P. Westcott. The result is that the unconsumed carbon is deposited on a roller or plate, from which it is removed by an automatic system of scrapers and conveyors. Carbon black is then bolted or sifted and is packed by special machinery. It is a most curious substance, for when first scraped from the plates it is so light that 30 pounds of it is sufficient to fill a sugar barrel; the specific gravity of carbon black, however, is about 1.7, so that it is really very much heavier than water; therefore, 95 per cent. of the bulk of black as it comes from the plates is really air, and the problem of packing is to separate the black from the air as far as is commercially feasible.

"Natural gas furnished an ideal solution of the problems," says Mr. Westcott, "and carbon black is now made on a large scale from natural gas in West Virginia and other states and is a staple commodity which is used in the manufacture of printers' ink, automobile tires, paints for metals, for carbon paper, typewriter ribbons, phonograph records, tarpaulins, carriage cloth, block leather, paper, bookbinders' boards, shoe polish, stove polish, electrical compositions, in cameras and in making crayons.

"The main point to consider in locating a plant, outside of the proximity to the supply of natural gas and railroad facilities, is to locate it in a depression or gully where it will be least affected by the prevailing winds.

"The burning of the gas requires a certain amount of draft, but the flames must be protected from all unnecessary drafts and especially from high winds, otherwise the losses would be entirely too large. Carbon black is very light and under the most ideal conditions a large percentage is carried off by the burnt gases and is lost.

"A carbon black plant generally consists of 20 to 30 'burning' buildings, a bolting and packing building, power plant and necessary warehouse for storage of the finished product.

"The burning buildings are constructed entirely of sheet iron, size 8x2½ feet, angle iron and plenty of common wire bolts and rivets to fasten the sheet iron on to the frame.

"It is common practice for carbon black manufacturers to use a steam engine with high pressure gas as power, then to exhaust the expanded gas into the low-pressure main just back of the gasometer. This furnishes continual power at no expense other than lubricating oil. A 30-horsepower engine is about the right size for a 30-building plant. The pressure of gas entering the cylinder ranges from 50 to 100 pounds or about the same as steam. The gas is exhausted into the main at a low pressure.

"On account of liability of the cylinders to frost, interfering with the lubrication of the piston, the gas is first run through a coil consisting of about 150 feet of two-inch pipe laid in the burning building nearest to the engine, where the gas is heated and enters the engine cylinders, considerably above the atmospheric temperature, and all liability of frosting in the cylinder is eliminated.

"After the carbon is scraped from the channel irons or collecting plates it falls down through a hopper or funnel into the carrying pipe. This carrying pipe is an eight-inch conveyor pipe running the full length of each burning building and carries a constantly revolving worm which forces the carbon toward the end of the building where it falls into another but larger size conveyor pipe, likewise carrying a constantly revolving worm which forces the carbon to the bolting or sifting house. Hence it falls on to a belt conveyor, where it is carried up to a height of 10 to 12 feet, where it falls into the first revolving bolter. This first bolter contains a screen of eight meshes to the inch and separates the hard particles, dirt or scale. The screened carbon then falls out into a second conveyor and is carried up and dropped into a second bolter where a 50-mesh-to-the-inch screen is used. After passing through the second bolter it is carried to a third bolter, with now a 60-mesh-to-the-inch screen. After being screened in the third bolter it is conveyed to the bin on the second floor of the building where it is kept until it passes through the automatic packers below into the sacks ready for boxing for shipment."

The FOOD VALUE of RAW EGGS

ALTHOUGH eggs and a variety of products prepared from them have long been popular in the dietary of the sick, they are nevertheless the subject of frequent debate with respect to the form in which they are presented for ingestion. Traditional prejudices regarding eggs often find expression on the part alike of patients and of their physicians. Speculation as to the degree of cooking preferable to make eggs ideal as food often calls forth contradictory advice. To one person the hard boiled egg is reputed to be peculiarly difficult of digestion; another will insist on its innocuous and wholesome character. Raw eggs have likewise been included in discussions of digestibility.

"Students of gastric physiology," says a writer in the Journal of the American Medical Association, "have repeatedly demonstrated that uncooked white of egg rapidly leaves the stomach, thus differing from most protein foods; furthermore, it does not excite any noteworthy flow of gastric juice.

"Several years ago, Bateman asserted as the result of observations on animals that the feeding of considerable quantities of raw egg white may actually lead to diarrhea. On the basis largely of such evidence, he warned against the use of large quantities of uncooked egg in the dietary of the sick, urging that the food be heated at least to the point at which incipient coagulation of the proteins of the whites takes place.

"Recent tests on healthy persons by M. S. Rose and G. MacLeod at the Teachers' College of Columbia University, New York, have failed to disclose any occasion for severe condemnation of the raw egg in dietetics. When the whites of from ten to twelve eggs a day were included in a simple mixed diet they were well utilized, the average coefficient of digestibility calculated for the raw egg white alone being 80 per cent., as compared with 86 per cent. for cooked whites in the same diet.

"The absorption varied with the method of preparation, being less for raw egg whites taken in their natural state than when beaten light. A mixture of whites partly beaten and partly unbeaten gave an intermediate value. In no case was there any sign of indigestion, such as discomfort or diarrhea, though one or two subjects found the diet slightly laxative. Since the quantities referred to may be regarded as maximal in dietary practice, one may agree with Rose and MacLeod that it seems unnecessary to emphasize unduly the difference between raw and cooked eggs, especially if the raw eggs are beaten."

DO YOU KNOW THAT--

IF you go away from home for the summer, closing up your house, you should notify the police? In some towns you are required to sign a card and then once in twenty-four hours or sometimes oftener, your doors will be tried and your property inspected to see that nothing has been disturbed.

• • •

If a member of your family who carries life insurance dies, the terms of the policy must be complied with as to proper identification before burial? Otherwise how can the company be positive that the person insured is actually the one for whom claims are being made?

• • •

In the case of accidents for which individuals or companies may be liable, it is a mistake to sign a release at once as the injured individual is so often urged to do, perhaps upon payment of a small sum of money? The extent of the injury is not always realized immediately and it is much wiser to be guided by reliable counsel in such a matter. It is also a mistake in case of accident or injury, to sign a statement of "how it happened," for that statement may be deftly worded to serve as an actual release or it may be interpreted to be a direct contradiction of what you think you are really signing. Statements on loose sheets of paper are especially to be avoided.

• • •

It is always wise in signing an obligation of any kind to be prepared for the worst, for you never can tell what may occur to interfere with the intentions and purposes of those upon whom you are depending?

• • •

Your indorsement or signature upon a note given by someone else for a stated period of time, automatically expires and does not hold you, the indorser, provided you are not legally notified at once of the failure of the maker of the note to pay? That is to say, you indorse the note for three months, six months or a year as the case may be. If at the end of that time you are not notified of your own liability, you have a right to assume that the maker has paid the note and that you are released. Many an individual has allowed an indorsement to expire without realizing his own loss by so doing. The notification renews the indorsement.

Products from CORN

CORN is commonly spoken of as the "king of cereals" in the United States because it is grown so extensively and depended on by so many farmers as their main money-producing crop. Taking into consideration its value for feeding animals and men and as a basic material for the preparation of commercial products, including foods, chemicals and substances widely used in the industries and arts, all must admit that it richly deserves the name.

Numerous toothsome, nutritious foods may be prepared with corn meal. In addition there are corn starch and corn syrup, both of which are valuable food substances. Besides all these the chemist has extracted more than a score of useful, valuable products and in time may learn how to obtain many more. Among the most important of these products are the following:

An oil from the germs, widely used for culinary purposes; paragol, a gum used as a substitute for rubber in such things as bath sponges, pencil erasers and shoe soles; a soap-making material; oil meal and oil cake for feeding cattle, hogs, etc.; a sugar used by canners, bakers and vinegar-makers; dextrose, a kind of sugar that is of considerable value as a food in certain diseased conditions; phytin, a phosphorous compound that promises to be of great value as a medicine, and alcohol. The cobs which are used for making "Missouri meerschauma" by the millions also yield cellulose and furfural, both valuable commercial products. The stalks are used not only as forage for farm animals but for the manufacture of alcohol, syrup, oil, cellulose and paper.

What the AMERICAN FLAG of the FUTURE May Be LIKE

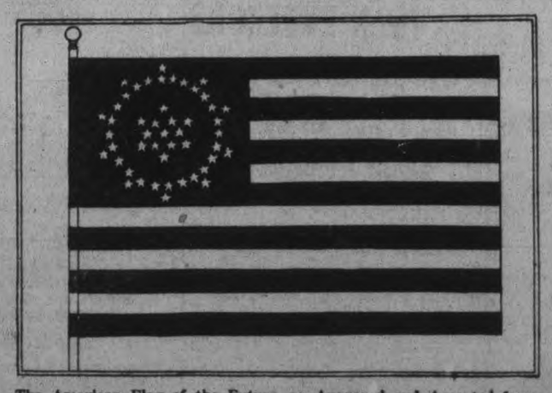
WITH 48 states composing the American Union at present, and a white star for each state on the blue field of Uncle Sam's national banner these four dozen stars are arranged in six even rows of eight stars each. But suppose a new state should be admitted to the Union. Then the symmetrical arrangement of stars would be somewhat upset. However, such an event has been anticipated and just how it was done is told in a recent number of the English-Speaking World (New York city).

While Wayne Whipple of Philadelphia was writing the story of the American flag he arranged what he calls the "Flag of the Future." Mr. Whipple was invited to the White House to receive the congratulations of the President on his patriotic book. He made the call on a Flag day (June 14) and since that time the "Flag of the Future" has been exploited in newspapers, magazines, books and motion pictures. Mr. Whipple does not claim originality for the design—it is only "the Flag of the Fathers grown up with the country." It has been approved and accepted and now awaits formal adoption by executive order of the President of the United States. Congress has nothing whatever to do with the case, having legislated itself out of further consideration of the arrangement of the stars by the act of 1818.

"The Flag of the Future" flag has been displayed in the White House, inaugural parades and processions all over the country, and even has been sold as "the new flag." It has been less in evidence since the beginning of the world war, because it is to stand for peace—not "the Peace Flag," but the United States standard for peace.

It is likely to be adopted by the President before the admission of a new state. There are several territories yet to come in and a few of the larger states to be subdivided, as Virginia and Dakota were divided in the 19th century.

This old-new arrangement is likely to be made official as the Standard of the New Era, characterized by peace, prohibition and the admission of women to full citizenship.



The American Flag of the Future, as Approved and Accepted from Hundreds of Designs Submitted. Thirteen Stars in Centre for the 13 Original States, Taken from the Seal of the United States Adopted in 1782. Twenty-five Stars in Circle of Washington Enlarged to Cover First Entry (Washington's Design Adopted 1777). Ten Stars Outside Circle for States Added Since 1876. Stars for Other States to Be Inserted in Loose Outer Circle.

In the United States "Flag of the Future," as finally approved and accepted after hundreds of designs had been submitted, 13 stars, arranged as one great six-pointed star in the centre of the blue field, represent the original 13 states, being taken from the seal of the United States which was adopted in 1782. Surrounding this great central star is a circle composed of 25 stars in the circle of Washington enlarged to cover the first entry of states. This is Washington's own design and was adopted in 1777. This makes a total of 38 stars, so the remaining 10 stars which are grouped widely apart just outside the Washington circle represent the states admitted to the American Union since 1876. For each new state admitted a star will be inserted in the loosely arranged outer circle.

Most of the flags had circles in the union for nearly 100 years. There was no attempt to set the stars in uniform rows until after the civil war, when Gen. Butler began to manufacture flags by machinery.

There is no wish to discard "Old Glory" with its present spaced rows. The only intention is to enlarge the original design of Washington so as to illustrate the growth and progress of the United States and provide space enough without further change for all the stars likely to be added during the ages to come.

Toronto Defeated Again--Sport News From City and District

JERSEY CITY WINS FOURTH STRAIGHT FROM TORONTO

Four Pitchers Prove Ineffective Against the Skeeters. Rochester Trims Baltimore.

INTERNATIONAL.

Jersey City 8—Toronto 6.

JERSEY CITY, June 14 (Canadian Press). — The Jerseys made it four games in a row by annexing the final game of the series with Toronto yesterday afternoon by the score of 8 to 6. Jersey City hit hard, hanging 15 wallops against the quartette of pitchers who were called to duty by the visitors. Score:

Toronto	010100301	6	11 1
Jersey City	03020102x	8	15 2

Rochester 8—Baltimore 2.

BALTIMORE, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Hughes held Baltimore to seven hits yesterday, and, with fine support, pitched Rochester to an 8 to 2 victory. It was the visitors' only win during the five-game series. Frank was hit hard, and gave way for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Archdeacon and Connolly hit home runs. Score:

Rochester	010110203	8	9 1
Baltimore	020000000	2	7 3

Syracuse 3—Reading 2.

READING, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Syracuse took the last game of the series with Reading here yesterday by the score of 3 to 2, in a ten-inning contest. Karpp and Sell both pitched very effectively. Barnes tripled, and Mohardt's sacrifice fly scored the winning run in the tenth. Score:

Reading	0010100000	2	6 3

Sell and Niebergall; Karpp and Clarke.

Buffalo 7—Newark 0.

NEWARK, N.J., June 14 (Canadian Press).—Buffalo won the series from Newark yesterday, taking the last game, 7 to 0. Mohardt pitched airtight ball for Buffalo, and the Newarks helped him win by furnishing a loose brand of ball. Score:

Newark	000000000	0	5 3

Mohardt and Bengough; Knsisch, Gillis, Fileshifter and Walker.

AMERICAN.

St. Louis 13—New York 4.

ST. LOUIS, June 14 (Canadian Press). — The Browns and the Yankees broke even in their series here by virtue of the locals' 13 to 4 victory yesterday, due to Dave Danforth's pitching and the clubbing of Sisler and his mates. Shawkey, Murray, and O'Doul were ineffective. Catcher Severeid was put out of the game for protesting Umpire Evans' decisions. Score:

St. Louis	40003510x	13	16 0
New York	002101000	4	11 3

Shawkey, Murray, O'Doul and Devormer, Hoffman; Danforth and Severeid, Collins.

Detroit 5—Washington 1.

DETROIT, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Detroit made it three out of four from Washington, winning yesterday's game, 5 to 1. Harris' home run in the first averted a shutout for the Nationals. Cobb's hitting was a big factor in the Tigers' victory, while four double plays behind Oldham also cut off scoring chances for Washington. Score:

Detroit	00010130x	5	9 0

Chicago 5—Boston 2.

CHICAGO, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Charley Robertson, of perfect game fame, yesterday let Boston down with two hits, while Chicago touched Bill Piercy for 10, and shut out the vistors in the final game of the series, 5 to 0. Joe Harris, first baseman of Boston, was spiked on the foot by Mostil in a close play at first base, and had to retire from the game. Score:

Boston	000000000	0	2 2
Chicago	00110005x	5	10 1

Piercy and Chaplin; Robertson and Schalk.

NATIONAL.

Chicago 8—Brooklyn 3.

BROOKLYN, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Chicago evened up the series by beating Brooklyn yesterday, 8 to 3. The Cubs landed on Burleigh Grimes for six hits and two sacrifices in the fifth, which, with three errors, gave them six runs and sent the Dodgers' ace to the showers. Alexander received airtight support. Score:

Brooklyn	002001000	3	10 5

Alexander and Hartnett, O'Farrell; B. Grimes, Marnaux, Shriver and Miller, Hungling.

Boston 8—Pittsburgh 5.

BOSTON, June 14 (Canadian Press).— Good hitting in the pinches by Gowdy, Barbare, and Nicholson largely accounted for Boston's victory over Pittsburgh yesterday, 8 to 5, giving the series to the Braves, three games to one. Ford's fielding was brilliant. Boston has won nine of its last eleven games. Score:

Boston	40100300x	8	12 1

Hamilton, Morrison and Gooch, Fillingim; Marquard, McQuillan.

New York 7—Cincinnati 5.

NEW YORK, June 14 (Canadian Press). — New York increased its lead in the National League to four full games yesterday by making it four in a row from Cincinnati, 7 to 5, while Pitsburgh lost to Boston. Both Nehf and Couch were hit hard but had exceptional control. Both teams fielded brilliantly. Score:

New York	00402001x	7	14 1

Couch and Hargrave; Nehf and Smith.

Philadelphia 14—St. Louis 0.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14 (Canadian Press). — Pounding four St. Louis pitchers for sixteen hits, Philadelphia yesterday took the final game of the series, 14 to 0. First Baseman Fournier pitched the eighth inning for the Cardinals, and did not allow a hit. Pitchers Haines and Pertica played first base and shortstop respectively in that inning. Recruit Singleton held the visitors to six scattered hits. Score:

St. Louis	000000000	0	6 3
Philadelphia	00700340x	14	16 1

Fournier, Haines, Doak, North, Bailey, Pertica and Clemons; Singleton and Peters.

SCHOOL FIELD DAYS GIVE GOOD RESULTS

100 Boys From the Public Schools Have Qualified For Big Day on Saturday

Exceptionally good results have been obtained from the field days which have been run off at the different Public Schools under the auspices of the P.A.A.A. during the past few weeks. Of the 241 boys who have taken part in the events 100 have qualified for the big sport and field day events which will be held at Nicholls Oval on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. In order to qualify for this event it was necessary for the boys to make an average of 40 per cent. or higher in the school events. The number of entries and the number who qualified from the various schools are:

School.	Entries.	Qualified.
King Edward	30	10
King George	60	28
Queen Alexandria	19	12
Central	38	16
Queen Mary	58	13
Prince of Wales	36	21
	241	100

The entries have been graded into five classes, according to their weight, rather than according to age. The classes are: 80, 95, 110, 125 and unlimited weights. Each boy is entered in from four to six events, according to the class in which he qualifies.

Badges will be awarded the winners of Saturday's events and a pennant will go to the winning school.

In addition to the events run off at the schools, two relay races will also be held on Saturday. One for boys of 95 pounds and under, the other for boys over 95. A team of four boys will be entered from each school in each of these races.

ELECTRICIANS TOP THE Y.M.C.A. NINE

Chris McCarney by pitching first class ball last evening gave the C. G.E. nine a 7 to 1 victory over the Y.M.C.A. aggregation in the City League fixture at Riverside Park. He fanned twelve, allowed but four hits and did not issue complimentary He also got good sport from his team mates, none of the four errors charged against them coming at a critical time. Doughty who was on the mound for the "Y" struck out but one man and walked five. He allowed but five hits, one of which was a home by Corrin.

Corrin's circuit slam came in the third frame. J. McCarney, the first man up drew a pass, Corrin came up next and immediately slammed the pill out over the third base landing it in the long grass near the far fence.

Doughty pulled himself out of a hole in the fourth when after the bases had been filled he handled McCarney's bunt in perfect fashion catching Ross at the plate with a neat throw to Bergoine who immediately pegged the ball to first retiring McCarney.

Bergoine was the batting star of the Y.M.C.A. getting two hits in three times to bat, while Aex Butcher supplied the fielding feature by running back to take a difficult fly which Barrie knocked out in the first inning.

GEO. STERN LIKES BROKERS BETTER THAN EMPERORS

RODE AT BERLIN.

PARIS, June 14. — (Canadian Press).—George Stern, who rode Ramus to victory in the French Derby at Chantilly Sunday, smiled broadly as he pocketed a large bonus which the owner of Ramus, Marcel Boussac, handed him.

"Brokers are more generous than emperors," said Stern reminiscently. Former Emperor William of Germany, so a story goes, sent a hurry call to Stern to ride his horse in the Grand Prix in Berlin, a few years before the war. Stern won the race for the Emperor, and the Court Major Domo afterwards handed the jockey 3,000 marks.

"Thanks, I'll give this to my valet," Stern is reported to have said, adding: "As for me, I want 10,000 marks."

A long discussion ensued and the Major Domo made several trips between his imperial master and jockey before the Emperor finally accepted the rider's terms.

"The Emperor found this wrangling very annoying," the Major Domo volunteered as he handed over ten bills to the jockey.

"Not half as much as I did," retorted Stern.

LACROSSE PRACTICE.

A juvenile lacrosse practice will be held tomorrow afternoon on the Armoury grounds.

The Noodle Not the Wing That Throws the Ball

"BABE" ADAMS

"A ball player has lots of time in which he can do himself harm.

"A fellow can disregard nature and get away with it. He can kid himself along for a while, but finally he'll snap.

"There are certain laws that everybody has to live by They came with mankind, just like directions on a package. They must be minded to enable a fellow to deliver consistently.'

These are Babe Adams views. He has lived accordingly. In years he's an old man—for baseball. As a player he's among the youngest. What's more he's pitching—the branch of service in which they wear out fastest.

"'I don't know how I do it" says Babe. "Just simply go ahead and do it, that's all.

"That's a wise old crack about 'youth will be served'. A fellow my years has to dig some to get by the young chaps. The youngster's got it and you can't do much against it. And most of them are getting by just because they're young, that's all.

"The pitching game isn't what ie used to be. In my day I used to have to sit down and figure out the different things that got to make pitching, and then go out and practice them had. The young pitcher today can pick the game up in a few weeks. He has two or three coaches with modern methods of tricks and systems and so forth, that have been accumulated through years of experience. That's the reason I think they crack so fast. They don't get the right seasoning during youth to stand the grind of years.

"But most of it is just natural ability. A fellow simply has just got to be made that way.

"It's not so much the old pitching arms these twentieth century days as it is the pitching head. After all, it's the noodel that throws the ball, not the wing. There are some fellows I can throw a high inside ball to and they won't touch it, and then let some other pitcher come up and do the same thing, and that same player'll knock it outa the lot.

"If a fellow were to stop thinking out there in the box and resort to strength, he'd darn soon find out he was losing all his friends."

FIRST DEFEAT FOR C.G.E. SOCCER TEAM

The C.G.E. footballers met their first defeat of the season last evening at Nicholls Oval at the hands of the Woollens, the score being 2 to 1. A large crowd was on hand to see the teams play the first game for the Phelan Charity Cup.

The C.G.E. players were set to face the rays of the setting sun, and right away made tracks for Williams, but the goalie was on the mark to stop a high shot from Bartley. Both teams were playing well, the defences particularly being in top form. Dyer of the C.G.E. got the first goal, a shot from Manders rebounding off Williams to the centre's toe, who drove hard and true. The Woollens, nothing daunted, went at it hard and fast, and in two minutes had the goal to tie the score, Chambers nipping the ball from Griffin into the goal. Woollens had a scare during a mouth scrimmage, but offside against Dyer removed the pressure. Williams, in the Wollens goal, was saving nicely.

The Woollens in their attack adopted the long passing game, and it paid them fully when Chambers, fifteen minutes from time, got past Gamble and drove from ten yards, Griffin being helpless to stop the shot. It was a grand goal, and well deserved the ovation it was accorded by the crowd.

C.G.E. attacked strongly in an effort to equalize, but the Woollens defence was strong, Chambers being superb in both attack and defence. The game ended with a corner to Williams.

The game was one of the best this season, both teams playing well and the honours going to the team playing the most profitable tactics.

The players were:

Woollens—Williams, Read, Cridland, C. Monkman, Hillman, Rappe, Gaskell, Shuttle, Chambers, G. Monkman and Downes.

C.G.E.—Griffin, Gamble, Parkins, Williams, McMillan, Hurrle, Gatfield, Mander, Dyer, Monks and Sharman.

Referee—J. L. Howarth.

LITTLE GOLF LESSONS

In the open stance the left foot is placed back of the right foot on the imaginary line of play running through the ball to the green ahead. The stance is "open" by degrees, from slightly open to wide open. The choice seems to rest with the player's individuality and comfort. Some players find the stroke to be comfortable with the wide open stance, which sems to let the body follow through after the clubhead with more muscular freedom.

When golfers develop their game to the degree of excellnce which has been obtained by "Bobby" Jones, they can pull or slice a ball at will. "Bobby" has just wrapped one around a tree to make it break into an intentional slice and thus reach the green. His stance for this masterful shot is sketched in the diagram, showing how the ball is played off the left toe.

Football

For the C.P.C. game the Owls line up will be as follows: Mc Fadden, Frost, Hosker, Burrows, Wag, Edwards, Bills, Hutton, Hardie, Burgess, Hotston; reserves Willis, Wain.

ASSEMBLERS AND FITTERS BATTLE

The Lock Fitters and the Assemblers clashed in a fast game of baseball at the Bonner-Worth diamond Monday evening, the Fitters winning 13 to 11.

Steady pitching and good catching on both teams provided the features of the game. For the Assemblers, Burke at second, Westbrook at third and Edgar at centre field, show up exceptionally well.

Murray of the Fitters made two nice catches in centre field, while Clydesdale at first and Flager at third played exceptionally well. Flager also provided some feature playing with his base-stealing activities.

The batteries were: Lock Fitters, Guerin and Collins; Assemblers, Williams and Huffman.

Old Captain Smith of Belleville pulled down his glazed peaked cap on Saturday afternoon and took the box against Cobourg. The only thing Cap. had on the ball was the cover, which, fortunately, had been securely fastened on by Mr. Spalding. Smith sent the old ball along just to the liking of the Cobourg batters, and didn't they pound it! To make a victory absolutely certain, McCaffery drove the ball into an adjoining farm for a home run, scoring two runs ahead of him. The final score was: Cobourg 8, Belleville 0.—Port Hope Guide.

EXAMINATION OF WOMEN STUDENTS

An Innovation at the University of Toronto to Avoid Nervous Breakdowns.

TORONTO, June 14 Special to The Examiner). — The University of Toronto is beginning to take an interest in the health of its woman students. Next year they will require to physical examination as a pre-requisite of entrance. In addition to this there will be 2 hours a week compulsory physical training during the first year.

This is a very essential step, according to Dr. Edith Gordon, medical advisor to women at the University.

"We had two or three nervous breakdowns this year," said Dr. Gordon. "One of the fourth year students had a nervous collapse in the middle of examinations, and had to be sent home. We are trying to find ways of avoiding this sort of thing."

More than 85 per cent. of the students are able to take physical training. It is possible to make this training compulsory only in the first year, because of lack of gymnasium accommodation.

Plans have been drawn up for a new and more adequate gymnasium than the small one at the Lillian Massey School, but they have not begun to materialise as yet.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 14.— (Canadian Press.)—Rails and Oils featured spirited rally of prices in stock market at opening of to-day's stock session. New York, Central, Canadian Pacific and Lake Erie and Western Preferred rose one to two points, and similar gains were scored by Standard Oil of New Jersey and Sinclair. Other strong issues embraced Davidson Chemical, Utah Copper, Central Leather, Consolidated Gas, Cuba Cane Preferred, Gulf States, Mack Trucks, Studebaker and Westinghouse.

Market moved steadily forward during the morning on moderate volume of business. Oils and Rails remained dominant issues. Majority of those shares scoring further gains. Aside from Republic Iron and Nova Scotia Steel. Independent issue of that description continued strong. Motors and their subsidiaries as well as Shippings, Textiles and Leathers were in demand at one to two points gains.

Bullish activities in selected issues utilized as screen to selling elsewhere but recessions were comparatively light except in Steel and Oil groups. Crucible Steel fell 1 1-2 and high-priced Oils also gave way sharply as did Sinclair on profit-taking, following announcement of an initial quarterly dividend of 50 cents. Pierce Oil Preferred advanced 4 3-4. Fisher Body 4, Continental Can 3, Reynolds Spring 2 1-2, Manhattan Elevated 2 and Studebaker, American Sumatra Tobacco, Postum Cereal Preferred, American Linseed, Pierce Arrow Preferred, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester and American Radiator 1 to 1 3-4. Investment Railroads were in demand.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 14.— (Canadian Press.) — Sterling exchange steady. Demand rate Great Britain 4.47. Canadian Dollar 29-32 of one per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, June 14.—(Canadian Press.) — Opening wheat prices, which ranged from 1-2 decline to 3-8 cents advance, with July 109 7-8 to 110 and Sept. 110 3-4 to 111, were followed by slight declines all around and then by sudden upturn to well above yesterday's finish.

Corn and Oats were firmer with wheat. After opening a shade to 1-4 to 3-8 cents higher, July 60 3-4 to 61, the Corn market scored slight general gains .Oats started 1-8 to 3-8 to 1-2 lower, July 34 to 34 1-4 and later hardened on all deliveries.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, June 14.—(Canadian Press.) — In trading on local stock exchange this morning nothing of importance occurred, and price quotations were uninteresting. The feature was provided by a four point slump in Lyall Construction Company, which sagged to 46. Of paper issues only Brompton and Riordon put in an appearance and these were unchanged at 30 3-4 and 12 1-2 respectively .Bell Telephone and Montreal Power were also unchanged at 110 and 91. Brazilian registered a decline of an eighth to 49. Glass was down half at 67, Dominion Textile was strong and advanced a point to 164, while National Breweries rose half to 54 1-2.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, June 14.—(Canadian Press.)— Trading was very light on the local stock exchange this morning. Steel of Canada was weak, losing 1 1-4 points on sale of a hundred shades at 71 3-4. AFTERMATH OF A SATURDAY SPREE

Redskins Fined Today for Being Intoxicated

The police-court was pretty well congested with Indians this morning. Three were charged with thefts and two Curve Lake residents, James and Albert Taylor, were charged with being intoxicated in a public place, to wit, Curve Lake reserve, Saturday last. It developed from the evidence of the Taylors that other charges could have been laid against them, for Albert admitted buying a crock in Bobcaygeon Saturday for $10, and he and his brother drank it in a launch.. The first offence of buying would constitute a serious offence, and a charge of drinking in a public place would cover the launch episode. Over and above the O.T.A. the Indians could be arraigned under the Indian Act. Magistrate Langley enlarged upon the difficulties they had got themselves into and said he could not say what further information Inspector J. Stewart would want to swear out against them. Inspector Stewart was represented by Joseph Wearing.

The Indians pleaded guilty to being intoxicated as charged, and Albert, who secured the liquor, was fined $20 and the brother $10 with costs in each case of $10.30. The arrests were made by Constable J. J David at the village yesterday. Two other participants in the Bacchanalian celebration at the Indian village Saturday night, William McCue and Christopher Ashkewe, were assessed $10 each. If the Indians could not pay the fines they were given a month's sojourn at the county gaol.

AUTHOR RECOGNIZES MOVIE BRAIN CHILD

While Allan Dwan was shooting scenes for "A Perfect Crime" in the First National Bank of Los Angeles a man walking by perceived that a "movie" was being taken and came inside to watch. After a couple of hours of watching he stepped up to Dwan and asked what company was working. Dwan told him. The man looked thoughtful for a moment and then suspicious. Then he asked the name of the picture. He was enlightened.

"Good heavens, I wrote it!" he said excitedly as he rushed out, "I must go and get my wife."

The man was Carl Clausen, who originally wrote the story which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

At the Royal last time to-night.

AT THE REGENT.

To-night is your last chance to see that touching Irish drama, "The Magic Cup." We use the word "Irish," although most of the scenes are laid in New York, but lead up to a castle in the Emerald Isle. Mary Malloy is a hotel maid whose actions are ruled by her impulsive, kind-hearted Irish nature. She has a silver cup, emblazoned with the crest of her once wealthy Irish ancestors. This she pawns on Christmas Eve to help a poor family. Jewel thieves recognise the crest on the cup in Solomon Levi's store, and plot to get the girl in their power so she can help their plans. The girl is fooled by a story the gang tell about her Irish relatives, and unwittingly aid them in a huge robbery. A newspaper reported warns the girl in time, and the play ends with an almost audible peal of wedding bells. Then in addition there is a good selection of comedies and others.

For to-morrow the Regent has "The Vermilion Pencil," with the celebrated Japanese actor Hayakawa in the leading role. This is a story of China, and is possibly the most spectacular play ever filmed, introduci.. the destruction of whole villages by a volcanic eruption. In this play Hayakawa risked his life many times to make a perfect picture.

Capitol Entertainment

"BACHELOR DADDY" AT THE CAPITOL TOMORRO" WILL BE ONE OF THE BEST PICTURES OF THE SUMMER SEASON.

Role Just Fits Thomas Meighan and the Kids are Sure To Be the Hit of the Attraction—Natural Audience Winner.

"The Bachelor Daddy" is going to be one of the best pictures that has been seen in a long time. Thomas Meighan has done almost every kind of part in the list of "red-blooded, hundred-percent-man type" and has always delighted audiences which apreciate good acting and dramatic ability.

It is quite safe to say that for certain types there isn't a better man acting before the camera—he is not possessed of the langorous, masculine charms which distinguish Valentino, he is not exactly the Wallace Reid type, but he appeals to more people than any other man in the game He does not seem to strain after effect, but he does know how to act—to express strong emotion in a convincing manner.

Anyone who may, by chance, not know what Thomas Meighan has done, should be reminded that he achieved probably the greates success of his career in the picture, "The Miracle Man." He was not a star at the time, but the late George Loane Tucker considered him the ideal person to convey the idea he wanted the audience to get. It was necessary to have some one who could look the part of an ordinary, everyday sort of man—not too successful and yet respectable enough looking, to be with crooks, but not of them. He maed a big hit in the part. After this success brought him into the limelight, he played, still as leading man, such parts as those in "Male and Female", and "Don't Change Your Wife" which were pictures that the public liked. Again, he scored in dozens of releases which gave him opportunity but they were not pictures which pleased a public which wanted Meighan in stories giving him scope to display his real worth.

Two years ago, he was starred by Paramount, and right here is the chance to dwell on his work since—he chose as director in three of his latest pictures two of which belong to the roster of next season, Alfred Green, a director who has not yet been numbered in the list of super-directors but who is rapidly coming to the front. "The Bachelor Daddy" is the result of this happy combination and before people see the play they should know that it is a screen version of "The Proxy Daddy" written by Edward Peple, the man responsible for "The Prince Chap," another Meighan triumph.

Everbody loves children—there is no doubt about that, but a lot of persons don't realize how much they love them. There are five lovely little kiddies in the play, all of them at the age when they are absolutely irresistable. They worm themselves into one' heart by such cunning unobtrusive means that just as Dick Chester, in the picture loved them before he knew that they were more to him than just motherless and fatherless little waifs, so will a production featuring them be popular with the public. Highlights for advertising them are, stuff in the press about the blessings they are in a home, the household without youngsters being a more or less cold and desolate place.

IT IS COMING!

"Foolish Wives" the long heralded photoplay is the costliest film ever made. The Universal Film Manufacturing Company is said to have expended $1,103,736 and some odd cents, in its making. Expensive sets and the salaries of thousands of "extra" actors did much to swell this total. The money was well spent, however, as the settings are faithful reproductions of the buildings at Monte Carlo, and the extras create the true Riveria atmosphere.

The ornate sets used in "Foolish Wives", the million dollar picture alone cost more than $400,000, officials of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company assert. Most of this was spent in constructing the elaborate reproductions of the Plaza at Monte Carlo, with its parks, its flower beds, its streets, and the three buildings, the Casino, he Hotel de Paris and the Cafe de Paris flanking it.

The crowd scenes on the Monte Carlo promenade overlooking the sea, in the million dollar picture were made up of "millionaire extras", from San Francisco society.

All the glitter and glamor of Monte Carlo are depicted in "Foolish Wives". At enormous cost, the principal buildings of the Mediterranean resort were duplicated at Universal City, Cal., for the production of the film. The interiors of the famous Hall of Chance are shown wih remarkable fidelity, as well as the smaller and more Bohemian gaming salons with their crowds of adventurers and adventuresses.

One of the most forceful episodes ever flashed on the screen is shown It concerns a U. S. Marine on leave at Monte Carlo. The first scenes of the episode cause the audience to boil with rage but the final one always brings tears and applause. To explain it here would be to spoil its great punch. It must be seen to be appreciated.

LABORATORY ON TRAIN.

For the first time in the history of moving pictures, a baggage car of the Union Pacific railway was fitted up as a film laboratory, so that the work of editing and cutting "Foolish Wives", would not be interrupted by the five-day journey from California to New York.

The car was equipped with film-cutting tables, developing and printing tanks, and even with a miniature projecion room, where the editors could see the results of their cuttings. A force of film experts, headed by Arthur D. Ripley, worked day and night during the entire journey. As fast as the cutters rearranged the various sequences, Miss Marian Ainslee, the title writer, composed the necessary subtitles, which were photographed, printed on film, and immediately inserted in their proper places in the finished film.

More than six thousand feet of film were trimmed from the lengthy feature during the trip or more than the length of an ordinary photo-drama. As finally edited, "Foolish Wives" is about 10,000 feet long—a two hour show of beautiful photography, spirited action and stirring climaxes. When it is understood that more than 325,000 feet of film were photographed in the making of this feature, it may readily be seen how gigantic was the work of cutting and editing the picture, and how the film in is present form contains only the choice and most striking scenes and sequences.

which creeps in upon the gloomy horizon of those who are disheartened and discouraged, by being in ill-health, is indeed a blessing to humanity. Chiropractic offers hope to those so afflicted. It offers a safe, sane, logical and natural way to health.

Chiropractic Will Help You

This may seem too strong a statement to apply in a general way, but it is based alone on the evidence of what Chiropractic is doing where consistently tried out. The recovery of chronic cases at the hands of the Chiropractor is the best proof that Chiropractic is right. Such recoveries are actually taking place.

It Is to Your Advantage to not wait until your condition becomes chronic, because it is absolutely astonishing how readily acute cases respond to Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments. This is because Chiropractic ADJUSTS THE CAUSE of your trouble and thus prevents the usual run of symptoms and consequent depletion of tissue.

WEDDING BELLS

HENSLEY—HOGAN.
A pretty wedding took place at 11 o'clock this morning at St. John's Church, when Jane, daughter of William Hogan and the late Mrs. Hogan of Dundee, Scotland, was united in marriage to Albert Hensley, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hensley, of Raddon, England, both of the contracting parties being residents of Peterboro.
Rev. Canon Fornieri performed the ceremony.
The bride entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mr. R. J. Devey, on the arm of Mr. H. Cabbutt, who also acted as groomsman. She was charmingly attired in white geogette with silver embroidery, wearing veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a boquet of white carnations and neonies. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Hogan, yas gowned in mauve organdie with black picture hat and carried pink carnations. Little Adrienne Matthews made a dainty flower girl, in organdie dress of white and pale blue, with basket of yellow roses.
A reception will be held this evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. Garbutt, 510 College street. Mr. and Mrs. Hensley, who will reside in Peterboro, leave to-morrow for a motor trip to Kingston and other points. The bride yas the recipient of many pretty gifts including a quantity of handsome silverware.

HOW TO RESIST DREADED DISEASE

Home and School Association Hear Interesting Address by Dr. Neal.

There was a splendid attendance at the open meeting of the Home and School Association of the Prince of Wales' School, which took place last evening in the school hall, featured by an address by Dr. F. C. Neal on "Tuberculosis and its Causes." Dr. Neal emphasized the care which should be taken to guard against contracting the disease, avoidance of infected cases, and particularly spoke of the care to be taken of children, in nourishing the small bodies properly and building up resistance against disease germs. The speaker's instructive address was warmly received by his audience.
An enjoyable musical programme followed, with instrumental selection by Miss Norma Moore, vocal solo by Miss Daisy Davidson, and violin number by Master Gatfield. The president, Mrs. P. H. Neville, occupied the chair for the meeting.
On account of a rather abrupt ending to the meeting, caused by a sudden cessation of light, the ladies were not able to extend their thanks to those taking part in the programme, and wish to take this opportunity of doing so.

Soviet Publicity Chief Looks on Hague Conference as a Hindrance Rather Than Help.

BRIEFS FROM WIRES

MOSCOW, June 15.—(Canadian Press).—On the eve of the Hague Conference officials of the Soviet government informed the press that the Russian attitude at the new meeting will be same as that adopted at Genoa. Karl Radek, Publicity Chief, stated that the Hague Conference will be rather a hindrance than a help because it will "merely create a New United Front of Capital. "Despite her poverty," he said "Russia will enter into relations with foreign countries only on a basis of mutual esteem".

Wife Says Dentist Told Her to Work as Laborer

NEW YORK, June 15. — Mrs. Ruby E. McCombs, wife of Ray McCombs, of Queen, L.I., a dentist who also ran a farm, stated in the Supreme Court today, in applying for alimony, pending a suit for separation, that her husband told her if she wanted more money than he was giving her she could hire out to a neighbouring farmer as a day labourer.

Mrr. McCombs was married on 16th June, 1920, when she was 19 years old, and McCombs 43. After their marriage he took her to live on a farm at Cardiff, N.Y., where she said she had to work from 6 a.m. until late at night, doing all the domestic work on the farm.

She asserted that he kept her at her duties by threats of bodily harm, locked her in a room, and threatened to kill her. She estimated his income at $15,000 per year.

ARRESTED AFTER STRENUOUS RUN

Officers Caught Bruce Freeburn of Bobcaygeon After Half-Mile Chase.

In the vigorous enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act last evening in the town of Bobcaygeon, Inspector J. Stewart suffered a sprained ankle, and to-day was sporting a crutch. It was a painful effort to get down town this morning, and the struggle with the police court stairs was even more excruciating. The suffering and pain was evidently repayed manyfold, however, by the inward satisfaction of a job well done. Bruce Freeburn, of Bobcaygeon, was charged with "selling" and pleaded not guilty. Magistrate O. A. Langley remanded the case until Monday, when four Indians will be subpoenaed to give evidence that Freeburn was the agent of moonshine drank by them.

Paint Can Full For $10.

Yesterday Albert Taylor, who was fined $20 for being drunk, swore that he bought a gallon paint can of liquor off Freeburn in his launch outside of Bobcaygeon last Saturday for $10, and on this evidence the trio of officers — Inspector J. Stewart, County Constable A. R. Moore and Inland Revenue Officer W. H. Buller —went out to arrest the alleged bootlegger. It was in connection with the arrest that the inspector met with an accident.

Slid Out Back Way.

The officers drove up to Freeburn's house about 8.45 last night, just as it was getting dark. Freeburn evidently saw them coming, for he ran out the back way just as the Inspector, who had been sent around to the rear to cover him, arrived on the scene. The two other officers were at the front, and Inspector Stewart shouted to them to take up the chase, while he got under way himself. Freeburn had a big lead, and had taken several fences, and was going across gardens and fields for the big timber by leaps and bounds. Inspector Stewart negotiated one fence, but the second time over slipped on a stone, falling heavily on the right ankle. Regardless of the pain in his leg he continued after Freeburn. Constable Moore had taken the lead and was cornering the puffing and perspiring Bobcaygeon gentleman between himself and Stewart. When Freeburn saw he was in an impress he gave in and was placed under arrest.

"What did you run for?" asked the Inspector.

"I thought I'd give you a little chase," replied Freeburn in what was meant to be a joke, but which the officers, short of wind, crippled and covered with dust and dirt, failed to appreciate.

On the way home in the car the Inspector again asked Freeburn why he had run, and this time received the illuminating reply that "he was chasing the chickens." A [illegible] search of Freeburn's home [illegible] moonshine, but the prosecution, which is in charge of J. Wearing, is banking on the evidence of the Indians that accused sold them liquor, and Inspector W. H. Bulier is on the outlook for a still somewhere in the vicinity.

U. S. OFFICIAL IS VICTIM OF RARE DISEASE

A. J. Frey of the Shipping Board Dies of Blastomycosis, a Malady Introduced By Orientals.

FOUND IN CALIFORNIA

WASHINGTON, June 15.—One of the rarest and deadliest diseases known was responsible for the sudden death here of A. J. Grey, Vice-President of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where his case, which had baffled the leading physicians of Washington, has been under diagnosis for some weeks.

The disease has been diagnosed as blastomycosis, so-called because it is caused by the ravages in the human blood of a sort of yeastlike organism, very difficult to combat. In some respects the disease resembles tuberculosis, but it is far deadlier to the human system.

The malady is better known to those who have studied it in California as the San Joaquin Valley disease, so named because practically all the cases recorded in the medical annals of this country had their origin in that part of the United States. There are some who believe the disease was introduced by Orientals. It is known to exist in China. There are a number of Orientals in the San Joaquin Valley. Before coming to Washington, Mr. Frey spent some time in the San Joaquin Valley. He also visited China.

Yielded to Treatment For a Time.

Not until after Mr. Frey had been under close study of Dr. Lewellys Franklin Barker, the famous diagnostician and professor of clinical medicine at Johns Hopkins University, and a staff of experts at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, for some weeks, was the malady definitely diagnosed about two weeks ago as the San Joaquin Valley disease. Since then the case seemed to yield to treatment and Mr. Frey appeared to improve, but he had a sudden set-back and died suddenly in convulsions.

"I am informed," said Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board, "that the disease from which Mr. Frey died is one of the strangest in medical annals. He had been ill several months. Eight of the ablest physicians in Washington were in consultation over the case before Mr. Frey was finally sent to Baltimore for treatment. They were unable to diagnose it. It seemed as if he had a sort of joint infection, through some strange condition of the blood around the joints. The case was so puzzling that it was decided to send Mr. Frey to Johns Hopkins, where Dr. Baker and his whole staff worked for weeks on the case, trying to discover its exact character.

"I am informed that two weeks ago they definitely decided he was suffering from what is known as the San Joaquin Valley disease. They tell me only about sixty cases are recorded in medical history and that approximately fifty-seven of these were fatal. After the case was diagnosed as this mysterious Oriental disease, Mr. Frey began to yield to treatment and appeared to improve.

Pathologists of the United States Public Health Service, when informed of Mr. Frey's death, admitted that the disease is one of the rarest in medical annals. They said the technical name for the disease is blastomycosis and that it is a sort of blood infection, somewhat similar in its ravages to tuberculosis, and caused by a mouldy or yeast-like organism.

In reply to questions one official of the Public Health Service said the disease had not been found in many places outside the San Joaquin Valley, but that in a different form a disease of this kind had been found mainly in Chicago. Experts here say that perhaps the best authority on the disease in this country is Professor William Ophuls, of San Francisco, a native of Brooklyn, educated in Germany, who is Professor of Pathology of the Leland Stanford Jr. University and pathologist of the Lane Hospital in San Francisco.

Dr. Barker, who was in charge of Mr. Frey's case in Baltimore, was called into consultation in the case of Woodrow Wilson when the latter was so seriously ill at the White House.

POKES FUN AT "WET" REGIME ON LINERS

Volstead Defied at Sea.

WASHINGTON, June 15. — What he termed absolute disregard of the Volstead law on Shipping Board ships formed the theme of a speech by Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts, an avowed 'wet' in the House yesterday afternoon. Reading from a wine list of the President Pierce, Representative Gallivan charged that here was an instance of the inconsistency in the laws' application, for, he, asserted, the poor could no longer obtain them easily.

"The wealthy and leisurely tourist find the law a negation and a farce on ships sailing the seas under the American flag," said Mr. Gallivan. "Its open violation on the ships of the United States Shipping Board makes one laugh when he reads so much about law and order now that the Eighteenth Amendment has been adopted. Here and now I desire to call attention to and emphasize the barefaced hypocrisy of a Government appropriating money to enforce this bastard child of prohibition and at the same time appropriating more money to advertise the violation of its own laws on its own ships the minute they get outside the three-mile limit.

"We have the lovely Volstead ideas as interpreted by Volstead's friend, Lasker, which is a paradox —we may not get drunk on land, but we can get drunk on water. Do you know what I mean?

"I hold in my hand the wine list of one of Mr. Lasker's sailing delights. It was formerly known as the steamship Peninsula State and now bears the name of one of our former Presidents—President Pierce It is one of the most prominent transatlantic ships of the United States lines.

"When I read the reminiscent and at times exasperating details it is not with any intention of giving pain or sorrow to those members of Congress who voted for Volstead law. Rather it is to let Congress and the country know how on American territory under Federal appropriations, the law is violated daily.

"Listen to the list, you men of intelligence and you men who were frightened when the Volstead finger was pointed at you and you were driven to vote for this law. Burgundy at $2 per bottle! Oh, boy! Ponet Canet only $1.50! Cordon Rouge, 1911, only $7 a quart! Johnny Walker and Haig — Haig 25 cents a drink! Oh, think of it! And Jamaica rum only two-bits!

"The morals of the American people have been lowered by the Volstead law, and it is time for the people of this great country to wake up to the true character and purposes of the pseudo-religionists who have, by a vindictive and iun-American propaganda, inaugurated a reign of terror in and out of Congress."

GREAT PRIVILEGE TO BE A CITIZEN

Judge Huycke's Reminder to B. R. Strano in Application for Naturalization.

B. R. Strano's application to be admitted into Canadian citizenship was favorby heard this morning by Judge Huycke who said it would probably be granted Replying to his solicitor, Mr. S. T. Medd, Mr. Strano said he was 28 years old and had come from Italy to America in 1909 living for a time in the United States and then in Canada, first in Toronto and subsequently in Lindsay and Peterboro. He is married, has three children, and owns a house on George street near the Exhibition Park, apart from being a fruiterer opposite the Examiner office. Strano said he had never had any collision with the police except once for speeding.

"It is a great privilege to be a British subject and perhaps greater to be a Canadian" said His Honor "and we should be careful about what kind of people we receive as citizens. It will be your duty to be a loyal and intelligent Canadian."

Percy Hooper gave Mr. Strano a strong testimonial. He is a tenant of Mr. Hooper's who had known Strano since he came to Peterboro.

Police Sergeant Wigg said he had always found Mr. Strano a gentlemen and P. C. Thomas added that he had never heard anything against him.

HOME MADE WINE EXEMPT.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 15.—It is officially stated that a resolution introduced in the House to prohibit the manufacture of home brew does not affect home-made wine.

CLEANING MANIA

Pedestrians Often Suffer As A Result of Dry-Cleaning and Flushing Sidewalks.

The old copy-book maxim said that "Cleanliness is next to godliness," but no one ever stops to think of the countless individuals who are bothered and riled up by an excessive desire for cleanliness. There is the house-cleaning mania, for instance, with the victims who go to bed with the odor of paint strong in their nostrils and get up to the whirr of the vacuum cleaner, and then again, we have the industrious merchant who persists in a thorough dry cleaning of the pavement in front of his establishment, followed by just as thorough a flushing with a hose. Taken bye and large, the whole process is objectionable. If a pedestrian ventures along during the first operation, he is assailed and surrounded by a choking, blinding cloud of dry, elusive particles that cling to his clothing and get down his windpipe and irritate his eyes and nostrils. In these halcyon days, when a lurking consciousness of dead eels in the water pipes and multitudinous germs in the milk give the ordinary citizen the feeling that wet things are dangerous, it doesn't add to the joy of life to realize that one is absorbing another dose of perfectly dry disease spreaders.

However, the second process is just about as bad. An experience becoming all too common is that of the unwary walker who approaches the wielder of a hose intent on flushing the sidewalk. Just at the last critical moment the rushing stream is diverted momentarily, and one passes along over a moist area calculated to take the squeak out of the newest leather shoes, or the nice, fresh white paste off the cleanest ducks. A moment later, the inundation starts again, and a moist feeling about the ankles serves as a reminder of a near shower for some time to come.

Just in passing, a word might be added regarding the habits of certain lawn-growers who persist in placing their sprinklers in such a position as to compel passers-by to describe a wide arch out on to the roadway to escape a thorough wetting.

CELEBRATED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McConnell Rejoiced With Relatives and Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McConnell of East Emily celebrated the fiftieth anniversay of their wedding on Tuesday, June 13th at their home in the company of their family and a few invited friends. Nine children and eigheen grandchildren were conspicious in the day's festivities. The children were: Thomas of Peterboro and Harold, Pennington, Stephen, William and John of Emily and four daughters Mrs. Lewi. Fry of Peterboro, Mrs. Thos. Pogue of Ops, Mrs. Fred McBain of Omemee and Miss Irene McCoennll at home.

Among the friends present were Rev. Mr. Stillman and Mrs. Stillman and Rev. Mr. James and Mrs. James of Omemee. During the evening Mr. Sillman baptized the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McConnell, and Mr. and Mrs. Pennington McConenell's baby was baptized by Mr. James. One of the happiest incidens of the celebration was the presentation to the jubilarian couple of fifty year's wedded life of a gold-beaded ebony cane to Mr. McConnell by Tommy Pogue and a morocco leather purse of gold to the bride of fifty years ago by Gertude Fry. Mrs McConnell also received flowers from Laura and Victor McConnell, who were also her grandchildren.

After the presentations, Mr. and Mrs. McConnell with their sons and daughters, the visiting ministers and their wives sat down to a bounteous supper that brought back memories of their nuptial banquet of half a century ago. The brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law occupied the second table and the grandchildren were served last. Toasts were given by Rev. Mr. Stillman and Rev. Mr. James to the happy couple, with the entire assembly honoring them. Photographs were taken of Mr. and Mrs. Stillman and their children and grandchildren, and the evening was happily spent with games and music and dancing. At a late hour the relatives and friends departed after expressing their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. McConnell who are now 76 years and 67 years old respectivel with the prospet of their lives extending well beyond the allotted span.

ANOTHER CASE FROM HARVEY GOES TO JURY

Harold Montgomery Indicted for Indecent Assault on School Girl —Spite Alleged by Defense.

ONE CRIMINAL ACTION

On an indictment that was reduced from attempted rape to indecent assault against May Nicholls, aged 17, of Harvey Township, Harold Montgomery, 20 years old, of the same township, pleaded not guilty before Judge Huycke and a trial jury on Wednesday afternoon, when the case was begun about five o'clock.

It was the only action in the criminal list.

At the preliminary hearing Magistrate Langley had committed Montgomery for trial, and the Grand Jury had brought in a true bill.

The evidence was all put in during the evening session, and the argument of counsel proceeded this morning.

Mr. J. F. Strickland represented the Crown, and Mr. Joseph Wearing conducted the defence.

May Nicholls, daughter of Stephen Nicholls, said she was 17 years old on 31st May. Her home is about a mile west of Buckhorn. According to her story, she met Harold Montgomery while on her way home from school on 29th March. She alleged that he threw her down at the side of the road, and made certain improper advances, which she resisted. She got up a moment later and went home. She told her mother what occurred, but her father did not learn of it, according to the evidence, until nearly two weeks afterward.

In his cross-examinations, Mr. Wearing directed questions to ascertain whether the girl's father had any animus against Montgomery as a result of the muskrat case between Stephen and Nathan Nicholls, which was heard in the previous sessions of the Court.

The father denied that he had any ill-will against the boy as a result of the muskrat litigation.

Montgomery admitted having met the girl on 29th March after school, but denied that he had said or done anything improper to her. He had merely asked her to go to a dance.

In his address to the jury, Judge Huycke pointed out that nothing had ever been brought against the boy or the girl previous to this case. They were both respectable, decent, ordinary young people. It was pathetic and very deplorable to see them in this position. It would always be an unpleasant memory for this girl, and whatever the result it would be an unpleasant memory and not a subject of congratulation on the part of the defendant.

His Honour said that the jury had to exercise their composite commonsense in dealing with the evidence. Their problem was largely to determine whom they should believe.

The jury empaneled for this case was: James Miles, Dummer Township; Wilbert Miller, Otonabee; Frank Shanahan, 614 Downie Street; Joseph McNeeley, Belmont; Alex. Edmison, Smith; Willrid Sullivan, Douro; Clark Garbutt, Smith; Ernest Hanna, Charlotte Street; Richard Staples, Otonabee; Samuel Jay, North Monaghan; George Evans, 51 McGill Street; Robert Lloyd, Dummer.

Court was adjourned at 12.30 p.m. while the jury was still out.

"I cannot find any fault with the jury's verdict in view of the contradictory evidence. I cannot say that they have done anything wrong. The verdict in any case would probably not hae been wrong," said His Honour Judge Huycke.

Mr. Wearing, solicitor for the accused, made the formal motion for dismissal, after which the judge addressed himself briefly to the acquitted prisoner. "Harold Montgomery, you have heard what the jury has done and what I said that no person could find any fault with what has been done. I do not want to make it a burden to you for I know this trial has been burden enough. I do not say you were guilty. You know that better than I do, better than the jury does, but let this be a lesson to you. I hope you will grow up to be a good, honest young man, and I feel sure you will. My best wishes go with you. See that you are a credit to your parents who have stood by you, and to you your friends."

His Honour adjourned the court sittings until Tuesday morning, when the case of Fontaine vs. Evans will be heard.

Americans Here For the Fishing

When the fishing season opens to-morrow morning, as many, if not more Americans than ever, will be out on the waters of Stoney, Lovesick, Pigeon and the other lakes in the chain, trying for a strike, and the guides will have one good day's work at least. According to Inspector M. J. Woodcock, of the Game and Fisheries Department, the fish have never been more plentiful. C. G. Graham of the Empress Hotel, stated that yesterday a number of parties went through, headed for different points at the lakes where the big fish are reported to be frequenting the deep pools, and today further parties were looked for.

The Trent Waterways Development Association continues to receive daily enquiries in regard to the district and there have been numerous requests for the association to arrange for cottages for the tourists. The association is ready to undertake this responsibility, but is not in a position to round up the owners of summer places who would like to rent them for either a short or long period. If owners would send their names and information in regard to the cottages to the secretary, L. Fraser, they would be referred to prospective tenants.

IDENTIFIED AS BANK RAIDER

SARNIA, Ont., June 15.—(Canadian Press).—Testifying in the trial of Edward McMulle charged with being connected with robbery of Bank of Toronto at Wyoming, Mrs. Bessie Hunt, of Wyoming, declared that she had never seen a photograph of the accused and that he was second bandit she saw emerging in Indian file from the bank and carried a black bag and revolver.

CONSTABLE STRATTON WARNED LADY DRIVER

The activities of Provincial Constable T .Y. Stratton have in no way abated and this morning two summons were sworn out by him as a result of an hour spent on the Chemong road yesterday. For the first time the constable had to warn a lady driver that she was exceeding the speed limit. She was going 28 miles an hour and the constable reminded her that 25 miles was the limit. She promptly slowed down. "I gave her the same warning I gave the others. I don't want to have to arrest any ladies, but if they break the law they will have to pay the same penalty as the male drivers," he said.

"In this prosecution having the desired effect? Is it stopping the speeding?" the Examiner asked.

'It certainly is. At least that is what the farmers tell me. There is a lot of speeding going on yet, however. That rain put a stop to it for a few days, but the roads are drying up again and now that the gravel is oiled it will be worse there," he said.

LIVES LONG WITHOUT RULES.

Ex-Senator Cole, Centenarian, To Be Honoured by Wesleyan.

CHICAGO, June 15. — Former Senator Cornelius Cole, 100 years old, of California, and former Senator Watson Squie, 85 years old, first Senator from the State of Washington after its admission to the Union, passed through Chicago on their way to Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., where honorary degrees will be conferred on them.

'I haven't any recipe for long living. I've never taken many pains to preserve my health," said Mr. Cole.

"I don't see any object in an unduly prolonged life, anyhow. I smoke, and I've drank my share of liquor."

Mr. Cole is the oldest graduate of Wesleyan University.

WARDEN WITH WHEELBARROW LEADS PARADE

Reeve Strickland and E. R. Tate of Lakefield. Trying to to Win Wager With A. E: Dawson.

WHEEL TO PETERBORO

LAKEFIELD, June 15.—Promptly at 12.30 this afternoon before a big crowd that comprised practically the whole population of the village, Warden John C. Strickland and Mr. E. R. Tate hitched themselves to a wheelbarrow containing Mr. A. E. Dawson, and started down the highway on the Smith side of the river in an attempt to win an unannounced wager that they could land their passenger in Peterborough within five hours.

The ringing of the fire bell informed the villagers that the stunt was actually going to be launched, and skeptics who had refused to believe that the team of Strickland and Tate would try to make good their bet, gathered in front of the town hall, still doubtful and in the mood Missourian. Farmers from the surrounding country swelled the crowd which was animated by a high holiday spirit and mildly excited by the novelty of the event.

Dictionary Ruled Out.

Dressed in white flannels and carrying an umbrella and a big dictionary, in accordance with the provision permitting him to have a book for diversion on the trip, Mr. Dawson stepped from a motor car into the specially built wheelbarrow. The Warden and Mr. Tate appealed to the referee, Mr. G. G. Connell, objecting that Mr. Dawson was taking on too much excess baggage in the big dictionary, which had greatly tickled the spectators. After some deliberation, Mr. Connell debarred the Webster volume, but declared that everything else complied with the agreement of the wager.

Mr. Dawson had the floor of the barrow filled with straw. He ensconced himself on the seat which had been placed up over the wheel, comfortably upholstered and still further improved by an expansive padded back against which Mr. Dawson leaned with a luxurious touch in contrast to the position of Warden Strickland, who lost the draw with Mr. Tate and had to make the start between the handles.

Tug Straps, Too.

Mr. Tate's role during the first stage of the trudge wasn't exactly that of a guide, observer or refreshment attendant. A long rope tied to the dash board of the barrow was specially provided for tugging purposes on the upgrades, bunkers and other hazzards of the route, and was intended to lighten the load of the man between the shafts.

Most of the crowd followed the Warden down the road and over the bridge in the general direction of Peterborough and it was expected that some of them, like a veritable Riley's army, would stick through the nine miles to the office of Dawson and Ackerman in the Toronto Bank building at the corner of Hunter and George streets. Some of the Warden's friends were betting among themselves as to whether he and Mr. Tate would reach their destination and some of the most confident ones believed that four o'clock would see them in Peterborough.

The Warden called to Mr Tate for relief after they had gone some distance from the village, and the first stop and change of motive power was made.

Reach Nassau at 2.15.

(From Examiner Reporter.) — The wheelbarrow detachment from Lakefield passed Nassau at 2.15 o'clock, going strong. Mr. Tate was pushing between the "shafts," and as they came up the long hill Warden Strickland ducked into the harness and helped by hauling. Near Nassau the ball bearings of the barrow began to smoke and squeak, and a stop was ordered while a shot of lubricant was sprayed over the axle.

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL TO SETTLE COAL STRIKE

Miners Refuse to Accept Arbitration and the Conference is Broken Up.

STRIKE VOTE.

NEW YORK, June 15.—(Canadian Press.)—With the refusal of miners' representatives on the Wage Scale Conference to accept arbitration, the anthracite operators' representatives late yesterday flatly refused to proceed further in the negotiations, unless the miners agree to arbitration. The conference adjourned without setting a date for another meeting.

Both sides regard the negotiations as broken off, at least for the present.

"We don't see what more any man or organization could do," Samuel D. Warriner, spokesman for the operators, said after the conference "It looks like a strike," asserted Phillip Murray, Vice-President of the Union, and spokesman for the Scale Committee. "We will call out even the maintenance men, if necessary."

The strike votes now being taken will be counted, Mr. Murray said, in the various district headquarters on June 22. The scale committee will meet at Wilkesbarre on June 26 to decide whether the present suspension shall be declared a strike and also whether the five to six thousand anthracite maintenance be shall be called out. It is estimated that 50,000 to 175,000 anthracite miners are now out.

Mr. Warriner would not say what would be the next action on the part of the employers. When asked whether they would urge President Harding to appoint an arbitraion commission, he replied: 'That depends on the circumstances.

Asked whether the employers would make a condition that an arbitration tribunal should consider only wages and working conditions, he replied that they would not.

"If the Commission should decide than an investigation of prices, costs etc.,, is relevant or pertinent to a study of the differences between he miners, we would agree to that and abide by the award," he said.

REDUCE COAL RATES.

A MIDNIGHT FIRE DESTROYS TOWN.

WINNIPEG, June 15. — (Canadian Press.)—Fire which broke out in a vacant building at midnight, razed the business section of Elma, Man., 55 miles east of Winnipeg and left five families homeless, it was reported yesterday afternoon. The town fire department was virtually ineffective and the crew of a passing train stopped and rendered assistance. The total damage is not known.

THE POPE HONORS TWO ONTARIO MEN

OTTAWA, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)—Advices have been received here that Pope Pius XI has conferred the title of Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great on J. L. Murray, Renfrew, Ontario, and G. H. Boivin, M.P., for Shefford. Messrs. Murray and Boivin were, with three overseas chaplains, the incorporators of the Knights of Columbus Catholic Army huts and the chief organizers of an appeal, made to the people of Canada during the war, which resulted in a collection of $1,250,352. It is for their work in connection with the Catholic army huts, it is understood, that the decorations have been granted.

Mr. Murray is a member of the Renfrew Town Council and President of the Renfrew Board of Trade. He is a Vice-President of the Renfrew Machinery Company Limited.

Mr. Boivin has represented Shefford in the Dominion Parliament since 1911. He was deputy Speaker of the House of Commons in the last parliament.

CIVIL WAR STILL RAGING IN CHINA MANY CASUALTIES

Definite News of Progress of the Battle Still Lacking. Leaders to Co-operate.

SEEKING TERMS.

LONDON, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)— A despatch from Peking dated Tuesday says that in fighting near Shanhaikwan, north-east of Tien-Tsin, Chi-Li troops had 1,300 casualties. The right wing of the Fengtien forces was driven back on Monday and was being further threatened by the Chi-Li columns approaching from Jehol. The despatch adds that the latest news from the battle does not give any indication that a decisive result has been reached.

Meanwhile, the despatch continues, General Chang Tso-Lin is making overtrures to Peking with a view to securing terms from General Wu-Pei-Fu. If he is successful he is willing to co-operate with the Chi-Li leader toward a unification of the country.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N.S., Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N.S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

INDIANS DENY CLAIM.

LEAMINGTON, June 15.—(Canadian Press)—It has been established by Sergt. Birdwistle of the Mounted Police that the Indians of Walpole Island have not the slightest intention of claiming land at Point Pelee. The Indians allege that Jackson and John Dodge mentioned in connection with the affair are not recognized as members of the tribe.

GASOLINE RESERVE CONTINUES TO GROW

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(Canadian Press.)—The gasoline reserve continues to mount to new heights, the Bureau of Mines said yesterday in making public figures showing that on May 1, the stocks on hand amounted to 892,267,763 gallons, an increase of 38,000,000 gallons over the previous high record mark of April 1.

"The seasonable decline in the gasoline stock curve, occurring generally during April or May," the Bureau said, "has not yet started, as is evidenced by the sharp increase in reserves."

TO CHANGE SYSTEM OF HANDLING BOOZE

Saskatchewan Druggists Complain of the Regulations Imposed By Present Method.

SASKATOON, June 15.—(Canadian Press).—Drastic alterations in the present system of handling liquor through stores will be proposed at the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Pharmaceutical Association, to be held here the first week in July. The majority of Saskatoon druggists are in favor of throwing out the liquor business entirely and leaving it to the Saskatchewan liquor Commission to evolve some other method of supplying the public. The druggists charge profiteering on the part of wholesalers appointed by the Government to supply drug stores with liquor; they also declare the margin of retail profits too small and that they find the regulations providing for the checking record and inspection place too great a burden on them.

BRITISH AGREE TO FRENCH PROPOSAL

Period of Investigation of Asia Minor Atrocities is to Be Limited to One Year.

LONDON, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)— The British Government has agreed to the French proposal to limit the period to be covered by the investigation into atrocities in Asia Minor to the past year, it was stated in well-informed circles yesterday, but has declined to punish the guilty in view of the United States' attitude, which favors merely making known the facts in the case. The British also have declined to re-investigate alleged Greek excesses during the evacuation of Ismid last June.

The appointment of a commission for the Asia Minor investigation, it was said, is to be left to the four high commissioners in Constantinople.

GOOD ROADS ARE NEEDED BY BOTH MEN AND WOMEN

Mrs. Ralph Smith Stresses Need of Construction of Good Canadian Highways.

STANDARDIZATION.

VICTORIA, B.C., June 15.—(Canadian Press.)—"Good roads are just as much a necessity to women as to men," Mrs. Ralph Smith, M.L.A., Vancouver declared yesterday in a brief address before the convention of the National Good Roads Association. She explained the great natural difficulties which had to be overcome in the province of British Columbia and spoke of the value of east meeting west by means of a Canadian national highway. The slogan of the association she said, should be "see Canada by motor car."

The importance of extreme care in selection of location of colonization roads so that they could be incorporated in the trunk highways when built, was emphasized by W. F. Fullerton, Superintendent of Colonization Roads for Ontario and he urged that more attention be given to the cheaper and lighter classes of roads, pointing out that settlement in new areas was irrevocably bound up with road building, he appealed for generous treatment for the pioneer sections.

F. L. McPherson, Engineer, Victoria, stressed the importance of careful selection of road machinery and advocated some attempt of standardization of equipment.

U.F.Y.P.O. HELD ANOTHER MEETING.

Interesting Debate Concerning Hardwood Floors —Reports Received.

(Contributed by E. H. Petrie.)

Peterborough branch of the United Farm Young People of Ontario held an interesting meeting in the U.F.O. rooms. Due to this being a very busy season, the attendance was smaller than usual.

The interesting features of the meeting included two humorous impromptu debates. The first, "Resolved, that hardwood floors in the farm home are preferable to rugs or carpets," resulted in a victory for the affirmative. In view of the need of our Finance Minister to find new means of raising national revenue, the second topic created much merriment. It was, "Resolved, that as a means of raising national revenue, a direct tax be imposed on bachelors over 36 years of age." The affirmative, which won the decision, contended that the married man made a greater success of life, was a greater asset to the nation and contributed more towards the revenue of the country, in taxes, (tariff, sales tax, etc.) than did the bachelor.

Discussion of Current Events.

Then followed discussions on various current topics of the day—Fielding's Budget, the manufacturers' fear of German competition, the reduction of militia estimates, oleomargarine question, etc.

The riding U.F.W.O.'s resolution that cadet training should be abolished in our Public and High schools because it tends to develop the spirit of militarism, was heartily endorsed.

The young people, after discussing Mr. McNeill's bill in Parliament re the importation and manufacture of oleomargarine, were of the opinion that no coloring matter should be permitted in oleo. in Canada.

The report of the East Peterborough County U.F.O. convention was given, and the young people were pleased to hear that the County U. F. O. is contributing a cup for a farm young people's debating competition next winter.

Mr. Archie Bulmer contributed a solo, and after an amusing story-telling round, the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Next Meeting.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Petrie, Otonabee, on Monday evening, July 10th, when it is expected that the young people will spend the evening in baseball, sports, etc. Refreshment and sport committees were appointed.

Farm young people will notice that with the exception of the July meeting, regularly monthly U.F.Y.P.O. meetings are held on the second Tuesday in each month, and all farm young people are welcome.

SAYS EXAMINATION BURLESQUE

Gen. Riley Orders men to be Ready for Another Tramp.

TORONTO, Ont., June 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Orders to hold themselves in readiness for an immediate second route march to Ottawa were given the "Hikers" last night by "General" Riley. Accusing the Dominion Government of failing in their promises, the "General" told the crowd of veterans and spectators in Queens' Park, that unless relief was forth coming the second advance on Parliament Hill would be made and this time they "would stay until they got what they wanted". He declared the medical examination of some of the men yesterday was a burlesque.

Canada Has Not Rejected N. S. Waterways Proposal

Acceptance is Held in Abeyance Until the Matter Receives Careful Consideration. May Participate When Finances Permit.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Discussion on the St. Lawrence Waterway was continued in the Senate yesterday by Senator Lynch-Staunton who said that it was the most important issue except the war since confederation and that we should not embark on this transportation problem without the greatest thought of cost and appreciation of responsibility.

One had only to examine the report of the International Joint Commission on the St. Lawrence water way to be convinced that it was in worthy of consideration. It was founded on inaccurate, unreliable and sketchy information.

Both Quebec and Ontario had ample power for their needs, and we should not commit the country to the expenditure when more power was not needed and the cost of transportation would not be reduced.

Hon. J. D. Reid said the International Joint Commission recommended the expenditure of two hundred and fifty two million. This would provide for the construction of the Long Sault dam and the development of one million four hundred and sixty four thousand horsepower to be divided equally between the two countries.

The United States had practically the same rights under the Treaty of 1871 along the St. Lawrence waterway as we had. They were not offering to cooperate in its development. Canada should not turn down the offer of the United States. There was no use building the Welland Canal without enlarging the St. Lawrence Canal. He was not urging the immediate construction of this waterway but felt that we should accept of the United States offer on condition that we would participate as soon as our finances permitted.

Senator Dandurand on behalf of the Government claimed that Canada had not rejected the United States' proposal, but that our acceptance was held in abeyance until the Government had time to give the matter careful consideration.

DECORATION DAY LAKEFIELD, SUNDAY.

LAKEFIELD, June 15.— Sunday next will be the annual Decoration Day of the local lodge of the I.O.O. F. There will be services at both cemeteries and the Salvation Army Band of Peterborough will be in attendance. This beautiful custom of reverently placing flowers on the graves of the deceased brethren is one which is in great favour in the village, as each year there are more people present at the ceremonies.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. F. J. Tate entertained a few friends on Tuesday at a delightful tea in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Le Fevre, who leaves this week to spend the summer in England. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. E. R. Tate and Misses Miriam Tate, Angele Osborne and Dorothy Langley.

BILL INTRODUCED FOR TREATIES TO COME INTO FORCE

Lord Lee Introduces Bill to Make the Two Washington Treaties Effective

NAVAL RESTRICTIONS

LONDON, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)—Lord Lee of Fareham introduced yesterday in the House of Lords a bill to be known as 'the Treaty of Washington Act of 1922," to make effective the two treaties signed on February 1, for the limitation of naval armaments, the other for the protection of neutrals and non-combatants at sea and to prevent the use of noxious gases and chemicals in war.

The bill outlines the restrictions on the building of warships and the legal proceedings which shall be instituted against offenders, and defines the extent of the act to the whole of His Majesty's dominions except British India and the self-governing dominions, including the Irish Free State when constituted. It provides that in the applications of the Act to any part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom, for references to "the Admiralty" there shall be substituted references to "the Governor of the possession."

Extension of the provisions of the Act to any British protectorate may be effected by an Order-in-Council.

THE COUNTY'S SHARE.

The local Children's Aid Society is quite justified in deciding to wait upon the County Council to urge a larger grant for the support of the Society's work. The county has not contributed its fair share for this purpose, and most of the burden has been laid upon the shoulders of the citizens of Peterborough. At the same time, a large number of the children cared for in the local Shelter come from rural homes, and there seems no logical reason why the county should not assume its proper part of the cost of maintenance. The importance of the work of the Children's Aid Society is perhaps not realised by the county authorities. Certainly the size of the grant does not indicate that the activities of the organisation are appreciated.

During the past month five county children have been taken into the Shelter, and the number cared for every year forms a large part of the total. If the county legislators turn a deaf ear to the request of the Society, there would seem to be no other course for the latter to adopt but to bill the County Council for the maintenance of all children taken care of, who come from rural homes. This might prove more expensive to the county than paying a grant, and perhaps the Council would be well advised to consider that aspect of the case when they are considering the question of a grant.

THE PASSING OF THE BUDGET.

There will be general satisfaction throughout the business and industrial world that the Budget has been adopted. It has been difficult for business to be stabilised so long as the details of the Budget proposals were unknown, and now that the uncertainty has been removed, it will be possible to plan intelligently for the future. A new Budget is always a source of worry, and under the financial conditions that exist at present, there has been more than usual anxiety among manufacturers and business men. It was realised that Mr. Fielding had a large amount of revenue to raise, a total so big that new forms of taxation would be required. How he would propose to secure this revenue was the point that caused business and industry much perturbation, and there will be a feeling of relief that the plans of the Finance Minister are now definitely settled. It has been found that although here and there some business interests feel themselves rather hard hit by the Budget on the whole the new taxation proposals are not nearly so drastic as had been anticipated by many people, and the mercantile and industrial institutions of Canada can settle down to business without further worries, so far as the Budget is concerned, for another year. The passing of the Budget should have a distinctly stabilising effect upon conditions generally.

LOCAL PLAN FAVOURED.

The plan suggested by the local Chamber of Commerce in regard to the Crow's Nest agreement finds favour in the sight of the Toronto Star, which refers to it as follows:

The Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, in a letter read before the special committee of Parliament at Ottawa, dealing with railway freight rates, makes a suggestion which is, at least, an improvement on the proposal that the Crow's Nest agreement with the C. P. R. be torn up.

This proposal is that the agreement be suspended for a further period of three years, and that "the rates be fixed for a year at the figures in force before the increase of September, 1920."

There is room for discussion as to whether this would give a sufficient present reduction in rates. It would certainly give the West a great deal less at present than it is entitled to under the agreement. But if the Crow's Nest agreement is not to come into immediate effect, it would be much fairer to the West to suspend it for another term rather than tear it up altogether. The tearing up of such a contract as that would be the poorest sort of business imaginable. For a Parliament overwhelmingly Eastern in its membership, and in which the West is, as everybody knows, inadequately represented—for the general Parliament of the country to consent to the final extinction of the rights of the West in that contract, without the consent of the West, ought to be regarded as entirely out of the question.

Even if the contract cannot be put to work just now, the breath of life should be kept in it.

MR. FIELDING'S TASK.

Mr. Fielding is up against a very hard proposition. He is the financial agent for a people who are plunging toward bankruptcy at an appalling rate; and yet who insist upon acting as if they had just been left a billion dollars. We Canadians are not economizing in our personal expenditures, nor permitting our various Governments to economize in their public expenditures, at all in the spirit of a nation, which has just come through a gruelling war and owes so much money that it cannot meet even the interest. We are living precisely as we used to, live before the cataclysm. And we resent the curtailment of any Government expenditures which affect us personally as bitterly as if we were still in the spacious days of visible surpluses and invisible taxes.

It is obvious that we must play fair with this or any other Government if we are to get through alive. It will be a tremendous task at best. We must all help. The present budget will not raise enough money to balance. Yet the British are balancing their budgets with much heavier burdens to bear; and we must balance ours before our feet will really be on the steep road back toward solvency.

Our case, however, is different from that of Great Britain in one very important respect. The British nation must face the towering problem of meeting its war debts anh living within its income, without the help of any material increase in population. The men there now must do it—or a similar number of men. But Canada can look for reinforcements. Immigration could double or quadruple our numbers. That will take the burden much easier.

And it is only common sense for us to wait for the arrival of these reinforcements before attacking the citadel. That is, we need not sink the country in a morass of murderous taxation or confiscatory measures—especially while the United States floats serenely and temptingly alongside—in order to pay at once what we may safely leave to the thirty million Canadians who will presently come and inherit all we have hewn out of the winderness, equipped at enormous expense and fought to keep free on the plains of France and Flanders.

CHILDREN ON STREETS.

The problem of children on the streets is one which is agitating the authorities in all large cities at the present time. There is the moral and the physical danger, the one being, perhaps, as great as the other. The law which forbids young people under the age of 16 from remaining on the streets after 9 o'clock, if unaccompanied, is undoubtedly a good law, though it may work hardship in some cases. We have received a letter from a seventeen-year-old boy, for instance, who complains that he has frequently been stopped by policemen and ordered to go home, and that he has been disbelieved as to his real age. He is a member of certain young people's societies, it seems, which have their meetings from 8 to 9, and on one evening a gymnasium class from 8 to 10. "Warm weather is here," he says, "and we must have a little recreation. . . . Surely young men of 17 can go home without being stopped by policemen every few blocks." Nevertheless, in spite of the protests of this youth, we repeat the regulation is a good one, and should be rigidly enforced, especially in the case of young girls.

Then ther eis the danger from traffic—an ever-present and growing danger. Accidents, sometimes fatal, are common, and things have come to such a pass that in some municipalities bylaws are suggested prohibiting children from playing on roadways altogether. The City Solicitor of Ottawa, where such a proposal has been made, estimates that it will "take a thousand policemen to enforce it," and it is surely going rather too far to legislate the children off the streets in this way. There is only one satisfactory method of dealing with the problem, and that is through increased watchfulness. In the first place, it is the duty of parents to warn their children to be careful, and in the second place it is the duty of drivers, especially the drivers of speedy automobiles, to exercise the utmost caution.

The advertisement put out by a taxicab company in one of the cities of the United States is worthy of thought by every person who drives a car: "The next time you see a little boy or girl crossing the street just ahead of your car—don't try to blow them out of the way with your horn; use your brake. Suppose the child were your own, what would you do? Probably come to a quick stop. Then why not do the same for the other chap's child? Man to man, now—do you want some little chap to cry all his life because you made him a cripple?"—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Budget was not as difficult for the Government to handle as is Riley's Army.

Usually when the barbers start cutting, there is trouble for somebody.

The county should pay its fair share of the cost of maintenance of the Children's Shelter.

Hikers cost Canada $1,883.00, the City of Ottawa quite a lot also, and various municipalities cheerfully paid for a generous handout. In return the men laughed uproariously at Kingston's beer, sneered at Ottawa's sandwiches, ridiculed the statesmen who insisted on their comfort, and in many ways made themselves impossible. The affair had its picturesque and sentimental appeal, but once is enough. Next time the authorities may take the view that they have vagabonds to deal with, and act accordingly.—Ottawa Journal.

"There are too many bacteria in Peterborough's milk supply. The explanation is, however, absurdly simple. Milk is the natural home for gacteria, because it comes from the back end of the cow, as any farmer knows. It is only when milk comes from the front end of a pump instead of the back end of a cow that the plain people feel aggrieved.

Many an indulgent husband allows the indulgence to stop with himself.

CAN'T GO WRONG ON THIS

Minneapolis News: When you drive into a town in Maryland, a big map painted on a blackboard at the city limits shows you where the principal thoroughfares are and how to find the road you want to take out. When you approach a curve in a Connecticut motor road white posts indicate the turn so that you may not run off the road and at a convenient point a signboard map charts for you the contour of that part of the road ahead of which you cannot see. Things like these pay dividends in satisfaction and safety for tourists.

SMALL TOWN MORALS

Boston Globe: When the season is more advanced and the mercury goes high enough to make life in a bathing suit delightful, a dispatch is sure to come describing the stern measures taken in the little seaside town of Podunk because a girl in a bathing suit has strolled down the main street. The function of an officer of the law is not to be a mosquito to buzz about and make people uncomfortable. Surely there is quite enough to do in solving some of the many baffling police mysteries and in preventing real crimes.

LONDON STREET ARCHITECTURE

London Daily Express:—The coming of the skyscrapper, however, would mean the remodelling of London as we know it. If the buildings were higher the streets would certainly have to be wider. That would give us as much light and air as we now have, with better roads for transport. The real difficulty is that areas in London are very seldom dealt with as a whole. Bits of the capital are always undergoing rebuilding.

MEN OF ACTION WANTED

Sydney Bulletin: After many and varied experiences the prayer of every coherent citizen of Australia ought to be: "Let our rulers, if they have some side-line of industry, be men who manufacture things, build things, grow things, even buy and sell and finance things, men, in short, who do things. Let them not be of the union-secretary type, which is a city product with no wide outlook on Australia, and a mean-street product, with its frowsy office. It is its business to keep books of accounts that have no more to do with the productive, active affairs of life than the ledgers of a monastery; to take a wholly one-sided view of a thousand small disputes; and to have it corroded into its mind that the producer is the common, unpardonable enemy." The union-secretary sort of person is in a class by himself, like the police-court solicitor. He has no future except in politics, for he can't even start on his own account in a small way, as the

Voice of the People

To the Editor.

Kindly inform me through the columns of yotir paper whether the land on Water street bordering the river from the end of Sherbrooke street to the first red brick house north belongs to the city or to the C.P.R. And if the C.P.R. controls the water north of the trestle bridge to the canoe factory.

ONE INTERESTED.

Editor's note—At City Hall The Examiner learned that the C.P.R. had purchased land thereabouts. The writer of the letter is referred to the C.P.R. for exact information.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—Every school boy knows that tobacco grows wild in nature where it is planted and cared for by God alone. It is the original of the weed which is now so extensively cultivated in Canada.

The resolution of the Toronto Methodist Conference in Monday's Examiner censures tobacco and the permission given by the Government to cultivate it. The censure, of course, is directed against God also, since if tobacco is bad and God cultivates it He comes under the ban of that wonderful body. Unfortunately, such resolutions go far to make religion ridiculous in the eyes of the young, who do not know that education is not general.

CITIZEN.

To the Editor.

In Monday's Examiner the report of Dr. McNair's milk tests was received before a special meeting of the Board of Health, and because of a number of impure samples people were advised to boil all raw milk.

Now, Mr. Editor, this milk question is a very wide one and worthy of deep thought, and in my opinion, we are foolish to allow ourselves to become excited over the publication of such a report, and a little divine guidance will suffice to prove the fallacy. The Scripture says they flocked unto our Saviour with their sick of divers' diseases and they were healed. Modern practise says bring all who may or compel all who may become tubercular to come to the pasteurized fount, where all tubercular germs are killed. My physician says that pasteurized milk does not agree with my children, causing constipation, and advises raw milk, and if I am satisfied that my children are thriving on the milk I am using, whose business is it to interfere? We are not all physically constituted alike, and we believe and are told that the very hairs of our head are numbered. So God grant that we may use our best judgment without interference.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor.

Yours,

A READER.

CAVAN, June 14.—Mr. F. Martin spent the week-end in Toronto.

Mrs. B. Janes of Port Hope spent the week-end at her old home here.

Miss Ada Thompson returned to her home in Gamebridge on Saturday after spending the past month with friends here.

Mr. Lorne Davy of Olds, Alberta, called on friends here last week.

Special Services.

The anniversary services in the Methodist Church here on Sunday were largely attended. Rev. Mr. German of Millbrook conducted the services both morning and evening.

The attendance at the garden party on Monday evening was not as large as expected, no doubt owing to the weather having turned so very cold. The programme was furnished by Peterborough talent and consisted of recitations, solos and a male artette, which was much enjoyed by all present.

The Misses Howden of Peterborough spent the week-end with Cavan friends.

The showers of last week made the crops look the very best, and everything in the gardens are coming along at a rapid rate.

There were slight frosts here both Sunday and Monday nights, doing some damage to tomatoe plants.

ORANGEMEN HELD A MEETING IN KEENE.

Keene News of Interest—Visitors to the Village.

KEENE, June 15. — One of the largest and most enthusiastic district meetings of the Orange Lodge for a number of years was held in Keene Lodge rooms on Tuesday evening of this week with District Master Bro. J. Cunningham in the chair. Following discussion on regular business items, the lodge was addressed by Bro. Carroll, representative from the Grand Lodge, which was most profitable and interesting.

After discussion of numerous other business matters concerning the individual lodges of the district, which were represented the lodge was dimissed. Several ladies put in their appearance with hot tea and baskets of dainty refreshments, which was much appreciated and enjoyed by all present. A social half hour was spent in addresses, closing by singing 'For They Are Jolly Good Fellows.'

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson and Mrs. Hunt of Toronto, visited a few days this week at the home of Mr. Nelson's sister, Mrs. L. Burley.

L.O.L. 494 will run their annual excursion to Gore's Landing and other points on Rice Lake on Tuesday, June the 20th, by steamer Geneva. The boat will leave the wharf promptly at 9.30 a.m.

Mr. Michael Kenneally and sister, Mrs. James McCann, were in Peterborough Wednesday to attend the wedding of Miss Queenie Daly, of Peterborough, to Mr. Fred Keeley, of St. Johns, New Brunswick.

The W.M.S. of the Presbyterian church held their annual quilting and tea in the basement of the church on Tuesday afternoon, and quilted five quilts. A large number of ladies are reported as attending, and a most enjoyable and profitable afternoon spent together.

Mrs. William Nelson is visiting friends in Peterborough this week.

There was quite a heavy frost in this section on Sunday night. The clover was pretty badly frosted, as well as beans and other small garden vegetables.

A farewell social evening was given by the Young People's Society and members of the Bethel church on Tuesday evening on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Pimmott, to Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Honey. Mr. Honey goes to conference next week and shortly after wards expects to be moved to a new field of work, after a successful four years' work on Keene Methodist circuit.

Mr. James MacFarlane was in Peterborough Wednesday on business.

It's the Valleys in Paint That Make it Poor

The Valleys are the thin streaks
The Hills are the thick streaks

PAINT streaks are caused by the brush marks. No matter how much it is brushed, if the paint is cheap the brush marks are bound to show.

Good paint levels up to a smooth surface. Cheap paint dries with hills and valleys that are alternately strong and weak.

Just as a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, so is a film of paint only as good as its thinnest places—the valleys.

Most paints are made of only three things. Lowe Brothers High Standard is made of six—three more ingredients that exhaustive laboratory and practical tests have shown to be necessary to make good paint.

Add to this the fact that these ingredients are more finely ground, and you can understand why High Standard will always smooth out to a uniformly thick surface. Which is also the reason it lasts longer, and looks better as long as it lasts.

Come in and see the sample panels and ask for literature.

NEWS FROM WARSAW AND THE DISTRICT.

Rev. G. Graham Returns to the Village. Crops Look Fine.

WARSAW, June 14.—Rev. Girard Graham returned to the village the end of the week and occupied the pulpits of Warsaw and Cotessloe Presbyterian Churches.

There will be Sunday School in Warsaw Presbyterian Church at 2.30 p.m. next Sunday, but the preaching services will be omitted. Cotessloe is holding its anniversary services and tea Sunday and Monday. Rev. G. F. Weir has been asked to take the Sunday services.

There was no service in St. Mark's Church yesterday, and will not be for another fortnight. Rev. Mr. Hughes is back in his charge again, having taken his examinations with honors.

There were the usual Sunday School and preaching services in the Methodist Church. Rev. Mr. Weir preached from Job 38:22 and Psalm 8:3, 4, taking the subject, "Thoughts That Lead Up to Wonder." Wonder is part of reverence, and Mr. Weir announced that he purposed taking up the subjects of reverence and worship in several sermons.

Welcome Rain.

Friday's and Saturday's rains were very welcome. While nothing had actually gone back or been destroyed for want of rain, everything was needing rain badly, and the rain came gently enough to soak in.

Sweet clover harvest is already well under way. The crop of this clover is wonderful. Farmers who have it for pasture certainly have feed for their cattle.

The Saturday evening moving pictures showed views of the rocky mountains, and also of the rancher's life, three more reels of "Les Miserables" and the reel of comic views.

There was a meeting of Douro School Section, No. 5, trustees and ratepayers last Tuesday.

Poverty Social.

The entertainment given by the Warsaw A.Y.P.A., at which they entertained the Lakefield A.Y.P.A., was a success. The entertainment took the form of a "poverty social." Each person was measured for height as he or she entered and payed an entrance fee accordingly. There were some songs and recitations, old-fashioned games were played and refreshments served.

Personals.

Mrs. Thos. Cullen, Smith, is spending a few days with relatives.

Mrs. Wasson went to Peterborough to attend the Nicholls Hospital graduation exercises. Her neice, Miss Keetha Kidd, was among the graduates.

Miss Margaret Miller spent Thursday and Friday in Brighton.

Mrs. H. G. E. Choate entertained Mrs. Boyes while in the village.

Mrs. Johnston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. MacIlvena.

Rev. Mr. Jones conducted services in the Baptist Churches at Warsaw and Indian River. His sermon here was on the story of Naaman. A permanent pastor, Mr. Chorley, is expected to be here by next Sunday.

Omemee News.

OMEMEE, June 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gallman and children; Morris and Roxey, of Sovereign, Sask., accompanied by Mrs. Fergus Porter of Manvers, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Laidley last week.

Mrs. R. Jones of Millbrook visited friends in town during past week.

Mr. H. Tinney of Cavan was a business visitor in town last week.

Mr. George McKim of Peterborough was in town on business last week.

Miss L. Howden was a visitor to Lindsay last week.

Mrs. Archie Irwin has returned to her home at Sharbot Lake after a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Carey.

Mr. George Balfour of Lindsay visited his brother, Mr. Gabriel Balfour, in town on Friday.

Mrs. Irvine of Saskatoon is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McConnell, in town.

Mrs. Shepard and daughter of Coldwater visited her aunts, Misses E. and L. Curry, in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rehill and family were visitors in town on Saturday.

Mrs. Stanley Sluggett and daughters of Peterborough visited the former's brother, Mr. Lorne Wilson, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nugent have returned home after a pleasant visit with Lindsay and Toronto relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McConnell and family of Lindsay visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McConnell, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCaffrey are spending a few days with the former's daughter, Mrs. Thompson, of Tweed.

Mrs. F. G. Sandy and Mrs. L. A. Mahood attended the W.M.S. convention of the Peterborough Presbyterial in Brighton last week, being delegates from the Omemee society.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Balfour of Carberry, Man., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lamb over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham of Peterborough were the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Charles McCaffrey, last week.

Mrs. Matthews was the guest of Millbrook friends last week.

Mr. Alfred Hodge, retired head master of Haggerstone Road Boys' School, London, England, left on Monday for Toronto after spending the past week at the home of his friend, Mr. T. J. Parsons.

Mrs. B. O. Johnson and Miss N. Werry of Peterborough visited the latter's sister, Mrs. T. B. Laidley, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Deyell of Lindsay were the guests of the former's brother, Mr. D. Deyell, on Sunday.

APSLEY REPORTS A SEVERE FROST

Five Degrees of Frost Recorded in the North Country.

APSLEY, June 15.—A disastrous frost occurred here on Monday night the thermometer registering five degrees of frost, dropping to 27 and as a result all garden puroduce and some field crops are absolutely ruined. Beans, corn, tomatoes, and potatoes all being w advanced were stricken to the ground, and new planting necessary. Wild strawberries whic were a good crop and already ripening are utterly destroyed and clover which was in bloom and a good catch presents a blighted and withered appearance. The extent of the loss cannot be estimated.

A Runaway.

A runaway team caused some excitement in the village on Monday eevning. DON'T you agree that the folks who own a motor boat are the ones who get the best fun out of their vacation spent by the water? And this is just the ideal boat. In addition to its famous patented device—automatically raising the propeller to safety—these boats have some remarkable advantages. They are beautiful boats with graceful lines and elegant fittings. They are staunchly built—strong and sturdy. They are scientifically and safely built—with propeller in midships, stabilising the boat and adding to its speed. Their value is possible because we specialize in three models only and have immense production. A Disappearing Propeller Boat is almost as indispensible as your vacation itself.

A.Y.P.A. MET IN LAKEFIELD

District Meeting Was a Big Success—The Program.

The regular meeting of the district council of the A.Y.P.A. was held last evening in Lakefield. About seventy members attended almost thirty of whom were from Peterboro, Omemee and Millbrook, were also well represented.

Miss J. Horsefield, president of the district council, opened the meeting but was later called away and Robert Stone of Millbroo presided.

It was decided after some discussion to hold the annual picnic at Wallace's Point on June 29 and each local branch was instructed to appoint a committee to look after the sports and three to take care of the refreshments. A challenge was issued by the combined churches of the city against the combin churches from the country parishes for baseball games between both boys' and girls teams, and was promptly accepted.

The final discussion was held regarding the cup which was debated for during the winter. Owing to defaults on the part of some of the teams there was some uncertantity as to the standing of the All Saints who laid claim to the cup by virtue of no defaults and winning on every occasion which they debated. A motion to declare All Saints the winner and award the cup to that branch was carried overwhelmingly. Miss Olga Johnson and Ralph Turner comprised the winning team for All Saints.

Announcements were made by the secretary regarding the Dominion Conference which will be held in St. Catherines on October 17-18 and 19. The watchword of this meeting will be "Service." D legates will be appointed from each branch and plans are already well under way for the work and entertainment of the conference.

Miss Blanche Graham spoke briefly regreting the cancelation of the A.Y.P.A. service which had been necessitated by the illness of the rector, but which she said would be held some time in the near future.

In a brief closing sentences Mr. Stone spoke of the necessity of good and faithful work among the members of the A.Y.P.A. if they were to render a true service to the church and community.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the members of the Lakefield branch.

It is evident to the visitor that the large sign with its attractive panels, of "Welcome to Peterborough' and "At Your Service" indicating the location of the Chamber of Commerce, is carrying its message far afield if communications at the office can be used as a criterion.

Not only are the visitors to ths city taking advanage of the Motor League's touring bureau, but they also receive information of every description about the city and environments.

Evidently these visitors are carrying the message throughout the continent that if information is required about any subject relative to Peterborough District, write the Chamber of Commerte.

Through these communications enquirers have arranged for the hiring of motor boats made reservations at various hotels throughout the district, and have even arranged their holidays so as to be here during the best part of the fishing season.

Summer Cottages Needed

One service to the enquirers, however, has not been possible owing to the lack of information.

From time to time enquiries have been received by the Secretary of he Chamber of Commerce from persons desirous of bringing their families to our vicinity, desiring to know if any summer cottages are available on the Kawartha Lakes, and if so, what are the rates.

Any cottage owners or agents would be doing a service to themselves by notifying the Chamber of any cottages furnished or unfurnished which may be available during the present season.

THE FAN, WOMAN'S WEAPON

IT'S EIRST AID TO ROMANCE, SAYS MARIAN HALE

By MARIAN HALE.

The present age sees a marvellous improvement in all the implements of warfare—including the fan.

Fans, you know, are just as much the armament of flirts as swords are of soldiers. They have always been dangerous weapons in the hands of the dangerous sex, from Cleopatra to Peggy Joyce!

This season's fans are so goreous and alluring and irresistible that I believe they will see many famous feminine victories and prove romance is still with us.

Besides the glorious creations of feather, silk and lace, there are many novelties.

Perfumed fans are popular. As they perform their monotonous labor they give off fragrant odors of sandalwood and the mysterious east.

There is a fan for the cigarette smoker which supplies parking space under its plumage for a dozen of her favorite brand.

* * *

The kitchenette fan suggests unlimited possibilities. Each rib is a knife, fork or spoon, and you have the complete equipment for the most complicated meal!

Another type of fan acts as a tabloid dressing table. If you approach it with knowing touch you can extract a mirror, lipstick, eyebrow pencil and lip rouge from its depths.

Perhaps we'll see a revival of the fan so popular in the days of the Medicis, where a sharp, efficient and ready dagger might be slipped from its interior.

Or perhaps men may arm themselves. In England men once carried fans. A famous Englishman once found his long-handled one very convenient for chastising his daughter who ran him into debt.

* * *

In Victorian days mirror fans were popular. The much exploited maid with the downcast eyes might well be so, for in her fan she had a mirror and could see everything that was going on about her.

The modern girl, however, prefers to see life first hand, not through a mirror, but I'll tell you this:

You can learn more about a woman's character and philosophy of life by watching her choice of fans and her operation of them than from the most exhaustive treatise on glands and complexes.

AWARDED FULL AMOUNT OF CLAIM

In a suit argued in the Division Court before Judge Huycke, by which Joseph Stewart of this city claimed $125 due him from William Reid of Otonabee, claimant was awarded the full amount of his claim, with solicitor's costs, but no damages were allowed defendant.

By His Honor's judgment, Mr. Stewart recovered $125 for rent of a part of his farm in Otonabee to Mr. Reid for pasture. The latter was not successful in establishing his counterclaim of damages to the extent of $50, by reason of cattle pasturing in an adjoining lot on the same farm mixing with his. Defendant also claimed damages in respect of trespass and interference on lands and premises that he had certain rights to. He alleged that his cattle were let out of his rented pasture, and that he also had hard work to get these animals out of his own field because a fence nad been built across his lane.

The Judgment.

Judge Huycke's complete finding was as follows:

"This is a case of contest between two reputable men, both men of good business ability, both men of high honor and reputation, anybody will say who knows anything about them. Men who come here to court, no doubt at all, I think each one is trying to impress upon me the truth from their point of view. They made a bargain and were very careless about it. I do not know why in the world it is that people, good business men, will in matters of this kind leave it to the mercy of his own memory, or some other person's. The whole crux of the whole matter, the interpretation of this lease. I find them coming to me with wholly different versions of the bargain between them. The difficulty is in the ownership or use of this lane, which is a lane dividing the farm into two parts—the fields to the west of that were two fields and woods rented by Mr. Reid; on the other side of the lane that part was kept by Mr. Stewart until the hay was taken off and afterwards rented for pasture to Mr. Howden. The difficulty which arises between them is as to the user of this lane, not as to the fields west, or as to the fields east of it, because that is agreed upon. Mr. Reid's idea is, and I have no doubt honestly makes the claim, that he was not only to have the fields to the west of the lane, but have exclusive use of the lane. Mr. Stewart declares positively that Mr. Reid was to have common use of lane—that is, lane was to be used in common, used by both properties. Both sides leased they were to provide water to both sides.

"There you are; these men are differing. The whole basis of trouble is misunderstanding, as to that no onus one way or the other. There should have been a written memorandum stating exactly and clearly what they meant. It would have been much better to have got Mr. Wearing or Mr. O'Brien to write out a lease for them. All this trouble would have been saved and they would have protected themselves. But how do we find it. We find that the place to the west was leased for pasture, the watering places for both sides were in the lane, the watering places were more than one—three or four I think—as to that I must accept version of Mr. Stewart. It would not be reasonable to give one side all the use of water privileges; might if bargained that way—that is not shown. The onus was on Mr. Reid to dispute his claim, He has not done so. We find Reid's cattle breaking through pasture and running together. They were objected to, perhaps properly. Mr. Reid had perfect right to object to that if he wanted to. As to the fence put up for watering purposes—only there a day or two, hired man to keep water supplied—I do not think Mr. Reid has substantiated his claim. The contract, as it is by the evidence of Mr. Stewart, gives positive evidence as to what the bargain was. If I did find that I do not see very serious damage that was done. The fence was torn down after a space of a day or two. No damages at all to the horses. They would not drink out of this trough—whether they did or not I do not know. Not one tithe of evidence to show there was any harm to the cattle or horses by running together. I think Mr. Stewart must have judgment for the amount of his claim and counsel fee." at all to the horses

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While grey, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

They Overlooked the Diamonds

THERE is a modern flippancy to the effect that, "What you don't know won't hurt you." It is also a fallacy. For instance:

The farmers of Kimberley were a disgusted, disheartened lot. They said the soil was too rocky to earn them a living. Some of them left. Others died in poverty.

But the farmers didn't know. They thought the priceless gems were pebbles.

Don't be like those Kimberley farmers. Know!

Don't seek opportunity in some distant place and overlook the diamonds that are daily within your grasp. Know!

"Your Baby in Hot Weather"

UP TO MOTHER TO KEEP BABY'S MILK PURE

CERTIFIED MILK HELPS BAB Y TO HOLD HIS SPINE ERECT.

BY MRS. MAX WEST
(Late of the United States Children's Bureau).

Some wise person once remarked that the most important thing that goes into the babys bottle is the good sense of the mother.

The milk may be of the purest when it leaves the dairy, but if it stands on a sunny doorstep for an hour or two, or waits in a hot kitchen while the mother goes to market, or is left in an open dish for flies to fall into, it will not be fit to give the baby.

Milk is an extremely delicate article, and is the favourite food of certain little cells that are capable of making great trouble for the baby, once they get inside him. They love milk of a mild temperature, and when they find it, they grow and multiply with amazing rapidity.

On the other hand, they are greatly discouraged either by cold or heat. Therefore, the first law of the care of the milk should be "keep it very cold. It should be chilled before it leaves the dairy. Then it should be kept chilled until it is delivered at the house.

After that the mother must play her part. The milk should be taken in the moment it is delivered, and put at once on the ice. If there is no ice, it should be put in running water, or under folds of cheesecloth, the ends of which are in a pan of water which stands in an open window.

Every mother who has to do without ice in summer should have an iceless refrigerator. These are made readily at home, if someone is clever with a hammer and a saw, and they cost so little that certainly at least every family in which there is a baby should have one.

Properly made and used, this convenience will keep milk quite cold enough for safety, even in very hot weather, and will save a world of anxiety about sour or bad milk.

Failing any of these, the milk should be boiled. This is always the counsel of prudence in the hottest weather. The baby is not likely to suffer from any possible bad effect of boiled milk for a few days, and will probably be much better off, than he will be if fed upon contaminated milk of any sort. In still other cases, it may be best to resort to dried milk, if the quality of the fresh supply available is dubious. Dried milk, under various trade names, may be had in drug stores.

Look for Drop Radio Enthusiasm

Then for a recurrence of interest in fall, even greater than ever.

That's the prediction of radio engineers and officials who are following the radio situation keenly.

The loss of interest in radio during summer will be due mainly to two causes: heat and static.

Heat will drive radio fans out of their attics. Outdoor sports will break into the interest in wireless.

But even those who will insist in tinkering with their receiving sets in spite of the weather, will find static an obstruction as great as, and sometimes greater than, the heat.

Worst Interference

Static does its worse during summer. At times it becomes so powerful that it endangers the delicate construction of the telephone receivers.

Combination of both these obstructions to wireless practically all year round, makes the torrid zone a belt around the earth where radio is almost impossible. A powerful set which in the temperate zones can send and receive signals up to 500 and even 750 miles distant, could hardly be heard as close as 10 miles away near the equator.

While heat and static will keep the radio fan from his set during summer engineers and officials of the large radio manufacturing firms will be busy perfecting the instruments in preparation of greater interest in the science next fall.

Broadcasting System

Already plans are under way for a nation-wide system of broadcasting stations by which concerts and other forms of entertainment will be sent out by radio under the control of a central station.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Company, in connection with the Radio Corporation of America and other large radio firms, will be the leader in this enterprise. Although nothing definite has yet been said about such plans, it is understood work is progressing toward the development of a national broadcasting system under control of these organizations.

In fact, an officer of one of these concerns has predicted the use of such a system in connection with the wired telephone lines over the country. With the immense central station now being erected on Long Island, New York, as main source, concerts and other programs would be sent over the wired lines to the 20 or more sub-stations scattered about the country, from which they could be broadcasted locally.

WARNE DRUG CO. Ltd.

Make Remarkable Offer to Any Person in Peterboro Who is Weak, Sick, Nervous or Run-Down.

It Is Now Possible For You to Come to This Store, Buy a Regular $1.10 Package of Nuxated Iron for $1.00, Use It for Two Weeks, and If at the End of That Time You Have Not Received All, and Even Greater Benefits Than You Expect, Simply Bring the Wrapper Back to The Warne Drug Company, and We Will Cheerfully Hand You Back Your Money.

Peterborough people may well ask how we can afford to make this remarkable "Satisfaction or Money Back" offer. Medical examinations by physicians all over the country show that an amazing number of people lack 100% iron in their blood. At a recent conference, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out Door Department), New York, and the Winchester County Hospital, said, "Without iron, the blood becomes weak, thin, pale, and watery. In many people this so seriously weakens their vital organs as to lead them to believe that they have heart or stomach trouble, kidney disease, nerve force exhaustion, or some other serious ailment. I have had people come to me thinking they had heart trouble, because they often had pains and palpitation of the heart, sudden dizziness, faintness, or spots before the eyes. In a great many of these cases, the moment iron was supplied, all of these symptoms disappeared." We make this offer because Genuine Nuxated Iron contains true organic iron like the iron in your blood. So many people are deficient in iron who would surely be benefited by this remarkable remedy, that we recommend that you come right to The Warne Drug Company, and get your bottle of Nuxated Iron. Use it for two weeks, and note the improvement in your own case in strength, energy, and endurance. If you are not more than surprised at the results, just bring back the wrapper, and we will promptly refund your money without question.

JURY DISMISSES IRELAND CASE AFTER FOUR HOURS' DISCUSSION

Recommended to Judge Huycke That Each Party Pay Own Costs—Verdict Brought in Late Last Night.

THE EVIDENCE.

The action of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ireland of Harvey Township against Bruce McKenty for $500 damages was dismissed by a jury in the County Court with a recommendation to Judge Huycke that each party pay their own costs. The verdict was returned last night about 8.45 o'clock after four hours' deliberation by the jury, who filed into the court-room looking wearied by their long session from the opening of court on Tuesday afternoon. The question of costs will be decided by Judge Huycke before the court is concluded.

Mr. Kerr, counsel for the defendant, Bruce McKenty, in reviewing the evidence, emphasized the fact that Charles Ireland, his wife and his parents, who were the principal witnesses for the plaintiff, were relatives, all members of the one family. Bruce McKenty made no denial that he went up to George Ireland's, which was on the opposite side of the road to Charles Ireland's. He was driving alone.

"The story told against McKenty is so crude that it doesn't require any genius to invent it," said Mr. Kerr. "It just requires a nice little woman and a spiteful man, and the trick is done. If there ever was a case that should have been first tried in the Police Court, and can still be tried there, it was this one. Ireland said he didn't want anything but an apology, but he's still here in court and asking $500 damages."

Mr. Kerr dwelt upon the insinuations, by reading their names in court, that McKenty had been involved in similar trouble with other women. It was a most unprincipled thing for Ireland to suggest these names to his solicitor, names of women who had no chance to defend themselves and who may have been entirely innocent of any such actions. McKenty denied ever having had any trouble with these women. In one case he did pay blackmail to avoid the publicity through which his name would have been dragged.

"On the the advice of Mr. Gordon, an able and experienced lawyer, the partner of Mr. O'Brien, McKenty paid Mrs. Haines, who had held him up for blackmail. A woman like that would swear anything, Mr. Gordon told him, and it would be cheaper in the long run to pay the $200 and not have the scandal of the charge, which in the end some people would believe. Give Mr. Gordon credit for that advice, but the time comes when other people hear of this incident and say McKenty is an easy mark, and do what Ireland said to Henry Parker, that he and his wife would have more than a dollar out of him."

Mr. Kerr said that Mrs. Ireland, the co-plaintiff, was either dragged into this affair wickedly by the husband or she was a wicked partner with him. If the first supposition was true, she was not the first woman who had lied at the instance of her husband. Scripture tells us Ananias lied to St. Peter and Saphira, his wife, came along and stuck to the same story, although she knew it was untrue. Sometimes you find a domineering, revengeful husband somewhat kindly to his wife who will stick to her husband in many cases. If there was an Ananias in the house there is often a Saphira who will stick up to what Ananias says.

Mr. Kerr said he wished to be merciful to the woman, and adverting to the evidence of Dr. Wood in regard to the obsessions and delusions of some women during pregnancy, pointed out that she was alone in the farm house and was nervous about the birth of her first child.

Because McKenty had once been scared into making a payment under blackmail, because that way was cheaper than to fight the charge in court, it was now time for him to stand up for the honor of himself and his wife and for the good of society and to ask a jury to find that he was not guilty of the act alleged against him by Charles Ireland and his wife.

Mr. J. A. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien in his address to the jury reviewed the main features of the accusation as outlined in the evidence of the Irelands. He underscored the fact that McKenty had paid $200 to let him out of another case of this kind, and also stressed the agreement of the evidence given by the plaintiffs and their witnesses as against the statement of McKenty. Alluding to Mr. Kerr's suggestion that this was a case of blackmail, Mr. O'Brien said that if blackmail was the intent and purpose of Charles Ireland he could very easily have invented a more complete and detailed story.

The Grand Jury's presentment to Judge Huycke on Wednesday afternoon was received with His Honour's commendation of work promptly and well done, and also his appreciation to the personal reference to himself. It follows:

To His Honour Judge Huycke:

"Following your able address and instructions, so clearly set forth, we have endeavored to perform the duties that devolved upon us, to the best of our ability.

"We, with your honour, congratulate the county and city in not having, with the exception of one regretable case, any crimes of a serious nature to deal with at this sitting of the court.

"We also concur, with your honour, in your expressions of regret at the indisposition of our worthy Crown Attorney, and sincerely hope that he may soon be restored to normal health.

"Accepting your reference to that part of our duties, as a Grand Jury, calling for an inspection of the public institutions of the county and city, we visited the following, and respectfully submit a report of our observations of the undermentioned.

"County Goal.—It is a matter of congratulation that few inmates were found in the County Goal, eight in all, of whom three are females. We were much impressed with the cleanliness of these premises, and the kind and sympathetic attention given the inmates. Those in charge of the Goal are to be commended for faithful discharge of their duties.

"County House of Refuge.—Everything was found to be in first-class condition, cleanly and well looked after by the parties in charge. The inmates also are apparently contented and comfortable.

"Nicholls Hospital.—This hospital, under an efficient Board of Managers, and having a capable superintendent in charge, was found in excellent condition and having every facility for taking care of those who from time to time find it necessary to avail themselves of the accommodation and kind attention there provided. During the past year there has been put in an up-to-date X-ray equipment and laboratory, both of which are in charge of experienced technicians. Also, with a view of safety, the old wing has been entirely rewired at a cost of several thousand dollars.

"St. Joseph's Hospital.—These premises, to which has recently been added a new addition, doubling the capacity, is now a modern hospital, every provision having been made and the most up-to-date equipment provided for the care of the sick. The authorities responsible for the erection and equipment of this splendid institution are to be congratulated on the completion of their new addition. We cannot allow the opportunity to pass of referring to the kind and sympathetic attention given to all patients by the Sisters and nurses in charge.

"House of Providence. — This building, on the same lot as the hospital above referred to, is also under the same capable management, and provides a comfortable and pleasant home for the more advanced in years.

"We visited also the Protestant Home, St. Vincent Orphanage and the Children's Shelter and found all these institutions conducted in a satisfactory and proper manner, the greatest care being taken of the comfort and happiness of the inmates in each case.

"We desire to express our approval of the reference your honour made to the retention of the Grand Jury, believing, as you apparently do, that it is one of the important factors in the administration of justice.

"In conclusion we earnestly hope that your honour may be long spared to fill the exalted position of Judge, a position in which you have not only done credit to yourself in the performance of the duties that devolved upon you, but have lent dignity to the court.

"Signed on behalf of the Grand Jury,

"W. J. THOMPSON,
"Foreman.

"Peterborough court-room,
"June 14th, 1922."

The personnel of the Grand Jury was: W. J. Thompson, Peterborough, foreman; W. D. Best, Gilmour street; Bruce Fitzgerald, Smith Township; H. H. Lute, Asphodel Township; Fred. Faux, Asphodel; James B. Fowler, North Monaghan; Paul Jenkins, Dummer; Gordon McIntosh, North Monaghan; Frank Redpath, Otonabee; R. D. Robson, London street; Fred. Walsh, Douro; Robert Shaw, Harvey Township; Francis J. Young, Peterborough.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid somach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they an go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretions or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin or artificial digestents.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquor, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

CHEESE MARKET.

MONTREAL, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)—At the United Dairymen Co-operative Auction sale held here yesterday there were 2,554 boxes offered, of which 490 boxes No. 1 white sold at 16 3-16 cents per pound; 56 boxes No. 2 white at 15 1-2 per pound; 623 boxes No. 1A colored at 15 3-4 per pound; 658 boxes No. 1B colored at 15 3-4 per pound; 314 boxes No. 2A colored at 15 3-16 per pound and 336 boxes No. 2B colored at 15 3-16 per pound. There were also 77 boxes of special colored offered for which 15 3-4 per pound was bid with 15 13-16 per pound asked.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, June 15.—(Canadian Press.) — There is practically no change in the market situation in the east and extreme west. In Manitoba there is a very much easier feeling and prices are down at country points to 18 and 19 cents to country shippers, cases included. This is due largely to the poor quality of eggs being marketed.

Toronto and Montreal unchanged.

Winnipeg straight receipts 18 to 19 cases included, jobbing candled current receipts 22, firsts 28, extras 30.

Saskatchewan country points 17 to 20 loss off, cases included, quality poor.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)—A feature of the local cash grain market was the increased demand for exporters and a fair business was done. There was nothing new in the flour market.

The mill feed and rolled oats markets were dull. Lower prices are looked for in the baled hay market. The egg situation was without change. The tone of the potato market was easy. Butter is active. Prices are steadily moving to a higher level for cheese.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday as follows: Sterling demand 4.5110; sterling cables 4.5135.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, June 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Receipts yesterday consisted of 1,260 cattle and calves, 1,160 hogs and 220 sheep and lambs.

Trading was decidedly slow and draggy on the cattle market with bidding on most classes and grades in line with yesterday's closing prices.

The hog market was unsettled and up to noon, no definite price had been fixed. It is likely $12.50 will be bid before the close.

The sheep and lamb market was fairly steady, spring lambs weighing up from 1300 to 1500; mutton sheep 5.00 to 6.00 and a few yearlings at 8.50.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, June 15.— (Canadian Press.)—Brisk upturns in the price of wheat yesterday accompanied reports of excessive heat west and south-west and of black rust northwest. The market closed strong, 1 3-4 to 2 3-8c. net higher, with July $1.12 1-8 to $1.12 1-4 and September $1.12 7-8 to $1.13. Corn gained 1 1-2 and 1 5-8 to 2 1-4, and oats 3-8 and 1-2 to 1 3-4. In provisions the outcome varied from two cents decline to seven cents advance.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, June 15. —(Canadian Press.)—Cattle, receipts 12,000; active, better grade beef steers strong to 10c. higher; other grades and greasers, slow, about steady; closing weak to lower; top 9.75 on matured steers; bulk beef steers 8.75 and 9.25; she stock slow, about steady; spots on in-between and grassy kinds weak to 15c. lower; bulls strong to 15c. higher; veal calves 50 to 75c. lower; stockers scarce, steady; bulk fat stockers 5.35 and 7.35; bulk desirable bologna bulls 4.65 and 4.75; bulk vealers to packers 9.00 and 9.75; bulk plain to good stockers 6.75 and 7.50.

Hogs, receipts 26,000; opened mostly 10c. higher; closed with early advance lost or about steady with yesterday's average; top early 10.75; bulk 10.00 and 10.60; pigs steady, 9.75 and 10.50; holdover liberal.

Sheep, receipts 12,000; spring lambs 25c. lower; top 13.25; shorn lambs unevenly lower; morning top to packers 11.50; some unsold; sheep slow to lower; top fat ewes 6.50; heavies mostly 250 and 3.00; good 89 pound fed Texas wethers 7.50; breeding wethers 7.50; breeding ewes firm; deck choice 89 pound fed ewe lambs 12.00 as breeders.

Chapter LX[illegible]

BILLS, BILLS, BILLS, AND JACK SAYS WE'RE BANKRUPT.

Instead of helping J[illegible]k, as I had planned, my morning bridge rather queered him with the very people I wanted for his friends.

The bills for my party proved heavier than I intended them to be. I had to rent so many things most of the other girls possessed.

With the party bills came the one for the fox scarf. It was $157.50. As the weather was terrifically hot the bill for furs was untimely and I began to hate that stole.

I was perfectly astonished to find how my milk bill had mounted by months. In fact, I never had paid it since the first month after my honeymoon, I discovered.

Each month, as it came in, I had put it out of sight in my desk. Some of the envelopes I hadn't opened because I knew what they contained and the sight of them made me nervous.

One morning a collector came around and I gave him a check for part of the total. The collector was very nice and told me how to fix the thing up. I promised to pay him a certain sum weekly.

I certainly was relieved to find this way out. It was decidely better, I thought, than letting Jack know how careless I had been.

But it happened that Jack was at home when another man cal[illegible] early in the morning to shut off the electricity.

Jack fixed it up somehow and saved our lights. And Jack didn't go to work that morning. He stayed at home and I had to give him every one of my bills and it took us the whole morning to go over them.

Dear old Jack tried pretend he wasn't awfully disappointed in me. He had that same air of being patient, just as if I were a little girl.

He said he was to blame, he ought to be earning more money, and that some men would have had sense enough to ask a wife for the milk bills, but that he had't kept house long enough to think about gas and electricity.

And I cried because I had so carefully tried to keep my bills to myself until I had figured them out and divided them into section for Jack to pay monthy.

Jack kissed me and said he hoped the bills were the least of our worries. From his tone, I suspected that a terrible tragedy was hanging over us.

"We're bankrupt, Peggins! Do you understand" he insisted. "We haven't a penny in the bank, either of us! If I keep my job we can manage. But dear, what if I lose it"

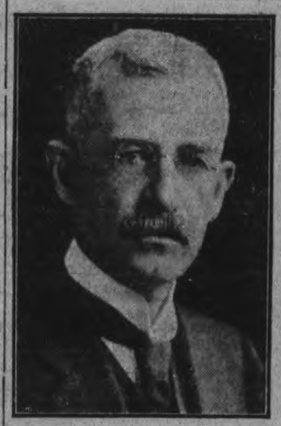
CONDITIONS THAT CALL FOR A TONIC

Symptoms That the Blood is Thin Should Not be Neglected.

Weak, run-down, lacking strength, energy and ambition, nervous, sleepless, poor appetite, digestion disturbed—these are the symptoms named by a great majority of people who have been benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These tonic pills correct the condition described, and if you have any of these symptoms you should give these pills a trial. Their great value in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Melville Fortune, Preston, Ont., who says: "Some months ago I became very depressed and worried. My friends thought I was in a decline. I would often faint, was weak, pale and hardly able to go about. I lost weight to the extent of 34 pounds in four months. I was taking treatment, but did not get any benefit until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These made a wonderful change in my condition, and by the time I was on my fifth box I had regained 22 pounds of my lost weight. I feel altogether like a new woman, can do my housework with ease, and have reason to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the great good I have found through their use. I will always gladly recommend them for anaemia and general debility."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.



NEW PRESIDENT OF NA-DRU-CO.

Mr. Charles W. Tinling, the new president of the National Drug and Chemical Company of Canada, Limited, has been associated with this great organization since its inception in 1906, first as treasurer, then as general manager, vice-president and finally taking the place as president upon the retirement of Mr. D. W. Bole, who is leaving active business life after many years of successful service.

Mr. Tinling has been one of the leading factors in the wholesale drug trade of Canada for many years; first with Archdale Wilson & Company of Hamilton, then with this business reorganized as the Dominion Drug Company and finally bringing the Dominion Drug Company into the National Drug and Chemical Company.

Mr. Tinling is an able financeer, a sound executive and a progressive business man. Under his able direction, the "National Drug" may be expected to continue its career of national service and increased prosperity.

BAN CODDLING OF CRIMINAL

Crime Wave Not Result of Nervous Re-action From the World War—Urges Swift Punishment

LEXINGTON, Va., June 15.—The "coddling of criminals" rather than the nervous reaction from the World War was blamed for the crime wave all ocer the country here today by Wade H. Ellis, a member of the American Bar Association committee investigating the increase in crime, who spoke at Washington and Lee University, of which he is a graduate. The findings of the crime committee is filed next month.

Mr. Ellis said that in the period from 1910 to 1921, the number of murders in cities like New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Los Angeles and practically all the large centres of population increased nearly 150 per cent, and he asserted that this increase, when compared with that of England and France, was both "humilating and appaling." Referring to conditions in New York City, Mr. Ellis said:

"Crimes of highway robbery on the streets and in the stores in broad daylight have increased in startling proportion. In that city, for example 1 out of eevry 30 registered autos is stolen every year. The American Bankers' Associaion reports show that in 1917 there were 115 burglaries and eighty hold-ups of banks throughout the country, and in 1921 there were 319 burglaries and 136 hold-ups. The losses paid by the burgalry insurance companies grew from $1,686,195 in 1915 to $10,189,853 in 1920, and increase of 543 per cent.

Mr. Ellis then asserts that this condition is not entirely due to "shell-shock from the war' nor to unemployment, nor to the great influx of aliens. He adds:

All these instances combined do not answer the question. The eral causes lie deeper. They inhere in the wide-spread and growing dirsespect for all law. This delay in punishment, the inadequacy of the penalty, the coddling of criminals, the ease with which they escape, the technicalities surrounding the indictment, the trials the appeals, the probation, the suspended sentence, the commutation and the pardon have more to do than anything else with the breakdown of our criminal jurisprudence.

"And deeper still is the lamentable fact that in the hearts of thousands, perhaps millicns, of the submerged in our population—the poor, he unfortunate, the ignoront, and the envious—there is a feeling that the courts of America are a luxury for the few, that both civil and criminal cases the expense of litigation is beyond the means of the great masses of the people; that these courts are not their courts; that this country is not their country, and that by a sort of exclusiveness in attitude of organized society they are put beyond the pale of law.

"This produces a hostile mind toward National institutions and gives to the down-and-outer, dark thinking muddle-brained, a kind of savage justification for taking the law into his own hands."

Among the remedies proposed by Mr. Ellis are these: "Establishment of a Federal bureau o gather and analyze statics on crime, swift punishment of offenders, prohibition of the manufacture of firearms, and the palcing of justice within reach of the poor.

Mr. Ellis also advocated stricter regulation of the admission of immigrants and the enactment of a Feedral law making it criminal offense for native born or naturalized citizens to teach or incite the ovethrow of the Government.

The speaker called attention to "a certain fashion—silly, detestable, but none the less vicious—among a small class of notoriety seeking professors and others, who believe themselves liberal when they teach "contempt for the established institutions of America." He cited the college student who turned radical because he was a victim of fad. These, he said, were in a very small minority, but they were the "most effective enemies of peace."

FIFTEEN BOILS ON NECK AT ONE TIME

There was no Burdock Blood Bitters in those days, so Job had to suffer in silence. Nowadays no one need endure the misery of boils.

Boils are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not stop more coming.

What you have to do is take BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS and the blood will be cleansed of all its impurities, and then every boil will disappear.

Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly."

For the past 45 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited. Toronto, Ont.

HIGH PRICES FOR BERRIES.

Local Dealers Blame the Growers — Cheaper in Western Ontario.

Berry growers in this district are optimistic over the outlook for a good crop and a fair price, the Examiner learned last night from talking with several of the prominent growers. The spell of cold weather that arrived Saturday has slowed up the maturing of the crop, resulting in the development of barries of a quality that would not have been the case if there had been premature ripening. Only a few pickings have been made and the growers do not look for the peak of the crop until the last of next week.

A comparatively small number of boxes have been picked to date and most of those in the stores hail from Western Ontario. Several local dealers have complained that the growers here are asking too high a price when imported berries can be brought in at a lower price. One dealer said he paid 28 cents for some here and sold them at 25. "The people want cheap berries, and won't pay any more than 25," he said. He said the growers were holding out for 25 cents, while Western Ontario berries could be bought at 20 cents. He intimated that if the growers want to do business they must come down to the Niagara level. "They're only 20 cents in Campbellford," he added as an afterthought.

Fifteen Cent Berries.

Fred Stinson, one of the largest growers, said it would be next week until the pickings amounted to anything. The crop is "very fair' he said and asked if there would be fifteen cent berries, he said he thought there would. "You know it is early yet. It is generally the last of June before the berries are in good and then is when you can look for the cheapest fruit."

At Kitney's Otonabee gardens, the Examiner was told that they had only made one picking and did not expect general maturity until next week. "The cold has held up the ripening, but it has done a lot of good for the berries were coming on too fast with that hot sun," it was stated. Bruce Johnston, well known truek farmer, declared that the picking so far had been light along the gardening section by the river, although a good crop is generally looked for.

Market gardeners reported a heavy frost Monday night, with etxensive damage resulting to beans, potatoes and corn. The good results of the chill, however, has been noticed in the decline in the strength and numbers of the armies of grubs, bugs and insects that threatened the gardens with complete annihilation. The heat wave brought out potato bugs over night and all the Paris green put on the plant did not prove as efhcacious in checking the peril as a few hours' chill weather. The cut worm hordes have vanished since the frosts, and the gardener who gave out this information, said he hoped they wold never return.

DECLARE 45% DIVIDEND

"Gentlemen Adventurers" Raise Dis bursement by Five Per Cent.

LONDON, June 15 — The announcement that the Hudson's Bay Company had declared a dividend of 45 per cent., an increase of five per cent. over the previous dividend has been received here with pleasurable surprise, considering the depressed state of the Canadian trade generally. As the one pound shares of the company are now quoted here at 5 3-4 pounds the yield is nearly is nearly 9 1-8 per cent.

EAST EMILY CROPS ARE LOOKING FINE.

EAST EMILY, June 15.—The crops are looking excellent since the recent rains. The ram was needed very badly. The clover and alsike are looking good in this district, and there are fine prospects for a large crop.

Orange Lodge.

The Orange Lodge, No. 41, of Orange Corners held their annual picnic in Mr. W. Magee's wood. The Orangemen went to quite a lot of trouble to make it as enjoyable for the large crowd present as they could, the young people taking great enjoyment out of the platform.

A New House.

Mr. T. Bell is getting ready to build a new house on the old foundation where his house was burned about one month ago.

Haying Season.

The men who have been working on the road have quit for a while on account of the haying season coming on.

This is the Season of Year When Sugar is Due for Price Increase

First Jump Recorded Several Days Ago — Product is Very Necessary to the Preserving Season.

This is the time of year when sugar starts to go up in price, and it happens every year, with unfailing regularity. Just as soon as the strawberries come in, the heralds, one might say, of the canning season, the product that is so necessary to their preservation begins to ascend. From a price of $6.24 to 6.83 was the jump recently, and from New York comes the rumour of a three-cent increase, which means, as one grocer puts it, a retail charge of probably ten cents per pound in the very near future.

One fruit dealer places the blame on the short-sighted policy of a buying public, "who will not stock up with sugar when the price is normal," but it looks as if the women might take a hand in the affair themselves. Why stand the same thing year after year without an attempt at righting matters. The downright methods of the refiners are illustrated in the refusal of the wholesalers during the canning season to take orders for any quantity of sugar from retailers. They simply wait to see which way the cat jumps. If berries are plentiful, and the price decreases daily, then sugar will go up, just like a seesaw.

Women in war-time did much in the way of keeping prices down, by their boycott of expensive commodities, and a striking example of the force of public opinion was the recent so-called "buying strike" of the general public, as a protest against high prices, which automatically reduced themselves. Why couldn't the women's societies that lodged protests against prohibition of the import and manufacture of oleomargarine do something in the way of helping out with the sugar problem during the preserving season?

Why and How to Use Milk

"Why and How to Use Milk," is the title of an attractive, illustrated booklet just issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. It opens with the paragraph: "This is a message to you, Canadian women, for on you rests the responsibility of providing young Canadians with suitable food for health, and for mental and physical growth. The well-being of your family depends, in large measure, on the food which you give them to eat, and upon the welfare of your family depends the future welfare of the nation. Milk and dairy products are pre-eminent among the foods which nature provides. They are available in every part of Canada at comparatively low cost. They are nutritious, economical, easy to prepare, and can be served in an endless variety of ways."

The booklet contains many recipes for the use of milk in various ways, and has special sections devoted to consideration of the value of milk, with its protein contents, the mineral matter, vitamines and carbohydrates contained in it, with a consideration of its digestibility, its care in the home, and description of easy method of pasteurizing in the domestic kitchen. There are hints for the making of ice cream, and recipes for milk dishes for invalids. In the section devoted to "Care of Milk in the Home," it says: "Bacteria grow readily in milk, and pasteurization is the method commonly adopted for the destruction of disease germs which may find entry into it. In many cities, pasteurization is compulsory, but if the milk has not already been pasteurized, it can easily be done in the home. A quotation by Chas. E. North, M.D., says: "Milk is damaged by dirt and bacteria. Decency demands that all milk should be clean."

Soak coloured things half an hour (white things one hour, two hours, over night or whatever time is convenient) in Rinso suds.

Soak the Dirt out.

THERE is such a simple easy way of washing rompers, school ginghams, play clothes etc., that you won't mind how many there are — thanks to Rinso.

First, make the wonderful Rinso liquid. Take half a packet of Rinso, thoroughly dissolve it in cool water, and add two quarts of boiling water. Then lay your clothes to soak in the tub of cool or lukewarm water. After one, two or three hours or in the morning give them a thorough rinsing and the dirt just runs away. No need to rub on the wash board so that holes come and colour goes.

Rinso is a wonderful product, scientifically made to wash clothes by soaking — different from soaps, chips and washing powders, and used differently.

Do not put Rinso into the tub from the package, but make the Rinso liquid first.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE

Follow directions as above. After soaking the clothes wring them into machine, add enough fresh Rinso liquid, operate and rinse, and you will have the sweetest, cleanest clothes you ever saw.

THE STRUGGLES OF MARION HARLAND

Women readers who have for years past been interested in the work of Marion Harland, one of the foremost authorities of the age on cooking and Household Science, will regret to learn that she died on June 2nd, at her home in New York, in her 92nd year.

Marion Harland, whose real name was Mrs. Edward Terhune, began writing as a girl of 14, and published her first novel at the age of 22. After her marriage in 1856, her struggles as the wife of an impecunious minister, led to the writing of books and articles on home-making and cookery, and in 10 years, 100,000 copies of her "Common Sense in the Household" were sold. She wrote constantly for periodicals and newspaper syndicates on matters of domestic interest, and published several novels, the last just three years ago, when she was 89 years old. For the past 18 years she labored under difficulties, first breaking her right wrist and then suffering from failing eyesight. Three children have all made reputations for themselves as writers: Christine Terhune Herrick, Virginia Terhune van de Water, and Albert Payson Terhune. One of her grandsons, F. F. Van de Water, is the columnist for the New York Tribune.

Mrs. Terhune, when asked as to the secret of her youthful ardor, which never appeared to slacken, always replied that it had its spring in a blending of religion and humour. "If you want to stay young," she said, "have some work you like, something to get you up in the morning. I don't mind growing old. Up on the tableland of age the air is invigorating."

FRECKLES

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

RECIPES

THE combination of fruit and meat cooked together is most unusual but most delicious. Pork and apples are an old combination, the apples often being roasted with the meat or baked in casserole with chops. Lemon broiled on fish adds much to the flavor, but few women realize that pineapple broiled with ham, orange slices with lamb and raisins with beef make plain everyday meats into foods to be conjured with.

One and one-half pounds tenderloin of beef, ½ cup raisins, 1 cup pineapple cubes, salt and paprika, 4 tablespoons butter.

Trim tenderloin and cut in filets two and one-half inches thick. Melt butter and dip filet in melted butter. Arrange on a well oiled broiler and cover each filet with the raisins and pineapple cubes, using half of them.

Broil under flame for eight minutes. Turn and cover with remaining pineapple and raisins and broil eight minutes. Season with salt and paprika and put on a hot platter.

Pour drippings from broiler pan into butter and simmer slowly 10 minutes. Skim out fruit and sprinkle over meat. Add two tablespoons browned flour to butter and stir till well blended.

Stir in two cups of boiling water and let boil five minutes. Strain around meat on platter and serve at once.

To brown flour—Put flour in an iron frying pan. Stir over a hot fire till brown. Caramel can be used to make the sauce brown and adds to the flavor of the sauce. Browned flour and caramel mean much to the cook in the making of sauces.

Casserole of Beef With Raisins.

Two pounds lean beef, ½ cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons minced onion, ¾ cup diced carrots, ½ cup chopped ham, 1 cup seeded raisins, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoonful salt, paprika, few gratings nutmeg, 4 tablespoons butter.

Add one-half cup boiling water, cover closely and cook in a hot oven half an hour. Remove meat from casserole and strain stock. Discard vegetables and return meat and stock to casserole. Add raisins, lemon juice, salt and paprika.

The sauce should not be thickened. This dish uses a less expensive cut of meat than the first, but is delicious as to flavor.

Art Exhibit at Queen Alexandra

The art exhibit of the children's work at Queen Alexandra School was held last Friday afternoon and evening, with a good attendance of parents and friends to view an interesting exposition of the children's work throughout the year in art and sewing. The water-colors, colored chalks, examples of penmanship and neat sewing by small feminine fingers brought forth many congratulatory remarks, providing some outstanding exhibits of talent in the eyes and fingers that take so much care with their pretty work.

Prizes in the different classes were awarded as follows:

Sr. IV.—1, Dorothy Goodwin; 2, Ruby Theobald; 3, Mildred Johnston.

Jr. IV.—1, Phyllis Holmes; 2, Mona Westlake; 3, Hedley Vickers.

Sr. III.—1, John Johnston; 2, Althea Slighte; 3, Eva Dallin.

Jr. III.—1, Olive Delong; 2, Leona Kingdon; 3, Archie Cocks.

Sr. II.—1, Greta Delong; 2, Kathleen Simmonds; 3, Jack Sturgeon.

Jr. II.—1, Sherwood Solmes; 2, Edward Amory; 3, Grace Darling.

Jr. Primer—1, Mary Terrace; 2, Gavin Saxby; 3, Jean Tedford.

The Home and School Association acted as hostesses for the exhibit, Mrs. S. F. Touchbourn and Mrs. Joseph Wearing receiving the guests and Mrs. J. H. Vance acting as convenor for refreshments, assisted by Mrs. A. Mowat, Mrs. E. F. Mason, Mrs. F. Whitehouse and Mrs. R. W. Davidson, the girls of Mr. Yenney's class helping. The tea table was charmingly centred with silver basket of pink and white peonies. An enjoyable programme was rendered, with Mr. J. W. Fraser in the chair. Mr. P. P. Westbye gave an entertaining talk on "Art"; Mrs. Massey-Cooke rendered an instrumental selection; Miss Daisy Davidson a vocal solo; Miss Margaret Walker a reading, and Arnold Spencer a violin solo, Mr. M. Chenhall playing accompaniments.

At this meeting a unanimous resolution was adopted by the members, which will take the form of a letter, to be forwarded to Mr. H. A. Yenney, as follows:

'Dear Mr. Yenney,—

"At a meeting of the Home and School Association of the Queen Alexandria School, held June 9th, on motion of Messrs. J. E. Smith and R. A. McKee, it was unanimously agreed that an expression of appreciation of you as a man and teacher be placed on record and conveyed to you, on behalf of the parents and the teachers representing the Association. Your faithful, conscientious, and efficient services have not passed unheeded, and the imprint of your character on the young lives entrusted to your care wil prove a more lasting memorial than could be effected by any material tribute.

We, therefore, sir, while regretting your departure from Peterborough, trust that Mrs. Yenney and yourself will be blessed with health and happiness in your new home, to enjoy the autumn of active lives, spent in moulding the futures of more than one generation of young Canadians.

Signed on behalf of the aforesaid,
Margaret Touchburn, President.
Maud Bolton, Secretary.

LININGS.

Very interesting effects are achieved by introducing a fancy lining inside the new skirts. The uneven hem lines so popular now are responsible for them. Needless to say these linings are light in weight, usually being chiffon or georgette crepe.

"FLU" NEARLY KILLED HER

"I was so weak that I had lost interest in everything."

Because Mrs. McGregor let herself become run down, read what happened. "Like a great many other people who got the "flu" a few years ago," she writes," it left me in a weakened, run down condition. Nothing seemed to bring back my old strength and energy. I was tired all the time. I had no appetite. I had dull pains all over my body. I suffered agony with headaches. I was despondent and took no interest in anything. I was nervous. I was irritable and was always looking for slights. I was losing weight. I was in such a nervous, weakened, run down condition, that last spring I got pneumonia. My family didn't think I would live and the doctor told me afterwards that it was only because I had a strong heart that I managed to pull through. By the time I was out of danger, I was so weak and tired that I had lost interest in everything. I tried several preparations to build me up but none of them did me any good. One day a friend who had been very ill called in to see me, looking the picture of health. I asked her what she had been doing with herself to look so well and fat. She said that Carnol had done wonders for her and advised me to try it. As the evidence of what Carnol had done for my friend could not be denied, I decided to follow her advice. Today I think Carnol the most wonderful preparation in the world. It has made me a happy, healthy, contented woman."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 8-122

MILLBROOK NOW TOPS THE LEAGUE

Bethany Fell Before Millbrook and Mount Pleasant Trimmed Omemee Yesterday.

By defeating Bethany 5 to 3 in a fast game last night in the Cavan-Manvers-Emily League on its home grounds Millbrook changed its positions with the Bethany outfit and now heads the league. Mount Pleasant won handily from Omemee on the village lot by 14 runs to 2 and is therefore tied with Bethany. As a result of the fixtures the league standing is now:

	Won	Lost
Millbrook	3	1
Bethany	2	1
Mount Pleasant	2	1
Omemee	0	4

Four hundred people saw the game at Millbrook. The game was described as the snappiest in the league so far and whoever could have picked a winner would have been a good judge. Millbrook led until the third when Bethany tied the game 2-2. In the fourth each got one, in the fifth there was no score but the sixth frame proved Bethany's undoing when Millbrook got two. Bethany was held scoreless in their half of the seventh. The lineups were:

Millbrook—R. Edmunds p, A. McCorry c, G W. Sayles 1b, E. C. Richards 2b, R. Smith 3b, W. Needler ss, S. Martin rf, A. Thorne lf, H. Lancahsire cf, sub S Russell

Umpire—John Cathcart, Cavan.

Mount Pleasant repeated the previous performance with Omemee when the score was even better for Omemee by two runs Mount Pleasant has a way of stopping at 14. A change of batteries in the seventh failed to stop the flood and the score ended 14 to 2. The lineups were:

Mount Pleasant—B. Rose p, G. Adams c, G. Shields 1b, B. Bryans 2b, H Lowes 3b, H. Jamieson ss, E. McLean rf, I. Lowes cf, N. Fee, lf.

Umpire—Comiskey, Bethany.

THE PETES THROW AWAY A LEAD OF FOUR RUNS

Combed Oulette Hard in First Innings But Their Wretched Fielding Turned the Scale in Favor of Grey Birds.

GAME PROTESTED.

THE Petes combed Oulette's offerings for two triples, a double and two singles in the first innings of yesterday's Central League game at Lindsay, scoring four runs, and then proceeded to hand the game back to the Greybirds by a weird exhibition of fielding, in which they amassed nine juicy errors. The final score was 6 to 5, Lindsay winning in the ninth. It was a ragged, scrappy demonstration of baseball, that included a fight an dthat wound up with the Petes playing under protest. The Central League sub-committee will have to settle the argument, for the Petes are entering a protest as a result of a decision by Umpire Anderson of Lindsay in the ninth innings which cut the Solomon gaug out of a run that would have put them out in front.

Through some mistake on the part of the Central League, no official umpire put in an appearance, but to avoid disappointing the crowd the Petes agreed to start the game with Jas. W. Anderson of Lindsay behind the bat and Clare Stewart of Peterborough on the bases until the regular ump. arrived. He failed to show up, however, and the game finished in charge of the two volunteer arbitrators. The result was what might have been expected, constant wrangling and "crabbing." Mr. Anderson's work on balls and strikes was decidedly shaky, but he got along without serious trouble until the ninth, when the play arose that resulted in a protest from the Petes. In the Petes half of that innings Collins was on second when Dugan rolled one to Brounscombe, the Lindsay shoot, who, in hurrying a throw to first, hit Base Umpire Stuart with the ball, Collins scoring and Dugan reaching first safely. The counter would have put the Petes in front, but Umpire Anderson, despite the prolonged argument of the Petes, ruled that Collins must go back to third. The side was subsequently retired with him still at that station, so that the decision cost a much needed run.

Umpire Anderson was unmistakably wrong in his ruling. The rule covering the play is clear and distinct. Here it is: (Section 7, Rule 54) "If a thrown or pitched ball strike the person or clothing of an umpire, the ball shall be considered in play, and the base-runner or runners shall be entitled to all the bases they can make."

Bad umpiring and all, however, the Petes should have won the game in a walk if they had not turned in their most wretched fielding exhibition of the season. They nicked enough runs off Oulette in the first innings to have been on Easy Street, but their lurid fielding lost them all the advantage of their fine start. Soden was the worst offender, with two costly muffs and a bad throw, and the usually reliable "Shiner" Johnston had a bad day at second. Heckman pitched good enough ball to have easily won the decision had it not been for the misplays and errors figuring in every run scored by the Lindsay crew. He fanned eleven men, and although seven hits are chalked against him several of them came after the side should have been retired.

After a start that might have discouraged any pitcher, Oulette turned in a fine game on the rubber for Lindsay. The Petes hammered him for five hits in the first innings, registering four runs, but he settled down and pitched fine ball after the bad opening, only allowing three more hits for the balance of the game and whiffing fourteen men.

The fielding feature of the game was provided by First Baseman Coombs of Lindsay, who went out into right field and took Johnston's fly on the run, robbing the batter of a hit.

A Great Start.

The Petes subjected Oulette to a terrific shelling in the first innings. Rutherford opened with a triple over Richman's head in right. Johnston promptly singled to centre, to send the run in. Swanston sacrificed, sending Johnston to second. Heckman tripled down the right field foul line, scoring Johnston. Soden doubled to centre, Heckman registering. Shaughnessy hoisted one to Oulette, but Collins ripped a single between short and third, Soden scoring from second. Holyman fanned for the third out.

Lindsay got a cheap one back in the second. With one out, Carew was hit. Coombs lifted a fly to Soden, who muffed the drive and then threw badly to second when he had a chance to force Carew. Heckman then caught Carew off second, but Johnston dropped the ball, and the runner reached third. A wild pitch scored Carew. With Oulette at the bat, Coombs was out at the plate trying to steal home.

The Greybirds came back with two in the fourth. B. Cummings doubled to right centre to start with. Allen fanned. Carew singled to centre and Cummings went to third when Soden threw badly to second. Carew stole second, and both scored on Coombs' two-base rap to left. Richman popped to Heckman. Coombs stole third. Oulette flied out to Johnston.

Lindsay took the lead in the fifth. McMahon got a life when Johnston dropped his fly to short right. McMahon stole second. Brounscombe fanned. H. Cummings hoisted one to Soden, who muffed, McMahon going to third. H. Cummings stole second, and both scored on B. Cummings' rap to left. Allen flied to Collins. Carew singled to left and Coombs flied to Soden.

There was nothing further doing on either side until the seventh when the Petes tied it up. With one out, Dugan singled to left. Rutherford lined to right and got a triple when Richman failed to make a shot-string catch of the drive. Dugan registered the tieing run on this safety, but Rutherford was caught between third and home on the play. Johnston fanned to retire the side.

The big excitement came in the ninth. In the Petes half, with one down, Collins doubled to left. Holyman struck out. Then came the disputed play. Dugan hit to Brounscombe, whose throw to first hit Umpire Stuart, and Collins scored from second and the runner was safe. Lindsay claimed that Collins should be sent back to third, while the Petes, of course, contended that the run should count. There was a wild mix-up for a few minutes, culminating in a fight among several of the players, while the spectators poured on the field and a riot was threatened. The police restored order at least and the game went on under protest when Umpire Anderson ordered Collins back to third. Rutherford drew a pass, filling the bases, but Johnston missed three.

In Lindsay's half, after McMahon had rolled to Johnston, Brounscombe drew a pass. H. Cummings singled to centre, and the bases were filled when B. Cummings rolled one to Holyman, who fumbled. With the count three and two on Allen, Umpire Anderson called the next one a ball, forcing Brounscombe in with the winning run.

CHALLENGE SENT TO JACK DEMPSEY

Harry Wills, Negro Boxer, is Seeking a Chance to Take the Championship Belt.

NEW YORK, June 15.—(Canadian Press).—Paddy Mullins, manager of Harry Wills, the negro boxer, has formally challenged Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, to a contest for the title and posted a $2,500 forfeit with the New York State Boxing Commission in accordance with its regulations. Whether the commission would permit such a mixed bout was not decided. A delegation of colored sportsmen, including George Moore of Oregon, was told that when such a match was made the commission "would follow the usual procedure," but would not pass upon the matter in advance.

JUVENILES PLAY GAME IN AN HOUR

Holy Name Society Win By 4 to 2 in Snappy Battle With Leafs.

Holy Name juveniles stopped the Maple Leafs in a well-contested game at Riverside Park last evening, Bill Prindible's peppery youngsters winning by 4 to 2. The teams hung up a record for the season by going through the seven innings' battle in sixty minutes, Jim Hall retiring the last Leaf on a high fly to left field, as the city clock announced seven oclock'. The Leafs found Guiry's pitching very much of a puzzle, scoring only in the first and last frames. Guiry was given good support. Sowden playing his first game with the Leafs contributed the feature fielding play with a pretty running catch of a long fly, and tre H.N.S. second baseman as a good second with a pretty catch on a hard drive.

HASTINGS LOST TO WARKWORTH.

Score Was 12 to 7 in Inter-County Fixture.

WARKWORTH, June 15.—Warkworth took revenge yesterday on the Hastings team by trimming them to the tune of 12 to 7.

This is the first win Warkworth has to their credit in the Inter-county League.

In the first innings Warkworth scored five runs and Hastings took a balloon ascension, and from then on the team played ragged ball. The line-ups:

Hastings—Herrington, pitcher; N. Sriver, catcher; Stevenson, 1st base; Tate, 2nd base; Langley, 3rd base; Burkholder, short-stop; O. Scriver, right field; Gould, centre field; Lamber, left field.

Warkworth —Corkery, pitcher; Bonney, catcher; Armstrong, 1st base; N. Thompson 2nd base; Smale, 3rd base; B. Thompson, short-stop; Oliver, right field; D. Thompson, centre field; Leonard, left field.

Score by innings:

Hastings	004010 110 — 7
Warkworth	510 051 00x—12

The next game for hte Petes will be with Leaside at Leaside.

MANY BOYS WILL ATTEND THE CAMP

Y.M.C.A. Will Take Over Thirty Youngsters to Camp Rotary. Others Later.

Prospects are more than bright for the Y.M.C.A. Boy's Camp on Clear Lake. To date more than thirty boys have signified their intention of attending and with other arrangements nearly completed everything points to the best Boys' Camp ever.

The Camp will be diided into four groupings at the commencement and with a capable Senior leader over each, these groups will be the natural source of all competition. During the progress of the camp a double schedule of baseball will be carried through for the Boys' Camp Shield emblematic of the baseball championship. This shield has a place for the picture of the winning team and will hang in the Boys' Department for a year. In addition to the baseball program, land and water sports will be featured and if arrangements are completed whereby the expected two war canoes are on hand, a war canoe race between crews representing the four groups will be a new feature for a Boys' Camp.

Though this camp is promoted by the Y.M.C.A., attendance is not limited to boys who are Y.M.C.A. members. Any boy in the city who is not being taken care of by any other group making use of Camp Rotary will be made welcome and assurred of every good time that camp affords. Competent supervision at all times is guaranteed. The age limit is twelve years and further information may be had from the local Y. M.C.A office

LEASIDE LOST ANOTHER GAME

Bowmanville Pulled Out With a Nice Win Over the Toronto Aggregation

BOWMANVILLE, June 15.—The Bowmanville baseball team put joy in the hearts of local fandom tonight by winning their first victory of the season, Leaside being the victims by a score of 7 to 5. Vistiors got off to an early start by scoring two in the first and one in the second, but after that Mingeaud steadied down and struck out eight men and only allowed four scattered hits.

Moyse had a feast at bat, getting a home run, a two-bagger and two singles. Bowmanville team made its first local appearance under the management of Cecil Osborne, who was considered one of the best pitchers in the old days of the Midland League. His change in line-up in the field and in batting order brought the desired results. The largest mid-week crowd of the season was present. The line-up:

By innings:

Bowmanville ..104 002 00x—7 1 2

Leaside.. .. .. 210 020 000—5 7 3

Umpires— Wilson at the plate; Barnes on the bases.

OSHAWA WON YESTERDAY'S GAME.

BELLEVILLE, June 15.—An unusual game of ball was played here yesterday afternoon between the G. T.R. team of this city, and the Oshawa team of the Central Ontario League. In the seventh innings, Williams, pitcher for the home team, and Gallagher, pitcher for the Oshawa team, were knocked out of the box, with Smith and Patton for the respective teams, taking their places. In this innings Oshawa made seven runs and Belleville four. The final score was 11 to 9 in favour of Oshawa. In the 6th innings, Ketcheson, of the G.T.R. team, made a home run. At times members of both teams batted the ball hard. A large crowd of disappointed spectators witnessed the game. Mr. Glocester, of Toronto, was umpire on strikes and balls and Mr. Boundy, of Cobourg, on the bases. Score by innings:

Oshawa .. ..002 002 720—11

G.T.R... .. ..102 011 400— 9

Line-ups:—

G.T.R.—Weir, s.s.; Meager, l.f.; W. Millls, c.; H. Mils, 1b.; Hagerman, c.f.; Ketcheson, 3b.; Casey, r.f.; Crooks, 2b.; Williams and Smith, p.

LITTLE GOLF LESSONS

By GEORGE O'NEIL.

The left-foot-in-front-of-the-right is described by its name and is rarely seen. I have seen it used on the tee and with other wooden shots and some players—Vardon, for instance—get a hooked ball by putting the left foot forward. The left foot in advance makes the stroke too rounded for iron play and I have never seen a good iron play with that stance. "Chick" Evans, one of my best pupils, has given a fine study to the stance in iron play and his game confirms the contention that the left foot out in front is wrong, despite the fact that Travis used it.

In today's picture one of the finest woman golfers America has ever developed is shown making a play for an intentional pull—Miss Alexa Stirling, of Atlanta, several times national woman champion. It takes a rather finished player to play pulls and slices intentionally, but for those who wish to try it, the position of the feet, for a pulled ball, is as shown in the diagram of Miss Stirling's shot.

Miss du Pont Has Been the Mystery Girl of the Moving Picture World —Highly Educated Society Girl— She Gave Up All Her Associates and Devoted Herself Exclusively to the Silent Drama—Her Views of Life Are Interesting.

Miss du Pont, featured player opposite Erich von Stroheim in 'Foolish Wives," the million dollar photoplay of Monte Carlo to be seen at the Capitol Theatre, beginning June 22, has made some interesting observations upon the "foolishness" of many modern women.

"The women of today are living through the greatest curse of civilization—commonplaceness," she says. "Women are sick to death of having nothing happen to them—despite all the money they have to spend and the modern conveniences, such as automobiles and airplanes, at their disposal. That's why they are restless.

"The women of the earlier, less settled days of this country, also had their moments of discouragement and unhappiness, and they also undoubtedly experienced hours in which they rebelled against the narrow confines of their lives and wondered what lay over the border.

"The desire for a new and untried life caused the women of yesterday to become pioneers, and in the face of grave danger and hardships to accompany their men into the wilderness. They were sick to death of the life they were living—and welcomed anything new and novel—even a chance to encounter death, if need be.

"Women are still pioneering.

'In offices, behind the bronze wickets of banks, in almost every line of work in which men engage, women are pioneering and finding themselves in truth the equals of men.

"But does this bring them real happiness? Does it stop the continual craving for something different?

"There is a popular opinion that women need only to become mothers to achieve perfect happiness, but the most restless and discontented women I know have children—and they do nothing but complain that they are the slaves of the youngsters.

"Naturally, what I think is of little importance, but I believe women need to learn what real romance is and what love really is. When they stop looking for the spectacular and study the fine qualities of the American husband, they will discover that the rainbow of complete understanding is the highest form of love.

"Happiness is, as had often been said, a state of mind. The same is true of contentment. When writers stop making the woman the martyr and begin featuring the husband and father, there will be a reaction and women will stop mistaking love of admiration for true and lasting affection, which can be founded only on unselfish devotion and perfect understanding.

"Just as it required a world war to bring out the true heroism of humanity, so it will require some sort of social upheaval to bring women to a sense of the true values of life.

"Just now women place too much emphasis on the luxuries of life, but we will get back to a normal basis again. The good sense and balance of American womanhood will assert itself and we will stop looking for excitement and be glad that we have within ourselves all the possibilities of complete contentment.

'This is what Mr. von Stroheim is trying to bring out in 'Foolish Wives'—the futility of looking for happiness through the medium of foolish and silly flattery and silly superficialities."

THOMAS MEIGHAN AT THE CAPITOL—ALSO VAUDEVILLE

Whitney's Doll Revue is the latest European novelty, and is an offering of many unique features. Many picturesque innovations are introduced.

Drama and Comedy Abound in "The Bachelor Daddy."

Richard Chester, owner of a silver mine in the South, is nearing his wedding day, his fiancee being Ethel McVae, daughter of an aristocratic, but poor widow. Sally Lockwood, his private secretary, also loves Dick, but keeps her secret locked away in her heart.

A month before the date set for the wedding, word comes that some desperadoes have threatened to attack the mine if the corporation does not come through with the tribute they demand. Dick goes South, taking Charley Henley, his lawyer, with him, and leaving a petulant, dissatisfied sweetheart to wait for him.

Joe Pelton, Dick's foreman, a widower, lives in a cabin with his five motherless babies. Dick arrives and sees that the situation is serious. He realizes that there must be a fight with the bandits if the future is to be safe for the mine folk. He spends much time with Pelton and his children.

The bandits demand silver, supplies and cattle, which Dick refuses. Then the battle starts. Dick sees that the women and children are safely herded in the storehouses. During the skirmish, a little child escapes out into the firing line. Dick goes out to rescue the baby and is shot down. Pelton drags him back to the office door, only to be shot down himself.

The soldiers arrive, just as the bandits are about to destroy the buildings with their inmates, and the bandits are captured.

Pelton, fatally wounded, begs Dick to take his babies. He complies, and after Pelton's death takes the children back with him. Back in his home again, Dick prepares a surprise for his sweetheart, believing she will love the youngsters as much as he himself has come to adore them. Ethel not only dislikes children, but refuses to marry Dick unless he sends them away.

The next day he tells Sally that Ethel will break their engagement unless he sends the children away. Sally reminds him that his promise to his fiancee was made before he took the children. So Dick arranges with different schools for the care of the children. The only problem is the baby! Sally takes the infants home, and Dick goes to her house to see the baby, to discover that a strange feeling for Sally begins to stir him. On the night before his wedding, Dick begs Sally to let him take the baby home, promising to bring it back the next morning.

When Dick is about to put the baby to bed he discovers that it has a fever. The doctor comes, and asserts that the baby has the mumps! Dick sends for Sally, who cheerfully mothers the infant. Ethel, his fiancee, is hysterical. She and her mother go to Dick's house to see him. They find him and Sally watching the child.

The engagement is broken, and Dick gathers his babies back from the various schools, and decides to settle down with them. He engages Sally and her mother to take care of the children. Dick falls in love with Sally. They are married, and in due time a brand new pair of twins arrive, to make the family happy.

AT THE REGENT.

To-day's program at the Regent is one of exceptional interest. The leading feature is that wonderful five reel spectacular drama with its scenes laid in China, called "The Vermilion Pencil with the celebrated Japanese actor Sessue Hayakawa in leading role. This is, beyond contradiction of the most wonderfully spectacular plays ever screened. The title is used because in China a vermilion pencil was a symbol of death in the punishment of unfaithful wives. In the story of Chinese Governor's wife is falsely accused of infidelity and is condemned to death by torture. The missionaries interceeded in vain for her. A volcanic eruption, which lays waste whole villages interrupts the execution and the condemned woman establishes her innocence. In the earthquake scees Hayakawa risked his life many times to secure a good picture This is a picture entirely out of the usual run. Then there is an exciting three reel Western cowboy pictures good comedy and illustrated news of the world. An exceptional program of great interest.

EILEEN PERCY DUE IN "ELOPE IF YOU MUST"

Eileen Percy, the beautiful Fox star, is to be at the Royal Theatre beginning to-day in the comedy "Elope if you Must". Cast in the role of a clever young actress in hard luck, Miss Percy blends her irresistible, charm and comedy talent to make this new production one of her best.

The story, which was written by E. J. Rath, the noted fictionist, deals with the efforts of a wealthy father to divert the interest of his frivolous daughter from the scion of a socially-elect family—a man whose chief attribute is his social position—to a young lawyer who also is courting her. Just how the little girl of the stage lends her assistance to the solution of the problem facing the anxious father goes to make one of the liveliest and most entertaining screen comedies of the season ,it is said.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 15. —(Canadian Press.)—Renewed covering of short contracts was prompted at opening of to-day's stock market by unexpected reduction of Bank of England discount rate. Studebaker was again the most conspicuous feature, advancing a point New York, Chicago and St. Louis and Peoria and Eastern also strengthned. Mercantile Marine Preferred was the only weak issue, making further decline of 1 1-4 points.

NEW YORK, June 15.—(Canadian Press).—Oils and some of the tractions and utilities including Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Manhattan Elevated Third avenue and Pacific Gas and Electric retained the better part of their early gains. Inactive specialties such as American Writing Paper preferred, American Agricultural, Chemical and General Cigar also stengthened. Selling of shippings continued however, later extending to equipments, motor specialties and miscellaneous shares Mercantile Marine preferred lost almost three points and common 1 3-4 points. Rails held firm on moderate trading.

TORONTO MARKETS

TORONTO, June 15.—(Canadian Press). — Trading was very slight on the local stock exchange this morning and prices moved with in narrow limits with few exceptions. Brazilian lost 3-8 on sales of less than 200 shares, Toronto Rails advanced 1 point to 72 1-2 on sales of one hundred shares while Twin City lost 2 1-2 points at 53 on a few scattered sales Elsewhere there was little of note happened.

Mr. Thos Oldham, 247 Simcoe street, says that it gives him pleasure to recommend Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatism Pills for the relief of Backache and Rheumatic ailments.
He had taken only two boxes when the dull dreary backache disappeared and although he had tried various remedies he derived more benefit from Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatic Pills than any other preparation.
Sold at Lynch's Drug Store, 168 Hunter street and if they fail to relieve you, your money will be refunded. 8d 6 8 13 15 20 22 27 29

STRAWBERRY SOCIAL.
On the 29th of this month, the Ladies' Auxiliary to the G.W.V.A. is planning to hold a strawberry social in the G.W.V.A. grounds on Murray street. Arrangements have not yet been completed, but a committee, with Mrs. C. Perry as convenor, has been appointed for the occasion.
Some time in October, the Peterborough Auxiliary to the G.W.V.A. will act as hosts for a convention of the various Provincial branches of the society, when a three-day meeting will bring numbers of ladies from all over the province to consider matters of interest to the feminine portion of the Great War Veterans' Association.

DRURY DESCRIBES "KEY OF PROGRESS"

People's Desire for a Business Government He Say

VICTORIA, B.C., June 15 (Canadian Press). — "If you want to ask me what the key to progress is, I should say it was the desire of the people for a business Government instead of a political Government. That is what the Government of Ontario is endeavouring to give," said Premier Drury of Ontario here last night. The Farmer Premier said he was trying to forget politics on his trip West.

WARDEN WITH WHEELBARROW

There was no longer any doubt about the winning of the wager.

Nearing the City.
The party had passed the filtration plant shortly before three o'clock, and on arriving at the watering trough just outside the city limits, a halt was made for liquid refreshments, all hands partaking deeply of "Adams' Ale."
At this point Mr. Dawson procured his ponderous volume from the auto, but suffered a slight mishap when he attempted to mount his conveyance with the book in his arms for he over-balanced and was spilled out on to the road. He picked himself up and the party proceeded on their way.

The Warden Wins.
The procession passed the Examiner office at 3.38 and one minute and a half later stopped at Mr. Dawson's office on Hunter street.
On entering city the pushers took to the sidewalk on Water street without any protest from the pushee. This route was followed to Smith street and along Smith to George, where they took to the roadway, taking advantage of the good pavement.
The corner was turned into George street at 3.20, with Mr. Tate officiating at the business end of the wheelbarrow. Here a crowd began to gather and from this point on the party were the leaders of an ever-growing parade of autos, bicycles, pedestrians and young boys.
An attempt on the party of two pretty young girls to take a picture of the wheel-barrow and its occupant at the corner of Smith and Water streets, was almost frustrated by Mr. Dawson, who used some of the hay on which he was sitting to throw in front of the photographers.
At the intersection of George and Hunter streets, a large crowd had gathered to witness the home-coming, and Sergeant Deanard and P. C. Thomas were on hand to prevent a traffic congestion as they rounded the corner.
A Riley blister on the Warden's heel, and a tired, drawn feeling in his arms and legs, sore spots on the balls of Mr. Tate's feet and some feeling of fatigue were all the effects of their trip. Mr. Dawson freighted the big Century dictionary after all.
At the corner of Hunter and George streets quite a crowd welcomed the Warden, who provided them with the most novel sight that's been seen here outside of election times.

EVIDENCE AGAINST SIR MONTAGUE ALLAN

Duplicate of That Taken at Macarow Hearing

MONTREAL, June 15.— (Canadian Press.) —Preliminary hearing of the charge against Sir Montague Allan, former President of the defunct Merchants' Bank, of having signed and concurred in false and decptive return of the bank's financial statement for October last year began this morning, and evidence was for the most part a duplicate of that given during the preliminary hearing in the case against D. FEW DEMANDED RETURN MONEY FROM COMPANY

OTTAWA, Press.)—When eam of Depos- Opium and Na up at Offices under conside inion Savings last night, Bry. more severe fickers. Alfre na), advoca sons convic

EXPLAINED

Dr. Bela Ont., June 16. — said the F Following the same gen- the existi to be a ce as that recently pursued many chartered banks in the case bers Merchants' Bank, when the him of Montreal posted notices and took over all branches of the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation this morning put up its sign in the offices of the Dominion Savings and Investment Society here and went on with "business as usual."

There was a steady stream of depositors this morning, but nothing resembling a run. During the first hour of business practically no money was demanded or paid out. Then a few of the depositors began to appear, and in half an hour about $2,000 had been adjusted. Those who are asking for their money are getting it if they insist, but the Huron and Erie staff, which is in charge of the branch, is issuing pass-books transferring accounts to the Huron and Erie, wherever possible.

The big development of the day is the fact that some of the shareholders appear to be dissatisfied with the arrangement which has been entered into on behalf of the company by T. H. Purdom, K.C., its president. There is a movement to press for liquidation, though the arrangement entered into between the Huron and Erie and the Dominion Savings is designed to avoid that course.

The arrangements now in effect was ratified between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning at an emergency meeting of the Huron and Erie directors called late last night, andit is understood that SOUND FINANCIALLY.

TORONTO, June 16.—(Special). —That the Dominion Savings and Investment Society is as sound financially as it has ever been, and that no change in the nature of its investments has taken place to cause amalgamation with the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation, were statements made this morning by Thomas H. Purdom, K.C., president of the former organization, who is in Toronto to-day.

"What has caused the sudden change in your company's condition?" Mr. Purdom was asked.

"I don't know that I can give a definite cause," he replied. "The whole situation is explained in a letter to the stock-holders, and perhaps you can understand it from that."

Rotarians Inspected the Summer Camp For Boys Erected by Rotary

Nearly one hundred Rotarians, Kiwanians and their friends visited the Rotary camp at Clear Lake yesterday afternoon and inspected the splendid buildings the Rotary club have erected for the good and welfare of the boys of this city. The Rotarians provided every convenience and device for the comfort and entertainment of their guests. At four o'clock the steamer Islinda was waiting at South Beach to take the party two miles across the lake to the camp. Motors were abandoned and the sail was an enjoyable part of the programme. Arriving at the camp sports and baseball games were held and the property and buildings subjected to the closest scrutiny they have received to date.

The camp passed the inspection with flying colours and the ladies were particularly loud in their praises of the permanence and completeness with which the work has been carried out.

The finishing touches are being added and the last nail will be put in to-morrow it is expected. An enjoyable picnic supper was held on the grounds and in the evening before the mosquitoes put in an appearance the return trip was made on the Islinda and the automobiles performed their part in bringing the large party safely back to Peterborough.

POLLING TODAY SOUTH IRELAND

Voters of All Classes Turning Out to Vote—Comment on Constitution.

DUBLIN June 16. Canadian Press. —Polling in Southern Ireland parliamentary elections was held today and streams of voters of all classes and both sexes filed into the booths from the early morning. No interference with voters in any of the constituencies was reported up till noon.

The polling places in Dublin were manned by a force of five hundred officers and clerks.

An election expert declared that under proportional representation method the panel candidates would be doing well if they held their own.

TRUCE BREAKING UP.

LONDON, June 16. — Canadian Press. — The Dublin correspondent of the Daily Mail declares that the political truce agreed upon by Michael Collins and DeValera is breaking up. He cites as a a proof the speech of Collins at Cork in which he said that he was not hampered by being on the platform with any Coalitionists.

A despatch to the Daily Mail says that the evacuation of the British troops from Ireland is being resumed.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

LONDON, June 16. Canadian Press. — The editorial comment today on the draft of the Irish constitution is admittedly superficial, pending a more complete study of the document.

The Times expresses the belief that if the Government's opinion that it conforms with the treaty is justified a serious obstacle in the path of Irish peace will have been surmounted.

The Daily Chronicle thinks the safeguards given the Protestants are "thin safeguards indeed." The Westminster Gazette says that the announcement that the constitution conforms with the treaty is all that the English want to know, and the Daily News declares that no one can quarrel with the terms, and that in many respects Englishmen "may envy Ireland's form of government proposed for her."

Shuns Society

MRS. HENRY FORD.

Though she has risen to millions from comparative poverty, the wife of one of America's richest men never has become a social climber—she shuns society!

She is Mrs. Henry Ford. That is one of the few pictures of Mrs. Ford you will see, for she is rarely photographed.

Mrs. Ford is seldom identified with public or social life. In Dearborn, Mich., where she lives, she is associated with philanthropy and social betterment.

She is said to own a third interest in her husband's business, but she is decidedly a home woman.

In her dress and manner she is very quiet. She seldom wears any jewels except her wedding ring and, once in a while, a string of pearls.

She is fond of motoring and outdoor life, but her greatest interests are Henry Ford, her son Edsel, and Edsel's two babies, Henry and Edsel's two babies, Henry and Edsel II.

NORMALITES HAD SHOWER TODAY

School Term Will Soon Be Over -- Examinations in Order.

Pupils at the Collegiate Institute and St. Peter's School are writing their Lower. Middle and Upper School departmental examinations and Junior and Honor Matriculations this week at the respective schools. The first examinations were on Tuesday and the examinations will not be concluded until the 28th of the month. Inspector A. Mowat is in charge of the classes at the Collegiate Insttute and Principal H. R. H. Kenner assisted by others of the Collegiate staff are presiding at St. Peter's. Excepting for those who are writing "exams", school is over for the high school students. Inspector A. Mowat announced to-day that the Public Schools would close on June 30th. The High School entrance examinations will be held to-morrow, 29th and 30th.

The Normal School year was finished yesterday. To-day the staff and students held their annual picnic and it rained in the afternoon. For once the Normalites thought they were going to "put it over" the weather man but the storm clouds came up after dinner and showers descended upon the teachers-to-be. To-morrow the exodus of students will commence and Peterboro will bid farewell to another class of budding schoolmasters and schoolmarms.

GAOL SINGERS CHEERFUL OVER PENDING TRIAL

DEFENCE CONCLUDES

SARNIA, June 16. — (Canadian Press.)—Through the open windows of the court room, where Edward McMullen, alleged bandit leader, stands on trial, the strains of 'The Old Folks at Home" were drafted, as J. M. McEvoy, defence counsel, opened his charge to the jury at noon to-day. The singers confined in the jail adjoining the court house were George Anderson, William Ayres and John Yohn, alleged to have participated with McMullen in the robbery of the Wyoming branch of the Bank of Toronto.

The defence closed its case this morning.

William Mellick, G.T.R. conductor, the only witness called by the Crown in refutal, swore that in 1918 and 1929, McMullen had been on the payroll of the railway as "J. A. McMullen." Witness knew the accused by that name. He was positve the two were the same. McMullen wore a moustache during this period. He shaved it off once, but allowed it to grow again.

"You can practically hang a man on supposition,' Mr. McEvoy warned the jury in opening his address. He recalled to them the fact that certain supposed bank robberies had proved to be "inside" jobs.

"No doubt there was a show at Wyoming that day," Mr. McEvoy admitted. "Some people went in and there was a fuss made, but there were some strange things done."

Defence counsel laid stress on the conflict in testimony as to whether the bandit identified as McMullen had worn a mask and as to whether Lambert, the bank manager, had seen the bandit's face.

"Lambert told Spence, the reporter, he didn't see it," he stressed, "but they had to get McMullen.

"We're not here to defend brigands," Mr. McEvoy proceeded, "we want bank robbers to be punished."

FIRE BOATS USED TO FIGHT FLAMES

Summer Colony in New York Homeless as Result of Fire.

NEW YORK, June 16. — Canadian Press.) — A fire swept the seashore bungalow colony at Averne between Rockaway and Far Rockaway last night and between six hundred and seven hundred summer residences and hotels valued at about four million dollars were burned to the ground, rendering about twenty thousand people homeless.

The fire which started at 5 o'clock, fanned by a high wind, devastated before it within an area of a half square mile.

Every fire company in Queen's was called to the scene and seven more engine companies from Manhattan. Four fire boats opened their valves and added the reservoir of the Atlantic to the resources of the fire fighters.

Thirty firemen and a patrol man suffered burns or were "knocked out" by the smoke and required medical attendance before the flames were finally controlled.

Firemen from the surrounding boroughs to-oday were still playing streams of water upon the smouldering ruins.

Thousands of homeless families spent the night on the beaches of Rackaway and the morning sun rose on scenes rivalling the exodus of the Belgians before the advancing German troops in 1914.

FATHER DEFEATED SON.

Toronto and District Golf Championship Decided.

TORONTO, June 16.—(Canadian Press.)—George S. Lyon retained his Toronto and district golf title when he defeated his son, Seymour Lyon, yesterday, in the play-off of their tie at Lambton golf course. He led all the way after the twelfth and finished with a score of 77.

Fishing Record For the Ladies

Mrs. G. W. Powell, of 588 George street, opened the fishing record for ladies this year with a fortunate catch. Mr. and Mrs. Powell are occupying their cottage opposite the Golf Links, and the latter, fishing in the canal this morning, landed three lunge, their weights ranging from five to ten pounds apiece.

MR. BYRON LEDERER VISITED KINGSTON

Kingston Standard: There is a possibility that Kingston may be able to secure an important new industry in the near future, provided certain financial and other arrangements can be made satisfactorily. The industry in question is Birmingham Motors Ltd., a Canadian Company operating under a charter granted by the Dominion of Canada. They are the designers and builders of the Birmingham Flexible Axle Car, which the builders say is the easiest riding car in the world. The parent company is at Jamestown, N.Y., and the Canadian Company is temporarily located in Peterborough, where they opened up a branch in February, last, but it is not their intention to remain there according to Mr. Byron Lederer, who controls the Canadian Company and who has been in the city several times in the past week.

During his visits to the city Mr. Lederer has been in conference with Chairman Peters of the Industries Committee, and Dr. W. W. Sands, Industrial Commissioner, and with other gentlemen. As a result of these conferences Chairman Peters and Dr. Sands paid a visit to the Peterborough plant in company with Mr. Lederer, and made a thorough examination and inspection of it. They are very agreeably surprised and impressed with what they saw there, inasmuch as they found six cars practically finished, and they found also that Mr. Lederer had a complete organization perfected, with engineers, sales managers, etc. One of the stock cars has been driven 36,000 miles in all kinds of weather and over all kinds of roads and is apparently in as fine condition as ever.

Visited City.

Mr. Lederer on his visits to the city was taken to the building formerly occupied by the Frontenac Moulding Company and he was very much impressed with the building and thought that it would make the nucleus of a large motor plant. If his company were to come here — and it is likely to come provided some certain financial arrangements can be made—they will buy the building and begin operations at once, his hope and belief being that they would be employing 300 men within six months and at last double that number within a year. Like other automobile companies practically all the parts except their flexible axles, which is their peculiar design, are standard parts, so that as with other Canadian motor plants, it will be largely an assembling plant, and the output would be practically limited only by the demand for the cars. Mr. Lederer believes that this demand would run up to some thousands a year. He says that the American factory is already sold for a year ahead.

The authorized capital of the company is $3,000,000 divided into 300,000 shares of $10 each.

MAY STRIKE JULY 1.

Union Chiefs May Suggest Seriousness of Situation to Railway Board.

CINCINNATI, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)—Railroad Union chiefs are to-day considering serving a formal notice on the Railroad Labor Board that on overwhelming majority of 1,225,000 shop craft and maintenance of way employees were voting in favor of a strike on July 1, and that the officers of the Union would abide by the decision of the workers.

PETERBOROUGH BAKER IS HONOURED

J. R. Beckett Elected Third Vice-President of Association.

At a convention of the Ontario Bread and Cake Bakers, held in Toronto this week, J. R. Beckett, of this city, was elected as one of the three vice-presidents of the association.

COUNCIL HELD FINAL MEETING OF THE SEASON

RACE TRACK GAMBLING

The last meeting for this season of the Local Council of Women was held yesterday afternoon in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A., the president, Mrs. A. Mowat, in the chair. A brief address on "Taxation" by Mrs. W. R. Morris, and consideration of the agenda of the annual meeting of the National Council of Women, which takes place in Fort Arthur and Fort William next week, occupied the attention of the members at this meeting, which will be the last held until September next.

After much discussion of the rival claims of the two ladies who will compete this year for the honor of being president of the National Council, Dr. Stowe-Gullen ,of Toronto and Miss Carmichael of Nova Scotia, the local society decided to cast its vote in favor of the latter.

Race Track Gambling.

A resolution in the printed agenda which views with alarm "the great evil of race track gambling, as at present legalized in Canada," and petitions the Federal Government to so amend the Criminal Code as to make "the betting house on the race tracks of Canada illegal," was the subject of much discussion also. Reference was made by different members to phases of the subject. Eight millions of money have been wagered in the last three weeks on the race tracks of Toronto, "much of this by those who can ill afford to lose it," The Horse Breeders' Association of Canada, protesting against any legislation that will tend to make horse-racing less attractive, on the ground that it will interfere with the breeding of high class horses, was regarded as illogical, as the majority of people betting on races have no special regard for any particular horse, and are interested only in the financial side of the sport.

In the opinion of the ladies expressing their views, the real evil under the present system of race-track gambling lay in the publicity given to information regarding "the sport of kings," in the way of "Racing Form" literature, newspaper lists of betting odds on winners in previous races, book-makers' tabulated information, etc., which were regarded as acting like a stimulant on the "betting tendency in the blood," It was finally decided to endorse the foregoing resoution, but, in the event of it failing to carry, as being of too sweeping and drastic a nature at present, to ask the convention to petition the Government to consider methods of lessening such publicity.

Calgary's Experience.

A resolution that the N.C.W. create a fund to assist local Councils to send a delegate to each annual meeting was received with favor. A rather amusing touch was afforded by the action of the Calgary Council, who entertained the delegates at the last annual meeting, bringing forth a resolution this year that billeting cease and that all expenses be met by the federated associations.

A request recommended by the executive at the Niagara Falls meeting, that each local council contribute the sum of two dollars towards the necessary expenses of the Provincial Committee was acted upon, and it was also decided to contribute towards a jewelled I.C.W. badge for the retiring president of the National Council, Mrs. Sandford, of Hamilton, and to send five dollars to the committee in charge of the Memorial Fund for Mr. Boomer of London, an ardent worker for many years in the National Council. A letter of sympathy, with floral offering, will also be forwarded to the treasurer of the local Council, Mrs. N. D. Seton, who is at present ill in Nicholls Hospital.

Mrs. Mowat announced that an unsigned letter, regarding "late hours on Saturday nights," had been sent in to the Council, which, after consideration, it was decided to leave unread, the majority of the members agreeing that a precedent for senders of unsigned communications migth be established by considering same.

However, the writer of this missive is promised careful consideration if he or she wishes to forward a signed letter to the Council.

MARIE REITH

The only woman electrical engineer ever employed by the commercial engineering department of the Edison company is Marie Reith.

She is a graduate of the mechanical engineering department of Cornell University and one of the few women engineers of the country.

Her duties include the comparing of costs of generating electricity in buildings with the cost of buying power from the company.

CAR UPSET ON CHEMONG ROAD

Three Millbrook boys and four Peterborough girls in a five passenger car which overturned on the Chemong road last night at 10.30, had a miraculous escape from serious, if not fatal injury. Only one girl was in any way hurt, and Dr. E. A. Hammond, who examined her right arm, which was causing her considerable pain, pronounced that no bones were broken.

The young people were returning at a leisurely speed from the dance at Chemong, and in turning out to allow another car to pass, struck a mail box. The car swerved and overturned in the ditch, precipitating all the occupants into the ditch. The girl who was injured fell in such a manner that the hood of the car rested on her arm. Her companions released her and Constable T. Y. Stratton, who happened to be watching for speeders at this point, brought the young lady and some of her companions into the city, where medical attention was received.

The car escaped serious damage, as miraculously as the occupants. The wind shield was smashed and the left lamp broken. The car was righted by other drivers, of which there were plenty on the road last night and came into town on its own power. After inspection at the garage it proceeded to Millbrook. The accident took place about three and a quarter miles from town. The car number was 204-346. The young man who was driving took the responsibility for the accident, Constable Stratton said. The automobile was owned by Charles Lloyd, of Millbrook.

COUNSEL KILLED.

So Says Rumor in Belgian Chamber of Deputies.

BRUSSELS, June 16.—(Canadian Press).—Rumors were current in the Belgian Chamber of Deputies this afternoon that Emile Vandervelde, former Minister of Justice, who went to Russia as counsel for several revolutionists on trial there, had been assassinated.

MONTREAL MAN COLLAPSED IN THE JURY BOX

MENTAL CONDITION

MONTREAL, Que., June 16. — (Special.) — The continued trial of Adelard Delorme for the murder of his half-brother, was suddenly halted this morning after about an hour, when one of the jurymen faiuted in the box. There was considerable commotion among the crowd in the room as the man collapsed and fell from his seat. Judge Monet quickly saw that an adjournment would be necessary so had the court room cleared announcing that the case would be resumed at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon.

The fainting was undoubtedly due to the fetid atmosphere in the crowed room which has little or no ventilation.

More evidence to show that the accused is insane was produced this morning. From present indications it will be late on Saturday afternoon before the trial ends. The defence counsel is producing every scrap of evidence he can tending to show the mental condition of the priest.

So far none of the battery of alienists specially ordered to examine the accused, has been called so that unless the crown is satisfied with the evidence already produced there will be no chance of ending the case to-day.

Judge Monet and Prosecutor Walsh pressed questions on Dr. Derome, the Provincial Autopist to learn if the accused was mentally sound. The judge sought particularly to ascertain whether it was not possible for a person to simulate insanity so that even experts might be deceived.

Could not a super-brain be asked defeat any attempt of science to prove sanity or otherwise.

Dr. Derome held firmly to the opinion that it could have been impossible for a man to have maintained such general simulation of insanity for such a length period as he had observed Delorme.

Best Foot Forward

"The best foot forward" is the slogan of the young lady who wears any of the three types of white shoes illustrated. The popular black and white combination is noticeable in all three, with the Egyptian influence in the stiff lines below, the simulated buckle of the second style, and the jet-like appearance of the first. Two of the styles illustrated have the Louis type of heel.

WOULD DEPORT ALIENS SELLING NARCOTIC DRUGS

Penalties For Illicit Traffic in Drugs Are Greatly Increased. Whipping Advocated.

CHINESE CONVICTED.

OTTAWA, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)—When a Bill to amend the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act was under consideration in the House last night, British Columbia urged more severe penalties for drug traffickers. Alfred Stork (Liberal, Skeena), advocated deportation of persons convicted.

Dr. Beland, Minister of Health, said the bill proposed to increase the existing penalty. There appeared to be a general desire on the part of many public bodies, and many members of the House had approached him, asking that the penalties be made more severe. It was proposed that imprisonment of traffickers be made compulsory upon the magistrate. At present a convicted person can be given a fine, or imprisonment, or both. It was also proposed to increase the maximum imprisonment to seven years in the case of anyone convicted of selling to minors.

L. J. Ladner (Conservative, Vancouver S.) commended the proposal. He urged, however, that in addition to foreigners who were convicted being deported all offenders under the Act should be liable to whipping. The lash should be applied to men who, by supplying habit-forming drugs, brought about the ruination of boys and girls. He moved to insert the following words: "And shall

PROSPECTORS BATTLE WITH GRIZZLY BEAR.

PRINCE RUPERT, June 16.—(Canadian Press) —Two prospectors, Edward Forsam and J. Kennedy, after an exciting battle, shot a grizzly bear in the White Creek district near Ferrace, B.C., which measured 15 feet standing erect. The animal weighed 1,800 pound, the skin alone weighing 100 pounds and measuring 12 feet long and nine feet wide Its footpprint was 18 inches long and nine inches wide. The bear fought the prospectors and it took five bullets to kill him. When he fell he was but two feet away from Kennedy who had become entangled in the brush.

PLAN IS ADVANCED FOR IMMIGRANTS

First-Class Settlers From Great Britain Will Be Sent to the Western Provinces.

EDMONTON, June 16.—(Canadian Press.)—As many first class, specially selected British immigrants every year as the province can absorb if the Alberta Government will take up a scheme of state aid in a financial way, was the proposition laid before Premier Greenfield and his cabinet yesterday by Commissioner D. C. Lamb, International Social Secretary of the Salvation Army and Brigadier Thomas Tudge, of Montreal.

The immigrants will be from Great Britain and will be brought over under the auspices of the Salvation Army which will also maintain a follow-up interest in all the people thus settled here, weeding out any who prove to be misfits. The Government on its part will be asked to advance a portion of the passage money for each immigrant, these advances to be in the nature of loans, repayable over a term of years. No decision has been reached.

STRIKERS ENDORSE NATION-WIDE WALK OUT OF THE MINERS

One Million Railroad Men May Go Out in Sympathy For Coal Miners.

ONE BIG UNION.

CINCINNATI, June 16.—(Canadian Press)—By the vote of every delegate, the American Federation of Labor convention yesterday endorsed the nation-wide coal strike that since April 1 has kept a half million miners from work, and also indicated, by a demonstration, its approval of the threatened walkout of more than 1,000,000 railroad workers. The demonstration was loud cheers from all parts of the big convention hall when B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees' Department of the Federation, told the convention that the rail union chiefs would not interfere to stop a strike.

"It is believed," declared Mr. Jewell "that the membership is prepared to meet test, and if they so decide, their decisions will be complied with."

The 'One Big Union" plan, advocated by William L. Foster, was rejected by the convention without debate, and later announcement was made that Mr Foster would arrive here next week to hold a mass meeting a week from last night.

TENNIS AT LAKEFIELD.

LAKEFIELD, June 16. — The devotees of tennis are making use of the courts at Hotel Lakefield to get into trim for the season. Tennis is becoming more popular each season in the village, and the courts at the hotel, being in a central location, were very much used last season for friendly games and for tournaments with visiting players.

GOVERNMENT OF CANADA IS USED AS A MODEL FOR THAT OF THE IRISH STATE TO BE ONE OF COMMUNITY OF NATIONS

Parliament Will Consist of the King, a Chamber of Deputies and a Senate. All Laws Must Have Royal Assent. Executive Council of Twelve Ministers to Aid and Advise. Absolute Religious Freedom Is Declared. Female Suffrage Is Granted.

LONDON, June 16. Canadian Press. — The draft of the new Irish constitution made public last night on the eve of the Irish elections, gives as the document itself states, force of law to the Anglo-Irish treaty, and expressly declares that any provision of the constitution or any amendment thereto or any law enacted under the constitution which is in any respect repugnant to the treaty shall be void and inoperative.

The constitution thus embodies connection with the British Crown, as already established in the treaty, and generally places the relations between Ireland and the Empire on the same basis as Canada and the other dominions.

The constitution requires every member of the Free State Parliament to subscribe faith and allegiance to the constitution and swear to be faithful to the King in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland and Great Britain and Ireland's membership in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The document contains 79 articles and is considered an up to date instrument, not only granting female suffrage,proportional representation and a referendum to the people but also empowering the people themselves to initiate legislation. It gives to the Chamber great powers with respect to money bills without control from the Senate, thus duplicating the position as between the British House of Commons and the House of Lords.

It exempts the Free State from active participation in war without the consent of parliament except in the case of actual invasion, and gives the Irish Supreme Court the fullest powers, only stipulating for the right of citizens to appeal to the King in Council against the Supreme Court's decision.

It provides for freedom of religion and conscience, gives Free State citizens full protection against the arbitrary power of court martial, and extends to Parliament exclusive control over the armed forces, as stipulated in the treaty.

Article 1. — The Irish Free State (Saorstat Eireann) is a co-equal member of th ecommunity of nations forming the British Commonwealth of nations.

Article 2.— All the powers of the Government and all authority, legislative, executive and judicial are derived from the people and the same shall be exercised in the Irish Free State through organizations established by or under, and in accord with this constitution.

Article 3. — Citizens of the State shall be all persons domiciled in Ireland at the time the constitution comes into operation who were born in Ireland or either of whose parents was born in Ireland, or who have been domiciled in the Free State for seven years. Resident citizens of other states may elect not to accept such citizenship.

Article 4. — The national language will be the Irish language, but English will be equally recognized as the official language. Parliament may make special provision for areas in which only one language is in use.

Article 5. — No title or honor shall be conferred except on the advice of the Executive Council of the State.

Article 6. — Protects liberty of person by a process similar to habeas' corpus writ.

Article 7. — Declares dwellings inviolable; these cannot be forcibly entered except in accordance with the law.

Article 8. — Declares freedom of conscience and free practice of religion's inviolable rights. It sets forth that "No law may either directly or indirectly endow any religion or prohibit or restrict the free exercise thereof, or give any preference or impose any disability on account of religious belief or religious status, or affect prejudicially the right of any child to attend a school receiving public money without attending the religious instruction at the school, or make any discrimination as respects State aid between schools under the management of different religious denominations or any religious denominatoin or any educational institution any of its property except for the purposes of roads, railways, lighting, water or drainage works, or other works of public utility, and on the payment of compensation."

Article 9. — Guarantees free expression of opinion and assembly without arms and the formation of associations not opposed to public morality.

Article 10. — Provides that all citizens shall have the right to free elementary education.

Article 12. — The Legislature hereby created, known as the Parliament of the Free States, is to consist of a King, a Chamber of Deputies and a Senate.

Article 14. — Confers the right of suffrage on all citizens of the age of 21 of both sexes. All those of the age of 30 may vote for the Senate, those of the age of 21 for the Deputies.

Article 24. — Provides that the Parliament shall hold at least one session each year.

Article 25. — Provides that the sitting shall be public but in cases of special emergency either House may sit privately with the consent of two thirds of the members present.

Article 26—The number of members of the Chamber shall be fixed from time to time by the Parliament but shall consist of not less than one member for each 30,000 or 20,000 to be elected on the principless of proportional representation.

Article 29.— The Senate shall be composed of citizens who have done honor to the nation by reason of useful public service, or who because of special qualifications or attainments represent important aspects of the nation's life.

Article 30. — Every university shall be entitled to two senators. The number of the senators exclusive of the universities, shall be 56. Senators must be 35 years of age, the term of office is 12 years, subject to the provisions for the constitution of the first Senate.

Article 31. — Provides for the election of Senators every three years from a panel in which the Free State forms one electoral area, and on the principles of proportional representation.

Article 32. — The Parliament is to arrange the method for the proposal and selection of senators, with special reference to the representation of important interests and institutions.

Articles 34 and 35 cover money bills. It is provided that the Chamber shall have legislative authority relative to money bills, exclusive of the Senate but money cannot be appropriated unless the purpose of the appropriation is recommended by a message from the representative of the Crown.

Article 38. — Declares that bills may be initiated by either House.

Article 40. — Covers the withholding of Royal assent. The representative of the Crown in withholding assent to a bill must act in accordance with the usage in the case of the Dominion of Canada. Bills shall be without force unless Royal assent is given them within a year.

Article 43. — The Parliament may create subordinate legislatures, but without powers over the army, navy, finance and such national subjects.

Article 46. — A bill passed by both Houses may be suspended for ninety days on the written demand of two-fifths of the Chamber or a majority of the Senate, within seven days of its passage; such bill shall be submitted to a referendum of the people if demanded within 90 days, or if demanded by a resolution of three fifths of the Senate, or by the petition of one-twentieth of the voters on the register. Money bills are excepted and bills declared by both Houses to be necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety.

Article 47. — The Parliament may provide for the initiation by the people of proposals for laws or constitutional amendments; such legislation must provide that the proposals be initiated on petition of 50,000 voters. If the Parliament rejects such a proposal it must be submitted to an ordinary referendum for decision.

Article 49.—Amendments to the constitution must be submitted to a referendum; a majority of the voters on the register must vote, and the amendment will fail to pass unless a majority on the register, or two-thirds of the votes are recorded in its favor.

Article 50. — The executive authority of the Free State is vested in the King, exercisable as in the Dominion of Canada by a representative of the Crown. There will be a council to aid and advise in the government, styled the executive council, responsible to the Chamber; it shall consist of not more than twelve ministers appointed by the representative of the Crown, four to be members of the Chamber an eight to be chosen from citizens eligible to the Chamber but not members of parliament. If they are members when appointed they shall vacate their seats.

Article 51.—The ministers who are members of the Chamber must include the President and Vice-President of the Executive Council. The president shall be appointed on the nomination of the Chamber; the other three on the nomination of the President of the Executive Council. The president and ministers nominated by him, shall retire, if not supported by the majority in the Chamber.

Article 52.— The ministers not members of the Chamber shall be nominated by a committee of the members of the Chamber; such ministers should be representative of the Sttae as a whole, rather than of groups or parties.

Article 53.—Each minister not a member of the parliament shall be the responsible head of the Executive Department to which he is appointed.

Article 54. — Ministers who are members of parliament shall alone be responsible for all external affairs, whether of policy, negotiations or executive acts. The executive council shall meet as a collective authority, but each minister shall be responsible to the chamber for his department.

Article 59. — Provides that the Council shall prepare an annual government budget.

Article 63.—The courts shall compose courts of first instance and of final appeal, termed the Supreme Court, and also Courts of Local Limited Jurisdiction.

Article 66.— Gives the Irish Supreme Court appellate jurisdiction on all decisions of the high courts. Its decisions shall in all cases be final and conclusive, and shall not be reviewed or be capable of being reviewed by any other court, tribunal, or any other whatsoever, provided that "nothing in this constitution shall impair the right of any person to petition His Majesty for special leave to appeal from the Supreme Court to His Majesty in Council, or the right of His Majesty to grant such leave."

Article 67.—Provides that all judges, including those of the Supreme Court, shall be appointed by the representative of the Crown on the advice of the Executive Council.

Article 69.— The jurisdiction of courts martial shall not be extended to or exercised over the civil population save in time of war and for acts committed in time of war. Such jurisidction caunot be exercised in any any area in whfich civil coutrs are open or capable of being held, and no person shall be removed from one area to another for the purpose of creating such jurisdiction.

Article 72.—Laws not inconsistent with the constitution in force in the Free State when the constitution becomes active shall continue until repealed or amended by Parliament.

Article 77.—After the constitution comes into operation the House of Parliament elected in pursuance of the Free State Agreement Act may, for one year, exercise all the powers conferred by the constitution on th Chamber. The first election for the Chamber shall be as soon as possible after the expiration of such period.

HOUSE HEARS OF LIQUOR EXPORTS ACROSS BORDER

Bill to Amend Temperance Act Would Close Exporting Houses in Saskatchewan.

NO OPPOSITION.

OTTAWA, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)—Export of liquor to the United States was under discussion when a bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act was considered in the Canadian House of Commons yesterday. The chief discussion centred around a provision to close up the exporting houses which are operating in Saskatchewan, and ohn Miller, a member from that Province, stated that the chief business of these houses was export by night across the United States border and boot-legging in Canado. The bill also gives full control of import of liquor to the Governments in British Columbia and Quebec, where Government control of the traffic is in operation. The measure is meeting with little opposition.

FAMILY OF PRIEST DECLARED INSANE

Mother and Two Aunts of Adelard Delorme Had Been Committed to An Asylum.

MONTREAL, June 16.—(Canadian Press).—At the trial of Adelard Delorme charged with the murder of his half-brother Raoul Delorme, the defence sought yesterday to show that lunacy was strongly marked in the ex-priest's family history. According to testimony offered, his mother was discharged from an asylum three days before her death. One of her sisters, an aunt of the accused, was also committed to an asylum, as was also a third sister. Records from St. Jean De Dieu Asylum for forty years back were submitted to the jury to show the extent and prevalence of insanity in the Delorme family, both on the father's and mother's side.

Rose Delorme, full sister, and Florence and Lillie Delorme, half sisters of the accused, were heard in evidence this afternoon.

Counsel for the defence asked Lillie and Florence numerous questions simple arithmetical problems —which they were unable to answer correctly.

Doctors were also called to show Delorme was a megalomaniac—or as the medical men explained, crazy about himself.

RESEARCH WORK FOR MATERIAL IN ROADS IS NEEDED

FOR LOCAL SERVICE.

VICTORIA, B.C., June 16.—(Canadian Press.)—The necessity of conducting research work in road building materials and other factors entering into highway construction was urged upon federal and provincial governments in a resolution passed yesterday by the convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association.

A number of resolutions were passed as follows:

Approval of the principle of provincial autonomy in road building; that selection of routs or roads to be improved be made with the objects of local service, eventual co-ordination and all roads within the province so that the completed system will form a comprehensive whole and that inter-provincial roads may be made a part of such plan; that roads be built economically and of such standard as may best suit traffic which they must bear and that roads when improved shall be maintained.

The principle of federal aid was reaffirmed "because improved roads are a great national asset and of great importance to Canada." This resolution embodies a clause which reads: "Any province at the expiration of the time limit set forth by the present act respecting federal aid, which may not have been able to take full advantage of allotment for that particular province, owing to labor and financial conditions, shall be entitled to an extension of time, such extension not interfering with any federal assistance."

It was decided to leave the selection of the next convention city to the board of directors. A number of cities have examined invitations.

SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED.

Some time ago The Examiner called attention to the fact that the presence of mind and bravery of Mr. John Murphy, Smith Street, who saved a young boy from the Otonabee River, at the risk of his own life, called for fitting recognition, but so far nothing has been done to see that Mr. Murphy's heroism receives the official attention it merits. The Royal Humane Society's medal has been awarded in cases where the recipient did not face nearly so nasty a situation as did Mr. Murphy in plunging into the river when the spring freshet was at its height and effecting a rescue under trying circumstances. Several years ago his son was the central figure in the saving of two young girls who got into difficulties while swimming at Inverlea Park. That brave act was allowed to go unnoticed, and now that the family is again represented in a brave rescue it would be a shame if this second act of heroism were also permitted to pass without official recognition. The attention of the proper authorities should be directed to this case, and an effort should be made to see that Mr. Murphy's act is marked by the presentation of a life-saving medal. In fact it would be a graceful tribute to a heroic family if at the same time the son's action in risking his life to save two persons from drowning could also be rewarded in a similar manner.

THE DOG BY-LAW.

Judging by the number of dogs seen in various parts of the city and the reports of damage done to lawns and gardens by mischievous canines, the dog by-law is a dead letter in Peterborough. There is no official dog catcher at work, and the police are apparently not anxious to undertake the duty of seeing that the by-law forbidding dogs from being allowed to run at large is enforced. The measure is a good one, and it is a pity that it is not being carried out. The majority of the citizens are in favor of the by-law, and many owners of dogs are doing their best to see that so far as their pets are concerned, the law will be observed. Unfortunatel, other owners are not so conscientious, and their dogs are generally a nuisance to the community. Several cases in which gardens were badly damaged by dogs have been reported, and these cases will be multiplied if the impression is created that the by-law can be violated with impunity. A few prosecutions under this measure would have a wholesome effect upon the situation. If it is impossible for the police to deal with all infractions of the dog by-law, there seems no reason why some of the offenders could not be haled into court in order to show those who own dogs that the measure is still on the statute books of the city and that those who take a chance in ignoring the regulations run the risk of a police court summons.

THE BARROW WAGER.

If Warden J. C. Strickland and Mr. E. R. Tate, of Lakefield, proved nothing else in their feat of yesterday, they at least showed that the vigor and endurance of the Canadian of the pioneer days have not entirely died out. It was a "freak" wager, no doubt, but it was gallantly and effectively carried out, and it establishes a record in novel transportation. To wheel a man in a barrow over ten miles of not too good road in a little over three hours is an achievement not to be underestimated. Few people who heard of the attempt imagined that it would be successfully completed, and fewer still thought that it would be possible to finish the journey in such good time. Messrs. Strickland and Tate, however, are evidently of the calibre of men from whom the leaders of forlorn hopes come. In their bright lexicon there was no such word as "quit," and having put their hand to the handle of the barrow they did not turn back. "Foolishness" was the description applied to the exploit by more than one critic yesterday, but at least it provided the people of Lakefield and Peterborough with a novel sensation, gave Mr. A. E. Dawson a unique ride, and showed a characteristic Canadian ability to triumph over obstacles and to deal with unusual conditions. And if the journey convinces the Warden that the Lakefield-Peterborough road requires official attention, the travelling public will also gain by yesterday's exploit.

OPEN-AIR LECTURES.

Generally speaking, Canadians are not so keenly devoted to the form of entertainment known as the popular lecture as are their cousins to the south and their kinsmen in the Old Country, says the Montreal Star. For some reason or another, it does not seem to appeal to their imagination. Possibly the haphazard manner in which most lecture tours are arranged in Canada has something to do with the public lukewarmness towards them. Yet a lecture course on popular lines can be made as attractive as any other method of combining amusement and education. For instance, during the summer months, open-air lectures on subjects that lie close to the heart of the average man and woman could be delivered in the public parks, and would in all probability draw large audiences by reason of the novelty of the idea here and the fact that the lecture could be enjoyed under the most pleasantly free and easy conditions.

Whether the universities could undertake this as a sort of extension course, whether the city might be persuaded to start it, or whether it were done under the aegis of private enterprise, really matters very little, so long as the lecturer and his or her subject were attuned to the public imagination. The summer is a good time, for a very large number of people cannot get out of the city or the town, and open-air lectures would not only draw them from their dwellings into the open spaces but stimulate their imagination and provide them with healthy food for thought. Subjects with a wide appeal, such as Bird Life, How Furs are Procured, Life in the Arctic Circle, and so on, handled in a popular way, without overstressing either the material or the imaginative aspect, might easily prove even more popular than open-air singing. The idea is surely worth while taking into consideration. Anything that stimulates the public imagination along healthy lines is to be desired.

ENGLAND'S NEW WORD.

The word of the moment in England is — Pact. Suddenly it is in the headlines and the speeches and the conversations—Pact.

It is Lloyd George's word. He invented it when he was in retirement in Wales, just before the Genoa Conference.

His first words, when he arrived in London, from Genoa, were — "We have secured a pact of peace amongst thirty of the nations of the world."

Genoa, says Lord George, means that the nations will henceforth talk more and fight less. They will settle down and co-operate.

In other words, Lloyd George has thrown President Wilson's League of Nations upon the scrapheap, and he has organized a new one.

He has created a pact of nations, which will meet again at The Hague, and of which he, not Woodrow Wilson, will be known in history as the founder.

As for the poor League of Nations, it will be allowed to die quietly of lack of nourishment. There will be no public funeral and very few mourners.

"League" is an old word and a stale one. "Pact" is a new word. No one can oppose it. Most people, especially women, would vote for it.

So, the next step in the manufacturing of English history, will probably be a general election on the issue —pact versus war. At least, so say the wise lookers-on in London.

A second pact, also political, has just been announced from Dublin. Mr. Collins and De Valera have agreed upon a pact of peace, between the Free State and the Republic.

According to this pact, the next government of southern Ireland is to be 55 per cent. Free State and 45 per cent. Republic.

The English people will make no objection to this, although it is a flat repudiation of the agreement. The Englishman has made up his mind that henceforth Ireland must be independent in everything but name; and now that all the outrages in Ireland are being committed by the Irish themselves, there is no desire on the part of the English to interfere. The average Briton says—"All that they want is a fight, so let them get on with it. In the end, they'll be glad to come back and behave themselves."

There is still no peace of any kind in Ulster. It is a war of feudists, carried on at night; and the general opinion in England is that this savage feud will become worse and worse, and finally involve the whole of Ireland. No one knows any remedy for it and no one has any hopes of a peaceful settlement.

Two other pacts, not political, were announced during the week—one in the cotton trade and the other in the iron and steel industries.

In the cotton cities of Lancashire, 120,000 spinners were locked out by the Employers' Federation. They surrendered. No union in Britain dare risk an open fight at present. The spinners accepted the terms of the mill-owners and a general shut-down has been prevented.

As for the iron and steel workers, a pact of peace has been arranged between the employers and 47 trade unions. Only one union—the "Amalgamated Engineering Union," has been left out.

There has been a lock-out in the iron and steel trades for the last three weeks; but so many workers have broken away from the Unions that the labor leaders have been compelled to surrender.

The cause of the lock-out was not a matter of wages but rather the right of the employers to manage their works without the dictation of labor leaders. This matter has now been settled in favor of the employers and agitators will no longer have power to insist upon ten workers being engaged to do a four-man job.

The British labor leaders, after eight years of pugnacity, are at last in a mood for pacts. They have lost all their funds and half of their members. They want peace.

Dozens of trades are being hurt by German competition; and this is tending to bring employer and worker closer together.

In a large bicycle works in Nottingham, recently, the workers were asking too much pay and doing too little work. The owner of the works — Sir Harold Bowden, called them together and showed them a German bicycle. He told them the price of it—less than the labor-cost in Nottingham. His men saw the point and at once agreed to accept lower wages and to increase the output.

England is in the humor for pacts, there is no doubt about that. The railroads are consolidating into non-competing groups. The banks are hand in hand; and the insurance companies are amalgamating.

England believes in co-operation, not in independence. She can do nothing else, as her Empire is based on co-operation. Other countries may wall themselves in, but England never can.—Herbert Casson in Barron's.

COUNCIL HELD FINAL MEETING

Literature and Movie Films Committee, the convenor remarked that the posters at present displayed for the "Foolish Wives" pictures were "not any worse than usual," another lady giving as her opinion that they "looked like the title."

Review of Taxation.

A very concise and interesting resumption of her address on "Taxation," was given by Mrs. W. R. Morris, who devoted her attention during this meeting to a consideration of the income tax, which is at present levied only by federal and municipal authorities, but which business men regard as a possibility to supersede other provincial taxes in the future. Incorporated companies pay ten per cent income tax on all profits over $2,000 per annum, with an additional super tax on all profits over $5,000. "So that our incorporated companies, those that are making any profits at all, are paying a large amount of taxes," said Mrs. Morris, remarking that many manufacturing concerns at present were simply going along on their reserve funds, and that, when the turning point in business was reached, the buying public might expect to pay much higher prices than those prevailing just now.

The tax was explained, as it applies to individuals, those paying it being every single person with $1,000 per annum, or married person with $2,000 per annum, who ordinarily resides in Canada, lives here for 183 days in the year, is employed or carries on business here, or who is paid for services rendered in Canada. Exemptions include interest on Dominion of Canada war bonds that were issued "free of income tax," pensioners of the Great War, money made by speculation outside of the ordinary course of business, legacies, gifts and proceeds of life insurance policies, the latter being only taxable when invested in other ways.

Absolute exemption is given on $1,000, if unmarried, or a widow or widower, and $2,000 if married, or widow or widower with dependent children, or brother or sister under 18 years of age, or dependent parent or grandparent. A married woman having a private income of her own may claim a personal exemption of $2,000, but, in such case, the $200 exemption for each child may be claimed by either husband or wife, not by both. A husband and wife carrying on a business jointly are regarded as having one income, and not two separate incomes, with only one exemption for both.

Succession taxes, which are the taxes levied by the Government on inheritors from estates, were briefly touched on. Exemption is given up to $10,000. After that, the scale is managed according to the degree of relationship between the testator and the legatee. If a close relationship existed, the percentage of tax is lower, with a contrary procedure as the degree of relationship between them widens.

JASPER PARK LODGE FORMALLY OPENED.

JASPER PARK, Alta., June 16 (Canadian Press). Jasper Park Lodge the new summer resort erected by the Canadian National Railway in the mountain park of that name, was formally opened yesterday, when Mrs. H. C. Fleming, of San Francisco, the first guest to register, unfurled the Union Jack, which John M. Imrie, of the Edmonton Daily Journal, thereupon hoisted to its position in front of the main building.

W. E. Duperow, general passenger agent of Prairie Lines, presided over the formal ceremony, which was witnessed by a large gathering of tourists and newspaper men and of Canadian National officials from Toronto to the Pacific Coast, and from the United States.

Accommodation is provided for more than sixty guests in log cabins erected on the shore of Lake Beauvert, and additions will be made from time to time as they are required.

NEWS OF HASTINGS AND THE DISTRICT.

Wedding of Local Interest. Personal Mention. Baseball Game.

HASTINGS, June 16.—A wedding of interest locally was celebrated on Wednesday, 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brooks, when their daughter, Margaret, became the bride of Mr. Lynn Venters, of Lindsay. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. L. Hinton, pastor of the Methodist church, under an arch of evergreen and white flowers. The bride looked charming in a lovely gown of white satin trimmed with pearls and wore the conventional bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms, carrying in her hand an exquisite bouquet of white carnations and ferns. The bridesmaid was Miss Ruth Brooks, sister of the bride, who was groomed in white organdie, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of pink rosebuds and fern. The groom was supported by Mr. Harry Gregg.

Promptly at 10.30 a.m. the bride entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father and took her place under the arch.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and customary congratulations, the bride led the way to the dining room wher a sumptuous wedding dejeuner was served after which the happy couple were escorted to the G.T.R. station, where they boarded the one o'clock train for a honeymoon trip, when they will visit Toronto, Niagara and points west, returning will take up residenec in Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Venters have a host of friends who join in wishing them a long life of unalloyed bliss.

Funeral Wednesday.

The funeral of the late Mr. Blakely Shaw was held on Wednesday and was well attended. Place of interment, Trent Valley cemetery.

Dr. J. H. Hess and son Clifford were in Oshawa on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Faux are visiting friends in Westwood.

Mr. and Mrs. V. German and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith took in the trip to Rochester on Wednesday.

Went to Ball Game.

A number of Hastings people motored to Warkworth on Wednesday and enjoyed the league ball game between the Warkworth and Hastings teams. The score was 12-7 in favor of Warkworth.

Miss Pearl Parker spent Wednesday in Peterborough.

Mr. Wm. Taylor of Perth, is holidaying with friends here.

FED THE BALL TEAM.

MILLBROOK, June 16.—The local management gave the ball teams a treat of strawberries, ice cream and cake at the 'Waverley' after the game on Wednesday evening, before the Bethany players left for home.

Quite a number drove over from the latter town to attend Wednesday's game. The gate receipts were between $50 and $60, with probably 400 people on the grounds. Sisson's pluck in going on with the game after being accidentally struck by the first ball thrown, and bady cut in the head, won expressions of commendation from friends of both teams. The game was considered the best of the series yet played in the C.M.E. League. Next game, Millbrook at Omemee on Thursday, June 22nd, and Mt. Pleasant at Bethany the same date.

HAVELOCK WON BY BIG MARGIN.

HAVELOCK, June 16. —In a Junior O.A.L.A. game between Peterboro and Havelock in the local park resulted in an easy win for Havelock by the score of 10-1.

The result of the game was at no time in doubt the locals showing superior play in stick handling and combination from the start, Peterboro checked hard on the first period and managed to keep the locals to 2-1, however the second period found the vistor's goal tender trying to stop seven which went by the period ending 7-1 for Havelock. Le Barr replaced Meyette in goal for Peterboro and saved some sure goals. B. Bunkman for Havelock, was the star scoring five of the ten goals. Peterboro was strong on the defence, but very weak on the home. However, they are a sturdy hard working bunch and will be strong contenders with a little more experience.

The teams lined up as follows:

Havelock

Davidson, J. Hooper C. Breman, L. Plunkett, McKenzie, O'Brien, Woods, D. Brennan, Bunkman, H. Buchanan, B. Anderson, H. Brown spare.

REGULAR MEETING HAVELOCK COUNCIL.

Monday, July 3rd, Will Be Observed As a Holiday. Accounts Passed.

HAVELOCK, June 16. — The regular June meeting of the Town Council was held on the 5th inst., when all members were present.

At the request of the Norwood Reunion Association, the Council decided to authorise the Reeve to proclaim Monday, 3rd July, as Dominion Day, instead of observing it on the 1st of July, which is, of course, a Saturday.

A communication was received from the School Board notifying the Council that the sum of $2,500 was required for the purpose of putting a new roof on the north wing of the school.

On the motion of Councillors Scott and Mathison, the Clerk was instructed to have Mr. Ghent prepare a by-law to raise the $2,500 by ten-year debentures at 6 per cent. interest as soon as possible; and when ready, a special meeting will be called and the by-law given its first and second readings, so that the ratepayers may vote on it at as early a date as possible.

On the motion of Councillors Mathison and Hooper, the Reeve was authorised to make the best possible arrangement possible with the county road superintendent in regard to fixing the road at the Gravel Pit.

Want Readjusment.

A deputation of ratepayers from S. S. No. 15, Belmont, headed by Reeve Breckenridge, appeared before the Council, and asked that body to take immediate steps to have a readjustment made in the equalisation of the valuation of the Union School Section, as under the present 4 per cent. assessment they were paying far too exorbitant a tax for school purposes.

Nothing was done in the matter of the request, as the legal date for an adjustment expired on 1st June, but it is altogether probable that next year the grievance will be adjusted by the assessors of the two municipalities.

PREVENT STANDARDIZING PARTS.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, June 15. — Charges against manufacturers of agricultural implements were made to-day before the House committee on agriculture. Western embers of the committee asserted that the manufacturers frequently made changes in parts of agricultural machinery in order to prevent specialty companies from making repair parts.

PETERBORO U.F.O. CLUB ON PICNIC.

Farmers Left Haying Long Enough to Have an Enjoyable Afternoon.

The Peterborough U.F.O. Club held its first annual picnic at Brailey's school house, North Monaghan, yesterday afternoon and evening and on account of the splendid weather and the co-operation and enthusiasm of the farmers, their wives and the young people, success crowned the club's efforts. It was thereupon decided to hold a similar picnic every year and on account of the central location of the school house, the facilities for sports and the abundance of water and shade, Brailey's school house will likely be the picnic ground chosen each year.

Automobiles laden with farmer folk began arriving not long after dinner and a steady stream of vehicles of all kinds brought people to the grounds all afternoon. Many persons were unable to be on hand in the afternoon but did not miss supper. During the afternoon sports were held, races were run off and the ladies were busy getting ready the supper which was of an abundant nature and prepared with skill and taste.

Not only were members of the club present but many people from the city and from surrounding villages and townships. "I never saw so many strangers," remarked one farmer. "I don't know half the people that are here." If they did not know everpone, however the difficulty was soon overcome, for a spirit of friendliness prevailed and the club members went to considerable effort to make everyone feel at home. The officers had a busy time arranging the sports and considerable credit is due President Howard Quinn, Secretary S. Cann, H. Webber, C. Moore, E. Butler and others who had charge of the arrangements.

The Peterborough Club embraces a membership from the townships surrounding Peterborough within a radius of practically five miles. There were therefore farmers present from Smith, North Monaghan, Otonabee and Douro. There was some doubt among the farmers that Brailey's was a suitable place for the picnic, but the grounds proved so adaptable that it was urged as the annual picnic ground.

A booth operated by the ladies did a land office business and a gentleman at a concession where one was invited to "Kill the Kat" by knocking it over with a baseball met with a pleasing patronage. Farmers too mature for baseball took to quoits and some interesting games were played. The premier event of the day was a baseball game between two Smith township teams in which the strenuousness of the conflict was only limited by the size of the grounds.

FLOOD OF SELLING ORDERS.

NEW YORK, June 15 (Canadian Press). — Secondary reaction which professional interests have been predicting apparently came to pass after midday when the market declined perceptably under the flood of selling orders. Few of the active industrials escaped losses of two or more points with the recession quite acute in a number of instances.

Marine Preferred slumped 9 1-4, Gulf Steel 5, Davison Chemical 4 3-4, Standard Oil of New Jersey 4 1-2, Famous Players 4, and Crucible Steel, American International, and Atlantic Gulf 3 to 3 1-2 points.

MILLBROOK WON BASEBALL GAME

Defeated Cavanville Team by a Score of 11 to 9

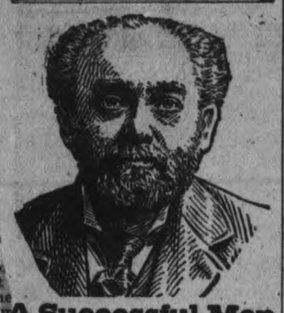
MILLBROOK, June 16. — The annual garden party in connection with the Carmel Methodist Church was held at that appointment on Thursday afternoon, 15th June, with fully 200 people in attendance. The Millbrook Band furnished music during the earlier part of the evening, and games, races, etc., provided entertainment for the younger folk. A satisfying tea was served about 6 p.m., and following this a ball game between Cavanville and Millbrook, which resulted in a score of 11-9 in favour of the latter team, proved a decided attraction.

The line-up was as follows:

Cavanville—F. Henry p, F. Martin c, M. McDowell 1b, B. Robinson 2b, D. Johnston 3b, C. Nattrass ss, E. Touchburn rf, R. Lough lf, F. Harkness cf.

Millbrook—F. Russell p, W. Needler c, L. C. Russell 1b, E. C. Richards 2b, L. Gray 3b, H. Nattrass ss, G. Sayles rf, H. Lancashire lf, A. Thorne cf.

Umpire—Mr. John Cathcart, of Cavan



A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line.

Over fifty years ago this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equaled for the weaknesses of women. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all thru treating thousands of cases. The result of his labor was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths in nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, and other the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Women who take this standard remedy know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic of good that druggists everywhere sell in both tablet and fluid form.

WOULD DEPORT

Dr. Beland said that the bill now before the House provided much more severe penalties than formerly, and he proposed also to move that all aliens convicted under this Act should be deported.

During the year ended September 30, 1921, there had been 1,864 convictions, of which 1,211 were against Chinese. If this amendment carried it would mean that a large percentage of that 1,211 would be deported. Some, however, were Canadian citizens. He suggested that his proposed amendments be carried now and that the whippings clause be held over at least until next session to see if it was then necessary. Whipping was reserved for certain physical crimes. He doubted whether it was advisable to introduce it as a punishmnt for illicit drug trafficking.

Mainly About People

THE SWITCHMAN'S FIRST CONTACT WITH ROYALTY

And the Reason Why Dan Weaver of Havelock Ran Away and Hid Himself.

EVERYBODY in the world does not know Dan Weaver, C. P. R. switchman at Havelock. But everybody in that important ink-pin in the big railway system, when they ead this, will know where to point their finger, espite the substitution for the railway hand's rue name. Because for a long time Dan was artial to telling the yarn himself.

Duke of Connaught.

No governor-general ever held the Woodbine races in greater esteem than the Duke of Connaught. Alike and equally, no C. P. R. switchman confessed to deeper regard for the soldier-duke representing royalty in Canada, than the here-in-before mentioned Dan.

That was why Dan had made his mind up, at first opportunity, to be on hand when the royal ace train passed through to Toronto, and to do is best to catch a glimpse of King Edward's amous brother.

Arrived train, arrived Dan, on time to a dot! long the long platform he sallied, just at the irst peep of day. Swinging his lantern, along he side of the coaches he went, halting in front f the sleeper he guessed would be occupied by he duke. Drat the luck, every curtain was rawn tight as the lid of a sardine box!

Train crews change at Havelock; there was ork for Dan to get busy at, but, trustful in the ood nature of the pal he had left in his place t the switch, still he longer lingered in the ope that a curtain might pry itself loose, or hat through a vestibule window he might catch view of the face he knew only from his newsaper.

Then the thought suddenly struck Dan that erhaps this was not the coach after all. A ouple of folks from the train had alighted from coach lower down, so Dan interrogated the ne who had sauntered down towards him. He id not look ill-natured, despite the hour. In ight grey he was clad, a white stiff hat was set auntily, slightly to one side, on his closely barered head, and a walking stick twirled briskly a the hand the traveler swung. All this the disappointed Dan had taken in out of the slant f one eye, and doing a right-about he accosted he stranger with—"I s'pose it's too darned early or his nibs to be up?"

Down, down into his cow-hides plunked Dan eaver's heart in a second. He had put his foot n it sure. Looking at close range into the tranger's face he was mentally calling a muster oll of all the M.P.'s, and supreme court judges, nd C. P. R. magnates that he'd ever seen. This raveler who got up whilst the early birds still rere in pyjamas was one of them—sure as a oat. He knew it, Dan knew that face as well as he one he looked at whenever he shaved, but he ast couldn't place it. It meant death to his ailroading. To have effrontery enough to speak o one of those high-starched-up guys meant that e knew one switch-tender who could "book est" for keeps.

It was the stranger's pleasantly pitched voice rhich brought Dan back to himself, snatched im from this maelstrom of fear and doubt. Now, who do you mean by his 'nibs?'" inquired he man in the white cl'ristie.

"Why, the Dook! This is the Dook's train. ut the blinds are down. Guess I'm too speedy—hinkin' his nibs'd kick out o' the hay at this arly hour."

The ranger of the platform did not leave Dan ong in doubt, for, with a crack with his stick t a pebble which showed in the ruby light of he switchman's lantern, he said—"Well, I guess 'm his nibs',"—and did a half right turn towards Dan, with a gloved royal hand already exended.

But there was no Dan to grasp it. At the uke of Connaught's words—as Dan is fond of elating—"I was off down that platform like a inged cat. No siree—not towards my work—I ist beat it for fair, any old way to make myself carce—didn't think a gol-darn blink about work or half-an-hour—an' you bet your boots my pal uk some queer ol' squarin'."—C. CAPTAIN A POOR PICKER WHEN GENERAL INSPECTS

FIELD-MARSHAL EARL HAIG tells the story of a regiment that was about to be inspected by a certain general.

The latter was very particular that the officers commanding companies should know the names of the men in their units, and also where they came from.

Earl Haig.

When the regiment was drawn up on parade, and before the arrival of the inspecting officer, the captain of one company addressed his men as follows:

"Now, men, as you know, I am away a good deal, and I do not know all your names, or where each one of you belongs to, but whatever I tell the general, mind, no contradiction!"

The general at length arrived, and as he passed down the lines he stopped before a man, and said to the captain: "This is a smart-looking fellow. What is his name?"

"Jones, sir."

"Where does he come from?"

"Devon, sir."

"Ah, I'm a Devonshire man myself. Fine country, Devon; is it not, Private Jones?" said the general.

Private Jones looked startled for a moment, and then replied, heartily: "Bedad, an' there isn't a foiner counthry in the wurrid, yer honor!"

Big English "Ad" Man

SIR CHARLES HIGHAM, M.P., the first advertising man to be elected to the House of Commons, and the first ever knighted, is now visiting the United States as an emissary of Lord Northcliffe to invite the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World to hold their 1924 convention in London.

Trotzky Takes a Course And is Now a "Brass Hat"

How He Found Time to Attend Staff College a Mystery.

WHILE Nikolai Lenine, premier of Russia, has, according to reports, completely collapsed both mentally and physically, his side-partner, Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik war minister, appears to be more active than ever. Word has just come to hand from Moscow that the man who has been called the "Napoleon of Bolshevism," desirous of perfecting himself in military technique, has just completed a course in the staff college of the Red army. The examinations were given to him by aristocrat officers of the old Russian army, and this former dweller in garrets and inhabitant of New York's East Side has passed the standards and is now qualified as an officer.

Trotzsky as Seen by Swedish Artist.

How Trotzky, who is one of the busiest men in Russia, found time to do this has been a surprise to his more easy-going associates in the Soviet government. He works from early morning until the evening, but takes time for regular exercise, the study of languages and voice culture. He has developed the vocal abilities of a field marshal, and when called upon to address thousands of troops in the open air his strident tones are heard by the rear ranks.

Trotzky has developed great executive ability and he never concerns himself with petty details. He exacts from his subordinates the most meticulous precision. He keeps appointments promptly, thereby differing from other Soviet officials, and he confines his business dealings to reasonable daytime or early evening hours. Sometimes he sets appointments for, say, 4.27 p.m., to last three minutes, and insists that this does not mean 4.25 or 4.30.

FIRST "TAIL-ENDER" NOW PRESIDENT OF THE BANK

MPELEG HOWLAND, president of the Imperial Bank of Canada, is normally one of Toronto's most modest citizens. But there is one event in his life over which he expands his chest and tosses his head in pride. And it isn't over the fact that he was four or five years ago elected head of the institution. It is because when the bank was started forty-seven years ago he was its first "tail-ender" on the office staff—or, to express it in proper banking parlance, its first junior clerk—while his father sat at the head of the table as the bank's first president.

Peleg Howland.

But Mr. Howland's experience as a working banker was but of one year's duration, he having at the end of that period resigned to enter the wholesale hardware trade. Nearly a generation elapsed before he again became officially connected with the bank, the occasion being his election as a director. In 1914 he became vice-president, and two or three years later, on the death of D. R. Wilkie, president.

"Dick" Burde Dared to be a Daniel

By P. W. LUCE.

MAJOR RICHARD J. BURDE, M.C., member for Port Alberni in the British Columbia legislature, is one of the best-known newspaper men in western Canada, and also one of the best. Except on formal occasions, he is always addressed as "Dick" in Winnipeg, Vancouver, New Westminster, Victoria, Dawson, and other cities where he has worked and added to the gaiety of nations.

"Dick" Burde's first newspaper experience was gained in Winnipeg, where he was a newsie, in company with his brother, Frank Burde, now business manager of the Vancouver Province.

Why Richard should spell the family name "Burde," and Frank stick out for "Burd," has never been satisfactorily explained, but each insists he is correct, and is even a little touchy on the subject!

In the early nineties, when Dick was a reporter on the Winnipeg Free Press, he pulled off many spectacular stunts. One of the best happened when a circus came to town, with "the wildest man-eating lion in captivity." At that time, the automobile was still a novelty in Manitoba, and when the circus publicity agent announced that the "fiercest lion" would ride in the parade in an auto, he made a big hit.

Then followed an invitation to the "bravest man in Winnipeg, whoever he may be" to ride in the automobile with Leo—after a legal document had been signed absolving the circus of all responsibility for loss of life or limb.

"Dick" Burde promptly accepted, declaring that he looked on this as a personal invitation.

"Don't you suppose I'm going to let any old-timer like Daniel get the best of me!" he told his friends, before starting on the parade in which he was the chief attraction.

"The poor brute was so ancient I could have torn it to pieces with my teeth," explained the future member of parliament, "I was a darn sight more afraid of the automobile blowing up or something than of the lion starting a fight he couldn't finish. Why, the mangy old fraud was so moth-eaten I had to sit as far away as possible to keep my best suit from being ruined by moths!"

Their Horse Dead and No Money to Buy Another Old Couple Sadly Put Buggy Away in the Barn

When Late Sir John Eaton Happens to Drive Past in His Automobile—An Incident of Kindness.

INCIDENTS are constantly coming to light since the death of Sir John Eaton which throw into bold relief the outstanding traits in his character. Perhaps nothing can explain the hold he had on the hearts of the people better than the narration of the following incident, now told for the first time.

It was a beautiful early spring day, some years ago, and Sir John decided he would like to make a trip by motor to a point some distance from Toronto. The roads were in very bad condition, and he enquired from his chauffeur as to whether he thought a car could get through. He said he thought so, and they went to the garage to select the one most suited for the journey.

When some distance out of the city Sir John noticed an old lady and an old gentleman making an unsuccessful effort to pull a buggy into a barn. He nudged the chauffeur to stop the car and said: "We will get out and give them a hand. After putting the vehicle away, Sir John asked why they did not have the horse pull it in, instead of straining at it themselves. The old man advised him that the horse had died two weeks previously, and that they were getting old and could not tell how soon they would follow it, and as they could not afford another horse they were putting the buggy away.

Sir John expressed his sympathy at the loss of the animal, took some bills from his pocket, counted off five twenties and asked if they could get a horse for a hundred dollars. They stood wide-eyed—too full for the moment to express their thanks—then the old man thanked him and said it did not seem right to accept the money.

Sir John added another twenty dollars—put a friendly hand on his shoulder and told him not to worry about that, but to get another horse; and after telling them he hoped they would be spared for many years to enjoy it, said good-bye.

The old folks were speechless with gratitude, but their tear-dimmed eyes shone with appreciation as their benefactor disappeared in the distance. And probably they never learned that their good friend was Sir John Eaton.

"ALWAYS, SIR, ALWAYS"—HISTORIC ANSWER TO KING

THE King's recent tour through Belgium and Northern France each day provided its unforgettable picture. One morning the King stood on the high plateau of Notre Dame de Lorette, just north of the Vimy ridge, with Marshal Foch and Field-Marshal Haig listening to the two famous soldiers as with outstretched canes they described from the finest vantage point in the whole allied line some of the heaviest fighting of the war.

Their conversation was followed by an incident which, in view of the international situation, might be regarded as of the highest political importance apart from its sentimental value. When Earl Haig and Marshal Foch were saying "Good-bye" with a long and hearty handshake, the King stretched out his hand, and resting it for a moment on the clasped hands of the two marshals, said with a smile:—

"Always good friends. Is it not so?"

Marshal Foch, without releasing his hold of Earl Haig's hand, speaking French, made reply:—

"Always, sir, always. For the same cause and for the same motives."

What Could be Fairer?

WHEN the agent brought Mrs. Tarley her fire policy he remarked that it would be as well for her to make her first payment at once.

"How much will it be?" she asked.

"About a hundred dollers. Wait a minute and I'll find the exact amount."

"Oh, how tiresome!" she exclaimed. "Tell the company to let it stand, and deduct it from what they will owe me when the house burns down."—Pearson's Weekly.

Motherwell to Market, A Minister's Busy Day

A Westerner's Way of Running an Ottawa Department.

UNNOTICED by the regular attendants at the Ottawa market a Saturday or so ago, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, strolled up and down amongst the stalls, the carts, and the automobiles, examining all with keen interest, discussing prices and taking stock generally.

Equally unnoticed browsed a reporter from a local daily who espied the minister and who immediately made a mental note of the unusual visitor to the market.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell.

The minister hobnobbed with the different housewives and joined with them in discussing the price of a chicken or duck. With the practiced eye of a connoisseur he scrutinized the purchase of butter, eggs, cream, vegetable, fruits, etc. He no doubt gained valuable practical knowledge thereby.

It was learned later that the minister had earlier that day paid a visit to the experimental farm. He left the market to attend a cabinet meeting, and later in the day attended an entirely different function, the garden party at government house. Truly a varied career for the day.

A Dumb Izaac Walton

A KEEN angler took a friend fishing and lent him all the necessary tackle.

After half an hour the novice asked: "How much do those little red things cost?"

"I suppose you mean the float," replied the disciple of Izaac Walton. "They only cost about fifty cents."

"Well, I owe you half a dollar, then," replied the amateur; "the one you lent me has just sunk."—Tit-Bits.

Checking Up

"WHAT are you reading, Charlie?"

"It's a book called 'Child Training,' that I borrowed from Mrs. Jones," returned the young son.

"Do you find it amusing?" laughed his mother.

"I'm not reading it for that. I merely wanted to see if I had been brought up properly."—Tit-Bits.

CINCINNATUS CALLED TO SIT FOR BROCKVILLE

Dr. Donald McAlpine, Local Member, Finds a Reward for Honesty and Virtue.

ALTHOUGH his voice is not often heard in debate, Dr. Donald McAlpine, the Liberal member for Brockville in the legislature, is one of the most popular men about Queen's Park, as large-hearted as are his physical proportions and the possessor of a personality which has won him many friends.

Prior to the last elections, Dr. McAlpine was a man little known beyond the district in which he resides. Content to pursue the peaceful occupation of a rural veterinary surgeon, he was untroubled by the cares of public life and possessed, apparenly, neither aspiration nor inclination for such a career. A quiet yet genial, rotund person of sturdy Scottish stock, well read yet desirous of anything rather than the limelight, it was only after a great deal of argument that he was persuaded to accept nomination. It is doubtful if he had ever delivered a public address, much less had he ever taken an active part in politics or gone before the people as a candidate. Moreover, in view of the political history of the riding during the preceding decade, it was the belief of not a few of the doctor's friends that he was becoming merely a Liberal sacrifice on the political altar.

Dr. McAlpine's opponent was an old hand at the game, a shrewd politician and a polished speaker, who outwardly appeared to retain the confidence of his constituents. While his adversary made striking appeals from the platform, the doctor could muster sufficient courage to utter in reply merely a few commonplaces, scarcely audible by reason of his stage fright—and his electioneering was confined almost entirely to canvassing.

The result astounded even Dr. McAlpine's most sanguine supporter. His personal popularity, the loyal support of his organization and dissatisfaction with the powers-that-were had redeemed Brockville to Liberalism, and by the largest majority in the history of the riding.

When some of the doctor's friends sought him on the night of the election in order that he might be acclaimed with all the enthusiasm of which a torchlight gathering was capable, the triumphant candidate was found, not at his committee rooms anxiously scrutinizing the returns nor nervously pacing the floor of his office awaiting the best or the worst, but in his garage, under his beloved little automobile, in his oldest suit of clothes, preparing to minister to a sick cow on the morrow!

HOMUTH'S HORSE WAS INTELLIGENT ANIMAL

He Knew a Good Thing When He Saw It.

THE monotony of debate at the legislature in Queen's Park, Toronto, is often broken by the telling of an amusing yarn. Such an incident occurred recently when the subject under discussion was the curtailment of the erection of unsightly bill-boards along the new provincial highways.

Karl Homuth.

Karl Homuth, M.P.P., the popular "booster" for South Waterloo and the youngest member in the House, said he agreed with what the previous speaker had said on the subject but he thought that sign-boards, with restrictions as to their locality, had a place in the advertising economy of the country.

He remembered passing a certain field where a neat sign-board had been put up and an old, lame horse had stopped his nibbling of the grass and was evidently intently reading the advertisement. The poster was advertising a wonderful spavin cure for horses.

INCLUDING WHITES IN CHATHAM'S ROSTER

As Colored Porter Did to Make 12,000 Population.

By VICTOR LAURISTON.

R. E. GOSNELL, at one time editor of the Victoria (B.C.) Colonist, later provincial archivist of British Columbia, and now a resident of Ottawa, began his journalistic career as editor of the Chatham (Ont.) Planet. That was a good many years ago—at a time, indeed, when Chatham was widely known as the home of a considerable colored population, descendants for the most part of escaped slaves.

In recent years the trend of the younger generation of colored folks to Detroit and other big cities has materially reduced that element, but in Gosnell's day outsiders used to facetiously question whether Chatham was black or white.

On a transcontinental pullman a few years ago Gosnell and a companion got chaffing a colored porter, and happened to let drop that Gosnell once lived in Chatham. The friendly porter thereupon brought in another porter who hailed originally from Chatham, and Gosnell asked after some friends he had known there in his early newspaper days.

"By the way," interjected Gosnell's companion, "how big a place is this Chatham?"

"'Bout twelve thousand, sah," said the porter.

"Twelve thousand!" ejaculated the other.

"Yes, sah," repeated the porter from Chatham, "Twelve thousand—that is, including whites."

TRICKS OF THE TRADE

H. G. WELLS, whose new novel, "The Secret Places of the Heart," has caused something of a sensation, is telling a story of an incident that happened at a public dinner.

Mr. Wells was telling his neighbor what he would do to improve the world. The latter listened with attention and approval, but added:

"I think that it is absolutely necessary for health that all water used for drinking and cooking should be boiled."

"You are a doctor, I suppose?" said the novelist.

"No, sir," was the reply. "I am in the coal business."

(BY A BRIDE)

WE'RE PENNILESS—I RESOLVE TO GO TO WORK

CHAPTER LXV

My husband took from his pocket a notice that my checking account was once more overdrawn.

"We're bankrupt, all right," he repeated. "I'm sorry for you, little girl, but I guess we'd better get along with one checking account. So we'll close yours. I guess mine will hold all I can earn. And we can keep track of what we have—better—with just one account."

"I always have kept track," I protested. "See my stubs!"

It didn't take Jack long to discover I had a habit of going to the bank for cash and never substracting the sums from my stubs!

Trying to be helpful, I suggested: "Can't we —just for once—pay these bills out of your savings?"

"But Peggins, our safety fund has been paid out for the furniture Wedgewood, the lamps and odds and ends you needed."

Then I had another inspiration.

"I can borrow, Jack! Of Mr. Tearle. He'd be just happy to help us!"

"Borrow? Borrow? Why, Peggins you don't know what you're saying! Why, girl, unless we can live on what we earn big or little money, I'd feel as if we were —as if I were cheating myself"!

After Jack had gone I sat down and had a good long cry.

Jack had carried off the bills—they made a bundle too large for his pocket. He went straight to the bank to balance my checking account and close it.

My feelings were dreadfully hurt. Jack hadn't been pleased with one of my suggestions. I was sorry I had spoken about borrowing. I ought to have gone to Mr. Tearle obtained a loan, paid the bills and saved Jack from worrying. And Mr. Tearle would never have expected to be paid, though, of course in time I'd have managed somehow.

I said to myself I had been quite stupid, had made a mess of our financial affairs from the beginning and that it was my duty as a business partner equal with Jack, to go to work.

As a feminist, I believed in the economic independence of the wife. But it had been very pleasant to be supported, to be a parasite. In my heart, I didn't at all like the idea of going to work.

But if my husband couldn't manage I was quite willing to carry my part of the household expenses.

"Jack, dear !Let me help I've never earned any money. But I'm sure I can!"

"Peggins!" was Jack's reply. It sounded like a reproof. Jack said no more, just sat still and watched me, speechless with amazement.

Didn't my husband believe I was smart enough to earn my own living?

"Your Baby in Hot Weather"

Proper Feeding Important During Second Summer

SHE HAS NEVER HAD AN HOUR OF ILLNESS.

BY MRS. MAX WEST.

Late of the United States Children's Bureau.

The supposed dangers of the "second summer" are usually those which accompany the weaning period just following weaning.

At this time are made many of the most serious mistakes in feeding, an as digestive disturbances are worse and or more serious consequences in hot weather, it has given rise to the tradition of some special danger attaching to this time in the baby's life.

As a matter of fact, the first summer is a much more dangerous period in the life of the average baby as shown by statistics. Far more babies die in the first year of life than in the second—three or four times as many—and it is hardly possible that there can be two summers in one year.

But for all babies the hot spell that usually occurs in the middle of summer is a very trying and often dangerous one, and if it happens that the baby is being weaned from the breast at this season of the year mistakes in diet may be of grave consequence.

Too many mothers believe that a baby may jump at once from a milk diet to one of the sort frequently described by "Oh, he eats most anything—a little of everything the rest of us have!"

It is this haphazard, ill chosen food which is so productive of summer diarrheas. Then, too, many mothers who have observed regular or fairly regular hours for nursing the baby forsake the schedule they have so far followed after the baby begins to eat solid food. All these things contribute their part to summer illnesses of various kinds.

To prevent them, the mother should have at hand a set of simple rules for weaning and feeding afterward, in that important part of the baby's life, and not lay upon the "second summer" the responsibility for her mistakes.

Only a few articles properly enter into the dietary at this transition period. But if these few are properly prepared and are fed to the baby at stated hours, with due observance of the other rules of health there is no reason why almost every aby should not come through the "second summer with flying colors. Some of the simple rules for this feeding will be given in a following article.

START TOMORROW AND KEEP IT UP EVERY MORNING

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath"? you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles according to hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, billous attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

INCENDIARISM IN BELFAST.

Looters Overlooked Soap, Movies and Meat in Favor of Saloon.

BELFAST, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)— The east side was again the scene of incendiary fires this morning, when flames were started in a soap factory, motion picture theatre and butcher shop. The fire later spread to an adjoining engineer works. Only one of the industrial plants in the area affected is now intact. Scenes of great disorders followed when a crowd of looters broke into a nearby saloon.

USE "TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED, ACHING FEET

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet, swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more pain in corns, callouses or bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ." "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet; "TIZ" is magical; "TIZ' is grand. "TIZ" will end your feet will never, never hurt or get limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and yur feet will never, never hurt or get swollen or tired.

Get a box at any drug or department store, and get relief for a few cents.

RADIO NEWS

Director, Radio Institute of America

To put the loud pedal on your radio reception use a loud speaker or horn.

This may be made at home.

But it should be borne in mind that a loud speaker won't work with a crystal set or single vacuum tube detector unless used near the broadcasting station.

For the best efficiency and the greatest volume of sound, the receiving apparatus should employ a two-step amplifier. Then with a properly rigged up loud speaker, the radio enthusiast can entertain a room full of visitors with dance music and concerts.

Get some heavy manilla paper, shape it into the form of a horn about 2½ feet in length and 10 or 12 inches in diameter at its mouth.

The small end should be just large enough to fit snugly into the opening of the cap of the phone receiver. To insure a good fit, make two holes in the small end of the horn and put a rubber band through them. Make a small loop of each end and slip over the small binding posts to which the telephone cords are attached.

It would be a good idea to reinforce these holes with small bits of cardboard. There would then be no danger of the rubber band tearing through the horn.

The electric one should be placed on a hook or bracket near the receiving set. At the outward end of the horn a small cord should be attached and run to the hook above. In this manner the horn may be kept in a steady horizontal position.

Do not try to use phones of low resistance with this or any other loud speaker. They won't work.

Loud speakers may be purchased at prices ranging from $5 to $175.

Before buying any, try to make one yourself. It is a good experimenting and may save you a considerable outlay of money.

SET OUT TO LYNCH.

Southern Tactics Taking Root in North.

JACKSON, Mich., June 15—(Canadian Press.)—A score of autos carrying men and women left here last night for Mason with the intention of seizing George Straub, alleged to have confessed to the killing of Alice Mallett.

IT'S ALL IN THE STATE OF MIND

If you think you are beaten, you are
If you think that you dare not, you don't
If you'd like to win but you think you can't,
"It's almost a "cinch" that you won't
If you think you'll lose, you've lost,
For out in the world you find Success begins with a fellow's will,
It's all in the state of mind.

Full many a race is lost
Ere even a step is run,
And many a coward falls
Ere even his work's begun.
Think big and your deeds will grow;
Think small, and you'll fall behind;
Think that you can and you will;
It's all in the state of mind.
If you think you are outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can even win a prize.
Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.

Selected.

Statistics prove that there is a relative number of incompetent parents to incorrigible children. Of course the parents in their turn may not have had proper rearing, but the fact remains that these neglected children will be criminals, the paupers, and the undersirables in society of the future.

High schools boys and some not so high demand the privilege of attending pool halls. Now why should a pool hall be a good man's special aversion for his son? Certainly not because there is anything wrong with the game of pool but because in many places a very undesirable class of people frequent pool halls merely because it is a place of leisure, where they are always sure of company and where they are not constantly and unpleasantly reminded of work. But when boys are told by officers to keep away from such places they very imprudently inform the officers that "they should mind their own business. Father doesn't care." This may not be the literal truth but it is a proof that the lad does not entertain any very high degree of respect for his father and that, unless the boy happens to be a degenerate, is the father's own fault.

But many fathers are lacking in any sense of responsibility. They would rather their sons would hang about the pool halls than stay at home in the evenings for fear some of their own leisure hours may be disturbed. It is useless and avails nothing to condemn the pool hall proprietor for allowing youngsters in his place of business. If the parents do not object, why should he make himself the guardian of their morals?

What is really needed is the education of the parents in their duty toward their children. A place to sleep and eat and clothes to wear is not sufficient. Parents owe their children much more than this and they are indeed unnatural parents if instinct does not inform them of their further duties.

Young people are often wishing their lives away, little thinking how enjoyable the present may be. They are constantly looking forward to things next week, next month, or next year, and wishing that the time would fly by until the longed-for hour arrives. But little do they realize that they are foregoing many pleasures in the meantime, due to the fact that they are not making the most of the passing minutes. But as age creeps on this gault vanishes, and we are only too glad to prolong each hour.

We do not hear so much any more of the evils of cigarette smoking. Is it that they have paled into insignificance when compared with other evils or is it that our morals are becoming so generally corrupted that cigarette smoking is no longer an evil?

Certainly there are evils which on the surface appear much more flagrant than the evil of smoking cigarettes but just how much the greater evils may have grown out of the lesser ones it is impossible to say.

It is our private opinion however, that the growing boy who smokes cigarettes need not worry about his future. He has none.

A great many marriages go on the rocks because brides expect their husbands to continue the romantic life of the honeymoon period during all the rest of the wedded life. Some men do, but those same men have the same romantic ideas about making a living, and there are times when bread and butter are more necessary to life than romance.

This is a very material world and while a life in the clouds may seem a wonderful thing theoretically, practically it won't work, at least in our present form of existence. When we get bodies that can live on love and romance, then the Wall Streets of the world can go out of business and we can enjoy a life in the clouds.

DAD'S LETTERS

My dad ain't just the letter writin' kind;
He'd rather let the women see to that:
He's got a mess o' troubles on his mind,
And likes to keep 'em underneath his hat.

And p'haps because he isn't very strong
On talking, why, he's kind o' weak on ink;
But he can work like sin the whole year long,
And crickey, how that dad o' mine can think!

When I set out from Homeville last July,
He didn't bawl the way my sister did;
He just shook hands and says, "Well, boy, goodbye."
(He's got his feelin's but he keeps 'em hid)
And so when mother writes about the things
That I spend half my time a-thinkin' of,
There's one short line that every letter brings:
"Father will write and meanwhile sends his love."

"Father will write." Well, perhaps some day he will,
There's lots of funny prophecies come true
But if he just keeps provisin' to, still,
I'll understand, and dad'll know I do.

—The Stars and Stripes

Have you ever run across those people who will give you their life history upon the slightest provocation? A frightful bore, isn't it? And sometimes it is very embarassing for quite frequently they tell things which they have no right to divulge. Yet it is a hopeless task to try and make them see that the intimate details of their life never interest anyone as much as themselves.

We hear people speak of an "ungovernable temper" yet, there is really no such thing. Every temper can be governed if the possessor exercises sufficient self-control. It is merely a matter of foolish self-indulgence or broken restraint. Many people who think they have ungovernable tempers say it is easy for others to preach, but it is not so easy for them to put the preaching into practice. However, we are all brothers and sisters under the skin and we all have more or less the same things with which to contend. Even the most calm people have times when they would like to throw dishes and break the furniture, but that is no reason they should so far lose control of themselves as to do it.

It used to be considered very stylish for a woman to have nerves. A nervous breakdown was considered quite a luxury, usually the result of too much social gayety and consequently loss of sleep.

However "nerves" are going rapidly out of style and the sooner a lot of our so-called nervous people find this out, the better for themselves and those living with them.

We have all met women and some men too, who are suffering from at least five deadly ailments according to their own mind, yet they live on and on and seem to have a fairly good time too. As a rule they bury all the healthy members of their family and finally die of a very prosaic illness known as old age before any of their five deadly ailments have sufficiently developed to kill them. We have never had sufficient courage to ask these people for an explanation of such phenomena but no doubt one would be forthcoming.

That is the sort of a thing into which "nerves" get one and such people should have our sympathy, not for their ailments but for their lack of will-power, though more often we feel that a shaking would do them more good than sympathy.

Distance and Signal Strength Depend on Height of Antenna, Says Godley

BY PAUL F. GODLEY.
America's Foremost Radio Authority

TWO TYPES OF ANTENNA

In a receiving antenna it is heigth that counts

Of course, there are other considerations, too, but for the man who wants to get signals from great distances (and what radio fan doesn't?) height is the thing for which to strive.

The higher the antenna, the greater the electrical potentials which will be produced in it by the electric waves.

The major of the "other consideration" is one having to do with resonance. When an electrical circuit is resonant with another electrical circuit, it is of such dimension as to be capable of having set up in it electrical oscilliations. In order that this may be accomplished by the methods available for tuning the radio receivers, some thought must be given to the total length of the antenna as well as its height.

Most radio fans wish to listen to wave lengths as short as 200 meters. It is much easier to "load" a small antenna for the reception of long waves than to operate upon a long antenna for receiving short waves It is well to keep this in mind when constructing the antenna.

Rules For Aerials.

A good rule although one which gives only approximations is:

"The total over-all length of the antenna system in feet from its extreme end to the ground connection, should not be greater than the wave length in meters, divided by 1.2."

Following out this rule, and assuming that it is desired to receive from stations transmitting at a wave length of 200 meters, the result will be 166 feet.

Neither the number of wires in the antenna, nor the height, will affect this aproximation to any great degree.

If it is possible to secure a non-conductive support as high as 166 feet to the top of which can be run a vertical, or nealy vertical, wire or two, the results will be considerably superior to those obtained from the same length wire placed in the form of an "L" or "T" shaped antenna, whose vertical sections are only 30 or 40 feet in length.

But the average radio fan will not have available supports as high as this.

Vertical Preferred.

Some may take sufficient interest in the radiophone to erect a special non-conductive mast, or insulate mast, of approximately this height. To such, it can be said that the results obtained will warrant the effort.

To those who must place dependence upon what natural support are available, it may be pointed out that the higher the wire, the better, provided that the total length of he antenna from its extreme end to the earth connections, does not exceed the figure derived from using the formula given above.

If the antenna is of too great length. Gains that might result tuning it to the shorter wave length Gains hat might result from increased lengths are more than offset by loss of advantages due to tuning

RADIO PRIMER

COUNTERPOISE—One or more wires stretched beneath the aerials and insulated from the earth. It is used in radio transmission and reception when a good ground connection is not available. Aircraft use a counterpoise because of their inability to ground their radio sets.

FINED FOR SPEEDING.

For speeding on the Chemong Road Wednesday afternoon, Gordon Matthews was fined $10 and ordered to pay $5.50 costs by Magistrate O. A. Langley to-day. Provincial Constable T. Y. Stratton was responsible for the summons. Accused was said to hove been going 30 miles an hour, and a lady driver in seeing him making such good time became infected with the speed 'bug.' Itw as then the constable had to issue a warning to the fair sex to desist from fast driving.

YOUNG WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Letter Points Way Towards Relief—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario. — "I suffered from the time I was a school-girl, until I had taken your medicine, with pain in my left side and with cramps, growing worse each year until I was all run down. I was so bad at times that I was unfit for work. I tried several doctors and patent medicines and was only relieved for a short time. Some of the doctors wanted to have an operation but my father objected. Finally I learned through my mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how thankful I am that I tried it. I am relieved from pain and cramps and feel as if it has saved my life. You may use my letter to help other women as I am glad to recommend the medicine."—Mrs. H. A. Goodman, 14 Rockvale Ave., Toronto, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

PROMISES A BIG FIGHT.

LOS ANGELES, June 16. Canadian Press. — Jack Kearns, manager of Champion Jack Dempsey, stated to-day that he felt certain a match with Willard for the championship would be pulled off next September. He believed that Willard would give the champion a better fight than he did three years ago at Toledo.

HANGING AT ST. JOHN'S

ST. JOHN'S, Que., June 16. — (Canadian Press).—Harry Frazer, aged 28, Champlain New York, was hanged in the local jail here, this morning for the murder of Joseph Senecal, a farmer at St. Andre De Lacolle, Quebec.

IN STARVING RUSSIA

FAVOR STRIKE.

Eleven Crafts and other Unions Resent the Orders of the Railway Board.

CINCINNATI, June 16. Canadian Press. — An overwhelming majority in favor of a strike is being cast by members of the 11 shop crafts and maintenance of way unions, said a formal statement last night issued by the heads of the unions agected by the recent decisions of the railroad board.

League Held a Garden Party

Under the auspices of the Catholic Women's League, a very well-attended and successful garden party was held yesterday afternoon and evening at 151 Lock Street, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Popham.

The large, handsome grounds proved admirable for the purpose, and Mr. and Mrs. Popham kindly threw open three rooms in the house last evening for dancing, which was patronised by numbers of the young people—excellent music being provided by Follis' Orchestra.

Strings of electric lights illuminated the grounds, and the different booths were attractively arranged and serbed by bright-faced maids and matrons, members of the society, of which Mrs. Popham is president. The candy booth, in charge of Mrs. J. R. Corkery and Miss Mary Lonergan, was charming with yellow and white streamers, field daisies and buttercups in the same pretty shades, and little yellow and white containers for the toothsome-looking home-made candies. The tea room was daintily arranged with small individual tables, centred with daisies, and was hung with small Japanese lanterns. There was good patronage here, a bevy of assistants helping, with Mrs. P. J. Doris as convenor. Ice-cream and soft drinks were served from a small tent, garnished with pink and white peonies, with Mrs. E. Cronin in charge, and the Mexican "House of Nonsense" was a distinct novelty, hung and draped with Mexican raincoats and Mexican rugs in bright colours, with Mexican ragout as a treat for those unacquainted with the delights of this culinary dainty, and light refreshments of various sorts, supervised by Mrs. N. E. Phelan and Mrs. F. A. Hodgson. Mrs. Peter Simons and Miss B. Phelan were attendants, in striking-looking gipsy costumes.

During the evening an enjoyable programme was rendered by Danny Simons, in comedian's turnout, giving a number of songs and Scottish characterisations that proved very popular with his audience; by Mr. Frank Clarke, who played the banjo with his usual excellence; and by Miss Jessie Hodgson, a graceful little dancer in Spanish costume.

YOUNG PEOPLE HELD AN OUTING

The Anglican Young People's Association of St. John's Church held their annual outing yesterday, in one of the jolliest excursions in the annals of the society. Members of the association, with actors taking part in the Minstrel Show recently produced, enjoyed an ideal day's sport in an ideal spot, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Sturgeon, at Sturgeon Point, Clear Lake. The young people met the various A.Y.P.A. cars as they came along with resounding cheers, had a wonderful time swimming and watching stunts in the water, and played baseball games with mixed teams. Miss Jean Horsfield, chosen as umpire on account of her almost entire lack of knowledge of the game, gave some wonderful decisions, exercising great care with same, as the teams were evenly balanced, the girls more than once coming in with pinch hits that scored at critical moments.

A super-special repast, including everything possible in the way of picnic delicacies, was spread on the lawn, and a band of hungry young people did full justice to the viands provided. Dancing and singing finished up the evening, with farewells and the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" accompanying the hearty vote of thanks tendered Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon and family.

Among those present at the outing were: Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Sturgeon, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jamieson, Mrs. H. Devey, Mrs. J. Sedgewick, the Misses Jean Horsfield, Eva Sturgeon, K. Cuffe, Ada Shelton, Barbara Cooke, Myrtle Sedgewick, Agnes Horsfield, Gertrude Kirn, Teddy Connor, Martha Kirn, Julia Nichols, Grace Nichols, Sybil Hood, Aloha Horn, Marjorie Lawrence, Frances Park, Irene Herridge, Pauline Sturgeon, B. Pidgeon and Miss Webb, with Messrs. K. Sturgeon, R. Perry, F. Watson, R. Carveth, J. McFarline, B. Jeffries, H. Mason, D. Carmichael, E. G. Brown, K. Kirn, B. Park, B. Graham, J. Collis, F. Tomlinson, H. Sills, A. Hood, L. Bristow, G. Benton, J. Yarnold, Mr. Hendricks, and Dr. R. W. Franks.

IRISH ELECTIONS.

DUBLIN, June 16. Canadian Press. — The latest estimates on the parliamentary elections give a minimum of 15 Independent successes at the polls with the Republicans losing ten and the pro-treatyites five seats.

LOCAL MAN WON TRIP ON LAKES

Ex-firemen J. J. Perdue who beat the field at the Fire Hall for a trip on the Great Lakes from Buffalo to Duluth has returned after having an enjoyable, interesting and enlightening time at the expense of the Buffalo Courier. Ex-fireman Perdue secured between 35,000 and 40,000 votes in the popularity contest recently held by the Courier. Bert Trotter was next to him in the local list of competitors and others who were in the field were: Ex-Chief George Grange, E. G. Johnston, Harold Howell, V. Carr and R. Wilson. The contest was open to firemen in Canada and United States and there were 359 in the party that left Buffalo on June 6th on board the new steamer Octerera.

In the cities visited on the Great Lakes fire-fighting demonstrations were seen and according to ex-fireman Perdue the steamer escorted into each port by fire boats. Automobiles took the party about the notable cities and the arrangements made by the Courier for the entertainment of the firemen, wherever they went were most complete.. Ex

On Buying Curtains

Remember LUX is at your service — its pure, bubbly suds make colours bright and clear, and the daintiest fabrics clean and fresh as when new.

The thin, satin-like flakes of Lux, manufactured by our own exclusive process, dissolve instantly into a rich lather as harmless to fine fabrics as pure water itself.

LUX

For Silk and coloured curtains—

Whisk a tablespoonful of LUX to a lather in half a bowlful of very hot water; then add cold water till lukewarm. Swirl the curtains about—work quickly—press the rich suds through and through the curtains but never rub. Rinse in three lukewarm waters. If you can, roll in a towel to dry Or, dry in the shade.

For white curtains—not silk—soak for an hour in cold water. Then wash in the same way, using hot suds. Rinse in three hot waters and dry in the sun.

Lux stands supreme. It is sold only in sealed packets—dust-proof!

EPWORTH LEAGUE HELD EXCURSION.

Lakefield News of Interest. Mosquitoes Are Getting Scarce.

LAKEFIELD, June 16. — The Epworth League of the Methodist Church held a successful moonlight excursion on Wednesday evening to Stoney Lake per Steamer "Stoney Lake". Although the weather was not very promising or very warm a large number took the trip, the first moonlight excursion of the season. The committee in charge spared no effort to make a good time for everyone.

Mosquitoes Scarce

The mosquito is becoming less obvious in the village much to the joy of the victims, who suffered in silence from a genuine plague of the little pests. Old inhabitants state of this year's crop as being larger and more ferocious than for many years.

RECIPES

WHILE radishes have little real food value in a muscle building way they do have a distinct place among the mineral and ballast foods. The constituents of the radish are much the same as the turnip. If you would make radish posies to serve with the salad at a "party," here is the way to do it.

Choose round red radishes, not too big. Wash carefully and cut off the tops to within three-eights inch from the radish. Make six cuts from the root end of the radish almost to the stem end. Cut just through the red skin and be sure that the incisions meet at the root end. Peel each petal-shaped section back as far as the cut extends.

Put in very cold water for two hours. The petals will spring out and curl back. Serve on the salad plate with an olive.

Radish Sandwichs

Wash the long white radish carefully and scrape lightly with a sharp knife. Let stand in very cold water for two hours. Drain and slice very thin. Sprinkle lightly with salt and put between thin slices of white bread and butter. These sandwiches are excellent to serve with a fish salad or a lettuce salad with a Russian or cheese dressing.

Creamed Radishes

Three cups round red radishes, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ cup milk, 4 tablespoons water radishes were cooked in, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 4 tablespoons buttered crumbs.

Wash radishes carefully and cut off every bit of stem. Cover with boiling water, and 1 teaspoonful of salt and and boil half an hour. Drain from water saving 4 tablespoonsful for the sauce. Put radishes in a buttered dish. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly.

Add radish water, salt and pepper and cook two minutes. Pour sauce over radishes. Sprinkle with crumbs and grated cheese and bake ten minutes in a hot oven. The cheese should be melted and the crumbs crisped. Serve in the dish in which the radishes are baked.

The long white radishes may be used. These should be scraped and cut in slices to cook.

EGGS for breakfast! This year biddy-hen is doing her best and the supply of eggs is large, so everybody can serve eggs lavishly.

Breakfast Eggs

Four eggs, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, parsley, paprika.

Melt butter without bubbling. Stir in flour. When smooth and well mixed slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and a few grains of pepper. Butter custard cups or ramikins. Put two tablespoons of the sauce in the bottom of each cup.

Add an egg, being careful to keep the yolk unbroken. Cover with 2 tablespoons of sauce. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Garnish with parsley.

Egg Parsley

Two cups bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 5 eggs, hot milk, butter.

Moisten bread crumbs with hot milk Add one egg and salt and pepper and mix thoroughly. Heat gem irons and butter well. Put a spoonful of the mixture in each ring, and an egg, dot with bits of butter and bake ten minutes in a hot oven.

Eggs en Coquille

Cut slices of bread about one and one-half inches thick. With a large biscuit cutter cut rounds of bread and with a smaller cutter cut half through each slice in the center. Cut out this smaller round, making a sort of patty shell. Dip in melted butter and brown in a hot oven.

Arrange these on a fireproof platter. Drop in each cavity an egg, being careful not to break the yolk. Pour over and around the following sauce. The proportions are for four servings.

Four tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon peppe flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon grated cheese.

Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and cook five minutes. Add cheese and cook over hot water till cheese is melted. Remove from fire and stir in unbeaten egg yolk.

Orange Omelet

Four eggs, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1 tablespoon grated orange peel, 2 tablespoons hot water, 1 teaspoon butter, orange marmalade.

Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Add salt, sugar, rind, orange juice and hot water to yolks and beat with a dover beater till thick and lemon colored.

Beat whites of eggs with a whisk till stiff and dry Cut and fold into first mixture until the whites have absorbed the yolk mixture. Heat omelet pan and butter sides and bottom. Pour in omelet mixture. Cook over a slow oven fire until the omelet is puffy.

Then finish in a hot oven. Spread half of the top with orange. Fold and turn on to a pot platter.

ITALY SENDS REPLY TO THE FRENCH NOTE

PARIS, June 16. — (Canadian Press.)— The Italian reply to the French Government's note of June 1, concerning the conference on Russian affairs at The Hague was delivered to the Foreign Office yesterday by Court Sforza.

The document was a brief one. It stated the Italian Government had taken cognizance of the French viewpoint but considered there was no occasion to modify the conditions under which the meeting of the experts at The Hague was to take place.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER LIVER FOR OVER 4 MONTHS

When the liver becomes slow, sluggish and torpid it is not working properly and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow among which are: sick or billious headaches heartburn, water brash, jaundice floating specks before the eyes, pain under the right shoulder, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

quickly remove the secretions, clear away the effete and waste matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood.

Mrs. Alice Mellon, Napanee, Ont. writes:—"I was very badly run down for over four months. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. One day my husband brought me home a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and before I had used half of it I was much better. I only used two vials and I am a different person today.

WYOMING ROBBERY TRIAL.

Woman Says Kidnapped by Robbers and Dentist Offers Sensational Evidence.

SARNIA, June 16 (Canadian Press). — Even the evidence of Mrs. Oliver Koehler, Crown witness in the Wyoming robbery trial, telling how she was kidnapped in London on the night of 3rd January and compelled to go to Port Stanley in a car with three men, said to have been connected with the robbery, was eclipsed by the testimony of Dr. James Milne, a London dentist, to the effect that he extracted a tooth for Edward McMullen at between two and three o'clock on 20th October, the day of the robbery.

Mrs. Koehler admitted that she set out to seek the reward, and her husband swore he would not believe her under oath.

DELEGATES TO DISTRICT MEET.

All Saints Win Debating Cup—A.Y.P.A. Convention Notes.

LAKEFIELD, June 16.—A meeting of the Peterborough District Council of the A.Y.P.A. was held in the Sunday School of St. John's Church on Wednesday evening. About sixty delegates were present from All Saints', St. John's and St. Luke's, Peterborough, and St. Thomas Church, Millbrook, and Christ Church, Omemee.

The meeting was enthusiastic in spite of the mosquitoes.

The second annual Local Council picnic will be held at Wallace's Point on June 29th, and suitable arrangements will be made by the Executive.

It was also decided to award the debating cup of the Local Council to All Saints', and arrangements were made to notify the Dominion President, who would see that the engraving was done at once.

Next year the debating will be arranged to take place earlier in the season, and a definite schedule is suggested.

After the business of the evening was ended, light refreshments were served by the members of the Lakefield branch.

Before leaving the visitors gave three cheers and a tiger for the Lakefield branch.

The next meeting will be held in Omemee on August 10th.

The following were present representing the six branches in the Council:

St. Luke's, Peterborough — Rev. Geo. Bonsfield. Mr. and Mrs. F. Patterson, Mr. Heber Rogers, Misses Clara Adams and Helen Burgess, Mr. Stanley Curtis.

St. John's—Miss Jean Horsfield, Mr. E. G. Brown, Miss Sedgwick.

THE HOME CIRCLE

JUST FOLKS

A Prayer—by Edgar A. Guest

Grant me the strength to meet to-day
Whatever burdens I must bear
Let me be cheerful when I may
Nor magnify my bit of care.

Open my eyes that I may see
The larger purpose of the plan,
And when disaster threatnes me,
Lord, let me face it like a man.

Let me have my vision so that I
May see beyond the doubt and dread
Tomorrow's smiling patch of sky
Let me not scorn the path I tread.

Let me behold the finished task—
Not now, but in the years to be
Grant me the faith and strength I ask
To bear its hardships willingly.

Lord, when I falter and am weak
And difficulties bar my way,
Hold up to me the goal I seek
And let me see beyond to-day.

Lord, let me find in toilsome care,
And bitter service to be done,
In petty failure and despair,
The larger glory to be won.

Judging the other fellow seems to be a very popular human failing. We all indulge in it to a greater or less degree usually greater. The queer thing about it is that we do not judge from our own standard of experience, but from some standard of perfection that we have concocted out of the past.

His own mistakes, to each individual seems to sneak up on him unawares. He cannot tell how it happened. He usually says it was the force of circumstances or some such reason and in most cases he is sincere. He believes he is right. Sometimes he is. Or when the other fellow slips it is always his fault. We never seem to realize that he may have been the victim of similar circumstances. We do not seem to realize that to him as well as ourselves, the thing in the beginning did not look wrong.

The next time you hear of someone making a serious mistake, before you censure him too strongly, try and remember how it happened and give the other fellow an equal chance. If you haven't made the mistake, don't be sanctimonious about it, but think how close you have come to it and if you missed it the chances are the miss was due to circumstances beyoun your control.

There is no man who is in a position to judge his fellow men. We all make mistakes and they are more or less the same kind. They vary in degree according to environment and circumstances beyond the individual's control, so no one has any occasion to pat himself on the shoulder.

We know it is true that a cloudy sky makes the most beautiful sunset and it seems that this same thing is true of life. The man or woman who has met many frials and misfortunes in life, if they are not embittering, is the one who has the most beautiful old age.

With many people there is the feeling that a cynical outlook on life is a thing to be cultivated. It shows worldliness and wisdom in their estimation. It may show worldliness, and it shows wisdom if it is wisdom to make one's self miserable and unhappy. But why always look on the wrong side? Why is it necessary to think that people always have a double meaning to everything they say? We always get what we are looking for if we look for slights and lies, we are sure to find them for we manufacture them out of our own minds.

Laurels are all very well but they have never been found substantial enough to support anyone. When a man begins to rest on his laurels he is bound to be let down, sometimes with considerable force.

The season when hearts and flowers begin to grow and expand is at hand. Let us hope, however, that the budding affections of the heart does not wither as quickly as the flowers which herald it.

TO EXPEDITE DIVORCES.

OTTAWA, June 16 (Canadian Press). — To render less expensive and expedite divorce proceedings is the object of an amendment introduced in the Senate yesterday by Senator Proudfoot, chairman of the Divorce Committee.

If this proposal is accepted, the advertising cost will be considerably reduced, and divorce Bills would be placed on a similar basis to that of other private Bills.

"When will I be going to College?"

"WHAT decided me to take additional insurance policies was the artless question of my little son," said a business man over the luncheon table.

"My little boy said, 'Daddy, when will I be going to college?'

"Well, I didn't feel sure I could answer that question for the simple reason I didn't know whether I'd be able to send him at all or not. I have two other boys and a girl to educate. The little fellow's question set me thinking. I figured that the safest and most direct way would be to consult a friend of mine who is an agent for the Mutual Life of Canada, and he advised me to take the 'Child's Endowment Policies' issued by that company.

"Under these policies the amount is payable to the child upon reaching a specified age. Should the child die in the interval the premiums are returned. Should the parent die the premiums cease but the policy is paid to the child just the same at maturity; should both the child and father die before maturity the amount will be paid to the assured's estate.

"I took his advice and now carry policies guaranteeing absolutely the cost of an education to each of the four children as soon as they reach the age where a college course would naturally begin."

"These policies are issued by the Mutual Life?" asked his friend.

"Yes, and being participating policies they become very inexpensive. The Mutual you know is the one Canadian Company that returns its entire profits to its policyholders."

McDERMID & JURY

Make Remarkable Offer to Any Person in Peterboro Who is Weak, Sick, Nervous or Run-Down.

It Is Now Possible For You to Come to This Store, Buy a Regular $1.10 Package of Nuxated Iron for $1.00, Use It for Two Weeks, and If at the End of That Time You Have Not Received All, and Even Greater Benefits Than You Expect, Simply Bring the Wrapper Back to McDermid & Jury, and We Will Cheerfully Hand You Back Your Money.

Peterborough people may well ask how we can afford to make this remarkable "Satisfaction or Money Back" offer. Medical examinations by physicians all over the country show that an amazing number of people lack 100% iron in their blood. At a recent conference, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out Door Department), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, said, "Without iron, the blood becomes weak, thin, pale, and watery. In many people this so seriously weakens their vital organs as to lead them to believe that they have heart or stomach trouble, kidney disease, nerve force exhaustion, or some other serious ailment. I have had people come to me thinking they had heart trouble, because they often had pains and palpitation of the heart, sudden dizziness, faintness, or spots before the eyes. In a great many of these cases, the moment iron was supplied, all of these symptoms disappeared." We make this offer because Genuine Nuxated Iron contains true organic iron like the iron in your blood. So many people are deficient in iron who would surely be benefited by this remarkable remedy, that we recommend that you come right to McDermid & Jury, and get your bottle of Nuxated Iron. Use it for two weeks, and note the improvement in your own case in strength, energy, and endurance. If you are not more than surprised at the results, just bring back the wrapper, and we will promptly refund your money without question.

Are You a Flirt? Blame Your Complex!

BY MARIAN HALE.

Why do girls flirt?

Often the question has been raised by despairing swains, frantic husbands and irate fathers and mothers.

Now the real truth is out. A girl flirts because she has an inferiority complex! Here we have something to put our teeth in.

This explanation comes from Andre Tridon, who has written several books on psychoanalysis, and who knows all the complexes by their first names.

* * *

"The inferiority complex is developed in childhood," he told me. "The little girl in school, not particularly apt, soon believes she is mentally inferior.

"The feminine instinct, which can always be relied on, warns her that if she is ever going to attract attention it must be by some other means than her scholarship and mental attainments.

"Then she begins to draw attention to herself by her curls or her engaging smile or some physical attribute. And another flirt, gold-digger, vamp or siren, is on the way.

"As she grows older her complex matures. Sub-consciously, she still believes she is inferior mentally. But she thinks if she can always be surrounded by men who seem to be madly in love with her, no one will notice this. She won't even notice it herself.

* * *

"She needs the constant assurance she is being admired and that she can charm men. She flirts because that is her way of getting what she must have."

So you see, when a woman once gets a firm growth of inferiority complex the matter is out of her hands. Even if she wished to renounce her ways she couldn't. Her complex wouldn't let her.

However, going further into the matter, I learned that everyone who amounts to anything has one. It is the only thing that ever made the race see any need for improvement.

* * *

"With strong types, the inferiority complex spurs the individual to greater mental activity," Mr. Tridon explained.

"The child who realizes she may not be a beauty, for instance, develops a charm of manner, and accomplishments that makes her as much sought after as if she were a beauty.

"A woman who feels herself inferior socially often develops into a splendid business or professional woman.

"The inferiority complex and a negative personality make a flirt or a freakish person of some kind. The inferiority complex and a positive personality make a social leader, an artist, a business or professional woman."

So now, Cleopatra, Helen of Troy, and the rest of you women who made history by your flirtations, we know why you did it! Your power started when you couldn't get your lessons.

After that you were merely the tools of your complexes!

Your Glands the New Goat

By MARGARET ROHE.

Mary had a little gland,
An endocrine you know,
And at the base of Mary's brain
This gland was sure to grow.

Little gland pituitary,
What a change you've made in Mary,
Caused her actions all to vary
Now that Mary isn't merry.

* * *

NEW YORK.—Have you a little pituicentric in your home? Or maybe it's an infantiloid. Anyway, don't tell me you are so behind the times that you are still full of inhibitions, complexes, urges and all the other psychoanalysis what-you-may-call-ems. Oh, my dear, how hopelessly lethargic of you.

Nowadays amongst all us wide-awake, alert, up-to-the-minute egoists internal secretions are the fullest things we're of.

Repressed desires, inferiority complexes, phychoses and what you have all been chucked out into the cold world to make room for a clubby little bunch of glands of internal secretions or endocrines. We call them all by their regular names, too—pituitary, thyroid, adrenal, pineal, thymus, gonad—just like that—some glib I call it after all the preparation and thought we gave to getting up on psychoanalysis jargon, attending lectures by Andre Tridon and everything and then having to switch to glands so suddenly.

Some of our very best little doctors of medicine are responsible for this very newest inside cult. Driven from writing prescriptions to writing books by the high cost of living and the disgustingly healthy state of their erstwhile best patients, they are turning out volumes that put us on an intimate footing with our internal seretions and internal glands. Wise doctor authors, they know nothing so intrigues the popular fancy as a close-up of its insides. Our innards are an open book to us after we shut the doctor's book. The perusal of a few chapters guarantees us a more thorough knowledge of the department of Interior than even Secretary Fall's. Is it any wonder this inside dope has us all agog and that books on endocrines and hormones are proving better sellers than even "The Sheik" and some of Ethel Dell's?

Take it from me as an inside tip, the cult of the endocrine is the very last work, and life has become just one internal secretion after another.

Old Man Thyroid.

With most of these internal glands we have as yet just a scraping acquaintance, but the thyroid gland at least seems like an old college companion to us pudgy persons. We've been swallowing so many thyroid pellets this last year in a wild effort to urge off a little excess tonnage that we are quite prepared now to swallow everything we hear about the thyroid gland and all its busy little internal secreting brother and sister glands.

Next to regulating embonpoint and being full of iodine the thyroid gland is especially interesting to me because it solves the mystery of the Adam's apple. All my life I've just been honing to know why is an Adam's apple? The answer is simply this: "It's a gentleman thyroid gland." What a pollyanna thought it is to realize that the more protuberant and like-a-nervous-elevator-at-every-swallow Philip's Adam's apple is, the more full he is of thyroid and temperament.

The thyroid certainly seems to be hitting on all cylinders, for it has a go at the brain as well, and a deficiency of thyroid means a deficiency of mentality and puts you among the subs, while an excess or state of hyperthyroidism means you are right there with the brilliant personality and a hit as an after-dinner speaker.

Little, But Oh, My!

All tucked away cosy-like in a bony box at the base of the brain nestles the pituitary. It's little, but oh, my! It can make a giant or a dwarf, a genius or a moron out of you, if you don't watch out. The pituitary is really twins called post and ante and, believe me, which of the two is the best man makes a lot of difference in your life and looks.

The pineal gland is our little old last year's third eye and it and the thymus are glands of childhood that are supposed to exit when we are all grown up. If they still hang around in our vegetative system the result is the angelface, babydoll, marypickford type. Doug, on the other gland, is all to the adrenal.

Now, can you imagine when your infer—I mean internal secretions get to working all wrong? My dear, according to Louis Berman, M.D., who has written a book all about it, called "The Glands Regulating Personality," just one little gland getting out of step is the answer to everything that goes awry.

If your husband beats you tomorrow, don't fret. It's just that his internal secretions aren't co-ordinating. If you fall in love with your chauffeur, you have only your gonads to blame, and a fainting fit or hysterics when the cook gives notice only means that your adrenals have failed you.

Isn't it all just too beautifully simple for anything?

You see "By their internal secretions ye shall know them" is the slogan of the endocrine fans. Personality, physique, pep—there just ain't nothin' these pesky glands don't regulate.

In the old days, according to Freud, Bill and Jung, you had to tell the story of your life, your real age and all your dreams before they could say "that" about you. Now, according to Berman, one look at the shape of your nose, a glance at your teeth, a glimpse of an eyebrow and you are immediately put in your proper place along with the rest of the pituicentric or infantiloids and there you are.

MISS McPHAIL AT PICNIC.

Says Farmers Must Emulate Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

OTTAWA, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has taught us that the strongest basis for organization is the bread and butter basis. It is taking us longer to learn that than it did them and we have not learned it yet," declared Agnes MacPhail, M.P., yesterday, when speaking to more than one thousand people at the annual picnic of the United Farmers of Carleton county. The C.M.A. had decided, she declared, to quit underselling one another and by standing together, to fix prices.

PROMINENT MEN LEADING THE WAY TO RELIEF OF STARVING CHILDREN

Prominent Canadians are identified with the administration of the Save The Children Fund, otherwise known as the Russian Famine Relief, which has its headquarters in Ottawa. Among those on the Executive of the Canadian Committee are the above gentlemen. Hon. Mr. King is Honorary-President; Col. Mackie, President; Hon. Mr. Meighen, Hon. Mr. Crerar, and Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Vice-Presidents; Sir Louis Davies, Deputy Governor-General, Honorary Secretary; Hon. W. S. Fielding, Honorary Treasurer; and Sir George Burn, a former president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Treasurer. Already sufficient money has been subscribed in Canada to feed 50,000 starving children until next August, but notwithstanding this generous relief, hundreds of thousands will perish unless help is forthcoming immediately. Twenty-five cents will feed one child for a week on a good diet—or one dollar for a month. Five dollars will provide for one hungry child until next harvest. Foodstuffs only are sent from Canada.

FEW DEMANDED RETURN MONEY

In the letter, it is stated that the superintendent of loan organizations in Toronto was not satisfied with the proportion of the Investment Society's liquid assets.

"Does this mean that you have made a change in your investment policy?" he was asked.

"No, there has been no change," replied Mr. Purdom.

"You mean that your investments are the same in nature and proportion as they have been during the past few years?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Purdom, "they are the same, except possibly, in minor details," and added in response to further queries that "the company is just as sound to-day as it has ever been."

Pressed for an explanation of the superintendent's decision regarding the company's liquid assets, Mr. Purdom said: "I can't explain it. He has simply decided that we haven't a large enough proportion of liquid assets. The reason I do not know. The amalgamation follows as a natural and satisfactory course."

"Is the present situation at all critical?"

"Not at all," replied Mr. Purdom in evident surprise. "The general public, that is, the depositors, cannot lose anything. The only people who are in the slightest danger are the stockholders, and their risk is very small."

BEFORE THE COURTS.

TORONTO, June 16.—A motion to wind up the Dominion Savings and Investment Society came before Mr. Justice Middleton to-day. On motion by counsel for the company it was enlarged until this afternoon to enable the directors to consider an offer of the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation to take over the company.

The petitioner is R. C. Rockardt, of London, shareholder and creditor to the extent of more than $6,000. His petition states his belief that the company is insolvent, and on the ninth of June made a general assignment for the benefit of the creditors to G. T. Clarkson and the Imperial Trust Co.

SECOND WIN FOR TORONTO OVER THE NEWARK BEARS

Home Run Breaks Up a Sixteen - Inning Battle Between Rochester and Reading.

INTERNATIONAL.

Toronto 6—Newark 0.

NEWARK, June 16 (Canadian Press). — Toronto made it two straight over the Bears, winning yesterday by 6 to 0. Clifford Best, the twirler of the Maple Leafs, held the Newark team to two hits. Score:

Toronto ..... 00115O001—6 8 1
Newark ..... 000000000—0 2 3

Best and Devine; Baldwin and Walker.

Rochester 7—Reading 5.

READING, June 16 (Canadian Press). — Sanberg's home run clout over the left field fence, with one on base, broke up a 16-inning game between Rochester and Reading here yesterday, and gave the decision to George Stallings' Colts by the score of 7 to 5. Gordonier, who pitched the 16 innings, tried hard to win his game in the eleventh inning when, with one out, he tripled to centre, but was called out at the plate when he came home on Gilhooley's fly to Archdeacon. Score:

Reading .. 00010310000000000—5 15 4

Buffalo 3—Jersey City 2.

JERSEY CITY, June 16 (Canadian Press). — Buffalo put a check on the Skeeters' winning streak by coming through with a victory in yesterday's game, 3 to 2, earning an even break. Score:

Buffalo ..... 011001000—3 8 0
Jersey City ..... 000010100—2 7 1

Fisher and Bengough; Zellars and Clarke.

Baltimore 10—Syracuse 8.

BALTIMORE, June 16 (Canadian Press). — Hard hitting by the Orioles, coupled with Dubuc's wildness, enabled Baltimore to defeat Syracuse, 10 to 8, yesterday. Score:

Syracuse ..... 20105O000— 8 10 0
Baltimore ..... 02210500x—10 13 2

Schulz, Dubuc and Niebergall; Ogden, Groves and McAvoy.

AMERICAN.

Boston 8—Cleveland 3.

CLEVELAND, June 16 (Canadian Press).—Boston won the second game of the series from Cleveland, 8 to 3. After pitching brilliantly for six and two-thirds innings, Mails, who had not started a game for two months, weakened. Uhle took his place, and the first two Boston batters to face him hit safely. Quinn was effective after the first few innings. Score:

Boston ..... 100001402—8 9 1
Cleveland ..... 201000000—3 11 0

Detroit 2—New York 1.

DETROIT, June 16 (Canadian Press). — Detroit was helpless before Mays for seven innings yesterday, but rallied in the eighth and scored two runs to beat New York 2 to 1. The Yankees obtained only four hits off Stoner and Dauss.

Umpire Hildebrand was escorted off the field under police protection after the game, when the Yankee players surrounded him, because he called Scott out in the ninth for bunting a foul on the third strike. The play retired the side with a runner on third. Score:

Detroit ..... 00000002x—2 9 0

Mays and Schang; Stoner, Dauss and Bassler.

Philadelphia 10—Chicago 8.

CHICAGO, June 16 (Canadian Press). — Philadelphia defeated Chicago 10 to 8 yesterday, breaking Chicago's winning streak of six consecutive games. Falk and Johnson got their signals crossed on a pop fly to left by Dykes, and the ball fell safe, filling the bases with one out. This paved the way for the Athletics' victory as Hauser, a pinch hitter, singled to right, sending two runs home and putting the Athletics in the lead.

Dykes cracked out his sixth homer of the season, and Walker put one into the bleachers, bringing his total of homers to twelve. Score:

Philadelphia ..... 001030033—10 15 0
Chicago ..... 400004000— 8 10 1

St. Louis 3—Washington 2.

ST. LOUIS, June 16 (Canadian Press). — The Browns went to within half a game of the lead yesterday by defeating Washington, 3 to 2, and by virtue of Detroit's 2 to 1 victory over New York. Score:

Washington ..... 001001000—2 6 0
St. Louis ..... 10020000x—3 10 1

Mogridge, Brillheart and Picinich; Davis and Severeid.

NATIONAL.

St. Louis 4—Brooklyn 3.

BROOKLYN, June 16 (Canadian Press). — St. Louis rallied in the eighth and ninth innings of yesterday's game, with Brooklyn, tied a three-run lead, and won 4 to 3 in the tenth. Stock's home run in the ninth with one on the paths ,tied the count. Score:

St. Louis ..... 0000000121—4 10 1
Brooklyn ..... 0000300000—3 10 2

Sherdel, Barfoot and Clemons; Cadore and Taylor.

New York 4—Pittsburgh 2.

NEW YORK, June 16 (Canadian Press). — The New York Nationals defeated Pittsburgh yesterday in a closely contested struggle, the worlds champions winning their sixth consecutive victory, by 4 to 2. Score:

Pittsburgh ..... 000101000—2 8 0
New York ..... 00001102x—4 10 0

Adams and Gooch; Ryan and Smith.

Philadelphia 7—Cincinnati 0.

PHILADELHIA, June 16 (Canadian Press). — George Smith blanked Cincinnati with six scattered hits and Philadelphia yesterday easily took the opening game of the series, 7 to 0. Score:

Cincinnati ..... 000000000—0 6 2
Philadelphia ..... 20400100x—7 10 1

HOME RUNS IN THE BIG LEAGUE TEAMS.

NEW YORK, June 16. Canadian Press. — Even though Babe Ruth is not setting the home run pace this season due to his belated start, the major leagues promise to pass the 1000 mark for their collective ecorts if the present pace is maintained. The season is one third gone but 347 circuit clouts have already been registered—516 in the Natoinal and 191 in the American —and the opportunity to eclipse last year's mark of 936 seems to be bright.

OTONABEE WIN GAME BY 6 TO 5

Hutchison Steps in With Fast Ball and Holds One Run Lead.

Otonabee nosed out a win over Lakefield in an East Peterboro league game at the ball lot yesterday yesterday afternoon to the tune of 6 to 5. The game was tied 5 to 5 at the end of the third, when Scott Hutchinson relieved Dick Rice on the hurling heap for Otonabee. The big fellow struck out the side in the fourth, and fanned three out of four batsmen to face him in the fifth. Lakefield started tapping the fast ball of his in the sixth and infield slips mad the Hill men dangerous, but they failed to tally. Hutchinson increased his fanning bee to eight batters in the three innings, and in the seventh he fanned Fitzgerald with runners on the paths, for the third out. Tommy Doughty heaved for Lakefield, and kept the Otonabee hits scattered.

Lakefield ..... 2030000 —5
Otonabee ..... 1221100x —6

Batteries—Doughty and Clarke; Rice, Hutchinson and O'Connor.
Umpire—Jake Solomono.

Lacrosse

The Junior O.A.L.A. group is beginning to take definite form as a result of Thursday's games in Havelock and Marmora. The present standing is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Havelock	2	0
Hastings	1	0
Peterborough	0	1
Marmora	0	2

The Brennan-Brinckman combination did most of the damage against Peterborough in Havelock. Their experience in the intermediate games with Campbellford last year proved invaluable, and they will make a strong pair to stop in the return game here, and will also make the Hastings squad hustle.

Johnnie Sutherland started Meyette in goal, and then switched Lou Lebarr back into the nets. He stopped a flock of them in the second half, although Havelock nicked him for four.

Without suggesting an alibi it might be mentioned that our or five of the local boys weren't helped by a big dinner chased with apple pie and ice cream. They'll learn some day.

From all accounts the game was clean, and the team brought back reports of good sportsmanship by the Havelock players.

Dr. Sutton has called a meeting of the executive for Saturday night to consider the extending of the city league schedule in order that it may be stretched out to enable the O.A.L.A. players a chance to get together. The local competitions have been creating interest, but they have undoubtedly prevented the holding of practices of the junior and juvenile teams. Meanwhile the Hastings and Havelock teams have been working together.

Ranger and Killoran were greatly missed from the home section, and the rawer recruits who were used were plainly at a loss against the more experienced Havelock players.

Hastings won in Marmora by 14 to 5 yesterday afternoon, with Elwin Somerville of Campbellford referee and Dick Cole penalty timer.

Jack Lebarr of the Athletics juniors, turned in a fine game Wednesday night. Athletics and Strathconas were tied at the end of their game at King Edward Park, two all, and at the Oval Riversides won from Crescents by 3 to 1.

Crescents are now leading the senior city league and in the junior the Athletics and Strathconas are tied for first place.

School lacrosse games scheduled for to-morrow morning are: King Edward vs. Prince of Wales at 9.30; Queen Mary vs. Queen Alexandria at 10.30 and Central vs. King George at 11.30. Every boy who has a stick is requested to bring it along, and the P.A.A.A. will have a supply of sticks for those who have none of their own.

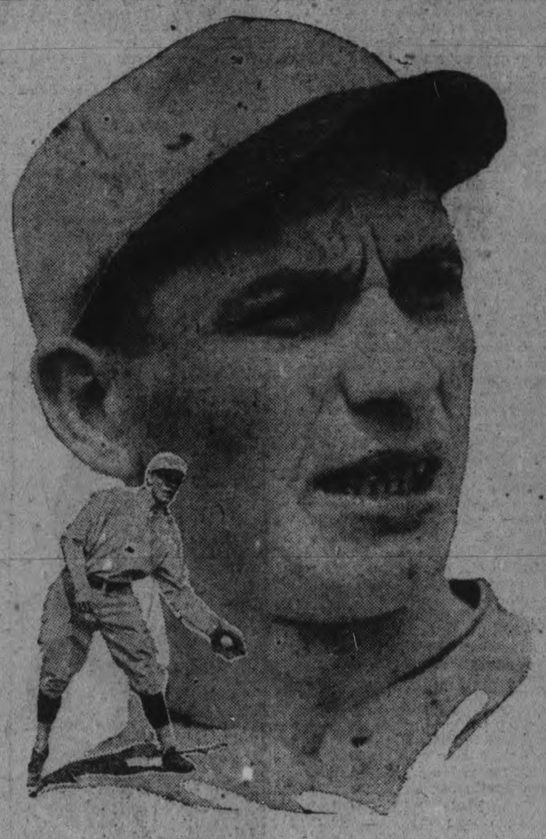
RAYBESTOS AND C.G.E. TO-MORROW

Double Bill of Ball For Fans Saturday Afternoon.

And now for the big battle. Raybestos and Canadian Generals settle their little argument at Riverside Park tomorrow afternoon. Canadian Generals won the game when the teams first met, but the league executive threw out the contest and ordered another meeting. Raybestos claim they are just as good as the Electrician's and can throw a big score into the Generals' camp. There is bound to be all kinds of excitement during the afternoon's fray.

The bill for the afternoon also includes a junior fixture beween Holy Name and Adanacs.

Browns' Star Second Sacker



MARTY McMANUS

By BILLY EVANS.

In a sense, the work of two of the lesser lights have added the strength which has converted the Browns from a strong club into a dangerous pennant contender.

I have reference to Frank Ellerbe and Marty McManus, with particular emphasis on young McManus.

Ellerbe has plugged up the hole at third base which has existed ever since Father Time made the going rough for Jimmy Austin.

However, the work of Marty McManus at second base has been the sparkplug of the combination. The loss of Joe Gideon made a big flaw in the inner defense of the Browns. McManus has finally tilled it.

After being tried out at various positions, with only ordinary success, Manager Fohl shifted McManus to second. That shift made the Browns, ended many of Fohl's worries, and gave McManus a chance to prove his worth.

McManus, to use the slang of the ball field, has the "guts." An injured arm greatly affected his work last spring and made him a target for the fans. He rode through it.

McManus can field and he can think. He is fast on a double play, and with the brilliant Gerber working alongside of him makes a great combination around the keystone sack.

Better yet, McManus is aggressive in a proper manner, is always trying to learn, and is constantly improving. He is destined to be even a much better ball player than he is today, and he is a corker right now.

THE PACKERS FALL BEFORE THE OWLS

The Owls defeated C.P.C., 2 to 1, in a well-played game at King Edward Park last evening for the first round of the Phelan Charity Cup series. At the start off the Owls took command of the play and attacked strongly, but were held by the Packers defence. After ten minutes' play Hutton got possession of the ball and drove from the 18-yard line, the ball beating Lasenby for the first score.

The C.P.C. were unfortunate that they lost the services of Matt. Shaw at this period, who was called away suddenly. The other ten players took upon themselves the job of keeping the eager Owls at bay, and were so successful that half-time saw the score unaltered.

In the second half C.P.C. took up the attack and gave the Owls defence a hard run. Their pressure was rewarded when Hotstone headed through a lovely cross from the right wing, giving the Packers the goal to tie the score. C.P.C. kept at it and twice had the ball in goal, but off-side mullified both points.

Bills of the Owls was injured and retired Hardie playing forward. Ten minutes from time Ted Hotstone got the winning goal for the Owls with a drive from outside the defence.

The teams were:

C.P.C.%Lasenby, Oxley, Downer, Bradbury, J. Shaw, Batley, Lewman, Davis, M. Shaw, Clarke and Follis.

Owls—McFadden, Hardie, Frost, Burrows, "Wag" Edwards, Bills, Hutton, Willis, Burgess and Ted Hotstone.

Referee—J. Clark.

BIG FIELD DAY IS POSTPONED

Will Be Held on June 24 Instead of To-Morrow Morning. Other Entries.

Owing to the fact that many of the boys entered in the field events, which were to have been held tomorrow morning at Nicholls Oval, are engaged in the construction of the Rest House at Jackson Park, the event has been postponed till week from tomorrow.

The delay will also give some of the Schools who have not run off the preliminary events a chance to do so and have their boys entered for the finals.

Unlimited class—Roy Gibson.

A meeting of the local Canoe Club will be held at 7 o'clock Monday evening in the Y.M.C.A. and all boys who are interested in paddling are urged to be present. Arrangements have been made to borrow the war-canoes belonging to St. Paul's and the Y.M.C.A. and practice will start immediately.

It is planned to have teams entered in the regattas at Sturgeon Point, Chemong, Stoney Lake and Lakefield, with contestants entered for the singles, fours, tandems and war-canoes.

QUAKERS WIN FAST GAME FROM TIGERS.

The Quaker Oats defeated the "Y" Tigers in a close and well played game at the Armouries Wednesday evening, 31 to 30. A big crowd of rooters turned out for the game and were well repaid, for it was one of the best games played in the Girls' League this season.

In the junior game Queen Alexandria defeated the C.O.S., 18 to 11. This game was also an exhibition of good fast ball.

UMPIRE REPORTS ON DISPUTE IN LINDSAY GAME

Mr. Anderson Thinks He Could Have Called Runner Out But Rules Do Not Bear Out His Contention.

The report sent by Umpire J. W. Anderson to President Parsons of the Central Ontario League in reference to the dispute in Wednesday's game at Lindsay confirms the impression that Mr. Anderson, albeit honest and a good sport, is decidedly hazy about the rules of baseball. His contention that he could have called the runner out is ridiculous for the rule on this point is quite clear that base runners are entitled to all the bases they can make.

The Lindsay Post admits for it says that "allowing Peterboro the run which that rule says is legal, the game ended a tie, and a re-play is now necessary". Here is Mr. Anderson's report:

Mr. E. Parson, President C.O.B.L. Oshawa.

Dear Sir, —On June 14th, the official umpire for the Lindsay-Peterboro game not being on hand, I was asked by the management of the Lindsay-Peterboro clubs to act as umpire on balls and strikes a Peterboro man going on the bases.

In the first half of the eighth innings Peterboro had a man on second base with two men out, the batter drove a liner to the Lindsay shortstop, who handled the ball in perfect shape, and made what looked like a perfect throw to first base, which I should judge would have caught the runner by ten feet. The base umpire who was standing behind the pitcher, ran towards first base to see the play, and ran directly in line of the thrown ball, which struck him on the back and bounded to the outfield, the runner from second coming home.

In the dispute which followed I ordered the runner to third base and let the batter remain on first base. I honestly think I should have called the batter out, as, if the ball had not been interfered with he would have been out.

The Peterboro team continued the game from that point under protest, the Lindsay team winning out 6-5.

Yours truly,
J. W. ANDERSON,
Acting Umpire.

MRS. GRASSER HAD LOST HEART OVER HER CASE

Winnipeg Woman Says Tanlac Gave Her Complete Relief From Serious Stomach Trouble After Everything Else Had Failed.

"I have taken seven bottles of Tanlac and am now feeling like a new woman," declared Mrs. C. Grasser, 304 Kennedy street, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

"Three years ago my stomach got out of order and had troubled me ever since. I was treated for chronic indigestion but kept getting worse. I had no appetite and simply dreaded to eat on account of the miseries I suffered afterwards. My left side hurt me so I could not lie on it and it was often a struggle for me to breathe. I also suffered with sick headache and was so nervous and restless I hardly slept a wink.

"I read about Tanlac and decided to try it. I did not see much improvement until I had finished the third bottle but after that I got well rapidly, I now have the best of health and am glad to add my voice to the others who are praising Tanlac".

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

EILEEN PERCY DUE IN "ELOPE IF YOU MUST"

Eileen Percy, the beatuiful Fox star, is to be at the Royal Theatre beginning to-day in the comedy "Elope if you Must." Cast in the role of a clever young actress in hard luck, Miss Percy blends her irresistible charm and comedy talent to make this new production one of her best.

The story, which was written by E. J. Rath, the noted fictionist, deals with the efforts of a wealthy father to divert the interest of his frivolous daughter from the scion of a socially-elect family — a man whose chief attribute is his social position—to a young lawyer, who also is courting her. Just how the little girl of the stage lends her assistance to the solution of the problem facing the anxious father goes to make one of the liveliest and most entertaining screen comedies of the season, it is said.

AT THE REGENT.

Hayakawa, formerly of the Imperial Theatre at Tokio, Japan, claims that "The Vermilion Pencil," now at the Regent, and last week at the Hippodrome, is his best picture to date. The story, laid in China, is that of a Mandarin's wife, unjustly suspected of infidelity is, by raising the vermilion pencil, executed by "the death of a thousand tortures, preparations for which are shown in the picture. Her husband finds, too late, she was innocent. He has his son educated as mining engineer in America. The son returns, and whilst building a drain sees a wonderful Chinese maiden teaching woodland birds to sing. They get engaged, but she is stolen as wife for the viceroy of a province. The young man helps her escape, and, whilst hiding in the Dragon's Den on the summit of a volcano, an eruption that destroys whole villages, gets her away when she becomes like him, a Christian and the wedding bells peal out a merry roundelay. "The Get-Away" is a stirring romance of western cowbody life with a kick and a thrill in every foot of the four reels. The two comedies and the Illustrated News of the World are all crackerjacks. This programme is the kind you see for more money at the big Toronto Theatres, as the programme includes a comedy with "that little rascal, Baby Peggy."

LITTLE GOLF LESSONS

The player should consider the stance as it accomodates itself to his comfort. Players should be careful, however, not to confound lack of ease in the unaccustomed with lack of control. The lack of ease will wear away when the adjustment is completed. This lack of ease with the beginning of a new, but proper stance is not the same thing as the akwardness lack of balance and general discomfort of an improper stance.

Here we see the hard-hitting Ted Ray, famous British star and five times British open champion. His slightly open stance in this drive enables him to apply the utmost snap to his driver as it goes through the ball while at the same time the ball, because of the position of his feet, will keep low to the ground.

TENNIS RESULTS.

LONDON, June 16.—(Canadian Press)— In the third round of the Kent tennis championship played at Beckingham Wednesday. Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory defeated Mrs. O'Neill, 6-0, 6-1.

Mrs. Peacock, British, beat Miss Edith Sigourney, of Boston, 6-4, 6-0.

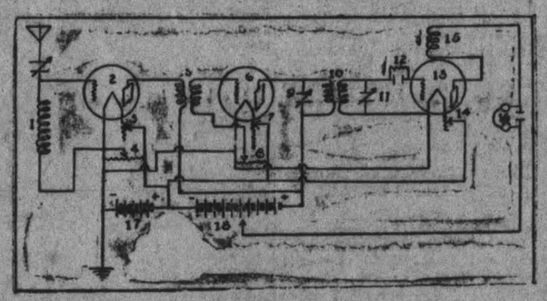
Radio Frequency Hook-Up Increases Receiving Range of Set

Director, Radio Institute of America.
BY R. L. DUNCAN

To increase the receiving area of a radio set, arrange it in a radio frequency receiving circuit.

This will pick up signals from far-away points that could not otherwise be detected.

Differing from the arrangement in audio frequency, it will be noted that the radio frequency amplifiers are placed ahead of the detector. This strengthens the signals which would be too feeble otherwise to pass into the detector with enough strength to go through the process of rectification.



HOOK-UP OF RADIO FREQUENCY AMPLIFIER

In an audio frequency circuit the amplifier is placed after the detector to give greater volume to the incoming signals after passing through the detector.

Hook-Up

Referring to the diagram, we have the aerial with a variable condenser in series.

No. 1 represents the antenna inductance. This should be a honey-comb or duo-laterial coil, the size to be used depending upon the desired wave length.

No. 2 and No. 6—Amplifier, or "hard," vacuum tubes.

No. 3 and No. 7—Filament rheostats.

No. 4 and No. 8—Potentiometers which give qner variation of the filament current.

No. 5 and No. 10—Radio frequency transformers.

No. 9—Variable condenser of about .0005 microfarads, connected in the plate circuit of the second amplifying tube.

No. 11—Another variable condenser.

No. 12—Grid condenser of .00025 microfarads and grid leak if 1 megohm.

No. 13—Detector tube.

No. 14—Rheostat controlling filament current in detector tube.

No. 15—Ticket coil giving regeneration to the circuit. This may be a variometer or a honeycomb, or duo-lateral coil.

No. 16—High resistance head phones shunted by fixed condenser.

No 17—Six-volt storage or "A" battery.

No. 18—Variable "B" battery which should have a varying voltage from 17 to 45 volts.

The amplifying tubes take approximately 45 volts on the plate while the detector tube takes approximately 22½ volts. "B" batteries may be purchased with varying steps. These would be perferable in this hook-up.

To further increase the receptive powers of the set, audio amplification may be added after the detector for a still greater volume of reception.

Capitol Entertainment

Admirers of Thomas Meighan will like him in "The Bachelor Daddy," the drama with a distinct comedy element which is the feature at the Capitol Theatre this week end. In it, he has a likeable part as Richard Chester, owner of a silver mine in the South, who is engaged to the aristocratic Ethel McVae, and whose romance is all shot to pieces by the unexpected legacy from an old friend and employee, of five motherless children.

There is plenty of whimsical humour in the situations which develop out of Dick's ready-made family, who are all possessed of the requisite amount of mischief and waywardness to keep the action moving swiftly. They have a wonderful time on the train, coming North, with the property of the various travellers on board, and mix Dick's plans up pretty thoroughly when his haughty fiancee refuses to have anything to do with them. The little secretary, plain but motherly, steps in and loves them all, succeeding to the proud Ethel's position as Dick's intended wife.

There is a funny comedy, depicting the trials of a couple of fortune-hunters in their efforts to capture a rich wife, which finally lands them in the County Asylum, with the 'nut' who has posed as a girl of eighteen with $50,000, and Whitney's Doll Revue, the vaudeville attraction, is a distinct novelty, after the fashion of the old Punch and Judy shows, in which marionettes with real faces sing and dance in a miniature box theatre.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Erich von Stroheim Director of the million dollar photoplay, "Foolish Wives," wants to know if you are a foolish wife?

If you can answer these questions in the affirmative you are.

"Do you nag your husband when he comes home at night after a hard day at the office?"

"Dou you tell him that Mrs. Jones has a limousine and a diamond brooch and that you must have them too?"

"Do you go into details about the baby's food and Mrs. Gossipheimer, who came to call? "

"Do you use him as a foil for your thoughts of another man?"

"Do you secretly hope that romance with a capital R will come into your life—regardless of your husband?"

"Do you tell him that he isn't styl ish like Mr. Gravenidol, whose cravenets are impeccable?"

"Do you keep books or do you sign checks and forget to enter the amounts on the stubs?"

"Do you taunt your hsband with failure and compare him with some dishonest rascal, who makes a lot of money at the expense of innocent investors?"

"Do you dress up for other men and cold cream your face and put your hair in kid curlers for your husband?"

"Do you criticize his personal appearance and, especially, do you fuss at him about his poorly kept nails?"

"Do you insist on buying his shirts and scarfs and choosing his suits and their designs?"

"Do you invite your friends to a party and 'jazz' it up with his private stock?"

"Do you secretly make a bid for the admiration of other men and then deny all knowledge of it when Friend Husband becomes suspicious?"

"Do you secretly accept presents from other men and then hide them from your husband?"

"Do you play bridge for money and pay your debts wtih your husband's cash?"

"Do you accuse him on an average of three times a week of failing to love you?"

"Are you suspicious of him, and believe the worst of him on all possible occasions?"

"Do you openly accuse him of loving someone else more than yourself?"

"Do you quarrel with him when he wants to go to the club for an evening?"

"Do you complain when he plays golf on his free day?'

"Do you assume the air of a martyr and tell him how hard life is, and how serious are your problems?"

Mr. Von Stroheim, whose "Foolish Wives," is to be presented at the Capitol Theatre, June 22nd, suggests that unhappy husbands might propose the foregoing questions to their wives some dull evening. Or perhaps it might be just as well not to do so.

COUNTY COUNCIL OPENS ON TUESDAY

June Sessions Next Week With Warden Strickland in the Chair.

The June sessions of the County Council open at the Court House next Tuesday afternoon. Warden J. C. Strickland of Lakefield, fresh from the novel distinction of having accepted a dare and won a bet, that few of his friends expected him to make good with the assistance of E. R. Tate, will preside, and unless he has closed his books to any other strong man stunts may find some of his farmer colleagues willing to take him on. Most of the business of the session is routine, with Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock fixed as the hour for hearing a deputation from the Peterboro Fair Board.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)— Prices at opening of to-day's stock market were very conflicting. Mexican Petroleum gained 1 1-2 points, while Studebaker added almost two points to yesterday's loss. Changes otherwise were mainly downward. Rails were moderately lower, offering of that group being comparatively small in face of increased labor difficulties. American Brake Shoe, Mercantile, Rine Preferred, U. S. Rubber and U.S. Realty were firm to strong Preliminary quotations for leading foreign exchanges were steady Additions to first hour's reversals included St. Paul Preferred, Wheeling and Lake Erie Preferred, Lake Erie and Western and some of low priced Domestic Oils, Motors and Equipments. Entire list became fevcrishly unsettled before noon when offerings of other speculative rails as well as secondary industrials denoted another outburst of involuntary liquidation. There was very little demand for call money at opening rate of three per cent.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)—Sterling exchange demand rates Great Britain 4.46 1-2. Canadian Dollar 13-16 of one per cent. discount.

MONTREAL MARKETS

MONTREAL, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)—Few price variations of distinctly bullish nature were recorded on local stock exchange this morning. Abitibi made a point advance on single transaction to 52. Of other Paper issues Price Brothers was down a half at 401-2. Spanish Preferred was up a point at 94 and Wayagamack was unchanged at 49. Bell Telephone held fractionally stronger this morning at 110 1-8. Montreal Power registered a gain of a point to 92. Lyall Construction Company and National Breweries were unchanged at 48 and 57 3-4 respectively.

TORONTO STOCKS.

TORONTO, June 16.—(Canadian Press.—Morning sessions of Toronto stock exchange to-day was extremely quiet, sales being mostly of odd lot variety. Brazilian lost 1-4 at 47 1-2, Steamship Pfd. 3-4 at 50, C.P.R. 2 at 137, Consumers' Gas 3 at 149 and Dome Mines 1 at 29.00. Toronto rates closed 1-4 higher at 72 3-4 and Cement 3-4 higher at 68 1-2. Of these stocks, Brazilian and Toronto Rails were only ones in which transactions exceeded a hundred shares. Banks and Loans were also dull.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 16.— (Canadian Press.)—Opening wheat prices which varied from one to 1 1-8c, decline to 1 1-4c. advance, July 1.10 to 1.10 1-2 and Sept. 1.10 to 1.10 7-8, was followed by material gains all around and then by something of a reaction. Corn and Oats were firmer with Wheat. After opening 1-8 to 5-8c. off July 61 to 61 1-8, Corn market scored moderate gains. Oats started unchanged to 1-4 cents higher, July 33 7-8, and later made slight general advance.

Social Calendar

The pupils of Miss Edwina Palmer of the Conservatory of Music staff, are giving a recital at the Conservatory of Music to-night at 8 p.m. A splendid programme has been arranged and the public generally are invited to attend.

Mrs. James Mowat of Port Perry is in the city visiting friends for a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Thomas, late of Montreal, are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey, 212 Brock street.

Mrs. Sydney Betts and her daughters, Hilda, Lillian Flossie, and Violet, left on Monday night to visit Mrs. Betts' brother at Middleton, Nova Scotia.

Mr. Fred. White, of this city, acted as groomsman at the wedding of his brother, Harry Clifford White, of Ottawa, to Victoria May Selby, at James' Church, in Kingston yesterday.

Miss Helen Carthy, of Toronto, who is to take charge of the Y.W.C.A. Girls' Camp, is at the local Association. Miss Carthy will be glad to meet any girls interested in camp. Registrations should be made as early as possible.

Mr. Cyril Carroll, of Toronto, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. W. J. Young, Water Street.

On Wednesday of this week, Mrs. F. P. McNulty and the Misses Sullivan motored to Toronto in the morning, returning the same evening.

Miss Helen Carthy, who will be in charge of the Y.W.C.A. Girls' Camp at Stoney Lake this summer, arrived in the city yesterday.

The many friends of Mrs. N. D. Seaton will regret to learn of her illness at Nicholls Hospital.

On Wednesday evening of this week, a large number of the ladies of Trinity Church assembled in the Reid Street Hall, to say farewell to their pastor's wife, Mrs. F. E. Malott, prior to her departure for Belleville, where Mr. Malott will be in charge of the Bridge Street Methodist Church.

The main feature of the evening was the presentation to Mrs. Malott of a handsome solid walnut dinner-waggon and six Crown Derby cups and saucers, with cream pitcher and sugar bowl to match. The presentation was made by Mrs. W. J. Green, while Mrs. R. F. Downey read the address. Mrs. Malott, who was taken completely by surprise, thanked the ladies in a graceful little speech.

During the evening a short musical programme and interesting games were enjoyed, the platform of the hall presenting a gay appearance with its quantities of banked-up paonies and field daisies.

The service of light refreshments was followed by the singing of "For she's a jolly good fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne."

WEDDING BELLS

SMITHSON—SULLIVAN.

A very quiet wedding took place on 9th June, at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. McKee, North Monaghan, when Ella May Sullivan, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Sullivan, was united in marriage to Leonard A. Smithson, of Vancouver.

Rev. J. A. Mackenzie performed the ceremony.

The bride looked charming in blue silk overlaced with georgette, carrying sweetheart roses.

The bride's gift to the groom was a pair of cuff links, and the groom's gift to the bride was a rope of pearls.

A dainty luncheon was served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Parks, to about thirty guests.

The bride was the recipient of many pretty gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Smithson left for a motor trip to Toronto, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Victor.

The young couple will reside in North Monaghan.

VOL. L., No. 141 PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1922 PRICE THREE CENTS

LOAN COMPANY NEAR LAST OF CASH ON HAND

London "Advertiser" Involved in the Failure of Dominion Savings and Investmeut.

$130 REMAINED

LONDON, June 17.—(Canadian Press)—(Special) —When the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation stepped in yesterday and took over the business and assets of the Dominion Savings and Investment Society, also its liabilities to the public, only $130 in cash remained on the premises. It is said that the Purdom family is staking everything on the readjustment, that mortgages on the homes of President T. H. Purdom, and Vice President Alex. Purdom on King street, adjoining the Alexandria School grounds, and on the summer home of Mr. T. H. Purdom at Port Stanley, have been delivered into the hands of the Huron and Erie, while unprejudiced stock of the London Advertiser, Haydon Press and Middlesex Mills have been hypothecated. I tis understood that under this arrangement the Huron and Erie has come into possession of sixty per cent of the stock of the newspaper. The old Advertiser building on Dundas street, a splendid three story structure, which has been unoccupied waiting a purchaser, was sold a few days ago by the Dominion Savings to the Northern Life for an amount said to be $125,000. It is a good building and the price is regarded as fair, both between buyer and seller. The Merchants Bank, just before it collapsed, held an option on it for $155,000 which it intended to exercise.

During recent weeks the company's offices has been in charge of Inspector Henry, from the Department of Provincial Registrar, Toronto. Recently negotiations were carried on between the Ontario Registrar Mr. Gray, the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company, of London, with a view to having the Ontario Loan carry out the work that the Huron and Erie has now undertaken. For a time it appeared certain that the Ontario Loan would Act, but a week ago, these negotiations collapsed.

The Huron and Erie and Mr. Gray arranged for the cooperation of a number of other Ontario Loan and Trust companies. A committee representing these companies sent a a picked staff of investigators in the Dominion Savings Offices, headed by A. B. Fisher of Toronto, manager of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company, and including A. Hessin, manager of the Canadian Permanent Mortage Corporation, Toronto; J. F. Main, manager of the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company, of London; C. J. Clarke of the Huron and Erie Head Offices London, and R. P. Baker, investment manager of the Toronto Office of the Huron and Erie.

A BAND CONCERT SUNDAY EVENING

By permission of Lieut.-Col. McPherson and the officers, the band of the 57th Regiment, under the direction of Capt. Gliddon, will render the following programme of music in Victoria Park to-morrow evening:
National Anthem.
March—"Bravest of the Brave."
Iverture from "Norma."
Clarionet solo—"Long, Long Ago,"
Bandsman R. Dyer.
March—"Colonel Bogey" (by request).
Hymn—Selected.
"La Paloma."
"Life on the Ocean Wave."
"O Canada."

Murray Street Sunday Evening

The subject at Murray Street Baptist Church on Sunday evening will be "Failure of a Priest". The pastor will preach at both services. The Sunday School meets at three o'clock and the Bible Class at the same hour. The choir will render suitable music at each service.

NO DISRUPTION OF EMPIRE

A Bogey and a Phantom Idea, Declares Currie.

WINNIPEG, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)—"Some may see in the cultivation of a more independent national spirit the bogey and phantom of a disruption of the Empire, but such fears are unreasonable and are but phantom without form," declared Sir Arthur Currie to delegates of the annual convention of Universities here last night.

FRENCH PREMIER VISITS LONDON

LONDON, June 17.—(Canadian Press).—Although it is stated that Premier Poincaire's vist to London is not intended to be in any wise political it is believed he will have important dscussions with the Prime Minister Lloyd George on near eastern question. It is almost certain that the Hague conference and, German reparations will be taken up says semi- official statement to-day.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED TODAY

Killings Continue in and Around Belfast — New York Press Comment.

BELFAST, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)— Four men and one woman were shot dead and two men wounded this morning in the vicinity of Bess Brook, County Armagh, and the house of three Loyalists was burned. It is believed that the massacre was a reprisal for the killing of two men Wednesday.

Police from Armagh and Down are investigating murders at Bess Brook, which is near the Free State border. Attacks, the Central News correspondent says, were made by armed bands of Sinn Feiners. Two of the victims lived alone in a cottage. The raiders burst in a door, ordered two out of bed and shot them as they stood side by side. A platoon of special constables was ambushed yesterday at Forkhill, on the Armagh Louth border near Bess Brooks. One of the specials was killed and another wounded.

PRELATES HELD UP.

BELFAST, June 17. — (Canadian Press.)—Cardinal Logue, Primate of Ireland, and his coadjutor, Archbishop O'Donnell, were again held up by members of the Ulster Constabulary last night when their automobile was stopped near Newry and searched by a patrol.

Both prelates were ordered to alight and submit to search, which they did, although giving their names. The bags in the automobile were searched and all papers and documents carried by the prelates were scrutinized, after which they were allowed to proceed. This is the third time Cardinal Logue has been held up by the Ulster Constabulary.

IMPOSE DEATH PENALTY.

LONDON, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)—Incendiarism is so rampant in Belfast, says the Post's correspondent, that when the Ulster Parliament re-assembles Tuesday the Government is likely to introduce legislation imposing the death penalty for those convicted of setting fires.

NEW YORK COMMENT.

NEW YORK, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)—Constitution of an Irish Free State demonstrates Great Britain's sincerity and generosity, and should be acceptable to every Irish citizen who has his country's real interest at heart. This is the general tenor of the editorial comment which is printed by New York papers to-day upon the document which is expected to bring about a new era of peace in Ireland.

DUBLIN, June 17. — (Canadian Press.)— Eamon De Valera visited Republican headquarters to-day. It is generally believed that he strongly disapproves of Free State constitution and it is expected he will make a statement outlining his views of the document Monday.

JOINT SCHOOL PICNIC IN HEFFERNAN'S GROVE

A joint picnic of No. 9 school, Douro ,and the 6th line school, Otonabee, was held on Friday afternoon in Frank Heffernan's grove, at the corner of the 6th line and the Norwood road. Several hundred persons were present with the school children, and although the event had been called on only short notice, it was a complete success. In a baseball game No. 9 Douro won from the 6th line by the score of 28 to 11, and the tug of war was a victory for the 6th line. The races were as follows:

Girls over 12—1 Eva Heffernan, 2 Jean Donaldson, 3 Stella Heffernan.
Girls under 12—1 Lizzie O'Leary, 2 Jean Wood, 3 Hazel Heffernan.
Girls under 9—1 Irene Torpey, 2 Kathleen Fitzgerald, 3 Kathleen Heffernan.

LOCATE YOUTH CARRIED AWAY 7 YEARS AGO

Prayer of the Mother of Jimmy Glass Answered After a Long Wait.

A STRANGE STORY

WASHINGTON, June 17—Little Jimmie Glass has been found. A seven-year search and a mother's prayer and yearning have been rewarded .

On May 12th., 1915, James Douglas Glass, aged 4 son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Glass, 13 Lineau Place Jersey City, N.J. went out to play. He never came back. To-day positive informaton was received by the Department of Justice that he had been located at Aqadilla, Porto Rico, a member of a travelling band of gypsies.

Cables were despatched to Federal agents there to hold the boy, now 11 years old, until a member of the family can arrive to identify him and concluded one of the most remarkable kidnapping cases known in America.

After the police in every American and Canadian city had failed to find any trace of the missing boy, the family as a last resort appealed to the Department of Justice. William J. Burns, director of the Bureau of Investigation, had thousands of circulars printed and sent one to every Government agent.

Early in May he received word from Porto Rico that gypsy band answering the description had been seen in the island. They were trailed through the bush and jungle for many days and finally located. With them was a boy answering in every detail the description of Jimmie Glass. Measurements were sent which tallied exactly with scentific calculations of what they should be at his present age.

Convinced that the long search is over, but in order to remove any possibility of a mistake, the family was questioned as to any marks on the boy. They described one and this was cabled. Verifications is now being awaited.

There are few readers who do not recall the mysterous disappearance of Jimmie Glass. It occurred while the family was visting in Greeley, Pike County, Pa. When he failed to return one evening, neighbors started a search. For months the countryside was scoured. Rivers and creeks were dragged. Finally hope for his recovery, or finding any trace of him was abandoned by everyone except his mother.

A Mother's Intuition

With a woman's intuition she believed that he had been kidnapped by a band of gypsies that disappeared from the locality that same aftar noon. Alone she began a nation-wide search. She first ascertained the name of the gypsies. They were Nicholas and Rosie, son and daughter of John Cruz, who was a kind of chieftain.

Their specialty was palmistry at small country fairs and carnivals She failed to find any trace of them but everywhere she visited she left circulars describing the boy and his suspected captors. Finally, she enlisted the aid of a gypsy king, a man who claimed to be the head of every band operating within the United States. Touched by her grief, he volunteered to aid her in every way possible. Finally, after communicating with many subordinates, the king advised her that he could find no trace of such a boy, nor of the Cruz family. He told her that they must have left the United States.

It was then that she decided to appeal to the Government, and early in May sought an audience with Mr. Burns. He did not ridicule her story, as many had done. Several aspects of t, little things picked up by her in odd places, particularly the evidence of the gypsy king, convinced him that the boy had been kidnapped and that in all possibility fear of detection had sent his kidnappers hurrying to some remote spot. It was not long before he had operatives close upon the trail that finally led down to Porto Rico.

No Chance of Mistake

Mr. Burns declares there is little possibility of a mistake being made. Although exposed to a constantly changing life and environment, the 11-year-old boy with the gypsy band is remarkable like the four-year-old boy of 1915 in appearance. He has the same heavy head of light hair, the same roundness of face. His skin is naturally tanned from his life in the open.

The three gypsies correspond exactly with the description of the three who disappeared from Greeley

Mr. Burns is taking no chances He has ordered that a strict guard be maintained over the entire party until a member of the family arrives from the United States and makes identifcation legally certain.

An Unveiling Ceremony Will Take Place at Trinity Church Tomorrow

An event which marks the culmination of efforts extending over a period of years or more will be the ceremonies to be held to-morrow morning at Trinity church, in connection with the unveiling of two beautiful stained-glass windows and a bronze tablet, which have been installed in the church in memory of the men of the congregation who fell overseas in the struggle for freedom during the Great War.

The windows, and the tablet, bearing the names of eighteen men who gave their lives for their country, will be unveiled at the special dedicatory morning service. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. J. P. Wilson, D.D., of Belleville, a former pastor of Trinity, and by Lt.-Col. A. W. McPherson, in command of the Peterborough Rangers. The pastor, Rev. F. E. Malott, will have charge of the service.

The local branch of the G.W.V.A. will attend in a body at this service, the buglers will sound the Last Post, and a special feature will be the rendition by the Scotch Pipers of the impressive Lord Lovat's Lament. The choir has also prepared a special musical programme for the occasion.

FIREMEN ENJOY THE NEW DRILL

Spirit of Competition Enters Into the Work — Carrying Men Down Ladders.

The results that can be attained by consistent drill have been made even more clear to George Gimblett, Chief of the Fire Department, this week by timing the men on laying and coupling two fifty-foot lengths of hose. The Chief started squads of three men in unrolling and coupling the sections two weeks ago, and it took them 45 seconds to do the job then. Yesterday at a snappy drill platoon No. 2 accomplished it twice in 18 seconds, and on Wednesday even eclipsed this record by two seconds.

A spirit of competition has been introduced by timing the groups of firemen, and yesterday the men worked hard to beat one another's record. The art in making a quick connection is in uncoiling the hose with a straight roll and catching the thread on the coupling. The men seemed to thoroughly enjoy the contest between the squads, and friendly bantering was part of the game. The men were introduced to a new ladder drill, intended to accustom the department to handle the big ladders in restricted places. The platoon learned to raise the ladder upright and turn it in the air without it being necessary to swing the butts. The Chief explained that if the brigade were working in an alley, they would be up against a situation where the ladder would have to be turned wholesale, and this is what he is showing the men, who have gained a confidence in handling the ladders.

Wires Removed.

The electric wires that interfered with the ladder work have been removed and the drills are not restricted by lack of room. The only thing the Chief has to complain about is the rough gravelly surface in the yard, being hard on hose and shoe leather. The question of paving the yard will be introduced to the Fire, Water and Light Committee with the recommendation that if not carried out this year it be arranged for next year.

No. 2 platoon showed a proficiency in life-saving drill. Without an exception, the men brought their human burdens down from the roof of the store-house. When a husky Englishman, weighing 189, was carried down by Fireman Marchond, weighing 209, as easily as a bag of flour, Chief Gimblett said, "There's nothing the matter with that ladder."

The Normalites Had a Good Day

Notwithstanding the fact that, according to established precedent, the Normalites who embarked on their annual excursion should have sustained a wetting some time during the day, it transpires, from reports of the picnickers, that only a few drops of moisture descended on the 150 or more passengers who embarked on the steamer Stoney Lake for a day's outing yesterday.

From eight o'clock in the morning until seven in the evening, the jolly party sailed the inland seas, from the Lift Lock, up through the Canal to Burleigh, where an hour's stop was made, and had only a few minutes of moist weather in a day of bright sunshine.

They feel rather triumphant to-day in the consciousness that stay-at-homes received the downpour undoubtedly intended for them.

STRATTON KEEPING UP THE GOOD WORK

A Few More Speeders Land in the Police Net—Fines Imposed.

Magistrate O. A. Langley had another field day with Motor Vehicle Act offenders to-day, and prosecutions were not delayed in any manner. Robert L. Crerar of Bethany, paid $10 and costs of $6.80 for driving 50 miles an hour on the Gravel road a week ago in order to get to the ball game on time. He admitted going 45, although Constable T. Y. Stratton declared he was up to 50. At any rate there was no doubt he was exceeding 25, and the Magistrate did not hesitate about imposing a fine.

Cooper H. Smith, 582 Bolivar street, neglected to pause at the corner of Rubidge and Charlotte streets for a street car discharging passengers last Sunday and the offence cost him $5, plus costs of $4.20. Taking the corner on Charlotte and George on two wheels on Sunday cost Herbert Sherwood $2 and $3.25 costs, and for the same offence at the same spot Dr. C. Laidley of Lindsay, was fined $3, with the cost the same.

An Honest Man.

The police hailed one honest man to-day. At 11.15 a.m. Frank Manley, R.R. No. 1, appeared at the station with his son and complained of some one filling his auto, No. 170-685, with a lot of produce. He said he did not know what to do with it and so decided he would leave it at the station. Inspector James Reid and other officers subjected the farmers for a few minutes to a quizzical scrutiny.

"Well, we're not a storage house, but we'll take the stuff anyway," said the Inspector and Mr. Manley's son unloaded the produce. There were three pounds of butter, two boxes of strawberries, one cabbage and one bunch of green onions.

FLOWER SUNDAY AT MARK STREET TO-MORROW.

Every scholar will meet downstairs with a bunch of flowers at ten o'clock to-morrow — superintendent and Sunday School staff in charge. The pastor will give an address. Everyone welcome.

Berlin Gets Stock Reports by Radio

Stock reports in Berlin, Germany, are being flashed to the offices of interested firms by radio. By arrangement with the Futh-Funken Telegraph Company, the Berlin stock exchange gets this modern form of quick action on its reports. The operator at the left is shown transmitting the reports, while the man at his desk at the right is receiving them by radio.

THE CALL OF THE HAYFIELD IS UNHEEDED

The Unemployed Would Rather Hug the Bright Light of Peterborough—Trades Busy.

The office of the Ontario Employment Bureau here has been besieged by farmers seeking help during the past week, but, unfortunately for the farmers, the bureau has been unable to enthuse many men in the cause of agriculture. On the whole, however, Hugh Robertson, in charge of the office, stated that more men had been placed on the farm this year than last. The unemployed claim the wages offered are not enough to maintain a family on, and so most of those that have gone to the country are unmarried. The offers of the farmers are said to range from $30 to $40, with the tendency towards the lower figure rather than the higher. "The wages are not bad compared with what is being paid in construction lines," commented Mr. Robertson. "On a good many jobs the men are only getting 30 cents an hour. When you figure you get your board on the farm, the wages are fair." There is naturally difficulty in getting experienced men, but why they cannot get inexperienced help is a mystery. One farmer told Mr. Robertson he would take a boy or anybody so long as he was willing to work and pay him $20 a month.

Not only is the demand for farm help around here greater than the supply, but farmers everywhere are apparently in the same position. Peterborough's out-of-works are as reluctant to leave the bright lights for the green pastures as are the workless in Western Ontario cities. There are lists of jobs at reasonable wages on file at the bureau, and the choice is a wide one. Farmers of every variety are looking for men, and they can't get them.

Builders Busy.

The building trades are busy, excepting for the painters, according to Mr. Robertson, and the latter trade is slack because the work is not generally advanced to the point where they get the most business. Calls for bricklayers have come from Windsor, where 20 men are wanted at $1.07½ an hour, with four months' work guaranteed. The offer is one of the best received, for at the end of a month if they want to quit the company will allow them railway fare. Although the sign has been out in front of the office for several days, it has not attracted much attention, for the bricklayers here seem to be active.

The opening of the summer hotels has resulted in calls for female help from Kawartha and Muskoka, places which the office has no hopes of filling. The wages offered are generally $30, but this amount represents more or less of a retaining fee, for the big income of the girls comes from tips. There is a persistent demand for domestics locally and in the other cities in the Province. The textile industries are running rather lightly, Mr. Robertson said, but so far have kept their female employees on by cutting the time.

OPEN WARKWORTH HALL ON JULY 1ST

Premier Drury Expected To Be Present for the Ceremony.

The new memorial community hall which has been built at Warkworth by the people of Percy township fill be formally opened on Dominion Day according to the latest plans of the committee. It is reported that Premier Drury has been invited to officiate at the formal ceremony, and also that other prominent public men will be present. Although Warkworth is one of the smallest villlages in the district, it is one of the greatest in the degree of public spirit and progressiveness its people and the farmers of the township exhibit. The community hall is more of a rest room and library than an auditorium, and is handsomely finished. Mr. W. H. Barry of Peterborough, is the architect who planned and supervised the building.

MEMBERS OF THE G.W.V.A. AND ALL RETURNED MEN OF THE CITY ARE REQUESTED TO PARADE AT THE G.W.V.A. HALL TO-MORROW MORNING AT TEN O'CLOCK TO ATTEND THE UNVEILING OF THE WAR MEMORIAL AT TRINITY CHURCH. THE MARCH OFF WILL START AT 10.15 SHARP, HEADED BY THE BAND OF THE PETERBOROUGH RANGERS AND THE CALEDONIAN PIPERS. 1d.

A Short Circuit Fired Bandstand

Among the electrical wires that came down in the storm last night were several on the Exhibition Grounds. Two by the band stand formed a short circuit and fire broke out in one corner of the stand at 4.30 a.m. to-day. The prompt work of the fire brigade, notified from Box 13, saved the building, and the damage only amounted to a small sum, estimated by the men at five dollars. Two three-gallon chemical tanks were used in squelching the blaze. The Utilities Commission were advised of the condition of the wires this morning.

DUNCAN BLOCK TENDERS HIGH

Bids Exceed Estimated Cost of Stores and Buildings Planned by G. H. Duncan.

The block of stores and apartments which Mr. G. H. Duncan has planned to build at the north-east corner of Charlotte and Stewart streets will not be one of the summer construction projects that had been mooted in the early spring. Tenders recently opened greatly exceeded the estimated cost which Mr. Duncan was prepared to expend on this scheme, and as a result his plans for the present are "being tabled."

The proposed Duncan Block comprises five stores and five apartments which had been laid out to be one of the best, the most commodious suites of rooms in the city. Tenders were called for this block of stores several weeks ago and were opened this week.

"I wouldn't say anything about the cost," is the way the ex-Mayor referred to the bids. "I don't want to discourage building, but even the lowest tender was away above what I expected to pay. I'm just going to put the plans away until fall, and I may then take another try with them."

SEVERAL PERMITS HAVE BEEN TAKEN OUT BY BUILDERS.

Twenty Thousand Dollars Worth of Building Started This Month.

About $20,000 worth of building has been started in the city so far this month. A number of houses have been commenced, all of moderate size, and during the last week three more permits were issued for dwellings. O. M. Steer is erecting a six-roomed brick and stucco home on Inverlea street, estimated to cost $3,000. The plans were drawn by W. H. Barry. Charles W. Matthews has taken out a permit for a six-roomed bungalow on Elm street, estimated to cost $1,500, and James Houlihan is putting up a two thousand dollar house at the corner of Simcoe and Rubidge, where a frame dwelling was destroyed by fire recently. J. Lazure has the contract. Alterations being made at the Y.M.C.A. to make use of the upper storey are costing $300, and J. Firth, 266 Euclid avenue, is adding a summer kitchen to his property at a cost of $50.

THE SUPPLIES LOCAL MARKET RUN TO GREEN

TO-DAY'S PRICES

The farmers' market was well attended this morning. There was plenty of butter and eggs on hand in the basket section—butter selling at 28 and 30 cents per pound, and eggs all the way from 26 to 30 cents a dozen.

Fowl was present in large quantities—28 cents a pound being the prevailing price for the fleshy white birds.

One lady had gooseberries at 20 cents a quart, and cream, thick and velvety, was 50 cents for a large sealer. A centre of interest was the double basket with its chirping, scrambling little contents in pale yellow and black fuzzy-headed and downy little chicks at "five for a dollar."

"It's a Shame."

Downstairs, a beautiful white Ancona cockerel was waiting for a purchaser at $1.50, "and its a shame to let him go for that," said his owner; and pink-skinned, sleepy little shoats wer selling for eight dollars a-piece.

There was plenty of green stuff—crisp green lettuce and rhubarb and large green onions at five cents a bunch, and growing things in the tomato plants, the asters, "twenty roots for a dime," and the green-leaved plants that an inquiring purchaser mistook for asters, and was informed were "baldhead cabbage" by a dealer whose countenance betrayed surprise at such stupidity.

Potatoes had suffered a considerable drop this morning, the limited supply being offered at a dollar a bag, and berries also were on the down grade. A considerable quantity was on view at "two boxes for forty-five," and at twenty-three cents a box, while one man had them for twenty cents a quart container.

Upstairs, there were large bouquets of field iris, of spicy wild roses, and of rose-pink peonies, at 20 cents a bunch.

THE WEATHER

There should be no complaints regarding a lack of moisture in the soil for a week or two. This section received a thorough soaking last night. The rain amounted to over an inch and a half (1.55.) In addition some fell earlier in the day. This total has not been beaten for a couple of years. On July 19th last year we had a heavy rain which almost equalled last night's, but a still earlier date will have to be searched for to find a rain exceeding last night's total.—W. P.

DRINK OF SHELLAC KILLED PRISONERS IN KINGSTON PEN

Two Prisoners Die From Effects of Stolen Shellac Mixed With Water. Used in Paint Shop.

WOOD ALCOHOL.

KINGSTON, June 17.—(Canadian Press.)—The jury empannelled yesterday afternoon to inquire into the death of convict John Kearney of the Portsmouth Penitentiary, who died yesterday morning through the drinking of shellac, brought in a verdict that deceased came to his death through drinking shellac which contained wood alcohol. Convict Jacob Hitt, who also drank shellac, died yesterday afternoon at 3.30. Several witnesses were called, including the attending physicians and guards. Kearney was working in the tinsmith and paint shop and apparently he and Hitt secured some of the shellac used extensively in the institution and mixed it with water. Evidently this was done Wednesday afternoon for the men complained since then of being sick, Hitt yesterday morning admitting what he and Kearney had drunk. Every means was used to save their lives and hopes were entertained, but both men suffered relapse and died.

Convict Kearney was sentenced at Ottawa on January 21st of this year to four years for breaking, entering and stealing. He was about twenty-two years of age, described by Warden Ponsford as a very well behaved prisoner.

Convict Hitt came from Arbor, Missouri, and was sentenced at Windsor in September, 1921 to seven years for robbery.

TAX COLLECTOR GREEN.

Was Painfully Bruised When Hit By An Automobile Two Weeks Ago.

Although tax collectors at a class are generally supposed to be friendless, Mr. J. W. Green has been receiving the hearty good wishes of many friends since he resumed work at the city hall after the accident he met with two weeks ago to-day. While crossing George street at the intersection of Simcoe street he was struck by an automobile and thrown heavily to the pavement. His right side was badly bruised, also his right leg and arm and his hand cut. He has been back in his office these days with his right arm slung up. Mr. Green was fortunate in escaping injuries that might have been very serious.

R.I.C. TO SETTLE NEAR WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, June 17 (Canadian Press). — Negotiations are now in progress for the purchase of a large tract of land in the Winnipeg district for the settlement of a colony of former members of the Royal Irish Constabulary and their families.

The head of each family will have at least $2,000 in cash as an establishment fund, obtained, in many instances, by commuting their pensions from the British Government.

A number of the former Constabulary have also taken up land in Alberta.

DELINE SLANDER CASE DISMISSED.

Plaintiff a Former Resident of Peterborough — Complained of Scandal.

BELLEVILLE, June 17.—County Court resumed before His Honor, Judge Deroche, and jury.

The case of Deline vs. Beesack was taken up, Wm. Carnew, K.C., for the plaintiff and Wallbridge, Cameron & Co. for defendant, an action for slander, asking damages. Mr. Cameron, for defendant, asked that the case be heard in camera on account of the nature of the evidence. The judge ruled that the court could be cleared while the evidence of a young girl witness was being taken, otherwise the trial would be public.

The first witness called was Mabel Deline, the plaintiff, wife of Gilbert Deline, of Belleville, who swore that defendant, Beesack, had scandalized her by calling her bad names in the presence of others. As the result of the statements alleged to have been made against her character, her mother-in-law, Mrs. H. Deline, father-in-law and brother-in-law withdrew their support of plaintiff in the matter of household expenses, also her own father leaving her without means of support. Her relatives ceased to recognize her as the result of statements made.

Cross-examined by Mr. Cameron, Mrs. Deline said her husband had been out of work and relatives had assisted them. She had a pension of $37 per month for her children, her own pension had ceased upon her remarrying. When he heard that statements had been made against her character, she promptly denied them. Her first husband, Thibault, was killed overseas. Certain admissions bearing upon character were made by witness concerning incidents in her life while in Peterborough before coming to Belleville, and also since coming here.

Gilbert Deline, husband of plaintiff, swore that defendant, Beesack, made statements about Mrs. Deline, his wife, in presence of himself and his brother, defamatory of her character, intimating that she was a thief and unchaste. Witness had been out of work during the winter and was assisted by his mother and other relatives, and their assistance ceased after Beesack made his statements in regard to the character of his wife. Never made any statement that he would bleed Beesack of money.

Other witnesses gave evidence along similar lines.

On Thursday Morning.

William Beesack, defendant, entered a general denial that he made the statements attributed to him, and evidence was introduced intimating that plaintiff's husband had said that "Beesack had plenty of money and they were going to draw some out of him."

Jury returned a verdict in favor of defendant, William Beesack, and the action was dismissed.

LINER CAPSIZED IN DOCK SAILORS ARE TRAPPED IN HOLD

CAUSE UNKNOWN.

HAMBURG, Germany, June 17.—(Canadian Press.)—Many men were entrapped in the hold of the Brazilian liner Avare when she capsized yesterday while being hauled out of of drydock at the Vulkan shipyards here. Openings were being forced into the hold in an effort to save the men while the liner lay submerged for two thirds of her extent in the bottom of the canal.

Members of the crew who were on deck jumped overboard when the ship for some unknown reason began to list heavily. They were saved by motorboats and the harbor fire department which immediately began operations to liberate the entrapped men.

The funnels and the masts of the Avare snapped off when she keeled over. She first listed to starboard and then to port before overturning entirely.

The Avare, a twin screw steamer of 8,227 tons gross, is owned by the Brazilian Lloyd Company. She left Santos, Brazil, April 27, proceeded to Havre, and then to Lisbon, before coming to Hamburg. She had been in drydock here for the past eight days

LONDON, June 17. — (Canadian Press.) — A despatch to the Times from Hamburg says that the Avare, formerly the Sierra Nevada belonged to the Hamburg-South American line, and was handed over to Brazil in accordance with the terms of the peace treaty. The despatch adds that 160 men were on board, in addition to several dockyard mechanics, and that the latest reports are that only a few of these men were saved.

LIMIT VALUE OF DISEASED ANIMALS

Amendment to Dominion Act Passed By Parliament

The following amendment to the Animal Contagious Diseases Act has been passed by the Dominion Government coming into operation on July 1, 1922:—

The Minister may order a compensation to be paid to the owners of animals slaughtered under the provisions of this Act; and in all cases the value of the animal for for which the compensation is ordered shall be determined by the Minister or by some person appointed by him, but, except in the case of grade animals, one hundred and fifty dollars for each horse, sixty dollars for each head of cattle, and fifteen dollars for each pig or sheep, and in the case of pure bred animals three hundred dollars for each horse, two hundred dollars for each head of cattle and fifty dollars for each pig or sheep.

This subscription shall only remain in operation for three years from the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two.

ARMED MEN SEIZE ELECTION DOCUMENTS AT DUBLIN POLLS

Rory O'Connor Led the Band Which Numbered Thirteen Men. Many Cases of Interference With Voters Are Reported.

DUBLIN, June 18. — (Canadian Press.)—When the final results of the elections in the National University polling were about to be declared last night, thirteen armed men entered the polling place, held up the officials and seized all documents and the tally sheets. Rory O'Connor, one of the leaders of the dissident faction of the Republican Army, led the raiders.

The officials had taken a copy of the result, which showed that in addition to Professor John MacNeill, Speaker of the Dail Eireann, and Professor Michael Hayes, Dail Minister, who are in favor of the treaty, the anti-panel candidate, Professor Stockley, and the pro-treaty independent Professor McGinnis, were elected, while Profesosr A. Inglis, anti-treaty, and Prof. Conway, pro-treaty, were defeated.

The treaty votes polled at the University aggregated 1,973 and the anti-treaty 670.

Many cases of interference with officials are reported from the Sligo and East Mayo election area. It is stated that documents and voting papers were seized and burned in several districts and many agents of independent candidtaes kidnapped.

Replying to a protest sent to him, Arthur Griffith despatched a message to the independent candidates, saying that the pact which provided for free elections had been broken. The matter would be investigated and if such conduct was persisted in the elections wold be invalidated.

In some cases threats had been sent by post to Unionist voters warning them to remain at home yesterday.

MERCHANTS' BANK TRIAL COMES UP.

The Hearing of Charges Against Sir Montagu Allan in Montreal Court

MONTREAL, June 17. (Canadain Press.) — The hearing of the charge against Sir H. Montagu Allan, former president of the defunct Merchants Bank of Canada, that he had "signed and concurred in" an alleged false return submitted to the Dominion Government in connection with the bank's financial standing for the month of October last, came before Judge Cusson here yesterday.

Two witnesses were examined, namely George Edwards, the Toronto accountant, and H. B. MacKenzie, the assistant general manager of the Bank of Montreal. The former went over much of the evidence already heard in the charge against D. C. Macarow, the former general manager of the bank.

H. B. Mackenzie was a new witness introduced in the case. He testified that it was at the personal request of Sir Montagu Allan that he had undertaken an investigation of the affairs of the bank last summer. His report was completed by November 12 and handed to Sir Montagu November 14. It called for a reduction in the rest fund by eight millions to meet bad and doubtful debts, which reduction appeared in the December return to the Government.

The case was adjourned until next Wednesday, when Mr. Mackenzie will be cross examined and when three of the directors of the Merchants Bank are to be called, namely Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Howard Smith, Vice President, and Farquhar Robertson.

DESCRIBES FIRES AT NEW HAZELTON.

Mr. C. H. Sawle Writes About Bush Fires Near His Home.

Replying to an enquiry from F. H. Dobbin about reports or recent bush fires around Prince Rupert, B. C., Mr. C H. Sawle, publisher of the Omineca Herald, New Hazelton, B C. former city editor of the Peterboro Review writes as follows: "The reports you apparently saw emanated from Prince Rupert where their imagination is very fertile. At no time was old Hazelton in danger. There was a fire on the opposite side of the Skeena river but not within half a mile of the town and no possible chance of it getting any closer.

On the south side of the river (the Rocher de Boule side) a fire was started back of the South Hazelton station and it got out of control no attempt was made to control it. It spread in one day and night up to New Hazelton, following the railway track and coming up over the Affleck Hill, cleaning that country out in fine shape. The fire stopped at that little pond across the track and west of our place, a distance of two blocks. Our greatest danger was from sparks. We had a week of very hot weather and everything was dry as possible to be. It meant very close watch for hours—from noon until six in the evening when the wind changed and blew up rain clouds. About eight o'clock it started to rain and then all night it kept up a sprinkle and again on Sunday afternoon it rained. The smoke was terrible. At times, in fact most of the time, we could not see our barn which was not over 75 yards away. Tears were streaming down every one's faces and the heat was just all one wished to stand. The wind all Saturday morning and afternoon was about thirty miles an hour, hence the rapid advance of the fire. When you take into consideration that most of the fire was hot and the wind was high to drive it through, Mr. Richmond's place was somewhat closer than we were, but fortunately no damage was done to any building in town. Of course everyone was on the job, and the forestry department brought a dozen men over from the old town to help check the fire. Several times sparks dropped in our yard and started to burn the dead grass but we were on the job and soon put them out. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Sawle and I went over the route the fire had taken the day before and it sure did a good job. A good many acres of land are now available for the plough. You see there is always a silver lining.

There are indications that something will get under way in mineral field this season and some settlers are coming in. In fact everything seems to be shaping up for a fresh start.

Mrs. Sawle joins me in kindest regards to you and yours and to our many good friends in Peterboro.

COST OF BREAD ANALYZED

Half of What Consumer Pays is Absorbed in Distribution.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—A loaf of bread, the Joint Commission of Agricultural Inquiry said in a preliminary report published here offers a striking example of what happens to the farmer's product in the way of costs and profits before it reaches the family table.

About 50 cents out of each dollar the consumer pays for bread, the report said, is absorbed in cost of distribution. The farmer gets only 29.6 cents in the local market for the wheat needed to produce it. A survey showed that the average cost of getting the wheat ready for the baking stage was 8.4 cents, while the average cost of manufacturing it into bread was 10.16 cents of the dollar paid by the bread buyer.

"A considerable factor in the baker's cost of distribution, which averages 15.76 cents of the consumer's dollar, is the service element," said the report.

"Our inquiry does not indicate that the manufacturing baker has exacted an under profit in taking 5? cents from consumer's dollar for manufacturing bread and distributing it to the retailer."

NEW QUARTERS FOR THE CANADIAN GOVT. OFFICES IN LONDON

High Commissioner May Take Over the British Columbia Building on Regent Street.

OTHER OFFICES.

LONDON, June 17.—(Canadian Press.) — The Canadian Press understands that the Canadian governments tentative proposal to acquire the Grand Trunk Railway office building in London as headquarters for the Canadian High Commissioner's staff has been dropped.

The latest suggested location for High Commissioner is in the British Columbia office building in Regent street on a commanding corner where the Domnion Immigration department was installed a short while back. The carrying out of this would involve a reduction of the accommodation available for the British Columba agent-General. What the Pacific province will think of the proposal is not known. The building was opened in 1913 and for a long time was a good deal of a white elephant but discreet management in renting the upper floors has done much to reduce the province's liablity.

The union of South Africa which a year ago leased the Morley hotel in Trafalgar square, having previously rented offices quite close and very similar to the present Canadian offices seems fairly satisfied with the new position which affords ample window display. This project was heartily supported by the South African commercial community although the Nationalists opposed it.

Australia which built a huge building in the Strand finds it a heavy burden the premises being on an island site off the main stream of pedestrian traffic. It has large space devoted to assembly halls and corridors which are at present of little use.

WHO ARE CITIZENS OF THE DOMINION?

M. P. Asks in the House For a Definition of a Canadian Citizen.

Press). — What is a Canadian citizen? This question was raised by E. J. McMurray, member for North Winnipeg yesterday in the committee which has in hand the Woodsworth Bills to repeal provisions in the Immigration Act and the Criminal Code, passed at the time of the Winnipeg strike.

The issue arose when a sub-committee proposed the revision of the Immigration Act by providing that the deportation clauses should not apply to "a Canadian citizen." Under the law as it stands, these clauses apply to all except British subjects by birth or naturalisation in Canada.

Mr. McMurray pointed out that even the amendment would not exempt a British subject until he had been five years in Canada. He suggested that there be a new definition of Canadian citizenship, but the proposal of the sub-committee carried in its original form.

DOCTOR TESTIFIES REGARDING SANITY IN DELORME CASE

Words and Actions of the Ex-Priest While in Jail Are Told in Court.

JAIL CHAPLAIN.

MONTREAL, June 17—(Canadian Press)—That Adelard Delorme the ex-priest who is now standing trial on the charge of having murdered his half brother, Raoul, the 24 year old Ottawa College student whose dead body was found lying in the snow in a northern suburb of this city on January 6, last, had "rented his houses too well", and as a consequence the street in which they were located "did not have a very good name," was the evidence of Dr. Handifield in the Court of King's Bench here yesterday afternoon, who was called just previous to the adjournment of the case until Monday next.

Dr. Handfield stated that he was a neighbor of Delorme's, his property on St. Hubert street adjoining that of the ex-priest and that one conversation he had had with him had led him to doubt Delorme's sanity.

The evidence in the Delorme trial yesterday turned upon the question of sanity of the ex-priest. To this end Provincal Autopsist Dr. Delorme was closely questioned by Mr. Justice Monet, and Crown prosecutor Walsh. Dr. Derome suggested that opinion of Delorme's mental condition should be based on "the ensemble' of his words and actions during the period of his incarceration in Bordeaux Jail.

Father Eugene Lachapelle, chaplain of Bordeaux Jail, was another witness. Delorme had told him on one occasion that his trial would be a fine and famous one and had appeared greatly impressed with the fact that his name had become world-famous. He always spoke of this with an air of self-satisfaction on account of the "glory" it had brought him.

"I never saw him sorrowing for a single minute," said Father Lachapelle.

THE ADOLESCENT SCHOOL ACT.

A resolution recently passed by the Chatham Chamber of Commence declaring that to enforce the Adolescent School Act in its entirety at the present time would seriously aggravate the already heavy burden which the taxpayers are now bearing, is one with which there will be many residents of Ontario in accord. It is unfortunate that the Act should have been brought down at a time when municipalities everywhere were facing the problem of meeting greatly increased civic expenditures and at the same time keeping the tax rate at a level that would not be too heavy a strain upon the taxpayers. The cost of administering a municipality, like the overhead cost of private business, has increased by leaps and bounds in the past ten years, and the burden of taxation is fast getting to be more than the average citizen can conveniently assume. There is no quarrel with the principle of the Adolescent School Act. The majority of people believe that every child in Ontario should be given a fair chance to receive a good education and to prepare himself for the battle of life. Had the Act come into force before the war its enactment could have met without serious difficulty, but under present conditions the situation is vastly different, so much so that authorities estimate that it would cost $500 per pupil to educate every child affected by the Act. In a number of Ontario centres an effort is being made to have the Act modified in view of the heavy cost entailed in the carrying out of the legislation.

"TROTTOIR ROULANT."

The problem of transportation in crowded cities is one of the most pressing which confronts the municipal authorities, says The Hamilton Spectator. Hamilton, on a smaller scale, has its competing services which give our councillors subjects for argument and affect the question of civic finance; but as yet these troubles can only be regarded as comparatively minor. In the large metropolises, with their overhead and underground services, their street cars and omnibuses, their taxis and motors, private and public, the solution of the transportation problem has not even yet been found. Passengers crowd the vehicles and still greater throngs encumber the sidewalks, and the authorities are at their wits' end to discover a remedy for the trouble.

Years ago there was talk in Europe of the "trottoir roulant," or moving sidewalk, and the idea was tried out on a small scale with success; but it never got beyond the experimental stage, so far as street pedestrians were concerned. Out of the project, however, developed the moving staircase, now in common use for the larger stores, and in some cities serving the underground railways. It is officially announced from Paris that the plan will be given a try-out on a large scale in Paris in the near future. Tenders are invited for a mechanical system for the common transport of travellers in Paris between the Basillie and the Madeleine by means of an underground system of moving roadway. These tenders must be deposited before September 20 next, and the work will be immediately undertaken. How do the street car and omnibus companies view the prospect of this competition, we wonder? Free transportation of this kind should certainly cut most seriously into receipts.

CHECKING THE DRUG HABIT.

The people of Canada will approve of the proposed amendments to the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act that are being considered by the Federal Parliament. Hon. Dr. Beland, in proposing more severe penalties for violation of this Act, has shown that he recognizes the necessity for drastic action to check the drug habit, which, unfortunately, is on the increase in all sections of the Dominion. The growing number of addicts is enough to cause alarm, and it is now recognized that the problem must be firmly grappled with. Hon. H. H. Stevens of Vancouver in his address before the local Kiwanis Club recently opened the eyes of those who were fortunate enough to hear him as to the growth of the drug habit and the responsibility of the foreign element, especially of the Chinese residents of Canada, in developing the pernicious traffic. It is a matter upon which the Government is to be congratulated that Dr. Beland now proposes that all foreigners convicted of trafficking in illegal drugs shall be deported. Out of 1,864 convictions during the year ending September 30, 1921, 1,211 were against Chinese, of which the majority were not naturalized Canadians. Under the proposed amendment all who were not Canadian citizens could be deported, a proceeding that would have a very material effect in cleaning up the traffic. At the same time the penalties for Canadian citizens convicted of the same offence are to be increased, it being proposed that the imprisonment of offenders shall be made compulsory, while anyone convicted of selling to minors can be sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. These penalties are severe, but they are necessary, and it is hoped that the amendments would be readily accepted by the House.

THE GOD OF NATURE AND OF MAN.

Of all the seasons of the year, these early summer days are the time in which the most of people find something in nature which speaks to their souls of God. The steady development of the wonderful life of the world around us, the glory of sunset and noonday, the song of meadow brook and happy bird—all these seem to tell of a beneficient power at the heart of things which faith knows as God.

Of all the messages nature brings concerning God, the most compelling is the word of His power. If one writes it in his creed that God is the power behind nature and in control of its life, what a God He becomes! We sometimes sing that but in the light of the life of the world about us those lines are only the vaguest suggestion and hint of the real immensity of His power. Nature speaks to us of a world which has been hurtling onward through space for millions of years. We scan the heavens above us and read there such a story as that of the constellation Taurus, which, travelling at the inconceivable rate of 2,160 miles a minute, has been moving steadily away from the sun for at least 800,000 years and will reach the limits of the known stellar system in about 65,000,000 years more. We look into the physical life of the world and find there the record of a steady growth upward for millions of years, an evolution beginning in the unguessed ages of the past, and still in process of developing. We scan the heart of a dewdrop, and find within it millions of systems as intricate and as stupendous as the wonders of the heavens above us. Reading all this story one may say, "Merely blind Chance," but faith prefers to say, "God, and what a God!" In the wonders of His power He stands revealed, and who, seeing rightly, can do other than worship?

To the Christian all this comes to be interpreted in terms of God's love. God is more than mere power—He is first and foremost love—and with the power which is His, He will care for His children in love. Stirring are the words of the Psalmist, "This God is our God for ever and ever; He will be our guide even unto death." Baffling may be the problems confronting mankind, dark may be the hours through which as individuals we must pass, but infinite power and infinite love still together rule, and

"God's in His heaven,

RULES FOR SAFE DRIVING.

Under the auspices of the Ontario Safety League, a Safe Drivers' Club has been inaugurated in Toronto in an effort to bring about not only safer conditions for motorists, but safer walking for pedestrians, thus reducing the number of traffic accidents. That there is need for such a movement is shown by the fact that in the year ending May 31st no fewer than fifty-five people were killed in motor accidents in Toronto, May alone bringing seven fatalities. Peterborough should have a branch of the Safe Drivers' Club, for education along these lines is needed in this city as much as anywhere in Ontario. In the meantime, however, the rules for safe driving adopted by the Toronto organization should be committed to memory by every man and woman, boy and girl in Peterborough who drives a car. They are described as a specific for safety—common sense plus discipline.

"(1) Never drive faster than 25 miles per hour.
"(2) Never cut in and out of traffic to gain an advantage.
"(3) Never fail to stop before entering a main thoroughfare.
"(4) Never fail to slow down at a street car crossing.
"(5) Never run by a street car pausing for passengers.
"(6) Never pass a street car on the left.
"(7) Never fail to look behind when turning out from a curb.
"(8) Never dispute the right of way; always give it.
"(9) Never drive after taking a drink of liquor.
"(10) Never pass any vehicle going in the same direction at a street intersection."

CANADA AND U. S. PROHIBITION.

It is very easy to get amusement out of the perplexities and inconsistencies arising from the American policy of prohibition and the amazing difficulties attached to its enforcement. But, whatever we may think of the law, we should recognize the outstanding fact that it is a great social experiment, entered upon seriously by our neighbors; that they have suffered immense losses of revenue in order to try it, and that millions of them will be deeply hurt by any attitude of hostility or ridicule adopted by foreign observers.

It is after all none of our business. We should not be misled by the ready applause we get from the people nearest the footlights—the city people, the Broadway rounders, the clever clubmen, all the noisy fraternity who always resent any restriction on the sale of liquor—when we wing the merry quip or fling the barbed jibe at "prohibition" and its bizarre relation to the alleged American love of liberty. We never fail to "get a hand" for this easy sort of wit. But we should keep carefully in mind that, behind these appreciative applauders, there are enough stay-at-home Americans—of the Puritan type, if you will; but of the solid and steadfast sort—to have carried this Constitutional amendment by two-thirds majority in three-fourths of the States. And it is not good business for a next-door neighbor to be constantly prodding and pin-pricking this immense, if relatively silent, majority.

This little consideration of our ethical and international relations towards this purely domestic problem of the United States is prompted by the novel charge of a member of the Anheuser-Busch firm that the American Shipping Board is the Republic's biggest "bootlegger," because it permits the sale of liquor on its passenger ships outside the three-mile limit. "It is to laugh." There can be a lot of fun extracted from this paradoxical position. But every sensible man knows that the American Government has practically no choice. Its passenger ships ply in competition with the ships of other nations. They must offer the travelling public what it regards as equal accommodation, or go to the wall. And, for a lot of travellers, they might as well not have a dining-saloon as not have a "bar."

* * * *

Any man—or woman—who has crossed the Atlantic lately on a non-American ship, has had an object lesson in the colossal importance which the American-who-travels attaches to ready access to a wine-list or a white-aproned "bar-keep." The smoking-rooms of the British and French liners are the most popular rendezvous on the ship, and, toward midnight, they are not the quietest. It is a beautiful sight to note the seraphic sigh of satisfaction with which the average American settles down at dinner to a beatific study of the wine-list. He pays but scant attention to the obsequeous recommendations of the steward in the matter of mere food.

This is not a joke, but a serious condition. The American Shipping Board must meet it. That vast prohibition majority in the country is not proportionately represented in the sailing lists. If the American Government runs the blue flag to the mast-head of its passenger ships, it will handicap them fatally in a fierce competition, which may in any case be too much for them. The Board is already resorting to the patriotic appeal to induce its people to patronize their own vessels, and which a public transportation company must rely on patriotism and not on service to win patronage, it is in a bad way.

So the American Government seem to be taking the sensible course of not colliding with the irresistible. If they want to go out of the shipping business, there are cheaper exits.—Montreal Star.

Edward McMullen Case Concluded and Jury Hearing Second Indictment in Connection With Bank Robbery.

SARNIA, June 17.—(Canadian Press).—As a climax to one of the most interesting trials in the history of Tamblon County, the jury in the case of Edward McMullen, one of the four alleged Wyoming bank robbers, reported disagreement after five hours' deliberation late last night. Following the announcement of disagreement, J. Every, defence counsel, made a motion for a stated case upon the ground that the method of identifying McMullen was improper and that the judge in his charge should have so directed the jury. The case of William Ayers, second of the four indicted, started yesterday afternoon.

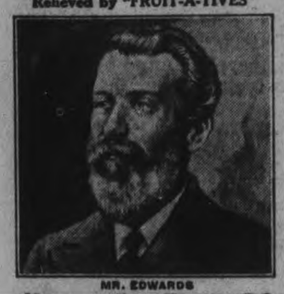
STOMACH ULCER AND GALL STONES

After Suffering 25 Years, Completely Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"



MR. EDWARDS

MAPLEHURST FARM, HILLHURST, P.Q.

"I am in my 78th year. About 25 years ago, I began to have trouble with my Stomach. One doctor said I had Cancer; another said, Ulcer of the Stomach; another, Gall Stones; others, Ulcers of the Liver and Inflammation of the Gall Bladder.

Three years ago, I consulted one of the best specialists in Montreal. He said I must go to the hospital, have an Ulcer cut out of my stomach and gall stones removed. I was then 74 years old. I said "NO."

Then, I began to take "Fruit-a-tives". I found they helped me a lot, and I still take them occasionally, and I am so much better that my old friends often ask me what I have done to myself to look so well. I am gaining in weight and enjoying life very much"

"As your mind is, so are you," said a great philosopher. Men and women take varying degrees of pleasure in driving an automobile, and the pleasure varies with the degrees of complacency and composure which fill the mind. What is the object of touring? Pleasure. But there's no pleasure touring in a car loaded (or shod) with worry. If your mind is uneasy about your tires, you are not enjoying yourself. Put your mind at peace and sit back luxuriously behind your wheel and let the accelerator do its bit; it's all right, you're safe, and you know it, if your car is flying along on "Gutta Percha" Tires.

BAILIEBORO NEWS

BAILIEBORO, June 17. — The Bailieboro Epworth League held their annual League picnic to Cobourg on Thursday afternoon leaving Bailieboro at two o'clock. Those taking automobile loads were Messrs. Jas. Johnston, Norman Earle, Harold Dawson, Archie Cole, Meredith Perrin, Mr. Byron Wood, Mr. Wilbur Barnard, Mr. Wm. McClelland, Mr. S. R. Nichols, Mr. Jas. Eagleson, Mr. Ira Dawson.

In addition to the League picnic the Hamilton U.F.O. held their annual picnic in the Victoria Park the same afternoon and a very large crowd from the surrounding townships assembled there to enjoy the sports of the afternoons and evening.

There were three base ball teams present. The first game was played by Cambourne and Baltimore teams the score being 11 to 13 in favour of the former. The next teams to come to the field were Cambourne and Bailieboro. The score was 9 to 11 in favour of Bailieboro.

The Bailieboro boys were very much pleased with their afternoon's success as they carried home a share of the prize money donated by the Hamilton U.F.O. races and sports were also indulged in during the afternoon and the Cobourg Kiltie band was in attendance and played both afternoon and evening.

In the evening there was a U.F.O. dance in the pavilion and an orchestra furnished splendid music for dancing many young people from this district staying to enjoy it.

Have Your Band Compete in the BAND CONTEST

at the Toronto Exhibition

THIS YEAR, Music Day at the Canadian National Exhibition is Thursday, August 31st.

Last year, this was a gala day at the "Ex," and thousands of music lovers gathered to hear the contest and encourage their respective favorites. The competition is held yearly with the object of improving band music throughout Canada and all bands should strive to co-operate.

Every Band Has an Equal Chance of Winning $2950. in Cash Prizes

The competition is open to all amateur bands and is divided into two classes, according to size of band.

In addition to the cash prizes a Special Challenge Trophy will be awarded to the winning band in Class A, in whose custody it will remain for the ensuing year. The winner's name will be inscribed on the trophy. Besides this, each member of the first prize band in both classes will receive a handsome individual award. All members of competing bands admitted to the Exhibition grounds free.

Bandmasters, bandsmen and others interested can secure full particulars regarding adjudicators, test pieces, rules and entry forms by communicating immediately with FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES.

Winding Up Affairs of the Dominion Savings and Investment Society.

TORONTO, June 17.—(Canadian Press).—The hearing of the petition asking for the winding up of the Dominion Savings and Investment Society was again enlarged yesterday afternoon until Monday. It was decided that the motion of the London and Western Trusts will come up at the same time.

A writ served on the counsel for the savings company on behalf of Mary Miller and Harry Longridge asked for a declaration that certain lands at Sault Ste Marie, stated to be valued at $300,000, now in the name of the Dominion Savings Company, are part of an estate of the late F. B. Leys. The plaintiffs are beneficiaries under the will of Mr. Leys, and they ask for an accounting in connection with these properties and also that their administration be turned over to the court.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Annual Garden Party of Christ Church--Wedding Bells.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 17.—The annual garden party held on the rectory grounds on Thursday evening, under the auspices of Christ Church, was, as have all their garden parties in previous years, an unqualified success. The evening was ideal, and the beautifully lighted and decorated grounds, together with the charming music rendered by the Northumberland Regiment Band, under the efficient direction of Mr. R. T. Cowell, drew an unusually large attendance. The various booths looked most inviting, and were all well patronised.

The convenors were Mrs. J. P. Archer and Mrs. A. J. Jenkins. The tea table, with all its good things, was ably presided over by Mesdames E. J. Burling, F. Lang, R. J. Bullen, V. Collinson, and A. Tripp. The delicious candy found ready buyers at the booth in charge of Mrs. Fred Linton and Miss Jennie Martin. There were flowers and more flowers, prettily arranged, in charge of Miss E. Bedford and Mrs. Smith.

Miss Helen Tait, Mrs. Jenks, and Mrs. Gledhill, who were in charge of the soft drinks, were kept unusually busy, as were Mrs. Charles Benor and Miss M. Moffatt, in charge of the ice-cream. One of the busy spots was the touch and take table, in charge of Mrs. L. C. Bonnycastle, Miss A. Martin, Mrs. N. B. Dickson, and Mrs. Sargent.

The Hoop-La, under Mr. E. J. Burling, was well patronised, and busy anglers had unusually good luck at the fish pond, in charge of Mesdames Marshall West, William Smith, and S. H. Neale. The fortune-telling booth, in charge of Miss H. Bonnycastle, Mrs. R. Lawlord, Mrs. E. Runions, Mrs. C. Runions, Mrs. Jas. Dunk, and Miss Ida Moffat, with its busy throngs, revealed the fact that the fair sex are not the only one who like to peer into the future.

The side show, in charge of Mr. Gledhill, Mrs. Harris, Misses Maynard and Smith, was well worth a visit, where with its catchy music and funny jokes, all longed to linger.

The proceeds of the evening, which amounted to over $375.00, is surely most gratifying to all those in charge.

A Thunderstorm.

Campbellford was visited by a very heavy downpour of rain last evening between eight and ten o'clock, accompanied by thunder and lightning. During the storm the fire alarm sounded and the new fire truck was called into requisition, in Ward Three, at the home of Mr. Charles Glenn, West River Road. Fortunately no damage was done, and the firemen soon returned.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Henry Bakes entertained a number of little girls at her home on Thursday afternoon, in honour of little Miss Grace Cairns' eighth birthday. A very dainty supper was served on tables on the lawn, and all the little folks report a most pleasant time.

Stafford—Whitehead.

A very pretty wedding was solemnised at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whitehead, Victoria Street, on Wednesday at high noon, when their daughter, Miss Victoria, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Stafford, of town—Rev. C. E. Clark, M.A., officiating.

The bride was prettily attired in a gown of ivory silk crepe, customary veil, caught with orange blossoms, and was attended by her sister, Miss Annie, while Mr. Harold Simpson supported the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony, which was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends, the bridal party and guests repaired to the dining-room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

The bridal couple left in the afternoon by motor for Cobourg, Toronto, St. Catharines, and other points—the bride travelling in a smart suit of navy tricotine with hat to match.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford will reside in town.

Previous to her marriage, Miss Whitehead was surprised at her home by a large number of her friends, and presented with a miscellaneous shower, containing many valuable gifts, and testifying to her popularity.

CHURCH SERVICE AT MARK STREET.

Excellent congregations greeted the pastor at both services, and the choir was at it best. The choir leader is doing fine work with his singers. The Mystery of Godliness' was the subject of the morning sermon, and was based on, Tim. 3;16. 'Great is the mystery of Godliness" The following is a synopsis of the sermon:

Early this morning I stood on Armour Hill, looking Southward. The scene that lay before me would make any attempt at description seem ridiculous. The soft blue of the morning skies, the far away roll of the distant hills, the intervening spaces of field and woodland, the beautiful Otonabee, like a ribbon of silver, winding its tortuous way to the "Lake of Rice Fields" beyond, thrilled me with a deep sense of God's presence. There was beauty, harmony, melody, symmetry, order; and not a single jar or break in all bewildering view. Surely that picture was the product of a Divine hand and mind. What did it all mean? God was revealing himself to me through nature, and if sin be eliminated, such a scene would make Heaven right down here.

What Is Godliness?

Godliness, we must remember, is more than simply keeping the commandments. The rich young ruler kept commandments but he lacked godliness. The golden attribute of Godliness is simply being like Christ We are actuated by his spirit. His law is our delight. We look like Him, live like Him, and we are living letters known and read of all men. The same God that reveals Himself in nature manifests Himself in man. We live out day by day among men, what God works in us day by day through his Spirit. And this is the best equipment for leadership. But no human soul can ever be successful as leader, who does not follow Christ. I find many would-be-leaders in the ditch every day, they cannot lead, simply because the do not follow Christ. Judge Rooney, of Chicago, fined a man $10 and costs and sentenced him to jail for ninety days for impersonating a doctor and practicing medicine without a license. We wonder how many professing Christians members and layman, would be hit by a law fining those who pretend to be Christians and were not. Are we leading or misleading people by our pretensions Lord Wolsley requested a young naval officer to lead a column of British troops around a dangerous point. Early in the battle which followed, young Rawson was mortally wounded. As he lay dying, he looked up in Wolsley's face and said "General, didn't I lead them straight" Oh ye leaders of the people; are ye leading them straight

Mystery in Godliness

We have said that God's revelation of Himself through man and in man is Godliness. But how can and Infinite and Internal Spirit ever make Himself known to lonely, suffering, sinful man, for man cannot find God. But God is Spirit, and as such, man cannot comprehend Him. Who can comprehend spirit. God must come in the flesh. He must manifest Himself to man as one of the race. The Incarnation then, is absolutely necessary: but it is a mighty mystery. Yes, it is a mystery, but so is life and death and growth, and light, and magnetism, and radium. The forked flash that rends the rock or splits the tree, and the power that puts me in touch with the sound of a human voice a thousand miles away are strange and mysterious forces, but there they are, nevertheless. The Incarnation belongs to the mystery of godliness.

The Trinity a Mystery.

Great is the mystery of the trinity, yet the doctrne is not contrary to reason. Charles Kingsley said, "My heart demands the trinity as much as my reason." I want to be sure that God cares for me. That He is my father, that He has interfered, stooped and sacrificed for me. No puzzling text shall rob me of this rest for my heart, that Christ is the exact counterpart of Him in whom we live, move and have our being. If the doctrine of the trinity is not in the Bible, it ought to be, for the whole spiritual nature of man cries out for it. What is affirmed of Christ in this doctrine can be said of no created being, no matter how exalted in rank. Certainly there is mystery, but it is the mystery of godliness. Why should men spurn what they cannot understand? If we could understand all the Bible, the devil would tell us that it is nothing more than a human book. Nature holds a thousand mysteries. Who shall explain all the relations between matter and mind? Can the structure of the human spirit be illustrated? Will Mansel, or Kant, or Hamilton, or Lotze, tell us the relation of attribute to substance? Can substance exist aside from attribute? What is substance apart from its attributes? Thank God for the unfolding mysteries of godliness, which the Holy Spirit reveals to men in His own way.

Equipment of Godliness.

Godliness is profitable unto all things. It has the promise of the life which now is, and that which is to come. Godliness manifests itself in a desire for the welfare of others. Light your torch at the lamp of God and plunge into the darkness; for we must lead men out into the liberty of God's children. We must remember that there is no godliness without sacrifice. In a boys' college room among the banners and pennants was one that read, "I am willing to be third." What did that mean? That pennant had been given to that boy by his mother. And she had told him if he would live a helpful life he must put God first, others second and self third. Many are doing this today. Can you stand aside for Christ's sake?

Mr. Robert Sturgeon and Miss Ewa Sturgeon of Peterboro, passed through the village on Thursday en route to their cottage.

Mr. Robert Charlton and Miss Mamie Charlton were visitors to Peterboro on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holden and Mr. and Mrs. Charlton McBride of Peterboro were visitors to the village on Wednesday evening.

The Great Road to Wealth is Successful Investment

Although the great road to wealth is investment, no one ever attained great wealth within a reasonable length of time by investing his or her savings at six per cent. The annual interest on $5000 at six per cent. is only $300—not enough to keep one person alive.

But small speculative investments sometimes bring enormous returns, like the story told of L. B. Pruitt, of Dallas, Texas, who invested Ten Dollars in an oil company in September, 1917, and by April, 1921, is reported to have drawn a $30,000 fortune from his small investment.

You must dare a little if you expect success—you must have the nerve to take a business risk, but you must have the judgment to see the merits of a real business proposition.

A few hundred dollars invested in a company holding such proven oil properties as Central Ontario Oil Fields, Limited (No Personal Liability), backed by experience and unquestioned integrity, may mean your future independence and a fortune such as no other business can make from so small an investment in such a short time.

This company has opened the recently discovered oil fields of Central Ontario and now stands ready to reap the stupendous profits which accrue to the pioneers in every great oil field. By the installation of drilling equipment, pipe lines and storage facilities it will be able to place its field at Kerwood on a basis of profitable production at an early date. It is to accomplish this that the present offering of shares is made.

This opportunity to get in on the ground floor of a great development work in which the possibilities of enormous profits are unparalleled is necessarily limited. Fill in the attached subscription form and mail it now before it is too late.

OUR RECOMMENDATION

We control and offer for sale 100,000 Shares at $2.00, and subscriptions will be received in any amounts.

This offering by us is made only after the most careful consideration and investigation. Our decision to offer this investment is based on the belief that this Company will enjoy an unusual degree of prosperity.

The reports of geologists and all other information regarding this Company can be inspected at our Offices, or will be mailed on request.

The Food Value of Good Milk

MILK has everything needed in the diet. It is a complete mixed diet in itself. It has sugar and fat, which give energy (force) to move the body—like coal to the engine; it has mineral salts, which build up the bones and keep the body in good shape; and albumin (protein), which—like meat or white of egg—is important in making brawn and sinew. Of all the different kinds of protein to be found in food, the best is found in milk. Sugar, mineral salts, fat and protein are all necessary in a well-balanced diet. But these substances without vitamines will not nourish the body or promote growth. Milk is rich in vitamines. They are absolutely necessary for the growth and nourishment of the body. Therefore, vitamines are indispensable to everybody, but particularly to growing children and to persons recovering from illness. The easiest way to get vitamines is in milk.

The appetizing, pure, clean Pasteurized Milk from this Dairy is what you need for your family.

Order today and our driver will call.

Our Milk is Clarified and Pasteurized. Clarified is Clean; Pasteurized is Pure.

CHEESE MARKET.

MONTREAL, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)—At the United Dairymen Co-operative auction sale of Ontario cheese held here yesterday there were 1,168 boxes offered, of which 163 boxes number one white sold at 16 3-8 cents per pound; 15 boxes No. 2 white at 15 5-16 per pound; 77 boxes special colored at 15 15-16 and 494 boxes No. 1A colored at 15 7-8 cents per pound; 246 boxes No. 2B colored at 15 7-8 and 173 boxes No. 2 colored at 15 5-16 cents per pound.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, June 17.—(Canadian Press.)—The tone of the cash grain market was steady and prices were unchanged here yesterday. There is nothing new in the flour situation. Demand for mill feed showed no improvement and the marked for rolled oats was about steady. Prices fell a further $1 a ton in baled hay. There is no change in the egg market. Prices for potatoes were five cents a bag lower. Business in butter and cheese was quiet.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, June 17.—(Canadian Press.)—Cattle, receipts 4,000; beef steers generally steady; quality plain, top 9.15; bulk 8.25 and 8.75; in-between grades fat she stock and bulls 15c. lower; better grades beef cows and heifers and canners and cutters steady; veal calves 25c. lower; bulk butcher she stock 5.25 and 7.25; canners and cutters 3.00 and 4.00; bulk bologna bulls around 4.65; bulk vealers 8.00 and 9.00.

Hogs, receipts 25,000; market opened strong to 10c. higher; closed firm, mostly five to 10c. higher than yesterday's average; spots up more; top 10.80 early; bulk 10.05 and 10.75; mixed grades slow; closed weak; pigs 25 to 50c. lower; mostly 9.25 and 9.75; holdover moderate.

Sheep, receipts 7,000; steady to weaker; top lambs 12.50; bulk desirable kinds 12.00 and 12.25; culls mostly 6.00 and 7.00; bulk light fat ewes 6.50; extreme heavies to packers, largely 25c. lower; first of season's shipments of Idaho lam's to Chicago due here next week.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 17. — (Canadian Press.)—Wheat— No. 1 hard 131 3-8; No. 1 northern 131 3-8; No. 2, 126 7-8; No. 3, 116 5-8; No. 4, 104 1-8; No. 5, 95 1-8; No. 6, 84 1-8; feed 76 1-8; track, 130 3-8.

Barley—No. 3 C.W. 64; No. 4 C. W. 63; rejected 59 1-4; track 64.

Flax—1 N.W.C. 245 1-2; No. 2 C. W. 234 1-2; No. 3 and rejected 220 1-2; track 238 1-2.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)—The undertone for the best grades is firmer. This is due to their increasing scarcity. Production is falling off, and with this condition there is always a tendency to hold for a higher market which results in poorer quality. A greater spread in price between the two higher grades specials and extras, and the lower grades firsts and seconds, will occur.

Toronto and Montreal unchanged.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan markets weak, prices unchanged.

Alberta receipts falling off, quality poor, markets generally weak but no change in prices reported.

British Columbia holds firm at 25 country points with 27 offered for specials. Jobbing specials, 30, extras 28. Live poultry steady.

Chicago weak and unchanged.

New York lower, current extra firsts 25 to 27, firsts 23 1-2 to 24 1-2, storage packed extra firsts 27 to 28, firsts 25 1-2 to 26 1-2.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, June 17.—(Canadian Press.) — Receipts 400 cattle and calves, 2260 hogs and 40 sheep and lambs.

Trading on the cattle market continued dull and inactive with all classes and grades moving very slowly at weak prices. Common to medium butcher steers have lost fully 75 cents to a dollar over close of last week, while the bulk of cow stuff is moving decidedly slow at a decline of $1 to $1.50. Stockers and feeders are 1.50 down. Bulk feeder steers from 3.00 to $4.50.

The hog market registered a decline of 25 cents yesterday morning, selects 12.25.

The sheep and lamb market was weak. Early sales consisted of common, thin, inferior sheep ranging from 100 to 300.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, June 17.—(Canadian Press.)—Big export sales led to material upturns to-day in the value of wheat. The market closed firm at 1-2 to 1 1-2c. net higher, with July $1.11 to $1.11 1- and September $1.11 to $1.11 3-4. Corn finished 1-8 and 1-4c. off to 3-4c. higher; oats 1-4 and 3-8c. to 1-2c. up, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 27c.

DUTCH BOOM SEA RESORT.

Hope Hague Conference Will Benefit Impoverished Condition.

THE HAGUE, June 17.—The hotelkeepers of Scheveningen, the Dutch Atlantic City, are building high hopes on the international conference as an opportunity to fill their hostelries, which are empty nowdays, owing to the high Dutch currency and prices and the keen competition of the German resorts with German's low currency.

They are anxious that the Dutch Government's idea of making the conference a simple and quiet one will not be carried to extremes. The Peace Palace, where the conference is to be held, is situated between The Hague and Scheveningen.

The Dutch Summer season has not yet opened but every public spirited man in The Netherlands is doing his best to make of the conference a boom for neglected Scheveningen.

GERMANY PAYS.

PARIS, June 17.— (Canadian Press.) — Germany yesterday paid the regular monthly installment of fifty million gold marks for reparations. Deposits aggregating that amount were made in the designated banks in Paris, London and Brussels.

HIGH PRAISE FOR THE UKRAINIANS

Man With the Sheepskin Coat is Defended in the House By J. L. Beaubien

OTTAWA, June 17. (Canadian Press.) — "The man with the sheepskin coat," observed J. L. Beaubien, the Progressive member for Provencher, in the House yesterday, when speaking on immigration, "is better than the man with kid gloves and a white collar."

Mr. Beaubien came mainly to the defence of the Ukrainians. Canada had a great deal of responsibility, he asserted, in the "debauching" of these settlers.

Views expressed on immigration showed some wide divergencies of opinion and also led to : attack on trade unions by Donal Sutherland, the Conservative member for South Oxford. Mr. Sutherland declared that the unions were running the country. They dictate to the government and everybody else; and this was one of the reasons for the railway deficit—a remark which induced William Irvine, Labor member for East Calgary, to make the ironical retort that one had to have courage when talking "beside the facts."

During the discussion Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of Immigration, announced the Government's intention to make special efforts this year to secure suitable immigrants from the British Isles. At the same time an inspection system would be built up on the other side which it was hoped would permit intending immigrants to ascertain their suitability before embarking for Canada.

WEAK HEART

NERVES BADLY SHATTRED

Many a woman who should be strong and healthy, full of life and energy is bound by the shackles of ill-health.

Some disease or constitutional disturbance has left its mark in the form of a weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and an exhausted system.

In

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

they will find a remedy that will supply food for the exhausted nerves, one that will strengthen and regulate the weak heart and invigorate the whole system.

Mrs. W. W. arse, 14 Seaton St., Toronto, Ont., writes:—"I was left with a weak heart and in a run down condition from the 'flu.' My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains around my heart I could not sleep much at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I took one box I got relief, and after taking six boxes I have been well and not bothered since."

Price, 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Fruit News that will help you plan your preserving

The finest fruit grown in the far-famed section bordering the western end of Lake Ontario will be packed by the Niagara Peninsula Growers, Ltd. Each week this organization will tell you through their bulletins in the newspapers what fruits are ready. Watch for these bulletins; they will let you know the best fruits to buy, when you may expect different varieties and the best time for canning. They will give your valuable information that will help you plan your preserving and jam making.

Strawberries are now being shipped. The quality is excellent and the crop promises to be fair to good.

To make sure the fruit you get is of the best quality, uniformly graded and carefully packed, see that every container you buy bears the Niagara Peninsula Growers' mark.

LITTLE WANT ADS.

At this time of the year, there are any number of things that are badly needed, either by the man or woman.

These things can be done without, but the Summer is going to be not quite so happy without them, and they need not cost you nearly as much as you think, if you only use the Want Ads. to get them.

So many people lose a vast amount of pleasure simply because they have never learned the value of a simple little appeal to the Examiner Want Ad. Column. Don't let this bright month of June go by without satisfying little extra Summer wants through the Want Ads.

FLAPPER ISN'T FICTION IDEAL

Woman of 28 Is Choice of Writers As Ideal Heroine.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The ideal age for the heroine of the moving picture romance or the love story of today is 28 years, an age that only a few years ago was regarded as fixing a woman definitely in the ranks of confirmed spinisterhood. This is the conclusion made from a careful study of the 27,000 love stories which amateurs from all walks of life wrote for the scenario contest recently conducted by The Chicago Daily News.

"Striking unity among the nationally scattered contestants upon the subject of the heroine's age is among the first things to be noted by the judges", said James Shyrock, director of the contest, announcing the facts as brought out by the competition." It is too general to be accidental and represents undoubtedly a country-wide change in ideals.

"Few of the heroines are in their 'teens, only a handful are in their very early twenties, the great majority are around 27 and 28, the authors seeming to regard this age as woman's best and woman as more beautiful, intelligent, poised and attractive there than previously. The judges declared that the age of the ideal heroine had been advancing steadily since the '70s when a girl of 16 or 17 was regarded as romantically perfect.

"The judges explain this by citing woman's entrance into industry, politics, education, and by pointing out that woman today refuses to grow old and takes better and more intelligent care of her beauty than she did in early periods. In the stories written by women, 60 per cent of the total heroines were on the average four to five years older than in the stories written by men."

NEW STRENGTHFOR WEAK STOMACHS

Indigestion Disappears When the Blood Supply is Euriched.

The urgent need of all who suffer from indigestion, and who find the stomache unable to perform its usual function, is a tonic to enrich the blood. Pain and distress after eating is the way the stomach shows that it is too weak to perform the work of digesting the food taken. In this condition some people foolishly resort to purgatives, but these only further aggravate trouble.

New strength is given weak stomachs by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because these pills enrich and purify the blood supply. This is the natural process of giving strength and tone to the stomach, and it accounts for the speedy relief in stomach disorders that follows the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The appetite revives, food can be taken without discomfort and the burden and pains of indigestion are dispelled. Mr. William Johnson, a prominent business man of Lequille, N.S., bears testimony to the value of these pills in cases of this kind. He says: "I was attacked with indigestion accompanied by severe cramps in the stomach. I was prescribed for by the family doctor, but got very little benefit. Then I tried some of the advertised remedies but with no better results. Indeed my condition was growing worse. Then I read of the case of a man who praised Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whose condition was similar to my own, and I decided to try this medicine. The result, I think, was amazing as the use of six boxes restored me to my former good health. I can therefore warmly commend the use of this medicine for stomach troubles."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 17. (Canadian Press.) — The signing of an agreement for the payment of the Mexican debt exercised a strong bullish influence over the stock market at the outset of to-day's market.

Mex. Petroleum which soared sensationally in yesterday's later dealings opened with a further gain of 1 1-4 points but this was increased to 4 points within the first ten minutes. Pan American Petroleum rose 2 points and Pacific Oil 1 1-4 and elsewhere the trend was unmistakably upward especially among rails, motors and steels.

Confusing advances and declines attended to-day's brief session of the stock exchange. Prices were generally higher at the outset. Mexicans showing pronounced strength on the adjustment of external debt. Profit taking resulted in general reactions during the first hour. Oils, motors and several of the coalers and equipments were under pressure. Later the list rallied under lead of Mex. Petroleum which increased its early advance of 4 points.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 17. (Canadian Press.) — Sterling exchange weak; demand rates, Great Britain 443 1-2. Canadian Dollar 7-8 of one per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 17. (Canadian Press.) — Initial quotations were 1-8c higher to 1-8c lower; July 62. Oats started unchanged to 1-4c higher with July 34 1-4c and then advanced fractionally.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET

MONTREAL, June 17. (Canadian Press.) — Trading on the local stock exchange this morning was uninteresting and only a few leaders were traded in. There were no price variations of importance and general tone was unchanged.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET

TORONTO, June 17. (Canadian Press.) — Price changes of only fractions and mostly small fractions at that made up the business of a quiet Saturday forenoon on the Toronto stock exchange.

Brazilian opened at 48 but lost almost a point during the session. Canada Cement was fairly active and firm around 68 3-4. Toronto Rails reached 72 1-2 while Winnipeg Rails were a shade better at 39 1-2. Trade was slow in the bond section with changes unimportant.

ARREST COBOURG MAN AND WOMAN

School Principal of Cobourg and Wife Run Foul of Law.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 17 (Canadian Press). — Henry Doxstaler, aged 35, school principal, of Cobourg, Ont., and his wife, Mary Borland Doxstaler — arrested here yesterday, after it was learned that the woman deserted another husband and six children, the youngest one year—waived extradition to-day, and were sent to Cobourg.

Mrs. Doxstaler will be arraigned on a bigamy charge, it was stated.

When the couple met in the police headquarters, preparatory to the return journey, they fell into each other's arms, and, according to the police, expressed "undying love for each other."

The woman appeared far the brighter of the two, making attempts at banter with Doxstaler, who was visibly depressed.

GUS SCHRADER IN PROTESTANT HOME

Has Recovered From His Illness and Starvation While Alone and Unattended.

Gus Schrader has found a comfortable haven at the Protestant Home. After the fitful fever of "the armonia" which laid him up alone in the squalid quarters he occupied in a Charlotte Street loft, and the long fast as a result of his solitariness, he has made a complete recovery, and is again taking an active though simple interest in life.

He was recently discharged from the Nicholls Hospital, and appeared on the street in a new suit of clothes and Christy hat, and was back again around his old haunts on Charlotte Street. But not in his former lodgings. Friends advised him to forsake them, and that same day he was received at the Protestant Home, where he has already made himself useful.

A certain business man who had a kindly interest in old Gus, took him out to a restaurant the day he returned from the hospital, to celebrate his new lease of life.

NO TUBERCULOSIS IN THESE JERSEYS

Fourth Herd of I. J. Hetherington's Cattle Under Covernment Test.

T. J. Hetherington, who lives above Nassau, on the Smith side of the river, has recently had sixteen head of pure-bred Jersey cattle tested for tuberculosis, and has received a certificate declaring them all free of disease.

They were registered thoroughbreds, and were submitted to the most complete and rigid examination known as the eye and tail test. None of the cattle reacted to the tuberculin.

This herd has been sold to a farmer in Richmond, Quebec, and are delivered to the purchaser with the Government's guarantee that they are free of disease. This is the fourth lot Mr. Hetherington has sold—the total being 45. All of them have been tested, and not one has been found with a tubercular trace or reaction.

How Fat Actress Was Made Slim

Many stage people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced steadily and easily by using this new form of the famous Marmola Prescription, and now by taking Marmola Tablets several times a year, keeps her weight just right. All good druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can secure them direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. If you have not tried them do so. They are harmless and effective.

DIED WHILE BRINGING MOTHER'S BODY HOME

Mrs. (Dr.) McCallum of Vancouver Buried With Mother at Millbrook Today.

While accompanying the body of her mother, Mrs. Fee, aged 82 years, from Vancouver to Millbrook, for burial, Mrs. (Dr.) McCallum, 52 years old, also of Vancouver, died suddenly in the train while entering the passage over the Rocky Mountains. Both bodies were taken from the train at Bozunam, Wash., and that of Mrs. McCallum's was embalmed by an undertaker and both the dead resumed the long trip across the continent.

At one o'clock this afternoon the double funeral was held at Millbrook from St. John's church on the arrival of the train. The pall bearers for Mrs. McCallum were Messrs. L. Fallis, H. Ball, Wm. Walsh, Reg. Armstrong, F. Fallis and S. Ball; and for Mrs. Fee they were: Messrs. O. Ball, Jos. Staples, Wm. Larmer, Wes. Larmer, John Law and Joseph Walsh of Peterborough. Mrs. Fee was a Miss Walsh before her marriage and was a sister of the late Wesley Walsh. They had moved from Millbrook to the coast about 12 or 15 years ago.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerdale, Sask., writes:—"I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful for your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.

I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I was in pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out every day, but I soon got so I could walk and eat and have got quite stout.

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.

You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

MY UNDERSTANDING OF JACK PREVENTS OUR PARTING

LXVI.

"But Jack, you know I can act."

Now that I had mentioned my bright idea about earning my own living, I bubbled over with assurance.

"Don't you remember the offer I had after 'Skoal?'"

"You— you want to go on the stage—my wife—on the stage—for a salary," Jack stammered. His expression was blank—as vague as his voice. His face betrayed neither disapproval nor appreciation, just bewilderment.

"I could—that's all I'm saying," I continued. "They cut 'Skoal' to one act for vaudeville. And offered me $100 a week. Of course, I'd hate it, Jack, the separation. But since I'm responsible for our predica—"

Jack interrupted me with a tragic sentence:

"You're not responsible. It's II I'm no good!" he groaned. "You must think me selfish to marry you—and not take care of you, as you want to be, ought to be You must think me a failure."

His speech was like blow upon blow. Jack didn't mean to hurt me. He was explaining himself, not accusing me. I was thankful that I knew how to construe him, otherwise we might have parted right there. I went to him, drew his head upon my breast, kissed him, but I couldn't stop his words:

"You've tested me, Peggins. You've shown me what a husband ought to do for a wife. And I haven't been able to keep the pace."

"At any other time, you would have," I insisted. "It's the times—the business slump—"

"No, Peggins! It's I."

"Or I!" I murmured. "But Jack, honestly, I've only been doing what all the girls do. Why, darling! We haven't half as much as most of our friends—"

A small accident ended our discussion.

Jack's distressing reaction to my suggestion that I go on the stage had made me awfully nervous. While we argued, I twisted my pearl necklace. The string snapped suddenly and the drops of congealed moonlight dribbled through my fingers and rolled to the walls.

We went down on our knees to find them and met at a corner of the rug. Jack wiped my eyes, kissed me, comforted me. We sat like two children on the floor.

We had not been such understanding friends for days. Finally Jack raised me to the davenport and we counted the beads.

"Take them to Barnick's," Jack suggested. "And have them strung properly this time. Two are missing, as I count them. That makes a half dozen you've lost, altogether."

"The string is getting too short," I said. "But they're cheap things—you remember I paid only $25 for them? I'll have Barnick match them. If we can afford it!"

Jack pulled a few bills out of his pocket and less than one dollar in silver.

"There's our pile—until next payday," he laughed. "But I guess we can manage a few frosted beads without breaking us."

BY JEANETTE

This Department will be presented twice a week for the benefit of those interested in this phase of local activity. It will be conducted by Miss Kathleen McCarthy.

Articles of a social or general nature are always welcome, providing they are brief. Address all communications, such as personals and other social items, to the Society Editor of the Examiner, or Telephone 1600.

National Council of Women Meet

The National Council of Women will hold its twenty-ninth annual meeting in Port Arthur and Fort William, commencing June 19 and concluding June 28. Sessions will be held from the 19th to 22nd in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Port Arthur, and from the 23rd to 28th in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fort William.

It is expected about one hundred delegates will attend from Toronto, Hamilton, Halifax, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Georgetown, New Glasgow, Pembroke, Woodstock, Waterloo, Welland, Bracebridge, Renfrew and Moncton, of the Eastern Provinces, and Calgary, Brandon, Edmonton, Regina, MacLeod and Dauphin of the Western Provinces. Homes in both cities will offer hospitality to the delegates, among whom will be the President of the National Council, Mrs. W. F. Sanford, of Hamilton, members of the executive of the National Council and Miss Carmichael, of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, Provincial Vice-President, and Dr. Stowe Gullen, of Toronto, Provincial Vice-President for Ontario, who are nominees for national presidency.

Affiliated societies which will be represented are Children's Aid, Women's Institute, I.O.D.E., Teachers' Association, Nursing Divisions, C.W.P.A., Women's Citizen's League, Women's Canadian Club, Women's Labor League, Graduate Nurses' Association, Y. W. C. A., King's Daughters, Home and School Clubs, S.P.C.A., and all local church and hospital aids. Mrs. Jackson, President of the Municipal Chapter, Toronto, will represent the I.O.D.E.

The agenda includes discussions on citizenship, led by Dr. Stowe Gullen, Toronto, taxation, Mrs. E. M. Murray, Halifax; equal moral standard, Magistrate Margaret Patterson, M.D., Toronto; housing, Mrs. Wesley Bundy, Toronto; laws, Mrs. O. C. Edwards, MacLeod; household economics, Mrs. J. Campbell MacIver, Toronto; conservation of natural resources was allotted to Hon. Mrs. Ralph Smith, M.L.A., Vancouver, but to date no definite word has been received from Mrs. Smith regarding her intention of attending. It was expected also that Mrs. Nellie McClung would be among the visitors, but her regrets have been received.

It is expected that discussion arising out of addresses on housing and equal moral standard will be lively and resolutions will be presented for endorsation. The latter portion of a resolution regarding housing reads: "Whereas, in spite of the downward trend of building materials, rents show little or no tendency to reduction, be it resolved that the National Council of Women urge the necessity for legislation to determine a fair and just rental." That all Councils make a more intensive and thorough study of immigration and its problems will be urged and a motion presented to that effect.

At noon day luncheons the speakers will include Mrs. A. P. Twidale, Alderman of the city of Niagara Falls, who will entertain the delegates with a resume of women's affairs in municipal life. Miss Frances Loring, sculptor, of Toronto, will address the delegates on Canadian war memorials and their designers. Miss Lucy Doyle, President of the Canadian Women's Press Association, will speak on recent Canadian fiction. Magistrate Patterson, Toronto, on the problems of young grls. Immigration at a port of entry will be the subject of what will probably be one of the most interesting addresses to members of the Councils, to be given by Mrs. Dennis, M.A., Halifay. Mrs. Hannington, Ottawa, chief lady superintendent of Victorian Order of Nurses, will speak on conditions of home-makers in isolated places. The convention expected that, in addition to hearing Magistrate Patterson discuss the problems of the young generation, it would have representing Western Canada Magistrate Jamieson, of Calgary, but she has forwarded word that it is impossible for her to attend.

Illustrated lectures will form a portion of programs arranged for the evening sessions. Explaining the illustrations as they are thrown on the screen, the Hon. Mr. Mills, Minister of Mines, Ontario, will talk on the semi-precious stones of Canada; Miss Horton, specialist in correct posture, New York State, will explain common-sense health building through correction of standing posture, and J. A. Wilson, Ottawa, Secretary of the Air Board, will lecture on aviation in Canada. Others addressing the evening meetings will be Mrs. F. H. Torrington, Toronto, past President of the N.C.W.; Mrs. Horace Parsons, Toronto, member of the Minimum Wage Commission, Ontario, and Mrs. Adam Shortt, Ottawa, Vice-Chairman of the Ontario Mothers' Allowance Commission.

Prior to the opening session, Wednesday, June 21, meetings of the executive committees are scheduled to take place Monday, while Tuesday will be occupied with sessions of the standing committees. At Wednesday's meeting the delegates will receive addresses of welcome by His Worship, Mayor Matthews, Port Arthur, and Mrs. A. E. Cole, Port Arthur, President of West Algoma L. C.

Social hours will intersperse the business assemblies and will include a reception at the home of Mayor and Mrs. Matthews on the evening of the arrival of the delegates, a motor drive to Kakabeka Falls, 22 miles from Port Arthur, and a boat trip to Silver Islet. Luncheons are being arranged by the Kiwanians and the Board of Trade, Fort William. Souvenir booklets have been compiled containing much of historical lore having to do with the Twin Cities, together with a program of the proceedings, which will be presented to each delegate. For the past three months the principal business of the West Algoma Council has been the preparation for the convention, and through the courtesies of affiliated societies and others interested the program has been arranged to cover the entire visit of the delegates.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ALWAYS SLEEP WELL

The healthy child sleeps well and during its waking hours is never cross but always happy and laughing. It is only the sickly child that is cross and peevish Mothers, if your children do not sleep well; if they are cross and cry a great deal give them Baby's Own Tablets and they will soon be well and happy again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation, colic and indigestion and promote healthful sleep. AN INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

What Leicester, England, is starting is the knitting of cloth—the provision of clothing that is at once beautifully finished, is light, strong, and only half the cost of ordinary material.

In other words, a revolution is about to dawn in the making of men's wear as well as ladies' wear—and Leicester is to be the home of the manufacture of this new material.

That is something to be proud of. If this means as much for Leicester as the weaving of cloth has meant for Bradford, England, the city is in for an era of even more rapid expansion than it has had in the past. Whether or not it will do so depends upon how the making and marketing of the new cloth is handled. Leicester has a big opportunity. It must not leave other places to reap the harvest of its invention.—Exchange.

Baby's Own Soap

THE RAG MAN

The rag man's heavy horse yawned at the curb, lowering his head in the hot sun. The cart behind him was empty, but soon he would be jogging along with a full load, for his master bargained within, in consultation with the lady of the house, over sundry parcels of old rags, discarded utensils and cast-off clothing. Recruited from attic and cellar, they formed a heap regarded with calm intolerance by the Hebrew peddler, his face fringed with brownish whiskers, and his tight little Christie set firmly above his brows; with intense disfavor by his gloomy-faced assistant, a thin youth whose tragic mouth never relaxed in a smile, and with impatience by the lady of the house, desirous of ridding herself and her domicile with all speed of this useless rubbish. The dealer disdainfully disclaimed any regard for old umbrellas or for the wreck of a kettle that had once been a brave kitchen adjunct. His interest centred mainly about the old clothes and the piles of papers and magazines that were being dumped unceremoniously into dusty bags by the solemn-faced youth. Careful weighing ensued, with the funny little hand-scale of the ragman, and much discussion over the exact amount to be arrived at, after calculation of so many pounds at so much per pound, with certain deductions for newspapers. Finally, "Vell, ve will not qvarrel," he said, spreading his hands abroad, "I vill gif you a dollar, but now I lose twenty or thirty cents, maybe, on it. But I do not care." And the mound of dusty sacks moved off up the street, with the cheerful dealer, the sombre-faced lad, and the lagging horse under the hot sun, gathering the cast-off rubbish of the houses whose calm verandahs harbored fresh-looking matrons, sewing in shaded cool retreats.

MINOR THEFTS IN WEST-END OF CITY.

A group of minor desperadoes is abroad in the West End, whose depredations within the last few days have included such horrible deeds as the abstraction of a man's plug of smoking tobacco from his front porch in the light of broad day, the complete emptying of a pint bottle of milk by a presumably thirsty passer-by from an innocent milk bottle occupying a position of prominence on the verandah in the early hours of the morning, and the more serious damage caused yesterday when a hose was turned on in such a position as to almost totally destroy the efforts of recent artists in painting a West End verandah.

The abstraction of the tobacco was probably the most bare-faced incident of all. The plug had been left calmly waiting for its owner's return, on the front porch, and was evidently spied from the sidewalk by one whose pocket probably was not equal to the strain of purchasing tobacco at the recent advanced prices and yet who longed for a puff of the soothing weed. Of course, it seems strange that such a small object should be noticed from the pavement, and the assumption might be arrived at that the odor of the brown cube attracted the attention of the desperate smoker. In that case, of course, the theft would not have a serious monetary aspect. At any rate, when the owner was advised of the departure of his property in the hands of an unknown male, he pursued him for a block or so, the accelerated pace of the guilty one only causing him to cease following after.

As for the milk bottle, which was originally destined to provide a small quantity of near cream and a portion of milk for the family breakfast, only the bottle itself, the cardboard top and a slight residue in the bottom of the container remained after the contents were absorbed by some wayfarer, whose identity will forever remain a mystery. Hereafter, bottles of milk for this household will be left on the back steps, and, if this should afford encouragement to further depredations, it might be noted that a particularly ferocious Airedale dwells in that vicinity.

Then there was the prominent citizen who trustingly left his home and lately-remodelled and re-decorated verandah, and, with his family, repaired to another portion of the city to patronize a garden party, returning to find that someone, presumably a group of boys, had turned on the hose in his premises and destroyed the nice fresh painting of the woodwork.

STRENGTH OF NATION.

"The strength of a nation depends on the health and strength of its individual members. It matters not how wealthy a nation may become, how large its cities, how vast its armes and navies, if the health of its people is on the decline, it will rapidly perish and decay."—Benj. Disraeli, former Prime Minister of England.

Woman Urges Yachting

MISS FRANCES KN OWLES-FOSTER.

Yachting is the ideal sport for women, says Miss Frances Knowles-Foster, latest Englishwoman to follow the example of Margot Asquith and Lady Astor in visiting America and studying her American cousins as they are at home.

"I'm surprised more American women don't take it up," she says, still referring to yachting. "Since the war many small boats—submarine chasers and even smaller craft—are for sale cheap. These can be made to afford excellent pastime.

Miss Knowles-Foster has sailed around the British Isles herself and is the only Englishwoman who has ever brought a boat through the port of London by night without a pilot.

She is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society and one of the four women members of the Royal Thames Yacht Club. She has written books on travelling and historical subjects and expects soon to do one on motor yachting.

V'omen's Smoke Shop

By MARIAN HALE.

A smoke shop for women is New York's latest evidence of sophistication.

Thick grey velvet rugs, Chinese prints, lacquered furniture and stuffed davenports furnish the background, for an assortment of smokers' supplies bound to please the most uncertain and coy of the sex.

When a woman was obliged to buy her weeds at the corner tobacco shop and, if she had inhibitions, murmur something about father or brother needing some, smoking had no standards, art or precedents.

But since the opening of this new shop it is acquiring all these.

For instance, it is not now good form to smoke cigarettes in evening attire unless you use a holder—and an evening holder at that.

If you are conservative and have just one evening holder, the smartest thing you can get is the long, slender holder of black, with a tiny ring of rhinestones an inch from the end.

Second to the black in favor is a smaller holder of genuine amber with a band of jewels, ebony or tortoise shell.

But the smart thing is to have your holder exactly match your gown. You take a sample of all your evening frocks and have a holder of mother of pearl tinted to match each one.

* * *

The length of the holder is very important and is determined by your general longitude and latitude.

For daytime, you have a greater selection. For one thing, you can take your cigarette firmly between your incisors, without a holder if you like—it's done. But don't mind if your teeth and fingers take on a nice rich ochre tint.

Or you may smoke a small briarwood pipe that is very snappy. You buy your tobacco in ornate little two-ounce packages.

The painted wooden or glass holder, in all colors and in all figured effects, sometimes wildly futuristic, is nifty for sports wear, but the business woman who puffs away at her desk will find something dark and serviceable in better taste.

In cigarettes you may stick to the advertised and conservatively priced brands, or you may have your own particular blend, made up specially for you, monogrammed, tinted and gold banded.

If you are in mourning, you will find a black cigarette in keeping with your costume. If you want to look interesting, you will probably fancy the long Russian cigarettes. At your luncheon parties you will pass a large box of vari-colored cigarettes that the color cravings of all your guests may be satisfied.

Mrs. E. A. Cassidy and Miss Harriett Douglas, who operate the 'Lady Nic" shop, copied their shop from the English idea.

"Before starting I visited the smart smoke shops for women in London. I learned all I could about tobaccos and blends and wrappings. Now I rarely smoke because I have to keep my taste keen so that I may judge accurately the new blends—I'm in the position of a tea taster, you see."

"Who but a New Yorker would have thought of such a place?" I said, and she replied:

"I am from Kansas City, Mo., and my partner is from Philadelphia. We do as much business with women from the west and middle west as we do with New Yorkers. Women in New York smoke more openly, but they don't smoke any more than your women from Omaha or Portland. Everybody's doing it now."

Evening Gowns

The newest fashion is to have your evening gown and evening wrap made to match of the same material. This is evidently just an extension of the three-piece suit idea.

For evening, of course, the capes are not attached. They are lined with some brilliant contrasting color which is also used, in the model shown, to line the panels of the skirts.

Other notes on evening wear are that waistlines have become hipless and skirts are rapidly approaching the floor. The newest Paris imports show evening gowns with long skirts whose bottoms are transparent lace. It's an excellent compromise—really long, apparently short.

De Valera's Cancellation of Visit Believed to Portend Developments.

LONDON, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)—The cancellation by Devalera of his visit to Scotland, says a despatch from Dublin, is ascribed to the calling of an immediate council of Republicans to decide on their course of action. The despatch adds that Republican anger over the constitution is rapidly rising.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whitness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

A CAMP SHOWER AT THE Y.W.C.A.

The local Y.W.C.A. is holding a camp shower on Tuesday next, the 20th instant, when all intending patrons of the camp this summer, and all friends of the "Y" who wish to contribute to a good work are invited to come along and attend during the afternoon and evening for a jolly social time. There will be a garden party on the "Y" lawn in the evening, with ice cream and cake on sale, a special musical programme, and some of the gymnasium closing dances. There will also be an exhibition of fancy swimming at the pool. Miss Helen Carthy, of Toronto, supervisor of the camp for this season, will be present. Miss Carthy has had several years' experience as a "Y" secretary, and will doubtless prove a pleasant addition to the staff of the local association.

Anything in the way of contributions to the shower that might be used in ordinary camp routine will be gladly received, such as bottled pickles and jam, fruits, camp dishes, bedding—in fact, anything at all that will make the camp, which opens on June 30th, more pleasant for its girl inhabitants, during the hot weather.

St. Louis Leads American League - Williams Gets 16th Homer

NEWARK TURNS THE TABLES ON TORONTO MAPLE LEAFS

St. Louis Goes Into First Place in the American League. Five Homers in Baltimore.

INTERNATIONAL.

Newark 5—Toronto 2.

NEWARK, N.J., June 17 (Canadian Press). — The Bears broke their losing streak by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs here yesterday, by the score of 5 to 2. Barnhardt's pitching featured. He held the Canucks to four hits. Score:

Toronto	000000200	2	4 1
Newark	02003000x	5	10 2

Connolley and Devine; Barnhardt and Walker.

Buffalo 6—Jersey City 2.

JERSEY CITY, June 17 (Canadian Press). — Buffalo made it two games out of three with another victory over the Skeeters yesterday, 6 to 2. Werre was effective for the visitors, holding the Skeeters in check with five hits, while Matevier was batted freely for eleven safeties, one a home run by Frank Kane. Score:

Buffalo	004001010	6	11 0
Jersey City	101000000	2	5 1

Werre and Bengough; Matevier and Egan.

Baltimore 15—Syracuse 7.

BALTIMORE, June 17 (Canadian Press). — Five home runs, as many doubles, and a triple marked a weird game yesterday in which Baltimore defeated Syracuse, 15 to 7. The visitors used three pitchers in a vain attempt to check the heavy hitting of the locals. Score:

Syracuse	010401100	7	13 3
Baltimore	72014103x	15	15 1

Kircher, Montgomery, Stewart and Ryan; Parnham and Styles. Barry.

Rochester 9—Reading 6.

READING, June 17 (Canadian Press). — Rochester staged a ninth-inning rally in the game against Reading here yesterday, and won by the score of 9 to 6. Chief Bender held the Colts well in check until the last inning, when two errors by Kopf on the first two men at bat and a scratch hit by Archdeacon filled the bases, which were cleaned by Brady's triple. Three errors and five hits gave Rochester seven runs in that inning. Score:

Rochester	010001007	9	14 3
Reading	013110000	6	13 4

Wisner, Keenan and Lake, Sanberg; Bender and Clarke, Tragresser.

AMERICAN.

St. Louis 5—Washington 2.

ST. LOUIS, June 17 (Canadian Press). — Accomplishing a long-sought objective, the Browns moved into the lead in the American League yesterday by overwhelming Washington, 15 to 2, while the New York Yankees were losing to Detroit. As a result of yesterday's games, the Browns are one-half game ahead of New York. Kenneth Williams knocked out his sixteenth home run, and McManus also crashed out a circuit drive. It was the Browns' fifth consecutive victory. Score:

Washington	000001001	2	9 1
St. Louis	10405014x	15	18 1

Zachary, Turk, Youngblood, Phillips and Gharrity; Vangilder and Severeid.

Boston 8—Cleveland 6.

CLEVELAND, O., June 17 (Canadian Press). — A ninth-inning rally gave Boston its second victory over Cleveland, the score being 8 to 6. Burns led off with an infield single, Pratt doubled, Dugan's sacrifice fly, scored Burns; Smith was purposely passed and Collins tripled, clearing the bases. Manager Speaker, of Cleveland, returned to the game after being out for two weeks because of illness. Score:

Boston	010202003	8	13 1
Cleveland	200300100	6	12 1

Ferguson, Russell, Pennock and Ruel; Uhle, Bagby and O'Neill.

Detroit 9—New York 4.

DETROIT, June 17 (Canadian Press). — Detroit had the best of a slugging match with New York yesterday, defeating the Yankees, 9 to 4, for the third successive time. Both Hoyt and O'Doul were ineffticev, while Dauss, who suceeded Ehmke, when the latter was driven from the box in the second, held New York safe the rest of the day.

The defeat cost the Yankees the American League lead. Score:

New York	110000020	4	13 1
Detroit	03300102x	9	19 0

Hoyt, O'Doul and Hoffman, Devormer; Ehmke, Dauss and Bassler.

Chicago 9—Philadelphia 8.

CHICAGO, June 17 (Canadian Press). — Ernie Johnson's single to right field in the ninth inning sent two runs home, and gave Chicago a 9 to 8 victory over Philadelphia. The game was hard fought and seesawed back and forth, the locals finally coming out on top. Score:

Philadelphia	050101100	8	13 1
Chicago	204001002	9	11 2

Moore, Harris, Naylor and Bruggy, Perkins; Schupp, Hodge and Schalk.

NATIONAL.

Philadelphia 7; Cincinnati 2.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17. Canadian Press. — Relieving Meadows in the third inning with none out and Burns on second, Jimmy Ring blanked Cincinnati yesterday for the remaining seven innings without a hit, and Philadelphia easily defeated the visitors, 7 to 2. Only twenty two men faced Ring. Home runs were made by Williams and Walker. Score:

Cincinnati	020000000	2	4 1
Philodelphia	20200030x	7	12 0

Luque, Markle and Hargrave; Meadows, Ring and Peters.

Chicago 7; Boston 6.

BOSTON, June 17. (Canadian Press.) — Grimes' home run to the left field corner in the 12th inning proved the winning factor for Chicago over Boston 7 to 6 yesterday. In the 4th and 5th Right Fielder Nicholson made double errors muffing fly balls and then throwing wildly and was responsible for four Chicago runs. Mitchell and Boekel weer put out of the game by Umpire Klem. A diving catch by Friberg in the 11th saved the game for Chicago. The score:

Chicago	010f30001001	7	15 1
Boston	11110100000	6	13 4

Jones, Osborne, Kaufman, Oeechger, McQuillan, Fillingim, and O'Neill Cowdy.

New York 7, Pittsburgh 1.

NEW YORK, June 17.—(Canadian Press.) — New York made it three straight yesterday over Pittsburgh, 7 to 1, in another one-sided game. James Barnes held the Pirates in check while his mates knocked Glazner off the mound in the second inning. It was the seventh straight for the Giants and 11 victories out of their last 12 games. Score:

Pittsburgh	000 000 100	1	8 3

Brooklyn 12, St. Louis 2.

BROOKLYN, June 17.— (Canadian Press.)—Brooklyn made 17 hits off Doak and Walker yesterday, defeating St. Louis 12 to 2, and tightening the race for second place. Every one of the Dodgers made one or more hits, Johnston, Wheat and Mitchell getting three each. Hornsby made his fifteenth home run of the season in the eighth inning. Score:

Brooklyn	300 025 10x	12	17 1

Walker, Doak and Clemons, Ainsmith; Grimes and Miller.

OLD JAKE DAUBERT STILL CLOUTS THEM

Jake Daubert, first baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, at 37 years of age, is making all the younger players in the National league sit up and take notice when it comes to consistent hitting this year.

Daubert this season got away to the worst start any major league has made in years.

It was in his 26th time at bat in his eigth game of the season that he made his first hit of the year.

Once he started, though, the old boy didn't know when to stop. He erased his seven-game slump with a streak on which he hit safely in 22 consecutive games, making 32 hits in 77 times at bat in those games.

Charles Ebbets owner of the Brooklyn team, and a man who doesn't bear Daubert much love, was west with his team when Jake was getting his streak around the 20-game mark. Ebberts offered a bat to any Brooklyn pitcher who would stop Jake. Len Cadore and Al Mamaux did it on May 15 and Ebberts had to buy two hats.

But they stopped Jake for only one day. May 16 was an open date and May 17 he was off again on another streak which lasted six games and in which he made 12 hits in 29 times at bat.

He then stopped for one day, after which he started a third streak which numbered 14 straight games an on which he made 27 hits in 60 swings.

Of 44 games, Daubert has hit safely in 42. His hiting has been timely, too, and he played a big part in changing the Reds from the cellar outfit to a contender for the league leadership.

HARWOOD LOST TO ROSENEATH.

CURWOOD SUES FILM MEN FOR PLOT THEFT

Author Asks $100,000, Citing Copyright Law.

OWOSSO Mich. June 17.—James Oliver Curwood, Owosso author and film producer, has started suit in United States District Court in New York aaginst several motion picture producers, alleging infringement of copyright on two of his novels. He asks $100,000 damages.

Curwood declares that his fight is started mainly to determine to what extent writers and producers are protected by the copyright laws against piracy of pictures by other producers. He asserts that the stealing of plots has become so common that the copyright laws have been virtually forgotten.

Dave Emulates Eddie Plank

DAVE DANFORTH (EDDIE PLANK INSET.)

They say Eddie Plank is Dave Danforth's model of all baseball pitcher ought to be.

This isn't strange. About five years ago, after Dave had been tried out with the Chicago White Sox and found wanting, Eddie took him in hand. He gave much good advice to the youngster, and a great deal of it still sticks with him. He pitches with Eddie's old form and has many of his tricks.

"Plank told me," Dave says, "that a pitcher's biggest asset is control, and I've practised it faithfully. Another of his tips was to 'keep the batter nervous'. That's why I'm glad of all these stories that I use a shiner. If the batter comes to the plate full of the idea that the pitcher has something that's a fooler he's worried and makes him an easy mark. Eddie also emphasized cutting the corner and keeping the ball away from the batter's waist."

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

If, with a runner or runners on the bases, the batsman hits a fly to the outfield, the runners on the bases shall have the right to advance the moment the ball touches the hands of the fielder making it play. Often the fly ball is juggled a number of times before the fielder finally retains possession of it. Such juggling, however, must be no consideration relative to the runner. If the runner was forced to hold his base until the ball was finally held fielders would constantly juggle the ball as they ran in with it toward the infield. That would deprive the runner of any protection. That is why the rule reads that the base runner shall have the right to advance the moment the ball strikes the hands of the fielder making the play.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP ON HAMILTON LINKS

120 Players Entered For Qualifying Round For Canadian Amateur Title

HAMILTON, June 17 Canadian Press) — One hundred and twenty players will toe off on Monday in the qualifying round of the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship tournament.

Play will continue throughout the week, the final for the championship being played on Saturday.

The entry list was closed last night at the Hamilton Golf Club, over whose links at Ancaster the championship struggle will take place.

The qualifying round will be at medal play over the thirty-six-hole route, eighteen holes being played in the morning, and the remainder in the afternoon.

The thirty-two players with the lowest scores will qualify for play in the first round of the championship proper, beginning on Tuesday, which will also, as will be the succeeding rounds and final, be played over the thirty-six holes.

BASEBALL GIRLS TO HOLD A FIELD DAY.

A field day for the girls' baseball teams will be held in Central Park next Saturday afternoon. The events will be open to all girls taking part in the Girls' Playground League games and will include the following events: ball throw for distance, batting the ball for distance, ball throw to second base, running to first base on time from batted ball, base running for time. Relay races for both junior and senior girls are also scheduled with four girls to a team.

LACROSSE PRACTICE.

GOOD SGHEDULE FOR NEXT WEEK

P.A.A.A. Will Stage Many and Varied Athletic Events.

A full program has been prepared by the P.A.A.A. for the next week and will include events in almost every branch of summer sports. The schedule is:

Monday—P.A.A.A. meeting at 5 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce Girls' baseball at 5.30 at Central Park. Junior O.L.A. practice from 6 to 7 o'clock at Central Park City League Lacrosse, 6 to 8 o'clock at King Edward Park and at the Oval. Canoe Club meeting at 7 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A

Tuesday—Baseball game at Riverside Park at 5 o'clock, Rotary vs Kiwanis Junior O.L.A. game at Riverside Park at 6 o'clock, Peterboro vs Hastings. Schoo' Lacrosse at 4.30 at Central Park. Juvenile lacrosse practice at Central Park at 6 o'clock. Track and field events at Nicholls Oval at 5.30 o'clock.

Wednesday — Girls baseball at Central Park at 5.30. Juvenile lacrosse practice at King Edward at 6 o'clock. City League baseball at Riverside Park at 6 o'clock.

Thursday—Track and field events at the Oval at 5.30. Junior O.L.A practice at Central Park at 5 o'clock

Friday—Junior O.L.A. game at Campbellford. City League lacrosse at King Edward Park and at the Oval at 6 o'clock

Saturday—Junior School field day at the Oval at 10 o'clock. Girls baseball field day at 2.0 at Central Park. Junior and Juvenile O.L.A. practice at 530 at Central Park. First Lacrosse

The first O.A.L.A. game of the season to be played here this year will be staged at Riverside Park on Tuesday between Hastings and Peterboro in the junior group. It is announced to begin at six o'clock, and although the hour is inconvenient for most persons it is hoped that a large attendance of lacrosse fans will be present. If the local boys turn out a complete team they should give the Hastings team, winners of the junior group last year, an interesting game. The local players remember their game with Hastings in Campbellford last season when they came close to victory, and will make a big attempt to win this home game.

KEEPING IN FORM BY NEVER BEING IDLE

Palm Beach cloth is made in varying prices — just according to the quality and quantity of work put into each suit by the tailors. A good tailor can't make a poor suit, nor can a cheap tailor get a sudden inspiration to produce good work.

The Semi-ready tailors keep up to a high standard, and they keep in form on special orders or custom suits made-to-order in four days—whilst the cheap ready-made shops are idle between seasons.

A golfer can keep in form in the new dicce golf coat shown at Stock's Men's Wear Store on George street.

A CUTE LITTLE WRESTLER

KINJO IKEDA.

Graceful, isn't he—all ready to spring!

He's Kinjo Ikeda, catch-as-catch can wrestling champion of Japan, here to prove to Americans if possible, that the "yellow peril" is the real thing.

He says he has never been defeated. After a hard course of training he plans to meet Walter Miller, middleweight champion of the Pacific coast, where he has been sojourning since his arrival from the orient. If he beats Miller he expects to tour the United States.

LACROSSE

Senior Crescents strengthened their hold on the top position of the city lacrosse league last night by defeating Athletics by the score of 3 goals to 0. With Ranger, Doug Miller, Killoran and O'Toole playing a snappy, fast game on the home field the Crescents had a decided shade of the play against the Athletic defense who were minus George Mein and several of the other players with whom they started the season. The passing game of Mick Halpin's boys who have also been trained by Abe Rose, was one of the brightest bits of lacrosse the city league has produced so far. On the other hand the Athletics were without George Mein and Grover Halpin, and Bert Todd was on for only two periods. However, the Dick Fuller, Ford Wolff, Keith Mein and the rest of the youngsters who were practically the entire juvenile squad of the Athletics, put up a strenuous game and were lucky to hold the score to three goals. The best individual work of the evening was Jack Lebarr's exhibition in the Athletic goal. He stopped a fusilade of difficult shots, and generally gave what was conceded to be the best performance in the nets that has been seen locally in many a day.

R. M. Glover handled the game in fine style, and the fairly large crowd enjoyed it.

In the midget class the most encouraging development of lacrosse has been promoted by Vic Hamilton, with a score of kids from Ashburnham, chiefly from the King George school. They have provided the most recruits for the Saturday morning games, and as a matter of fact have lacked opponents for practice games. Mr. Hamilton stated that some of these youngsters show a surprising aptitude for lacrosse, and if they carry on for a year or two at their rate will make the old game permanent again in Ashburnham.

After all leagues may be formed and all that sort of effort put forth, but the quickest way to restore lacrosse is by such methods as those of Mr. Hamilton. The future of the game here depends upon the little fellows of 10 or 12 years. Down in Campbellford a lot of little "shavers" handle their sticks, shoot and pass with all the skill of the seniors whom they adopt as their models.

It is all very well for the lads of eighteen and twenty to take up the game, but unless the small boys are also breaking in, the present revival will not endure.

There are enough boys now playing in the juvenile league to insure the continuance of the game next year, and Dr. Sutton's personal work in distributing sticks will have a big effect, but the coaching of groups of corner lot boys will have the soundest and most permanent results.

On the whole the progress that has been made among the juveniles this season so far is decidedly encouraging, and this also applies the "midget" class. When the schools generally fall in line with the King George group, the game will take care of itself.

R. M. Glover adopts the policy recommended by Harry Murton, of the "Toronto Telegram" in the interpretation of the rule regarding 'taps' on the head. In refereeing the city league games Mr. Glover discourages the tendency of some of the players to drop every time they get even a light, unintentional crack on the head. The rule is generally regarded as a desirable one for O. A. L. A. games, but the city league is a training ground on which the discretion of a wise and experienced referee can be exercised to special advantage. There is not only the application of the rules to be considered, but also the emphasis that lacrosse is a strenuous game in which some bumps are bound to be given and taken.

Checking is an essential feature of the game that should not be too strictly hampered, especially when it is evident that the player is trying not to be rough and when the offense under the rule is a light one. An experienced referee can teach a little lesson to the ball carrier in such cases that will have more than one effect on his ideas and character.

TRACK AND FIELD AT NICHOLLS OVAL.

Track and field days will be held at Nicholls Oval on Tuesday and Thursday under the auspices of the P.A.A.A. and will be open to all entries Dr Frank has secured considerable new equipment for the events including a 16 pound hammer a discus, 8, 12 and 16 pound shots, a take off board for the broad jump, a toe board for the weight events, two vaulting poles and jump ing standards and cross bars. He expects to have some hurdles made later.

"GREEN TEMPTATION"

DANCES MORE SENSATIONAL THAN YOU HAVE EVER SEEN BEFORE

TALES OF A WAYSIDE TEE

By GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright 1922, New York Tribune Inc.)

What about the chances of Hagen, Barnes and Hutchison in the British open, which graces the classic links of Sandwich in the next fortnight?

Each one has about one chance in seven or eight, and the three together have a very fair chance—but you know the canny and uncanny ways of golf—and what quaint, queer developments can take place in a given round.

"When star professionals get together," remarked Alex Smith some time ago, "it is mainly a matter of good or bad timing. You will find three or four from the field who on that particular occasion are meeting the ball in the right way, getting results without any great effort. They usually take the tournament in their hands, and then it falls to the one who has a shade in the luck and is getting his putts down. But no one can tell when three or four of the best will happen to be off that week, where with uncertain timing they are out of it."

The Big Three.

On past performance dope these three are the best Uncle Sam can trunk on in a big classic.

It may be that all three will be just about at top form, hitting the ball as it ought to be hit.

If this happens they have just as strong a chance as Duncan, Ray and Mitchell—or any other three picked from the British Isles.

But here is where the morose odds come in. It isn't likely that all three will be at the top of championship form, with the putter doing its share, and you can't afford to have many delinquents where only three are carrying the burden.

Against these three Great Britain can offer Duncan, Mitchell, Ray, Havers, Kirkwood, Wethered, Herd, Taylor, Vardon, Braid, Ockenden and some five or six others of top rank.

From these twelve or fifteen possibilities six or eight can be off, lacking the proper touch, and there will still be as many others rambling around between 72 and 76.

Great Britain may have several stars who are putting poorly, with a reserve on hand that may be putting extremely well—and the putt is a big part of any championship, not only a great score maker, but a steadying factor for fluttering nerves.

Our Chances.

Will Hutchison, Hagen or Barnes make the best showing?

Hutchison, probably the most brilliant golfer in the world, and certainly one of the most spectacular, carries a heavy burden in defending his title.

But if Jock can only get away briskly and blithely he will be hard to hold in check.

His chance depends more upon his start than anything else. His game has been a trifle erratic, following the long 10,000 mile three-month journey, but once the inspiration comes upon him the sandy-haired Chicago-Scot can come upon miracles in a hurry.

Barnes has always been consistent. He finished fifth in 1920 and tied for 6th in 1921, after leading the field at the end of fifty our holes.

He was not physically able then, after a heavy fusilade from a fock of boils, to go the full route.

Hagen is about due to make a better showing. He finished 55th in 1920, far out after four bad rounds, and last June worked his way down to 6th place.

Hagen has never been quite as consistent since he retired from the active professional field and gave up his work upon a golf course.

Yet he is still a determined player, a fine putter who has his chance to go far.

There is no great difference among the three. Last summer Hutchison won the British open, Barnes the United States open and then Hagen, with both Barnes and Hutchison entered, won the Western open and the Professional Golfers Championship.

It comes down to a matter of touch or feel on the days of the championship. The duffer has his day when he is much better than usual—and his day when he is much worse. The same applies to the best of the pros. Kirkwood recently led Duncan, Ray, Mitchell and others 13 strokes in a 72-hole medal round. That was Kirkwood's week. Mitchell, who has been way off, may be due to start back; he may be coming on in place of going back, as he was the last two years. Duncan will be extremely dangerous. In fact, the three leading British entries now seem to be Duncan, Ray and Kirwood, with the far hitting Wethered a dark horse. Wethered is one of the most improved golfers in the world since June a year ago. Sandwich from the back tees will suit his game, and if he happens to be hitting his putts he will be a factor worth watching. But in a field of this calibre the final allotment belongs with the gods.

Lessons in Golf

Always take a stance that points the toes outward. It will help you grip the ground and give you better balance. Once when playing poorly I observed that my feet were nearly straight, in fact, almost pigeon-toed. I pointed my toes out, and immediately my faults of play corrected themselves. If your toes are straight you cannot pivot properly, and but if you have them equally turned out your stroke will be a little rounded or flat. Thus, to get an upright swing, with the least bit of slice spin at the far end, I point out the left toe more than the right. This allows an easy pivot and braces the left knee more easily. It also serves you in applying your full weight to the ball ,and will give you much more purchase on the right foot, which means the fullest application of strength.

When Willie Hunter, amateur champion of Britain, comes down on a full shot, with either wood or iron, he means it to be full—and his intention usually is conveyed by a crack much like a rifle report when his clubhead strikes his ball Hunter, pictured to-day, was the sensation of last year's National Amateur tournament. He defeated Bobby Jones in match play and was a semi-finalist.

PITCHER'S "WIRED" ARM EFFECTIVE.

Ottawa Veteran, Wounded Seven Times, Allows Only Two Hits.

OTTAWA, Ont. June 17. — Few realized as they watched Clarence Valin pitch winning ball for the Gunners here in the City League game with Canadiens at Lansdowne Park, that he had 27 feet of silver wire wrapped about the bones or his pitching arm, holding it to his shoulder. Valin has a silver cap on his shoulder, in addition to the wire wrapped about the bone. Clarence Valin was overseas with the 7th Brigade Artillery Headquarters and was with the 25th Batery as a signaller. He was wounded seven times while in France. He also has 25 feet of wire wrapped about the bones of his left leg.

No spectator at the ball park last night could tell from his actions that in place of the sinews of his arm silver wire enabled him to "breeze" over the fast one holding the Canadiens to two hits and three runs, striking out six men. Batters who opposed Valin will testify that silver wire doesn't keep the "hop" of his fast one, even in cold weather. There is little doubt but that for his wounds Mr. Valin would have been a ball player of exceptional ability. Clarence Valin is about 27 years old and is a telegrapher with the Canadian Packing Company at Hull.

The story on a travelling pantomime street show in the days before the great war and introduce the harlequin played by Gaspard and Columbine, played by Genelle. Pitou, the clown, and their accomplice, goes through the crowd and steals their valuables as they watch the performance.

Genelle is noticed by a theatrical producer who arranges with Gaspard to cultivate the talents for the theatre. His wallet having been stolen, he gives to Genelle a unique coral ring as evidence of good faith.

In two years, Genelle known as Coralyn, after the ring she wears, is the idol of Paris. She continues to lead her double life, returning to her Apaches accomplices after every performance. As Coralyn, she meets a wealthy Duchesse and an Englishman named Allenby. As Genelle, she again sees Allenby in the Cafe des Apaches, when the latter, after soliciting Gaspard's aid in business of shady nature watches her dances and notices her unique ring Coralyn is invited to dance at a fete given by the Duchesse and Gaspard and she plots to steal the Duchesse's emerald necklace. After her dance at the fete the chandelier suddenly falls, cut by Pitou from above and in the darkness, observed only by Allen by who seeing the ring, now knows Coralyn and Genelle to be the same But the carrier pigeon used in her dance and to which she has tied the jewel for delivery to Gaspard, is found with a broken wing, bearing the jewel. The pigeon is a clue to Coralyn's guilt, and warned by Allenby, she escapes and goes to the Apache den. That is soon raided and with no other avenue of safety open to her, Coralyn, as Joan Parker joins the Red Cross to care for the fighters of France who have just become engaged in the great war.

During the war, Coralyn's views of life are changed and broadened, and with peace comes her complete regeneration. She has by careful nursing saved the life of Hugh Duyker, an American, winning his love and gratitude. Coralyn, still as Joan, goes to America. Allenby sees an attachment springing up between Hugh and Coralyn and so does Molly Dunton, Hugh's old sweetheart. Gaspard, posing as Count Oudry of the Belgian relief, has come to America, still on the trail of the jewel, and at Mrs. Duyker's home, meets Coralyn. She refuses to aid him further in his crookedness, however. Gaspard thinking Coralyn in league against him, tells Molly Dunton just enough to arouse her curiosity to investigate the girl' past.

The next evening at a costume fete, Molly tells Hugh she is suspicious of Joan, but he will not believe her. His proposal, however, is interrupted by Allenby claiming his dance. The emerald, now owned by Mrs. Duyker, is again stolen and Count Oudry (Gaspard) accuses Joan. She submits to a search and is exonerated. Alone with Allenby, however, the latter asks her why she stole jewel and then planted it in his sash when it looked like exposure for her. She assures him she took it to keep Gaspard from stealing it. Count Oudry interrupts them by entering with a gun and snatching the jewel from Joan. The detectives following, intercept him and in the skirmish he is shot and killed. The detective, returning the jewel to its owner, credits Allenby for its recovery announcing him as Captain Allenby of Scotland Yard. Allenby tells Joan he has always loved her for the woman he knew she could be and now knows that she also loves him.

"FOOLISH WIVES IN EUROPE"

"FOOLISH WIVES" IN PETERBOROUGH, 22ND JUNE.

American and Canadian women are known all over the world for their good looks—there are probably more beautiful women in America than one realises until some international wedding or event of social importance occurs. In "Foolish Wives," the Universal super-production which will be seen at the Capitol Theatre on Thursday, 22nd June, it is quite evident that European women are likewise good to look at; but theirs is a different type of beauty, a more sophisticated sort, as becomes women who live in a country where the female of the species outnumbers the male, and where romance does not end with marriage. The freedom of our women who travel in Europe, very often unchaperoned and with all the resources of uncounted and unstinted wealth at their command, has long been a matter of comment and discussion.

Clever writers have frequently dwelt on the subject, and it has formed the basis of popular novels, but it remained for Erich von Stroheim to create and develop the powerful story of "Foolish Wives" about this theme. There is a good lesson to be learned in this production—not that many of us might be thrown into the same or similar circumstances, but nevertheless, there is food for thought. Mr. von Stroheim is a consummate villain in the picture, but such a great artiste, that one does not think of him in any other light but as the degenerate Russian nobleman, preying on every woman he comes in contact with, from the maidseryant in his pseudo-impoverished household, to the innocent, guileless wife of the American Ambassador at Monaco. He is ably assisted in all his nefarious work by two women who are far worse than "foolish"—they are female "crooks de luxe," and they ensnare victims who sometimes might resist the more obvious machinations of the "Count." To see the final resting-place of Count Karamsin is worth the whole eleven reels.

"Foolish Wives" comes to the Capitol Theatre on Thursday, 22nd June.

AT THE REGENT.

To-night is your last chance to see the wonderful spectacular play, with its scenes of life in China, called "The Vermilion Pencil." Hayakawa, the celebrated Japanese actor, in the leading part, risks his life many times during the volcanic eruption that destroyed many villages and thousands of peasants. This is generally admitted to be the most elaborate and gripping play ever screened. In addition to this five-reeler there is an exciting Western cowboy romance full of thrills and pep. To-night's comedies and "news" are also very interesting. For Monday the Regent has managed to secure the great six-reel humorous-drama entitled "Two Weeks With Pay." This strong drama, with Bebe Daniels in the leading role, has attracted general favor at the largest theatres on the Continent. There are also three corking good reels of sparkling comedy as well as "news" and scenic pictures.

Studebaker

"Built-in-Canada"

STUDEBAKER builds more six-cylinder cars than any other manufacturer because Studebaker builds them better.

We can show you many definite points of superiority in the Special-Six that prove this statement.

In times of close competition, merit wins. Today competition in automobiles is keener than it ever was, because people are buying more carefully than they ever did.

Studebaker increased its Canadian sales 64 per cent in 1921, though the industry, as a whole, showed a falling off of nearly 45 per cent. 1922, up to May 1st, shows a gain of 143 per cent in Studebaker's production in the U. S. and Canada over the same period of 1921.

Studebaker sales records tell their own story. The buying public has declared for Studebaker superiority.

Memorial Day at Trinity Church

Two beautiful memorial windows and a bronze tablet will be unveiled at Trinity Church on Sunday morning. The Honor Roll, also, has been completed by Mr. John Kennett and will be in its place in the vestibule of the Church. At this memorial service addresses will be given by Rev. J. P. Wilson D.D., who was pastor of Trinity Church during the greater part of the War, and Dr. A. W. MacPherson, Commander of the Peterborough Rangers. The G. W.V.A. will be in attendance. There will be special music by the choir and the Caledonian Pipe Band (Kilties). By kind permission of Lieut. Col. McPherson and Officers the Band will be present. A quartette of Buglers will sound the last post. The pastor will be in charge of this service. At the evening service Mr. Malott will preach. There will also be a special service of song at night. All are welcome at these services.

AN EARLY CATCH.

Mr. C. E. Curtis, assistant city clerk, was one of the numerous sportsmen who turned out Friday morning to celebrate the open season for bass and maskinonge. He brought home a five pounder, one of the few that were landed. One of the enthusiasts was on the water at three o'clock, and cast first for mudcats, then hooked an eel, and finally wound up with a 'lunge.

Miss Esther Collins, nurse-in-training in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, is spending two weeks' holidays with her parents at 506 Cedar street.

Mrs. Harry Thompson ("Lou") of the Buffalo City Hospital, Buffalo, is in the city renwing acquaintances.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Young are guests at George Street Methodist parsonage over the week-end. Rev. Dr. Young, the father of Rev. W. Harold Young, was formerly a pastor of George Street Church.

Mr. M. Maloney, of Toronto, is spending a short vacation in the city.

The pupils of Miss Olga Fowler will give a piano recital at the Conservatory of Music on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. G. W. Gilman and Miss Jean returned to the city last evening, after an absence of over a year and a half in Pasedena, California. They are staying at present with Mrs. F. H. Neville, 351 Charlotte Street, and will be at home later at 377 Park Street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Dabney of Los Angeles, Cal., who are touring Canada and the United States, spent a few days last week with Dr. and Mrs. M. McClelland of this city.

Mrs. Joseph Henderson returned last night from Owen Sound, where she attended the sessions of the Rebecca Grand Lodge. While there she presented on behalf of Golden Link Rebecca Lodge of Peterboro, which she represented, a cut glass water set to the president.

An enjoyable and well-attended violin recital by the pupils of Miss Edwina Palmer was given in the Conservatory of Music Hall last evening, with an appreciative audience which applauded the efforts of the junior men and women who gave an entertaining programme of pretty music. The majority of the pupils play from memory, and exhibit excellent technical ability, with a clear, smooth tone, an ease and facility in their playing which is a great credit to their teacher and a promise of a bright musical future as exponents of the king of instruments — the violin.

The programme opened with a verbal introduction by Miss Palmer, describing the first orchestral number, a Tschaikowsky suite, which was followed by another selection by the Junior Orchesta, Zamenik's "Festival March." This aggregation of clever little musicians play well and harmoniously together, shading every number with skilful interpretative ability, under the direction of Miss Palmer. The pupils' numbers followed: "Melodie," Stewart Dawson, "Evening Song," Jeanette Allin; "Twilight," Margaret Walker; "Cradle Song," Isobel Davidson: "Pastorale," Doris Donley; "Valse," James Mullon; "Marche Militaire," Gerald Hutchinson; "Blue Bells of Scotland," Eric Jones; "Gavotte," Stewart Widdess; Beethoven's "Minuet in G," Dora Brown; "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn," Fred Blackwell, of Lindsay; "Simple Aveu," Robert and Will Cormack; "Melodie in F," Irene King; Gounod's "Ave Maria," Donald Morrison; Borowski's 'Berceuse,' Marion McFarlane; Mozkowski's "Melodie," Roy Rome; Boccherini's "Minuet," Katherine Taylor; "Meditation" from "Thais," Lyness Nesbitt, of Lindsay; "Adoration," Arnold Spencer; "Brindisi Valse,' Winnie Evans.

Mrs. F. Fowler and Mrs. E. Archer attended the Presbyterial Convention held in Brighton last week, being delegates from Lakevale W.M.S.

WEDDING BELLS

McBRIEN—McINTYRE.

A very pretty wedding took place on June 7th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McIntyre, Ashburn, when their daughter, Hazel, was married to Mr. Irvine McBrien, son of Mr. H. McBrien, Brooklin. Rev. Mr. Fraser officiated, the ceremony taking place in the presence of about sixty guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in a gown of white georgette and wore a veil trimmed with pearls and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of Oncelin roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Mary Hatherley, of Millbrook, wore pale pink georgette and carried pink roses. Mr. Lockwood McBrien acted as best man. After the wedding breakfast, served on the lawn, the bride and groom left for Toronto, Sarnia and other points. The bride's travelling costume was a tailored suit of navy tricotine with sand-colored hat of mohair and georgette, and marabou fur. On their return Mr. and Mrs. McBrien will reside at "Shamrock Lodge," Brooklin.—Globe.

NEW ORCHESTRA FOR CAPITOL

It may be considered good policy to retrench in business these days, to cut all overhead expenses to the limit, but in the theatrical world, it is not always wise. People will pay a certain amount of money for amusement no matter how hard up they are but very rarely do they continue to do so if they never get any value for it. The Capitol is Peterborough's finest theatre — not only is it a handsome building but it is quite unique for a city of this size, and the people who patronize are certainly the most discerning kind of audience. They express themselves frequently, as being delighted with the service they get, and Manager Abbey, is very popular—he will be more so than ever know it is known that instead of giving less for the money during the summer, he is actually improving his program and good incidental music will accompany all the pictures. Beginning on Monday, there will be a splendid four piece orchestra, at the Capitol which has been brought to Peterborough from Galt—the musicians are far beyond the average players even in large houses, and Mr. McFayden is a capable leader who can direct as well as play almost any instrument. He is an artist with the pipe organ The scores played by this orchestra will consist of very high class music there will be many novelties and the summer season at the Capitol promises to be the best ever in Peterborough.

IS SATISFIED WITH GORDON IN THE HOUSE

Deputy Speaker G. N. Gordon Gets Credit for Progress During Session at Ottawa—Progressives Delay.

NEARING FINISH

OTTAWA, June 19.—Whether or not Parliament can prorogue this week depends on the question of freight rates. It was said that the Progressive attitude would be one of fight, which means days of talk on a highly specialized subject. There is reason to believe that the Progressives will make a stand for Crow's Nest rates on grain and flour, perhaps sacrificing for these two commodities the rest of the list embodied in the agreement of 1897. So far the best railway offer is 10 per cent. above Crow's Nest rates. Another meeting of the Special House Committee, threshing the question out in Executive session, will be held to-day. Nobody looks for a decision from the committee to-day. No report may be obtained before Wednesday.

Notwithstanding the prospect of bitter and prolonged debate on freights, Government supporters are more than satisfied with the progress which has been made during the last ten days. On Friday night the last of the main estimates were passed. Usually there are some of these main estimates held up till the last hours of the session. This Government considers itself quite fortunate in having disposed of the estimates with so little controversy and without steam-roller methods. Most of the criticism on big items came from the Liberals themselves.

Democratic Government.

However, this criticism is known not to be displeasing to the Premier, who claims it bears out his theory of democratic government, in which the Cabinet is but a committee of Parliament. Credit for progress in the estimates is also given to the Deputy Speaker, George N. Gordon, who is always in the chair when the House is in Committee. Mr. Gordon loses no time in Committee, though he is quite lenient with the rank of talk. His chairmanship is described as business-like as that of any Parliament in the last decade. Mr. Gordon is a rapid worker himself, and has the faculty of dispensing with quite a number of the little formalities which generally take up so much time.

Pleased Estimates Are Through.

Members of the Cabinet and the Premier have expressed themselves as quite pleased that they have no main estimates to am through right at the last.

Efforts will be made to conclude the session this week. Few think that it can be accomplished. Some of the leading Liberals say the end will come a week from Wednesday, but the majority say the members will be here doing business right till the end of the month.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR LARGE CROP

Peterboro' County Farmers Are Well Satisfied With the Situation.

Farmers in the city to-day discussing the crop outlook in a farm machinery shop were resolved that prospects were never better at this time of the year for a bumper crop. Last year, despite claims from Douro and Ennismore to the contrary, crops did not look so well. Nothing short of a continued drought during the summer could injure the crops and in view of the heavy rains the ground is well prepared for a prolonged dry spell. The abundance of rain did no harm the farmers said, and they recalled years when it had rained practically all June and yet there were good crops.

The fall wheat is headed out in splendid form, the Examiner was told, and the other grain crops are in good shape. Sweet clover is being cut and the farmers are getting ready for cutting hay and red clover and that the harvest is just around the corner is emphasized by the huge piles of binding twine in the back of the shop. "If we get a few weeks' sunshine things will come along tremendously," said one veteran farmer from South Monaghan.

LUNCHEON IN DOWNING STREET.

Premiers Conferred With the Earl of Balfour.

LONDON, June 19 (Canadian Press). — Prime Minister Lloyd-George gave a luncheon at Downing Street this noon in honour of Premier Poincaire of France, at which most of the members of the British Cabinet were present.

After luncheon, Premier Poincaire was to confer with Premier Lloyd-George and the Earl of Balfour, acting Foreign Minister, leaves for Paris this evening.

"Three Factors Which Will Secure a Victory For Rail and Mine Workers"

CINCINNATI, June 19 (Canadian Press). — Three factors will win victory for the miners and the railroad men in the common strike, it was predicted today by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who will meet to-morrow night with the rail union chiefs, to consider joint strike action in the threatened rail walkout of approximately 1,000,000 men.

The joining of the forces of these organisations, Mr Lewis said, would first have a marked moral influence on labour generally; second, would dislocate the transportation system of the nation; and third, would affect industrial fabric.

THOMPSON HAS BEEN INDICTED

Accused of Conspiracy to Ship Arms to the Sinn Feiners.

TRENTON, N.J., June 19.—(Canadian Press.) — Col. Marcellus H. Thompson, Vice-President and active head of the Auto Ordnance Company of New York, has been indicted by a Federal Grand Jury on the charge of conspiracy to ship arms to Ireland in violation of the neutrality laws. This announcement was made to-day by Assistant United States District Attorney Thomas V. Arrowsmith.

Colonel Thompson is a son-in-law of Colonel George Harvey, United States' Ambassador to Great Britain. Indictments have also been returned against Auto-Ordnance and several other individuals on the same charge, as a result of the seizure at Hoboken last June of Cosmopolitan Line freighter "East Side," in the coal bunkers of which were found 495 machine guns. The guns were alleged to have been designed for use by Sinn Fein in Ireland.

TWO SOCIETIES AT ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH

Rev. W. R. Courage Addressed the Foresters and Woodmen of the World.

Between 60 and 70 of the members of the Independent Order of Foresters and the Woodmen of the World, including ten or twelve members of the ladies' affiliated societies, attended divine service last evening at St. George's Church, which was well filled for the occasion. The men of the society were in full regalia, wearing white flowers; while the ladies had red carnations.

The pastor, Rev. W. R. Courage, took the text of his sermon from part of the 13th chapter of 2nd Corinthians, 11th verse. After extending a hearty welcome to the two societies, reference was made to their relation of Holy Scripture, and the additional responsibility that the members had as a corporate body. Societies have character as well as individuals, which is determined by their type of membership, and by the loyalty of the members to the Order. They originated by a desire common to all ages, which was exemplified in the life of Christ, emphasizing the spirit of brotherhood. The societies' first care was to benefit their memebrs, but their influence should not be restricted to this. They should strive to help the community in which they lived. Many organizations striving for improved conditions often failed because of their white-hot zeal in trying to attain their object, and because their endurance was not equal to the test. Sympathy, patience, toleration and moderate, with faith in the right, and loyalty to he cause a heart, were absolutely necessary, and no real effort for good would be lost while these qualities were maintained. Good men and women in generations past have suffered and died for the right, and others have reaped the benefit of their sacrifice and love.

If political questions are introduced however, the French delegates will promptly withdraw.

New York Hears Another Rumour

NEW YORK, June 19 (Canadian Press).—Great interest was aroused here this morning by the publication of a copyrighted cable from the London Bureau of the New York Tribune, stating that there is a possibility that the Prince of Wales, who is scheduled to arrive in England from his Far Eastern tour on Wednesday, may pay a visit to Ireland in the next few weeks.

The Tribune says the report is current in London that the Prince has been much impressed with the effect of his visit to Egypt, which was made without consulting the King or foreign office, and believes that he could do equally effective work in Ireland.

A CANVASS OPENS FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Pastoral Letter Was Read in Catholic Churches Yesterday.

A pastoral letter from His Lordship Bishop O'Brien was read in the Catholic churches of the city yesterday, announcing a canvass for funds in aid of St. Joseph's Hospital, to take place this week. A committee of men from the different parishes, with Mr. J. R. Corkery as Chairman, has been formed, who will call on parishioners during the evenings of this week. Although all classes in the community benefit by the advantages of such a hospital building as has lately been erected in East City, it is the intention of the committee to confine their efforts to the Catholic population only, with the exception of the factories, which will be asked later to contribute towards the new addition, as it is felt that they are particularly served by the extra accommodation at St. Joseph's, where 75 beds, with a capacity on occasion of 100 or more, are at the disposal of anyone and everyone in the city, irrespective of creed, class or financial condition.

To those who have inspected the new premises, a description of their thorough efficiency and up-to-dateness is unnecessary. From the basement, with its heating apparatus which is more than sufficient for the coldest weather needs, to the roof garden that looks over green country on every side, it is complete, spotless and attractive. Worthy of special mention is the X-ray department, where the very latest type of machine, capable of minute and specialized work, has been installed, and the two operating theatres, the principal room equipped with a wonderful balanced-to-the-lightest-touch Balfour table, and the complete and manifold sterilizing departments.

Starting with this evening, the committee will call on Catholic parishioners. Anyone missed in the visiting may make his or her contribution at the office of Mr. G. A. Campbell, manager of the Union Bank, who is acting as Treasurer for the canvass.

VOTES BEING COUNTED.

Precautions to Prevent a Seizure of the Ballots.

DUBLIN, June 19 (Canadian Press). — The counting of the votes cast in last Friday's Parliamentary election in this city was begun this morning, and up to early afternoon had proceeded without incident.

Every precaution was taken to prevent a seizure of the ballots, such as occurred at the National University after the closing of the polls there on election day.

ANOTHER LINK THE EVIDENCE ROBBERY TRIAL

Crown Witness Collapsed in the Witness Box at Sarnia Trial—Identified Accused.

SHARE OF LOOT

SARNIA, June 19. — (Special). — The dramatic collapse of Mrs. Myrtle Koehler, star Crown witness, while on the stand this morning, caused an adjournment of the trial of William Ayres, alleged bank bandit, until this afternoon, when, according to her physician, Mrs. Koehler may be able to reappear. The Crown's case will close when the examination of Mrs. Koehler is completed, and the defence will probably open this afternoon.

The witness was being questioned by W. R. Meredith regarding conversations which she had with one Robert Wilson, in which she had admitted "having something" on some one. This had occurred, she declared, before Ayres or any of the other accused men had told her of their part in the Wyoming robbery.

Another link in the chain of evidence connecting William Ayres, alleged "two-gun bandit," with the robbery of the Wyoming branch of the Bank of Toronto, was woven by the testimony of fourteen-year-old Willie Elliott, who positively identified the accused man as one of five whom he had seen in the basement of the school near Wyoming on the morning of the robbery.

The youthful witness, freckled and sandy of hair, stood in the witness-box with his hands behind his back and gave his evidence in a direct manner, despite indications of nervousness at times.

In his capacity of janitor of the school, he had entered it at seven o'clock on the morning of the robbery, after noticing a mysterious-looking car parked beside the building. Inside he found five men, who told him they had taken shelter from the storm the previous night. One of them, he declared, was William Ayres, the prisoner in the dock.

The cross-examination of Mrs. Myrtle Koehler, star Crown witness, was resumed by W. R. Meredith, defence counsel.

Witness stated that McMullen had admitted to her having withheld from his companions their share of the loot from the bank.

Division of Spoils.

"Did he tell that they each got $200?"

"He didn't. Yeohn told me that he got $200. He did not say anything about the others."

Defence counsel centred his examination upon the motor trip made by Mrs. Koehler in company with Ayres, Yeohn Anderson, Beatrice Sager and Mrs. Mackenzie. Witness stated that she had been on friendly terms with both Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie.

"Was Mackenzie ever at your house?"

"Yes, with Mrs. Mackenzie."

"Not alone?"

"No."

"You remember when your husband went on a hunting trip?"

"Yes."

"How many men were at your house while he was away?"

"Only the milkman and the breadman." (Laughter).

"Wasn't Mackenzie there?"

"No."

Witness admitted that Mrs. Mackenzie might have been jealous of her but denied that there was cause for it.

Examined regarding a conversation with one Robert Wilson, Mrs. Koehler admitted having told him that she could get some money if she wanted to squeal on a certain party. She denied that she had any particular "party" in mind at that time.

"But you had it in your mind to blackmail some one?" Mr. Meredith insisted.

"Not to blackmail anyone," witness replied. "I didn't actually have anything on anyone at that time."

"Then it was a lie?"

"No, I had suspicions from conversations I overheard that Ayres, Yeohn and Anderson were mixed up in different jobs."

"Rum-running?"

"No."

Mrs. Koehler denied having threatened to shoot Mrs. Clifford Mackenzie. She had a toy pistol but no revolver, she swore.

A dramatic juncture was occasioned at this stage by the collapse of Mrs. Koehler, who has been in poor health for some days.

The witness staggered and almost fell from the box. She was helped from the court-room by officers and medical assistance was summoned. It was expected that she would resume her testimony this afternoon.

Tommy Church To Ask For Enquiry

OTTAWA, June 19 (Canadian Press).—Ex-Mayor Church, of Toronto, intends to bring up in the House, the case of the two inmates of Kingston Penitentiary, killed through drinking shellac which contained wood alcohol.

Mr. Church intends to ask whether the Government will inquire into the death of the two inmates, into the overcrowding at Kingston, and also into the whole subject of prison reform.

A PREFERENCE FOR THIS LAND

Stalwart Young Scotch Farmers Speeding on Their Way to the Western Plains.

QUEBEC, June 19 (Special to The Examiner). — The Canadian Pacific steamer Corsican, in command of Captain W. Davidson, arrived and docked at Quebec from Glasgow last night at nine o'clock. This morning at seven o'clock the third-class passengers were landed on the Louise Dock, and conducted to the Immigration Building for their inspection.

The new arrivals in the third-class are all Scottish, of the farmer class, including a splendid lot of stalwart young farmers on their way to the West for settlement.

With the exception of a few returning Canadians, the cabin passengers were all natives of Scotland.

The returning Canadians include Miss E. S. Dall, Vancouver, B.C., Mrs. Donaldson, Winnipeg, Mr. A. MacCallum, Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nice, St. John, N.B., Mr. J. Smith, Louisiania, Alta., and Mr. W. H. Hamilton, Toronto.

In conversation with these Scottish farmers, who arrived in the third-class accommodation, it was learned that there was a great desire on the part of a large section of the farming class of Scotland to immigrate to Canada, but owing to the present economic conditions of the country and the scarcity of money with the farmers, they were putting off their immigration until next year. Present property valuations by sales were not encouraging, owing to the scarcity of money, hence the farmers, and this also applies to the farm labourers, are waiting until next year fully impressed that the expenses of coming out to Canada would be much less than it is at present.

Speaking of Scottish immigration to Australia and New Zealand, the Corsican passengers spoken to say that such immigration did not appeal to the farmers of Scotland. Consequently no immigration is going to New Zealand or Australia to any extent from Scotland.

Canada is the objective of the Scottish people who have a desire to immigrate, and it is expected that next year a great many will arrange to come to Canada.

DELORME TRIAL MAY LAST WEEK

Prisoner Appears to Be Uninterested in Proceedings.

MONTREAL, June 19.—(Canadian Press). — Adelard Delorme's fight to have himself adjudged mentally unfit to be tried on the charge of having murdered his half-brother, Raoul, promises to occupy the entire week, Judge Monet having this morning discharged the petit jury panel which remained after the Delorme jury had been selected.

The proceedings to-day opened with the cross-examination of Dr. J. A. Handfield, immediate neighbor of Delorme, on his observations of prisoner's general behaviour during the years of their acquaintance.

The examination resulted in a colorful duel between J. C. Walsh, Crown prosecutor, and witness, Gustave Monette, chief counsel for the defence, who occasionally came to the latter's assistance when the question was raised as to whether Delorme's alleged furious pursuit of money should necessarily be interpreted as a symptom of insanity.

The court-room was again crowded to suffocation, each available inch of standing room being occupied by eager, curious spectators, the great majority of whom were women.

Delorme appeared in the best of health, his former high color having fully returned. As usual, he appeared uninterested in the proceedings, and reclined in his chair, frequently closing his eyes as if in silent doze.

OFF TO CAMP.

A firing detachment of the 4th Battery, made up of 36 all ranks, will leave Peterborough for Petawawa on the midnight train to-night. Capt. A. W. Stevenson will be in command, with Lieuts. J. L. Kennedy and D. A. Cameron as junior officers. The battery will arrive at the camp to-morrow noon. Firing will continue for six days and the detachment will return on Sunday.

CONSERVATION DENTISTS' AIM ROTARY HEARS

Dr. M. A. Morrison Deals in Interesting Manner With History and Progress of Profession.

TO-DAY'S LUNCHEON

A most interesting address on the history and progress of dentistry was given by Rotarian Dr. M. A. Morrison at to-day's luncheon of the Peterborough Rotary Club at the Empress.

Dr. Morrison's talk on his classification was a model in that it imparted a vast amount of unusual information in the short space of fifteen minutes at the disposal of the speaker.

President John Crane was in the chair, and among the guests were Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park and Rotarian Jim Kelso, of Rochester, both of whom took part in the programme—Mrs. Park contributing two most enjoyable solos in splendid voice, and Rotarian Kelso giving some illuminating information as to the activities of the Rochester Rotary Club, of which he was the first president. Incidentally he is an old Peterborough boy, who, although he has not been a resident here for 42 years, frequently finds his way back to the old town. His talk on the Rochester Club's summer camp for crippled children and the establishment of milk stations was much appreciated.

Rotarian Rev. Harold Young introduced the speaker of the day—Dr. Morrison—who dealt with the subject of dentistry in a very effective manner, showing first that the science was not unknown in the early days of history, and relating the development of dentistry in Europe and America before telling of its progress in Ontario, where the first movement to have the profession recognised by the Ontario Legislature was made in 1863, the necessary legislation being finally passed in 1865.

Dr. Morrison told of the establishment of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons, and imparted some striking figures as to the work done there. Last year, for example, there were 851 dental students in attendance, a staff of 85 was employed, nine of them on full time, and the fees collected in the 100-chair infirmary amounted to $45,000. The Ontario College was now one of the finest institutions of its kind in the world.

Speaking of the profession generally, Dr. Morrison stated that the chief effort of the dentists of to-day was directed towards conservation, and he dealt with the relation of the teeth to general health in a most interesting manner.

The appreciation of the club to Dr. Morrison and to Mrs. Park was voiced by President Crane.

A telegram was read from Rotarian John Seels stating that he and Rotarian Dr. Buchanan would arrive home from the Los Angeles convention on Thursday.

SERVICE FROM FIELD ALTAR

Benediction of Blessed Sacrament at Celebration of Corpus Christi in Douro.

The Feast of Corpus Christi was celebrated on Sunday at St. Joseph's Church, Douro, with the dignity and reverential splendour with which the Catholic Church invests its great solemnities.

In common with the celebrations in Catholic communities the world over, a procession of the Blessed Eucharist was the special event that marked this feast. About half a mile from the church an altar had been erected in a field of one of the farms in the neighbourhood. It was decorated with the wild flowers of June, and also with evergreens and candelabra, and at the entrance to the field an arch of greens surmounted with a cross had been set up.

High Mass was sung in the church by the pastor, Rev. Michael McGuire, assisted by Rev. Father Collins as deacon and Rev. John Finn as subdeacon, Rev. Peter Butler was the master of ceremonies.

An excellent sermon on the Holy Eucharist was preached by Rev. Father Collins, who is a native of Douro Township.

Following the Mass the Sacrament was carried in procession from the church along the highway to the temporary altar in the field. Prominent in the long line of clergy and laity were the members of the Holy Name Society and the girls of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, and the children, boys and girls, as they were dressed for first communion.

The whole congregation, including many visitors from the city and the nearby parishes, walked in procession to the bowered altar, where the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given. The entire company then returned to the church.

The celebration was carried out with complete smoothness of detail, and was a unique event in the history of St. Joseph's parish.

Local Fishermen Secure Big Catch

Messrs. R. A. Carman and Carlton Perry, of the Vermont Marble Company, East City, went on a fishing expedition to Pidgeon Lake Friday last, returning with the finest catch of fish that has been made in that district of any party this season. Mr. Carman caught the biggest lunge, 22 pounds. In the catch there was also a 20 pound and a 17 pound lunge and the balance of their quota was made up of fish from six to twelve pounds.

They are very enthusiastic of Pigeon Lake as a fishing ground and of Eddie Huff's summer hotel on Jacob's Island, where they were located while on the trip.

LEAVE ABSENCE FOR S. NEWHALL

Meeting of the Police Commissioners on Saturday Afternoon.

Chief Constable S. Newhall was granted leave of absence by the Police Commission Saturday afternoon to attend the Chief Constable's Convention at Victoria, B.C., and the usual sum of $200 was voted for his expenses.

The Imperial Oil Company wrote, saying that they would supply one five barrel tank with measuring pump complete with hose for $175, or one five barrel tank wtih non-measuring pump for $89. No action was taken in regard to purchasing a gasoline pump outfit this year, although Chief Newhall recommended that the department should have one. In reply to a question as to where they purchased the gasoline for the automobile, the Chief stated that each month they bought from a different garage and had now been around all the dealers.

In the list of accounts passed, White Bros. received payment for the motor cycle now in use which, with a special speedometer, cost $593.45. Other accounts passed were: Dr. J. A. Morgan $6, Ash and Holmes $11.66, Merchants Press $14, Hydro-Electric Power Commission $4.94, Acme Service Station $43.09, J. C. Turnbull Co. 50c., Auto Repair Co. $3.20, Peterborough Utilities Commission 86c., Roy Studio $3.00, J. E. A. Fitzgerald $31.90, C. P. R. Co.'s Telegraph $3.32, M. J. Hickey $7.45, Mrs. Fowler $7.10, J. J. Turner and Sons $10.35, White and Ackford $88.40, Nugent Drug Company, 40c., Bell Telephone Company $10.48.

STATEMENT ANTICIPATED.

DeValera Expected to Denounce Irish Constitution.

LONDON, June 19 (Canadian Press).—Eamonn DeValera's keenly anticipated statement, which, it is indicated, will be issued to-day, is expected to denounce and repudiate the proposed Irish constitution. It is also universally believed that the statement will sound the death-knell of the Collins-DeValera agreement under which last year's elections were held.

Views differ as to what effect the dissolution of the agreement would have on the general peace programme. Some predict a violent catastrophe, while others are confident that nothing but what has long been foreseen is likely to occur.

CONGREGATION HONOR MEMORY FALLEN HEROES

Two Windows and a Tablet Unveiled at Trinity Church Yesterday—The Addresses.

DR. WILSON PRESENT

Yesterday morning Trinity Methodist Church paid tribute to the men of the congregation who answered the call to arms in the Great War and to the band of eighteen heroes who did not falter when the supreme call came. Two beautiful stained glass windows in the south side of the church and a rich bronze tablet in the south transept, unveiled and dedicated at an impressive ceremony, testify to the ground and grateful memory of the church.

It was inevitable that the occasion was sad but it was a sadness mingled with pride. The stirring days of the war, the anguish of the casualty lists were living memories to all who attended the church and the presence of Dr. J. P. Wilson who had charge of the church during the fateful years of the war brought to mind his optimism and discovery of the silver lining even when the war clouds were darkest. "I knew these lads whose names were on that tablet" said Dr. Wilson with a catch in his throat. "Their faces come up before me to day. They were precious to me. They laid down their lives a ransom for the world."

Marched to Church

A large number of returned soldiers led by the Peterboro Rangers Band and the Caledonian Pipe Band marched to the church from the G.W.V.A. hall and occupied the centre of the building. The seating accommodation of the church was taxed to capacity.

Rev. F. E. Mallott explained the subject and significance of the two windows to the congregation and read the inscriptions upon each in his address. He referred to the excellent work of Mr. J. Kennett in the preparation of the honour roll, revealed to view for the first time yesterday in the vestibule of the church.

The Window's Story.

The first window "in honour of those who heard the call" shows Christ calling his disciples and is enscribed "Straightway they forsook their nets and followed him". The second window "in memory of those who made the sacrifice 1914-18" shows David pouring out as an offering to God the waters brought to him by his three mighty men from the well of Bethlehem. David is saying "Is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of their liv ".

They Had Faith

The Tablet bearing eighteen names and located in the south transept Rev. Malott said was enscribed from Hebrews 11:13 "These all died in the Faith". These words were spoken by the Apostle regarding Hebrew Heroes of Faith but are no less applicable to those who died in the Great War" he said. They had faith in a great cause. They were sure it would triumph because they believed in a God of righteousness. They died before

On Trail of Old Man Efficiency

Uncle Sam's radio experts are hot on the trail of old man Efficiency. Here's one of the investigators whose experiments are expected to result in a saving of $30,000 a year at the Annapolis high power navy station alone. He's on the grounds of the U.S. Navy radio research laboratory, conducting low electrical resistance tests which will mean greater efficiency in the antenna system.

RECIPES

If you have grown tired of plain buttered or creamed asparagus try some of the recipes.

These dishes should be used for luncheon as the main dish. There is a whole lot of nourishment in them, making them too hearty for a dinner vegetable served with meat and potatoes.

ASPARAGUS IN CASES.

Two bunches asparagus, 2 cups milk, 4 eggs, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, stale bread.

Cut bread in slices two inches thick. Cut in rounds with a biscuit cutter; cut out the centre of each, leaving a case 1-2 inch thick. Dip in melted butter and brown slightly in a hot open.

Cut asparagus in inch lengths. Put in sauce pan with milk and simmer 15 minutes. Add butter and eggs well beaten, salt and pepper. Cook over hot water till sauce coats the spoon. Fill the crustades with mixture.

Dip the small pieces of bread cut from the larger rounds in melted butter and fit on the bottom of each crustade. Put on a buttered dripping pan and put in a hot oven for five minutes. The top should brown slightly. Serve at once.

LUNCHEON ASPARAGUS.

Two bunches asparagus, 1 cup of soft bread crumbs, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 hard boiled eggs, 1 canned pimento.

Wash and scrape the asparagus. Tie in small bundles and cook in boiling salted water with the heads out for 15 minutes. Put heads under water and cook for 10 minutes. Drain and arrange on a hot platter. Remove the strings.

Melt butter and fry crumbs to a pale straw color. Sprinkle over asparagus. Arrange slices of hard boiled eggs in a circle around asparagus, garnish with strips of pimento and serve at once.

ASPARAGUS AU GRATIN

Two small bunches asparagus or 1 large bunch, 1 cup white sauce, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, buttered crumbs, salt and pepper, few gratings nutmeg.

Boil asparagus till tender in slightly salted boiling water. Drain and remove strings from bundles. Put a layer in a well buttered baking dish. Cover with white sauce, and a few gratings of nutmeg, salt and pepper. Add another layer of asparagus and white sauce with seasonings. Continue layer for layfor 15 minutes to melt the cheese, and brown the crumbs.

KIWANIS CONVENTION.

Thousands of Visitors for International Event.

TORONTO, June 19.—(Canadian Press.)—Kiwanians from all parts of the United States and Canada continue to pour delegates by the hundreds into this city for the Sixth Annual Convention of Kiwanis International Clubs, and these growing hundreds are accompanied by wives and friends until the visitors have already reached close to 5,000. The influx began at the week-end and everywhere in Toronto Kiwanians may be seen.

To-day is the opening day of the convention. The registration of delegates and conferences of committees and district officials will occupy the greater part of the day.

MAINE SENATORIAL PRIMARIES.

Interest in Result Felt at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 19 (Canadian Press). — The Maine Senatorial Primaries, which are being held to-day, and which will settle the question whether Senator Frederick Hale, Republican, shall be the nomination, are being watched with the keenest interest from Washington, and by politicians in all parts of the United State.

ELECTION RETURNS IN IRELAND FAVOR TREATY MEMBERS

Two Treaty Supporters, One Anti-Treaty and One Laborite Elected in Cork.

O'CALLAGHAN FAILS

DUBLIN, June 19. — (Canadian Press.)—The counting of the votes in the recent election in Dublin begins this morning. It is thought possibly the results may be announced by midnight. The Cork figures have been eagerly scanned here, but have not seriously modified the expert forecasts of the final composition of the Dail Eireann.

The return of Robert Day was looked for, as he was recognized as the leader of the extreme labor section and was in command when the port was seized some months and the adherents of the red flag took over the shipping authority for two days. The defeat of the other two new candidates at Cork is taken to indicate approximately the solidarity of the panel vote, an impression confirmed by the Monaghan results, which is the only other constituency yet announced.

But it is evident that whatever departure from the straight ticket occurred has been in favor of the treaty side, and the defeat of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan is attributed to his refusal to recognize the Provisional Government, even in relation to the expenditure of money for re-building Cork.

CORK, June 19. — (Canadian Press.)— Members of the new Dail Eireann elected by Cork, so far as the latest count shows, are: Robert Day, Laborite, 6,840 votes; Miss Mary MacSwiney, anti-treaty, 6,066; J. J. Walsh, pro-treaty, 5,730; Liam Roisite, (William Roche) pro-treaty, 5,657.

The other candidates, who failed of election, were Beamish, 3,405; Daly, 2,062; Lord Mayor O'Callaghan, 1,795.

According to the first count Miss MacSwiney received only 4,016, but a recount gave her the additional votes and election.

DUBLIN, June 19. — (Canadian Press.) —Robert Barton, who was one of the signatories of the Anglo-Irish Treaty, but afterwards declared he had signed under duress, and ranged himself with Erskine Childers in opposition to the treaty, is expected to be unseated as a result of the poll in Kildare and Wicklow.

ONLY EIGHTEEN CANADIAN SOLDIERS STILL IN ENGLAND

Are Serving Time For Civil Offences. Army Offenders Were Returned Long Ago. Some Were Sentenced By Court Martial in France.

Of the half million Canadians who fared forth to war in far countries, only eighteen have failed to return to their homes, because of the laws of those lands in which they were welcome guests.

Seven ex-members of the Canadian expeditionary force who were sentenced to long terms of penal servitude by field-general court-martial for civil offenses, such as criminal assault on the civilian population, are serving their time in English prisons.

Eleven ex-members of the force who were sentenced by civil courts in England for offenses against the laws of England, while in training or on leave, are also languishing in English prisons.

All other soldier prisoners, that is, those members of the Canadian corps who were sentenced to prison by their own courts-martial in the field for such purely military offenses as desertion, serious insubordination, or cowardice in the face of the enemy, were pardoned within twelve months after the armistice, and were returned to Canada at the expense of the government.

These figures regarding civil offenses speak very eloquently of the quality of Canadian manhood, especially as the corps had the reputation for gifts of the sturdier and lustier sort that do not always accompany observance of the law.

When a soldier committed an offence against the civil law of Britain, such as theft, assault, or violence against the civil population, he was handed over by his regiment to the civil courts, he being a British subject. But in France, he was not handed over to the civil authorities, but was dealt with by those who were responsible for his being in France, that is, his corps. The French civil authorities were invited to assist in the prosecution before the field-general court-martial, which was an assembly of five officers, most of whom were members of the accused soldier's own brigade. For his defense, the soldier could demand one of the officers of his battalion, who was described as the "prisoner's friend." In serious cases, an officer who was also a lawyer in civil life could usually be found to defend the accused before the court-martial.

AVIATOR KILLED IN AEROPLANE CRASH.

HOUSTON, Texas, June 19.—(Canadian Press.)—Captain Thomas Shea, of Kellyfield, was killed instantly at Ellington Field late Saturday when his airplane crashed to the ground from an altitude of 150 fet. An explosion of the gasoline tank followed and burned Shea's body almost beyond recognition.

MAN RESPONSIBLE FOR CHILD'S DEATH.

Hector L. Dery is Held Criminally Responsible For the Death of Little Pierre Adolph Caron.

MONTREAL, June 19 (Canadian Press). — Criminal responsibility for causing the death of Pierre Adolphe Caron, son of A. L. Caron, former member of the Quebec Liquor Commission, and member of Caron Freres, wholesale jewellers, was the verdict returned on Saturday by a coroner's jury against Hector L. Dery, 509 Stuart Avenue, Montreal.

Young Caron, who was 4 1-2 years old, was knocked down at the intersection of St. Catherine Road and Maple Avenue last Tuesday, and died in the Royal Victoria Hospital on Friday.

Dery will appear before the Criminal Court this morning.

BILL AMENDING INSURANCE ACT.

Changes Proposed For Foreign Fraternal Societies Are Almost Unanimously Voted Down.

OTTAWA, June 19.— (Canadian Press.)— Three bills relating to insurance and finance were given third reading by the House of Commons Saturday night. They amended the Trust Company's Act, the Loan Companies Act and the Insurance Act. In connection with the last, O. R. Gould, Progressive member for Assiniboia, proposed an amendment dealing with foreign fraternal societies. The existing law brings all foreign fraternal societies under federal control, and the proposed to permit a foreign policy to operate in Canada by means of a provincial license. He spoke for the Modern Woodmen of America, which he stated, had seven thousand members in Western Canada. The proposal was opposed by Hon. A. E. McLean, who explained that the Modern Woodsmen of America was not actuarily sound. At the end of 1920 it had actuarial liabilities of $302,000,000 and assets available of only $17,000,000. Hon. G. P. Graham also spoke against the amendment, and it was rejected almost unanimously. Mr. Gould then moved an amendment to extend beyond 1925 the period allowed for fraternal societies to become actuarily solvent, but this was ruled out of order and the Insurance Act was passed.

LORD NORTHCLIFFE IS ALARMINGLY ILL ON EUROPEAN TOUR

British Specialists Are Hurriedly Summoned to the Bedside of Famous English Journalist.

CAUSE UNKNOWN.

LONDON, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—Printing House Square and Carmelite House are passing through a severe crisis, according to The Sunday Times, which discusses the sudden interruption of Lord Northcliffe's "Incognito in Germany" articles and certain peremptory orders received from Northcliffe while taking a holiday in Switzerland.

Reference is made to important resignations from the Northcliffe publications in consequence, and the issuance of writs for libel against him by two of his principal business lieutenants.

"In the meantime," adds The Sunday Times, "Wickham Steed (editor of The Times), who was with Northcliffe in Switzerland, wrote him that His Lordship was in an alarming state of health, with the result that Lord Rothemere and a couple of medical specialists at once set off for Switzerland.

"What precisely is the nature of Lord Northcliffe's illness cannot yet be stated, but it seems likely that he will be incapacitated for some time and unable to continue his personal control and the direction of his papers. For the time being the leading directors of the Northcliffe companies are carrying on, and at their request and in view of Northcliffe's illness, all resignations have been held over.

"They had also withdrawn the advertisements of 'London newspapers and their millionaire proprietors.' This is a pamphlet which Northcliffe wrote and advertised in his papers, appropos of his resignation from the Newspapers Proprietors' Association, criticizing proprietors who bought papers after making money in other businesses."

The News of the World says that Northcliffe paid $200,000 for the Walter interests in The Times. The Walter family founded The Times in 1785, and retained ownership until 1908, when Lord Northcliffe secured the controlling interest.

RAILROAD MAN SAYS SYSTEM HAS IMPROVED

Smith Declares He Sleeps Like a Top, Eats Hearty and Feels Fine Since Tanlac Fully Relieved Him of Stubborn Case of Indigestion.

"I never have been a hand to boost medicine but I can certainly say something for Tanlac," said Roy Smith, employee of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, residing at Boundary, Manitoba.

"For two years I suffered with my stomach and what I ate seemed to do me no good. I had indigestion, was constantly bloated and distressed, and nothing gave me any relief. I hardly knew what it was to have a good night's sleep and a month or two ago my stomach got worse all of a sudden. It was all I could do to go ahead with my work.

"But Tanlac straightened me out right from the start and now I feel just dandy. I'm eating hearty, sleep soundly and wake up feeling like my old self again. I'm always glad to say a good work for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

CHINESE SEIZE THE PRESIDENT'S HOME.

AMOY, China, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—The President's residence in Canton has been taken by the troops of General Chen Chiung-Min. Dr. Sun Yat Sen is supported to have made his escape on board a gunboat.

Canton City was bombarded Saturday afternoon by five gunboats under command of Sun Yat Sen. The residents deserted the city. There were only a few casualties.

The soldiers of the invaders did considerable looting, although there was no disturbance inside the foreign concession.

Sun Yat Sen's army in Kiangsi is reported to have been defeated. It is reported he is awaiting the arrival of his defeated army, when an attempt will be made to re-take Canton.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE WINS BY-ELECTION.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 19.—(Canadian Press.)—James D. McKenna, Liberal candidate in King's County bye-elections polls last Saturday, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of G. B. Jones, M.P. He received a majority of 457 over the Conservative candidate, A. J. Brooks, of Sussex. The count was: McKenna, 4,256; Brooks, 3,799.

Treasure Trove Is But a Legend

MONTREAL, June —(Canadian Press)— "There is nothing to justify the legend about the Jesuits' treasure, supposedly buried at the bottom of the Wye riv..." declared Very Rev. Father Filion, Superior of the Jesuit Order in Canada, while discussing yesterday, the latest reports of excavation activities on that river near the ruins of Fort Ste. Marie. Father Filion describes the talk as "a silly legend" and said the whole thing was preposterous. There has been in past years, he said some excavation work at the ruins and this had given birth to the legend.

GUARDS BRIGADE HONOR THE DEAD.

Duke of Connaught Unveils Reredos in Memory to Guardsmen Who Fell in the Great War.

LONDON, June 19.—(Canadian Pfess).—The Duke of Connaught, Senior Colonel of the Guards Brigade, yesterday unveiled the reredos erected in Windsor Garrison Church to the memory of the 14,000 guards, officers and men who fell in the war.

The memorial was designed by Gilbert Scott and was dedicated by Bishop Shaw. In the centre appears a calvary with guardsmen in full fighting kit, and on either side and below in silver lettering appears the date "1914-1918." The 14,000 names are contained in a beautifully bound roll of honor, the covers of which bear the colors of the brigade. This roll was placed by the Duke of Connaught on a specially built shelf in the chancel.

All regiments of the brigade were represented at the service, in which also the Grenadiers' Band and the Scots Guards' Pipers participated, the latter marching round the church playing a dirge while the buglers sounded the last post and reveille.

INNOCENT SUFFER IN IRISH REVENGE.

BELFAST, June 19.— (Canadian Press.) — The districts of Altanaveigh and Lisdrumkisla, on the South Fermanagh of Newry, were the scene of murderous attacks Saturday on householders, the assassins claiming four men and one woman victim killed and several wounded. Several farm houses were destroyed.

The districts are largely inhabited by Presbyterians, and it is believed, were selected for reprisal for the killing of two men at Lislea Wednesday. The tragedy started about 3 o'cock in the morning, and for hours the usually quiet countryside echoed with rifle and revolver shots, while incendiarism applied the torch to homesteads of people who had nothing to do with the Lislea crime.

A NEW SERVICE ON THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

LONDON, June 19. — (Canadian Press.) — A new service between Vancouver and the Far East was inaugurated Saturday with the sailing from the Clyde River of the steamer Empress of Australia for Vancouver. The Empress of Australia was formerly the German steamer Tirpitz, and was one of the ships surrendered to Great Britain. She was built at Hamburg, where she was known as "Ballin's Pet," as the late Albert Ballin, who was Director-General of the Hamburg-American Steamship Line, designed her machinery. She is a sister ship of the Koenig Louise.

FIVE PERISHED IN FIRE.

Father Died in Saving Others.

HALIFAX, June 19.—(Canadian Press.)—George A. Pace, aged 38, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Pye, aged 77, and three of his seven children, Frederick, aged 11, Percy, aged 6, and Arthur, aged three, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home at West Ecum Secum, Guysboro county, seventy-five miles east of Halifax, early this morning. The mother and the remaining four children, Nelson, aged 14, Alexander, aged 12, Foster, aged nine, and a three months old baby, were rescued by the father, who perished in an attempt to save the rest of the household.

MUNICIPAL CONVENTION.

OTTAWA, June 19.— (Canadian Press.)—It is estimated over 300 delegates will attend the Sherbrooke convention of the Union of Quebec Municipalities on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 20 and 21. Dr. Odilon Leclerc, Medical Adviser to the Laval Hospital, Quebec City, and Dr. R. E. Wodehouse, Secretary Canadian Tuberculosis Association, will speak on "municipal chest clinics."

GRADING VEGETABLES.

OTTAWA, June 19.—(Canadian Press)—Consideration of bill 133 to provide for grading and packing of potatoes, onions and other root vegetables was taken up in the House Saturday night, but was adjourned until Tuesday at the request of David Spence (Conservative Parkdale) who wished to make representations regarding the grading provisions while the bill was in the committee stages.

GOOD PROSPECTS OF CHURCH UNION IN ENGLAND NOW

Anglicans and Nonconformists Reach Satisfactory Preliminary Agreement.

ONLY ONE STAGE.

LONDON, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—The archbishops of Canterbury and York have issued further pronouncements concerning the move towards church unity.

The Archbishop of Canterbury declares that the recent response of the Scottish general assemblies had exceeded his hopes, and as regards England, no such statement as that signed by the committee of Anglicans and non-conformists which was appointed last November, touching a common ground was ever before issued. Moreover, there had been no time since the reformation when the different bodies had found themselves able to reach such an agreement. The committee chiefly agreed on the proposition that the existence of rival denominations was not in accordance with the purpose of Christ.

The Archbishop of York, speaking of the statement issued by the committee of bishops and free church divines, said that if accepted it would close the controversies which for enturies had divided Christian people. The Archbishop of York carefully adds that the report only marks one stage of the long journey towards union.

AUSTRALIA HONORS DEAD FLYING MAN.

LONDON, June 19. —(Canadian Press.)—Large and reverent crowds lined the streets on Saturday from parliament house to St. Kilda cemetery, Melbourne Australia, to witness the funeral in honour of Caperal Bennet who was killed in an aeroplane accident in England at the same time that Sir Ross Smith lost his life. The long cortege included Sir Keith Smith, brother of the late Sir Ross Smith, representatives of the governor-general, the state governor and also numerous federal and state ministers. Other prominent officials in draped aeroplanes flew overhead.

COAL MINE WILL REMAIN CLOSED.

CALGARY, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—Due, it is said, to the high cost of production during recent years, the Bankhead Anthracite Mine of the Canadian Pacific Railway will remain closed indefinitely, if not permanently. This mine, the only industry at Bankhead, is one of the oldest in the district and employed 300 men.

A CIVIL SERVICE ACT AMENDMENT PASSED

OTTAWA, June 19.— (Canadian Press.) — Extension of the Calder Act for the retirement of certain classes of civil service employees passed the House Saturday night, the bill to provide for extending the Act for one year, from June 30, being given third reading. he amendments also add to the class who may be retired under the bill, persons employed on an hourly wage.

TWO LOST LIFE

Fashionable Club Destroyed by Fire.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 19.—(Canadian Press.) — Two women were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the fashionable Lafayette club at Minnetonka Beach, Lake Minnetonka, near here, early yesterday. A dozen guests and employes among the one hundred persons forced to flee, were injured. The loss to the building is estimated at $250,000.

The dead are Mrs. Martine B. Koon, widow of Judge Koon, and Mrs. Lucy Gilbert, her companion, both prominent socially here.

PREPARED TO STRIKE.

Action Depends Upon Railroad Workers.

CINCINNATI, June 19.—(Canadian Press.)— Formal notice was served last night on Railroad Labor Board by the chiefs of ten railroad unions of their intention to go through with a strike in the event one is authorized by the 1,225,000 workers whose wages are to be reduced on July 1, under orders of the Board.

RAIN IN THE WEST.

CALGARY, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—A large section of the north country experienced further good showers Friday night. From Millett north to Red Deer to Edmonton, there was from two to four hours excellent rain, while Blackfolds, Ponoka and Camrose districts reported rain lasting from half an hour to five hours.

TRIMMING

Very finely pleated bands are a very popular trimming for printed fabrics. The bands are of plain silk.

A DOLLAR A MEAL FOR THE MINISTER.

WINNIPEG, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—The Manitoba Methodist Conference is responsible for the travelling expenses of delegates attending its sessions, but in future ministers with an epicurean taste will have to resort to the "simple fare" as the conference today adopted a resolution that "ministers may not spend more than one dollar a meal."

The out-of-town ministers found that the attraction of the dining car was altogether too much for the conference purse.

SIMPLE CEREMONY FOR McGILL BURSAR.

The Request of Walter Vaughan For No Service, Music, Hymns, Nor Ritual At His Funeral is Observed.

MONTREAL, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—A simple ceremony at which about forty intimate friends gathered, marked the funeral of the late Walter Vaughan, former Secretary and Bursar of McGill University here Saturday. In deference to the wishes of the deceased, there was no service, no music, no hymns, no ritual of any kind, only an address by Prof. John MacNaughton of the University of Toronto.

Prof. MacNaughton in a brief address and standing beside the open casket, eulogized the deceased's love of truth, his good-will and kindness, and his courage which supported him even in the face of the black facts of death that had challenged him for so long.

Following the address, the remains were conveyed to the Mount Royal Crematorium where the body was cremated in keeping with the request of the deceased.

HOME BREWER MAY OPERATE HIS STILL IN PEACE AND QUIET

Government Will Not Attempt to Stop the Manufacture of Beer in Private Houses.

NO PERMITS NEEDED.

OTTAWA June 19.—(Canadian Press)—The day is saved for the "home brewer." Item number 10 in the budget resolutions which would have prohibited the brewing of beer by anyone except a regularly licensed brewer, was struck out Saturday night at the request of the Hon. W. S. Fielding, who said that there had been abuses in the past in connection with the "home brew industry" he had come to the conclusion that the proposed remedy would perhaps be worse than the disease it meant to cure.

T. W. Caldwell (Carleton—Victoria, N.B.) thought the home brewing industry was becoming a menace to the country. He was sorry the Minister had struck out the amendment.

Mr. Fielding said there had been many protests since it was propose l to cut off the permits for the manufacture of beer in private homes.

The item was struck out and the committee reported.

PENNY BANK ACT.

OTTAWA, June 19.—(Canadian Press)—Amendments to the Penny Bank Act respecting deposits to be made in chartered banks under the supervision of the Minister of Finance, were given third reading in the House Saturday night.

The exceptionally comfortable riding qualities of the good Maxwell are a source of amazement to all who take their first trip in this fine car.

Save this Unnecessary Expense in Telephoning

"He's not in his office just now!"

How often have you put in a call for — say Mr. Brown of the Robinson Machine Company — and when connection was made, learned that he was out?

Because you asked for Mr. Brown, it cost you — because of the extra service we rendered — about 20% more than if you had asked simply for the Robinson Machine Company.

The majority of Long Distance users find that if they put in a call for a firm — not for an individual — at the lower Station-to-Station rate, they can nearly always get in touch at once with the particular person they prefer to talk with, or with a deputy who will answer the purpose.

Our gain will come when you appreciate the speed and economy of Station-to-Station service, because you will use it more frequently. Remember that after 8.30 P.M. the evening rate on Station-to-Station calls is only about one-half the day rate.

MR. FIELDING'S ANNIVERSARY.

Canadians of all shades of politics will unite in congratulating Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, upon the fortieth anniversary of his entrance into public life which the veteran will celebrate to-morrow. Mr. Fielding is one of the old gurad whose life has been devoted to serving his fellow Canadians. For many years he has been a dominant figure in Canadian public life, and although in his Budget speech he hinted at his early retirement, there is no lack of vigour or enthusiasm or energy to be found in the manner in which he has tackled his most responsible task of financing the great Dominion he has long served so faithfully. Few statesmen in Canadian history have been so successful in winning the respect and liking not only of his friends but of his political opponents as has Mr. Fielding, and the completion of forty years in the harness finds him still secure in the esteem of the people on whose behalf he has exerted his talents so unsparingly. To come through the turmoil and strife of two score years of politics, strong and vigorous, and still eager to serve, is an experience that has befallen few public men, and the whole of Canada will felicitate the venerable Finance Minister to-morrow.

SHOULD BE PROBED.

The fact that serious charges have been made against the workings of the Board of Pension Commissioners by such responsible officials as the Dominion President and Secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, makes it imperative that the fullest possible probe into the matter should be held. Messrs. Maxwell and MacNeil have always been sane and moderate in their efforts on behalf of the returned men, and it may be taken for granted that they have made their charges against the Boards of Pension Commissioners only after earnest conideration. The people of Canada want every man who was incapacitated while fighting for this country to get a square deal. The pension regulations are in the main such as to ensure that those who are unable to take care of themselves, can be looked after by the State. If there is anything wrong in the way these regulations are being carried out, if they are being administered in a manner that discriminates in favor of reduced expenditure rather than of justice to the veterans, then it is essential that there should be a change. In saying so, The Examiner does not wish to be understood as condemning the Board of Pension Commissioners; our position is merely that serious charges having been made against that body, nothing else will satisfy the majority of Canadians than an earnest effort to probe these charges exhaustively and completely. The administration of the pensions paid to those who are suffering because of their participatoin in the world war, should be above suspicion.

The Special Parliamentary Committee detailed to investigate questions in regard to the re-establishment of Canada's soldiers, takes the same position, and its recommendation that a Royal Commission be appointed at once to enquire into the G.W.V.A. charges,offers, perhaps, the best solution of the problems.

A SPLENDID EFFORT.

A splendid example of what can be accomplished by co-operative effort is furnished by the camp of the Peterborough Health Association, at Jackson Park, where children whose health is sub-normal, are to be taken care of this summer. In the first place the work was made possible by the success of that splendid community movement, the motor show, in which various local organizations, and the public generally, co-operated to bring about noteworthy financial returns. Then the Kiwanis Club made a notable contribution towards the camp by erecting a commodious dining hall, where the youngsters, regardless of weather conditions, can be comfortably fed. The latest addition to the plant—and a welcome one it is, too—is being furnished by the pupils of the Manual Training Classes of the Public School, who are building a large rest room where the little folks may enjoy the siesta that is an important part of the treatment. The young workers are enthusiastic over their part of the programme, and are demonstrating the efficiency of their training by their workmanship and skill in the erection of the building which is well on the way to completion. The furnishing of the rest building will give the Health Association a splendid plant for the carrying on of their work and will make it possible for even better results in helping the little ones back to health than have hitherto been recorded. It is a magnificent effort and the fine spirit of co-operation in evidence shows that the work is appreciated by the community.

THREE PESTS.

From northern Illinois comes word that a plague of seventeen-year locusts has appeared, says the Star Weekly.

From Alberta come despatches which record the onward march of a host of devastating grasshoppers.

And various parts of Ontario, including the low-lying lands in and around Toronto, show indications of a bumper mosquito crop.

These are three of the greatest plagues known to man—and the oldest. Scholars believe that they have discovered references to mosquito netting in the Old Testament. The grasshopper and locust are certainly recorded there.

Yet science did not know much about the mosquito and its thousand species until the last quarter of the nineteenth century. And it does not know much about the grasshopper even yet—that strange animal which sings with its wings and hears with its shinbones; which has, as the learned put it, "its auditory organs in the tibiae of the first leg and its stridulatory organ in the wings." Nor has science found out all there is to know about the migratory instinct of the locust.

It will pay mankind to keep studying these three ancient pests, the locust, the grasshopper and the mosquito.

AGAINST POISON GAS.

Officers of the army and the navy are aware that the United States, the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan have bound themselves by treaty not to use, as between themselves, asphyxiating and poisonous gases in warfare. They have also inivted other civilized nations to adhere to their agreement. As it is the policy of the Government which these officers serve to unite the nations of the world against this barbarous agency of war, they should refrain from discussing in their public addresses or resort to it under imagined conditions. It is of the utmost importance that the subject should be treated seriously and with restraint by he fighting services, and, indeed, by responsible civilians. If the idea should get about that deadly and poisonous gases will be used in the next war, because some outlaw nation will use it, there would probably be a general yielding to the temptation to resort to it. Public opinion should utter its condemnation, and officers of the army and the navy should never fail to consider what the policy of their Government is.

It is appropriate to repeat what Mr. Root said about the treaty when he presented it for the approval of the conference:

"Cynics have said that in the stress of war these rules will be violated. Cynics are always near-sighted, and often and usually the decisive facts lie beyond the range of their vision. * * * Beyond diplomatists and beyond Governments there rests the public opinion of the civilized world, and the public opinion of the world can punish. It can bring its sanction to the support of prohibition with as terrible consequences as any criminal statute of Congress or of Parliament."

If asphyxiating and poisonous gases should be used in future wars, noncombatants of both sexes and of all ages would perish by thousands in cities classed as fortified, and probably in all communities that could be reached by airplanes. The truth is that the salvation of civilized society depends upon the prohibition of these gases in warfare, which most have the support of all the great nations of the earth.

An Admiral of the United States Navy, who has a habit of talking freely about service matters, is quoted as saying at an alumni association dinner that "if we are attacked we will use gas, and we won't care how, when or why." What, of course, he had in mind was an attack by an enemy using gas, but the speech was an indiscretion. On such occasions the subject should not be discussed by officers of the army and the navy.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It would be difficult to convince anyone on Saturday that Ontario was a dry province.

The strawberry social is with us once again, likewise the ditto shortcake.

The steady improvement in the playing of the Rangers Band, as exemplified in the park concerts, is a matter upon which both band and public are to be congratulated.

Some members of Parliament want the lash prescribed as punishment or those who traffic in illegal drugs. Making the punishment fit the crime, in other words.

Ontario's crops this year will reach a value two or three millions of dollars higher than in 1921. That's cheerful reading.

It is unfortunate for the housekeeper that the prices of strawberries and sugar work like the lift lock—when one comes down the other goes up.

Mr. H. P. Bull has recently been appointed general manager of the Williams Piano Company, Limited.

Mr. Bull's record with the company covers a period of 18 years, having entered the employ of the Williams Piano Co., after seven or eight years in the concert field. His advent to the piano industry came in 1905 when he became a representative for the company in Kingston, Ont.

In 1907 Mr. Bull moved to London, Ont. in the capacity of branch manager for the Williams Piano Co. Ltd. His work in London is well known as he fitted up an unique piano emporium and built up a tremendous demand for the Williams Piano and the Williams Player in the city. In 1912 he moved to Oshawa and had charge of the advertising. He successfully carried out the well known Williams artist program and through his efforts the majortiy of world famous artists became familiar with and endorsed the Williams piano. Mr. Bull went to Winnipeg in September, 1914, to take charge of the Winnipeg branch, both wholesale and retail, and in 1918 he was called back to Oshawa to fill the position of vice-president and assisting manager.

Under the able leadership of Mr. H. P. Bull as general manager, the Williams Piano Company will more than ever maintain the reputation of being the largest piano makers in the British Empire.

How to Care For Radio Sets

BY R. L. DUNCAN
Director Radio Institute of America

Most radio fans are so intent on listening in, that they often forget to take the proper care of their sets.

Here are some pointers that may keep your expenses low and your receptive power high:

Filament Current

In most tubes the filament current is supplied by a six-volt storage battery. To use this complete voltage would cut down the life of the tube. So a rheostat is used for the regulation of the current.

There is also a switch of some kind. Instead of regulating the current by the rheostat, some amateurs set it and then simply throw the switch.

This is wrong.

Never throw the load on the filament suddenly. Feed it in slowly—by a gradual advance in the rheostat.

One cannot accurately tell just how much voltage should be applied to the filament, for that depends on the condition of the tube. Generally speaking, the current flow should be between four and five volts.

"B" Battery

The "B" battery is always left connected to the plate of the tube. But it should be variable in steps. Some detector tubes require 22½ volts, while others perform most efficiently on 17 or 18 volts.

When used for smplifying tubes also, the "B" battery should be variable from 40 to 60 volts.

Never use any more voltage on either plate or filament than is absolutely necessary, for the tube may become paralyzed.

With the proper care, the tube should last many months.

Grid Leak—Condenser

Some amateurs use neither grid leak nor grid condenser. But these parts are so inexpensive and helpful in increasing the efficiency of the set that every vacuum tube set owner should use them.

They can be made easily, as described in these columns before.

Be sure that the leak and condenser used are of the proper value for your receiver.

Loose Connections

Poor soldering and loose connections cause the greatest inefficiency.

Every radio fan should go over all connections regularly—starting from the aerial and working down to the ground.

If you are using a pipe for a ground, be sure that it is the cold water pipe. The other pipes may not have an immediate ground connection.

Amplifying Transformers

In constructing or purchasing an amplifying set see that the amplifying transformers are at right angles.

It is best to have the complete inside of the receiver shielded with thin copper, which should be grounded to your regular ground. This does away with all body capacity.

Have you ever noticed that incoming signals received at a maximum value are often decreased in power when the receiver takes his hand away from the dial or tuning knobs? This is the effect of body capacity on a set which is not shielded.

In making this shield be sure that it does not touch any of the tuning elements or connecting wires in the receiver.

THE HOME CIRCLE

Tolerance is a quality which, unfortunately, very few of us possess in any great degree. In one breath we may say we are tolerant and in the next we will severely criticize an act of someone that we are in no possible way competent to judge.

Tolerance usually comes with age, because experience comes with age and experience brings tolerance. Do not think from this that we can tolerate only the things we have experienced, but as a rule we are more quick to forgive a mistake in others if we have made a similar one, because to ourselves our own mistakes always seem justifiable. In fact, many of them are justifiable because we are the only ones who know all the extenuating circumstances. For that very reason we should not be so quick to judge wrong-doing in others. We cannot know the circumstances that lead up to the act; we cannot know the individual traits of the prople concerned. The majority of people really do what seems to them right at the time and they should not be censured if they show poor judgment. Those who do not choose the right thing usually choose the thing which they think will bring them happiness and there is some excuse for them too, for happiness is the elusive little blue bird for which we are all striving.

There are few people who can afford to overlook the kind of clothes they wear. They have "arrived." They are past the stage where people are judging them by their clothes. Perhaps you say that is a false standard of judgment but after all, on first acquaintance, it is the only standard we have. People are dressing better and better as the years go by and now an intelligent face is no excuse for dandruff on the coat collar. It is true that Thomas A. Edison has eccentricities of dress. He can afford to now. And when he was getting his start people were not making such a point of being well-dressed. If he had to start over again to-day he would probably observe very different rules. There is no use in trying to get around the fact that you are judged by your clothes. Careless dressing to the outsider means a careless mind, and careful dressing a careful mind. It may irritate us to recognize this fact, but wise is the man who does recognize it and gets in the band wagon.

It is better to fall down climbing than to climb down.

CLOSING MEETING OF MILLBROOK WOMEN'S AUXILIARY WORKERS

MILLBROOK, June 19.—The closing meeting of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the Methodist Church, until after the holiday season, was held at the home of Mr. H. Seabrooke, 4th line, Cavan, on Wednesday, June 14th, those present going out by motor. The President, Mrs. S. T. Tucker, not being sufficiently strong following her recent illness to take charge of the meeting, the Vice-President, Miss A. Hampton, occupied the chair, and read the Scripture lesson, "The Believer's Resource," from the 3rd and 4th chapters of II. Timothy. Miss E. Hetherington led in the opening prayer, the subject being "Choosing a Life Calling for the Young Men and Women of Our Colleges," and afterwards the Secretary, Mrs. C. W. Richards, read the minutes of the last meeting, and business items were discussed.

On the suggestion of the President, it was decided to invite the district convention to hold their next gathering at Millbrook, providing no other auxiliary has already extended an invitation, as it is some years since the local H.M.S. has entertained the convention, and its sessions are always helpful in their influence and broadening in their outlook. Items of interest from the "Watch Tower" were given by a number of the "Heralds," and Mrs. G. W. Sayles sang a solo, "Somebody Knows," to the great pleasure of the listeners. Miss M. E. Hetherington read Sam Walter Foss' poem, "The House by the Side of the Road," after which a most interesting and comprehensive report of the branch meeting recently held in Bridge Street Church, Belleville, was given by the delegate, Mrs. F. Johnston.

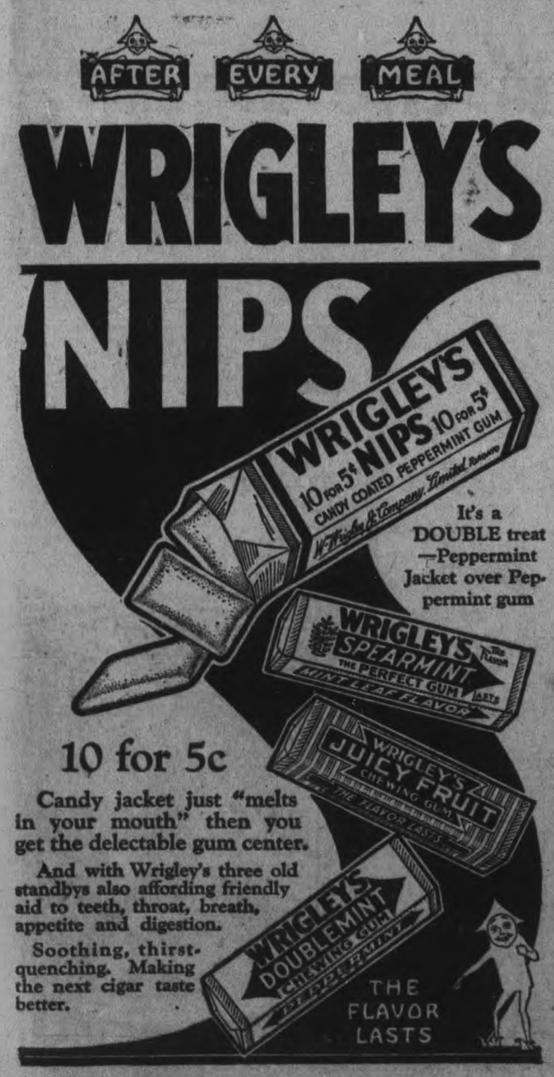
Amongst other encouraging information which Mrs. Johnston gave was the fact that the total amount raised by the auxiliaries of the Bay of Quinte Conference last year was $33,375.55, and from all sources $43,641.25, an increase of $546.40 over the previous year. Two missionaries, Miss Campbell, from Japan, and Miss Sherritt, from China, were at the convention and their addresses were an inspiration to all present.

Mrs. Seabrooke served refreshments during the social hour at the close of the meeting, and a vote of thanks to the hostess for her hospitality was moved by Mrs. B. R. Raper, seconded by Miss Stewart, the guests showing their appreciation by a hearty clap of the hands.

Those present included: Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. J. McKnight, Mrs. G. Locke, Mrs. T. Luxon, Mrs. Raper, Sr.; Mrs. B. R. Raper, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Freelove, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. J. Lunn, Miss M. Lunn, Miss A. Hampton, Mrs. G. E. Burnham, Miss A. Stewart, Mrs. Elmer, Mrs. J. Hatherly, Mrs. C. W. Richards, Miss E. Connell, Mrs. Sayles, Mrs. Hugh Kennedy, Mrs. A. and Miss L. Kennedy, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. A. J. Brown, Misses Estelle and M. E. Hetherington, Miss Kreiger, Mrs. O. Williamson and Mrs. Seabrooke.

Those who kindly gave the use of their cars for the occasion were: Mrs. J. McKnight, Mr. O. Williamson, Mr. G. W. Sayles, Mr. A. J. Brown, Mrs. G. E. and Miss Pearl Burnham.

The opening meeting in September will be held at the home of Mrs. O. Williamson, 7th line, Cavan, who kindly extended a cordial invitation to the auxiliary for that date. The afternoon being ideal, the meeting on Wednesday was held on the lawn, and the September gathering will also be out of doors if the weather permits.



HON. MANNING DOHERTY GAVE AN ADDRESS TO A NORWOOD AUDIENCE

Co-operative Marketing Explained By Aaron Sapiro—Representatives From the Townships.

NORWOOD, June 19. — On Saturday evening a largely attended meeting was held in the Norwood Town Hall, when Mr. Aaron Sapiro, of California, an authority on co-operative marketing of farm produce, and the Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, delivered addresses.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Wm. Anderson, Deputy-Reeve of Otonabee, who introduced the speakers.

Mr. Sapiro began his speech by telling of the condition the California farmer was in before co-operation. He said that the men, women, and children all worked and still they had very little to show for it; in fact, they could hardly make ends meet. California was the first State of the Union to adopt the system, but others were now taking it up, having seen the good results of the movement.

The Co-operative Movement.

Before co-operation and sales organisation was instituted in California the producer only got 8 per cent. of the amount paid by the consumer. After twelve years of co-operation they are now receiving 48 per cent., an increase of 600 per cent. —and the price is no higher to the consumer, and the market is very much improved, and the consumer gets a better quality of goods in every line.

Mr. Sapiro showed that the condition of the farmer in California was very greatly improved since co-operation and highly recommended the system to the farmers of Ontario, and said that it should work out to better advantage in this Province on account of the splendid shipping facilities.

Manning Doherty.

Mr. Doherty, in his address, spoke of the Bill that had been introduced at the recent session of the Legislature to incorporate the Ontario Co-operative Dairy Products, Limited, and which had now become law. The effect of this Bill is to put power into the hands of the producing dairymen to organise in such a way as to control their product. He said that every producing dairyman owed it to himself and his business to study the question and to understand the proposals and their possibilities. Think of the magnitude of the dairy industry of Ontario. Many of the farmers of this Province derive their main revenue from the dairy cow. This necessarily represents a large investment of capital, as well as a large investment of time and energy on the part of the farmer and his family, therefore, he should receive the largest possible percentage of the final selling price of his products.

The speaker told of the obligations of the shareholders and also of the plan for financing the company and its business.

Representative Appointed.

Mr. Doherty said he thought it would be advisable to get the voice of the meeting and after he had finished his address, the chairman addressed the meeting and said he had been interested in this movement for some time, and thought it was the best thing for the farmer.

A vote being taken showed the system to be a popular one.

Representatives were appointed for each township to look into the matter, and appoint committees.

MRS. MARY NELSON DIES IN LAKEFIELD.

Passed Away in 83rd Year. Was One of the Oldest Residents of the Community.

LAKEFIELD, June 19.—One of the oldest residents of the community passed away on Saturday in the person of Mary Nelson, widow of the late T. J. Nelson, aged 83 years. Deceased was the eldest daughter of the late Andrew and Anne Bredin and was born in Smith Township, July 8, 1838. She was married to T. Joseph Nelson, January 26, 1860, by the late Rev. J. W. Rogers, the minister who baptized her. Her entire life was spent in or within five miles of Lakefield and she was widely known and respected. Her husband predeceased her 35 years ago. Two sisters who survive are Mrs. Newton Bell of Smith and Mrs. Stephen Nichols of Port Colborne. Two daughters, Mrs. S. McKibbin and Miss Nettie, live in Lakefield and one son, Nassau, in Saskatchewan. Two sons, three daughters, six sisters and three brothers have predeceased Mrs. Nelson.

Deceased was a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church. The funeral service will be held Monday afternoon at 2 p.m. at her late residence on Regent street. Interment will be held in Lakefield Cemetery.

Mothers—watch your daughter's health. From the time she reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established she needs your care and advice. Many women have suffered years of ill-health through lack of such care during this time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for girls and women. For nearly fifty years it has been helping mothers and daughters. Let it help you and your daughter.

Hamilton, Ontario.—"When my daughter was thirteen and until she was fifteen she suffered every month so that she could hardly move around the house and when she would have the pains in school she would have to be carried home. Besides the pains and the irregularity she also had headache, dizzy and faint spells, and soreness in her back. I saw your advertisement in the 'Hamilton Spectator' and got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for her. She does not have the least bit of trouble now, and we both recommend your medicine. She works in a candy-shop now and seems well and strong."—Mrs. I. P. CLAGUE, 76 Walnut St., South, Hamilton, Ontario.

Mr. John Wallace, of Grand Road, has purchased a fine new touring car.

Mrs. Lavison, who has been visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. C. T. Booker, has returned to her home in Washington, D.C.

Special Services

Anniversary services in St. Andrew's church were as usual well attended. The services which were conducted by Rev. J. A. McKenzie B.A. B.D., of Knox Church, Peterboro, were much enjoyed. Rev. Mr. McKenzie is a young man, possessing rare ability as a speaker and presents the truth in such a clear forciful manner permeated with his own enthusiasm that he carries his hearers in rapt attention. The mornings remarks were based on the words found in Genesis Chapter 47 verse 9. at which service the choir under the capable leadership of Miss Hawley rendered the anthems "Sing Praises unto the Lord" and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is", both of which were most inspiring and were exceptionally well rendered reflecting much credit upon the choir. The evening subject was "The Romance of Christian Service' based on Mark, Chapter 1, verse 17. and Jesus said unto them, come ye after me and I will make you fishers of men. The music at the evening service was also much enjoyed, which included the anthem 'Hark, Hark my Soul", and a solo. "He Walks With Me, I Walk With Him' sweetly sung by Mrs. (Rev.) McIntosh. Altogether the service of the day were most helpful and the pastor and congregation should feel most gratified over the success of the day.

Mrs. Isaac Partridge

There passed away in Campbellford on Saturday Mrs. Isaac Partridge of Percy Township in her 85th year. The deceased was a woman of kindly Christian character, beloved by all who knew her. The funeral takes place Monday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Garrison, Church street, and interment will take place in Warkworth Cemetery.

W.M.S. of Methodist Church

The regular meeting of the W.M.S. of the Methodist Church will be held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs G. A. Kingston The meeting will be a most interesting one as the delegates to the Branch meeting of the W.M.S. recently held in Belleville, will give their report.

Mason's Will Attend Service

Next Sunday morning June 25th the members of the local Masonic Lodge, Golden Rule with visiting friends will attend divine service in St. Andrew's Church, where they will be addressed by the pastor, Rev. C. F. McIntosh.

St. Andrew's Church will hold its annual garden party to-night (Monday), on the Manse Grounds. An excellent programme has been arranged, including vocal and instrumental duets, Music by the North umberland Band. Mr. Gladstone Wood, B.A. of Queen's University, will render readings and clever impersonations. Last but not least an excellent lunch will be provided.

Evangelist Torrie's tent services drew unusually large audiences yesterday. The afternoon services being particularly interesting and helpful when all the Sabbath schools of the town were invited. A special object lesson service for the young people made a special appeal to the young. The services will continue for the next two weeks each night except Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin of Galt. are visiting at the home of the latter's sister Mrs. E. Skitch.

Mr. Leon Wilkinson of Peterboro, spent Sunday at the home of his uncle, Mr. Robt. Bell.

Rev. C. F. McIntosh M.A., was in Peterboro on Sunday taking the services at Knox Church while Rev. Mr. McKenzie, B.A. B.D., preached anniversary services at St. Andrew's Church, here.

Mr. Walter Davidson, Fish and Game Inspector, spent the week end at his home here.

FISHERMEN ARE VERY ACTIVE IN AND AROUND CAMPBELLFORD

Several Good Catches Are Reported—Campbellford News—Property Transfers—Navigation Notes.

CAMPBELLORD, June 19.—The waters of Crow Bay were dotted with many kinds of craft on Friday afternoon, and all the fishermen had fairly good luck. Mr. Charles Gillespie and Mr. Elie Brunelle claim to have landed the largest 'lunge, which tipped the scale at 16 lbs. Mr. A. L. Riendeau and Mr. Walter S. Wiggins lost a dandy on account of their lines getting tangled. A. L. said it felt like a 20 pounder. Dr. E. J. Free was also noticed towing a big one toward the shore.

Mr. Fred Berger, Mr. Blackwell, of Toronto, and Messrs. Cole, Meiklejohn and Birmingham, report a big day's fishing at Healy Falls on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Daniel Walterhouse, of Toronto, caught a 14-lb. 'lunge not far from his own cottage on Friday afternoon.

Along the Water Front.

Up—

Mary I. Robertson, of Trenton Cooperage Co., light, with rafts in tow, booked for Hastings.

Down—

General.

The fire brigade made a quick response to a call from Ward 3 Friday evening, which turned out to be only a pile of burning rubbish in a vacant lot up the river road. While quick action is required in case of fire, a little caution should be used, as it costs the town about $4.00 for hauling every time the big bell rings. However, it won't be long 'till the new motor truck is on the job.

Lawn Social.

Friday evening, June 30th, is the date set for Burnbrae garden party and there will be lots of music, lots to eat and the admission for big people is only 35c., including lunch, (children 25c.) so come along with the crowds and enjoy yourselves. All welcome.

Flower Service at George Street

Generous offerings of flowers that will bring a message of life and love into many sick chambers, and services conducted by a former pastor, featured Flower Day at George Street Church yesterday. Three generations really took part in the morning service, for Dr. W. R. Young, of College Street Methodist Church, formerly pastor, who had charge of the services, replacing his son, Rev. W. Harold Young, baptized his infant grand-daughter, Mary Elise. The baptismal took place among beautiful surroundings.

The gorgeous blossoms were worked by skilful hands into a unique and attractive design. Four pillars surmounted the pulpit and suspended over the centre was a living star of flowers, amongst which twinkled blue and white electric bulbs. The pulpit was flanked with flowers of every hue and a rich fragrance filled the church. At the evening service Rev. W. Harold Young paid particular tribute to the work of Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hetherington, who had charge of the design. After the services the flowers were sent to the sick of the congregation and to the public wards of the hospitals.

The Sunday School marched in a body to the morning service, occupying the body of the church. Dr. Young emphasized to the scholars the beauty, purity and sanctity of the flowers. Flowers were useful and always smiling, he said, and Sunday School scholars should emulate the flowers in being ready to serve and sacrifice if others would be benefited.

While George Street was privileged to hear a former pastor the congregation had an opportunity to meet again Rev. A. J. Thomas, who is proceeding to his new charge in Windsor, and who was on the pulpit morning and evening. The Sunday School orchestra, under the direction of Mr. W. H. Cunningham, played the accompaniments in the morning and rendered several effective numbers. The solo of Kennneth McCannon, boy soprano, "The Holy City," was in keeping with the service.

In the evening Dr. Young preached from St. John xx., 21: "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you." This was the first message of a risen Christ to his followers, and came at the close of a day, perhaps the most momentous in the world's history, said Dr. Young. The disciples locked the doors and barred the windows, but Christ appeared amongst them, and when they doubted Him, He showed them the nail prints in His hand and the spear wound in His side. Then he uttered the words of the text fear gave place to confidence and doubt to assurance.

"That was the first message of the risen Christ to the Church and it is His message to-day," declared Dr. Young. "Rich and glorlious as the past may have been, the present is still richer in opportunities and the future greater in possibilities. The message that the world asks of the Church to-day is one of certainty. Christ emphasized the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man and the foundation of the Brotherhood of Man in the Church must be in a consciousness of the Fatherhood of God," said Dr. Young.

CONGREGATION HONOUR, ETC.

right was vindicated but in the darkest hour the vision of the issue sustained them," said the pastor.

Reverence and Pride

"To-day", said Rev. Malott, "we are met in this beautiful place of worship not in a spirit of sadness but in a spirit of reverent and grateful pride to dedicate for all who shall come after us these visible and beautiful tokens of our affectionate remembrance of those who gave all that man can give, life itself for King and country for loved ones, home and Empire, for the sacred cause of justice and the freedom of the world".

"We live, possess, and enjoy because these and others died, renounced and suffered" said the pastor". These windows and this tablet are the outward sign of our pride in the achievements of our men; of our thankfulness to God for the deliverance He wrought through them; of our sympathy with their loved ones; of our determination to be worthy of the sacrifice and to realize the ideals for which they died."

The Unveiling

"To the glory of God and in honored memory of the men of this congregation who during the Great War of 1914-1918 gave their lives for God, for King and country, for loved ones, home and Empire, for the sacred cause of justice and freedom of the world I now ask that these windows and this tablet be unveiled." With these words of Rev. Malott, Lt. Col. A. W. McPherson, O.C. Peterboro Rangers, Col. J. J. Fee formerly O.C. 109th Battalion and Major Douglas Huycke released the Union Jacks that covered the windows and tablets and the beautiful symbols of a congregation's love and respect were revealed to view.

The Last Post sounded by three trumpeters rang clearly out from the vestibule of the church and was followed by the rendition of Lord Lovat's Lament by the Scottish pipers and when the organist of the church G. H. King broke into the mournfu notes of the Dead March there were few in the church whose eyes were undimmed.

Dedicatory Prayer

The assemblage observed the solemnity of the occasion with bowed heads after which Rev. Malott dedicated the memorials in the following words: "Almighty and Everlasting God, We Thy servants who have builded up for Thee an house of habitation and a place for Thy dwelling and have worshipped Thee in this Thy house, We would now offer and dedicate unto Thee these windows and this tablet, the gift of Thy people who have erected these to the glory of Thy great name and in loving memory of the men who gave their lives for God, for King and country, for loved ones, home and Empire, and for the sacred cause of justice and of freedom.

We thank Thee for these noble men who gave their lives for us. We thank Thee for Thy grace which has inclined this congregation to contribute of their substance for the erection of these memorials. May Thy grace be continued unto us that we may ever glorify Thee in all things".

Dr. J. P. Wilson

Following Mrs. King's solo "There is no Death" with its message of life everlasting, Dr. J. P. Wilson addressed himself to the congregation he served so faithfully The service he said recalled the years he was in charge of Trinity. "Those were years of real agony but they were also years of faith and hope. When we think of the men who died we often wonder if the sacrifice was worth while. We must recall the words of one at that time that "we must either be pleed ing conquerors or bleeding slaves." Rev. Wilson discussed the issue of the war and emphasized the sacrifice of the Motherland. "The wonder of the world was the Old Empire. Her men were fighting on three continents, on six fronts and cooperating on two others. And now that same splendid Empire stands out and offers to the world a new vision that other countries seemingly cannot understand".

Sacrifice and Serve

"These men have taught us to sacrifice and to serve. Shall you do it?" Dr. Wilson reminded the hushed assemblage of King George's message, "We must so order our lives that we may meet those gallant souls unashamed". If we do not serve we do not live. I'd like to tell every young man and woman if I lose myself I save myself. Let us serve and sacrifice that this may be a purer, cleaner and happier country than it has ever been in the past."

In a brief address Lt. Col. A. W. McPherson emphasized the heroism of the men who died and declared that men were still giving up their lives as a result of war's injuries. He pleaded for sympathy for those who returned crippled and maimed. The splendid showing of the Canadian troops he said was due to their initiative, courage and discipline. Their conduct should serve to uplift and guide those who come after Col. McPherson said.

The choir under the direction of G. H. King and assisted by Miss Edwina Palmer, violinist made an excellent showing and Miss Palmer's solo "Ave Maria" was in keeping with the memorial service.

The names upon the tablet are as follows: Percy Llewellyn Brown, Joshua Blaker, Fred Christie Cressman, Bruce Edwards, James Herbert English, Frederick Arthur Huycke Norman Hartshorn, Regie nald Heaslip, John Lightfoot, Arthur Harold Martin, George Minogran, John McLeod, Carl Noftall, Horace William Stanley, Fred Stanley Hiram Stewart, William Herbert Targett, James Delbert Harry Wiskin.

"Your Baby in Hot Weather"

REGULATE THE FEEDING OF YOUR YEAR-OLD CHILD

"CEREAL AND MILK FOR ME, PLEASE".

BY MRS. MAX WEST

Late of the United States Children's Bureau

At one year of age, the average healthy baby may have a day's feeding, something like this:

6 a.m. A cup or bottle of warm milk.

9 a.m. Orange juice, mixed with water, one or two tablespoonfuls.

10 a.m. A saucer of well-cooked cereal, with milk, but no sugar. In hot weather, cold cereal jelly may be used. A cup of cool milk.

2 p.m.—A small helping of some green vegetable, mashed; a little beef juice, or some cold beef or chicken broth which has jellied; a small saucer of rice. A piece of crisp toast or dried bread. Cup of milk. A soft egg may be given in the lace of the broth or beef juice, or a cup of vegetable soup.

6 p.m. Same as 10 a.m. At either of these meals a thick cereal gruel may be given with the milk.

10 p.m. A few babies may still require a cup or bottle of milk when the mother goes to bed, but many babies will have been taught before this age to sleep all night.

At 18 months, the same plan will be followed, but at this age, the child may have a small helping of finely cut beef, lamb, chicken or white fish at his dinner, and may have a simple desert, like custard or junket, afterward.

At two years, the same plan is the basis of the meals, with the addition of other vegetables, including baked potatoes, and stewed and baked fruits, such as apples.

It will be seen that three or four rules are observed:

1. Only one new food is added at a time.

2. Each new food is given at first in very small quantities, thus making it possible to withdraw it altogether at the first sign of digestive disturbance.

3. The simple meals are given at regular hours, with no haphazard choices of foods and no nibbling between meals. Every baby or child should have a great deal of cold drinking water, and this may be given between the regular feeding and will satisfy the baby's fretful appeals.

It may seem to many mothers to be unnecessarily fussy to feed the baby separately from the rest of the family, but if she reduces her day's work to a routine she will find that all the necessary things can be fitted in without too great trouble.

SCHOOL HELD A PICNIC AT OVAL

The Home and School Association of the King George school held a very successful picnic at Nicholls Oval on Saturday afternoon, attended by the staff and pupils of the school, with Mrs. W. R. Morris representing the Board of Education. Despite the threatening weather, the event was staged altogether out of doors, and an enjoyable day spent in games and running races. A sumptuous picnic supper was spread on the grass, and done full justice to by everyone present. During the supper hour, an address was read to Mr. M. H. Park, by little Isabel Cooper, with a presentation of a Masonic ring by small Ronald Richardson, the gift of the pupils on the occasion of Mr. Park's leaving the school, where he has been principal, to take the place of Mr. H. A. Yenney as principal of the Queen Alexandra school. Mr. Park replied in suitable terms, and was greeted later with the rousing singing of "For He's a Joly Good Fellow."

PETERBORO NAMES IN ESSAY CONTEST

In the list of prize winners in the Essay Contest recently conducted by the Ontario Safety League, Toronto, appear the names of several Peterborough children. Two hundred dollars in prizes were divided by the League into two sections, with 70 prizes in each, the first $10, the following $5 each, four prizes at $3 apiece, five at $2 each, and $58 one-dollar awards. In Class A, for children of 12 years and under, two local names appear, that of Olive Jackson, of the King Edward school, winning the fifth prize of $3, and of Kenneth Wilson, Prince of Wales school, winner of one of the dollar awards.

In Class B, for contestants of 13 years and over, ten of the seventy prizes were captured by Peterborough children, a remarkable percentage when the teritory covered by the contest is considered. Children from Fort William to Niagara Falls competed, including many from Toronto, Hamilton, London, Chatham, Kitchener, Oshawa, Galt, Ottawa, Orillia and Walkerville.

The Collegiate Institute was represented in the winning list by Grace A. Yonge (8th prize, $2) and Edna D. Jeffries, (26th prize, $1). THE PLOWMEN HELD A MEETING

Classes Will be Open to All Comers — Annual Match.

THE PLOUGHMEN ....

One of the most enthusiastic meetings that has ever been held by the Peterborough Plowmen's Association took place in the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce on Saturday, 3rd June, at which nearly all the directors were present, with President Wm. Cleghorn in the chair.

Resolutions of appreciation were passed to Mr. G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., Deputy Speaker, House of Commons, Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, Peter Hamilton Co., Canadian Tent and Awning Co., Edward Wright, Wright's Barber Shop, Empress Hotel, and others who expressed their desire and willingness to contribute sums of money to the prize-list of the International Plowing Match, which the committee endeavoured so hard to get for the City of Peterborough.

of Peterborough this year.

They also expressed their appreciation of the intense interest shown by the citizens and their anxiety to have the Match held in Peterborough County instead of elsewhere.

Considerable discussion took place in regard to whether or not Peterborough County would hold their Annual County Match this year, on account of the International Match being held at Lindsay, or so close to Peterborough. However, the final decision was that the Annual County Match be held, and a committee, consisting of the following directors, Duffus, Webber, Lillico, Bennett, and Moore, secure land for the purpose. Following the rule that the Match be held in East Peterborough and West Peterborough alternately, on account of it being in East Peterborough last year, this year it will be held west of the city, and quite likely in the Township of North Monaghan.

There will be quite a difference in the Match this year, inasmuch as some Classes will be open to all comers. For example, in the high-cut class, competitors may enter from any place, the only restrictions being that the Burnham Cup, which is competed for each year, will go to the Peterborough plowman who secures the highest prize.

There will be a Jointer Class and Two Classes for Tractors, one open to farmers only and tne other open to all other comers, which will no doubt create a great deal of interest.

The above committee was also delegated to wait on the County Council for the purpose of securing from them their Annual Grant.

Further detaoils have yet to be worked out, and judging from the interest manifest, this year's Peterborough Annual Match will be larger and more interesting than ever, and it is expected that it will be held shortly after the big Match in Lindsay.

BRUCE FREEBURN WAS FINED $300

Liquor Case Heard in the County Court This Morning.

A fine of $300 for a breach of the O.T.A. was imposed upon Bruce Freeburn, of Bobcaygeon, by Magistrate O. A. Langley in police court held at the court house this morning. J. F. Strickland, representing Freeburn, said his client could not pay the fine and would go to the jail for three months. Magistrate Langley found accused guilty of having liquor in an unlawful place, when a week ago Saturday, according to the evidence of Albert James Taylor, Curve Lake Indians, he had supplied them with liquor from a lauuch in Pigeon Lake. The defence maintained the liquor was not in Peterborough county and the Magistrate had no power to deal with the case, but the Magistrate was satisfied from the evidence of the Indians that the liquor was in the county.

A charge under the Indian Act of selling to Indians, which constitutes a serious offence and which was the cause in the first place of court being held on the hill, was withdrawn when a conviction was secured under the O.T.A. with the consent of the Magistrate. Court was held at the court house so the evidence of two Indians now serving sentences there might be taken as without the consent of the Attorney-General they could not be taken to the station. The case under the Indian Act was, however, dropped by the prosecution at the conclusion of the other.

J. F. Strickland, for the defence, declared the two Indians were shielding themselves behind Freeburn. The prosecution offered only the evidence of the Indians, and J. Wearing claimed prima facie evidence and when the defence declined to offer any evidence, rested the case on Section 88, which placed the onus of proving innocence upon the accused. Mr. Wearing argued that the principal counts against Freeburn were that he committed a breach of the O.T.A., he sold liquor to Indians and moreover the whiskey was of illegitimate birth. J. F. Strickland charged the prosecution with a blood-thirsty attitude" and remarked that under the new Act "a man is lucky if he keeps out of jail at all."

LAKEFIELD WILL HAVE BUSY WEEK

LAKEFIELD, June 19.—The present week promises to be a particularly busy one and no one can complain of nothing to go to. On Monday evening Lakefield and Keene meet on the local diamond for a decisive game. On Tuesday evening the Business Men and the regular team clash in baseball. On Wednesday a number of local people purpose taking in St. George's picnic to Apsley.

On Thursday the U. F. O. picnic will bring a big crowd to the village, and on Friday the annual Union Sunday school excursion will be held to Gilchrist's Bay. The Presbyterians, Methodists and Baptists unite and hold a monster picnic.

Organdie and Voile Frocks for Informal Vacation Teas

Of course no woman is ready for vacation, unless she has an Organdy or Voile Frock in a style suitable for informal teas or dances. The newest style ideas—the newest of colours—and some of the pretty ribbon trimmings so chic—these are a few of the outstanding features of these Voile and Organdy Frocks. A Frock of Peach Organdy is $14.50.

Fashion Favors

Ratine

For Sports Wear

It is easy for even the inexperienced needlewoman to fashion one of the smart Sport Costumes of Ratine, so much the vogue this season, for the patterns are simple and the materials are so effective they require but little trimming.

Plain shades of Mauve, Yellow, Pekin Blue, Black, suggest very effective Frocks with a piquant little Cape tied with a soft tie of Braid Yarn, and its cost would be infinitesimal. It is 36 inches wide, and priced at $1.45 yard. White, with fine Black check, $1.95 yard.

Summer Corset

Coolly Achieve Stylish Lines

Expertly fashioned Corsets that have all the required support and good lines that heavier models have, are in the Corset Department. Made of cool, light-weight materials appropriate for hot weather wear. They offer a very comprehensive selection of representative makes. Commencing at $1.25, and going slowly upward to $4.50.

A Picturesque Vogue

Cretonnes

For Frocks

In with the Summer has come the very winsome Cretonne Apparel, particularly appealing to home women or women who plan a vacation—simple, charming Frocks that have a bit of crisp Organdy—a floating sash of narrow Cire Ribbon or a transparent hem. Or pert appearing Aprons or Children's Frocks.

Our Cretonnes have been selected with these garments in view, and a very large, beautiful selection is now ready for needlewomen. Bird or flower patterns, priced, per yard—

CHEST LOCATED.

Capt. Carson Expects to Raise the Ancient Box This Afternoon.

PENETANGUISHENE, June 19 (Canadian Press). — What is supposed to be the long lost Jesuit treasure chest is believed to be actually located at last.

Capt. Robert Carson, who is in charge of the operations to raise it from the bottom of the Wye River, made two descents into the river depths on Saturday afternoon, and announced that he had succeeded in locating it.

According to Captain Carson, the box lies on the edge of the hole which the dredge Baltic has excavated. It is in a slanting position, about 150 feet from the shore, and submerged in sand varying from 2 to 7 feet.

Captain Carson believes that it will be possible to raise the chest this afternoon.

Grain, Cattle & Produce Markets

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Strawberries are gradually descending in price. Today they are selling at 25 cents for a good quart box "fresh picked today", and seem to be plentiful enought. Butter in the creamery variety has gone up about four cents, with lard following at a one cent advance. The price of the tasty porker has remained stationary for the last two weeks. Although, "on the hoof" he fluctuated considerably during the winter months, now that summer is here and it is supposed to be more expensive to keep him around, he remains set firm at the same price.

Grains—Marquis $1.15; fall wheat $1.30; barley, 65c; oats, 45c; buckwheat, 90c; flour, half bbl., $4.10; pastry flour 24 lb bag $1.00.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—The cash grain market here Saturday was dull. There was little doing in the flour market. The mill feed situation showed no change, while the market for rolled oats was slow. The market for lower grade eggs was easy. There was a good demand for butter, and the demand for cheese was strong.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here Saturday: Sterling demand, 4.4700; sterling cables, 4.4725.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, June 19—(Canadian Press).—A closing bulge similar to the one Friday was the only feature of an otherwise lifeless session in wheat on the Board of Trade Saturday. Houses that were buyers late Friday were on the buying side again Saturday during the closing rally. The buying was believed to be for a big cash interest, which is taking advantage of the technical condition of the market and force pit shorts to cover.

At the finish wheat was 1-8 to 7-8c higher, with July $1.11 3-4 to $1.11 7-8 and September $1.12 1-4 to $1.12 3-8. Corn finished unchanged at 3-8c lower; Oats were unchanged to 1-8c off, while provisions showed 7 1-2c to 12 1-2c decline.

CHEESE MARKET.

FARNHAM, Que., June 19.—(Canadian Press).—At the meeting of the Eastern Townships Dairymen's Exchange there were 623 packages creamery butter offered, and all were sold at 36 1-2 cents per pound.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., June 19.—(Canadian Press).—The offerings on the board were 250 packages creamery butter and 150 boxes cheese. The butter sold at 34 cents per pound and the cheese brought 15 1-2 cents.

BELLEVILLE, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—At the meeting of the board there were 2,200 boxes of white and colored cheese offered, the white selling at 16 1-4 cents and the colored at 16 11-16 cents per pound.

EBENEZER HAD GARDEN PARTY

Bethany Band Contributed to the Programme — Millbrook News of Interest.

MILLBROOK, June 19.—In spite of occasional showers, the garden party on Friday evening at Ebenezer, under the auspices of the Methodist Church, was quite successful, not only in point of attendance, but also in the excellence of the programme and if the supper provided. Those going from Millbrook included Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sayles, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bradley, Mrs. G. W. Harrington, Misses M. Needham, M. Duncam, F. Clarke, and Messrs. W. Coombe and W. Harkness.

Rev. Jas. E. Beckel, pastor of the circuit, acted as chairman, stating rather ruefully that this was the third garden party on his charge this season, and the weather man had been so unkind, in every instance, as to send rain; in one case they had postponed the event from Friday to Monday evening. But it only rained harder than ever when that date arrived. The Bethany Band was in attendance, and opened the programme with an excellent selection, following which Miss Murray, of Springville, delighted the audience with a vocal solo. Miss Seymour, also of Springville, gave two readings during the evenng, and Mrs. Sayles, Millbrook, sang two solos, receiving well-merited applause, as indeed did all those who assisted with the entertainment; Miss Murray sang again, and Mr. Hilliard, of Ebenezer, contributed a reading, after which S. S. Staples, M.P.P., gave a short but appropriate address. Another selection by the band brought the programme to a close.

The social was held on the grounds of Mr. Walter Sharpe, which were admirably suited to the purpose.

Rev. T. Cosgrave, of Ashville, N.C., is the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. Steele, this week. Dr. Cosgrave spent Saturday visiting friends in Lakefield, but returned here on the evening train.

Those going from Millbrook to the A.Y.P.A. district meeting held at Lakefield on Wednesday, 14th June, included Misses Elsie Weeks, Irene and Pearl Lamb, and Messrs. R. Stone, A. Dunn, and W. Budd. In the absence of the president, Miss Jean Horsfield, of Peterborough, the vice-president, Mr. Robert Stane, of Millbrook, had charge of the meeting. A number of important business items were attended to, including the appointment of delegates to the A.Y.P.A. conference at St. Catharines in November, and arrangements for the district picnic at Wallace's Point on Thursday, 29th June. There were 52 delegates in attendance, and the gathering was marked by a spirit of enthusiasm that augurs well for the successful future of the Young People's work on the district. A number were present from Omemee, Peterborough, Millbrook, and of course the Lakefield members.

Refreshments were served, and a most delightful social hour enjoyed before the delegates left for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Sootheran, of Chapleau, Ont., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Steele on Friday, on their wedding trip through to Ottawa, where they will visit Mr. Sootheran's aunt, Mrs. M. Cummings, and also his sister, Miss Ruby Sootheran, who has been confined to her bed through illness for almost four years now.

Mr. S. J. Hunter, cartoonist of the Toronto Globe, is the guest of his sister, Miss E. Hunter, this week.

Misses M. Money and M. Collins motored to Toronto on Friday, the former being on her way home to Stratford. Miss Collins returned by train on Saturday evening.

Miss May B. Turner, who is on the staff of the Kingsthorpe Ladies' College, Hamilton, arrived home for the holidays on Friday. The many friends of Mrs. (Dr.) Turner will be glad to learn that reassuring news of her recovery from her recent operation at the General Hospital, Toronto, continues to come from the sick room. Miss Turner spent last week-end with her mother in the city, and Dr. H. A. Turner, who came home for a day or so, returned to Toronto on Saturday.

Mr. T. A. Armstrong, G.T.R. agent at Omemee, was a visitor in town on Saturday.

Mrs. D. Kenyon was a business visitor to Peterborough on Thursday.

Mr. McKnight, of Midland, is the guest of his niece, Mrs. W. E. Ball, arriving on Saturday.

Mrs. R. Smith is visiting friends in Toronto for a couple of weeks.

Mr. George B. Walsh, barrister-at-law, of Toronto, came down from the city on Saturday to attend the double funeral of his aunt, Mrs. H. Fee, and his cousin, Mrs. (Dr.) McCallum, returning home again the same evening.

Mrs. Thirtle and family moved this week from Tupper Street to the house on King Street, near the station, belonging to Mr. George Fallis.

MORE——

Mrs. John Whitfield of Oshawa, announces the engagement of her youngest daughter, Hazel Margaret, to Glen E. G., son of the late Mr. and Mr. Piper, the marriage to take place early in July.

The June sessions of the County Court for Durham and Northumberland opened at Cobourg on Tuesday, June 12th, before His Honor, Judge Ward, with a number of interesting cases on the docket.

Miss Jean Odell, B.A., daughter of Mr. Albert Odell, of Cobourg, has received the appointment of teacher of English and History at the Parkdale Collegiate Institute, Toronto. Miss Odell occupied a position for a time on the staff of St. Margaret's College, in the same city. Her father, the Departmental examinations in Mr. Odell, is at present presiding at Millbrook, and with his brother, Colonel Odell, has many friends here.

Mr. P. Stinson very capably filled the position of superintendent in the Methodist Sunday school on Sunday afternoon in the unavoidable absence of Mr. F. W. Fallis.

About 45 ladies from Cavan and Millbrook gathered at the home of Mrs. Harry Armstrong on Saturday evening, when a demonstration of cooking with aluminium wear was conducted under the auspices of the Woman's Institute. The latter organization has a special speaker in the town hall on Monday evening, June 19th, when Mrs. Cronk, of Pickering, will deliver an instructive address. The district secretary, Mrs. J. R. Eakins, extended a cordial invitation to all present to attend Monday's meeting, which is open to the general public.

Rev. Dr. Cosgrove, who spent some of his boyhood days in Millbrook, and who is now Principal of a Ladies' College in North Carolina, preached in Grace Presbyterian church on Sunday morning, delighting his hearers by his eloquent and instructive discourse.

Miss May Needham was a visitor to Lindsay on Thursday.

Mrs. J. Hammond and two children, Iris and Yvonne, of Toronto, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. P. Stinson, for some time, left for Powasson the end of last week.

Mr. W. E. Ball received the sad intelligence on Friday that his cousin, Mrs. (Dr.) McCallum, of Vancouver, Wash. T'y, who with her son, Charles, and youngest sister, Mrs. Blanton, had started east, bringing the body of their mother, the late Mrs. H. Fee, for interment beside her husband at St. John's cemetery, Ida, suffered a stroke and passed away very suddenly when only one day upon their journey. The funeral took place on Saturday, June 17th, upon arrival of the C.P.R. train at Cavan station at 11.35. Mrs. McCallum was formerly Miss Hannah Fee, and attended school at Millbrook during her girlhood, and many of her schoolmates, still residing here, were deeply saddened on learning of her unexpected decease under such exceptionally regrettable circumstances. Dr. McCallum accompanied his wife's body to the east. There is a large circle of relatives and friends resident in Millbrook and surrounding community.

Grace Presbyterian church have postponed their lawn social from Thursday, June 22nd, to Tuesday, June 27th, on account of conflicting with the U.F.O. picnic, which is to be held at Wallace's point on the date first mentioned. The former event will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Paul, 10th line, Cavan, and an excellent programme and supper are assured.

Our First Year

MY BEADS.

I Learn They are Pearls Worth $43,000.

(By a Bride.)

Next morning I walked down town with Jack and stopped at Barnicks to have my beads re-strung.

I was obliged to wait whilst the clerk found whether the missing pearls could be replaced. I waited five—ten—fifteen minutes. Finally came Mr. Barnick himself with my imitation gems in his hand. He looked at me critically, deliberately, before he spoke again

"Madame, we have been looking for you for months. What did you pay for these beads?"

"Twenty-five dollars."

"Twenty-five dollars!" Mr. Barnick chuckled. "Madame, very strangely, on that same day, we sold a strand of pearls of the same size for $43,000. There was a mistake in delivering the packages!"

I could scarcely comprehend; finally I stammered:

"You mean—I have not been wearing imitations—I've owned the real thing" I gasped.

"Just that! You see, you took your package with you, having no name, no address. Nobody here knew you. We've hunted the city over for you. To-day jewellers all over the country are on the lookout."

"You'd be more astonished if you knew what had been happening to your 43000 strand of pearls while I owned them," I said.

"Come back to the office and tell us. And hear a little proposition I want to make to you."

And so I told Mr. Barnick and his partner the remarkable history of "my beads," of the number of stones I had lost, of the thefts attempted. The men were vastly amused. But I was near to weeping. I told them how I had loved "my beads," never guessing why!

My little tendency to tears came to an abrupt conclusion.

"As to our proposition," said Mr. Barnick. "We offer you any string of imitation pearls in the house and $2500 for settlement!"

It had not occurred to me that they owed me anything at all except a string of imitations. I gasped:

"Twenty-five hundred dollars. I cannot decide. It's so complicated. I'll—I'll have to talk it over with my husband."

The partners conferred.

"We will make it $3000 in order to have it ended," said Mr. Barnick.

"But still — posi ely — I can't decide until I have thought it over."

Read both halves of the news

LOOKING over all the normal activities of life which hold your interest---your city, your church, your school, your sport, your good works, there is not a single one that has not been promoted and fostered by having public attention focussed upon it in the Daily Newspapers of your community.

Facts about personal happenings of this kind have come to be called news; facts about retail business are spoken of as "advertising." There is no actual difference between the two. Read both.

As a consumer you have as much interest in the day's advertising news as any person has in civic, religious and recreational events. How else can you keep informed of what is newest and best to eat, to wear and to use; how can you know who is selling on the best terms and pledging his name and resources to back the quality and worth of his brand and trademark?

Daily Newspaper Advertising is the soil in which new comforts and economics are grown daily for your benefit. It is news of value and interest to every one of us who must spend daily just to live.

CANADIAN WINNER.

DETROIT, June 19.—(Canadian Press)—H. F. Hoblitzell, of Sarnia, Ont., Saturday won the Detroit district golf championship by defeating Earl R. Cain, Detroit Golf Club, in the final round at Lochmoor, 7 and 5. The Canadian's victory was an easy one, Cain failing throughout the 31-hole match to show the class with which he defeated T. Worden Hunter, a former champion and two other leading golfers of the district in the earlier round.

QUAKERS TRIM THE OWL FOOTBALLERS.

Winners Pile Up a Big Lead in the First Half, Which the Owls Were Unable to Overcome.

The Quaker Oats improved their position on the league table by a smart win over the Owls, 4 to 2, on Saturday afternoon at the Oval. The Owls were forced to play short handed, having only nine men throughout the game.

Play in the first half went in favor of the Quakers, who scored four goals, the first coming from the foot of Croft. J. Willshaw then got through by a nice piece of play, only to see McFadden palm his shot out, but Foster, coming in smartly, returned the ball into goal for the second tally. Foster then got the third goal on his own, a smart run and shot beating McFadden. For the fourth J. Clark placed a free kick into the goal mouth, J. Willshaw scoring.

In the second half the Owls came away with a burst of speed and wiped off two goals in less than ten minutes. Willis got the first with a soft shot, and in less than half a minute Hutton again beat Griffin, a long ground shot getting through the goalie's hands.

The game then continued in a ding-dong fashion, the Owls playing the one-back game, which broke up many a move on the part of the Quaker front line. J. Willshaw got through, to beat every one, even the goalkeeper, but Hotstone cleared on the line.

The teams were:

Quakers—Griffin, Young, R. Willshaw, Hepburn, Clark, Mayette, Honor, Gardner, J. Willshaw, Croft and Foster.

Owls—McFadden, Frost, Burrows, Hotstone, Hosker, Edwards, Hutton, Willis and Burgess.

Referee—A. McKinlay.

BELLEVILLE HITS HARD BUT LOSES

Oshawa Team Is More Strongly Entrenched Than Ever at the Top of Central League.

OSHAWA, June 19.—(Special to the Examiner)—Oshawa went up another notch in the Central Ontario baseball league race Saturday when they handed Belleville a 5-2 defeat. The Quinte city boys started a town leaguer doing slab duty and with help behind him should have turned in a win. Belleville had fourteen men left on at times the bases choked but the punch to bring them over the home plate was lacking. Patton was in trouble several times but pitched himself out assisted by team play behind him. The game was held up owing to a heavy rain which made the going heavy.

MURPRY WINS AGAIN.

SPEEDWAY, Uniontown, Pa., June 19.—(Canadian Press)—Jimmy Murphy the Pacific Coast driver, Saturday won the 225-mile universal trophy automobile race on the Uniontown Speedway, averaging 102.2 miles an hour, the fastest time ever registered here. Murphy jumped into the lead on the 116th lap, after Tommy Milton was forced out when his machine threw a wheel and crashed through a grandstand rail. Murphy's tife was 2:12:15.13.

HASTINGS HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Opening of O. A. L. A. Group Schedule Here at Riverside, Beginning at 6 O'clock.

The junior O.A.L.A. game between Peterboro and Hastings will be played at Riverside Park on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. This is the first home contest in the local junior group, and in view of the fact the visitors were the group winners last year and already have a win over Marmora to their credit this season is sufficient guarantee of their class. They are all good stick handlers and ball carriers, and in Richardson, Stevenson, Tate, Scriver and company, they have a group of boys who play a fast combination game.

Peterboro's game in Havelock was hardly a fair test of its strength for the reason that the regular lineup was shot to pieces. Tomorrow night they will be out at full strength and confident of fixing this game to their flags. It is hoped that a large attendance of the supporters and promoters of local sports will be present for the opener which should be a good exhibition of the old national game.

PRIZES FOR THE GROVE SCHOLARS.

Annual Closing Events of Grove School Held at Lakefield.

LAKEFIELD, June 19. — The closing of The Grove School for the summer term took place on Thursday evening ,and was attended by a large number of friends of the school.

Visitors were present from Peterborough, Cobourg, Woodstock, Ottawa, Toronto, and other places.

The headmaster, Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, after a brief address, reviewed the year's activities, which have been noteworthy. In sport, the boys covered themselves with credit in cricket and in hockey. Much credit is due to the work of Massie, the captain of the cricket team, for his faithful work, and to Roblin for his part in the sucessful campaign of the hockey team. And while there has been attention paid to sport in the recreation periods, the more serious business of school work has been carried on with marked success. Special mention was made of the remarkable work of Loosemore in English.

Mr. Mackenzie presented the prizes amid hearty applause from both school boys and visitors.

The following is the prize-list:

General Proficiency—Form 1B, Strickland, 2; Form 1A, Pocock, 2; Form 2B, McMurty; Form 2A, Loosemore 2; Form 3, Pullen; Form 4, Grayl, Little 1 (equal).

RAYBESTOS IN THE KALSOMINE

Chris. McCarney Pitches An Almost Perfect Game For C.G.E. on Saturday.

A short pop fly which Legros sent between the pitcher and short-stop, robbed Chris. McCarney of a no-run, no-hit game in the City League fixture at Riverside Park Saturday when the C.G.E. defeated Raybestos, 5 to 0. The game was the play-off of the protested game of May 30. McCarney twirled like a veteran, and with excellent support on the part of his teammates, had the Raybestos crew well in hand at all periods of the game. Bartley, the first man up for Raybestos in the first inning, was the only man to get past the initial sack, two errors and a stolen base landing him safely on third, which was as far as he got.

Daynard started on the rubber for Raybestos and got into hot water early in the game, being nicked for five hits and three runs in the second frame. He was relieved at the end of the fourth by H. Wolfe, who held his opponents for the remainder of the game.

The C.G.E. sluggers piled up a total of twelve hits against the two moundsmen of their opponents and took things free and easy in the matter of stealing bases, pilfering nine in their six innings at bat. Ross was the batting star of the day, with three hits to his credit in three times up. Chris. McCarney came across with two hits in two official times to bat, and Cambell slammed out the only two-base hit of the game.

ANOTHER DEFEAT FOR THE ADANACS.

Holy Name Society Hold the Large End of a 7 to 3 Score in Saturday's Game

The Adanacs ran into another defeat this time with a 7 to 3 score, when they bumped up against the Holy Name Society nine for the opening game of the double header at Riverside Park Saturday. The H.N.S. aggregation failed to score in the first two innings but told a different story for the remainder of the game.

McPherson pitched for the winners, fanning eight and only walking one. He got excellent support from his team mates, none of their four errors coming at critical times.

Scates started the pitching for the Adanacs but was forced to retire at the end of the fifth frame when his pitching hand was injured in knocking down a sizzling line drive by Sheehy. He fanned four of his opponents without issuing a single pass. Shaughnessy finihed the game for the Adancs but failed to hold the Holy Name in check.

In spite of the heavy rain of the night before the grounds were in good shape but the drizling rain which fell during the early part of the game was the cause of practically all the errors and sent the moundsmen frequntly to the sawdust pile in an effort to keep the balls as dry as possible.

Hensley supplied the fielding feature of the day coming across with two great one handed catches.

Diamond Dust

Some practical joker sent in a bum steer on the Leaside game Saturday, and as a consequence it was reported all over town that the game had been called at the end of the eleventh with a 2 to 2 score. It was not learned until some hours later that the game had never even been started on account of the downpour which prevailed at Leaside during the afternoon.

* * *

Threatening weather did not deter the City League boys from putting on two good games at Riverside Park Saturday.

* * *

Rody of the H.N.S. line-up made a great catch in centre field Saturday and robbed Jeff. Hardill of a hit that looked like a two-bagger at least.

* * *

Barrie's work at the keystone sack in the Raybestos-C.G.E. game was sensational. In spite of a wet and slippery ball, he handled five difficult chances without a sign of a slip-up.

* * *

Chris. McCarney pitched a great game Saturday. One measley little hit was all that barred him from a perfectly clean shut-out.

PETES RAINED OUT SATURDAY

No Game at Leaside But Micky Murray's Team Will Be Here Wednesday Night to Do Battle With Solomon Crew.

MAGUIRE TO PITCH.

A heavy shower of rain just as the Petes were finishing the fielding practice turned the Leaside Athletic Grounds not in very good shape as it was, because of the down pour of the night before into a lake on Saturday afternoon and the Leaside Peterboro game had to be called off the Petes having their expensive trip to Toronto for nothing. It was a big disappointment to both teams.

Leaside and Peterboro will however come together at Riverside Park on Wednesday evening, when Micky Murray and his crew from Toronto Suburb will be here to do battle with the Petes in the first Central League twilight game of the season. The fixture is called for 5.30 o'clock, an hour that should make it convenient for the majority of the fans to be on hand and a big crowd will be out to see Manager Peacock's crew whose two victories over the crack Oslers indicates that they have a lot of class. Lefty Maguire, Leaside's best pitcher, has been saved up for this game and will be sent out on Wednesday to stop the Petes. It promises to be a real battle.

LAKEFIELD LADIES TRIM LOCAL GIRLS.

Ninth Inning Rally For Lakefield Lassies Brings in Seventeen Runs to Defeat C.G.E.

LAKEFIELD, June 19.—An astonishing recovery in the last innings of a girls' baseball game here on Saturday afternoon gave Lakefield a vicfory over C.G.E. of Peterboro, 24 runs to 19. When Lakefield went to bat in th seventh the score was 19 to 7. Their chances of a win looked about as good as Warden Strickland and E. R. Tate's did of cleaning up on A. E. Dawson a week ago. By the same display of grit as those two gentlemen however they won the game. The Lakefield girls had been in a nervous condition till the pinch came suddenly changed front and in an offensive led by Martha Garvey's home run touched C.G.E. for 17. A feature of the game was the work of Dell Waton at first. On account of the desultory weather only a small crowd saw the game. Dr. S. J. Gibson was umpire. The batteries were: For C.G.E. Miss Reynolds and Miss Stapeley; For Lakefield Mrs William Millage, Miss Martha Garvey and Miss Helen Burgess. The score by innings:

C.G.E.	7206121 —19
Lakefield	14011017—24

HE'S STILL YOUNG.

BROCKVILLE, Ont. June 19.—Word received here states that Theodore H. MacDonald, aged 78, formerly of Gananoque, and a brother of Charles MacDonald, the noted bridge engineer, is entered in a marble contest to be held at San Francisco. MacDonald has played marbles for 70 years and thinks he will be a winner.

WEAVERS WINNERS.

The girls of the Colonial Weavers defeated the C.G.E. team in a fast game of baseball at Central Park, 29 to 18, on Thursday evening last. The C.G.E. girls got away to a good start and were in the lead at the end of the second inning. The Colonials came very much to the fore in the third, piling up a lead which they maintained for the remainder of the game.

A Colossal Drama of Monte Carlo—the Magnificent

Written, Directed by and Featuring Von Stroheim
"A Man You Will Love To Hate"

Little Lessons For the Golfer

The player should always take a provisional stance and carefully avoid any stiffness or rigidity of muscle Extend the arms full length several times. Then adjust the feet in easy comfort and indulge a preparatory wiggle for relaxation. You are ready for the stroke as soon as you have found your exact stance and your body has found an easy free position. The stance is not taken with mathematical precision. You could not place your feet in another player's footprints and do merely a detail and, like everything as he did with his stroke. Stance is else in golf, is used approximately. Your own ease and comfort, your straightness down the green and your ability to approach will teach you the most resultful positions for your feet.

In this picture we see Jesse Guilford, National Amateur champion, executing an approach shot. This shot brings the feet somewhat closer together, with a stan that is slighly open. Some players follow the idea of using a constanly open stance as they progress down the green—square in the drive, slightly open for midiron, wide open for mashie and the putter. As I said before, use stances approximately, for your personal ease, not exactly, to measurements.

TILDEN DEFEATED.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 19.—William T. Tilden, II., of Philadelphia, national tennis champion, went down to defeat Saturday in the final round of the New England tournament on the courts of the Hartford Golf Club, losing a bitterly contested five-set match to Vincent Richards of Yonkers, N.Y. The scores: 4-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 and 6-3, the champion taking the first two but losing the last three sets.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO LEARN SPORTS

Dr. Frank Will Teach Track and Field Work at the Oval.

Beginning on Tuesday evening of this week, and continuing on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 6.30 to 8 o'clock, throughout the summer, the track and field club will meet at the Nicholls Oval.

A full equipment has been provided by the P.A.A.A., and is for the free and unlimited use of all the members of that Association, and any one not a member can easily join.

There are jumping standards, vaulting poles, take off and pits for the jump, 12-pound hammer, 12 and 16 pound shots, discus, and a track which has been put in perfect shape the whole way round.

The balance of this month will be given to practice in all events, then commencing in July a series of twilight meets will be held every week on the same nights. Events will be scored on the points system, and the highest in both junior and senior events will receive a reward in recognition of their merit at the end of the season.

A full turnout of everyone interested is requested both nights this week, when Dr. Frank will be present to coach the squad and explain the programme.

Beginners are especially invited, and also the members of industrial associations, athletic clubs connected with the local factories, and others who are interested in track and field sports, and desire to become proficient in them.

KEENE AT LAKEFIELD TO-DAY

The big game in the East Peterborough Ball League will be played at Lakefield this evening, with Keene as the visitors. Keene won at home after a hotly-contested game and the northerners hope to win this evenig, a victory being necessary to keep the team in the running for the first half.

COMRADES FOOTBALL CLUB.

There will be a practice tomorrow night of the Comrades F. C. at the Exhibition Grounds. All players and the Executive Committee please be on hand. Important business.

FOOTBALL NOTICE.

The following Quaker players are requested to be at King Edward Park at 6.30 to-morrow evening for the game with Lakefield in the first round of the Charity Cup competition:

Goal—Griffin.
Packs—Young and R. Willshaw.
Halves— Hepburn, Clark and W. Logan.
Forwards—Foster, Russell, G. Logan, J. Willshaw, Honer.
Reserves—Meyette and Crofgt.

PROTEST BY LAKEFIELD.

Lakefield has protested the victory of the Otonabee team on Thursday of last week, because of Emmett Sheehan's appearance with Otonabee. Sheehan played with the Y.M.C.A. team before breaking into the "U.F.O." loop.

P.A.A.A. EXECUTIVE.

The P.A.A.A. Executive meeting arranged for to-night has been postponed until Wednesday night, as several members of the executive are unable to attend a meeting to-night.

CAMERON LAKE HAS A SEA SERPENT

Gazette: Some days ago a reputable citizen reported that he had seen what appeared like the head and back fin of an unusual looking creature, moving at a rapid rate across Cameron Lake. It was going toward Mudcat Bay, and disappeared around the point. A couple of other residents have since made similar reports, and there is evidently some sort of a sea serpent making its home in the lake. As far as can be ascertained, it is sixteen to eighteen feet in length, and was travelling at the rate of about ten miles an hour, apparently on low, but could probably do two or three times that on high without any trouble.

SIMPLE TABLE FARE MINISTERS' RATIONS.

Dining Car Menu Too Attractive For Conference Purse.

WINNIPEG, June 19.—The Manitoba Methodist Conference is responsible for the travelling expenses of delegates attending its sessions, but in future ministers with an epicurean taste will have to resort to the "simple fare," as the Conference adopted a resolution that "ministers may not spend more than one dollar a meal."

The out-of-town ministers found that the attractions of the dining car were altogether too much for the Conference purse.

NEW ORCHESTRA AT THE CAPITAL.

New Corps of Musicians From Galt—Play For the First Time To-Night.

The new orchestra announced in Saturday's paper for the Capitol Theatre will be heard for the first time to-night. The musicians arrived in town after a most successful season in Galt—where they have become so popular that one often hears of people going to the theatre to hear the orchestra just as much as to see the picture. Music is certainly a great addition to any presentation but the success of the excellent Regent Theatre orchestra in Toronto under the leadership of Mr Jack Arthur, is enough to convince people of the importance of the accompaniment and huge sums are expended yearly in the large cities to procure the best musicians available.

Whoever heard of the "Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," and any of the other big pictures with, and then without, the proper incidental music, know just how much it means to the show—and more recently many were thrilled by the score with "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." It is absolutely safe to say that much of the success of this big picture is due to the music—so with "Foolish Wives." It was really delightful—there is no other word for the music played at the Pantages last week during the presentation of this mammoth moving picture, and while the screen unfolded for us a succession of the most brilliant charming glimpses of life ever seen in this country, the accompaniment added to the effect and so well is the theme arranged to suit the action that there is never a discrepancy between picture and music.

Not only will the Capitol patrons enjoy the orchestra, but they will soon be proud of the excellent new organization which has come to Peterborough, lured by the assurances that it will be appreciated and by the reputation that the Capitol Theatre enjoys outside our own city. Mr. McFayden conducts for the first time here to-night.

BETTY COMPSON, SCREEN PERSONALITY

It is no longer necessary to refer to "The Miracle Man," and other past achievements in extolling the dramatic charm of Betty Compson one of the newer Paramount stars. Her first three Paramount pictures "At the End of the World," "The Law and the Woman" and "The Little Minister", have each proven brilliant monuments to her artistry. Coupled with her polished emotional and dramatic ability, is a rare delicacy of personal charm that has won the hearts of all who have witnessed her work on the screen.

Miss Compson is an indefatigable worker, applying herself with untiring energy, and enthusiasm to the portrayal of her roles, ever willing to do whatever is required of her, despite the sacrifice or the effort involved. In her latest picture, "The Green Temptation", she set about the task of learning several intricate Parisian dances required of her in her portrayal of the colorful role of an Apache dancer. These she mastered, under the direction of Theodore Kosloff, the noted Russian ballet artist, who also plays in the picture.

TWO SCENARISTS ADAPT STORY

Two of the most prominent scenario writers of the profession, Monte Katterjohn and Julia Crawford Ivers, collaborated on the adaptation of "The Green Temptation". Mr. Katterjohn wrote the scenarios for "The Great Moment", "The Sheik", and "Moran of the Lady Letty." Julia Crawford Ivers has written numerous photoplay versions.

WILLIAM D. TAYLOR,

The late William D. Taylor, who directed "The Green Temptation", was widely known for his screen achievements Among his successes are "Tom Sawyer", 'Huck and Tom' and "Huckleberry Finn", "The Witching Hour", "Wealth", "Sacred and Profane Love", and others. He directed some of the most famous stars of the screen, including Mary Pickford, Jack Pickford, Ethel Clayton, Elsie Ferguson, May McAvoy and Betty Compson.

"FOOLISH WIVES" AT THE CAPITOL

Money is spoken of with very little respect in the motion picture industry, but there is no doubt about the amount that went into the production of the great Universal superjewel picture, "Foolish Wives." It is a masterpiece, in some respects different from any other play ever shown in America, and the citizens of Peterborough should appreciate the fact that it is a remarkable achievement to bring such a show to this community. The producer, Mr. Carl Laemmle, left no stone unturned, spared no expense, to make his master picture something no one could forget—in order to secure local atmosphere, to imbue his scenes at Monte Carlo with the surroundings which the playgrounds of the rich should have, he asked members of California's smart set to appear in the pictures of the gambling halls and the casino built especially for this show. They were only too glad to do so, because Laemmle has given generously to every local charity in and about Los Angeles.

Some of the most fascinating pictures that have ever been seen are those featuring men and women—the former in splendid uniform or faultless evening clothes, and the women wearing the loveliest gowns that fashion can devise. And they are beautiful women too — the female swindlers, Princesses Vera and Olga Petschnikoff, who assist the Count to put over his counterfeiting scheme, and contribute not a little to the luxury of the settings, are gowned magnificently, and so perfect is their make-up that it is only at the very end that one realizes that they are not genuine aristocrats. They add materially to the gambling scenes—seated at the roulette wheel, stopping the wheel by a slight foot pressure, when it seems advisable to gather in a particularly large pile of golden coin or a fortune in bills; they play poker with the American who apparently is their stupid dupe—but who is not quite so slow as they think. To appreciate these little niceties you must see Foolish Wives at the Capitol Theatre on Thursday, June 22nd.

BIG DOUBLE PROGRAM AT ROYAL TO-NIGHT.

First National High-Class Feature Drama—Vitagraph Comedy Drama—Also a Mack Sennett Comedy.

What isn't being done this season? Corinne Griffith, the beautiful and talented young Vitgraph star will show you at the Royal Theatre to-night, when "It Isn't Being Done This Season" will be shown.

It is an exciting story of adventure in New York and Symrna, the little land in Southern Europe which has eben the plaything of politics for a thousand years, sometimes belonging to Greece, sometimes to Turkey. Through all the strife and turmoil of ten centuries the wonderful rugs of Symrna have held the interest of a large part of the population more strongly than politics. Indeed, struggles to obtain rare and beautiful specimens of Smyrna's most imposing product have affected the political fortunes of the land profoundly. Many murders have been committed in the course of struggles for the possession of rugs.

George Hunt was all American, except in his feeling about rugs. In that respect he might have been a Turkish, Armenian or Greek dealer. He took his beautiful young wife to Smyrna on their honeymoon, and she discovered that he was thinking more about rugs than about her. Hoping to obtain an exclusive agency from Afif Bey, a wealthy and powerful Turk, Hunt concealed his displeasure at the Oriental dignitary's marked and somewhat florid attentions to Marcia. This attitude angered the lovely young wife, and she deliberately set about arousing her husband's jealousy. In this she succeeded beyond her expectations or desires.

"It Isn't Being Done This Season" provides Corinne Griffith with exceptional opportunities to display her dramatic art, her rare charm and her famous wardrobe. It is one of the most popular of the Corinne Griffith productions.

There is no more popular man on the screen than Lewis S. Stone, who portrays the role of Lord Ellingham in J. L. Frothinghan's production of "Pilgrims of the Night," the Associated Producers attraction. With his appearance in "The River's End" he established a new screen type, a type that is distinctly American, a man who can express poignant sorrow without wringing his hands or shedding glycerine tears, or register supreme joy without waving his hat and jumping into the air.

In "Pilgrims of the Night' he is first a man of mystery in Paris—the exiled son of a British lord. Later he is the beloved and respected Lord Ellingham—his title through inheritance—and in both parts of the story his role calls for the superb acting that has intrenched him in the foremost ranks of screen players in less than two years.

His roles call for strong portrayal and he is thoroughly at home picturing powerful characters.

MRS. M. DOBBIN TO MOVE TO PETERBORO

LINDSAY, June 19. — Mrs. M. Dobbin, a valuable member of Queen Street Methodist Church, Lindsay, and especially of the choir, was presented with a handsome cut glass bowl by the members of the choir. Mrs. Dobbin will move shortly to Peterborough.

The presentation was made by Miss Florence Mitchell and a suitable address was read by Mrs. J. Vickery. Mrs. Dobbin is held in the very highest esteem by the members of the choir, and she will be much missed in chorus and solo work.

Mrs. Dobbin will also be greatly missed in church work, as will Mr. Dobbin, who is a member of the Official Board.

LOCAL DELEGATES HAD A GOOD TIME

Peterboro delegates have returned from the Grand Lodge session of the Independent Order of Oddfellows held at Owen Sound on Thursday and Friday. They speak in the highest terms of the reception accorded them in Ontario's junior city. The business sessions were interesting and the Oddfellows' Lodge reported progress in the different phases of its work. The five delegates attending the session were: W. F. Green, P.G., and W. H. Morton, P.G. of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, and W. E. Curry, P. G., Walter Hooper, P. G., and William Petrie, P.G., of Peterborough Lodge, No. 111.

The Rebekah Assembly held earlier in the week was attended by Mrs. Martha Watts, Mrs. Joseph Henderson and Mrs. William Hartley. Mrs. Watts was accorded a distinct honor in being elected president for the province. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. Estabrook, Toronto; Warden, Mrs. Mann Hamilton; Secretary Miss Viola Pearce, Toronto; Treasurer, Mrs. Dobson, St. Thomas.

There were over one thousand Rebekahs and Patriarch Militants in attendance at the convention and the city of Owen Sound entertained them royally. Motor cars were provided to take the delegates to various points of interest and the Council and the Chamber of Commerce were active in arranging entertainments. Although Windsor made a strong fight for the convention next year, it was decided to meet in Toronto on account of the latter's central location. Tom Sharpe of Midland was elected Grand Master and Ernest Anderson of Lindsay, Grand Warden for the ensuing year.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 19. — The week in stock market began with resumption of the recent irregular movement. Notice served on Railroad Labor Board by unions of their intention to call strike invited further short selling. Market letters issued by prominent commission houses advising caution also added to the selling movement. Mexican Petroleum was the conspicuous feature, opening at a gain of 1 1-4 points, reacting one point and then rallying 1 3-8 points. Pan American Petroleum also strengthened, but general list soon yielded to pressure

Trading settled down to nominal proportions during the morning but the drive against shorts in Mexican Petroleum became more active. That Stock, loaning at Premium, extended its early gain to 7 1-2 points Pan American A and B shares rose two to 2 3-4 points and General Asphalt, Standard Oil of California, California Petroleum and Pacific Oil were strong. Gulf States Steel made an extreme rise of 3 1-2 points, but others of that group were heavy with rails shippings and equipments.

The buoyancy of Mexican Petroleum which extended its rise to 10 3-4 points touching 156 1-2 and indications that speculative syndicates and professional operators were again dominating the market, caused a rapid upturn in prices in the early afternoon. Baldwin Locomotive U.S. Steel, Studebaker and the shippings were absorbed confidently as was also a wide assortment of other industrials.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Canadian Press).—Weak demand rates Great Britain 440 1-8. Canadian dollars 7-8 of one per cent.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, June 19.—(Canadian Press). — General selling induced by cooler weather and rains, where needed in the domestic winter crop belt did a good deal to carry wheat prices downward to-day during early dealings. Opening quotations which varied from 3-8 to 1 1-8 below erer, July 1.10 3-4 to 1.11 and Sept 1.12 1-4 to 1.12 1-2 were followed by a material further setback all around. After opening unchanged to 1-2 to 5-8 off, with July 61 3-8 to 61 1-2, the Corn market continued to fall. Oats started 1-4 to 3-8 cents lower, July 33 7-8 to 34, and later underwent an additional sag. Lower quotations on hogs weakened provisions.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET

MONTREAL, June 19.—(Canadian Press). — Very little trading occurred on local stock exchange during the first half hour this morning, but the general trend was upwards Abitibi sold an eighth higher at 51 3-8, while Bell Telephone was up 1-8 at 1.10 3-8. Brazilian was up a quarter at 47 1-4, as was also the second preferred of British Epmire Steel at 30. The Preferred stock of Spanish River registered a loss of half a point to 92.

There were no outstanding features in the trading on the forenoon session. The only development worthy of mentioning was the simultaneous activity and strength in Montreal Water and Power and Shawinigan Water and Power. Substantial blocks of Montreal Power changed at 92 1-2 which is the best price the stock has sold at in the current year Shawinigan, although somewhat below the best price of the year, sold at 106 1-4, a fraction al advance above Saturday's level. No specific reason is known for the advance in these two stocks, but the general industrial improvement in the field covered by both of these companies has created a favorable impression on the street. An increase in the dividend is on the program for Montreal power at the end of this year or the beginning of the next.

There was only scattered transactions in the pulp and paper.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET

TORONTO, June 19.—(Canadian Press)—The local stock market was extremely dull for the opening session of the week. Transactions were light and fluctuations generally were very narrow. Prices mosty held steady. An odd lot sale was responsible for a rise of 1 3-4 in B. E. Steel 2nd preferred. Toronto rails lost 1-2 at 72 and Twin City was a shade lower at 52. Brazilian held, between 47 and 47 1-4, with the close at the latter price. Bank's Bonds and unlisted Stocks were very quiet.

TORONTO CATTLE MARKET

TORONTO, June 19— (Canadian Press).—Cattle market — Receipts 2488 trade slow. Quotations—Heavy beef steers $8.25 to $8.75; butcher steers choice $8.25 to $8.75; butcher cows, medium $4 to $5; calves $9 to $10; lambs $15 to $15.50; hogs selects $14.25.

With or Without Sleeves?

Sleeved or sleeveless?

It's a question every woman must decide for herself after giving the subject the serious consideration it deserves. The difficulty it deserves. The difficulty is that the unprejudiced observer is likely to conclude, as always, that both sides are entirely in the right.

In that case there's nothing to do but to have two summer dresses—one with sleeves and one without. Both are fashionable.

Sleeves are interesting this season and one dislikes to do without them They are made in odd shapes and trimmed with beads or embroidery quie beyond one's wildest imaginings.

On the other hand a cape without sleeves is an essentially romantic garment. It reminds one of Spanish cavalier and dark-eyed villians and all that sort of thing. The choice, of course, is a matter of temperament.

THE ELECTION RESULTS SHOW PARTY FAVORED

Preponderance of Vote in Favor of Candidates Who Support Anglo-Irish Treaty.

SHOT AT CASTLE

DUBLIN, June 20 (Canadian Press). — The outstanding feature of the Parliamentary elections, on the basis of the results thus far known, is the striking preponderance of the vote in favour of those candidates who favour the Anglo-Irish Treaty.

Analysis of the voting made possible by the proportional representation system shows a majority of 7 to 1 in favour of the Treaty in Dublin City, 4 to 1 in Cork City, and 3 to 1 in Dublin University.

The second preference of Labour voters in Cork City were in the proportion of more than 10 to 1 in favour of the Treaty.

Members thus far known to have been elected include 37 Treaty advocates, 21 opposed to the Treaty, 5 Labour candidates, and 1 Independent.

Counting will continue to-day, but the complete results may not be known until to-morrow.

Election in Dublin City resulted in the loss of 4 Republican seats to Independent Treaties.

Results to Date.

Forty-four Coalition Pro-Treaty members and 25 Coalition Republicans have been elected to the Irish Parliament from contested and uncontested constituencies, according to returns so far received.

Returns show that 22,285 electors in the City of Dublin voted for panel and Independent candidates favourable to the Treaty, and 10,920 for Republican panel nominees.

SHOTS HEARD NEAR CASTLE.

DRAGOONS CAMP OPENED TO-DAY

Companies From Millbrook, Orono and Pontypool Will Trek Here.

The 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons went to camp at the Exhibition Grounds this morning and spent the day in preparation for drill and cavalry manoevres. A company from Millbrook, Orono and Pontypool is expected to arrive this afternoon or evening after a day's trek and there will then be about 145 officers and men under canvas. Lt. Col. T. J. Johnston who was commandant last year again has charge of the camp. Permanent officers have arrived from headquarters to take charge of the instruction. Col. Bell of the Royal Military College cadets under him. The camp will be held for nine days and on June 27th general inspection will take place.

To the music of mouth organs and vocal endeavours the firing detachment of the 4th Field Battery bound for Petawawa marched down George street at midnight yesterday and the nocturnal sounds aroused many sound sleepers. For the benefit of the midnight travellers the men put on a concert in the waiting room of the C. P. R. station. "You'd have thought they were going to the war the row they were making. It reminded me of the good old days when the first contingent left Cobourg for Valcartier" said one veteran to-day. The detachment waited for the second train east on which a special coach had been provided for the artillery men from Peterboro, Belleville and other points Thirty six all ranks left with Capt. J. W. Stevenson and Lieuts. P. L. Kenneally and D. A. Cameron in command. They will be away six days.

Proved Futility Of Dictatorship

D'Annunzio Thanks Russian People For This Service to the World.

LONDON, June 20.—The Times to-day quotes an interview given the Milan Corrierre Della Sera by Gabriele d'Annunzio concerning the recent visit to his home of George Tchitcherin, the Russian Soviet Foreign Minister, after the latter's departure from the Genoa conference.

Among the many things Tchitcherin talked about d'Annunzio was most impressed by the fact that he never once used the word "soul" in connection with any act of the Soviet Government. On arriving, the Soviet Minister said: "You show more courage in receiving me than I in visiting you," whereupon d'Annunzio remarked: "I was never afraid of infection, nor have I ever feared to draw to the service of my beautiful cause the most dangerous forces."

Commenting on the Russian situation, the Italian soldier-poet said: "I am highly grateful to the Russian people, who, through an atrocious torture, have liberated the world forever from a puerile illusion and sterile myth, as it is now definitely proved by the largest and most terrible experience ever offered to a human theory that a government born from class dictatorship is powerless to create and intolerable conditions of life."

UNEMPLOYMENT GETTING LESS REPORTS HEAD

W. S. Fisher, President of the Canadian Manufacturers, Sees an Improvement in Business Conditions.

MEETING IN EAST

ST. ANDREW'S BY THE SEA, June 20 (Canadian Press). — "Generally speaking business is steadily, though very slowly, improving, international situations seem to be clarifying, money is easier, surplus stocks have been reduced, basic production is recovering, unemployment is decreasing, prices are stabilising, and the demand is reviving."

W. S. Fisher, St. John, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, addressing the opening session here this morning of the Association's fifty-first annual general meeting thus summarised Canada's position, following what he termed the "trying experience of the last two years.

Work is the panacea for most of our ills, physical or mental, he added.

OTTAWA, June 20. — (Canadian Press).—Definite offers of freight reductions, contingent on the suspension of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement were made by the C.P.R., Canadian National and Grand Trunk Railways this morning to the Special House Committee on Railway Transportation Costs. The suggested reductions apply to certain basic commodities and are identical in each case.

DOMINION LOAN.

Hon. W. S. Fielding Suggests $350,000,000 Necessary to Meet the Requirements.

OTTAWA, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, intends to ask Parliament for authority to raise a loan of $350,000,000.

The loan is intended to pay all maturing loans and obligations, inclusive, it is understood, of the $182,000,000 of [illegible] Loan issued in 1917, and falling due in December.

It is probable that the new loan will, in part, be raised in Canada.

Furnishing Medical Service For Radio

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN.,

NEW YORK, June 20. — Badly hurt a thousand miles at sea on a ship without a physician on board, a sailor was saved from death by expert medical advice comng from land in less than 13 minutes.

Radio did it.

And Captain Robert Huntington o the Seaman's Church Institute recorded another success for sis experiment started two years ago.

"Less than 25 per cent. of the vessels sailing the seven seas," says the old captain, "have a doctor on board. But more than 80 per cent. of them are equipped with radio. They can ask for and receive medical advice if they are instructed how and where to apply for it."

So the catpain started to teach them.

Trained Operators.

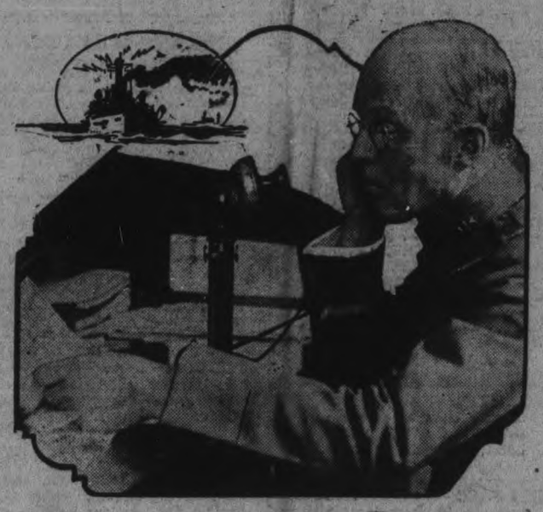
He began by giving the young officers whom he trained at the institute instruction in first aid. Then he taught them how to receive the advice by radio.

Some of them soon went to sea. When they needed a pointer or two, they flashed KDKF—Captain Huntington's call.

The movement grew. It became too much for the captain to handle alone. He called in the assistance of the United States Public Health Service. More stations were established. The radio transmission was taken over by the Radio Corporation of America furnishing its 24-hour service free.

Relay System.

A flash comes from a ship at sea.



DR. EZRA K. SPRAGUE, OF T[illegible] MARINE HOSPITAL, NEW YORK, GIVING MEDICAL ADVICE TO A SHIP AT SEA BY RADIO.

A few minutes later it is flashed back to the ship.

When operations are necessary arrangements are made for the transfer of the patient to a ship with the proper facilities. Last June a passenger suffering from appendicitis was taken from the steamship Indiana and operated on in the hospital ward of the packet Orbita.

Ptomaine poisoning, pneumonia, water on the knee, blood poisoning and accident cases are among those that have been treated successfully by radio.

DISPUTE OVER GARAGE DEAL

A. T. Fontaine Claims $1915 From G. F. Evans and Latter Counterclaims For $767.

Alleging a breach of covenant against George F. Evans in opening his new garage at the corner of Smith and George Streets, Alphonse T. Fontaine brought an action in the County Court this morning, before Judge Huycke, claiming $1,000 and other sums amounting to $915. The agreement was signed on August 31st, 1921, when Fontaine bought the Service Garage at 186 Charlotte Street from Evans, and stipulated that Evans should not enter into the automobile business as proprietor for a year or forfeit $1,000. Other items in the plaintiff's claim were $470 for misrepresentation, $300 for damages to goodwill, $50 loan and another sum of $95, making a toal of $1,915.

Fontaine offered to buy the Service Garage for $2,000. He paid $1,200, and gave a chattel mortgage for $800.

Evans counter-claimed for $857, minus $90, for automobile hire, leaving $767. The largest item in this claim was the $800 mortgage, interest of $34, a $5 loan and $18 in wages.

Mr. S. T. Medd appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. J. F. Strickland for defendant. An interesting interruption occurred this morning while Mr. Strickland was cross-examining Fontaine. He was called from the court-room to answer a telephone message, and, returning a few minutes later, ascended the Judge's dias. In their brief conversation Judge Huycke shook hands with Mr. Strickland, smiling and extending audible congratulations. It was learned that the young lawyer had been notified that he was the father of a fine baby girl. Judge Huycke retired from the bench for about ten minutes, thoughtfully affording Mr. Strickland an interlude to orientate to his new estate and responsibility.

Fontaine alleged that his business was damaged by Evans opening his garage at the corner of Smith and George Streets. Plaintiff testified that Evans remained in his employ until November 15th. He had heard in September that he was going to start up again for himself, but regarded it simply as gossip.

Plaintiff said he had paid none of [illegible] mortgage, but had offered to make a payment last December.

"The first time I mentioned it to George he was called away during our conversation," Fontaine testified in his examination by Mr. Medd.

"The next time I said that we'd go up to Mr. Medd's office and I'd pay it. George said, 'You can pay me right here. The money is coming to me.' Nothing more was said about it then, and we didn't discuss it again."

Plaintiff denied that he had said to several persons — Andrew Ross, Arthur Blade and Fred. Collins — that he didn't care whether Evans started up again or not.

"About the end of December Archie Barbeau came in to the garage and said he heard 'Banty' was going to open up for himself. I went

BOARD OF HEALTH FRIENDLY, BUT FIRM ON PURE MILK QUESTION

Told Large Assembly of the Milk Producers and Vendors the Standard of Purity Must Be Maintained, Otherwise Their Licenses Will Be Cancelled—Playing No Favorites Among Milkmen Was Emphatic Declaration of the Members.

MUST PROTECT THE PUBLIC.

The Board of Health justified itself to a large gathering of milk producers and vendors at a conference in the Council Chamber last night. It was called at the suggestion of Mr. E. F. Mason, who had proposed that, instead of summarily cancelling the licenses of vendors whose milk was shown by the June tests to have excessively high counts of bacteria, the men engaged in the business in this district be invited to an informal discussion of the problem of providing the people of Peterborough with a pure supply of milk.

Mr. G. H. Duncan, Chairman of the board, presided, and all the members were present—Messrs. E. F. Mason, Jas. Lynch, Mayor Taylor, Dr. T. W. H. Young, Medical Officer of Health; Mr. Chas. Stapleton, Sanitary Inspector, and Dr. A. Y. McNair, who is in charge of the local labratory established by the Provincial Government. The gallery was crowded with milk producers, farmers from the neighboring townships and vendors, including those men who have milk delivery routes and grocers who sell it in bottles over the counter.

The board re-affirmed its declaration to demand a pure supply of milk for the consumers in Peterborough.

"The health of a city is a big asset," said Mr. Duncan. "If a city gets a name for being healthy, it will grow; if it gets the other name, it will go back."

Board is Sympathetic.

The members of the board set a keynote of good-will and friendliness without any lessening of the firmness expressed at the regular meeting for June, when Dr. McNair's report of the tests evoked warnings that licenses would be withdrawn if the vendors at fault did not show an immediate improvements in the quality of their product. It was also reiterated with particular emphasis that the board made no distinction between persons, that it played no favorites among the vendors, but was influenced solely by the official report from Nr. McNair.

Mr. Mason's Statement.

"The Board of Health is not to be trifled with," asserted Mr. Mason. "It is a very serious matter. We assume a certain responsibility, and we are quite able to carry it out without any influence from any one milkman whatsoever."

Some people desired to get raw milk, he continued, and there was no reason why anything should be

To Write Millions Off Value Fleet

OTTAWA, June 20.—(Canadian Press.) —If recommendations of directors of Canadian merchant marine are put into effect, a sweeping writing down will be effected in the capital cost of vessels. The fleet now consists of 64 vessels, built at an average cost per dead weight ton of $191.00, or a total cost of approximately $73,000,000. Directors recommend that this capital cost be reduced to what might be considered present replacement value, and estimate value at $75.00 per ton. Such valuation would reduce the capital cost to about $28,000,000, a writing down of no less than $45,000,000.

FINAL MEETING OF THE SEASON

The last meeting for this season of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Peter's Cathedral was held on Sunday afternoon. Reports by the treasurer, Miss Kathleen Clancy, and the secretary, Miss Norah Shevlin, were read, showing splendid financial results and giving a concise resume of the work of the past six months.

The president, Miss May C. Kelly, on behalf of the Directress, Sister Ethelreda, and the officers and executive of the society, thanked the girls for their generous help in all the work undertaken, and more especially for the spirit of fellowship and general good will which exists among the members.

Regular work and meetings will be resumed in September.

DEATH OF AN YSER HERO.

Cogghe Saved French Division by Flooding as Germans Advanced.

FURNES, Belgium, June 20. — Charles Cogghe, the heroic sluicekeeper of the Yser, is dead.

When Rear-Admiral Ronarch's French naval division, overwhelmed by numbers, was forced back of the Yser, Cogghe, under heavy shell fire, opened the sluices at Nieuport, flooding the plain and barring the Calais road to the Germans.

He was decorated with the French and Belgian War Crosses, and only a few days ago King Albert, when he came to dedicate the Dixmude monument, asked to shake hands with "the glorious sluiceman," as Cogghe was called in Flanders.

KIWANIS CLUB HEAR ADDRESS ON CIVIL LAW

Magistrate O. A. Langley Was the Speaker at Today's Luncheon—A Ball Game.

KIWANIS NEWS

Presumably on account of the increased activity of police officers in enforcement of the speed laws, there have been 50 more cases in police court to date this year than in the same period of 1921, Magistrate O. A. Langley told the Kiwanis Club in the course of his address to-day. Chief Constable S. Newhall was to have been on the programme, but found it impossible to attend. The Magistrate said he would not venture to discuss the chief topic, "The Opium and Narcotic Drug Act," for since he has been in office there have been but two cases, and in 25 years practice he did not recall a single case under the Act.

From looking over the reports the Magistrate said he found there had been more fines taken in this year also. Discussing civil law, he pointed out how the law was built up on precedent, and he read an amusing piece of poetry written by clever law students regarding a case of contract. He was given an ovation by the club, and Kiwanian Wearing, in speaking on the vote of thanks, referred in highest terms to Magistrate Langley's conscientious fulfilment of his duties.

Considerable difference of opinion was evident regarding the manner of presenting the dining hall at Jackson Park to the Health Association. At first a formal presentation at the luncheon next Tuesday was favored, but Jack McNab and Dr. J. E. Middleton, supported by a majority, were for a more auspicious presentation at Jackson Park, and Friday evening at 7 o'clock was named as the hour. The Mayor and Council will be invited to attend. Walter Stocker reminded the Kiwanians that they have to get busy and give the building its last coat of paint. He volunteered to do the south side.

Dr. John Craig announced that the Kiwanis-Rotary ball game was at 4.45 p.m. to-day, and he announced Nagel Phelan and Russell Widdifield as the batteries. There was plenty of optimism regarding the outcome, and the programme was short to-day to allow the members to get through their business so as not to miss the big event.

Rotarian Jim Kelso, of Rochester, an old Peterborough boy, who left here 42 years ago for that city, spoke briefly. "The Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs are all doing a mighty good work wherever you go," he said. "If they had had these clubs 20 or 30 years ago how much different good old Peterborough would have been!" In Rochester Peterborough is looked upon as a good live town because so many Rochester people come over here to the lakes, he said. He outlined the work of the Rochester Rotary Club in caring for crippled children, and stated that they have furnished a large home, where the 65 youngsters will spend the summer near the lake.

To-day's booster, E. S. Martin, was unavoidably absent, but Russell Widdifield, to his credit, did not take advantage of that in telling what he knew about Kiwanian Martin. Prizes were won by J. Wearing, J. W. Worth and Russell Widdifield. The soloist of the day was Mr. John Smith, who was heard in several enjoyable numbers. The attendance was large, and there as guests, besides the speakers, were R. H. McCartin, Peterborough, and Charles Boyd, Toronto.

Paid $75 Fines In Police Court

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, both in the country and city on Saturday, June 10th, John Huffman, of Port Hope, who has been out on bail of one thousand dollars, paid into court this morning a total of $75 in fines and costs. Magistrate Langley fined accused $30 for his negligent driving in the corporation and let him down with $20 for the offence on the Gravel road. Costs totalled $25. Huffman drove so fast that Constable T. Y. Stratton was unable to overtake him. He secured his number, however, and was arrested at the corner of George and Charlotte by policemen as he hit the main street. The others in the party were fined for being intoxicated and a charge of being drunk was laid against Huffman. It was withdrawn this morning, however, in the consciousness of the Crown that the heavy assessment would have a deterrent effect on accused's future handling of a car.

ATTENDANCE AT BATHING BEACHES

Return of Warmer Weather Results in Larger Patronage.

The return of warm weather has brought about better attendance at the Inverlea bathing beach, Caretaker James Gates said to-day. The first week the beach was open the attendance was large but the cold spell last week kept the crowds out of the water. Mr. Gates said the beach had been considerably improved this year by putting in 54 loads of sand and there is a prospect of more lockers for the men's dressing room. The raft has not yet been taken out into the stream on account of work on the spring-board, but the caretaker hopes to get it ready for the patrons within a few days.

Caretaker Gates testified to the hardihood of the younger patrons of the beach and declared that last week on the chilliest days there were youngsters hopped in every afternoon. According to Caretaker Gates the Public school boys are wearing bathing suits underneath their outer habits and so are ready to effect a change that would make a vaudeville artist green-eyed. The short time the young ladies spend in the dressing room has led him to suspect that some such time-saving practice is also common among the girls.

Fishing in the river near Inverlea is poor, according to Mr. Gates and he has only succeeded in getting one fry. No lunge have been caught, and attempts to woo the bass with crawfish and worms have ended in a miserable failure. The cold weather accounted for the adversity of the fish to play with the cook, in the caretaker's opinion.

BIGGEST MAN NOW WEIGHS 661 POUNDS

Texan Said to be Heaviest in the World.

FARMERSVILLE, Tex., June 20. —When Sam. Harris was town marshal of Farmersville 14 years ago the proud boast was made by local citizens that he was the heaviest peace officer in the United States. At that time he weighed just 400 pounds. He was 35 years old when he resigned from the position of town marshal, which he had held for four years. No sooner had he vacated the office than he began taking on weight, and to-day he is said to be the heaviest man in the world. He weighs 661 pounds.

When Harris found that he was gaining an uncomfortable amount of fat he moved to his farm near here, where he put in many hours a day of hard work in the hope that it would reduce his weight. Instead of having this effect it seemed to cause him to add to his avoidupois. He finally had to quite farming and moved back to town. He is a familiar figure upon the streets. He lives in a comfortable home with his wife and seven children.

All of the children are of normal size and weight. Naturally, unusual provisions have to be made for Harris. The chair which he sits in at home is of giant size. The bed that he occupies at night also is made of a size and strength to accommodate his enormous body. One of the inconveniences that Harris meets with in moving about town and visiting neighbors is that there are very few doors big enough for him to enter, and in only a few cases have extra size chairs been provided for him to sit in.

Harris is 6 feet 2½ inches tall, measures 58 inches around the waist, 48 inches around the thigh, and 24 inches around the calf of the leg.

EMPLOYEES ON THE RAILROAD IN AGREEMENT

Overtime Question Formed the Main Feature of the Conference Affecting G.T.R. Workers.

HAVE SIGNED UP

MONTREAL, June 20 (Special.) —Railway employees outside the running trades and shop mechanics employed on Grand Trunk lines lost some ground in the overtime question which formed main feature of the conference which terminated in a signed agreement yesterday afternoon. The negotiations were for a revision of rules and working conditions, and at the meeting the company, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad employees and the International Botherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks were represented. About 7000 men were involved while the companies proposal of straight time for overtime did not go through the men gave way on certain points. It was decided that overtime will be paid for pro rata for the 9th and 10th hour, that is for the first two hours after the regular eight hour day, for the following classes: Shop, roundhouse classified and unclassified, laborers scrap yard employees, stationary engineers, and firemen and other boiler room and power house employees and time and a half for all hours thereafter. All other classes will be paid at pro rata for the 9th hour and and a half thereafter.

In regard to payment for holidays, it was agreed that monthly rated employees should be paid double time if they work the seven legal holidays. If not working on these holidays they will receive the ordinary rate.

Hourly rated employees will receive straight time for holidays, and work performed on Sunday will be paid at straight time rate for all employees.

Two weeks vacation with pay will be paid after one year's service for all clerical workers, depot masters, baggage masters, depot gatemen, ticket examiners, supervisors of the crews, and crew dispatchers, car checkers, train checkers, car markers, baggage checkers and various grades of station employees.

Promotion and seniority of employees will be confined to individual stations and positions will no longer be bulletined over an entire division. Clerks desiring to obtain promotion outside their own office may file a request with the proper official of the department to which they wish to transfer. They will then be notified of vacancies and if they possess the necessary qualifications will be given the positions if they are the senior applicants. This proviso was inserted for the benefit of men in the small offices.

The agreement also provides that employees in passenger service whose duties are of an intermittent character may have their work spread over a period of 12 hours instead of ten. No overtime will be paid during that 12 hour period unless the actual working hours exceed the usual eight hours.

DISCUSSION OF IRELAND.

Colonial Secretary asks that he be Allowed to Postpone Statement.

LONDON June 20. (Canadian Press.) — Winston Churchill, Colonial Secretary, told the House of Commons that he thought the present time was inopportune for a discussion of Ireland and asked the House to allow him to reserve any statements he would have made to the Commons on Thursday until some later time.

ATTEND EXAMINATIONS.

Between fifteen and twenty men from Peterborough, Lindsay, Port Hope and Coboconk attended the examinations for stationary and hoisting engineers which were held at the Collegiate Institute here yesterday, conducted by Mr. George W. Porter, mechanical engineer, of Toronto.

RECIPES

CHICKEN is a light meat, suitable for warm weather. It is nutricious and easily digested. From March to September young chickens are best and cheapest.

A spring chickrn is determined by the smoothness of its legs and feet, the softness of the cartilage at the end of the breast-bone and the smoothness and thinness of the skin and the many pin feathers.

"Broilers" are young chickens usually weighing about one and one-half pounds.

Broiled Chicken

Have chickens dressed and split by the butcher. Reserve the liver, gizzard and heart for giblet sauce.

Wash chicken through several waters and let stand one hour in cold salted water. Drain and wipe with a clean towel. Dip in melted butter, being sure that every spot is well oiled. Put in a dripping pan and bake 45 minutes in a hot oven. The oven must be very hot when the chicken is put in. If it browns too fast, reduce the heat for the last 20 minutes of baking. The chicken should be put in the pan with the flesh side up. The pan should be well oiled, but no water should be put in the bottom.

Fried Chicken

Clean and draw chicken and cut in pieces for serving. A "spring" chicken should be cut into 10 pieces: two thighs or second joints, two "drumsticks," two pieces of breast, two wings, the neck and the back.

The neck and back may be fried, but there is very little meat on them. Cover these pieces with cold water and let simmer slowly until the gravy is made. Then strain stock and use in gravy. The liver and gizzard should be fried. Wash pieces and trim off ragged edges of skin. Let stand an hour in cold salted water to more than cover. Drain.

Mix one cup flour with two teaspoons salt, one half teaspoon pepper. Dip each piece of chicken in flour mixture, being sure that each piece is well covered. Melt two tablespoons butter and two tablespoons lard in an iron frying pan. Let this become very hot. Put in chicken and brown to a golden brown quickly, first on one side and then on the other. Reduce heat, cover pan tightly and cook slowly for an hour.

Watch closely and turn often to prevent burning. If the cover does not fit tightly enough to conserve the steam add one-quarter cup boiling water as necessary. If the chicken is a bit fat, as spring chickens often are, more butter and lard need not be added during the frying. Otherwise add one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon lard, when chicken is half done. Remove chicken to a hot platter and keep hot while making the gravy.

There should be two tablespoons fat in the frying pan. Sift in two tablespoons flour. Stir until flour browns. Add one cup chicken stock slowly, stirring constantly. Add one cup rich milk, stirring constantly. Let boil three minutes and serve in a gravy boat with the chicken.

Smothered Chicken

Prepare chicken as for frying. Roll in flour and brown quickly in butter. Place in a dripping pan, sprinkle with one teaspoon minced onion. Pour over hot milk to cover and bake an hour in a moderate oven. At the end of the first half hour cover with rings of green pepper, dot with butter and add more milk if necessary. When ready to serve the milk should be absorbed by the chicken.

PRICE THREE CENTS — PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, JUNE 20, 1922 — PRICE THREE CENTS

NEWSPAPERMEN WITNESSES FOR DELORME TRIAL

Ex-Priest Thought He Was a 'Good-Looking Fellow,' Wanted Picture in Paper.

FELT LIKE HERO.

MONTREAL, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)— Hearing in the case against Adelard Delorme, charged with the murder of his half-brother Raoul, on Januaay 6, last, was continued yesterday in the Court of King's Bench. Witnesses examined and cross-examined, included Dr. J. A. Handfield, an immediate neighbor of Delorme, whose testimony was continued from the Friday hearing; and two newspapermen, Fernand Roby, of La Patrie, and Narcisse Arcand, of La Presse.

The newspapermen gave the gist of interviews they had had with Delorme. According to testimony it appeared that the ex-priest had regarded himself as resembling the hero in a picture play. Arcand told of a call he had made on Delorme on the morning of his arrest when he had informed him that a despatch had come through from Quebec predicting his arrest. The ex-priest had said, making a gesture as though he were waving a revolver, "let them try to get Bibi. I had a gun in the car and they have taken it, but I still have another here in the house."

The witness continued that Delorme could never make himself believe that he would be arrested. "He would always says: 'Bibi has his cassock! Bibi has his cassock! They won't touch me!'"

Arcand also stated that when interviewing Delorme on one occasion, the ex-priest locked the door of the room they were in and asked him if he, Delorme, had the look of an insane person. Arcand said that he did not dare to say what he thought.

Delorme, on another occasion had asked Roby to put his portrait in La Patrie, observing: "Put it big. I am a good-looking fellow." Roby had replied: "Yes, Monsieur l'abbe, you are a handsome man."

The Court at this point roared with laughter, while Delorme, obviously embarrassed, tilted his chair and hid his face in his hands.

The Court adjourned until this morning, when Arcand will be cross-examined.

MEXICO JOINING IN THE CELEBRATIONS.

A Spirit of Harmony Between Two Nations Shown.

MEXICO CITY, June 20.— (Associated Press.)—Much is being made here of Mexico's participation in the centennial celebration of Brazil's independence next fall.

A committee headed by Jose Vacoucelos, Minister of Education, will leave in August on the Mexican gunboat "Coahuila" for Rio de Janeiro. Work has already been started on the Mexican exhibit, which is to be extensive. The police band, the best in the republic, will attend and selected units from the military and naval academies will spend a month in the Brazilian capital.

DECORATED STREETS WITHOUT A PERMIT.

ST. CATHARINES, June 20 (Canadian Press). — W. A. Scroggie, local manager of the Chautauqua, which opens here to-morrow, was summoned to the Police Court today charged with decorating the streets without permission.

Magistrate Campbell ordered the signs and streamers taken down, and the case was adjourned until tomorrow.

GERMANS RECOVER THE CHILEAN TRADE

Endeavoring to Gain Back Former Supremacy.

LONDON, June 20.—(Associated Press)—The rapid recovery of German trade with Chile since the war is emphasized in a report of the Department of Overseas Trade.

Chile like many other countres, the report says, owes to British enterprise and capital its position as a factor in the world's markets today.

The first British firm was established there three quarters of a century ago and was followed shortly by many others. The Germans were not long in taking up second position in the field, followed in very recent years by the United States. Some years before the war Germany became a strong competitor of Great Britain and the United States steadily gained ground. From the outbreak of the war, however, everything went in favor of the United States and from 1915 to 1919 they secured all Germany's lost trade, plus about 10 percent of the British.

"There is every indication" concludes the report, "that the British manufacturer has now much more to fear from German competition than from American. German imports to Chile increased from only 5,000 pounds m 1919 to 1,580,00 pound in 1920 and a very marked progress will probably be noticeable in German trade with Chile when figures are available for the present year."

LORD NORTHCLIFFE IS BACK IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)— Lord Northcliffe returned to England from Switzerland yesterday. He authorized a statement to be issued to the effect that he had been advised to undergo a course of treatment on account of heart weakness, accentuated by an attack of ptomaine poisoning.

The return of Lord Northcliffe comes at a time when great interest has been aroused over the libel suits brought against him by Sir Andrew Caird and Walter G. Fish, his associates on the Associated Newspapers, Limited.

YOUNG GIRL SHOT BY IRISH RAIDERS.

BELFAST, June 20.— (Canadian Press.) — A twelve year old girl, Margaret Livingstone, was shot dead Sunday in her father's house at Ardloughter, County Cavan, by armed men. The raiders asked for the child's father, James Livingstone, local postmaster, demanding arms. Dissatisfied because he gave them only a shotgun and a revolver, they lined up in front of the house and fired a volley through the windows.

CHINESE FACTIONS MAY BE RE-UNITED.

PEKING, June 20. — (Canadian Press.)— Two significant developments yesterday pointed to a re-united China in the near future. One was found in official advices from Canton that Sun Yet Sen's downfall was complete. The other came in a telegram from the three provinces of Manchuria, where Chang Tao-Lin has attempted to establish a separate empire that the three provinces were ready to join the united China movement.

BROTHER-IN-LAW OF AMBASSADOR SAYS NOT GUILTY

Was Indicted on Charge of Attempting to Smuggle Arms Into Ireland.

A YEAR AGO.

TRENTON, N.J., June 20.—(Canadian Press.)—A Federal indictment yesterday was made public, charging Lieut. Col. Marcellus H. Thompson, son-in-law of George Harvey, Ambassador to the Court of St. James, with conspiring to violate the neutrality laws by attempting to ship arms to Sinn Feiners aboard the freighter East Side, in whose bunkers were found 495 machine guns when she was seized at Hoboken a year ago.

With Colonel Thompson were indicted the Auto Ordnance Company of which he is president, and seven other individuals alleged purchasing agents, salesmen and truckmen. Colonel Thompson, who served with distinction in tre American Expeditionary Force, and two other defendants, pleaded not guilty in Newark yesterday afternoon and were released in $2,500 bail each.

LONDON, June 20.— (Canadian Press.) — Colonel Harvey, United States' Ambassador, stated fo-day through his secretary that he had nothing to say in regard to despatches to the London papers announcing that Colonel Marcellus W. Thompson, a son-in-law of the Ambassador, had been indicted at Trenton, N.J., on the charge of conspiracy to ship arms to Ireland.

BELFAST, June 20.—(Canadian Press.)—The Thompson gun played a big part in the Clones Station fight last February, when four special constables were killed. At the inquest a constable who had received six bullet wounds, said he met a man with a Thompson gun, who wounded him in the left arm and abdomen.

When the attention of a high Ulster special constabulary official was drawn to the report from New York of the indictment of Colonel Thompson, he declared that Thompson guns had not been employed by the Ulster Constabulary, but that they had been used against the constabulary on several occasions. He added that at Cranagh the constabulary had captured a magazine. It had been reported, the official said, that Thompson guns had been employed in the Belfast riot zone, but the fact had not been clearly established.

DUBLIN, June 20. — (Canadian Press.)— The matter of the indictments handed down at Trenton in connection with a conspiracy to ship arms to Ireland, was brought to the attention of Richard Mulcahy, Minister of Defence in the Dail Cabinet last evening, but he declined to make a statement.

PAT ON SHOULDER IS NO CAUSE FOR ACTION

Jury Finds for Man in Woman's $15,000 Suit.

PONTIAC, Mich., June 20.—Mrs. Emily Bowhall, of Pontiac, failed in Circuit Court here Friday to convince a jury that a pat on the shoulder by a married man is grounds for action. The jury returned a verdict of no cause for action in her $15,000 damage suit against George E. Sherman a Keego Harbor farmer.

Mrs. Bowhall testified that Sherman came to her home when her husband was away, squeezed her hand, patted her on the shoulder and asked for a "date." She said this caused her great worry and suffering. Sherman took the stand to deny this, declaring that he went to Mrs. Bowhall's home only to see her husband on business and never patted her on the shoulder.

Mrs. Bowhall is 35 years old. Her husband is a Pontiac mechanic. Sherman is 65 years old.

FRANCE WILL CO-OPERATE WITH OTHER POWERS TO SOLVE RUSSIAN PROBLEM

Makes Reservations and Reserves Right to Withdraw at Any Moment.

SUB-COMMISSIONS.

THE HAGUE, June 20. (Canadian Press.) — France's decision to co-operate with the other European powers in the forthcoming negotiations with the Russian Soviet, had a buoyant influence in the Conference here yesterday. Arrangements for the meeing with the Bolsheviki were advanced by the formation of three sub-commissions. In accordance with the Genoa agreement the names of the countries represented on the varoius sub-commissoins will be communicated to Moscow to-day.

France's adherence, it was officially announced yesterday, by M. Benoist, is not without reservation, however. The French Minister read a letter saying that he had been instructed by his government to make known that France would be represented at the meeting on June 26th, with the Russians, and then added:

"In authorizing me to make this notification, the French Government desires to recall that this meeting is merely a reunion of experts ad referendum; that all political questions will be eliminated from the negotiations, and that France retains her liberty to withdraw her experts at any moment if the attitude of the Soviet Government representatives appears to render it necessary.

Supporting his minister, M. Alphana, specialist on private property, held by the French in Russia insisted on the wisdom of keeping in mind that all decisions must be referred to the home governments. This conference, he said, should start afresh, and should in no way be affected by previous expressions of opinon, as, for instance, those of Genoa. He was glad to affirm that France was ready to cooperate in the most complete and frank manner on all practical problems in order to reach some agreement with Russia. All the inviting powers and Holland have a place on each sub-commission, except that on credtts, Holland having declined membership on that commission thus leaving a place for one additional state. This with the understandng that Dutch interests would be amply protected in case they arose during the forthcoming discussions.

President Vankarnebeek announced that all the countries represented at The Hague with the exception of Albania, had decided to have delegates on the Central Non-Russian Commission, each country being represented by not more than two persons. We recommend that the Central commission should meet to consider "certain directing principles" before the arrival of the Russians. It would in his opinion be useful also if the president of the Central Commission and the Presidents of the three sub-commissions should form a kind of Central committee to insure unity of work and progress. This suggestion was adopted.

After declaring that France's definite adhesion was a happy augury, Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame, of the British delegation, warmly congratulated Jonkheer Vankarnebeck on "his inspiring leadership." He realized that the Dutch Foreign Minister's politcal position at home made it difficult for him to accept the permanent presidency, because the decisions of the conference must be considered by him later as a minister of the Dutch Cabinet. He hoped, however, that the Minister would accept the honorary presidency.

The delegates held informal meetings yesterday in order to reach an agreement on the appointment of a president of the main commission, and chairman of the sub-commissions, in the hope that their election on Wednesday morning to which day the conference was adjourned, should cause no friction, and be made, if possible, by acclamation.

Sir Phillip Lloyd-Greame is mentioned as the chairman of the sub-commission on credits, and a French delegate as chairman of the sub-commission on debts. The name of the proposed French delegate was not mentioned because the French delegation is not yet complete. In fact, Count Massagli, the secretary of the French delegation, left last night for Paris to meet Premier Poincare returning from London, so as to be able to communicate to the delegates here the instructions of the French Premier.

It has been decided to await the outcome of Count Massagli's conversation with Premier Poincare before telegraphing to the Soviet at Moscow announcing the formation of the commission entrusted with the study and discussion of Russian affairs.

Professor Giannini, the second Italian delegate, left last night for London to meet Foreign Minister Schanzer, who is expected there on June 24, to continue the discussion of the Anglo-Italian economic agreement.

The negotiations relative to this agreement, initiated at Genoa, between Premier Lloyd George and Signor Schanzer, were continued after the departure of the British Prime Minister by M. J. Gregory, Counsellor of the British Foreign Office, and Professor Giannini. The agreement covers Italian interests in Asia Minor and Anglo-Italian interests in Asia Minor and Anglo-Italian interests in Egypt and Tripoli, and also Erythrea, the Sudan and Italian and British Somaliland. Both Italy and Great Britain are anxious that this accord should not be interpreted as anti-French; they emphasize that it is fundamentally economic in nature.

GERMAN PRICES ARE HITTING THE TRADE.

Stores Complain of Falling Off in Trade Since Rise.

BERLIN, June 20.—(Associated Press)—Prices on general merchandise in Germany have risen to such an extent that the foreigner no longer flocks into the country to do his buying.

Shortly after the war prices were low, so low that the stores of Berlin were doing an enormous business with men and women from countries close to Germany, not to mention England and the United States, who found great advantage in buying here. To-day Berlin prices are on a parity with the outside markets, according to an investigation made by a local paper, and the man on a business or pleasure trip to Germany now prefers to spend his spare money on amusements.

The best German suitings and the best German underwear are as dear as in England, and British and Swedish enamel goods are cheaper than German. Hence purchasing by outsiders during the past six weeks has been virtually eliminated.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS AMENDMENTS ARE APPROVED IN HOUSE

One Amendment Reduces Yearly Cost to Canada By $50,000.

OTTAWA, June 20. —(Canadian Press.)—Approval was given by the House of Commons yesterday to proposed amendments of the covenant of the League of Nations adopted at the last meeting of the Assembly of the League.

One of the amendments proposes that the assembly shall fix the rules for the selection of the four members to act on the council with the representatives of the four great powers.

An amendment to Article Six, said the Prime Minister, was of particular interest to Canada because it provided for a new allocation of the expenses of the Secretariat for the first two years. Under the new allocation she would contribute $150,000. It was hoped that this amount would be further reduced at the next meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations.

An amendment to Article 12, merely provided that Nations should be required to submit their differences to "Judicial settlements" in addition to the other means of adjustment sentenced in the covenant before resorting to war. his amendment resulted from the formation of a permanent court of international justice.

TORONTO MAN WAS KILLED IN THE SOUTH

CHARLOTTE, N.C., June 20. — (Canadian Press.)—Investigation of the killing Saturday of Erwin Little, of Toronto, Canada, was begun yesterday by a coroner's jury.

L. B. King, of Mackleburg County, is held in jail accused of the killing. King is alleged to have slain Little when he found him with a party cutting trees in a forest eight miles from here. The Canadian's body was sent to Toronto yesterday.

ANNUAL DANCE OF CADET OFFICERS DECIDED SUCCESS

Distinguished Guests From All Parts Attend Social Gathering at R.M.C.

THE DEBUTANTES.

KINGSTON, June 20 (Canadian Press). — The Royal Military College scored another social success with its June ball, which was held last night. Guests to the number of about a thousand were present from all parts of the country, and included many distinguished people.

They were welcomed by Sir Archibald McDonnell, the Commandant, and Lady MacDonnell, who was gowned in mauve brocade, with silver lace.

Sir Arthur Currie Hall and the gymnasium were given over to the dancers, and were scenes of great brilliance.

The decorations were profuse, and were as unique as they were artistic.

The debutantes included the following Kingston girls: Miss Caroline Mitchell, Miss Gwendolyn Dawson, Miss Lois Taylor, Miss Nevada Best, Miss Jessie Torrance, Miss Anella Minness, Miss Frances Murray, Miss Jessie Mair, and Miss Vivian White.

HAT BOXES

Hat boxes are now as much of a womans' travelling paraphernalia as her hand bag. These come round or square and will accommodate a number of hats. They are silk lined and arranged with pockets for carrying veils and small objects.

Niagara Bridge Bill Passed in U.S. House.

WASHINGTON, June 20 (Canadian Pres). — The House yesterday passed a Bill already passed by the Senate, which would authorise the Niagara River Bridge Company to construct its present bridge across the Niagara River or to construct a bridge on a new site to be approved by the Secretary of War.

ENGLISH CATTLE AGAIN INFECTED

Another Serious Outbreak of the Foot-and-Mouth Disease is Reported.

LONDON, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Foot-and-mouth disease again has broken out in England. In the Derbyshire area more than 100 animals have been certified as affected by the disease. Slaughtering has begun with a view to preventing the spread of the infection.

A new outbreak of the disease among pigs is reported from Birmingham.

Last March, when it was thought the disease had been stamped out, the Ministry of Agriculture estimat- £1,000,000 in overcoming it.

WESTERN PIONEER DIES IN VICTORIA.

VICTORIA, B.C., June 20 (Canadian Press). — George Richardson, who came to this city from England on the ship Norman Morrison, which brought out the first party of settlers from the Old Country via Cape Horn in 1850, is dead at his home here. He was 96 years of age, and is survived by four daughters and one son.

PRO-TREATY MEN ARE ELECTED AT THE IRISH POLLS

Prominent Anti-Treaty Candidates Do Not Meet With Any Great Success.

MRS. CLARK LOSES.

DUBLIN, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Noteworthy defeats as at present estimated include Mrs. Tom Clark, whose husband was executed during Easter week, 1916, who was at the bottom of the poll in Mid-Dublin; Alderman Murphy, Republican Dail member, South Dublin, and Joseph McGrath, Minister of Labour in the Provisional Government, North-West Dublin.

Notable successes on the first count are Lord Mayor O'Neill and Alderman Byrne, Daniel McCarthy, Chief Election Agent for the Treatyites; Richard Mulcahy, Minister of Defence; and Philip Cosgrove, Pro-Treaty member of the Dail, and brother of the Local Government Minister.

Alderman McGarry, Pro-Treaty panel, was also elected in Mid-Dublin. He received 66,495 votes on the second count by the transfer of surplus votes from O'Neill and Byrne.

AGAINST PUBLIC OPINION.

The United Mine Workers and the rail unions of the United States hope to win their strikes by uniting their forces, and thus, according to President John L. Lewis, of the miners, increasing the morale of labor generally, dislocating the transportation system of the nation and affecting the industrial fabric. It is a big sounding programme, but it ignores one essential factor that public opinion is against the strike, and no strike can hope to succeed in the force of the opposition of the people. The Government of the United States intends to place the whole resources of the nation at the disposal of the Railway Labor Board in meeting the situation. Extensive plans made last year, when a walk-out was threatened, are being revived, and the railway strike, if it eventuates, will find the whole power of the Federal administration backed by the pressure of the mass of the people of America opposed to the movement. No labor organization, no matter how powerful, can in the long run triumph over that opposition. The average man believes that the high wages on the railways are a factor in the cost of living, and that the wages must come down. He is therefore utterly out of sympathy with the proposed strike, and that lack of sympathy will sooner or later crush the walk-out.

SUPERVISED PLAYGROUNDS.

The need of supervised playgrounds is strikingly demonstrated by the fact that while 48,000 American soldiers were being killed in the world war, 25,000 American children met death on the streets of American cities in the same period. The figures for Canada are not available, but it is certain that the total would be a large one, and in proportion to population not far below the United States statistics. People who say that playgrounds for children are not necessary ignore these facts. They didn't need such places when they were young, they argue, and they forget that in their youth the streets were not filled with rushing motor cars, threatening death and injury to youngsters who ventured upon the roadway. Conditions are altogether different nowadays. The street is no longer a safe place to play; a game of ball may be interrupted by a tragedy. And so the children must be provided with playgrounds that are free from the menace of the automobile. Peterborough has fallen down in this respect this summer, and parents must be doubly careful in their instructions to their children if accidents are to be averted. Next year it is to be hoped it will be possible to restore the supervised playgrounds, which are more of a necessity now than at any period in the history of the city. We are making progress in other directions; we cannot afford to fall down in this vital matter. The figures quoted at the beginning of this article furnish too terrible a warning to let us be careless.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATION.

The Trent Waterway Development Association, the annual meeting of which will be held at Lindsay tomorrow, is an organization that has already accomplished a great deal in attracting attention to the scenic beauties of the lakes and rivers which form part of the Trent Waterway, and to the advantages offered to tourists. The publicity that has been made possible by the launching of the Association will have important results, and the movement deserves the support and co-operation of the municipal governments of the communities along the route of the Trent Canal. An annual influx of tourists into this district on a large scale is a matter that directly or indirectly affects the prosperity of nearly everybody. But there is one point that the Association should not overlook, and that is the question of hotel accommodation. There is absolutely no use in bringing in hordes of visitors if they cannot be comfortably housed and taken care of, and we might as well be frank enough to admit that the accommodation in this respect in the resorts in this district is not adequate. There are some fine summer hotels of course, and in regard to them there is no complaint, nor are the smaller places to be very seriously criticized. But there are not enough hotels of the right kind compared to the service that is given at other summer resorts in Ontario, and the Trent Waterway Development Association would do well to consider this aspect of the situation with a view to do what it can to bring about a better condition of affairs. So far as scenery and fishing are concerned, the Trent Waterway defies competition, but if we want more and more tourists we must be in a position to look after them.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

While there are no radical changes suggested in the measures recommended by the Parliamentary Committee on Pensions, Insurance and Re-establishment, a number of manifest injustices has been corrected by the committee, and the recommendations are in the interests of the returned soldiers. Probably the most important suggestion is that a Board of Appeal with respect to pensioners and patients claiming treatment from the Departmetn of Soldiers' Civic Re-establishment shall be established. This provision will give the veterans an opportunity that has hitherto been denied them of having their cases reviewed by an independent tribunal and establishes the right of the returned man to appeal. Another recommendation that is of importance is one providing relief for soldier settlers through consolidation and amortization of interest. This change, while it does not go as far as many people may consider advisable, will afford the veterans who took up land under the soldiers' settlement scheme, some measure of relief and will be welcomed on that account by those who realize the hard struggle these soldier-farmers have had to succeed in their new vocation. Needless to say, there is no indication in the report of a further cash bonus. The committee's view in regard to this matter was, as might have been expected, that any proposal to make any further cash grants to returned men could not be entertained. The report, when adopted, as of course it will be, will help to clear up some of the problems in regard to re-establishment.

THE FARMERS AND THE BANK ACT.

Before the budget debate wound up in the House of Commons at Ottawa Progressive members from Western Canada had an opportunity to express their views on many national problems, says The Financial Post. Last Friday, for instance, was a field day for these farmer members. Half a dozen of them spoke at length, and judging by the slim attendance in the House, most of the other members thought they were talking through Hansard to their local newspapers and constituents. That was unfortunate, for there is need in Eastern Canada for a real understanding of the problems of the West, just as there is need in the West for a broader appreciation of Eastern Canada's aims and views.

One cannot but be struck by the soundness of argument advanced by these level-headed Western farmer members. Manufacturers are too apt to fear the farmer in politics. Experience in Ontario has proven that the farmer in politics exercises the same native shrewdness and judgment that characterizes his dealings back on the concession lines. More consideration of the study of their speeches in the House by those who condemn them unheard as Bolsheviks or as dangerous men would lead to closer bonds between East and West.

One of the members during the debate told of loans that had been called by the banks forcing Western farmers to sell their stock at a loss at the same time that one firm of stock brokers had been loaned $4,000,000 "for what might be termed gambling purposes." Such a complaint is not surprising under the circumstances and in view of the Merchants Bank fiasco.

When the Western farmer demands a new system of credit in Canada those in charge of the superstructure of credit in Canada should be able to show him that the present system is all right or should make it right. If a bank which calls farm loans has been looted for stock market manipulation and the court can find no one guilty under the Bank Act, their demands for amendment of such an Act must be expected.

INCOME TAX PAYERS.

That laws made by capitalists operated in the United States, as in other countries, to make the rich man richer and the poor man poorer has long been a claim by men who seek to advance themselves or some cause in which they are interested by creating discontent. The number of men who may be counted rich has undoubtedly been growing in most American communities; but any who keep their eyes open know also that the standard of comfort and expenditure has been improved generally, which means that the poor have been improving their position. Some statistics just issued from Washington in regard to the U.S. income tax collections not only suggest that the poor are becoming better off, but that the rich are losing some of their wealth. A table giving the number of returns made by persons liable to pay under the national income tax law by classes in 1920 and 1919 shows as follows:

Income.	1920.	1919.
$1,000 to $2,000	2,671,950	1,924,872
2,000 to 3,000	2,569,316	1,569,741
3,000 to 5,000	1,337,116	1,180,488
5,000 to 10,000	455,442	438,851
10,000 to 25,000	171,830	162,485
25,000 to 50,000	38,548	37,479
50,000 to 100,000	12,093	13,320
100,000 to 150,000	2,191	2,983
150,000 to 300,000	1,063	1,864
300,000 to 500,000	239	425
500,000 to 1,000,000	123	189
1,000,000 and over	33	65
Total	7,259,944	5,332,760

The increase in the number of taxpayers, it will be seen, was almost two million, which indicates, no doubt, that the U.S. officials concerned, like those of some other countries, are becoming more efficient in their work. The growth, however, is among those in receipt of the smaller incomes. Between 1919 and 1920, those who paid on incomes between $1,000 and $2,000 increased in number by almost 750,000, and those between $2,000 and $3,000 by almost a million. After the $3,000 figure was passed the rate of increase in the number of payers declined rapidly till the class of $25,000 to $50,000 was reached. In 1920 this class included 38,584 persons, not a very high proportion in a population of 105,000,000. Those with incomes over $100,000 numbered less than 5,000, the number in receipt of $1,000,000 being 33 in 1920, compared with 65 in 1919. The decline in the number paying taxes on the larger incomes is a result of conditions that affect all classes. Trade has been slow; production has been lessened, and in cases has been kept up without profit. Commercial gains declined and with them the earnings of capital. There is little doubt that capital also has declined in volume, and this in turn will tend to reduce the number of large incomes, perhaps the smaller ones. Meantime the situation suggested by the U.S. returns is not that the very rich are increasing either in number or the amount of their wealth. There is an increase in the number of those of moderate and what may yet be considered smaller incomes.—Montreal Gazette.

ANNUAL MEETING TRENT WATERWAY

Many Subjects to Be Discussed — Peterborough Man Will Preside.

The annual meeting of the Trent Waterway Development Association will be held at the Ellsmure Apartments, Lindsay, Wednesday at 1 p. m. President G. K. Fraser will preside and Peterborough will be represented by F. D. Kerr, K.C., in the vice-president's chair. A large attendance is expected and the officers look for each municipality to be represented. Matters of advertising and publicity will be under discussion and the ideas of the representatives from different parts of the waterway in regard to improvement of the route solicited. The officers are of the opinion that this district does not get as large a share of the summer tourist business as it is entitled to and consider that only through a strong association that will be the centre of publicity and ready at all times to oppose any movement that would destroy the tourist possibilities can the resources of the waterway in this regard be realized.

The association will be advised in a letter received from Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Minister of Railways and Canals that it will be several years before complete charts of the waterway from Nassau to Georgian Bay will be complete, but that charts of Pigeon, Sturgeon and Buckhorn Lakes can be furnished this year. It would not be practicable to make a rough chart of the route the minister stated. This letter will provide a subject for discussion as the Association is anxious to secure the charts of the entire route as soon as possible. The topographical survey has been completed as far as Nassau and charts excellent for motor craft have been prepared. The longer and more dangerous section, however, from Nassau to Georgian Bay, is unchartered except as advised by the Minister, who stated that it would be a costly undertaking to send a party out for the sole purpose of making a topographical survey. Their engineers he said, did the work as they found time.

WHEAT BOARD.

Amendment to Prohibit or Regulate Provincial Exportation Being Considered.

OTTAWA, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)—The consideration of legislation to authorize the appointment of a Canadian Wheat Board by concurrent action of the Dominion and at least two of the provinces, was halted last night to give the Government an opportunity to study the amendment offered by R. M. Johnston, Progressive member for Moose Jaw. That amendment proposes to permit the Board, with the approval of the Government of any province associating itself with the new plan for marketing the wheat of crop of 1922, to prohibit or regulate the exportation of wheat from that province.

BRIGHTENED UP WHEN CONVICTED

Sixty-Nine Year Old Bigamist Had Faced the Minister Five Times.

CHICAGO, June 20.— (Canadian Press.) — Sixty-nine years old and married to five women without the formality of divorce, Thomas Worland smiled with relief when Judge McKinley sent him to the penitentiary on a sentnece of from one to five years. Worland cheered up perceptibly when the sentence was passed, probably because two of his wives advanced to the bar of justice arm in arm.

Worland was first sent to the penitentiary in 1917 on a charge of bigamy. He admits that "has a way" with women and they cannot resist him, some even going to the extreme of kidnapping him.

After getting out he married Olive Heith and Tillie Carlington, both of Chicago, in rapid succession. It was his fourth wife who tripped him this time.

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD AT HASTINGS.

Children's Day Observed in the Church. Personal Mention.

HASTINGS, June 20. — Sunday was observed in the Methodist church as Children's Day. The sacrament of baptism was administered and the cradle roll called. Each child in response was given a rose, and a pretty cradle roll certificate, while the music was in keeping with the occasion. The floral decorations were numerous and varied, and altogether the service was one of the most impressive of the year.

Rev. M. L. Hinton left yesterday to attend the annual conference of the Bay of Quinte which is being in Whitby.

Anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, June 25, Rev. Mr. Archibald, of Keene, will preach.

THE DAY'S DOINGS AS RECORDED BY THE EXAMINER'S STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Masons Attended Special Service in the Methodist Church—The Sermon.

MILLBROOK, June 20.—The J. B. Hall Lodge, A.F. and A.M., No. 145, attended divine service in the Methodist church on Sunday evening, when Rev. S. T. Tucker, who is himself a member of the Order, preached an excellent sermon to the organization.

By special request the choir sang as their first anthem, "Christ Has Come Into the Temple Court," with duet and obligato taken by Mrs. Stinson and Miss Stewart; the second anthem, "God's Beautiful Out-of-Doors," was much appreciated, as was also the quartette, which followed the sermon, "When They Ring the Golden Bells For You and Me," by Mrs. Sayles, Miss Stewart and Messrs. J. L. Byam and F. Alcorn.

The Scripture lesson was from Eccles. 12:1-14, "The best thing possible to the natural man," being the theme of the chapter. In beginning his sermon, Rev. Mr. Tucker welcomed the members of the Masonic Order to his church, both as a fellow-member with them, and also because of the high ideals for which their organization stands, and announced his subject as "The Summary of the Command, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy mind, and with all thy soul, and thy neighbor as thyself."

Love to ourselves, in the sense that Christ meant, is diametrically opposed to selfishness, and is the basis of all progress, liberty and true freedom. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," and the highest duty of man is really to know himself; Christ had this in mind when He said of the prodigal son, "When he came to himself," and Paul put it in a different way when he said, "Christ in us, the hope of glory"; for it is the appended truth of the saving power of Christ witmn the heart that sets us free, and inspires true knowledge.

There were very few martyrs for the truth before Christ came and enunciated the principle, "If any man will lose his life for My sake, and take the gospel, the same shall find it"; and God has placed upon us the eternal responsibility of being faithful to that which He has revealed. We are to love our neighobr as ourselves—not better than ourselves, nor less; that little word, "as" contains a world of meaning, implying a level of all human life; and the "level" and "square' of Masonry are symbolic in their teaching that all men are equal in their need, and obligated opportunities. Then if there is natural equality, there is no place for pride, or prejudices, for class distinction, or class privilege, but there is a mutual dependence with its consequent implication of universal beneficence. And is this one reason why all fraternal societies have had a great deal to do with the development of our civilization.

Most of the great divisions in the human family have been based upon religious convictions; a religious conflict there will be in the future, we cannot tell how near or how far away, when men of the same race will be lined up, but upon different sides because of vastly differing religious beliefs.

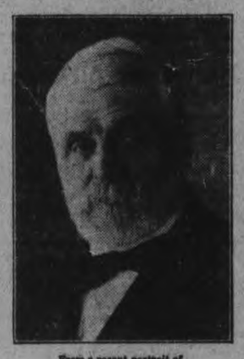
The speaker briefly referred to the disaster sure to follow the spirit of exclusiveness in trade unions, and in nations standing aloof while famine, pestilence and internal strife tore others apart, hindering their own purposes by their selfishness, even the Christian church has not been clear of guilt in this regard. No human organization can exist for itself alone—it must be a leaven of power going out to help others even if they are not privileged to belong. Prayer, itself, if selfish as it too often is will go unanswered, the heavens "being as brass"; not what we know, but how we work out our knowledge, is God 'srule of measurement.

Our duty to God cannot be limited to any narower compass than our duty to our fellow man, for He is "no respecter of persons," and "whosoever" is a common term in the Bible. First it implies repentance, then reverence, supplication, service, and with the latter the understanding, as we learn from the parable of the prodigal son, that even "our enemy in need is our neighbor."

Masonry is the "geometry of morality, not of religion"; it is not a substitute for religion, for the latter is the dynamic power by which that which has been revealed is realized. We do not come to Christ through the door of Christianity. Let us not make the mistake of claiming more for it than it claims for itself.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe, thousands give it to babes in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.



From a recent portrait of DR. W. B. CALDWELL, Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. Born Shelbyville, Mo., 1839

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 21 Front Street, Bridgeburg, Ont. Do not postpone this.

FOR THE HARDY CAMPER

Now the camper goes forth to camp and the pleasant woodland echoes to his merry song. That is, it's popularly supposed to. Just how dismal that same merry song may become only campers who have wakened to cold, rain and water-soaked matches—only they can tell.

An extra sweater ,a heavy bathrobe or a flannel shirt at that moment is beyond price. Any one or all three.

It is true that if the camper is young and enthusiastic, these have probablyy been forced on him by stern maternal authority, but that will not detract from their welcome at one of life's darkest moments. The home office manages to function most efficiently upon occasion.

OUR FIRST YEAR

CHAPTER LXVIII

"With $3,000 I can pay all those dreadful bills and give back his original safety fund of $1,000 and have a bit left", said I to Me as I went home. "Why, I can open another checking account—and be independent of my husband.

Of course I could think of nothing else.

"If only this had happened yesterday!" I thought. "Then I could have straightened out all accounts, without bothering Jack.

"And after it was all arranged, I could have told him. And he would have thought me the most extraordinary little business woman ever!"

How would Jack look at it? I'd have to ask him. That was the funniest thing about being married. When a big thing happened I couldn't decide it myself. It was necessary for me always to consult my husband!

Jack came home early at my urgent request over the phone. I handed the false pearls to him. He tossed them back to me.

"I don't like them, Peggins They don't look like yours."

"But they are! The originals! The one I paid for."

And then I gave him the details of the most startling mistake in the history of the jewelry business.

"And to hapen to us! When we need it most! Isn't it wonderful luck All our affairs untangled. We'll be able to start over again" I concluded.

"You mean, Peggins, you intend to accept $3,000 from Barnick"

"I can't see why not!" I insisted. "I can't see why it isn't the perfectly sensible thing to do. Jack They offered it. And I see the case their way!"

"I do not!" asserted my husband. "Goodness gracious! Aren't they mighty glad to get out or it by paying poor me $3,000?" I asked. "It's only part of their profit they're losing when they thought they were $43,000 short!"

"But I can't see your claim on them, Peggins! Certainly you haven't any moral claim!"

"Didn't I pay what they asked for their beads?" I objected. "I gave them $25 and if they handed me a package worth $43,000 who was at fault Not I. I had done all they asked."

"Peggins! Peggins! It's a questionof ethics! It's like right and wrong! Plain! A thing's all right or all wrong! This is. Can't you see? Don't we agree?"

(To be Continued).

TWO TIERED

The two-tiered skirt composed of a double flounce of accordion plaited silk, is very popular now, particularly when worn with a blouse of paisley printed silk.

CHANGEABLE ORGANDIE

Changeable organdie makes some of the most demure summer frocks It needs no trimming, a large hat being the proper accompaniment.

POISON KILLS DUMMER MAN

David Lytle Took Paris Green a Week Ago and Died Saturday Morning

NORWOOD, June 20. — David Lytle, son of Matthew Lytle, of the 12th line of Dummer, died on Saturday night from the effects of a dose of Paris green, taken the Monday previous. The funeral service will be held this afternoon from the family residence.

OSHKIGMONG

OSHKIGMONG, June 19. — Last Sunday the Rev. Mr. Ireland preached a very impressive sermon to a large and attentive congregation from the words found in Matthew 5, 7 — "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy," basing his remarks on the word "merciful." The choir rendered an appropriate anthem selection, and the Mississauga Band was also in attendance, and gave several sacred selections.

Mr. Alfred McCue has left for Cape Croker Indian Reserve, where the chiefs of the different bands of Indians in the Province of Ontario will meet to discuss matters pertaining to the welfare of the Indian race. Mr. McCue is the Grand Secretary, and will take an important part in the deliberations.

Since the tourist season began, the Chemong House has entertained several guests from Rochester, N.Y., and Toronto. They were all satisfied with the luck at fishing.

NOON DAY.

But yesterday the piper Spring
Sat blowing tunes that turned to green,
And through the little naked boughs
The color of his song was seen.

As soft the tunes the piper played,
So soft the green-like mists of night,
Then seemed our love—a slender lane,
With dear, indefinite delight.

But now before we know—'tis June,
So deep so dark the leaves have grown,
The pipe is lost: the lane has led Down to the gate of life, My Own.

THE WIND IN THE TREES.

It is soothing to watch it, the wind in the trees,
As the branches are gently caressed,
Swaying forward they go, and seem to say no,
Then backward and answer yes.

How like the Good Spirit that swayeth our heart,
And no, no one heart doth protest;
But we're gently brought back to confess that we lack,
The wisdom that answereth yes!

Oh yes, it is wisdom to bow to that power,
It leads to the highest and best,
To patience and hope to goodness and love
And to deep and immortal rest.

A few Minutes at Night Saves Hours on Wash Day

A few minutes at night—just the little time you need to put the clothes to soak in rich, soapy cleansing Rinso suds—

Saves you hours of rubbing, and wearing out the clothes and yourself on a metal washboard next day, because you just rinse the dirt away—the clothes are already washed by Rinso.

Do not pour the Rinso straight into the tub. Make the Rinso liquid first—this is very important—Then it guarantees wonderful results.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE

Soak your clothes in the Rinso suds as usual—for one hour, two hours, overnight, or as long as convenient, then add more Rinso solution and work the machine. Rinse thoroughly and dry—you will have a clean, sweet, snow white wash.

BOARD OF HEALTH

put in the way of those men who were trying to supply good, pure, raw milk. "But it is up to you to protect your own interests," he added.

Mr. M. son refuted the impression, which some men had voiced, that the board was not impartial. He asserted that the board had only one consideration, which was the performance of its duty to the public whom it was bound to protect.

Reports Not Published.

"I'll say, with the permission of the Chairman, that the reports of the tests have not been published," he reminded the vendors. "Had we published the report of one of the tests it would have put a number of men out of business. And the next test would have put out nearly all the rest."

"Why should we try to do any man an injury by publishing them," he proceeded in a vigorous defense of the board. "You must give us credit for keeping from the public information we had in reference to the milk. No man need put in the paper that his milk has been absolutely free from contamination."

Mr. Mason said that the requirements of the board had brought better results, and that further co-operation was necessary.

Pasteurized Milk.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie of the Peterborough Milk Products Company stated that the great growth of grass had caused a large increase in bacteria during the warm weather of the week in which the samples of milk were taken for the June test.

"We simply pasteurized five points higher, and at once remedied the condition," he explained. "During the recent cool weather our pasteurizing has been at normal again." He also said that bacteria was due to foreign matter getting into the milk, and in this instance was partly a result of the heavy pasturage, and did not arise from anything in the milk itself.

Mr. Gillespie said that he was prepared to back up any statement he had made in the press in regard to the quality of the milk sold by his company.

Dr. McNair told the vendors that he tested the milk submitted to him once a month for butter fat, solids and bacterial count, and would examine their milk at any other time, grading it according to any bacteria found in it.

Willing to Co-operate.

Mr. Ed. Butler, a vendor, said that all the men engaged in the business were willing to meet the Board of Health's requirements, and to make every improvement they could.

He believed that the Board of Health should share some of the blame for the conditions complained of. "When a man takes out a license he is not posted as to what the requirements are. I venture to say there are not half a dozen vendors in this audience who have ever seen the regulations. The bylaw was published in 1911 and copies were printed. I don't know whether any are available now, but they contained information that would be valuable to every milkman who read them. There are questions in the bylaw that the newer men may not know much about. No milk vendor can take the tests as Dr. McNair can, and if he can give us any information to help bring about a better product he should give it to us. A man shouldn't be condemned if he hasn't the information to work on."

City Clerk Armstrong said that the copies of the bylaw had all been distributed. Mr. Duncan suggested to Mayor Taylor and Ald. M. McIntyre, Chairman of the Property and Health Committee of the Council, that a new issue of the bylaw be printed.

No Favoritism.

"We'll show no favouritism," Mr. Duncan continued. "But we've got to protect ourselves and to protect all the people, who put us here. I believe we'll get better milk as a result of this meeting tonight. The milk should be properly cooled and handled cleanly.

Mr. Brumwell, who said he had been in the milk business 15 years, pointed ut that there were many homes in the city that were not sanitary, and no matter how pure the milk was when delivered into such places it could not be expected to remain in that condition in such homes.

Mr. Duncan remarked that this was a matter apart from the responsibility of the vendors, and was being looked after by the board as well as possible. "We want you to co-operate with us, to do the best you can. I am speaking for the board when I say that we will cancel licenses as quick as that (snapping his fingers) if reports do not show an improvement."

Mr. Butler asked whether the board would give the milkmen its moral support if an effort was made to organize on protective and educational lines.

The Chairman replied that organization was a question the milkmen would have to decide for themselves. They should look after their own interests, and the board would welcome any action that would result in providing Peterborough with a pure milk supply. "If you raise the price out of reason, don't blame any citizen for rising in arms against you."

Thanked the Board.

"We want to part tonight knowing that this meeting has been a benefit to all," Mr. Duncan concluded, and Mr. Ernest Deyell replied that he believed it had been a great help. He proposed a vote of thanks to the Board of Health as an indication of the appreciation of the thoughtfulness in calling the producers and vendors together to talk over the question in a friendly way.

"Your Baby in Hot Weather"

REMOVE HEAVY CLOTHING AND KEEP YOUR CHILD COOL

GIVE THE SKIN A CHANCE TO COOL OFF.

BY MRS. MAX WEST.

Late of the United States Children's Bureau.

Do not be afraid to strip the baby down to his band when the hottest days come, especially if he is of the run-about age. These active babies who are exercising all the while they are awake, should wear not more than one layer of clothing, at the most, on the days of great heat.

This may be a thin sleeveless band and diaper or only a waist and drawers. Babies under three months of age and those which are not healthy, cannot be quite so completely undressed, but the amount and weight of their clothes should be much reduced. There is no doubt that many babies suffer seriously from being too heavily dressed.

All-wool underwear should be changed for light-weight gauze, having a very small amount of wool in the weave. Indeed, some physicians now direct that babies born in the spring and summer shall have all-cotton shirts and bands. In any event, there is no possible reason for keeping even a young baby swathed in seevral layers of flannel in hot weather. Knitted garments, sacks, bootees, and caps are entirely out of place.

If the baby's feet are cold, light-weight merino stockings that cover the knees and legs evenly are far better. Older babies can go barefooted, except that it is best to protect the tender feet from splinters and bumps by barefoot sandals.

Headcoverings should be light in weight. For the babies, silk caps are best, and for run-abouts, either sunbonnets or gingham hats when it is necessary to shade their faces from the sun. Rompers have solved the problem for the outer garments for babies and young children but in the hottest weather they should be of lightweight material, and be made with round neck and short sleeves.

White garments have the advantage of looking cooler and are easier to wash since they may be boiled but gingham and crepes are hightly favored by mothers.

As the day cools or a sudden storm sends the temperature rapidly downward the mother must be ready to protect the baby from sudden chill by extra clothing.

DISPUTE OVER

across the street to Fred. Collins and asked him about it. He said he thought everybody in town knew it. I said that was the first I heard of it. I said "Well let him go,' or something like that."

Plaintiff also said that some of the articles he understood belonged to Evans were actually not his property. One of these was a coil which Mr. Breyfogle called for and Evans gave to him.

"In January I sold a half interest in the earnings for $1,100 to Andrew Brotherstone. About the last of February I gave him back $400 and got out.

Reading from the examination of Evans for discovery, Mr. Medd referred to paragraphs in which the defendant had said he had told Fontaine that if he released Evans from the agreement the latter would not press for payment of the mortgage until this summer.

Mr. Medd recalled Fontaine to rebut a statement that he didn't have the money to pay Evans under the terms of the mortgage.

Plaintiff said the money was available at any time, and even now.

The court was adjourned until 3 o'clock, at Mr. Strickland's request.

ACCEPT RESIGNATION OF FRANK WHITEHOUSE

Suburban Area Commission Records Its Appreciation of His Services.

The Suburban Area Commission has accepted the resignation of Mr. Frank White house, the city's commissioner, who was appointed by the City Council as successor to the late Ald. Harry Phelan. A report from the Commission pays the following tribute to the service of Mr. Whitehouse: "Notwithstanding the pressure that was brought to bear upon Mr. Whitehouse to withdraw his resignation, it was evident that circumstances from his own standpoint determined that he must resign, and upon motion of Messrs. Brown and Deyell, his resignation was accepted, and in doing so this commission desires to place on record its estimation of the value of this services during the tenure of office, and although he will not be a member of the commission, we sincerely trust that his advice and guidance will be available at all times when appealed to."

Mr. Ernest Deyell, of Otonabee, and Mr. W. Brown, of Smith, are the other commissioners.

LAY CORNERSTONE OF NEW BUILDING

Important Event in the History of the Salvation Army Here.

An event that symbolizes a long onward step in the progress of the Salvation Army in Peterborough, will be the laying of the corner stone of the new Young People's Temple, at 350 Aylmer street, at 7 o'clock on Thursday, the 29th inst. Colonel McMillan, of Toronto, chief secretary for Canaad east, and second in command of Salvation Army forces in the Dominion, in a territory that includes Bermuda and Newfoundland, will officiate at the ceremony, assisted by Brigadier Moore, of Toronto. Many leading citizens have signified their intention of being present on this occasion.

The sumof thirteen thousand dollars in cash is needed to complete the building, and anyone interested in the work of the Army is asked to make a contribution, from twenty-five cents up, on the occasion of the placing of the corner stone. This may be sent or given either to Adjutant Bunton, 515 King street, or to Mr. R. C. Braund, at the corner of Park and Albert streets, with the message which the donor would like placed beneath the corner stone, such message to be inscribed on paper measuring three by four inches.

The building, when finally completed, will provide accommodation at the Temple that has been badly needed for some time. The Sunday school classes will be held here, and children from all denominations in the city, regardless of creed or class, will be welcomed at all times to the gatherings which will take place. Here also, will be a meeting place for the Boy Scouts and Guards; there will be a special room for Chinese of the city who are interested in the Army, where the Chinese illustrated Bible, Chinese mottoes and literature will be provided, and there will be a gymnasium for the young people.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the newbu ilding will be the two detention rooms for both boys and girls, who are offenders against the law. The Army is desrous of saving the boys and girls from the contamination of jail life, and the stigma which attaches to it, and wishes to provide these quarters for the young people, while awaiting a hearing. The inside of a cell will not become af amiliar sight to the young eyes, and here they will have rooms furnished comfotrably and provided with the best sort of literature.

Embarrasing Hairs Can be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture)

Hairs can be easily banished from the under-arms neck and face by this quick, painless method: Mix into a stiff paste some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. Excepting in very stubborn growths, one application is sufficient. To avoid disappointment, buy the delatone in an original package and mix fresh.

CURRANT RED

Currant red is a popular new shade. It is particularly liked for beaded frocks and in pailletes used on net. There's no doubt it is a dashing color.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, June 20. — (Canadian Press.)— Receipts 1,440 cattle and calves, 1,230 hogs and 195 sheep and lambs. Under an extremely light demand, combined with a poor class of offerings, bidding on the cattle market was generally dull during the morning with prospects of a decline. Butcher cows ranged from 400 to 450 for tops; good feeder steers 400 to 425 while fair variety sold from 300 to 350.

The hog market opened with a weaker tone and a decline of 25 cents was registered. Packers were bidding 1200 for selects.

Spring lambs ranged from 1200 to 1250 and mutton sheep sold at 500.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, June 20. —(Canadian Press.)— The market has opened firm at last week's closing prices. Not much change is anticipated during the present week. A few eggs are still moving into storage and several cars fresh seconds are rolling from Manitoba points to Montreal.

Toronto specials jobbing 36, extras 35, firsts 30, seconds 27.

Montreal steady specials 36, extras 33 to 34, firsts 30, seconds 26 to 27. Firsts and seconds dull.

Winnipeg dealers quoting shippers 19 to 21 delivered. Jobbing straight candled 22 to 24, firsts 28, extras 30.

Saskatchewan dealers quoting 17 to 20, loss off cases included, delivered.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, June 20.—(Canadian Press.)—Cash prices: Wheat—No. 1 hard 129 1-4; No. 1 northern 129; No. 2 northern 124 1-2; No. 3 northern 114 3-4; No. 4, 102 1-2; No. 5, 93 1-2; No. 6, 82 1-2; feed 74 1-2; track 128.

Oats—No. 2 C.W. 50 7-8. No. 3 C.W. and extra feed 48 3-8; No. 1 fed 45 5-8; No. 2 feed 43 1-8; rejected 41 5-8; track 50 5-8.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)—There was no change in the condition of the local market for cash grain yesterday, and no new developments in the local flour market. Demand for all lines of millfeed continues limited. The rolled oats market was quiet. Prices for baled hay are down another $1 a ton. A fairly steady feeling prevails in the egg market and the market for potatoes was quiet. Prices for butter were advanced 1 3-8 cents to 2 1-2 cents per pound. There was no change in the cheese market.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday as follows: Sterling demand 4.4288, Sterling cables 4.4313.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, June 20.— (Canadian Press.) — With harvesting widespread and weather suspicious, the selling side had the advantage today in the wheat market. The close was heavy 1 3-8 to 1 7-8c. net lower, with July $1.10 to $1.10 1-8, and September $1.10 3-4 to $1.10 7-8. Corn finished 1-4 to 1-2c. down, oats unchanged to 3-8 and 1-2c. higher, and provisions unchanged to 12c. up.

Rapid progress in harvest operations was made evident by reports from a great part of the winter crop belt. New wheat was being received at St. Louis and threshing was going on in Illinois. Nebraska also sent word that cutting of wheat had started, and would quickly become general. Big arrivals at Kansas City, 473 carloads, tended further to weaken the market here, an inference being drawn that the carry over of old wheat in the country was greatly in excess of what most traders had supposed.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)—Cattle receipts 19,000; beef steers and butcher she stock uneven; better grades steady; others weak to 25c. lower; yearlings off most; top matured steers 9.75; best mixed yearlings in load lots 9.30; bulk beef steers 8.25 and 9.15; canners and cutters steady; bulk 3.10 and 4.00; bulls and stockers weak to 25c. lower; bulk bologna bulls 4.35 and 4.50; veal calves 25 to 50c. lower; bulk 8.00 and 8.50.

Hogs, receipts 55,000; opened mostly 5 to 10c. lower; closed strong to 10c. higher on lighter weights; others steady to 25c. lower than Saturday's average; mixed packing grades off most; top $10.85; one load late; bulk 9.75 and 10.75; pigs steady to lower; mostly 9.25 and 10.00; shippers took about 1,300; holdover modertae.

Sheep, receipts 14,000; steady to strong, spots higher; top native lambs 12.50; culls mostly 6.50 and 7.00; four loads Idaho lambs 12.85; 200 feeders out bid 12.00; top dry fed yearlings 11.00; matured fed wethers 7.50; light ewes 6.50.

ISLAND LEGISLATURE COMPLETES SESSION.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 20.— (Canadian Press.)—The Newfoundland Legislature yesterday virtually completed its sessional business and prepared to adjourn to-day until October. The session will then be resumed to consider a permanent settlement of the railway problem in the Colony, before the temporary agreement between the Government and the Reid-Newfoundland Company expires, November 15.

The Newfoundland Railway now is being operated by a representative of the Government and a representative of the company, with the Government meeting deficits in operation. Revenues from traffic are to be devoted to re-imbursing the Government.

BLACK CHAPTER MEET IN KINGSTON

Orangemen Plan Great Activities For the Next Few Days. In Convention

KINGSTON, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Some two hundred Sir Knights have arrived in the city for the annual session of the Grand Black Chapter of British North America, which opened in the Orange Hall, Princess Street, yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, with Most Worshipful Sir Knight L. E. Stanley, of Ottawa, presiding.

Mayor Corbett gave an address of welcome.

To-day the lady lodges will convene in St. James' Hall, when it is expected over one hundred and fifty lady delegates will be present. Their sessions will continue till Thursday.

The Black Chapter will conclude to-night, and on Wednesday morning the Grand Orange Lodge of British North America will meet, to conclude on Friday night.

It is expected that there will be six hundred Orangemen in town for this convention.

Most Worshipful Master H. C. Hocken will preside.

MAKING ANTIQUES ON A LARGER SCALE.

Forgeries So Common That Market For Historical Objects Being Ruined.

LONDON, June 20.—(Associated Press)—"The manufacture of antiquities is carried forward on such an extensive scale in Egypt, particularly at Cairo that it now has a place in reports on the industries of the country"- says Professor Flinders Petrie, the famous Egyptian archaeologist in an interview in the Daily Chronicle.

The forgeries of Egyptian antiquites are often so well executed, he states, that even the most experienced collectors are deceived by them. Large sums of money have been paid for articles that were considered genuine treasures but have been paid for articles that were considered genuine treasures but have now been pronounced spurious or of doubtful origin. So strong is the suspicion concerning the authenticity of scarabs and various bronze and gold ornaments and other articles alleged to have been found in Egypt that many collectors are afraid to risk buying them and in an excess of caution often turn down antiquities that are undoubtedly genuine. Thus the forgeries have largely ruined the market for Egyptian historical treasuries.

CHIROPRACTORS BEGIN WAR AGAINST MEDICOS

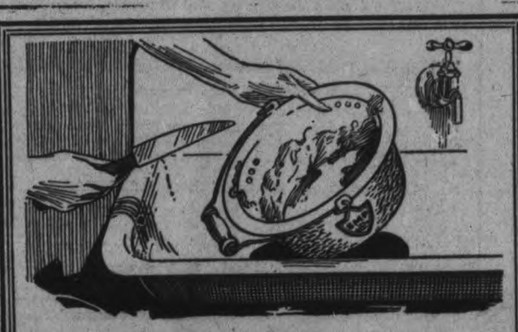
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 20.—Dr. B. J Palmer, son of a chiropractor announced at the convention of the Illionis Chiropractor's Association that forces of "honest chiropractors' 'n every state had united to name his the "Judge Landis of a house cleaning campaign" and an organized war against the "unjust power" of the American Medical Association. A defense fund of $100,000, he announced is held in reserve at Davenport, Ia., to promote the dual campaign.

FORESTERS AND W.O.W. AT CHURCH

Court Chemong at St. George's Church Sunday Night.

The members of Court Chemong No. 530 Independent Order of Foresters and of Sherwood Forest Camp No. 50 Woodman of the World attended divine service at St. George's church on Sunday night. The Rev. W. R. Courage on behalf of the officers and members of the church tendered a hearty welcome to both societies, who were accompanied by many of the lady members. He based his sermon on the 11th verse of the 13th Chapter of St. Paul to the Corinthians—"Brethern be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

After the service the members returned to the W.O.W. hall where Sovereign Graham of the Woodmen was appointed chairman of the short meeting that was held. A vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Mr. Courage and to the choir of St. George's church. Replying Mr. Courage said it had been a pleasure for him to address the two lodges. He also expressed his apreciation of the cordial manner in which he was welcomed at the hall. A resolution of thanks was also conveyed to the Wardens of the Church for their kindly reception to the visiting socieites. Brief speeches were given by Brothers Buyers, Styles, Grose McGann and Brown for the Foresters and by Sovereigns Sutcliffe and Dummitt for the Woodmen. A vote of appreciation was passed to Brothers Styles and Dummitt for acting as marshalls of the parade.



You Needn't Be Afraid of Hurting the Enamel

HOT water and soap will keep SMP Diamond and Pearl Ware perfectly clean. But take a steel knife to scrape the pot if you want to. It's quicker, sometimes, than leaving it to soak. You can't scratch SMP Diamond or Pearl Ware with a knife any more than you can scratch a plate.

SMP Diamond or Pearl WARE

"A Face of Porcelain and a Heart of Steel"

Scratch-proof, rust-proof, acid-proof. Coated with the wonderful SMP enamel over pressed sheet steel.

You'll recognize them on sight. Diamond is blue and white outside and milk-white inside, with three coats of enamel. Pearl is grey and white, with two coats. Be sure of the trade mark, "SMP" and the word "Quality," in the pointed shield.

Do you know that a Diamond or Pearl Ware pot that sold for $1.50 last year, can be bought now for 90 cents?

Destructive Force of Silence

"We have advertised a long while", said a manufacturer who wished to stop. "And have good will. That good will will last us for a long while. We don't need to add to it right now".

To some extent that is so. The flywheel goes on turning for a while after the power is shut off. But not for long. And when it stops it takes more power to start it, by six times than it takes to keep it running.

One might almost as well say:

"We won't buy coal now that it is so expensive, we will gradually chop up the plant and burn that in the furnace until coal is cheaper. And then we can rebuild the plant."

Good will is a fine thing to use. But not a fine thing to use up.

Nothing is ever finished —done. Time is destructive. Stop building up and time starts tearing down. Some things last longer than others But nothing lasts so very long. You built. But it only stays built bethink of your plant, for instance, as cause you are painting and repairing and gradually but continually replacing it bit by bit.

Think how much more rapid the inevitable loss in a thing so intangible as familiarity — as reputation —as good will.

Out of sight, out of mind —not all in a minute but before so very long.

Advertisers who stop advertising expose the advertising structure, on which they have invested much money for many years, to elements quite as destructive and more rapid in their action than those which attack and disintegrate an unfinished, abandoned building.

In almost every community you will find the ruins of an ambitious but unfinished mansion —generally called Somebody's Folly.

Much money went into the work and then financial reverses stopped it all. And the winds blew and the rains descended and the sun warped the wood and the dampness rotted it, and rust and decay completed its ruin.

Now, an advertising structure, dependent on familiarity and reputation, can never be finished even to the extent that a building can be finished. We venture to say that never, in your most optimistic moments, have you felt that your advertising structure was finished and that it would shelter and protect your established business forever after.

No, you realize, when you stop to think, that the work of building must go on until the end of time.

Good will is a fine thing to use. But not a fine thing to use up.

DEFENCE IS HEARD IN SARNIA TRIALS

Sweetheart Took the Stand This Morning—Story of Previous Witness Denied.

SARNIA, Ont., June 20. — (Special.)—Beatrice Sager, self-confessed sweetheart of Jack (Casey) Yeohn, took the stand for the defence this morning in the trial of William Ayres, alleged 'gunman,' charged with participating in the robbery of the Wyoming barnch of the Bank of Toronto.

Miss Sager said regarding the trip to Port Stanley, which has figured so prominently in the evidence of Mrs. Myrtle Koehler, star Crown witness, denied that there had been any gun play or that Mrs. Koehler had been forced to accompany the party against her will.

She denied that any reference had been made in trip to the Wyoming robbery. "All we did was laugh and enjoy ourselves," she testified.

"Miss Sager corroborated the evidence of Ayres and Yoehn regarding their first meeting with Mrs. Koehler, stating that the men had interviewed Mrs. Koehler regarding reports that Ayres had been seen in her company.

She claims to know so many people until she is brought face to face with them, she explained. Anderson, Ayres and Yoehn had all ogt out of the car, and interviewed Mrs. Koehler as to whether she knew Ayres. She had admitted that she did know him. "She told us all about her own position," Miss Sager added. She was positive that the conversation referred to had occurred before Christmas. "She hadn't left her husband then," the Crown queried. "No."

The date of the trip to Port Stanley, Miss Sager believed, was shortly after New Year's. She stated that Mrs. Koehler had lived with her for a week after leaving her husband. "Then you must have been a pretty close friend of hers."

"No, I sympathized with her before I understood her real position. I was not a special friend of hers. The landlady finally told me I'd have to take a week's notice if I kept that woman there."

"Mrs. Koehler wasn't kept there a prisoner against her will." "No."

The trip to Port Stanley, Miss Sager testified, had been in search of Clifford Mackenzie, her brother-in-law. She did not know where Mr. or Mrs. Mackenzie were at the present time.

W. R. Meredith sprang another surprise by calling Thomas Scharf, whose name appeared in indictment, as a witness for the Crown, but who had not been called in the present case.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 20 (Canadian Pess). — Initial dealings in the stock market to-day foreshadowed a continuance of the recent extraordinary movements among oils. Mexican Petroleu . re-acted 11-2 points at the outset, but soon made full recovery.

The highest prices for a year or more were established by speculative favourites during the morning. Mexican Petroleum increased its gain to 93-4 points, and Studebaker rose 31-2 points. Most other foreign and domestic oils continued to strengthen. Independent steels were substantially better.

Call money opened at 3 per cent., and foreign exchanges were firmer.

Any misgivings which may have been entertained as to the effect of been entertained as to the effect on the general list of the extraordinary movement in Mexican Petroleum apparently vanished in the early afternoon, when high-grade investment stocks shared in the further substantial rise. Mexican Petroleum mounted to 171 1-2, compared with 160, yesterday's closing, and Thursday's lowest of 132 1-2.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange strong. Demand rates — Great Britain, 4.41 3-4; Canadian dollars, 31-32 of 1 per cent. discount.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET.

MONTREAL, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)—Difficulties in the way of working out the Ames Holden re-organization were responsible today for depressing the price of the stocks to the lowest point at which they ever sold. Thus the common stock, which a couple of years ago sold at upwards of $130 a share, was down to $1 a share, and preferred, which sold well above par, was down to 6 3-4. This indicates that the situation with respect to these issues is none too hopeful, and that bond holders and credits claims go far towards absorbing the value of the assets.

British Empire stocks were among the most active on the exchange and the course of prices was rather upwards. From an opening of 11 3-4, the common stock rose to 12 1-2 and from an opening of 33 1-2 2nd preferred rose to 35.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)— Wheat scored a moderate upturn in prices to-day during the early dealings, an unexpected advance in Liverpool quotations acting as the chief stimulus.

The opening which varied from unchanged figures to 5-8c. higher, July 1.10 1-4 to 1.10 1-2, and Sept. 1.10 7-8 to 1.11 3-, was followed by gains all around.

After opening unchanged to 1-4c. higher, July 61 1-2 to 61 5-8, the Corn market made a moderate general advance.

Corn started at 1-8 off to a like upturn, July 31 1-4, and then went higher for all deliveries.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, June 20.—(Canadian Press.)—Trading continued light on local stock exchange during the morning, but there was a strong undertone, and fractional advances were numerous. Toronto Rails, the most active issue, opened 3-4higher at 74 and continued to advance to 74 3-4, when realizing sales set in and prices re-acted to 74 1-8 at the close. Brazilian was a shade higher at 47 1-2, Cement advanced 1-2 to 69 1-4. Twin City 1-4 higher at 52 1-4. British Empire Steel 2nd preferred was very strong during the first hour, advancing to 35 1-4. Reaction set in later and the close at 33 1-2 was only 1-4 above yesterday.

DREDGE PULLED UP A BIG STONE

Search Operations Continue at Penetang Fo Lost Treasure.

PENETANG, Ont., June 20 (Special to The Examiner). — The scoop of the dredge is down 19 feet this noon below the Wye in the search for the Jesuit treasure chest. There will still be about two or three feet of sand to lift before the mystery is uncovered.

A look of dismay for some minutes spread on the faces of the treasure hunters, as it was feared that was what the probe had touched. But a few minutes later, Mr. Todd Jeffrey a brother of Fred Jeffrey, the inventor, who just came up from Toronto this morning to visit the dredge, probed again with the rod, and the same old metal clang came up.

The stone is marked by a circular depression, and has given rise to a belief that this might possibly have been used as an anchor at the time the treasure was sunk, along with other stone weights.

Father Murray left this afternoon fon Montreal, and will not come back until Thursday.

In the meantime the search operation will be carried on, and it is expected that the chest will be raised by Thursday at the latest.

Every precaution will be taken to guard it when brought up.

New and Interesting Facts from Science and Life

Why An Adult Has More Fears Than a Baby

Confronted by a White Rat, the Baby at First Crowed Gleefully, Proving Himself Naturally Without Fear.

Until the Sight of the Rabbit Was Accompanied by the Sound of a Hammer on a Bar, the Baby Showed No Fear.

Fear Causes the Nervous System to Flash an S. O. S. Call to Every Part of the Organism. The Blood Rushes from the Skin, the Digestive Organs, the Liver, and Spleen, to the Front Lines of Defence—the Brain and Muscles.

At Its First Sight of a False Face, the Child Showed More Interest Than Fear.

FAMOUS psychologists, such as William James, have found it impossible to detect the utility of many strange and hampering fear reactions that afflict man. In the bodies of primitive man, however, the automatic mechanism of fear was essential because it was necessary to provide quick mobilization of bodily resources for attack or retreat.

Although most of the dangers that beset primitive man vanished long ago, man of today still acquires in early childhood an army of needless fears that arouse harmful reactions.

From recent interesting experiments, described in Popular Science Monthly by Wilfred S. Ogden, Dr. John B. Watson, New York psychologist, points out how fear arises in children and suggests methods of freeing them of the baneful effects of this emotion.

By Wilfred S. Ogden

THE discovery that babies are born without fear, and remarkable revelations of how the hampering fears that dog every human's footsteps later in life arise, have resulted from a unique series of experiments recently undertakn by Dr. John B. Watson, a noted New York psychologist.

If you are honest with yourself, you will discover that you are more often frightened by simple objects and circumstances than you like to admit. Psychologists have discovered an amazing list of fears that plague grown men and women—fear of the dark, fear of open places, of heights, of lightning and thunder, of sudden noises, or of snakes, rats and cats.

Whence arise these ridiculous "phobias," as the psychologists call them? Why should they make life miserable for apparently strong-minded adults? Dr. Watson's discovery of an explanation may help us bring up future generations in greater freedom.

The problem is important not only because the victim of fear is notoriously a loser in the battle for success, but also because the shocks of repeated fears upset digestion and other normal processes of the body. A sudden fright produces an amazing series of physical reactions, all of which are interestingly explained elsewhere on these pages as having been important to our primitive ancestors, but which, constantly repeated, can only be harmful to men living at the high nervous tension of modern life.

Your fears are not your natural birthright, nor did they "just grow." Most of them were taught you by your parents and other "grown-ups"—almost before you were out of creepers.

Almost every common fear that you can think of has developed from, or has been "conditioned" on, some previous fear. That fear, in turn, has been conditioned on still another fear. Thus, your pet horrors and aversions have multiplied in steady progression, as the years have gone by, from two fundamental fears that startled you and made you cry when you were a helpless baby. These, Dr. Watson's experiments have revealed, were: 1. Loud sounds. 2. Falling, or sudden removal of support.

In tracing the real causes of fear, Dr. Watson has reached these conclusions in his experiments:

Babies are far braver, far less fearful, than adults.

Children learn to be afraid just as they learn the letters of the alphabet—from their elders.

If you want your son or daughter to be fearless, devoid of unreasoning terror, such as those called forth by a kitten or a snake, you must train the child carefully up to the age of 2.

When an infant is 2 years old, according to these new discoveries, its fundamental character is already formed. It has already become fearless or timid, active or indolent. The general pattern of its character, the emotional nature that will make or break the adult, has already been laid down.

The child of 5, Dr. Watson has found, is enormously sophisticated. By the time it enters the kindergarten, it has developed fear and habits that can be eradicated later only with difficulty.

Dr. Watson performed his experiments with infants born in hospitals, where they had been carefully protected from all outside influences. In age they varied from less than 4 months to 1 year.

As one of the methods of determining the cause of fear, each infant was seated in the lap of its mother, and a live animal, hitherto concealed, was suddenly thrust into its arms. Without exception each child crowed with pleasure and patted the animal. Whether it was a cat, a dog, a rabbit, or a white rat, seemed to make no difference. None of the children was naturally afraid of it. The same was true of fire. A baby, the doctor discovered, will reach for a candle until burned fingers teach it not to handle flame.

But if the baby was dropped to a pillow, or even if the experimenter tugged at the blanket on which it was lying, the result was quite different. Fear was invariably produced. The baby's muscles became tense; it sought to crawl away, and if the stimulus was repeated, it cried. Similar reactions were obtained by making a loud noise, usually by striking an iron bar with a hammer.

"But how can we square these observations with the facts of adult life?" asked Dr. Watson.

His final conclusion was that we learn to be afraid as we grow older; for nearly all grown-ups possess fears attached not only to noises and falls, but to animals, persons, places and even general situations. These secondary fears are caused, declares Dr. Watson, by a psychological process called "the conditioning of reflexes." To prove this, he actually developed a fear in one infant, doing under scientific conditions just what parents, through lack of proper supervision, unconsciously permit children to do. The tests were performed with "Albert," a child aged 11 months and 3 days, as the subject.

Repeated tests revealed that Albert at the outset feared nothing but loud noises and the removal of support. He played with a white rat without the slightest display of terror. From this point the fear-developing experiments proceeded.

The white rat was again shown to Albert, but this time as he reached for it, a bar behind him was struck with a hammer. Instantly the baby started and began to cry. He was not afraid of the rat, but he did fear noise.

A week later, the white rat was shown him again. He hesitated for an instant, then reached for it once more. When the bar was struck, he recoiled in terror.

A short time later the rat was shown to him, with no accompanying sound. Instantly the baby began to cry, then raised himself on all fours and crawled away.

The child's first terror of a noise had been transferred, by teaching, into real fear of an animal. And—more significant still—Albert had become afraid, not only of white rats, but of practically all animals. He had even learned to fear anything furry, such as a sealskin coat or a false face, donned by the experimenter. From two fears, he had quickly developed hundreds. A little patient training removed these fears and before long he was playing with the rat again.

"We thus see how easily such conditioned fears may grow up in the home," Dr. Watson observes. "A child that has gone to bed for years without a light with no fear, may, through the loud slamming of doors, become conditioned to darkness."

DOES WOMAN BECOME MORE ATTRACTIVE WITH AGE?

AT what age does a woman cease to be attractive? This question, so often propounded, may be answered, in a way, by asking another: Does woman become more attractive with age? But the real answer to the question is found by referring to famous feminine characters in history whose charm to captivate seemed to increase with the flight of years.

Feminine attractions are manifold, and the particular quality which captures one male understanding may quite as likely as not fall perfectly flat upon others. Beauty of features to some, symmetry of figure, grace of movement or sweetness of voice to others; or, again, it may be none of these, but intellectual gifts, brilliancy of conversation and vivacity of manner or even the more purely domestic virtues which appeal the most powerfully. One or other of these attributes is the property of the vast majority of women, so that not many lack a something with which to charm and attract.

Nor is there any good reason why they should not continue to retain such powers, failing physical breakdown, up to almost any age, for even beauty of features, which no doubt is the quality which prompts the above question, is not, or ought not to be, a matter of age at all. Varying of course in its phases, it is often retained throughout life, increasing rather than deteriorating with the flight of time. There are examples in abundance where a woman is relatively handsomer at 60 than she was at 20, at 30, or even 40.

As regards the other attractive qualities, it is certain not only that they can, and often are, retained through all the years, but that they shine their brightest after middle life has been passed. Such, inquiry will soon satisfy, has ever been the case from the beginning of history.

Turn to history and you will find numerous examples of the long retention by woman of her power to attract. If the ancient writers are to be credited, the destinies of the nations were in the olden times shaped and swayed by the charms of beautiful or intellectual women.

That great struggle which shook the world, the siege and defence of Troy, had for its prime cause the magnetic attraction of Helen, wife of Agamemnon, King of Sparta. Yet that royal lady, at the time when she was carried off by her youthful lover Paris, was 45 years of age, and was not restored to her husband until 10 years later. Long past the bloom of youth to a certainty, great must have been her attractions to have caused one monarch to risk his throne to wrench her from her home and another to raise all Greece for her recovery.

Aspasia, another of the most famous women of antiquity, was, when married to Pericles, closely bordering upon 40, yet for another 30 years to follow she maintained by force either of beauty or wit or both her empire over the hearts of men.

Quite past the bloom of youth too, was Cleopatra when first she appears on the stage of world affairs, being when she first met and at once enslaved Marc Antony, over 30 years of age.

Sabina, consort of the Roman Emperor Marcus Antoninus, regarded when a girl as quite insignificant, was reckoned as a great breaker of hearts long after she had passed 40.

Diana of Poitiers, too, had passed her 36th birthday when she won the heart of Henry II. of England, who was barely half her age.

Coming down to times nearer the present, the examples of women who when far beyond what is termed middle age, continued to exercise a wonderful power of attraction over all men with whom they came into contact, are no less striking.

Anne of Austria, consort of Louis XIII., and mother of Louis XIV., who as Regent ruled France so long and masterfully, is described as being at 38 the most beautiful woman in Europe.

It was not until she was well over 30 that Manon Philpou, wife of Roland de la Platiere, one of the most heroic and ill-fated figures in the great revolution, emerged from the obscurity of provincial life, and she was close upon 40 when she had at her feet so many of the public men of the day, including Louvet the poet, Conborcet the philosopher, and several other notabilities.

A still more striking figure in history, Josephine Beauharnais, was over 40 when Napoleon Bonaparte won her after so ardent a wooing, to be the sharer in his future glories and his bearing her off from numerous rivals aroused as much jealousy as his wonderful military triumphs.

It is noteworthy that of those French women, contemporaries of Josephine, who were esteemed the most beautiful, none were much her junior, Mme. Recamier being 35, Teresa Cabarus, wife of Tallien, 38, and Mlle. Mars 45. Mme. de Grandt, too, was 42 years of age when the celebrated Talleyrand, who had remained indifferent to all the blandishments of younger women, fell a victim to her charms. In connection with these notable women whose youth seemed perennial, Josephine Beauharnais, Mme. Tallien and Mlle. Mars were all Creoles.

Mrs. Siddons, the famous English actress, is described by a writer of her day, speaking of her when she was 20 as "fairly good-looking," and by another when she was 44 as "incomparably beautiful."

So, after all, who can say when a woman is too old to attract, to charm and to captivate?

MINING the AIR for Its VALUABLE ELEMENTS

WHO would have thought that the air man breathes holds a store of elements which are worth many millions of dollars annually? It is a fact, amazing as it may seem; and as a result a new industry is springing up in connection with mining of the air.

The atmosphere consists, roughly speaking, of a mixture of the gases nitrogen and oxygen, as well as quantities of argon and neon, among other things. Since the discovery of a method of liquefying air by extreme cold, scientists have found it possible to separate these constituents in the same way. And all these elements have now assumed a great commercial importance.

Oxygen is often used to maintain life in invalids, yet the amount consumed in hospitals and laboratories is a very small portion of the total output. In the United States alone it is estimated that the annual output of oxygen is a thousand million cubic feet. The present value of that is nearly $15,000,000.

In combination with acetylene oxygen is used to make the intensely hot flame which cuts through steel rails with the greatest of ease. Workmen are often to be seen in the streets using the flame in repairing trolley tracks. The oxy-acetylene process is one of the most important labor-saving devices ever invented, and it was the mining of the air that made it possible.

Oxygen is marketed in steel cylinders, which may often be seen loaded on motor-lorries in any city.

Once the oxygen has been removed from the air, attention is turned to nitrogen, which is trapped from the air for the manufacture of fertilizers—an industry carried on in Norway on an enormous scale. It is used also for the manufacture of explosives, for the filling of so-called nitrogen lamps, while it is sometimes employed for putting out oil fires. Nitrogen is obtained by driving the air over an intensely hot electric arc flame, six feet in diameter, known as the "electric sun." The nitrogen is trapped as nitre oxide, from which the nitrogen itself is ultimately combined to form nitro compounds.

Two of the remaining gases in the air are argon and neon, recently looked upon as rare and costly, but now sold at a few cents a cubic foot. Both these gases are used for filling incandescent electric lamps, while small glass tubes of neon are used for testing sparking plugs in motors.

How FISH Are Actually DROWNED by DROUGHTS

MANY fish are actually drowned during great droughts. They are drowned just as surely as a human being would have been drowned, through lack of oxygen.

All rivers and streams contain air, which is dissolved in the water, and from which the fish extract the oxygen as they pass the water through their gills.

The air gets into the water whenever any splashing occurs, thus, at every waterfall, and even when a tiny wavelet splashes, ever so little, some of the air bubbles are dissolved. Practically all this dissolved air can be driven out of the water by heating; so, if a fish is placed in water that has been boiled and allowed to cool, it will quickly die from suffocation.

In addition to keeping the fish alive, this dissolved air keeps the water free from pollution—which is equally important, for polluted water is most dangerous to health.

Stagnant water can only absorb a fraction of the air necessary to keep it fresh. Constant movement, then, is the means by which water is purified, and nothing becomes foul more quickly than stagnant water; that is, water that has no chance to absorb more air.

For ages it was thought that the oceans and the seas were preserved from pollution by their saltness; but stagnant sea-water becomes foul just as quickly as does fresh water, and there is no doubt that it is the constant movement and splashing of the waves that keeps the seas sweet and pure.

During a long drought the rivers and streams become sluggish and warm. Then not only are they unable to dissolve more air, but the warmth makes them give up a portion of what they have—with disastrous results for the "poor fish."

A POTATO VASE

A VERY satisfactory substitute for a vase for holding cut flowers can be made with a raw potato. The holes in which the stems are to be inserted are bored with the sharp point of a paring knife.

Holes Are Drilled Into a Raw Potato and Stems of Freshly Cut Flowers Are Inserted Therein.

It is claimed that the placing of cut flowers in a potato in this manner will keep the blooms fresh much longer than when they are put in fresh water. Furthermore, this plan permits the arrangement of bouquets in various ways that is not possible with the ordinary vase.

GOING to the CHEMIST for SHOES

MORE and more every year civilized peoples are depending upon chemists to keep them well-shod. While the public may be, for the most part, unaware of it, chemists in many laboratories are busy working toward the production of better leather and good substitutes for leather. In fact, the American Chemical Society has a large division, known as the Division of Leather Chemistry.

Despite the keen competition that exists among American leather manufacturers, there is a spirit of genuine co-operation among the chemists employed in this industry. They do not closely guard their discoveries nor the methods they have developed for cutting corners and getting better results with greater efficiency. On the contrary, they give and take the findings of their scientific and technical investigations.

The requests by tanners for information concerning the availability of papers indicate the growing appreciation of the value of the work of the leather division in increasing the efficiency of practical production, according to Dr. Arthur W. Thomas, of Columbia University, secretary of the division.

The leather industry, while dealing in chemical compounds, was not until comparatively recent years looked upon as a chemical industry. Chemistry made leather possible in the first place, but after it was found that certain infusions obtained chiefly from the bark of oak trees, would preserve animal hides and make them durable, progress in the industry was left, mainly, to increasing production, through tanning more and more hides.

However, there came a time when hides became harder to get, and when there was a steadily increasing demand for leather for a wider variety of purposes. The automobile industry, about 15 years ago, suddenly presented a great demand for upholstery leather which has constantly grown. This, of course, has been met since, largely by leather substitutes—developed by chemists.

The discovery of new compounds for tanning is comparatively recent. Tannin, used in the American leather industry, is commonly obtained from chestnut and quobracho woods and from oak and hemlock barks.

If left untanned, a hide, like meat, decays. In the untanned state the fibres of the hide are glued or matted together by the gelatinous matter in the skin. Tannin, which is a "colloidal" substrange, reacts upon the fibres of the hide and the gelatinous matter separating them so they will slip over each other, at the same time giving a compound of hide and tannin which is immune to attacks of bacteria. This is what prevents decay, makes the leather flexible and insoluble in water. In the dry, untanned hide, the bunches of fibre are stiff and unyielding. When tanned, the strings or fibres are "individualized," so that they move separately without tearing apart. This process also swells or thickens the skin.

When ONIONS Were USED as a MEDICINE

THE ancient Egyptians, it is said, were forbidden to eat the onion, garlic and leek.

According to the priests of Pelusium, the onion was barred because it caused a flow of tears, hunger and thirst, and hence was manifestly out of place in fasts and during religious ceremonies, according to a writer in the New York Medical Record. It did not seem right to weep on occasions of joy or to be tormented with hunger and thirst on days set aside for fasting.

The Hebrews regarded the onion purely for its culinary value. The Greeks were fond of both onions and garlic. The former were apparently used when drinking to increase thirst and enhance the pleasures of the cup. But in the palmy days of Rome the two vegetables had become largely the badge of the rabble.

In the Middle Ages any well-set table contained a plate of red onions. The chief repute of the onion in medicine was as a diuretic and remedy for dropsy. This belief has persisted up to the present time, and it is somewhat strange to find that as early as 1853 onions and a milk diet were pronounced the best remedy for dropsy.

In 1910 Mongour saw a still more remarkable case of cirrhosis of the liver with ascites clear up, after three days of onion eating, with a critical polyuria. Cruchet had seen a patient with dropsy recover after a period of onion eating—fifteen or twenty daily. In 1912 Dalche published his article on the "onion cure." He spoke of a case of a three-quart diuresis produced in a dropsical patient by this resource.

Ruth Gets a Home Run--Toronto Lost Again--Local Sport News

TORONTO LOST PITCHER'S BATTLE TO READING NINE

Babe Ruth Gets Another Homer But New York Loses to Cleveland.

INTERNATIONAL.

Reading 2—Toronto 1.

READING, June 20 (Canadian Press). — With the Reading players covering new positions on the infield, and Post, formerly with Rochester, covering first base, Reading defeated Toronto in a pitching battle yesterday. In the ninth inning the visitors had a rally, and the game ended with the Maple Leafs having two men on the sacks. Score:

Toronto	100000000	1	4 3
Reading	11000000x	2	5 1

Enzmann and Fisher; Karpp and Tragresser.

Jersey City 6—Rochester 2.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., June 20 (Canadian Press). — Jersey City got off to a flying start with a four-run lead in the first inning over Rochester in yesterday's game, and was never headed, winning by a score of 6 to 2, and making it two games straight over the Hustlers. Score:

Rochester	100001000	2	8 1
Jersey City	40100010x	6	5 2

Keenan, Cox and Lake; Hanson and Egan.

Baltimore 11—Buffalo 2.

BALTIMORE, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Baltimore hammered Fisher and Reddy for 14 hits yesterday, and won its sixth straight game by defeating Buffalo, 11 to 2. Groves, who set the League's strike-out record at 15 last season, fanned -3 of the visitors. The only runs off him resulted from a pass and Bengough's homer, which bounded into the pavilion. Score:

Buffalo	000000200	2	4 2
Baltimore	10305020x	11	14 0

Fisher, Reddy and Bengough; Groves and McAvoy, Barry.

AMERICAN.

Cleveland 4—New York 2.

CLEVELAND, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Cleveland defeated New York yesterday, 4 to 2, making it eight straight defeats for New York. Mails pitched brilliantly until taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. He struck out 9 batsmen, including Babe Ruth, twice. Ruth, however, hit a home run with none on in the first inning. Ruth was ejected from the game by Umpire Dineen for disputing a decision on Nunamaker at second in the eighth. Score:

New York	100000010	2	7 0
Cleveland	01000003x	4	10 1

Mays, Jones and Hoffman; Mails, Uhle and O'Neill.

St. Louis 3—Philadelphia 2.

ST. LOUIS, June 20 (Canadian Press). — The Browns strengthened their hold on first place by one game yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, 3 to 2. This puts the locals two and a half games ahead of New York. Score:

Philadelphia	020000000	2	6 4
St. Louis	00200010x	3	2 1

Heimach, Naylor and Perkins; Kolp and Severeid.

Detroit 11—Boston 9.

DETROIT, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Detroit won its seventh straight game yesterday by defeating Boston, 11 to 9, in a slugging match. Heilman was stopped in the fourth by Fullerton after making ten consecutive safe hits. Pratt hit a homer over the scoreboard in the eighth inning, with two runners on. Score:

Boston	010040040	9	12 1
Detroit	31115000x	11	15 1

Quinn, Fullerton, Percy and Ruel; Stoner, Oldham, Johnson, Dauss and Bassler.

Chicago 2—Washington 0.

CHICAGO, June 20 (Canadian Press). — An eighth-inning rally yesterday enabled Chicago to shut out Washington, 2 to 0, in a pitching duel between Schupp and Mogridge. Schupp had wonderful control in the pinches, permitting the Senators only four hits and striking out ten men. Mostil's triple sent the locals' run across the plate. The fielding of Ernie Johnson was a feature. Score:

Washington	000000000	0	4 0
Chicago	00000002x	2	6 0

Mogridge and Gharrity; Schupp and Schalk.

NATIONAL.

St. Louis 5—New York 4.

NEW YORK, June 20 (Canadian Press). — St. Louis hit Douglas hard in the early innings yesterday, and made it two straight from New York, 5 to 4. Pfeffer was helped by splendid support, especially by the infield. Hornsby failed to hit safely, but he scored his fiftieth run, the first National Leaguer to reach that mark. Score:

St. Louis	203000000	5	9 0
New York	020000101	4	10 2

Pfeffer and Ainsmith; Douglas, Causey, V. Barnes and E. Smith.

Philadelphia 8—Chicago 6.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20 (Canadian Press). — A home run drive by Pinch Hitter Peters, scoring two men ahead of him in the ninth inning, gave Philadelphia an 8 to 6 victory yesterday over Chicago. In the Cubs' half of the same inning, with the score tied, Recruit Pitcher Kaufmann smashed a home run with Wirts on base. Score:

Chicago	010003002	6	8 3
Philadelphia	000001304	8	9 1

Stueland, Kaufmann and Wirts; Weinert, Winters and Henline.

Brooklyn 6—Pittsburgh 5.

BROOKLYN, June 20 (Canadian Press). — Johnston's single, followed by Decatur's sacrifice and Wheat's single, scored the winning run in the fourteenth inning and enabled Brooklyn to defeat Pittsburgh, 6 to 5, yesterday. The Dodgers staged a thrilling rally to tie the score in the ninth, scoring four runs on three doubles and two singles. Score:

Pittsburgh	00100002200000	5	11 0
Brooklyn	00010000400001	6	13 4

Glazner, Hamilton and Gooch; Decatur, Vance and Deberry.

GIRLS' BASEBALL.

The Girls' Playground Ball League game Saturday between the Centrals and the Woollens resulted in a 16 to 12 victory for the latter. The Woollens took an early lead, piling up 12 runs in the first two innings and were never in danger from then on.

The P.C.I. girls defeated the Quakers 28 to 15 in a fast game. The game was closely contested from start to finish, but seven runs in the fifth and four in the last gave the P.C.I. girls a lead which the Quakers were unable to overcome.

There are at least 10 aviation companies operating lines in Germany.

LAKEFIELD WINS FAST BALL GAME

Keene Puts Up a Great Battle But Holds Short End of 7 to 6 Score.

LAKEFIELD, June 20.—Keene was defeated by Lakefield 7 to 6 in a hard fought battle in the East Peterboro league last evening. The game was one of the best played on the local diamond and a record crowd turned out to see the contest. Lakefield showed a slight superiority throughout but good playing on the part of the visitors kept the issue in doubt till the final minute of the game.

Hawkins who was catching for Keene sustained a broken rib when he collided with Fitzgerald at the home plate. He received immediate medical aid but was forced to withdraw from the game, and his place was taken by G. O'Dette.

Erskine at first base for Lakefield provived the playing features of the game.

The players were:

Keene—J. O'Dette p, Hawkins c, A. Renwick 1b, Fletcher 2b, Nelson 3b, M. McCarthy ss, J. Mc Carthy lf, M. Renwick rf Robinson cf, G. O'Dette c.

Lakefield—Doughty p, Simpson c, Erskine 1b, Grier 2b, Hull 3b, Fitzgerald ss, Webster cf, Ridpath rf, Sabatino rf, Weaver lf.

GIRLS WILL HAVE A BIG FIELD DAY

Baseball Girls Will Stage Field Day on Saturday Afternoon at Central Park.

Six events have been arranged for the Girls' Baseball field day which will be held in Central Park Saturday afternoon. The events are open to all players in the Girls' Playground Ball League and suitable badges will be awarded the winners in each event. Entries should be meade through Miss Brownscombe of the Y.W.C.A. who will also furnish any other information desired.

The affair will start at 2.30 o'clock sharp and the following events will be run off:

Baseball throw for distance. (Throw from home plate inside 90 degree section).

To bat ball for distance. (Bat from batter box inside diamond.)

Baseball throw at second base. (Throw into barrel at second base on angle 45 degrees, five trials).

Running to first base for time on batted ball. (Hit inside diamond, time made from batters' box to first base.)

Running the bases for time. (On signal "Go" runner sprints around four bases for best time.)

Jack Rosevear away on his honeymoon was responsible for a mix-up in the Lindsay-Peterboro game at Lindsay on Wednesday. Jimmy Anderson undertook to act as umpire and got along fairly well. But when he attempted to amend the rules governing baseball he got into a tangle which will necessitate the attention of the sub committee. Jimmy thought that the game should be called because the ball happened to collide with the base umpire's coco. Trivial things like that must never be allowed to hold up a ball lgame.—Port Hope Guide.

Who Wins--Frisco, Comiskey, McGraw?

JOHN McGRAW (UPPER) AND CHARLEY COMISKEY.

BY BILLY EVANS.

Charles Comskey refuses to be outdone by John J. McGraw.

Last fall the manager of the New York Giants created a sensation in baseball circles by announcing purchase of First Baseman Jimmy O' Connell of the San Francisco club for $75,000.

It was the highest price ever paid for a minor league ball player. Immediately O'Connel became the most talked about individual on the game.

While O'Connell first won fame as a first sacker, in all probability he will be used in the outfield by McGraw.

Now, just as the edge has ded off the O'Connell deal, the White Sox owners goes McGraw tweny-five thousand simoleons better.

The Chicago club has just completed a deal with the San Francisco Club for Third Baseman Willie Kamm for a price said to be $100,000.

It is a rather strange coincidence that these two high-priced athletes should hail from the same minor league club, San Francisco.

The native sons of California perhaps give the old climate the credit

Can They Make Good?

What will the harvest be from this fabulous outlay of money on the part of the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox?

Will O'Connell and Kamm be able to make good on all the nice things they have been said about the did-mond ability.

With the fancy prices that have been paid for the two youngsters, coupled with the widespread publicity, affect their play?

Time alone will tell.

The other day a prominent minor league manager showed me a letter that he had received from Jimmy Byrnes, famous former catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and now scout on the Pacific coast for Connie Mack.

"This fellow O'Connell is a great ball player" writes Byrnes "he can do everything well.

"McGraw made no mistake in landing him regardless of the price paid. O'Connell can hit, field, throw and run.

"You will laugh when I call him a second Ty Cobb. There have been a lot of second Ty Cobbs and most of them have 'flivvered.'

"This fellow O'Connell will make good beyond doubt. He will remind you of Cobb in many ways."

That makes it look pretty good for O'Connell.

Recently I have been paired up with Umpire George Hildebrand, a native son of California, who calls San Francisco home. When the sale of Kamm to the White Sox was announced, I asked him what about Kamm's chances.

Wonderful Hands.

"Kamm is a great ball player," replied Hildebrand, "he will make good. He has a great pair of hands. When he goes after a ground ball, no matter how difficult it is, you are never surprised when he gets it. The only surprise possible is when he doesn't get it. He is one of the surest men on ground balls I have ever seen. He has a wonderful pair of hands."

All of which makes it seem that neither McGraw nor Comiskey erred in their purchase.

FIRPO HAS CONTRACT

MONTEVIDIO, June 20.—(Canadian Press)—Luis Angel Firpo, heavyweight pugilistic champion of South America, arrived here Saturday from the United States. Firpo said he had signed a contract to meet the winner of the forthcoming bout between Joe Beckett and Frank Moran. The battle will take place in London, he said, but the time was not as yet determined.

BEAVERS TRIMMED BY THE WILDCATS

A 6 to 2 Victory Sends the Wildcats Into the Lead of the Corner Lot League.

The Wildcats take the lead in the Corner Lot League, due to their victory last night over the Beavers, 6 to 2. Both teams trotted out a weakened line up owing to the new rule of the League banning Junior City League players, nevertheless, there was some snappy ball played.

Bradley pitched in fine style for the winners fanning nine in his four innings of pitching. Holland pitched well for the losers but at times lacked support. Thorndyke pitched the last three innings for the Wildcats. Because of the good twirling on both sides no long hits were made.

Brooks snappy fielding on third for the losers featured the game.

The players were:

Wildcats—Bradley p, Franks c, Batley 1b, Hunter 2b, Hunt 3b, Thorndyke ss, Elliot rf, Swanger lf, G. Batley cf, Marchand sub.

Beavers—Holland p, Koster c, Masterson 1b, Corkery 2b, Brooks 3b, Perdue ss, Welsh lf, Leahy rf, Guerin cf, Kearn sub.

Score by innings:

PETERBORO MAN SURVIVES QUALIFYING ROUND IN GOLF

R. Abbott of This City Makes Exceptionally Good Showing in the Amateur Tournament.

PLAY TO-DAY.

ANCASTER, June 20.—(Canadian Press).—One Peterboro, nine Toronto, seven Montreal, seven Americans and two Hamilton players were among the thirty two who qualified yesterday to enter the first round of the Canadian Amateur Golf tournament at the Links of the Hamilton golf course. Of the balance the west was represented by two players from Winnipeg and Calgary and the remainder were from various Ontario points. The qualifying round was at medal play over thirty six holes, eighteen in the morning and eighteen in the afternoon. The first pair teed off at 6.30 a.m. and the last pair turned in their cards at 8 p.m. The first round will be played to-day after a play off by five men for two places.

The qualifying scores ran from 153 to 169 and the successful players and their aggregate scores follow;

The players who scored 169 are the men who will play off.

Chief honors of the day go to W. J. Thompson, of Toronto, who by his aggregate of 153, wins the gold medal for the lowest score in the qualifying round. Mr. Thompson played sterling golf. He was always steady, but occasionally was brilliant. His two rounds included a majority of the holes done in par, with a couple of birdie twos. Where he fell away from the par scores he was never more than one over.

Mr. Thompson turned in his winning score a little while after Seymour Lyon had completed the double trips in 154. Mr. Lyon also played consistent golf doing both the eighteens in seventy-seven.

The champion, Frank Thompson, began the day brilliantly, registering a par seventy-three for the morning. He made an execrable beginning in the afternoon. Nothing he did seemed to be right, as his total for nine holes, 45, showed. He steadied nown a little after that and finished the round in another 40 but his lapse lost him the gold medal which the other players, after his morning round, though nobody stood a chance of winning from him.

A player that also made what looked like an auspicious beginning was C. C. Fraser, of Montreal, one of the few who broke less than eighty in the morning. His seventy-seven was a creditable performance. He was ten strokes worse in the afternoon round. C. B. Grier, of Montreal; William McLuckie, of Hamilton, all ex-champions, did not seem to settle down to their regular games.

A player whose work impressed the good judges of championship golf was R. Abbott, of Peterboro, Ont. Mr. Abbott is a player of well tried merit, having been state champion of Connecticut two years ago. He originally hailed from Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Abbott made a bad start, his morning card reading 84. In the afternoon, however, he put on a seventy-four.

G. H. Turpin, Montreal, champion of Quebec, was another man with an established reputation, who could not repeat his best style of playing in the morning struggle, though he did nicely in the afternoon with carefully played outward and inward journeys for seventy-nine.

In the afternoon the temperature was quite high, falling away till it became chilly as evening approached. Most of the really good scores were made in the middle of the afternoon.

LAWN BOWLING

Tonight—Post Office and Nashua Paper meet at eight o'clock at the Water street alleys in the Mercantile Five Pin League. The Post Office team is leading in the second half and by winning two games tonight will make them winners of the second half. The Post Office team has only lost two games and both games to the Telephone bunch last week. The Bell Telephone team is winner of the first half. If the Post Office wins tonight a play-off with Telephone and Post Office teams will take place on Friday night to finish up the league.

LEASIDE TEAM WILL MEET THE PETES TOMORROW

Game is Called for 5.30 P.M. at Riverside Park Big Crowd will See the Battle.

The first Central League twilight game of the season will be staged at Riverside Park to-morrow evening at 5.30 o'clock, when the fast Leaside team will clash with the Petes. Leaside team, although down in the League race, have a well balanced outfit who will take a lot of beating. They have not been getting the breaks, but the fact that they have twice recently beaten the crack Oslers of Toronto indicates that Manager Peacock's crew are a dangerous outfit. Our own Micky Murray is playing third, and Joe Dillon, formerly of the Hamilton Harvesters, is one of the smoothest first sackers in the League. Maguire, a clever southpaw twirler, and Tracey Shaw, reliable backstop, form the battery, and the rest of the team are of similar calibre. They are out to take the scalps of the Peterborough team to-morrow evening, and the game should be one of the best clashes of the season. It will get away sharp at 5.30. Merchants and clerks who are not able to see a game on Saturday, will welcome this opportunity of seeing a Central League fixture, while the game is called late enough to allow employees of factories a chance to be on hand.

GUARANTEED GARMENTS NEVER RISKY TO BUY

Prices of suits vary, but they vary according to the class of good workmanship and the quality of the materials. The style and fit of the suit depends on how well it is tailored.

It takes a good tailor to make a suit to custom measure, and the Semi-ready tailors take extra pains to read and study the figure on their photo-type form charts. This means better style and fit—a guaranteed garment, and Stock's Men's Wear Shop have all the lastest designs from the Chief Designers of Semi-ready tailored clothes.

LAST DAY FOR THE BRUISERS

Must Declare Their Intentions and Quit Stalling.

NEW YORK, June 20.— (Canadian Press.)—To-day was the last day of grace granted by the New York Athletic Commission to Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Wilson, respectively feather-weight and middleweight boxing champions to agree to meet challengers for their respective titles. Failure to do so, the Commission announced in a recent ultimatum to both boxers, will result in forfeiture, so far as its jurisdiction is concerned, of their championship claims, which will be thrown open to all contenders making the required weight.

TO BE TRIED BY JUDGE ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY.

COBOURG, June 20.—Henry Doxstater and Mary Grace Borland Doxstater, who were arrested in Rochester on Saturday and brought back to Cobourg by Chief John C. Ruse, came before Chief Magistrate Floyd, charged with bigamy. They elected to be tried by the Judge without a jury. Doxstater is not a [illegible] School Principal. His early home was, however, in the north - east of Northumberland County.

At The Theatres

ROYAL—Corinne Griffith in "It Isn't Being Done." Second feature, "Pilgrims of the Night." Comedy, "Bright Eyes."

CAPITOL — Betty Compson in "The Green Temptation." Balance of usual Captiol programme.

REGENT—Bebe Daniels in "Two Weeks with Pay." Sparkling comedy, news and scenic pictures.

One of the most interesting pictures seen here in some time is "The Green Temptation" at the Capitol Theatre this week. With backgrounds that shift in ordered sequence from an Apache dive in Paris to the dressing-room of the premier danseuse at the Theatre des Beaux Arts, then to the ballroom of the Duchesse de Chazarin, the battlefields of France, with impressive scenes among the wounded and dying, and finally to New York, to a Newport home among the ultra rich, where the actors assemble for the last act, it is a production that sustains its interest from start to finish.

Betty Compson is the street waif, the dancer and thief of the Parisian underworld who attracts the attention of a theatrical magnate, and rises, through her dancing, to be the idol of the French city. Beautiful, temperamental and unrestrained she leads a dual existence, stealing by night to the Apache den of thieves, and giving them clues to rich hauls through her association with Parisian aristocrats. The theft of the "Green Temptation", the great emerald which spells bad luck to thieves, brings retribution upon her, and she finally escapes only by entering the ranks of the Red Cross nursing sisterhood. Genelle, the Apache, who became Coralyn, the dancing idol of the city, is changed once more to Jeanne Paget the minstering angel of the battlefield, whose slender fingers, used to abstracting gems from white necks, are commissioned for the skilful adjusting of bandages. Through the crucible of the Great Conflict, the girl's whole nature is transformed and later, in New York, when the opportunity of grasping the "Green Temptation" once more is offered to her, she comes triumhantly through the test. Theodore Kosloff, as Gaspard, the Harlequin, and master of thieves, who re-appears as Count Oudry, of the Belgian Relief, has a splendid and tragic part in the picture, and the element of mystery is intensified throughout by the mysterious English lover of Jeanne.

An episode of the "White Eagle" serial, in which the veiled Night Rider is prominent; an animated cartoon and Aesop Fable reel, and a 'Snub' Pollard comedy, is which the small, whiskered gentleman enacts the part of a City Dog Catcher, complete the programme.

The new orchestra was the chief attraction at the theatre last evening. Composed of piano, violin, bass viol, and drums; it is a bright, tuneful organzation, with an evident fondness for syncopation and sudden finishes n its light, high-pitched incidental music. The conductor, Mr. McFayden, at the piano, holds his men together with skilful ease, the violinist has a strong, clear tone the bass viol forms the rich background essential for a small orchestra of this type, and the drummer is a real artist. His work with cymbals, bells and marimbaphone last night was immense. Particularly pleasing was the interpretative musical score accompanying the feature picture. with the "Marseillaise" for the war scenes played in wonderful style. The overture was "The Call of the Elk", a musical comedy selection that was an excellent advance number for an orchestra that promises to be a decided adjunct to musical attractions in Peterboro.

MANY EX-SERVICE MEN ACT IN "FOOLISH WIVES"

Soldier Atmosphere of Monte Carlo Scene Provided by Men in Uniform.

Hundreds of ex-service men were employed at Universal City, Cal., during the production of "Foolish Wives", the costly photodrama of Monte Carlo to be shown at the Capitol Theatre soon. They were used to give the proper soldier atmosphere at the famous Mediterranean pleasure resort, which also was a leave area of the Allied Armies during the winter following the armistice .

Among the former soldiers who appear in the various scenes, in their own uniforms, are men and officers from almost every Allied Army. Included in this list are Lieut Edwin C. Parsons, and Ace in the Lafayette Esca drille and the holder of many French and Belgian war cross; Major Cartwright of the Dublin Fusileers, Captains Machael Kustoff and Boris Germanoff of the Russian army; Major Ram Singh, of the British Hindoo forces; Captain B. Given, a British hero of Vimy Ridge; Jean Franke, a non-commissioned officer in the Belgian army, of many decorations; Baron Jarvis, who holds British war medals for both the Boer and the World Wars; Roger McKennon, a noted Anzac, and Lieut. Felix O'Rourke of the Scottish Highlanders.

sweet, motherly women and the Princess Olga is anything but that sort of person. She is a gentlewoman to all appearances, in the first scenes of the picture, and a most sophisticated one at that—so, according to custom among fashionable people in the Monte Carlo set, a white wig was the required mode of head dress, and so, said Miss George, "I wore the wig." There are some exciting scenes with a maid, played my Miss Dale Fuller, who is a wonderful actress—the censor has done away with some of her work but he did leave the scene when Olga, in pique over a dish not just seasoned to her taste, pinches her faithful servitor, and, by the way, Miss Fuller vows she had black and blue bruises on her arm after those scenes had been shot. Miss George also spoke of certain beautiful sets—all of them made in the Universal studios in California, reproductions of the famous Casino, of the charming villa Amerosa home of a thousand loves, and on the coast in California, near Monterey, there was a villa specially constructed to overlook the sea; on the terrace of this gorgeous place some of the most interesting events of the whole story takes place—in fact, the key to the whole play is given there in a few masterful photographs. While the pictures were being taken, the weather was often quite cold—in fact Miss George said that she could hardly hold the counterfeit notes given to her by the co-swindler, Ventricci, Her hands were so cold—of course, she had to wear delicate negligees, while the men were muffled to their necks uniforms. He negligees worn in the breakfast scene and those of Miss Du Pont throughout the play in some scenes which thrill people with out offending good taste, are simply wonderful—but so are all other clothes which the principals wear—all of them chosen with a nicety of judgment and discrimination which defy criticism.

Yet, as behooves a truthful expose of life there are other scenes which give a glimpse of those who exist even in the false, luxurious atmosphere of Monte Carlo. For just as there are gamesters, adventuresses, swindlers, and rich "foolish wives", so are there good, pious souls There are cripples and poverty stricken shepherds who dwell in wretched hovels—there are Russian wolfhounds and mongrels—thre are Satan satellites and holy friars. "Foolish Wives" is the most glittering, soul-stirring kaleidoscope of Life ever seen in Peterboro.

AT THE ROYAL.

ORIENTAL ATMOSPHERE FOUND IN NEW YORK.

Film Room in Which Famous Diamond Robmery Occurred.

Gathered at the picturesque estate of Alfred Hertz, where Mrs. Enrico Caruso, summer tenant, suffered the loss of $400,000 worth of jewels by robbery, Corinne Griffith and her supporting company had some strange and interesting experiences.

The site was selected by Vitagraph scouts because of the Oriental scenes and setting on the estate. These served admirably as locations for scenes in "It Isn't Being Done This Season," a new Corinne Griffith production, now shown at the Royal Theatre, in which much of the action takes place on the estate of a wealthy Turk in Smyrna. Some of the scenes were taken in the room where the $400,000 jewellery robbery was committed.

While the Oriental atmosphere achieved by the artist owner of the place was exactly what George L. Sargent, who directed the production, was looking for, it was found necessary, however, to construct an artificial lake. This was done and part of the action filmed before dark on the day of its completion. Next morning when the production force started out to work again the lake was gone. Some one suggested that the robbers who got Mrs. Caruso's jewels had come back and stolen the lake. It was discovered, however, that the water had made its own escape. A new lake was provided, and the production went on.

'It Isn't Being Done This Season' is a thrilling melodrama of rapid action.

There is a picture at the Royal Theatre this week which is unusual in more ways than one, but to the hardened picture reviewer, it is extraordinary in that it actually fulfills all expectations aroused by the advance notices.

It is "Pilgrims of the Night," a J. L. Frothington production released by Associated Producers, and the preliminary notices declared it to be a story "filled with romance, adventures, thrills and human interest." It is and even more so.

E. Phillips Oppenheim is responsible for the story, for the film is an adaptation of his "Passers By" and in the transition the plot has lost none of its high tension interest. International crooks, gamblers, French detectives, bank robberies, plots and counter plots all weave into each other in a way that only Mr. Oppenheim can accomplish them. The beautiful girl heroine and the manly man hero came to the happy ending but for a long time it looks as if they were both due for a tragedy.

Lewis Stone, as Lord Ellingham, a man who has sacrificed reputation to protect an erring wife, divides honors in the picture with Rubye De Remer, as Christine who is the beautiful heroine. William V. Mong and Frank Leigh, undoubtedly deserve great credit for their histrionic ability, but so notably do they display these talents in portraying criminal role that you can't help but be glad that they are killed.

Walter McGrail is so nice that you are glad he is the man Christine gets, and you are satisfied that Kathleen Kirkham is going to make a perfectly lovely wife for Lord Ellingham. Raymond Hatton makes the ideal French detective.

All together it is a production that is well worth seeing for combined with a real story, the film carries some of the most beautiful scenes that have ever been shown on a local screen.

Rubye De Remer, Lewis S. Stone and Chicco, in "Pilgrims of the Night."

GAVE A RECITAL.
A piano recital was given at Bethany by the pupils of Miss Olga Fowler. There was a good attendance, and considerable pleasure was expressed at the rapid advancement made by the pupils and the very creditable work of Miss Fowler. As all of the pupils are at different stages of advancement, it would be unfair to make special mention of any, but they were certainly a credit to their teacher.

ANOTHER GIFT FOR COBOURG
At the meeting of the Counties Council last week the tax rate was increased by one mill. Dr. Ferris was appointed physician at the Counties House of Refugee to succeed Dr. Field resigned; the Cobourg Horse Show was given another gift of two hundred dollars at the expense of the ratepayers. Most of us who attend the Horse Show feel that the admission is high enough to make the Show self-sustaining.— Port Hope Guide.

OBITUARY

EDWARD HOGAN.
After a short illness the death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital last night of Edward Hogan, a well-known and highly-respected resident of Douro. The death of Mr. Hogan will prove a shock to a wide circle of friends, who respected him for his inherent qualities of kindness and generosity. Two brothers, Albert of Barrie and James of Whitby, survive, as well as three sisters, Mrs. Patrick McMurray, Douro, Sister Berchmans of St. Andrew's Convent in St. Andrew's West, and Miss Nellie of Douro.
The funeral will take place on Thursday at 8 a.m. from the family residence, Lot 14, Concession 3, Douro, to St. Joseph's Church and Cemetery.

DELORME TRIAL.
Evidence of Newspapermen Regarding Accused's Mentality.
MONTREAL, June 20. (Canadian Press.) — At this morning's session of Adelard de Lorme's trial it transpired that in a great majority of the public statements given by him to the newspapermen prior to his arrest there was insistent suggestion regarding his mentality. He seemed to particularly raise that questoin and to emphasize that he was fully competent mentally.
When newspapermen counselled him against raising this question at all he became angered and accused them of omitting the most important part of his statements.
Such in brief was the gist of the testimony heard this morning in the Court of King's Bench where Adelard de Lorme, charged with the murder of his half brother Raold, is fighting being sent to trial on the grounds that he is mentally unfit to face a judge and jury.

TWELVE CENTS FOR STRAWBERRIES TO-DAY

The Price is Due to Go to Ten Cents Before the Week is Out.

Strawberries sold as low as twelve cents a box in Peterborough to-day. This is the price that several growers obtained by selling direct to the consumers. Store prices opened at eighteen cents and quickly dropped to fifteen cents. It is believed that another day or two will see the price go to ten cents. In Western Ontario the prevailing price is eight cents a box. Vendors of milk and others who try to sell their berries from door to door manage to muster enough nerve to ask the same prices as the stores. They apparently discount the overhead, such as taxes, etc., which the storekeepers are compelled to pay. Go to a berry grower and ask him how much his berries are and he will immediately call up the retailer to get a line on the prices.

RUTH SUSPENDED.
President Johnson Laid Slugger off for Third Time for Argument With Ump.
CHICAGO, June 20. (Canadian Press.) — Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees received his third lay off of the season when President Ban Johnston of the American League, suspended him for his argument in yesterday's game at Cleveland with Umpire Dineen.

Sunlight New Cure For Many Ills

NEW YORK.—The rays of the sun work chemical changes in the blood of human beings and animals, according to the evidence of a series of experiments which have been carried on at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, connected with Columbia University.
The effect of the sun in killing bacteria is well known and its beneficial effect on health also is well known, but it is said that the direct chemical effect of the sun on the blood has not been previously shown. Some portion of the ultra-violet rays, which produce photographic and other chemical effects, are believed to pass through the skin, operating powerfully on the blood circulating in the capillaries.
The direct chemical action of the sun was established in the course of a study of sunlight on children afflicted with rickets. Exposure to the direct rays of the sun, it was reported, invariably effected a cure. One of the conditions always found to be associated with rickets was a deficiency of inorganic phosphorus in the blood. Tests of the blood were made on the day young patients were exposed to the sunlight treatment and on successive days until they were cured. Although the diet was not changed in any way, the tests showed a continual increase in inorganic phosphorus, as the treatment proceeded. X-ray pictures proved that the blood, its composition apparently corrected by sunlight, gradually repaired the rickety bonds.
Rickets in a mild form is a common disease among children, especially in large cities. It afflicts children of well-to-do families as well as those of the poor and occurs on diets of the most expensive certified milk, as well as on poorer grades of milk. The evidence that it is caused by lack of sunlight has been confirmed by experiments on animals which showed that it was regularly contracted by those kept in darkness. Other animals on the same diet, but exposed regularly to sunlight, did not contract the disease.
As rickets is largely a seasonal disease, appearing most frequently in winter and frequently disappearing in summer, its cause was associated partly with a deficiency of sunlight. It may occur, so far as known, on any diet, although bad hygiene and bad diet is associated with it.
It had been supposed that rickets was caused by a diet lacking in vitamines. As sunlight cures the disease, without any change from the deficient diet, it is argued either that the absence of the vitamine is not the true cause of the disease or that the sun has an effect equivalent in creating the missing vitamines in the blood.

Mrs. C. G. Graham is in Port Hope for a few days.
Miss Dorothea McClelland left yesterday for an extended trip to Syracuse, New York City and points on the Hudson.

TWELVE YEARS WAS SENTENCE GIVEN BANDIT

Sarnia Trial Came to a Halt This Morning With Proposal to Lay Cases Over For Next Court.

EIGHT DAY TRIAL

SARNIA, June 21.—(Special.) — With dramatic suddenness, the trials of the four alleged bandits, charged with robbery of the Wyoming Bank of Toronto, came to a halt this morning with the granting of an application by defense counsel, W. R. Meredith, for a postponement until the next court, of trials of George Anderson and John Yohn, with the passing of a twelve year sentence upon William Ayres, found guilty last night of complicity in the robbery.

Ayres, who has perceptibly worn by the suspense since the verdict returned against him last evening, received his sentence without comment or visible emotion. For a moment, as Judge Taylor uttered the words "twelve years," the prisoner leaned against the rail of the dock, but quickly recovered himself. It was also agreed that the retrial of Edward McMullen, alleged leader of the bank bandits, in whose case the jury disagreed last week, be laid over until next court of competent jurisdiction. Defense counsel and Crown agreed that Anderson and Yohn would not be called for trial unntil the December sessions of the peace, and the understanding is that McMullen's case will also go over until then. At the Fall Assizes in September the prisoners will be arraigned, but the Crown will ask that their cases be traversed until December.

Jurymen Influenced.

Like a bolt from the blue, on the eighth day of the trial of the alleged bandits, and following closely upon the conviction of Ayres, came Mr. Meredith's application, at the opening of the court this morning. Defense counsel pointed out that all the jurymen on the present panel had been sitting in court during the trials of McMullen and Ayres and that they could not, therefore, sit on either of the other two cases without the possibility of being sub-consciously influenced by the evidence which they had already heard.

"The Crown is unavoidably opposed to this proposal," Crown Attorney Willson declared. "It is difficult to satisfy a defence."

Judge Taylor, after further argument, expressed himself in favor of the application made by the defense, admitting that the evidence given in the previous case might have some effect on future juries.

PLAY FOR SECOND ROUND GOLF FINAL

ANCASTER, Ont., June 21. — (Special).—Play in the second round of the Canadian amateur golf championship commenced at ten o'clock this morning in threatening weather. There are only eight matches of 36 holes each to be played to-day, and some interesting games are expected.

The first pair to tee off were John Haddon, of Toronto, and McLuckie, of Montreal. L. B. Paton, of Danvers, Mass., meets C. C. Fraser, of Kanawaki. A. H. Turpin, of Royal Montreal, meets C. M. Jones, of Scarboro. Frank Thompson, of Mississauga, the present holder of the title, meets L. L. Bredin, of Detroit. Bredin is the dark horse of the tourney, and it is freely predicted by the experts he will capture the title. He has been playing excellent golf, and showed his class when he disposed of Seymour Lyon, by eight and seven yesterday. Another match that is sure of attracting a large gallery is between Geo. S. Lyon, of Lambton, and W. J. ("Bill") Thompson, of Mississauga. Both are playing excellent golf, and it would be hard to select the ultimate winner. B. L. Anderson, of Lambton, the secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, meets N. M. Scott, of Royal Montreal. R. McAuliffe, of Buffalo, clashes with W. M. Hodgson, of Royal Montreal, in the final match.

LINK WITH PAST

It is possible that among the older residents of the city will be a few who may remember of Charles W. Hartley, who lived in the town in the early fifties of the last century, and who went away in 1862. He was not of the family of Hartleys who have been associated with life in the town and city, in the long ago, but was born at Newcastle, Ont., in 1841. When sixteen years of age he came to Peterborough and worked in the saddlery and harness-making shop of the late Thomas Donnelly. This business was in after years taken over by Benjamin Shortly, now retired after many years of service.

Hartley stayed in the town until 1862, when he went to the States, and eventually settled at Greenport, Long Island, and became one of the best known and useful citizens for the last sixty years. He passed away in the first days of June of this year, very generally regretted. He worked for a man named Henry Kane, and after five years bought out the business and continued the trade. An article in a recent issue of the Greenport paper speaks of the deceased man as a most stimable citizen, identified with all good offices and most useful in social service work.

He prided himself on renewing his connection (first acquired at Peterborough) with the local fire brigade, and was a member of Phoenix Hook and Ladder Co., and the oldest active fireman in the village, having for fifty-six years helped to pull the truck to every local fire. His funeral seems to have been the occasion for general municipal respect to be shown, the stores all closing for the afternoon. The local paper remarks that innumerable were the testimonials certifying to his helpfulness and efficiency, and adds that the community has lost an upright citizen, whose life was one long effort to do good and to bestow kindness and cheer.

Dr. E. H. Wood, of this city, came to know the man, through visiting in the village to relatives of Mrs. Wood. Dr. Wood tells of the large interest that Mr. Hartley took in Peterborough, and on all opportunities would recall people, places and incidents that were imprinted in his memory. On these visits all work was set aside while he did the honors of the burg and spent many an hour in enjoyable conversation, largely of the past years.

While having become an American citizen, he still had his regard for Peterborough, being much in the way of thought of the old Latin, who loved not Rome the less but Caesar the more.

Several times he re-visited Peterborough, and invariably looked up Dr. Wood for a conference. Very few remembered him after the lapse of the intervening years. It is understood that two sisters, younger than he, live to the east of the Lift Lock, in the country. He was a friend of Geo. A. Cox, at the time when Mr. Cox was first identified with the town and its interests.

INDORSED THE WARDEN'S IDEA FOR ECONOMY

County Council in Favor of Paying Highway Levies Out of Current Revenue.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT

Warden Strickland's suggestion to the County Council that the policy of "pay as you go' should be employed in financing the county road construction and maintenance was endorsed by the special committee appointed to reply to the Warden's address.

We thankfully unite with the Warden in his expression of gratitude felt in the prospect of a bountiful harvest to recompense the labour of those engaged in agriculture and to increase the prosperity of all classes of the people.

The resignation of the Superintendent and the Nation of the House of Refuge are much to be regretted, especially as they are due to the ill health of Mrs. Campbell. A serious responsibility rests upon the Council in satisfactorily filling the vacances and those appointed will be entitled to receive the encouragement and support of the Council in carrying on their important work.

We agree with the Warden upon the importance of maintaining good means of communication within the county and the desirability of meeting the necessary expenditure there for without the issue of debentures Other matters referred to in connection with the highway matters will doubtless afford subjects for dis cussion in the Road and Bridges Committee.

We desire to express our appreciation of the services rendered by the Warden and the interest shown by him in the County's affairs, and to assure him that he has our united support.

(Signed) Duncan Brown,
Chairman.

A GARDEN PARTY AT THE Y.W.C.A.

Shower For the Girl'-Camp Was a Big Success—The Program.

A garden party was held yesterday at the Y.W.C.A. in connection with the shower for the 'Y' camp at Stoney Lake. There was a good attendance during the afternoon and evening, and many useful and pretty articles were received for the camp including a quantity of preserves, books, cushions and cutlery. The lawn, decorated under the supervision of Mrs. R. H. Turner, with pennants ,daisies and peonies was an attractive gathering-place for patrons of the dainty refreshments, in charge of Mrs. H. Foote, assisted by the Misses Thressa Taylor, Grace Evans and Ethel Elliott.

In the evening, the swimming pool was a center of interest, with various stunts and diving exhibitions performed in the water by some of the younger girls of Miss Smellie's classes.

A musical programme included a quartette of Hawaiian guitars and ukuleles, composed of the Misses Jerry Glover, Gladys Mulholland, Jean Girard and Florence Thompson; a violin and cornet duet by the Messrs. Bob and Billy Cormack, and a number of dances on the greensward; 'The Rustic Courtship' prettily enacted by the Misses Jessie Hodgson and Kathleen Cooney, an interpretative dance "Valse Brillante", by Martha Kirn, and "My Lady Goes-A-Walking", by two wee tots from the junior dancing class of the 'Y' Bertha Lob ban and Mary Dunlop. Accompaniments for the dances were furnished by Gwen Donley at the piano and Arnold Spencer, violinist. The J. M. Greene Music Company loaned the gramophone for the occasion.

Union Chiefs Will Hold Meetings Consider Joint Strike Campaign

CINCINNATI, June 21. — (Canadian Press). — Further meetings to consider the joint strike action were being planned to-day between the leaders of the striking coal miners and rail unions that are threatening a nation-wide rail walk-out next month. Union chiefs indicated that they expected to hold a conference here this week, to be followed by a later meeting in Chicago, where the rail leaders will canvass a strike vote next week.

Delay in beginning consideration of the organized labors' plan for combatting the court decisions averse to unions was encountered when the American Federation of Labor resumed work to-day with the announcement of the programme to be proposed by the Special Policy Committee was expected to be presented later in the day.

CHEESE TRADE FIRMER TO-DAY

Local Factories Secure Higher Prices For Their Cheese--1185 Boxes Sold.

An improvement in the cheese business was reflected in the price of 1,185 boxes sold at the sale of the Peterborough Cheese Board to-day. The price was up from 13 1-2 cents a pound to 16 3-4 and 16 7-8 cents, and the salesmen, excepting Lang, were pleased at the situation. Lang, who boarded 50 boxes, refused to take the price offered, remarking that at the last sale Shearer got two cents more in Montreal than they did, "and he guessed they'd ship to Montreal." G. A. Gillespie declared that it was not the same week as their sale that Shearer got the higher price, but the following week after the rise in price.

The buyers were of the opinion that the price was a good one and William Flavelle, of Flavelles Ltd., Lindsay, well known produce man, told the Examiner he did not think the high price would continue. It represented a fluctuation due to an improvement in Europe and a shortage in the American market, but in his opinion would not be permanent, and he said he expected it to be followed by a reaction.

Factories Boarded.

There was the largest aggregation of buyers at any sale this season. G. A. Gillespie, J. S. Cook of W. S. Cook and Son, Belleville, A. Nicholson of Madoc, buying for A. A. Aires, Montreal, William Flavelle, Lindsay, and H. R. Free of Campbellford, were in the market for cheese, although Mr. Free did not buy. The cheese boarded was as follows: Warminster 70, Selwyn 130, Villiers 160, Warsaw 180, Ormonde 100, Young's Point 100, Lang 50, North Dummer 50, East Emily 50, Cedardale 40, Norwood 180, Killarney 50, South Burleigh 25. Total, 1,185 boxes.

Mr. Flavelle opened the bidding at 16 cents. The four buyers contended for the cheese. Mr. Flavelle dropped out at 16 1-4, Mr. Nicholson at 13-16c. and Mr. Cook bid 7-8 for selections. He took 610 boxes and Mr. Gillespie 320 at 16 3-4. Warsaw is experimenting with clarified cheese and is not selling on the board. Warsaw, South Burleigh and Lang accounted for the other cheese.

The sale was the largest held this year. Two weeks ago only 704 cheese was sold. The board will hold their next sale in two weeks.

GETS THE PRESIDENCY.

Heads For the Various Commissions at The Hague Appointed To-Day.

THE HAGUE, June 21.—(Canadian Press).—Holland was assigned the presidency of the Central Commission of Conferences on Russian Affairs here when the selection of heads of this commission and three sub-commissions of the Conference was made to-day, while representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy respectively head three sub-commissions.

The estates of the Dukes of Wellington are still held by an annual offering to the king of England of a flag.

IN WARDEN'S CHAIR

JOHN C. STRICKLAND

Reeve of Lakefield and Warden of the county, who is presiding over the June sessions of the County Council with such becoming gravity and dignity that no one could imagine him in the role of trundling a wheelbarrow over the ten miles of road from Lakefield even to win a wager; but Lakefield men are "game" and simply refuse to be bluffed, and good wholesome fun enters largely into the community's affairs. Hence their activities in curling, baseball and other sports. Wouldn't Warden Strckland make an ideal Kiwanian or Rotarian —and Lakefield has a lot of others who might also qualify.

CHANGES IN BOARD OF EMPIRE STEEL

Plans For Financing Are Ready to be Launched by Directors.

MONTREAL, June 21.—(Special). —Rumors are current here of sweeping changes in the board of the British Empire Steel Corporation incidental to the proposed financing plans. It is said two American houses will be associated with a leading Canadian bond-house in the financing, if the reports now being prepared proves satisfactory. It is reported in highest financial circles that Sir Herbert Holt, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, Montreal light, Heat and Power Consolidated, and several other leading corporations had been approached with a view to taking the presidency. It is also stated that several of the present directors will be retired and the board filled with new interests close to the proposed underwriters.

THE WEATHER

To-day is the longest day of the year. Since a few days before Christmas the days have been slowly lengthening until to-day. The sun now rises and sets at his farthest north in the east and west, and at noon is at his highest point in the zenith. To-morrow he will begin to recede southward rising a little later in the morning and setting a little earlier in the evening. This season has been ideal, with no drawbacks in the shape of killing frosts or burning droughts. While there was a little frost one morning last week, its effect was barely noticeable. Rains have come just when needed, and have been succeeded by cloudy days, thus allowing the rainfall to be utilized to its utmost, instead of being evaporated by scorching sun or strong winds. There are here the necessary ingredients on which to base a sermon, but forbear, only hoping we may all have thankful hearts for the favors bestowed upon us.—W. P.

TERRIBLE POGRAMS.

Entire Jewish Population of Four Towns Wiped Out.

COPENHAGEN, June 21.—(Canadian Press).—Helsingfor's message to the Berlingske Tidende says that terrible pograms have been committed in the Ukraine. The entire Jewish population of four towns is reported to have been massacred. This report has not been confirmed from other sources.

WAS RELEASED FROM COVENANT EVANS CLAIMS

Feature Assertion of the Defence in Alfonse Fontaine's Action for $1,900 Over Garage Purchase.

CASE CONCLUDED.

The defense in the action of Fontaine vs. Evans was concluded at 5 o'clock on Tuesday, and counsel proceeded at once with the argument. Judge Huycke reserved his judgment. Mr. S. T. Medd conducted the case for the plaintiff, Alphonse Fontaine, and Mr. Strickland, represented the defendant, George Evans.

In his examination by Mr. Strickland defendant related the circumstances that led up to the sale of the garage.

Mr. Fontaine asked me one day if I'd sell and I said yes and mentioned $4000. He said it was a little high. He looked over the place and said that when I changed my mind and was willing to cut that figure in half he might do business. Some time later he met me on Charlotte stteet and said I hadn't called him up. I said, no but if he wanted to buy the place he could have it for $2000. We talked it over a little more, and he paid $100 down and $1100 the following day".

Mr. Evans referred to the list of goods that had been sold in the deal This list had been made up roughly and Mr. Fontaine had said that was good enough.

Mr. Strickland— What about the coils?

Mr. Evans —There were more in stock. I don't remember how many Probably some were old ones. From what I heard Mr. Fontaine say in his evidence that one belonged to Mr. Breyfogle that is probably correct. Old coils are usually junked unless the owners ask for them

In regard to an alemite gun and grease cups, a new lubricating system, defendant said these goods had been worth $400. He had sold some of them an wasn't sure of the value of what remained.

Did you hold out in the deal that these goods were worth $300?—No.

It was just part of the goods that made up $2000?—Yes.

Mr. Evans said he never made a demand on Fontaine for any payment under the mortgage. "He led me to believe he was in difficulties. I said I wouldn't foreclose it and to keep going. I didn't want to use him hard."

"Later in the winter he said he was going to sell half an interest. He wanted me to drop the mortgage and to take notes. I asked him if he'd release me from the agreement and he said "why certainly go ahead."

Defendant said he did the first work in his new garage on George street north on February 25. About that time, he recalled, Mr. Fontaine let go of the Service Garage altogether.

Repeating the conversation about release from the agreement, Mr. Evans said—"I told him I wanted to build. I thought I had, used him fair, and I asked him would he release me as I wanted to start up for myself. He said go ahead, you may do me a little harm but there's probably enough for everybody".

To Mr. Medd defendant said he had had a large patronage at the Charlotte street, garage and much of it followed him to his new garage at the corner of George and Smith streets. He denied that he had solicited Mr. Cyril Lech or Mr. F. J. A. Hall to send their cars to him for overhauling. They and other had asked him how much it would cost or someting to that effect.

Mr. Medd — Fontaine had good mechanics?—Yes.

He was doing all he could to keep the business going as it went before he sold it to you?—Yes.

Isn't it a fact that practically all your old customers have followed you?—Yes.

To. Mr.. Strickland defendant asserted that the goods he had sold to Mr. Fontaine were worth $2000.

Andrew Ross

Andrew Ross, grocer at McDonnel and Aylmer streets, testified that he had asked Fontaine, if he had bound Evans over not to start up in business again.

Mr. Fontaine said he had him bound over, but I let him start up there", witness swore. He insisted

TRENT ASSOCIATION GATHER IN LINDSAY AT ANNUAL MEETING

President G. K. Fraser Presided — Annual Report Indicates Substantial Progress During the Year.

GRANT FOR CANAL

LINDSAY, June 21. — The annual meeting of the Trent Waterway Development Association opened at the Ellsmure Apartments here to-day at one o'cloc , President G. K. Fraser, presiding. The meeting opened with a preentation of the president's report in which he expressed his regret at the unavoidable absence of many enthusiastic members, including the honorary president, Senator W. H. Bennett, and expressed his apprec ion of the support given him by the Board of Directors during the past year, saying "It is my sincere hope that the activities of the Association during the comng years will be a greater effort than ever before in showing to the whole of the continent of North America that we have in the Central Ontario District the possibilities of a tourist trade and industral and agricultural development second to none."

Mr. Fraser said, in part:

"In the first place I would draw your attention to the fact that not only are the functions of this Association for advertising, but also for the general development and betterment of the Central Ontario district.

"We have been successful since our last annual meeting in securing the cooperation of the Canadian National Railways by the installation of a mechanical device which will turn the railway bridge at Trenton in a very short space of time, which previously had been one of the main drawbacks in connection with the motor boat traffic from Lake Ontario.

Advertising.

"I sincerely believe that the activities of the Association in their policy of advertising du[illegible] the past year has been conducve to the best results. I refer particularly to the 40,000 pamphlets which were printed and distributed, and the 150 illustrated charts.

"I think also that you will agree that the illustrated charts which were distributed to the various yacht and motor boat clubs throughout Eastern United States and Eastern Canada, were a good investment, and already your office is receiving enquiries from those who have noticed those charts in the club houses.

"We are indebted particularly to the Departfent of Railways and Canals for supplying a general chart free of charge, in such a form as to permit the insertion of photographs of various points along the route.

Publicity.

"A considerable amount of publicity has been given the waterway through the influence of your various officers, and I particularly refer to our Honorary President, Senator W. H. Bennett, wao was instrumental in securing the e[illegible]ibit of the Motor Boat Show in New York on Feb. 17th to 25th, which was placed there through the cooperation of the Department of Railways and Canals the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Charts.

"Our attention was drawn to the desirability of having complete charts of the entire navigable route by the fact that one of our American visitors in his 98-foot cruiser had to turn back at Bobcaygeon owing to the fact that he had not an up-to-

HALF A GALLON FOR EACH MILE

What New Boat Manufactured by Peterboro Firm Will Gobble up in Fuel.

A fast family runabout capable of travelling 28 or 30 miles an hour and a splendid example of the boatmakers' art, is being shipped from the Peterborough Canoe Company this week to S. Wilson of Winnipeg. The craft is the only one of its type the company have manufactured, and the officials and workmen have an evident pride in their achievement. The order was placed with the company three months ago. The sale price was $5,500, of which the cost of the 90-100 horse power engine represents over $3,000. Five hundred feet of South American mahogany and five hundred feet of cypress have been used in its construction.

The boat is 36 feet in length, seven feet beam and draws 30 inches of water. When tried out last Sunday travelling 150 revolutions under maximum, a speed of 24 miles an hour was attained, and when the engine is run a while the builders are confident the boat will travel 30 miles an hour. Its huge engine burns an immense amount of fuel and the 50 gallon tank will just run it about 100 miles. The boat however, is not a speed boat and was designed with the ideas of comfort and safety paramount.

High Power Boat.

The four cylinder engine is the largest power unit made by this well-known firm that the company have ever placed in a motor boat. The control will be similar to an automobile. The operator sits at a wheel with finger grips just like a car. At the right is the gear control lever and on the dashboard is an array of indicators showing among other things how fast the engine is travelling. If the gas and spark levers are unchanged, but the revolutions fluctuate, the operator is reminded that something is the matter. It is unnecessary therefore to listen in the old-fashioned way for knocks and audible signs of trouble underneath the hood.

The engine is electrically started and there are an array of searchlights and warning lights operated by a storage battery. The oil is fed to the engine under pressure and a dial indicates the amount being pumped. The boat's hull is of cypress, which is more resistant to the action of water than other woods, and throughout the finish is in mahogany. The effect is luxurious. Deep cushions that are being installed will be equal to the finest in automobile upholstery and the collapsible top is finished in light colored waterproof material of canvas with rubber between the two plies, represents the de luxe in workmanship and material. The vulnerable parts of the craft are protected by nickled brass sheets and the prow is of such keenness that it will be a dark day for any fish that happens to get in its way.

The engine can be slowed down to 200 revolutions per minute or run as high as 2,200. The power is such that a three inch exhaust was necessary. The boat is neither the largest or the most expensive the company have built, but it is the costliest 36 footer they have turned out so far.

SECURES SECOND ZONE FROM THE ALLIED POWERS.

KATTOWITZ, Upper Silesia, June 21. — (Canadian Press). — German authorities to-day began taking over from the Inter-Allied Commission of the second zone of Upper Silesia, retained by Germany under the prohibition treaty. The Poles yesterday completed their occupation of the first zone. The new boundary tax regulation between Germany and Poland has already gone into effect.

FALL RYE HARVEST STARTED IN THE WEST.

"We have been informed that in the near future charts will be issued of Sturgeon, Pigeon and Buckhorn Lakes, but we feel that strenuous efforts should be made by the Dept. of Railways and Canals to complete these and the remaining portions of the route at the earliest possible moment.

Construction.

"We are pleased to note that through the business qualifications of the Deputy Speaker Federal Government, Mr. G. N. Gordon, M.P., for West Peterboro, that $70,000 was voted during this present session for further improvements on the Waterway.

Organization.

"Although a considerable amount of work has been accomplished since your organization in 1920, yet I believe by an organization which will comprise committees in the various municipalities along the route, who will at all times be in touch with the headquarters so that local problems may be placed before the Board of Directors there is no doubt that further work would be carried out which would tend to satisfy the various municipalities to a greater degree than at present.

"This form of organization would also act conversely in that it would be possible for the Board of Directors to make representations to the various municipalities on certain activities which should be carried out locally, and it would be felt by the directors action where found possible would be carried out with the least delay.

"As one who has cruised the Trent Waterway considerably it has often occurred to me that visitors through our Waterway must have some difficulty in locating themselves if they are without charts as there is nothing to show at any municipality what the name of that municipality is.

"With this thought in mind I would suggest that each municipality try to arrange to have the name of their municipality placed in white letters on the banks of the waterway, which would not only be good advertising for the municipality, but also of service to the visitor, and should prove quite inexpensive.

VALUATORS APPEAR

Deputations from the Norwood Fair Board this morning and the Peterborough and Lakefield Exhibition Boards this afternoon appealed to the County Council fro grants to carry on the work which these agricultural societies are promoting.

Ed. Hawthorne and his deputation from Norwood did not name any special sum in their representations this morning, but it was mentioned that rain on the big day last year had set the Norwood Board back $1,300.00.

The directors present this morning were, Ed. Hawthorne, John E. Roxburgh, Col. Birdsall, W. Barrie, D. Barrie, Chas. O'Reilly, Wellington Burgess, T. Dunham, Wm. Knox, Sam McGee, J. F. Elliott, and also Mr. E. N. McDonald, M.L.A.

The deputation was introduced by Reeve W. H. Montgomery, of Norwood, and their request was presented by Mr. McDonald, Mr. Hawthorne, W. Barrie, and the secretary, John Roxburgh.

The petition was referred to the Finance Committee.

From Children's Aid.

A detailed financial statment accompanied the letter of Mr. John Edgar, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, part of whose grant was withheld last year because of the Council's lack of information in regard to the financial affairs of the Society.

Adjutant Bunton requested that the County's grant to the upkeep of the Salvation Army's Maternity Home be increased from $500.00 to $1,000.00. He cited Peterborough County cases that were being cared for at the Home, in support of his application.

On a motion by Reeve Montgomery, seconded by Reeve John Scott, Mr. G. W. Wildman was appointed a trustee of the Norwood High School, succeeding J. Nevins, who resigned.

Formal application was made to the Department of Education to establish an entrance examination centre at May's School.

Mr. Richard Lees, inspector, reported that the arrangements were being made, and the school will accommodate the first entrance candidates next week.

Request from Valuators.

The three valuators appointed by the Council at the last session for the purpose of valuating county property, a register that is made every five years, this morning requested that their fees be increased.

Mr. T. Curtis, of Havelock, Mr. P. J. McNulty, of Norwood, and Mr. Wm. Smith, of Lakehurst, are the three officials. They have begun their work, but find that the allowance of $5.00 a day is inadequate remuneration for the labour they perform and the responsibility they assume. The very cheapest hotel rate is $2.50 a day, they said, and an average hotel charges $3.25. In addition, they jointly pay $4.00 a day for the car they use. It is understood that the valuators are using Mr. Curtis' car in this work.

Although they did not ask for any stated increase, the sum of $6.00 a day was mentioned as a fairer wage.

Their petition was referred to the Finance Committee.

The death rate from motor vehicle accident is higher in Los Angeles than in any other western city.

STANDARD IS URGED FOR PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING IN CANADA

Miss Elizabeth Fox Advises a National Committee to Bring Organizations Together.

RAPID GROWTH.

EDMONTON, June 21 (Canadian Press). — A national standard of public health nursing was urged by Miss Elizabeth G. Fox, addressing the Canadian National Association of Trained Nurses at yesterday mornings session of the convention.

Miss Fox spoke of the different American Red Cross Nursing Service at Washington, D.C., and President of the National organisation for public health nursing of the United States.

The adoption of a national standard of pubic health nursing was recommended as most important.

Miss Fox spokel of the different public health organisations working in Canada, but without a common head. The establishment of a national committee to bring these bodies together was advised. She spoke of the phenomenal experience of Canada in establishing six or seven public health courses in the last few years. With such rapid growth they are bound to have many weak spots, and it is well to consider ways and means of strengthening these weak places.

In the absence of Miss B. L. Smellie, Montreal, Miss F. M. Shaw, Director of the School for Nurses, McGill University, read her address on "The Development of the Public Health Nursing Department of the 'Canadian Nurse.'"

CLAIMS DELORME CAUSE OF LATE POPE'S DEATH

Some Surprising Statements Claimed to Have Been Made By Ex-Priest Are Quoted in Evidence.

COURT CROWDED.

MONTREAL, June 21 (Canadian Press). — That the death of the late Pope Benedict was directly caused by the Delorme case, and that when His Holiness learned of it, he had a fit and died, was the statement in evidence yesterday afternoon by J. F. Cardinal, a notary, who testified that Delorme had made the remark to him and then laughed after making it.

"I am upsetting the world," the ex-priest added. "All the newspapers talk of it" (the case).

In another conversation witness had with Delorme, in which he chaffed him on getting fat, he testified that Delorme replied: "It has been said I had many mistresses. Now I am reposing, and I am getting fat. When my affair is over, my life will become regular again."

The above was the outstanding evidence at yesterday afternoon's hearing of the charge against Adelarde Delorme, ex-priest, of having murdered his half-brother, Raoul, in this city on 6th January last.

Mr. Cardinal also deposed that Delorme, during the progress of the investigation, had gone around the cafes and restaurants without his soutane, and had listened to conversations about the case. In this way he had heard his name connected with the murder, and had, he stated to Cardinal, caused some dozen of his detractors to be rounded up and sent to Bordeaux Jail.

Attempts were made at the opening of the Court yesterday morning to limit the number of spectators admitted to witness the proceedings, but every means was employed to gain admittance, with the result that by the afternoon the Courtroom was crowded to suffocation, most of the spectators being women.

The accused for the first time, showed signs of nervousness. His eyes wore a harried look, and he was continually clasping and unclasping his hands. He followed the morning's evidence very closely, and at the opening had a whispered conversation with his lawyer, Gustave Monette, and handed him a piece of notepaper.

In the afternoon his calmness returned, and he appeared quite at his ease, taking little or no notice of the evidence.

Cross-examination of Narcisse Arcand, journalist, of La Presse, took up practically the whole of the morning session, and Fernand Roby, of La Patrie, was also recalled to the stand.

Alienists attached to the St. Jean de Dieu Lunatic Asylum furnished official records in connection with the mother and some relatives of the accused, who had all been afflicted with various forms of dementia.

The case will be continued to-day, the Court opening half an hour earlier than usual in view of the fact that a session of record duration is expected.

BYNG WANTS OLD ESPRIT-DE-CORPS OF C.E.F. DAYS

In the Canadian Corps Millionaires Filled Sandbags and Newsboys Led Battalions.

IDEALISM.

WINNIPEG, June 21 (Canadian Press). — An appeal for revival of the idealism and unity shown by the Canadian Corps in France and for sinking all differences in the way of increasing the greatness of the Canadian National, was made by Baron Byng of Vimy, Governor-General of Canada, before two thousand members of the Canadian Club and the Canadian Medical Association at a joint luncheon here yesterday.

"There is a lasting impression on my mind of the boys from the West," he said. "Can you realise what a democratic organisation the Canadian Corps was? I have seen millionaires fill sandbags and newsboys lead battalions. I have seen all sunk in one great idealism—that of the Canadian Army."

Speaking to the medical men, Baron Byng said he had looked over their programme, but saw nothing of social service work. He appealed to them to take that great work into consideration.

The Governor-General and Lady Byng brought to a close their present brief visit to Winnipeg last night when they were the guests of honour at a brilliant reception and ball in the Parliament Buildings, which was attended by about 3,500 persons.

Their Excellencies received with Lieutenant-Governor Sir James Aikins and Lady Aikins, and the guests included many of those in the city attending the convention of the Canadian Medical Association.

Yesterday afternoon Lord Byng inspected a massed gathering of the school children and reviewed the Boy Scouts.

He left for Brandon early this morning.

WRIT SERVER TRAILS WOMAN TO HER BATH

Hearing Maid's Screams, Mrs. R. W. Chambers Rushes Out to Face a Subpoena.

NEW YORK, June 20. — Mrs. Robert W. Chambers, wife of the author, had a harrowing experience when, according to the police, a process server forced his way into her home, screaming at his heels, and served her with a subpoena as she emerged, unclad, from her bath, thinking the house afire.

Shortly after the man had fled, Mrs. Chambers missed a pearl necklace. The process server was arrested on charged of grand larceny and disorderly conduct. He denied having taken the necklace.

The suit out of which the subpoena grew was for damages brought in behalf of a small boy said to have been injured by Mrs. Chambers' automobile last March.

From the vigour with which she appealed to the police for aid and the promptness with which she appeared at the Police Station to identify the prisoner, the police gathered that Mrs. Chambers was determined upon rigid prosecution.

There was no man in the house at the time of the subpoena incident. The commotion led Mrs. Chambers to believe the house was burning or that her servants were being attacked by robbers. The shock of the affair was understood to have been severe.

Maid's Warning Unheeded.

It was just after noon yesterday when the basement bell rang at the Chambers residence, a five-storey structure at 43 East Eighty-third Street. The maid who answered the bell was confronted by a man, who afterward said he was David Hartman, 31, of Brooklyn.

"I'm Mr. Lewis," the man was quoted as saying. "I've got to see Mrs. Chambers at once. It's something very important."

The maid told the caller that Mrs. Chambers was in her bath and therefore could not be asked to come down just then.

"We'll see about that," was the answer. And before the maid could shut the door the process server had shoved her aside and bounded upstairs. The maid stumbled, but she quickly regained her feet and started after the intruder.

As he raced up one flight after another the maid became greatly excited and began to scream at him to stop and to warn him that he must not burst in upon her mistress.

Mrs. Chambers was stepping out of her bath on the third floor when she heard heavy footsteps, followed by those of a running maid, whose cries had become inarticulate. Believing the girl must be in distress, and possibly in danger, Mrs. Chambers, without pausing to don a single garment, flung open the bathroom door and rushed out.

The process server faltered, then jerked the subpoena from his pocket, flung it so that it struck Mrs. Chambers, and shouted:

"There's something for you."

Necklace Is Missed.

Then the invader turned and ran down the stairs. The maid, breathless and almost hysterical, did not follow. A few mintes later she and Mrs. Chambers searched the house in order to make sure that he had departed. They missed the necklace, valued at $2,600, which they were certain had been lying on a table in the library on the second floor.

Mrs. Chambers promptly telephoned to the Police Station.

Detective Wurning was sent to the house.

At seven o'clock in the evening Wurning arrested Hartman at 299 Broadway. Hartman, the detective said, admitted he had entered the house and "served" the subpoena, but denied all knowledge of the necklace. It was not found in his possession.

Despite Hartman's admission that he was the man sought, Mrs. Chambers was summoned to the Station House to identify him.

Mrs. Chambers was Miss C. Elsa Vaughn Moler, niece of Captain R. C. Du Bois, U.S.A., now retired, of Washington. She was married to Mr. Chambers in 1898.

In Bedroom, She Says.

By telephone, Mrs Chambers gave a somewhat different version of the affair from that of the detective who handled the case for the Police Department. She said that the intruder had burst into her bedroom, after having flung the maid aside, and run up the stairs, despite the maid's request that he wait until Mrs. Chambers was attired to see him.

BELGIUM DEMANDS THAT GERMANY PAY.

BRUSSELS, June 21.—(Canadian Press)—Premier Theunys of Belgium today gave the German delegation here 48 hours to accept or reject the proposed arrangeents for the redemption of the 6,000,000 marks the Germans issued during war in exchange for Belgian money. He announced that if the Germans failed to reach a decision Belgium would immediately begin the liquidation of sequestered German property.

CATTLE EMBARGO RECEIVES CENSURE FROM CANON SCOTT

Greatest Padre of Canadian Army Condemns the Embargo.

A DISGRACE.

LONDON, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—The cattle embargo has at length received the censure of the church militant through Canon F. G. Scott of Quebec who spoke yesterday afternoon at a meeting held on behalf of the British Columbia church aid association.

The meeting was largely composed of ladies who heard with evident delight Canon Scott's breezy way of declaring himself. He mentioned the embargo only incidentally of course, expressing the hope that it would soon be lifted and declaring that "it remained for the benefit of a few wealthy stock-breeders in England who wished to be bolstered by protection at the cost of the livelihood of British sons in the west," which he said was a disgrace.

Canon Scott also replied to criticisms sometimes heard in England against supporting church mission work in Canada because, it is alleged, the Canadian church itself is rich enough to do all that is necessary. He continued: "When we read in Canada about the starving clergy in England we are absolutely ashamed. I don't know that I should like to be a clergyman in London. You have the money and you can relieve the present state of your clergy I don't want to hurt anybody's feelings and Canon Perkins is prodding me in the back at this moment, but I ask you how many churches in London would be open to-day if it were not for old endowments. I am ashamed when I see some English subscription lists. How many of you here have ever given £500 to your parish church? How much do people who attend the Eucharist give compared with what is spent on wine at dinner parties?"

The meeting cordially approved these and other little home thrusts. The bishop of London, himself something of an unconventional member of the episcopate, was in the chair. Canon Scott was a little late in arriving and the Bishop had already started speaking, but seeing Canon Scott arriving he broke off with: "Oh here is Canon Scott at last. Hooray."

ARE DEVOTEES OF TOBACCO LACKING IN MORAL FIBRE?

Vice-President of Wesley College Believes Smoking is a Sign of Weakness.

IN CONFERENCE.

WINNIPEG, June 21 (Canadian Press). — The Manitoba Methodist Conference yesterday adopted a resolution of confidence in Principal J. H. Riddell and the Board of Governors of Wesley College, and in the propriety of the student life.

This was the result of a debate on statements that the conduct of a part of the student body left something to be desired.

A clause in the resolution providing for investigation of the religious life of the college was deleted, delegates feeling that there was nothing to investigate.

Prof. W. G. Smith, vice-president of Wesley College, expressed the view that a weakness in the moral fibre of the college rested in the fact that there had been smoking in the building.

It developed that there was no rule governing smoking, except that students were not permitted to smoke in the corridors.

Suggestions that there had been drinking of liquor among the students were not confirmed. One student, it was explained, had been taken back to the college intoxicated last Hallowe'en, but he had reformed.

MANUFACTURERS MEETING.

Opening Day taken up with Reports and Informal Expressions of Opinion.

ST. ANDREWS BY THE SEA, June 21. (Canadian Press.) — Expression of individual opinion against the taxation of stock dividends and in favor of taking advantage of every opportunity to increase industrial cooperation between employers and employed, tributes to the work of S. R. Parsons, Toronto, as the representative of the employers of Canada at the labor conferences at Geneva in 1918, and at Washington in 1919, and also to the work, as an employer, of S. J. Williams, Toronto, in the interests of industrial good will, occupied the opening session yesterday of the 51st annual general meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, along with the address of President W. LIBERALS PRESENT DINNER SERVICE HON. MR. FIELDING Old Guard of Liberalism Gathers to Felicitate "Grand Old Man" of the Party.

FORTY YEARS.

OTTAWA, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—Forty years ago yesterday, Hon. William Stevens Fielding, minister of finance, was elected to the Nova Scotia assembly from the county of Halifax. Four decades of almost continuous service in the interests of his country he has performed and yesterday afternoon Liberal members of the Commons and the Senate joined in paying him enthusiastic tribute. He is still in harness as minister of the heaviest department of government, and while there are those who will criticize the ways and means which he has devised to meet the tremendous obligations of the dominion there is none who will grudge tribute to the brave heart, which after so many years of arduous public service, would undertake the task at all.

Wherefore it was at first proposed that all three parties should join today in paying tribute to the veteran. Progressive members offered to sink tariff differences, and to join with Liberals in making the demonstration a non-partisan one. Official opposition members, however, held aloof, fearing no doubt the possible political effect of such a combination of commendation at a time when controversy still rages round the budget proposals. So those who paid tribute to the minister to-day were the members of his own party.

Liberals brought a solid sixteen out

A REMARKABLE INCIDENT.

A remarkable thing happened the other day. A local man who has a crop of very early potatoes thought the world should be informed of the fact, so he brought some specimens into The Examiner Office—and he left them there. The last clause furnishes the novelty. In the good old days, when a worthy citizen had some precocious green peas or early strawberries or late blackberries, or a big catch of fish, he hastened to the newspaper office and the heart of ye editor was gladdened by a presentation that helped to keep the larder filled. The early vegetable or the overgrown fish got the publicity, and the editor got the article itself. That, of course, was in the olden, golden times. To-day it is different. Somebody comes along with a box of beautiful berries, allows the editorial staff to sniff them appreciatively, and with a "give us a write-up," departs with the spoils, leaving behind him several individuals with "a lean and hungry look." It is too much to expect that the fine old custom of the halycon days of journalism is to be revived in this material age, but at least there is a glimmer of hope in the fact that one man who had some early potatoes to report did not take them away with him, after a call upon a newspaper. It was a striking incident, and so unusual, that to-day's reference to the matter was unavoidable.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN.

Party lines are usually so closely drawn and political hostility given such sway in Canada that it was refreshing yesterday to read that all three leaders in the Federal House warmly praised the service rendered to Canada by Sir Robert Borden at the Washington Conference. The Canadian people, or at least those of them who followed the proceedings of the Disarmament Conference, will agreee with the Premier and with Mr. Meighen and Mr. Crerar, that the thanks of the country are due Canada's representative at that gathering for the part he played in the proceedings. The Dominion indeed was fortunate that a representative with Sir Robert Borden's intelligent grasp of world conditions was available. Sir Robert, perhaps more than any other Canadian, has had an opportunity to study at close range international problems and policies, and his experience stood him in good stead at Washington, enabling him to hold his own with famous diplomats and leaders from all quarters of the globe. He has earned the ecomiums showered upon him by the heads of the three political groups in Parliament, whose tribute was a recognition of his services that had been well earned by Canada's envoy to Washington.

THE MILK SITUATION.

The milk vendors of Peterborough have no reason to complain that the Board of Health is being unduly harsh towards them. Since tests made by Dr. McNair showed that samples of milk supplied by many local dealers contained an alarming amount of bacteria, the Board has given the vendors every opportunity to improve the quality of their milk, in fact has allowed all the latitude that the seriousness of the situation would permit. The matter is now up to the vendors, and if they fail to benefit by the warnings that have been given, nobody but themselves will be to blame. One thing is certain, and that is that no chances can be taken with an impure milk supply. Over three hundred thousand dollars has been spent in providing Peterborough with pure water; it would be of little avail to protect the public from germs in the water and yet allow infected milk to be supplied. No one wants to see dealers driven out of business, but there will be no choice in the matter if there is not a speedy improvement in the quality of the milk. Monday's conference was of much benefit in clarifying the situation, and should have quick results. Otherwise the Board of Health will have to use more drastic measures and cancel the licenses of vendors whose milk supply continues to be below standard. Sympathy for the dealer cannot be allowed to interfere with the public's right to be protected, and those vendors who still fail to furnish safe milk after the warnings that have been given cannot expect to stay in business.

LASTING MOVEMENTS.

Had the local Rotarians accomplished nothing more than the establishment of their boys' camp, or the Kiwanis Club nothing more to its credit than the erection of the splendid dining-room for the Peterborough Health Association at Jackson Park, the launching of these two fine organizations in Peterborough would have been more than justified. The two things mentioned are notable contributions to the welfare of the community, for the one gives under-privileged boys an opportunity for a holiday under most favorable conditions, and the other materially assists in affording a chance to Peterboro's under-developed children a chance to win back to health. It is because their activities are centred upon work of this kind that Rotary and Kiwanis will live. There are people who look upon these organizations as a passing fad in which the members will soon lose interest. So long as they are based on service there is no danger of such a fate overtaking either club movements that have as their inspiration the desire to help others possess a virility that carries them through when other more selfish enterprises sink into oblivion. The spirit of Rotary and Kiwanis, as exemplified in the two splendid contributions made by the local clubs, will live and prosper. It cannot die, nourished as it is by unselfishness.

"THEY HAVE THE REVOLVERS."

"Katherine Tynan, the Irish poetess, should know Ireland well, and she assures us that ninety per cent. of her countrymen are hungering and thirsting for peace, but that the remaining ten per cent. are 'young, without responsibilities, and they have the revolvers'."—Edmonton Journal.

"They have the revolvers." There you have most of the story of the chaos in Ireland—and most of the story of all crime in civilization, says the Ottawa Journal. "They have the revolvers." Civilization could soon stop nine-tenths of the murders that occur in it by stopping the manufacture of revolvers and revolver ammunition. Prohibit manufacture; prohibit sale. For a time, while the stock of revolvers and automatics or the ammunition for them held out, the effect would be slow—but in time, it would be final.

No good reason against this prohibition exists. Revolvers are useless except for crime or war, and not much use for the latter. While the existing stock held out, criminals would have them, but so would other citizens and the police, and so far as that is concerned, things would be no worse than now.

Civilization could stop the revolver; but no country needs wait in this matter for any other. Any country could advantageously prohibit the revolver within its limits. Why not Canada?

Will not some member of Parliament or Senator move to this effect?

THE RETURNED MAN.

The Parliamentary Committee on Pensions, after careful and intimate investigation of the poly-phase problems of the returned soldier, has brought down recommendations which will be generally approved. These parliamentarians have, in effect, published a fact which is well known to every red-blooded man and woman in the Dominion, that as a nation and an individuals, we Canadians have a duty and a direct responsibility to see that the men who volunteered for service during the war years are treated with a sympathy which is whole-hearted, and a generosity that is beyond cavil.

It is only natural that as the grim pictures of war are gradually blotted from our memories by the solvent of Time, the sacrifices the soldiers made and the sufferings they endured should lose the poignancy of their earlier appeal. We grow impatient at the stories of soldiers who march to the Capital to present their wrongs, and are wont to measure what has been done to re-establish the men and to return them to civil life against what the men have done for us. Yet if the matter is considered for a moment from an impersonal standpoint, the foolishness of such a standard of measurement is seen. Not all the money that we can pay, not all the comfort that we can offer, not all the luxuries that we can conjure up, would compensate for the services of the men who offered themselves to protect us and to uphold the ideals which we held sacred.

There is a tendency, too, on the part of some to grow impatient with the returned man and to be irritated at his idiosyncrasies. If these were normal men and the question at issue was merely one of services rendered for which there is an accepted scale of pay, there might be some excuse for our umbrage. But all shadow of reason for such feeling on our part is banished when we recognize that the delicate machinery of mind and the normal stability of temperament have in thousands of cases been disturbed by the ordeal of war through which these men passed. These are the men who have passed through great suffering, and the whole attitude of mind and their outlook has in many cases been changed by the days of their tribulation.

In the past some of the men have expressed their dissatisfaction that there was no court of appeal against the findings of the medical boards appointed by the Pensions Board. If the recommendations of the committee are carried out independent boards of appeal composed of medical officers of unquestioned standing will be appointed and within certain limits they will sit as tribunals to hear the cases of men who believe that they have been unfairly treated by the regular boards. Other little pin-pricks, such as the loss which overseas soldiers suffered through the depreciation of exchange and the appointment of a board of administration to manage the profits of the Canteen Fund, are to be solved, and the cause of the irritation removed.

No decent-minded man or woman in Canada wants to withhold from the returned man anything that will enhance his welfare. Yet there is no surer way of alienating sympathy from the men who should have our gratitude in abundance than by mismanagement of the funds voted for their relief or the inefficiency of the machinery designed to rehabilitate them. So far the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment has been conducted in a manner that has won the general approval of the returned men and the stay-at-homes. It has been on the whole an example of efficient management and common-sense methods. After three years of operation it has been found that some of the machinery could be improved in design and in material here and there, so that the whole will run more smoothly. These improvements are to be found in the committee's report. So far as they will tend to the amelioration of the lot of the returned men they should be adopted without delay and in no nigardly spirit.

The men who went, offered all.—Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The longest day in the year—although the small boy will argue that the longest is the day before the circus arrives.

Canadians generally will be sorry to learn of the serious illness of Major-General Sir Edward Morrison. He was one of the most capable leaders in the Canadian Army in France.

The fact that Hon. Mr. Fielding has saved the home brew will be considered by some people as a greater proof of his statesmanship than the reciprocity treaty he brought back in 1911.

It cost the Dominion Government over $1,400 to send the hikers back to Toronto. The city authorities of Ottawa undoubtedly are of the opinion that this was money well spent.

At least the Penetanguishene treasure hunt has served to draw attention to the lamentable neglect on the part of the Canadian people of sacred relics of early Canadian history.

REPUBLICANS DEFEATED.

Results So Far Show Only Fifteen Condidates Successful.

DUBLIN, June 21. — (Canadian Press.)— Of forty-two Republican candidates in constituencies where there were contests in Friday's parliamentary elections, fifteen have already been declared defeated. The final returns from places where the count is still unfinished will, judging by figures now available, show further defeats by the treaty opponents.

One distinguished survivor probably will be Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess) chief of Eamon De Valera's lieutenants, who, though he is not elected in Waterford, can only be defeated by some unprecedented ovturn in the count.

The results announced this morning show the removal of many of the best known personalities in the Dail Eireann and of six women members, all anti-treaty, only Mary MacSwiney survived in the contests and Mrs. Kate O'Callaghan was returned unopposed.

CROP REPORTS

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

With heavy rains falling at intervals during the last two weeks pastures have made wonderful growth and the mill flow is at its height. All the crops have felt the benefit of the rains except those on low and poorly drained land.

Fall wheat is well headed out in many counties and the recent generous rains will practically ensure a good yield, although the straw is shorter in length than usual. No mention is made this week of injury from Hesssian fly or other insect.

Peterboro, Muskoka and Timiskaming report injury to corn, beans, tomatoes and other crops by frost on June 12-13.

Speaking generally, however, corn and roots have done exceptionally well, timely, showers having thoroughly established these crops, except where cutworms have done injury. More potatoes than usual have been planted.

North Simcoe reports the cutting of red clover for hay where the crop is to be used late for seed, and states that alsike, while short in straw, promises a good crop of seed.

The drop of apples and other fruits has been rather heavy this year, but as many of the trees have been overloaded, growers are not showing any anxiety.

Speaking of apples Northumberland says: "Of the winter varieties Golden Russet, Ben Davis, R.I. and Greening, Cooper's Market give greater praise. Baldwins are light Spies vary from good to light."

Peel states that the canker-worm has stripped many of elm and other forest trees, but the damage to orchards has been comparatively light.

Welland says that good butcher cattle are selling around 8 cents a lb. alive.

Dairy Produce.

Prices on the farm for dairy produce are comparatively low. Grey reports that the very full production of milk has brought the price of butter down to 29 cents a lb. In some parts of Perth, local dairies are paying as low as $1.05 a cwt. for milk. Halton gives the price paid at $1.75 a can.

Referring to the value of dairy products Northumberland has the following: "Prices are most variable, cheese factories have paid patrons prices varying from less than cents per hundred for milk where factory paid for drawing, up to a little better than 31 cents per pound of fat where milk was delivered at the factory. Creameries paid 30 cents to 31 cents per pound for butter fat for churning cream, f.o.b. shipping point. Local creameries paid 1 cent less at the famer's stands."

Peterboro says that at the last cheese board sale, cheese sold at 13 1-8 c a lb.

Leeds makes the following quatations: "Cheese, 15 7-8 c; No. 1 Creamery 35c; whey butter 26c; cream 33c; milk $1.10 per cwt for 3%, f.o.b. factory."

Frontenac has the following regarding the swine situation in the county: "There seems to be an inclination to increase the number of brood sows kept In talking with farmers they mention the adding from one to three to the number already kept. The demand for young pigs has been remarkably good. Prices running from $14 to $18."

South Simcoe reports: "Heavy shipments of spring lambs are general at the various shipping points throughout the country. They vary in weight from 60 to 80 lbs. and are bringing from $7 to $10 each. Sucking pigs sell at $6 to $6.50 each. Finished hogs are comparatively scarce and brought $14 per cwt to the farmer."

Middlesex states that much wool is being bought locally at 10 a lb. but that many farmers are holding over.

Leghorn cockerels are being marketed in Dundas County as broilers at 40c a lb, weighing over two pounds when six weeks old.

WELCOME FOR PRINCE.

London Testifies to Love and Respect in Which the Heir of the Throne is Held.

LONDON, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—London was in gala attire to-day for the home-coming of the Prince of Wales, who reached Plymouth yesterday on the battle cruiser Renown, completing forty thousand miles of his third extensive tour as Imperial ambassador extraordinary.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE.

Most men dislike bobbed hair. It's inherent, from pole to pole.

For example, in Greenland a girl has little to say about choosing her husband. Her father picks a husband for her.

But the girl can spoil the match, if she objects to her father's choice, by cutting off her hair. Among the Eskimos, for a woman to wear hair short is a disgrace.

Short hair; no husband.

BLACK LACE.

Perhaps it's part of the vogue for Spanish effects that makes black lace so popular this year. One of the most effective uses for it is as a coatee for a gown of white georgette crepe.

GARDEN PARTY CAMPBELLFORD

St. Andrew's Church Gathering Was a Big Success — Campbellford News of Interest.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 21. — The annual garden party held on Monday on the manse grounds, under the auspices of St. Andrew's church, exceeded the hopes of the most sanguine in the matter of its success. The morning looked threatening, but the evening turned out ideal, and one of the largest crowds ever seen at a garden party in town found its way to the spacious and brightly lighted and prettily decorated grounds. During the evening the Northumberland Regiment Band dispensed charming music and many were the complimentary remarks made about the band and its most capable leader, Mr. R. T. Cowell. Mr. C. L. Owen, ex-M.P., made a most and able and genial chairman, and led the community singing, which was thoroughly enjoyed. Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings, was present and gave a short address. Mr. Gladstone Wood, B.A., of Queen's University, made a clever impersonator and each of his character sketches and readings was heartily applauded. The supper table fairly groaned under its load of good things and was in charge of the Ladies' Aid, as was also the home cooking booth. The Young People's Endeavour had charge of the ice cream and candy booth, while the Canadian Girls in Training did a flourishing business in the flower booth.

Prettily colored balloons were sent up during the evening. The proceeds of the evening amounted to almost four hundred and fifty dollars, which is surely most gratifying to the pastor and congregation of St. Andrew's church.

Tent Meetings.

The tent meetings, under the auspices of the Baptist church, and conducted by Evangelist Torrie, are being well attended each night, and the greatest interest is being shown in their success. Last evening on the platform were, besides the pastor, Rev. H. S. Bennett and Evangelist Torrie, Rev. Mr. Shaw of Menie, Rev. Mr. Rich of Norwood, Rev. Mr. Butcher of Brighton and Rev. Mr. Risk, a returned missionary from China each taking part in the service .The music is bright and inspiring and Mrs. Torrie's solos are much appreciated. All are asked to come and bring a friend. Prayer meeting in the interest of the revival are being held each morning from 9.30 to 10 o'clock at a home in each of the four wards.

Married. — In Campbellford, on Tuesday, at St. Andrew's manse, by Rev. C. F. McIntosh, M.A., Bertha Brown, edest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown, of Stanwood, to Mr. James Storrie of town.

Convention To-day.

A meeting in the interests of the Liberal-Conservative Association of East Northumberland will be held in the town hall, Warkworth, on Wednesday afternoon at 1.30 p.m., June 21st, at which meeting a candidate will be selected to contest the seat at the next Provincial election. Mr. R. Cooke, M.P.P. of North Hastings, Mr. Sam Nesbitt, ex-M.P.P., and the caindidate, will give addresses. A large attendance is expected, ladies being especially invited.

Work on the construction of the band stand on the new post office site, Front street, was begun on Tuesday and it is expected there will be an open air band concert there on Thursday night.

Lacrosse Match.

A lacrosse match, Campbellford vs. Peterborough, will be played on the agricultural grounds on Friday afternoon, June 23, at 3.30 p.m. This is one of the juvenile series and will be the first league game. It is reported Peterborough has a good fast team and as Campbellford boys take no second place, a good game is expected.

Personal Mention.

Mr. Jack Thomson, Hastings, accompanied his father, Rev. D. A. Thomson, to St. Andrew's garden party on Monday night.

Mrs. A. L. McNaughton, of Madoc, formerly of town, is renewing old acquaintances in town.

Mr. William J. Bland received a message yesterday informing him of the death of his mother in the west.

Mrs. I. T. Frederick, who has been visiting friends in Toronto for the past few weeks, has returned home.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Belleville, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O'Donahue.

GARDEN PARTY NEAR MILLBROOK

Millbrook and Pontypool Lined Up in a Baseball Game. Millbrook News.

MILLBROOK, June 21.—A very successful garden party, under the auspices of Trinity Church (the Marsh), was held at the residence of Mr. W. H. Wood, 5th Line, Cavan, on Monday evening, June 19th. An excellent tea was served, and thoroughly enjoyed by the large number in attendance, after which a good program was provided Rev. Canon Allen acting as chairman Those assisting with the entertainment were: Mrs. Canon Allen and her daughter, Mrs. L. H. Winslow, who played a number of piano duets to the great pleasure of the listeners, Misses Ida Payne and M. Leal, whose readings drew forth many favorable comments, Miss Mary Wood, who sang very sweetly, Mr. Preston, of Bethany, and Mr. Gallagher of Zion, who received due measure of applause for their solos, (comic), and Miss Lillan Crocker, whose pano solo, as well as her father's violin number (for which she played the accompaniment), were particularly well received. There was also a dialogue by Miss Wood, Miss Kinsman, Miss Fallis, and Mr. Kinsman, which not only added variety to the program but in which the characters were well taken, too, the audience showing their appreciation by the same hearty applause which greeted every number on the program.

Millbrook—F. Russell, p; E. C. Richards, c; G. W. Sayles, 1b; A. McCorry, 2b; H. Nattrass, 3b; R. Edmunds, ss.; E Burnham, cf; F. Gray, rf; A. Thorne, lf.

The boys from Manvers have evidently been neglecting practice as the score was very one-sided, 18-4, favor of Millbrook.

Umpire, Mr. J. Thone, Carnel.

The total receipts reached the satisfactory sum of $80.

A Sad Event

The late Mrs. Henry Fee, whose death took place some time ago, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. Y. Blanton, of Kelso, Washington Territory, Canada and whose body was brought east for interment the funeral taking place on Saturday, June 17th, was born in Cavan Township 83 years ago. Her maiden name was Sara Jane Fee and she was one of a family of 8 children, 4 brothers, William, John, Robert and Wesely, and three sisters, Margaret, (Mrs. George Campbell), Adeline. (Mrs. Reid Ball), and Mary, (Mrs. Eyers), all of whom except the last mentioned, whose home is now in Iowa, predeceased their sister. After her marriage to the late Mr. Henry Fee, whose death occurred 15 years ago, deceased lived on a farm in Manvers Township, about three miles south of Pontypool, for a period of 25 years,. moving. from there to Toronto, where after two years residence the family returned and made the home in Pontypool for about 4 years. For the last ten years of her life, Mrs. Fee had resided in the West, living first with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. McCallum, at Portal, Washingt.on Territory, and finally with her youngest child, Mrs. T. Y. Blanton, at Kelso, in the same State.

Her family consisted of one son, who died in infancy, and six daughters, Sophie, Edith, Hannah, (Mrs. Dr. McCallum), Addie, Ettie and Margaret (Mrs. Blanton); the last named alone survives her mother.

Peculiarly sad circumstances surrounded the death of her third daughter, Mrs McCallum, who passed away very suddenly when only one day upon the journey East bringing her mothers' body for interment in the family plot at St. John's cemetery Ida.

Mrs. C. G. McCallum was born in Manvers Township 52 years ago and had lived in the West ever since her marriage for about 20 years first at Portal and latterly at Vancouver both in Washington Territory her husband and her only son Charles survive her and with Mrs. Branton came East on their sad errand arriving on the 11.30 a.m. train via C.P.R. at Cavan station on Saturday, June 17. Rev Canon Allen had charge of the double funeral, and spoke in terms of deepest appreciation of the many splendid qualities of both Mrs. Fee and her daughter, expressng also heartfelt sympathy with the family and friends in their hour of bereavement The pall bearers for Mrs. Fee were Messrs. J. O. Ball (nephew), J. Staples, Wm. Larmer, C. Lough, W. Larmer and, R. Howden; and for Mrs. MacCallum Messrs. W. E. Ball, H. Ball, W. Walsh (cousins), R. Armstrong, L. Fallis and F. W. Fallis.

There is a large circle of relatives and friends in Millbrook, Peterboro South Monaghan, Manvers and Cavan to whom the sincere sympathy of the entire community is extended

MRS. MARY NELSON

LAKEFIELD, June 21.—On Monday afternoon the funeral took place of the late Mrs. Mary Nelson from her residence on Regent Street, with interment in the Lakefield Cemetery. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. P. T. Jull, of the Presbyterian Church, with which she had always been affiliated. Six nephews bore the remains to the hearse, and at the cemetery lowered it into the grave. They were: Messrs. W. H. Casement, Thompson Braden, Wilbert Bell, Harold Nicholls, Allan B. Mann and B. A. Nicholls. Of those who gathered to pay their tribute of love to their friend were many from a distance.

The late Mrs. Nelson was an outstanding figure in the community in which she spent her almost eighty-four years, in the sense in which a true and noble woman always is. Modest and unassuming though she was, she was also a woman of rare gifts of mind and character. As a young woman the writer remembers well her gay, blithe spirit and her wealth of affection which she expended unstintingly on all whose lives touched hers, and to whom she was the dearly-loved "guide, philosopher and friend." No one ever sought in vain the sympathy, comfort and advice of which her great heart and mind were capable, and her unshakeable friendship was a free gift to all who were in any degree worthy, while to the erring she was invariably patient, tolerant and forbearing. It is a joy to remember likewise her keen sense of humor, and her gay laugh, and her alertness in seeing and interpreting a witty point remained with her almost to her last hour. Indeed, there always seemed sunshine and inspiration radiating from her fine face and brave spirit.

For nearly thirty-five years she was a widow, and of her eight children she gave five back to the Almighty Father she so faithfully served and trusted. Deep sorrow assailed her again and again, but her faith in her Master never wavered; and the dignity and calmness with which she faced her trials characterized her whole life, and remain a sacred memory to all who loved her and who will cherish her fine qualities, and gather strength and guidance from them when life's severest lessons have to be confronted.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

WARDEN J. C. STRICKLAND'S ADDRESS

At the midsummer session of the County Council, which opened yesterday afternoon, the following address was presented by Warden J. C. Strickland:

To the Members of the County Council for 1922.

Gentlemen,—I beg to address you at this, the regular June session of the Council for the current year, upon some of the important matters affecting our county.

It is with pleasure that I am able to point to the material progress the county is making.

You will all join me in recognition of the hand of a kind Providence in the anticipation of a bountiful harvest, which means agricultural labor rewarded.

Permit me to again express regret as a result of the resignation of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, superintendent and matron of the House of Refuge. Their places will be hard to fill with the same satisfaction, and I bespeak sympathy and patience for their successors.

The various chairmen will no doubt report as to their departments. Consequently I will not in any way attempt to supercede them.

The Chairman of the Committee on Finance will be compelled to ask you to provide for expenditures over which the Council has no control—in fact, the greater of the appropriations are beyond the control of this Council.

The adoption of the highway system has as a result necessitated more work and more expenditures.

Whilst I am in sympathy with the construction and maintenance of good roads, I am of the opinion that all revenues from autos collected from within the boundaries of the county of Peterborough, including the city, should be retained and expended on the rural roads within the county.

County roads and township roads are the two important roads for the advancement and convenience of the agriculturist of the county, and if, as I have stated, those fees could be retained in the county the rural ratepayers would be subjected to a very much less direct tax.

As it is, contributing to elaborate thirty-foot Provincial highways and twenty-eight feet wide suburban area roads nothing short of from seven to ten mills, will have any effect in the construction of county roads.

With regard to meeting road expenditures, I would respectfully advise to pay as you go, thereby evading debentures extending over a period of twenty years adding interest, when, according to the natural conditions prevailing, maintenance in the future will be enough to contend with.

It is not necessary for me to advise economy, and any advice along that line would be presumption on my part from the fact that it is evident that every member of this Council is shaping his participation in the conduct of affairs with that end in view.

Several deputations will appeal to you for assistance for worthy causes, and I have no fears that you will deal with the same in a manner characteristic of the County Council of Peterborough.

Not wishing to be dictatorial, I would enlist your support, to in every way economize from every standpoint consistent with that, that is necessary.

In conclusion, I crave your further indulgence and solicit a continuance of the support you have given me, unsolicited, up to the present, and words fail me to express my appreciation of the confidence you have placed in me.

The affairs of the county have in the past been safeguarded and are being safeguarded in 1922, and I will place myself on record in stating that the credit is due to the Council as a whole.

Respectfully yours,
J. C. STRICKLAND,
Warden.

APPLY SULPHUR TO HEAL UP YOUR SKIN

Broken out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped over Night.

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on the face, neck, arms or body you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment—declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows the next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery itching eczema is dried up.

LIBERALS PRESENT

of Nova Scotia at the last election, Mr. Fielding being one of these. The remaining fifteen yesterday afternoon insisted upon paying the first tribute to Nova Scotia's grand old man. In the Liberal smoking room they met, and presented him with a bouquet of forty roses, which he accepted with considerable emotion. Later all the members of the party gathered in the railway committee room and tendered to him a beautiful solid silver dinner service of the Queen Mary pattern.

It would not be correct to say that yesterday's demonstration was due to the "popularity" which Mr. Fielding enjoys. He is an austere man, sometimes difficult of approach. It is admiration and deep respect for the veteran of forty years of service which was responsible for yesterday's tribute, an admiration and respect which members of the house, irrespective of party leanings share in conferring upon him.

It may be that this will be Mr. Fielding's last budget. If such is the case he will at least in the years to come bear in his mind yesterday's greatful recognition of his party of his forty years' service, 1882-1922.

IRISH ELECTIONS.

London Regards With Favor the Results Announced So Far.

LONDON, June 21. — (Canadian Press).—The striking results of the Irish elections as far as announced are welcomed here with enthusiasm, coupled with encomiums for the "common sense" of the Irish people, whose verdict is regarded as greatly strengthening the position of the Anglo-Irish treaty and the new constitutions.

It is recognized, however, that the rejection of the Extremists at the polls has not removed all the difficulties of the situation. The Labor vote, which is generally remarked as one of the most notable features of the polling, is claimed for the treaty side, but it is declared by some observers that the Irish Labor party is far more Labcrite than Treatyite, and its future attitude in reference to the country's politics is unknown.

Good!—Always

It's the ingredients you cannot see—the patient care in making that are the secrets of Moir's goodness. Nothing is left to chance, all the materials used are either made in our own plant or imported direct.

Cocoa beans, selected, graded, blended, roasted, and ground with infinite care in our own factory.

Pineapples, apricots, raspberries, strawberries and other fruits for Moir's centres — always the finest obtainable.

Brazil Nuts, Almonds, Walnuts, imported direct; Peanuts, the small delicately flavored kind; Cocoanuts shredded fresh for each day's needs.

All this care to assure you of the same high quality you have always found so delightful in Moir's Chocolates.

The wrong temperature will ruin candy. In the Moir factory expensive machinery keeps the air cool and dry every day in the year, no matter what it is like outside.

Grain, Cattle & Produce Markets

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

Strawberries, that were selling for 30 and 35 cents a quart box this time last week are down to 15 cents in the stores with 7 boxes for $1 offered, and fruit men calling at the doors are selling for 12 cents a box. The fruit is large and ripe, and there seems to be plenty of it. Sugar is up.

Cherries from market gardens in the district are in the fruit stores, the cooking variety, small, reddish yellow. The imported potatoes are decreasing in price as the season advances. Creamery butter is down also in the stores, a couple of cents on the pound.

The same complaint that was heard last year in regard to baskets for fruit is re-echoed this season, in the assertion of the fruit men that containers for berries are high in price.

Grains—Marquis $1.15; fall wheat $1.30; barley, 65c; oats, 45c; buckwheat, 90c; flour, half bbl., $4.10; pastry flour 24 lb bag $1.00.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, June 21.(—Canadian Press.)— Trade in cash grain on the market yesterday was limited and business was quiet. Trade in flour is slow. There is no improvement in the mill feed market and that for rolled oats was slow. There is no change in baled hay conditions. A fair business is passing in eggs. Demand for potatoes is dull. The feeling in the butter market is firm and a good business prevails in cheese.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, June 21.—(Canadian Press.) — Receipts 320 cattle and calves, 180 hogs and five sheep.

Quotations on the cattle market at the opening this morning showed no improvement over yesterday's close with a very poor demand existing for the common and medium grades. A few good handy weight steers changed hands under a slightly better enquiry while desirable light-weight butcher cows moved more freely.

The hog market was unchanged at 1200 for selects.

The handful of sheep on offer were of the thin order and were absorbed at 300.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—Egg market continues firm at present levels. Some operators are still packing eggs for storage, but the majority have stopped. Present prices are largely a reflection of current demand for consumption. It is possible that the advance on the British markets may soon have an effect on Canadian markets for the reason that current British prices for Irish eggs are now approaching the point where export might be profitable.

Toronto receipts light, some dealers short of supplies. Jobbing prices for best grades higher, specials 36 to 37, extras 35 to 36, firsts 32, seconds 28.

Montreal steady to firm, specials 36, extras 33 to 34, firsts 30, seconds 26 to 27.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—Cattle, receipts 9,000; market fairly active; better grades beef steers strong to 15c. higher; quality considered; others and plain yearlings weak to 15c. lower; top matured steers 9.75; best yearlings 9.35; bulk beef steers 8.25 and 9.15; she stock steady to strong; spots higher; bulls and stockers steady; veal calves steady to 25c. higher; bulk desirable vealers to packers around 8.50.

Hogs, receipts 29,000; lights and good butchers mostly 10c. higher; others very uneven, steady to lower; top 10.90; bulk 9.80 and 10.85; bulk good butchers 10.45 and 10.85; packing sows mostly 9.00 and 9.65; pigs steady to 10c. higher; mostly 9.70 and 10.25; holdover liberal.

Sheep, receipts 10,000; steady to 25c. higher; Idaho lambs 12.85 and 13.25; feeder ends 12.00; top natives 13.00 to city butchers; 12.75 to packers; fed Texas wethers 7.-0; top dry fed yearlings, 11.5; best fat light ewes 6.30.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, June 21.—(Canadian Press.) —Dry weather complaints from Canada and some sections west of here had considerable to do yesterday with bringing about an advance in the price of wheat. The market closed unsettled 2 1-8 to 2 5-8 net higher, with July $1.12 5-8 to $1.12 3-4, and September $1.13 1-4 to $1.13 3-8. Corn gained 3-4 to 1 1-8c. and oats 1-4 to 7-8. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to a rise of 2 1-2c.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday: Sterling demand 4.4879; Sterling cables 4.4904.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, June 21.—(Canadian Press.)—Cash prices: Wheat—No. 1 hard 132 1-8; No. 1 northern 131 7-8; No. 2, 127 3-8; No. 3, 117 3-8; No. 4, 104 7-8; No. 5, 95 7-8; No. 6 84 7-8; feed 76 7-8; track 130 7-8.

Oats—No. 2 C.W. 50 5-8; No. 3 C. W. and extra feed 48 1-8; No. 1 feed 45 5-8; No. 2 feed 42 7-8; rejected 41 5-8; track 50 5-8.

Barley—No. 3 C.W. 64 3-8; No. 4 C.W. 63 1-8; rejected 59 5-8; feed 58 5-8; track 64 3-8.

SUCCEEDS WHERE DOCTORS FAIL

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Often Does That. Read Mrs. Miner's Testimony

Churubusco, N. Y.—"I was under the doctor's care for over five years for backache and had no relief from his medicine. One day a neighbor told me about your Vegetable Compound and I took it. It helped me so much that I wish to advise all women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and backache. It is a great help in carrying a child, as I have noticed a difference when I didn't take it. I thank you for this medicine and if I ever come to this point again I do not want to be without the Vegetable Compound. I give you permission to publish this letter so that all women can take my advice."—Mrs. FRED MINER, Box 102, Churubusco, N. Y.

It's the same story over again. Women suffer from ailments for years. They try doctors and different medicines, but feel no better. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you can see its value in the case of Mrs. Miner.

All ailing women ought to try this medicine. It can be taken in safety by young or old, as it contains no harmful drugs.

EMILY TEAM WON SANDY TROPHY

Final Debate Was Held in Lindsay. Omemee News of Interest.

OMEMEE, June 21. — The final debate for the Sandy Cup took place on Monday evening in the Assembly Room of the Collegiate Institute, Lindsay.

There was a large gathering of interested people from the various municipalities.

The contestants were Messrs. Harry and Donald Jackson for Emily and Messrs. Tolmie and Smith for Mariposa.

In the semi-finals Mariposa had vanquished Ops, and Emily Verulam.

The subject of the debate was: "Resolved, That the Canadian System of Government is preferable to that of the United States."

The Emily team sustained the affirmative.

The debate was decided on three counts—English, platform deportment, and argument.

The Mariposa team had slightly the better of Emily in the first and second, but in the matter of argument, the Emily team had more than compensating advantage, and in the opinion of the judges, won the debate.

The young men acquitted themselves with credit, and well deserve any commendation that may be given them.

The judges were Messrs Johnston of the Lindsay Collegiate, Rev. R. S. Scott of St. Andrew's Church, Omemee, and Mr. Newman, of Lorneville.

The chairman was Rev. Mr. McIntosh, of Lindsay, and the timekeeper Mr. N. Small.

Good Programme.

Besides the debate, a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered, also short addresses by men prominent in farmers' club work.

Mrs. Hume, of Omemee, delighted the audience with two well-rendered vocal solos.

Among others from this neighbourhood were Mr. and Mrs. Mackey, Mr. and Mrs. D. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, besides several auto loads from East Emily, where the Jackson brothers reside.

A Garden Party.

The garden party under the auspices of the Anglican Church, was held on the church lawn on Friday evening last, where a splendid crowd had gathered for the occasion, regardless of the heavy clouds which hovered above.

The tables were set in the basement, and the supper was all that could be desired. The booth on the lawn did a rushing business until almost dusk, when a downpour of rain chased everyone to the basement. This inconvenienced those in charge somewhat, but a splendid programme was rendered. Mr. Kylie, of Cavan, was the comedian for the evening, and caused many laughs by his comic songs.

Special Services.

Special children's day services were observed in the Anglican and Methodist Churches on Sunday. About forty children took part during the day in song and recitation. The flower decorations were varied and pretty which added greatly to the service.

A League Game.

On Thursday, 22nd June, Millbrook will play Omemee at Omemee in a league game of baseball.

U.F.O. Picnic.

The U.F.O. Picnic will be held in Magee's Grove on Friday afternoon. A refreshment booth will be on the grounds also a dancing platform.

Several speakers will be present during the afternoon, and races and other sports will be run off.

Funeral Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Lowes (nee Miss Sootheran), of Toronto, formerly of Omemee, was held yesterday morning to Emily Cemetery, on the arrival of the G. T. R. noon train. Deceased was a niece of Mr. D. H. Corneil, of Omemee.

Campbellford News.

Mrs. S. Driscoll announces the engagement of her daughter, Agnes Irene, to Tobias Frederick Forestell, of Thorold, son of Mr. James Forestell, of Campbellford. The wedding to take place quietly on July 19th.

Mrs. Russell Peake and her two little daughters, who have been visiting in Toronto for the last three weeks, returned home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. T. Vosper, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. O. Roblin, of Belleville, has returned and is the guest of Mrs. Edward Plummer.

Miss Helen Cairns arrived home from Toronto for the summer holidays.

"Your Baby in Hot Weather"

PICK A COOL PLACE FOR THE BABY TO NAP IN

JUST CLIMING IN

BY MRS. MAX WEST

Late of the United States' Children's Bureau.

Next to the problems of feeding, the question of how to make the baby comfortable while he sleeps is the most puzzling of all hot weather problems in the daily care of the baby.

The coolest place in the house should be found for the day-time naps. This will usually be somewhere on the first floor, rather than in an upstairs bedroom. Quite often in the worst weather a pallet on the floor of the living room will afford more comfort than any bed, but this selection of the best place for the baby to sleep is one of those matters in which the judgment of the mother must be exercised.

The baby should be completely undressed when he takes his nap. A very thin cotton gown, open at the neck and short-sleeved, is perhaps the best garment to wear, at least for the older baby. A tiny baby can usually be made comfortable in crib or carriage, and if he naps in his carriage it can easily be moved about in search of the coolest spot.

Sleeping rooms are so hot in the early part of the night that it may be best to keep the baby out doors in the evening until the rooms have cooled somewhat, or put him to sleep in the porch, if here he can be protected from mosquitoes.

The main thing is to see that in the course of the twenty-four hours the baby has the necessary number of hours of sleep, even if the usual schedule has to be somewhat disturbed.

A bath in tepid water just before going to bed will help cool the skin and make the baby fall asleep more readily. No soap shoud be used, and the flesh should be patted gently to dry it, not rubbed. A little powder may be sifted into the groin and under the arms and into the folds of the skin around tre neck, but too much powder only makes the irritation worse.

If the baby wakens because he is hot and uncomfortable, a fresh nightgown and a drink of water will usually be all that is needed to send him quietly to sleep again. Out-door sleeping porches are a boon to the mother of a young family.

Screened and protected, they will afford the baby the opportunity for sound refreshing sleep, even in the hottest weather, for at least some portion of the day and night.

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH FRECKLES AND WHITEN SKIN

CONSCIENCE MONEY AFTER MANY YEARS

Mr. J. H. Metheral has received through the mails a contribution of "conscience" money in the shape of a five dollar bill accompanied by a note which directed that the money should b given to "Mr J. H. Metheral who used to keep a bicycle shop in Peterboro". It is some fifteen years since Mr. Methereal was in business so that the unexpected contribution is the result of something that happened a long time ago. He has no recollection of any transaction that would explain

Beauport Woman Says She is Thankful a Thousand Times That She Got Tanlac—Completely Relieved of Stomach Trouble and Gains 10 Pounds.

"I have gained ten pounds and feel perfectly well in every way since taking Tanlac," declared Mrs. Maxie Touchet, of Beauport, P.Q.

"I suffered dreadfully from indigestion for four years and could scarcely eat anything. My stomach hurt me so bad at times I could hardly stand it. I was so nervous the ringing of the door-bell upset me. My liver was badly disordered and I always had fearful pains in my back. I got so thin and weak I almost lost heart.

"I have been thankful a thousand times that I tried Tanlac, for it has meant health and happiness to me after everything else failed. I have a splendid appetite now, my liver is in good order and I am not the least bit nervous. I just can't praise Tanlac enough."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

PROCEEDINGS AT DELORME TRIAL

Moral Sanity Taken up at To-day's Session of Court.

MONTREAL, June 21.—(Canadian Press).—During the proceedings this morning of the hearing to establish the mental condition of Adelard Delorme, charged with murdering his half-brother, Judge Monet ordered the court-room cleared of women and girls, as it was imperative to take up the question of moral insanity. Under the circumstances, His Lordship did not consider the court-room a proper place for female spectators. The principal witness this morning was Detective Rioux, of the Provincial Police, who was examined by both Mr. Monete, counsel for prisoner, and Mr. Walsh, representing the Crown, concerning his contact and acquaintance with Delorme. Rioux's evidence dealt mainly with enquiries of Delorme as to a lady friend of his (Rioux)

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—Short interest in the stock market hurried to cover again at the active opening of to-day's session. Mexican Petroleum dominated the movement, soon advancing 3 1-2 points to 173, and as suddenly declining four points. Pan American issues rose two points each and gains of 1 to 2 1-2 points marked the early demand for Standard Oil of California and California Petroleum.

Early setback of Mexican Petroleum, due to profit taking, was of short duration. Before the end of the first hour that stock made a full recovery and by noon the high record for the year was established at 176 1-8. Other Oils were 1 to 3 points higher with more moderate gains for the minor Steels. Crucibile, Studebaker and Baldwin were under pressure, but rallied on renewed buying of Oils. Call money opened at 2 3-4 per cent.

The floating supply of stocks appeared scarce when large buying orders appeared and the urgency of the short covering carried prices still higher after mid-day. The gyrations of Mexican Petroleum continued to excite wonder, the price reaching 178 around 10 o'clock. Speculative interest was extended to all classes of shares, the spectacle of cheap money and good business prospects proving an irresistible magnet to many traders.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 21. —(Canadian Press.) — Sterling exchange weak. Demand rates Great Britain 4.42 1-2. Canadian Dollars 31/32 of one per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 21.— (Canadian Press.) — Rains in the Canadian Northwest and generally cooler weather led to a moderate down turn in price of wheat to-day shortly after the opening. The opening, which variel from unchanged figures to 1c. higher, with July 1.12 3-4 to 1.13 and Sept. 1.13 3-8 to 1.13 3-4, was followed by sight general gains and then by a setback all around to below yesterday's finish.

After opening unchanged to 3-8c. higher, July 62 3-8 to 62 1-2, the Corn market scored slight additional gains.

Oats started unchanged to 3-8c. higher, July 35 to 35 1-4, and later hardened a little more.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET.

MONTREAL, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—The local stock market was fairly brisk during the first half hour this morning, and many fractional advances ewre registered. The most active issue was British Empire Steel, the second preferred stock of which rose a point to 35. Another Steel issue, Steel of Canada, was unchanged at 73.

Atlantic Sugar was the most prominent stock in local trading in the forenoon session, both from the standpoint of activity and strength. Some 500 shares changed hands from 25 1-2 to 26 3-4.

Next in prominence was probably British Empire 2nd which resumed at the opening the upward course entered into yesterday.

Ames Holden issues were the weak spots on the list, the common selling at $1 and the preferred at $5.75. The position of the company is said to be critical.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, June 21— (Canadian Press.) — On sales of less than 100 shares Maple Leaf common this morning made an abrupt decline of fifteen points and furnished the only feature of a very dull market. No reason for the weakness in the milling stock was forthcoming, outside of a lack of buying order. It is pointed out that the stock of Maple Leaf is closely held and that little attention is paid to the market fluctuations, with the result that fluctuations both upwards and downwards are frequent and of considerable proportions. Toronto Rails weaker, closing at 73 5-8, a decline of 5-8. Brazilian unchanged at 47 1-2. B. E. Steel, 2nd preferred,d was off 1-2 at 34. Bonds were more active and stronger. The 33 regained most of yesterday's loss, closing at 102.40.

TORONTO CATTLE MARKET.

TORONTO, June 21.—(Canadian Press.)—Cattle market receipts 718. Trade steady. Quotations: Heavy beef steers, $8.50 to $9.35. Butchers' steers, choice, $8.50 to $9.25. Butcher steers, choice, $8.50 to $9.25. Butcher cows, medium, $4 to $5. Calves, $9 to $10. Lambs, $14.50 to $16. Hogs, selects, $14 to $14.25.

FELL THIRTY-FIVE FEET AT TORONTO GAS PLANT.

MERCHANTS BANK CASE UP AGAIN

Charge Against Sir Montague Allan Was Dismissed by the Court.

MONTREAL, June 21.—(Special) —Without argument of counsel being heard, Judge Cusson this morning summarily dismissed the charge laid against Sir Montague Allan by the Minister of Finance that he had sent a false return of the standing of the Merchants' Bank for the month of October last to the Government. In this the trial judge followed the precedent he set in the charge against D. C. Macarow, which was later taken up by the Minister of Justice, with the result that an indictment was formulated against him by Premier Taschereau in his capacity of Attorney-General, a true bill returned and Mr. Macarow sent for trial before a judge in the Court of Sessions.

The main witness of the session was H. B. Mackenzie, the official of the Bank of Montreal, who testified last week that he had prepared a statement showing that that bank's rest fund had been depleted by eight million dollars, and thus virtually wiped out. This he presented to Sir Montague Five Days before Sir Montague sent his report to the Government to the effect that all was O.K. at the bank. This morning, under cross-examination, Mr. Mackenzie stated that Sir Montague would have required more than five days to verify his report and to have acted upon it as it would have required getting a lot of outside information, and, in addition, he had already had a report which was at variance with that of Mr. McKenzie's.

Other witnesses of the morning were C. A. Wilson, vice-president, and C. C. Ballantyne and Farquhar Robertson, directors.

Piano Recital

An enjoyable and well-attended piano recital was given by the pupils of Miss Olga Fowler at the Conservatory of Music hall on Monday evening. Excellent training was manifested in the well-balanced programme, which was as follows:

"Little Valse", Irene Whatman; Duet—"Petite March de Concert, Eulah Hancock and Grace Thompson; "Country Dance", Lillian Elliott; Beethoven's "Sonatina", and 'In the Park", Loretta Spellman "Heather Rose", Elizabeth Mulholland; "March in F", Grace Thompson; "Le Secret" and Beeethoven's 'Melody in G", Ernest Elliott; "At Evening", Lillian Edmison; "Au Plaisir", Reta Frost; "Scented Violets", Ray Hunter; Duet "Valse Brilliante", Ethel Blodgett and Olga Fowler; "Sonatina" Eulah Hancock "Hilarity" Norman Elliott; "Pleasures and Spring", Ethlye Reynolds; 'Serenade sans Paroles' Ethel Blodgett; Tarantelle", Marguerite Deyell

Miss Edna Borbidge, a pupil of Mrs. Dorothy Allen Park, sang very prettily two vocal solos "My Dear Soul" and "The Call of the Woods".

EXPORT TRADE DISCUSSED.

ST. ANDREWS - BY - THE - SEA, N.B., June 21.—(Canadian Press). —For the first time in history the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, here to-day, devoted practically an entire session to the subject of export trade.

Thomas Doden, treasurer, advocated that Canadian manufacturers should be identified with common name or trade mark. He said that as a young manufacturing country, Canada did not realize the prestige which the name took to itself when it came to signify the high value of goods. He instanced the use of trade names by British exporters. Canadian manufacturers, he said, were developing a very high-class of goods.

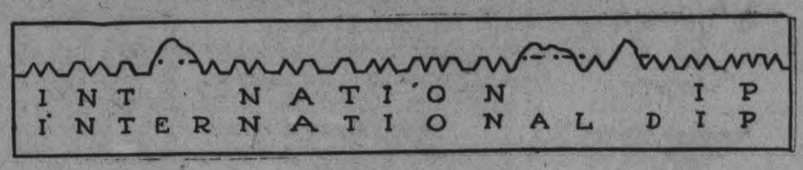
Radio Amateur Can Foretell Weather by Effects of Static on Set



RECORD MADE BY TAPE RECORDER SHOWING OBLITERATION OF LETTERS DUE TO STATIC IMPULSES.

By PAUL F. GODLEY,
America's Foremost Radio Authority.

Use your radio receiving set as a barometer.

It's easy—if you are a careful observer of natural electrical phenomena.

Static has a direct connection with the condition of the weather. Exactly what this relation is has never been definitely determined. Scientists have made innumerable efforts to correlate the observations of hundreds of radio operators in an effort to discover the natural law that governs the connection.

One of the earliest attempts to utilize electrical disturbances in the ether was that of Professor Popoff, a Russian. He showed that naturally produced electro-magnetic waves were associated with barometric changes.

Detectors and recorders which were available at that time could give no indication of any disturbances at great distances. But since the perfection of receptive devices, experienced radio operators have learned to predict the approach of unsettled weather.

Cross Currents.

An unsettled state gives rise to "cross" air currents which, conflicting with each other, generate electric charges on the vapor clouds, when these charges have grown sufficiently strong, they break down intervening insulation and a spark jumps between clouds, which may be only a few feet or many hundred feet apart.

Even during major changes of weather in the winter time, these phenomena make themselves known by slight crackling noises in the receivers. Storm centres moving eastward or northward toward the Atlantic States have been sensed by radio two or three days before their arrival on the coast.

During the summer, local thunder showers are frequent. One may note the electro-static discharges in the later afternoon almost any day.

At such times, the arrival of a storm at the receiving station is usually indicated only by extremely loud clicking and crashing noises. As is well known, thunder storms which pass within a few miles, frequently are never actually seen.

These summer storms may be heard in the radio receiver and then die out before ever reaching the place where the observer is stationed. They can even be detected by the small crystal receiving sets. The type which may register itself some 48 or 60 hours prior to arrival is generally perceptible only on the more elaborate kinds of receiving equipment.

Changes Noted.

The greatest accuracy is prediction of weather change through the use of the radio receiver is accomplished during the fall, winter and spring.

A gradual increase in the strength of the natural electrical disturbances will indicate that the storm is approaching.

A lessening in the strength of the disturbances means that it is moving away.

A consistency in the strength of the sig is indicates a storm that is moving along a path which is approximately equally distant from the observer at all points.

An Industry in which All Revenue is Profit

An industry in which cost of maintenance is practically covered by a Government bounty—this is the production of crude oil. On every barrel of crude oil produced in Canada, the Government pays a bounty of 60 cents. This means that with a number of wells giving an average flow the bounty pays the cost of maintenance.

This bounty is paid to encourage the crude oil industry of Canada, because, although Canada's oil resources are enormous, the great bulk of the crude oil used by Canadian refineries has to be imported.

Once the wells are sunk successfully and the necessary pumping equipment and storage facilities installed, a Canadian oil company with rich properties is therefore placed immediately on a basis of very profitable production.

To-dav Central Ontario Oil Fields, Limited (No Personal Liability), stands on the threshold of prosperity. This company has brought in its first two wells at Kerwood, near Petrolia, and by the purchase of the necessary pumping equipment and storage facilities will be able to place the Kerwood field on a paying basis. It will then be in a position to develop the enormously rich oil properties which it holds in the new fields farther east. It is to finance this that the present offering of stock is made.

This offering is necessarily limited, and is being rapidly absorbed. Your opportunity to share in this venture, in which the possibilities of stupendous profits are unparalleled, and which is backed by intelligent management and unquestioned integrity, is slipping past. Fill in the attached subscription form and mail it now before it is too late.

OUR RECOMMENDATION

We control and offer for sale 100,000 Shares at $2.00, and Subscriptions will be received in any amounts.

This offering by us is made only after the most careful consideration and investigation. Our decision to offer this investment is based on the belief that this Company will enjoy an unusual degree of prosperity.

The reports of geologists and all other information regarding this Company can be inspected at our Offices, or will be mailed on request.

PUBLIC MEETING HELD MILLBROOK

Women's Institute Held an Interesting Session—The Topics.

MILLBROOK, June 21. — The Millbrook branch of the Women's Institute held a public meeting in the town hall on Monday evening, the president Miss M. E. Fisher, occupying the chair. The members of Cavan branch had been invited to join with Millbrook for the gathering but doubtless owing to other events intervening none were present. After the singing of the Maple Leaf by all in attendance, the secretary gave a report of the year's work which was very encouraging. The Misses May and Ada Attwood then rendered a piano duet to the pleasure of the listeners and Mrs. Cronk of Pickering, who was the speaker of the evening gave the first part of her address, confining her remarks to some phases of Institute work, stating that the Provincial office now had movie films of their own which they were ready to allow any local organization the use of free, simply asking that they pay the express; these films are carefully censored, and are of educational value and entertaining as well. The demonstration lecture courses are also highly recommended, including as they do, domestic science, home nursing, travelling library, and sewing lessons.

The Women's Institute, the speaker explained, was organized 25 years ago at Stoney Creek in Wentworth County, and has spread in membership and influence all over Canada, and overseas as well, but Ontario is called the "Mother of Institutes." There are 925 in the Provincial Federation, with a roll call of 29,000 names. However, numbers alone do not spell success; the responsibility for this rests upon the officers and individual members.

The motto adopted is "For Home and Country," and the aim, better homes, better social conditions, better community life and more scientific agriculture. Mrs. Cronk urged that every Institute have an objective then more united and better work would be done, and mentioned also the forming of a Home and School Committee to work in harmony with trustee board, which might, if necessary place sanitary towels and cups in the school, and an emergency kit, which the teachers were sure to find useful; they could also encourage community singing by the pupils. The institutes had been instrumental in unearthing buried talent and training in leadership, and for those who felt incapable of original thought in preparing papers, there had recently been issued a splendid handbook which may be had from the Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

Miss F. Greer gave a reading and Mrs. G. S. Gervan a vocal solo in her usual excellent voice, after which Mrs. Cronk spoke on the "Twentieth Century Woman, Her Needs and Possibilities," showing that woman's hour had struck during the past few years of chaos and unrest, the world catastrophe having opened to her doors of opportunity hitherto closed, but necessarily since her sphere is not now limited to the four walls of home, greater responsibility is her portion; her's is the finest of all fine arts, homemaking, and motherhood, and on these subjects most informing bulletins are now issued.

Some pertinent remarks from this address were "Efficiency is the slogan of the hour;" "What you want the world to know to-morrow, teach the children to-day," "The status of womanhood is the measure of the civilization in any nation," "The path of progress is always blocked by well meaning persons valiantly trying to uphold the old traditions," "Service is the keynote of progress," "Teach the young people to give proper service for value received."

Plainly but tactfully, the need of reform in the style of movies apparently most popular, and in the present style of dress, was emphasized, since both are blunting the moral sense of both sexes.

A vote of thanks was moved by the vice-president, Mrs. H. Armstrong, seconded by the secretary, Mrs. W. Rowland, the hearty applause which followed showing the appreciation of the audience. The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

Chapter LXIX.

JACK'S JOB IS GONE BUT HE WON'T TAKE THE $3,000.

(By a Bride)

"No, I don't agree," I spoke positively. "It isn't a question of right and wrong. It's what Mr. Barnick thinks. If he wants to give that money, if he believes he owes me $3,000 for keeping those pearls safe—and getting them back to him—even if I didn't guess their value—I'd be a poor business woman to refuse it!"

"I can't object Peggins! You must do what you thing best, according to the compact we made when we were married. But, mind, I don't say your opinion is correct."

"Jack, dear! Think! I can pay off all your debts!"

"Oh, Peggins!" Jack groaned. "Aren't we having trouble enough without making it worse"

"Am I not trying my best to make it better" I inquired. "With $3000 I can wipe out all our troubles!"

"If it only were as simple as that!" Jack answered. And then, "Peggins! Peggins!"

I perceived for the first time Jack was struggling with more than one mental distress.

"What's the matter, Jack"

He stated his tragedy quite plainly:

"No job! Not after the middle of the month! It isn't unexpected Peg. I don't blame them. Selling isn't my game. The office force had to be cut down. Two of us had to go. Of course, they picked the two who had been making the poorest showing I'm one."

I put a finger on my husband's lips and silenced him.

"Let's take it like a great adventure dearest!" Why, my love, even if we starve, we'll have each other—starve together. And Jack, don't ever again say you've failed. It's only our share of the common hardship."

"You're a good sport, Peggins! At a test, always!"

"In adversity, I hope so. Why not also in prosperity? For Jack, dear, that $3,000 looks to me like the beginning of real prosperity for us. It will give you time to find the work that fits you. For that reason, I'm going to take it."

"You mean that Peggins?"

I nodded.

"Choose your own way, girl. But if we had no prenuptial agreement not to interfere with each other, I'd set my foot down, like a husband of the old school, I'd say that you can't have that money. I wouldn't let you touch it!"

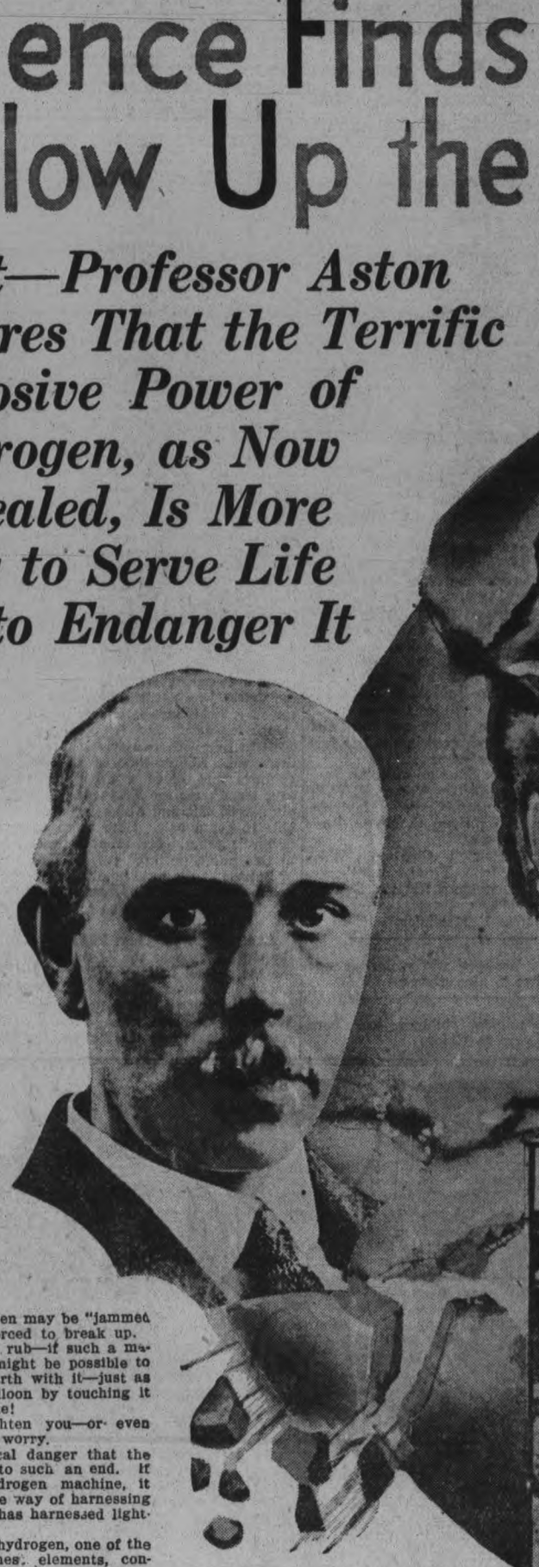
Science Finds a Force That Could Blow Up the Earth

But—Professor Aston Declares That the Terrific Explosive Power of Hydrogen, as Now Revealed, Is More Likely to Serve Life Than to Endanger It



Professor F. R. Aston, of Cambridge University, England, Whose Announcement of the Discovery of a Tremendous Latent Force in Hydrogen Is of Profound Interest to Scientists.

SCIENCE has just discovered a new force, which, if it can be commanded and controlled, may furnish all mankind with heat, light and power in limitless quantities.

It is the explosive energy of hydrogen.

All that is needed is to invent a machine in which hydrogen may be "jammed into a corner" and forced to break up.

But—and here's the rub—if such a machine is invented, it might be possible to blow up the entire earth with it—just as you explode a toy balloon by touching it with a lighted cigarette!

Don't let this frighten you—or even cause you a moment's worry.

There is no practical danger that the world will ever come to such an end. If science invents a hydrogen machine, it will also discover some way of harnessing the power, just as it has harnessed lightning.

The statement that hydrogen, one of the simplest and commonest elements, contains such an amazing force, has just been made by Dr. F. R. Aston, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, who has just been lecturing in America on scientific subjects. He declares that the discovery of the explosive power of the hydrogen atom furnishes the first tenable theory to account for the heat of the sun. Heretofore scientists have held various theories of how the sun remained hot for millions of years, but none of the theories was satisfactory. Dr. Aston declares that hydrogen is the missing link.

The scientific importance of the theori is that it brings into accord the two sciences of geology and physics. In the past there has been sharp conflict in the efforts to reconcile what is known about chemistry with what is known about the age of the earth. Geology needed a hundred million years or more to account for the various phenomena found within its field. But physics made this age impossible by showing that no known heating element could possibly have lasted so long, basing its contention on the known present rate of exhaustion of these elements.

Hydrogen transforming itself, or being transformed, into helium, is now believed to furnish the explanation. According to Dr. Aston, it is now possible to account in positive physics for almost any age for the earth that geology demands because of the extraordinary energy created by the destruction of hydrogen in masses.

To put the discovery in practical terms, it has been shown by experiments that there is enough hydrogen in a teaspoonful of water to produce 200,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy, merely by turning the hydrogen into helium. That energy is, roughly, equivalent to 275,000 horsepower.

In other words, there is nearly three times as much energy, if it can be released, in one teaspoonful of water as that produced by the hundred million tons that pour over Niagara Falls every hour. Niagara generates 100,000 horsepower hourly.

"Should the research worker discover some means of releasing this energy in a form which could be employed," says Professor Aston, "the human race will have at its command powers beyond the dreams of scientific fiction, but the remote possibility must always be considered that the energy once liberated will be completely uncontrollable and by its intense violence detonate or explode all neighboring substances.

"If that happens, all the hydrogen on earth might be transformed at once (the hydrogen in the air and the hydrogen in the oceans), and this most successful experiment might be published to the rest of the universe in the form of a new star of extraordinary brilliance, as the earth blew up in one vast explosion."

Almost simultaneously with Dr. Aston's statement comes the announcement that a group of American scientists, including Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who isolated the electron, are engaged in a series of experiments along these very lines.

They are striving for the construction of "cosmic crucibles" in which matter is to be bombarded by high potentials of electricity up to a million volts, with the idea of "breaking it up" and causing new arrangements of its atoms—exactly as is suggested by Dr. Aston for the "hydrogen machine."

One of Dr. Millikan's laboratories has already been fitted up at Pasadena, California, and experiments are under way.

"A part of our program from a standpoint of physics," Dr. Millikan is quoted as saying, "involves the use of tremendously high potentials which furnish the only possible means of bringing to bear here on the surface of the earth such enormously concentrated energies as are presumably at work among the stars."

While scientists are agreed that the power to be derived from hydrogen in the event it could be "exploded" in some such machine or crucible, would be great enough to literally "blow up the earth" if it got out of control—they regard the possibility of such an actual happening as about as unlikely as that the world will be destroyed by final collision with a comet or some other heavenly body.

It is a curious fact that old religious teachings by those who took all the statements of the prophets literally without making any allowance whatever for allegorical intent, predicted just such an end for the world as that which Dr. Aston says would occur if it came through a tremendous hydrogen explosion.

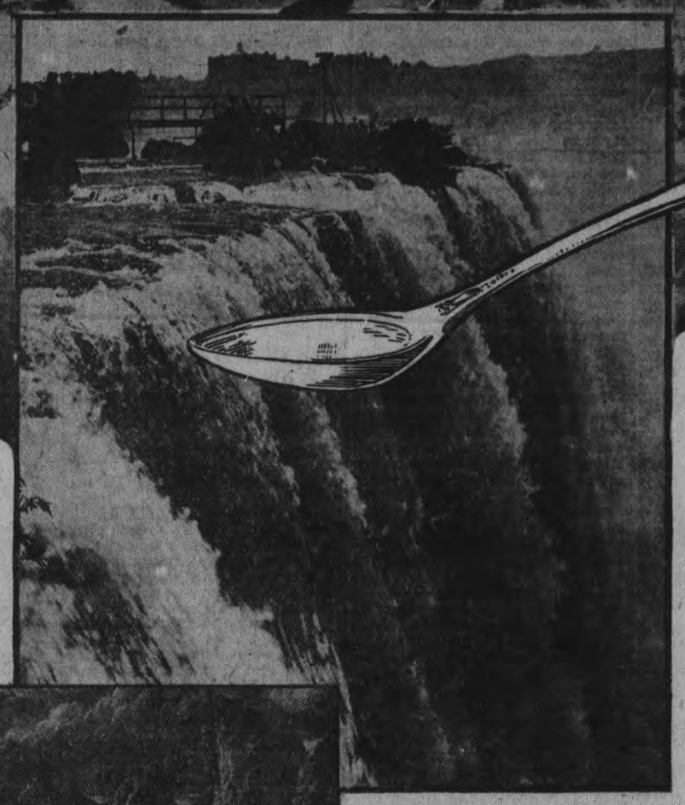
They expected it to go out one day in fire and flames. Such an imaginative scene is depicted in the famous painting of the "Opening of the Sixth Seal," reproduced on this page.

Barring such almost impossible accidents as a collision with a comet or destruction by human experiment with such cosmic forces as hydrogen and atomic energy, science regards it as likely that the earth itself will last hundreds of millions of years more.

In fact, science believes, it will last much longer than the human race. Geological relics, buried in the strata of the earth's various ages prove that the climate and temperature of the globe have varied greatly at different times. There have been periods when the whole of what is now the United States of America was covered with arctic glacial ice. Scientists see no reason why, in the course of millions of years, such violent changes in climate may not come again, possibly so extreme that human life will either disappear entirely or become so changed to meet new conditions, that our successors may be as different from the man of the present as we are different from a fish or insect.

Or all organic life may first be destroyed, and the earth may last for millions of years afterward as a "dead world" such as the moon is supposed to be today.

Millions, perhaps billions of years, will pass, however, before such cosmic changes occur. There is no reason, scientifically, to doubt that the earth will be a habitable place for some form of life so long as the sun continues to give light and heat, and if the sun's heat is due to radio-active energy, as some scientists have supposed, or to the disintegration of hydrogen into helium, as Dr. Aston has just suggested, the earth's chief luminary could remain "on the job" for at least another ten billion years.



Professor Aston Has Estimated That There Is Sufficient Hydrogen in One Teaspoonful of Water to Produce 200,000 Kilowatt Hours of Electrical Energy. This Is Two and Three-Quarter Times Greater Than the Electrical Energy Generated Every Hour by the Combined Plants at Niagara Falls.

New York 6; Cleveland 5.

CLEVELAND, O., June 21. (Canadian Press.) — After losing eight games in a row, New York finally broke its disastrous streak yesterday by winning from Cleveland 6 to 5. Uhle was driven from the box in the third inning, while Morton's poor support allowed New York to score three more runs. Bush was effective in the pinches until the eighth when Jones replaced him and retired the side with the bases filled. The game was full of wrangling over decisions of Umpires Dineen and Nallin. Police escorted them from the field after the game. The score:

New York	..11112000—6	11	0
Cleveland	..20000021—5	13	4

Bush, Jones and Hofman; Uhle, Morton, Bagby and O'Neill, L. Sewell.

Washington 9; Chicago 6.

CHICAGO, June 21. (Canadian Press.) — Urban Faber weakened in the 13th inning yesterday and Sam Rice started a rally by stretching a single into a double which enabled Washington to score three runs and defeat Chicago 9 to 6. Rice hit safely in his last five times up and also played great ball in the field making hard catches which robbed the locals of hits and possible runs. The game was one of the hardest fought on the local diamond this season. The score:

ROTARIANS GET ONE ON THE KIWANIANS

Ball Game at Riverside Park Goes to Rotary With a 7 to 6 Score.

The reversible battery of the Kiwanians went ahead and reversed to their heart's content in the Kiwanis-Rotary game yesterday afternoon, but nevertheless went down to defeat with a 7 to 6 score

The Kiwanians went to bat first and before Gordon Matthews and his trusty team-mates had retired the necessary three, two runs had crossed the plate. The elation of the Kiwanis over this auspicious opening however soon cooled when the Rotarians came right back with three runs, a three base hit by Case being one of the features of the inning.

The game then Rotated and Kiwaned back and forth until the Rotarians went to bat in the fifth inning with the score tied. Doug Lawrie managed to get on base but by the time he got around to third two men were out and the outlook was not so bright, until Parson Young stepped up to the plate and whaled out a mighty single sending in the winning run.

Gordon Matthews did the heaving for the Rotarians and though he remarked after the game he had lost eighteen pounds a close inspection showed that there was still enough avoirdupois left to cast a shadow. Chris Graham who officiated in the backstop position was much embarrased by the lack of a uniform, but finally consented to play in his every-day clothes.

Walt Smaill who handled the short stop position for the winners was so tuckered out at one period that he had to sit down to make a throw to first.

The big feature of the game however the was double action battery of th Kiwanians. Nagel Phelan started the twirling with Russ Widdifield behind the bat. This combination worked pretty well and the spectators wondered when in the second frame a change was made, Alderman Phelan going behind the bat, and Mr. Widdifield officiating on the rubber. This combination also worked well, so that even more wonderment was expressed when another reverse was made in the third. The change was made in every inning and the close score showed that it worked pretty well.

HASTINGS PULLED OUT LACROSSE VICTORY IN THE FINAL CHAPTER

Defeated Peterborough Juniors By 8-6, Overcoming Half-Time Score of 5-2 Against Them—Local Team Dropped Back on Defensive in Third and Were Outplayed in the Last Period.

GAME WAS CLEAN.

With the half time score 5-2 in their favour in the junior lacrosse match with Hastings at Riverside Park Tuesday evening, the Peterboro team fell back on a free and easy defense game, frittered away their choice in the third quarter and were outplayed in the last Tom Coughlin leaving his visitors off the field with the big end of an 8-6 score. A small crowd crossed the river to get a look at the old game as the youngsters play it, and for the first two periods even the old timers were highly pleased with the exhibition both teams put up. Hastings made it a two all tie in the first session, and were strong in the second although three goals in a row upset them.

Dr. Sutton's boys certainly had a full share in the handling of the ball in the third quarter, but the only goal went to Hastings, Stevenson getting it.

The visitors started the fourth at top speed and ran up a string of three, sifting through the Peterboro defense with ease and getting in close on Jack LeBarr. Porteous made it six-six, and even then there were plenty of chances of getting the odd goal, but it was Hastings that got it, two of them in fact in the last few minutes of twilight.

The teams were as follows:

Hastings—Goal L. Lambert, points C. Whitred and W. Whitred, defense W. Tate and H. Walsh, centre Stevenson, home B. Richardson and O. Cruikshanks inside home J. Gould, outside K Cruikshanks, spare C. Way.

Peterboro—Goal J. Lebarr, points L Lebarr and J. Ward, defense Hormel and Fuller, centre Brown, home Johnston and Ranger, outside Doug Miller and O'Toole. Spares Porteous, K. Mein and Curtis.

Referee—W. A. Harcourt.

The Hastings team looked weaker than the bunch they trotted out here last year. Stevenson, Richardson and Tate were their outstanding performers, Stevenson especially getting a big share of the goals. Lou Lebarr jolted some of the steam out of Richardson in the third but he came back strong in the last period and led the attack. The team as a whole handled the ball well. They played cleanly although one of them welted Ranger a couple of times over the shoulders, and others were willing to mix it, but on the whole the game was free from rough tactics. Stevenson and Richardson were the best pair on the field chiefly by reason of the fact that they refused to stay beaten even when Peterboro had a decided edge of the play and appeared to be just starting to pile up a margin.

For Peterboro the home field showed in the second period that they play real lacrosse and then they blew. Alf. Johnston, Ranger, Miller and O'Toole comprised a snappy home section that gave a good account of themselves in the first half, but the rest was a nightmare. They threw the ball high, wide and awful whether from inside or outside the defense, and the a big let down in their play. Hastings jolted them into activity in the final, but it takes a real team to recover from the effects of a session of loafing through defense tactics. O'Toole was consistently aggressive, and the other three should have had a couple of extra goals each to their credit. In the second period Curtis threw away an easy chance, shooting away over the nets with no one near him. The team on the whole handled the ball a great deal better than last year. Johnston, Lebarr and Miller flashed a lot of neat plays in the first half, and just because of the feeling that they should have won, the defeat seemed so much worse, although Hastings looked mighty good in the closing period However, such experiences have their profitable results, and should be a lesson.

Jack Lebarr played well in goal, especially when his saves were giving the team its chance, but in last period the opposing marksmen were allowed to get clear inside leaving the youngster about helpless. Louie Lambert another stripling was good in the Hastings net. The local defense did all that was required of them and used to advantage of their weight effectively. In the last quarter local midfield let the odd man through and the defense was decidedly handicapped.

BUSINESS MEN FALL TO LAKEFIELD TEAM.

LAKEFIELD, June 21.—The Business men of the village were defeated by the regular Lakefield tea 6 to 1 in an exhibition game last evening. The Business Men had expected to have Heckman and Swantson for their battery but as they failed to appear they had to get along as best they could with the material at hand. The game was well attended as similar exhibitions in the immediate past have been.

The players were: Lakefield—Weaver p. Simpson c, Erskine 1b, B. Hull 2b, J. Hull 3b, Fitzgerald ss, Doughty lf, Ridpath rf, Everett cf.

Business Men—Moore p, Knox c, Crawford 1b, Tanner 2b, Blewett 3b, McFadden ss, McManus lf, Dench cf, Sabatino rf, Dr. J. C. Smith, sub.

G. G. Connell acted as umpire-in-chief and J. R. Hill on the bases.

Score by innings:

Lakefield	21102 —6

RUTH SUSPENDED FOR THIRD TIME

Ban Johnson Thinks the Suspension May Be a Good Thing For the New York Club.

CHICAGO, June 21.— (Canadian Press.)—Ruth will lose his pay during the suspension imposed yesterday for insulting a referee.

Mr. Johnson said he also would fine Ruth and added that he believed the suspension would do the New York Club good.

"They've lost eight straight games, but with Ruth out of the game perhaps they'll turn around and win a few now," said the American League President.

"My reports show that Ruth used vulgar and vicious language, calling Umpire Dineen one of the vilest names known. I will not stand for action of that kind from any player. The umpires are put on the field to handle the game in a dignified manner and preserve order, and I want it known that I will back them at all times in dealing with any recalcitrant player."

LOCAL CANOE CLUB WELL ORGANIZED

War Canoes Will Be Put in Shape Immediately—Regatta to Be Held on June 27.

A well-attended meeting of the Canoe Club was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening for the purpose of organisation. Doug. Loomis, G. H. Roper, and H. B. Cowan were appointed to look after the war canoes, and as soon as they can be put in shape, full teams will be given work-outs in preparation for the coming summer regattas.

Two fours, the property of St. Paul's, will also be put in shape.

It was decided to hold a local regatta on 27th June, and invitations will be sent to the Chemong and Lakefield clubs to take part.

Local entries are expected from St. Paul's, Y.M.C.A., and the Belmont Club.

ST. PAUL'S TO HOLD THE ANNUAL PICNIC.

The annual picnic of St. Paul's Church and Sunday School will be held Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval. H. B. Cowan, G. H. Roper and Walter Smaill are in charge of the athletic activities and have arranged a good schedule. The following will be run off:

Boys' events—25 yard dash for boys 6 years and under; 25 yard dash for boys 8 years and under; 50 yard dash for boys 12 years and under; 75 yard dash for boys 14 years and under; 100 yard dash open to all boys over 14; sack race; wheelbarrow race.

Girls' events—25 yard dash for girls 6 years and under; 25 yard dash for girls 10 years and under; 25 yard dash for girls 12 years and under; 50 yard dash for girls 14 years and under; 50 yard dash for girls 14; boot and shoe race.

Other Events—Hobble race for men; husband and wife race; needle and thread for ladies; tug of war, men teachers vs young men.

GIRLS' BASEBALL.

In the Girls' Playground Ball League on Monday evening, the Prince of Wales' nine defeated the Centrals 18 to 11 in a fast and exciting game.

The King George and C. O. S. game, which was scheduled for last evening, has been postponed until to-morrow at 4.30.

The game between the Y Tigers and the Colonial Weavers, which was re-scheduled for Monday evening, was indefinitely postponed.

QUAKERS DEFEAT LAKEFIELD TEAM

Visitors Take Offensive Early in the Game But Fail to Maintain Early Lead.

The Quaker Oats team won a hard and well earned victory over the Lakefield Club last evening by the score of 4 to 2.

Lakefield opened with a bang and by their long driving kept the Quakers defence hopping. They also opened the scoring, a determined rally in the goal mouth resulting in the ball being put through. Their lead was short-lived however, for J. Willshaw equalized in one minute with a drive from near the touchline. The Quakers took the lead before half time G. Logan nipping the ball through during a scrimmage.

Lakefield again started strongly and for a time had the Quakers defenders in a tight corner. They got a well deserved goal when Summers equalized the game.

Quakers got plenty of running and little concerted play was seen, the ball travelling from goal to goal by lusty kicking. Eventually J. Willshaw got the leading goal for his side with a hard shot from close in. Shortly after this Lakefield during a scramble in Griffin's goal-area made a confident appeal for a penalty but after consulting the linesmen, referee disallowed the claim.

J. Willshaw got his own third and Quakers fourth goal in the last few minutes of the game.

The teams lined up as follows:

Quakers—Griffin, Young, R. Willshaw, G. Logan Clarke, Hepburn, Honor, J. Willshaw, G. Logan, Russel and Foster.

Lakefield—Bell Charlton, Wasson, Waldon, Trude, Lonsberry, Dodd, R. Summers, Ridpath, Robertshow and B. Summers.

Referee—F. McKinley.

LOCAL MAN IS ELIMINATED FROM CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY

R. Abbott Defeated at Ancaster After Supplying Some of the Most Brilliant Play of the Series.

DROVE 300 YARDS.

ANCASTER, June 21.—(Canadian Press)—The Turpin-Abbott match proved the most fertile in thrills of any in the day for the play over 36 holes, eighteen in the morning and eighteen in the afternoon. In the morning the Peterboro man finished the round two holes to the good. He kept right on in the afternoon and was three up at the seventh hole. With only eleven more holes to play he looked to be in a safe position but in the eigth the sensational work began. Abbott put his drive under the brow of a hill and although he could only guage the location of the pin he put his ball within inches of the hole. This might well have un-nerved Mr. Turpin in his position in the rear but it did not. His drive was excellent and his second also ran up on the green. The hole was halved in birdie threes. At the ninth Turpin got four to Abbott's six making him two down. At the tenth Turpin had the short end of a four to five score. At the eleventh the Peterboro man made a desperate effort to stave off the defeat which was staring him in the face. This hole is known as the "Dog's-leg-hole" and is generally done in five with two drives around the bend. Abbott ignored all conventions and sliced a drive clear over some trees for 300 yards. Turpin played safe and Abbott was only able to get a half. Both holed out in birdie fours. Mr. Abbott broke at this point, putting two bals out of bounds at the next hole when the match was squared. From this point Mr. Turpin easily secured the mastery of the situation.

Another outstanding feature of the day's play was the 72 turned in for the second holf by William Mc Luckie of Montreal, who finished out of the course after defeating Mr. Wilson. Mr. McLuckie narrowly escaped making a seventy one, a single stroke worse than the amateur record for the course. After puting with deadly accuracy all day, he missed a two yard putt on the last green.

Mr. McLuckie's performance was one better than par and it contained four birdies.

The struggle which produced a great amount of interest and drew one of the largest galleries was the match between W. J. Thompson, Winner of the medal for the best score in the qualifying round Monday and Fritz Martin. In the morning round Mr. Thompson managed to get a hole away from the exchampion. Both started the afternoon round in a very determined fashion. Mr. Martin squared the match on the first hole and was one up at the second. Mr. Thompson got back on the level again at the next and won the third and fourth. The fifth and sixth were halved, but the seventh Mr. Martin annexed making him one down. The match was squared again on the ninth after the eighth had been halved. Halves followed until the fifteenth, when Mr. Martin again dropped behind. He sliced his drive to the left and though he got out of the rough, he over-ran the green and took a five. Mr. Thompson got a par four after a fine drive, a good approach and two putts. The sixteenth and seventeenth were halved. Mr. Martin missed a shor putt on the home green and lost the match.

COLBORNE IN LEAD.

COBOURG, June 21.—Colborne has regained the lead in the Northumberland County Baseball League by winning from Warkworth in a hard-fought game by 8 to 7. Roseneath won from Baltimore and is tied with Warkworth for second place. Brighton won from Burnly. The standing of the league now is:

	W.	L.	P.C.
Colborne	4	1	.800
Rosneath	3	1	.750

CAMPERS

ONTARIO'S forest wealth is dwindling. Every year forest fires take disastrous toll. Careless campers cause eleven per cent. of Ontario's forest fires. Last summer 112 cases of neglected camp fires were reported. This summer be careful.

Save Ontario's Forests
They're Yours

DON'T

DON'T take chances with fire in Ontario's forests.

DON'T throw away cigarette or cigar butts, pipe "heels" or burnt matches until you are dead sure they are out.

DON'T neglect to drown out your fire with lots of water.

DON'T build your camp fire against a rotten log or stump—nor on windy points; nor near moss patches; nor at the base of a tree. Build it in a former fireplace, or on a flat rock, or on a spot cleared down to the true soil below, or by the edge of the water.

DON'T forget that the upper layer of ground in the forest consists of partially rotted wood which will burn.

When you build your fire to make tea, fry bacon or add cheer to pipe and story-telling time, use a woodsman's precautions.

The real woodsman builds his fire on an old fireplace, if there be one handy. Failing that he scrapes away all litter, moss and fibrous rotted wood down to the mineral soil, or the bare rock, and preferably some place close to the water. He knows that if fire gets into the moss or the upper woody layer of forest soil, or in a half-rotted log or stump, it "holds over," burns away unnoticed underneath, and unless followed up and carefully put out, is liable to break into a flame later. He knows how hard it is to put such deep-smouldering fire out. So he makes his cooking fire surprisingly small and compact, and chooses a spot that is absolutely safe.

It is a mark of his finished woodsmanship how thoroughly he drowns his fire out with plenty of water when he is through with it. Save the forests. You may want to camp again.

MISS MAUD GEORGE IN "FOOLISH WIVES"

Impressions of a Fan.

Personal appearances of moving picture stars are sometimes successful and often they are not—Mr. Charles G. Branham, Director of Publicity and Advertising for Famous-Players-Canadian-Corporation Limited, has written a good deal on the subject, and one is inclined to agree with him. Motion picture stars off stage are disappointing, but during the presentation of "Foolish Wives" in Toronto, (the million dollar super production made in the California Studio, Universal). Miss Maud George who played the Princess Olga Petshnikoff, appeared several times and created a very favorable impression. She is a charming, cultivated woman, with a well modulated speaking voice and pleasing manner.

In the photoplay she wears gorgeous gowns and proves herself an actress of experience and marked ability, but when she appeared on the stage at Pantages, she was dressed far more simply than the majority of flappers who grace Yonge street ,or even less conspicuously than the vividly garbed habitue of the country club or seashore resort. In the afternoon, Miss George wore a soft clinging dress of black satin, draped and absolutely untrimmed; the square neck opening was most conservative and a small black hat completed the costume—of course it is needless to mention the fact that her shoes were dainty black slippers and she wore the sheerest of black chiffon-silk stockings. For the evening, her gown was again black, a combination of lace and soft crepes, while her only ornaments were pearls. She looks so much younger than in the picture that one is a trifle surprised at the change made by her character make-up. Miss George is a cousin of Grace George, the famous wife of Wm. A. Brady.

Fortunately, her little speech was in the nature of a nice "intime" little chat—she did not attempt any Hollywood whitewashing propaganda, and told a few little secrets which the audience devoured with delight. She received cordial, hearty response, and no doubt much good would be accomplished if all the moving picture people made such attractive appearances.

During the filming of the picture, much of the success of the work was assured by the perfect co-operation of director and cast. Miss George spoke feelingly of the year's work while she and other members of the cast were on location, on the incidents, some of them interesting and some of them quite exciting, which took place. She told of the extras, who were nearly all fashionable people whose clothes approximated as much as possible the beautiful costuming of the beau monde, and the demi-monde who frequent Monte Carlo. It was fascinating to hear at first hand, stories of such genuises as Mr. von Stroheim, of Miss Du Pont, the American society girl, who plays the chief female part opposite the director, who knew European life so well, that nothing could slip by him; he tolerates no discrepancies and the result which has been achieved and which you will see at the Capitol Theatre, for three days beginning June 22nd speaks for itself.

"FOOLISH WIVES" AT THE CAPITOL

Peterboro people are going to have a treat of their lives when they see "Foolish Wives," at the Capitol Theatre. To much can not be said of the enterprising management which has secured this big picture for three days beginning, Thursday June 22nd. You have seen shows that have been advertised as the best ever, the most wonderful attraction for the money and the stars in them were supposed to be the brightest luminaries in the entire theatrical firmament. There is nothing of the sort necessary for this production, and audiences in Toronto who saw Miss Maud George were simply delighted with her and with the production—she said a few things which were most interesting and instructive, and told the incidents as though she were letting us into some real secrets.

Her ideas of what adventuresses should wear were very much upset when she found she had to use a white wig—according to our ideas, white hair is associated with elderly best dressed woman on the screen." In addition to wearing many of the notable creations in her own extensive and famous wardrobe, dresses, frocks, gowns and other garbs, mostly of her own designing, she wears gowns selected from among hundreds of offerings by world famous modistes. As one of the mannikins in the modiste establishment, the graceful and beautiful star appears in more different costumes in a given period than ever before.

MARRIES A MAN WITH A PAST

The average woman would not marry a man with a mysterious past which he refused to divulge. In "Pilgrims of the Night," the J. L. Frothingham Production for Associated Producers, pretty Kathleen Kirkham not only marries Lewis J. Stone but lived happily with him, never attempting to learn why her husband was once in exile. The picture, which will be shown at the Royal Theatre for the last time to-night is a rousing melodrama which never permits a moment of rest from the suspense aroused in the first reel. The male lead of the picture had good reason for shrouding himself in mystery and it was not until the police were close upon his trail that he revealed his past to his wife. He had been a criminal—but that's telling too much of the story.

PROTEST TO BE HEARD TOMORROW

Meeting at Port Hope to Settle Lindsay-Peterboro Dispute.

Lindsay has filed a defence against the protest entered by the Peterborough Club in regard to last week's game in Lindsay and the matter will be dealt with by the sub-committee of the Central League, who are to meet at the Queen's Hotel, Port Hope ,at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon to consider the question. The Port Hope Guide thinks that a meeting is unnecessary, that President Parsons should take the responsibility of ordering the game replayed.

PETERBORO MAN WAS NOSED OUT

Robert Abbott Gave His Opponent a Real Scare.

In the Ontario Golf Championships at Ancaster, Robert Abbott,, of this city, made a splendid showing, and particularly in view of the fact that it is about seven years since he was in fast company. He was one of thirty-two to enter the first round and was matched up against C. M. Turpin of the Royal Montreal Club. He was two up at the end of the 27th hole, but the strain he had been playing under in the competition was noticeable and Turpin led the field the rest of the way. Peterborough golfers say that Mr. Abbott played splendidly and his driving was superb.

WEDDING BELLS

McGILL—FAIR.

One of the most attractive weddings of the June season was that which took place Wednesday at St. John's chruch, Ida, when the Rev. Canon Allen officiated at the marriage of Sarah Evelyn Margaret Fair youngest daughter of Mr. Johnston Fair and the late Mrs. Johnston Fair, to Mr. Percy R. McGill, elder son of Mrs. Richard McGill of Janetville.

The church was tastefully decorated by the girl friends of the bride, with peonies, lilies and orange blossoms.

The bride was given away by her father and was attended by Miss Mahala McGill, Toronto, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Leonard McNeill, and little Miss Margaret Smith in Princess Mary blue organdie, as the flower girl.

Mr. Leonard Smith, Millbrook and Mr. Charles McNeill, Janetville, were in attendance as ushers.

The bride wore white embroidered silk crepe meteor with overdress of silver lace, and wore a beautiful veil, held with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and carnations.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of her uncle, Mr. John McNeill; a buffet luncheon was served, the rooms being artistically decorated in peonies, orange blossoms and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. McGill left at four o'clock on the C.P.R. train for Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue embroidered tricotine, with hat to match. They will reside at Janetville.

Millbrook News.

Mrs. T. Medd, of Peterborough, has returned to her former residence here for the summer months.

Rev. Mr. Stillwell, an Anglican clergyman, from Cincinnati, O., who is visiting friends at Uxbridge, and other points in Ontario, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. W. H. Byam, with whose family he was on terms of intimate friendship during his earlier years, before going to the States to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Bentley and Mr. and Mrs. H. Fallis, who were attending the I.O.O.F. Grand Lodge and the Rebekah Assembly for Ontario in Owen Sound, last week, going there by motor, returned on Sunday. There were about 1,000 delegates in attendance, and everything possible was done to make their stay enjoyable during the days while the sessions were in progress.

Mrs. J. W. Hamilton's appointment as District Deputy President for the Rebekah Lodges of the Peterborough District, was confirmed while the Provincial Assembly was in session.

Dr. C. G. McCallum, who was here for the double funeral of his wife and her mother, the late Mrs. H. Fee left for his home in Vancouver, Wash., T'y., on Tuesday, going via Chicago, and remaining a day with friends in Toronto on his journey. His son, Mr. Chas. McCallum, and sister-in-law, Mrs. T. Y. Blanton, are remaining for some time in the East visiting their many relatives and friends. They were all three guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Armstrong, South Monaghan, and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fallis and Mr. and Mrs. H. Ball, of Fallis' Line, over the week-end.

His many friends in the city will be glad to renew old acquaintances with him.

Last evening, between twenty-five and thirty of the friends of Miss Hermance Duranceau, whose marriage to Mr. Sylvio Dechantigny, of Montreal, takes place on Tuesday next, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wood, 286 Simcoe Street, in honour of the bride-elect. Miss Duranceau, who was presented with a number of dainty gifts, the prettily-decorated cart which contained them being wheeled in by little Philip Amys, acknowledged her friends' remembrances in a charming manner.

The house was prettily decorated with large bowls of field daisies, and a pleasant social evening was spent in games, music and dancing. A feature of the entertainment was the presentation to Miss Lyla Fitzpatrick, one of the guests, of a large bouquet of American Beauty roses, the gift of friends whom she has met during her stay here. Miss Fitzpatrick has been a member of the staff of the local Bank of Commerce, and is leaving shortly for her home in Smith's Falls.

THE CONFLICT POLICE DEPTS. STILL RAGING

High County Constable A. R. Moore Objects to the City Police Doing County Police Work.

STANDS ON RECORD

Peterborough, Ont., June 21, /22.
The Editor,
Peterborough Examiner,
City:-

Dear Sir,—On the front page of your issue of the 14th inst., you gave an account of the arrest of three Indians in connection with the breaking into of the summer cottages at Kawartha lakes last winter, and at the close of this item you make the following statement: "The agitation set up resulted in the Provincial and local authorities stepping in and going over the heads of the county officers in whose hands the case has rested since last fall in order to clean it up."

I wish to state most emphatically that the reference to me contained in the above quotation from your account is absolutely false and without any foundation and is a reflection upon me as High County Constable, which has no basis whatever in faht.

The real facts of this case are that in the latter part of March of this year I first heard a rumour of a cottage being broken into. I immediately looked into the matter, but could find no clues upon which to work. Later on a complaint came from Mr. and Mrs. Marshall of Toronto that their cottage had been broken into. Upon the complaint of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall I got out a search warrant and went up to Burleigh township, where I found some evidence which I considered warranted me in asking the Crown Attorney to take some action. I at once reported the matter to Mr. G. W. Hatton, Crown Attorney, but no action was taken. At no time since the police investigation two years ago have I received any assistance from either the Crown Attorney or the city police. The Crown Attorney taking no action in the matter, I arranged to meet Mr. Marshall on the 19th of May, who gave me what information he could. Mr. Marshall arranged to go back to his cottage for a few days to get what information he could, and it was then arranged that I should meet Mr. Marshall on his return, which I did, Mr. Strickland at that time being in the position of Acting Crown Attorney during the illness of Mr. Hatton. About the 7th of May Mr. Strickland sent for me to come to his office and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were also there. At Mr. Strickland's office it was agreed as to the form of information which could be drawn up by Mr .Strickland charging Russel Taylor with breaking into Mr. Marshall's cottage. Instead of Mr. Strickland going ahead with the information upon which it was agreed that I should arrest Mr. Taylor he wrote to the Provincial authorities stating to ther that I did not have the time to attend to this matter and asking them to send down a Provincial officer. There was absolutely no warrant for Mr. Strickland making this statement to the Provincial authorities as I not only had the time to attend to the matter, but had up to that time done everything in my power toward cleaning the matter up and making the arrest. Not being able to get the information from Mr. Strickland nothing was done by me until a couple of weeks later when

Seekers After Penetang Treasures May be Rewarded by Iron Bedstead

Dredge is Still Trying to Penetrate the Two Feet of Sand That Separate it From the Metallic Object Which May be Anything From a Boulder to a Piece of Junk.

PENETANG, June 22.—(Special).—This morning saw no changes in the treasure quest of the River Wye. The dredge continues to dredge, the hopers continue to hope, the watchers continue to watch, though in smaller numbers, and the hidden Jesuit chest of three centuries ago remains hidden.

The real mystery of the affair has become the two feet of sand which is supposed to be the sole remaining obstacle to the conclusion of the search. The two feet never change. The dredge was excavating at eighteen and a half feet last Sunday, and it was at that depth this morning. Sunday's probing revealed a metallic object believed to be the chest two feet below the river bottom. Repeated probing last night and this morning show the same two feet. And in the meantime the indefatigable dredge has chucked out something like five hundred cubic yards of sand, slime and sea weed. Where it goes to and where the eternal two feet come from no one knows.

The facts of the present situation are these: Further tests yesterday with the divining instrument indicate both gold and iron at one point in the centre of the dredging. Probing on the same spot with a twenty-foot steel rod shows a hard solid object buried in the mud. This seems to give a metallic sound when struck, and is believed to be the treasure chest. Your correspondent spent several minutes poking at it yesterday evening, and is of the impartial opinion that it may be anything from a boulder to an iron bedstead of last year's campers.

SUDBURY FIRE THREATENS TO DESTROY TOWN

Several Stores Wiped Out --Loss will be Heavy— Defective Wiring.

NOW UNDER CONTROL

SUDBURY, June 22.—(Special).—One of the most spectacular fires in the history of Sudbury is raging here now. Smith's furnishing store, Hagar's confectionery and Fulton's shoe store are in flames, with the firemen working to save the Federal Building and the Young Block, on either side. The blaze is in the very centre of the business section. Starting presumably from defective wiring in a small shed at the rear of the candy store, the fire spread with remarkable celerity. Mrs. Hagar and daughter were trapped in their apartment over the confectionery store and were rescued by firemen in the nick of time. The blaze was witnessed by an immense crowd.

The blaze was under control at 11 a.m., and the Federal Building was out of danger. The loss will run into the thousands, as nothing was saved from either of the three stores gutted.

DEATH TOLL IS NOW PLACED 19

Open Warfare Between Union Men and Sympathizers.

HERRIN, Ills., June 22.—(Canadian Press).—Nineteen are known to have been killed in the open warfare of union men and sympathizers with the employees of the Strip Mine men here of the Southern Illinois Coal Company. An incomplete check up showed sixteen non-union men and three union men dead. One of the non-union men was found hanging to a tree, his body riddled with bullets.

MONTREAL, June 22.—(Canadian Press).—The hearing to establish the mental status of Adelard Delorme, charged with the murder of his half-brother, Raoul, did not continue this morning on account of Judge Monet's indisposition. His Lordship took cold yesterday, which resulted in an early adjournment in the afternoon. The cold has reached his chest to-day.

CLAIM AGAINST RED ARROW TIRES

John E. Hayes and Son Plaintiffs in County Court Action.

In County Court this morning, Judge Huycke reserved judgment in a case under the Mechanics' Lien Act in which John E. Hayes & Son claimed $40,000 from the Red Arrow Tires and John Stockdale, the amount said to be due for work done on the building.

On the contract $120,500 plaintiffs claimed that only the sum of $11,000 had been received.

J. O'Brien appeared for plaintiffs, Peck, Kerr & McElderry are representing Red Arrow Tires, and C. R. Widdifield for John Stockdale.

Mr. Hayes referred to an agreement of Mr. Stockdale to pay him $6,500 in November to accept the contract, "as it would help the sale of stock." He never received this money, and he told Mr. Widdifield he hadn't much hopes of getting it now.

"You don't expect to receive it, as the building hasn't been completed," asked Mr. Widdifield.

"No."

Mr. Hayes said he ceased operations on 27th April, 1921. A meeting of the board of directors was held, and it was decided to pay him $10,000 a week for ten weeks to continue the work. He did, but he stopped work again when he did not receive any money.

A PERSISTENT RUMOR CHANGE FOR MINISTRY

Report Fielding Will Not Continue in Office—Gouin May Accept Finance.

BUREAU LEAVING

PRESS GALLERY, House of Commons, Ottawa, June 22. — Coincident with the honours accorded the Hon. W. S. Fielding, on the occasion of the fortieth anniversay of his entrance into public life, comes a revival of reports of Cabinet reconstruction shortly after the prorogation of the House.

Rumour persists that Mr. Fielding has presented his last Budget, that he desires to spend the twilight of a most active life under conditions less onerous than those imposed upon the Finance Minister.

Hon. D. D. Mackenzie awaits the call to the Bench, and the Hon. A. B. Copp will probably arrive there about the same time if the mortality rate among the Judges in the Maritime Provinces permits.

Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, is the fourth member of the Government whose happy personality is scheduled to recede from the ministerial benches ere the House assembles again. Mr. Bureau does not want anything. He came in to oblige and is said to cherish the hope that he may escape from patronage hunters and the maze of administrative detail.

Conjecture as to Mr. Fielding's successor is voluminous. Either the Hon. A. K. Maclean or E. M. Macdonald will be the new Nova Scotia representative in the Cabinet, if Mr. Fielding goes. If Mr. Mackenzie gets to the Bench they can both come in. Mr. Maclean has many backers for the finance portfollo.

Walter Mitchell, of St. Anns Division of Montreal, is mentioned as a possibility, but not as frequently now as he was four months ago.

If the reconstruction does take place, it will not be surprising to see a general shifting of portfolios, with the possibility of Sir Lomer Gouin going to the Finance Ministry, and the Hon. Ernest Lapointe to the Ministry of Justice, thus leaving the Ministry of Customs, and of Fisheries, the Department of State and the Solicitor-Generalship open for the new Ministers.

YAP TREATY APPROVED.

TOKIO, June 22 (Canadian Press) —The Yap Treaty with the United States was approved by the Privy Council and the Japanese Prince Regent to-day. The Treaty fixes the rights of each nation in the island, which is under Japanese mandate.

PROPOSED CUTS ON RAILROADS

Five to Nine Cents Per Hour Reduction For Men on Canadian Railways.

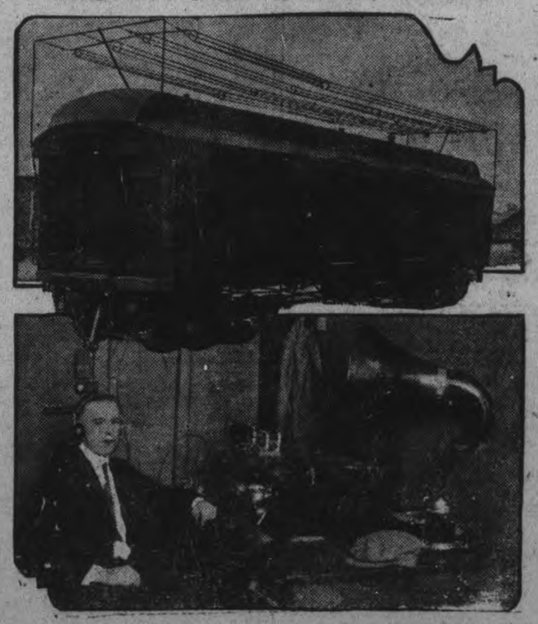
MONTREAL, June 22.—(Special) —The federated trades on Canadian railroads have received notice of a proposed cut in wages ranging from five to nine cents per hour. The cut follows the lines of the United States award. While the notices have reached the headquarters of the union at Winnipeg, intimation of the proposed cut has not yet reached local union officials. Strong opposition to any cut in wages is expressed in railway brotherhood circles in Montreal, and the opinion given by prominent union officials is that a strike action will follow any enforcement of wage reduction. This view was recently expressed by Frank McKenna, vice-president in Canada of the Railway Carmen of America, and was reiterated to-day by a prominent union official for the federated trades.

Up to date the groups receiving notification of proposed cuts are the maintenance of way men and the federated trades. It is understood the reductions are subject to negotiations.

NORTH WARD VANDALS WILL BE APPREHENDED

A certain garden in the north end of the city, planted with care by successive owners who have finally achieved one of the prettiest flower-centers in the city, has been left untenanted for awhile, as its owner is out of town. But the place was left in the care of a friend, whose watchful eye has marked of late the inroads on the beautiful beds made by careless feet and rough hands. These loved flowers are not cut carefully off; they are pulled up by the roots, a process which makes it impossible for the strongest plants to survive. To be haled before a magistrate for such vandalism would not be a welcome fate to these children, who are known and probably a "word to the wise" may effect a little change in the practice.

DISPATCHING BY RADIO



RADIO SET ON TRAIN. ABOVE, CAR SHOWING ANTENNA SYSTEM. BELOW, H. S. RICHARDS, RADIO OPERATOR, AT THE SET.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Radio for train dispatching, as well as entertainment of passengers, has gained another notch toward its adoption by the railroads.

A test has just been completed by the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad at this point, which officials say has gone farther than the recent experimenas made by engineers of other railroads in the east and west.

A regenerative receiving set with four stages of amplification and a loud speaker was set up in the baggage car of Frisco train No. 9 at Oklahoma City and was "worked" while the train was on its way to Lawton, a distance of 100 miles. A 100-watt transmitter was included. The aerial consisted of a four-wire cage antenna strung along the top of the car.

Storm No Barrier.

For the whole length of 100 miles, clear communication was maintained with station WKY Oklahoma City. This, in spite of a severe electrical storm around Mustang. The signals and music almost drowned out the static encountered.

The significance of this test, according to J. H. Brennan, superintendent of telegraph of the Frisco lines, lies in the fact that radio communication on a railroad train was maintained for a greater distance than ever before.

According to Brennan, the Lackawanna and other roads which have been conducting similar experiments, have been unable so far to cover as great a distance with their radio installations.

Further tests are being planned, with the view of using the train radio for sending and receiving dispatches, besides entertaining the passengers.

MAY'S SCHOOL ORGANIZATION HELD MEETING

Mrs. W. R. Morris Gave an Address on Technical Education—Officers Elected.

A GOOD MEETING

The last meeting this season of the May School Home and School Association was held in May's school. The meeting opened with prayer, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll called by the secretary. The officers for the coming year were then elected:

President—Mrs. John Barnes.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. R. Pearson.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. C. Porter.
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. K. Denoon.
Social Committee Convenor —Mrs. McCormick.
Relief Committee Convenor—Mrs. Houghton.
Programme Committee Convenor —Miss M. Gardiner.
Visiting Committee Convenor — Mrs. McKinstry.

Mrs. Pearson, on behalf of the Association, thanked Mrs. Moore for the faithfulness with which she had filled the office of president during the last year.

After the business of the Association had been dismissed, Mrs. W. R. Morris gave a short address on "Technical Education and the Adolescent School Act."

Although the Adolescent School Act had been spoken of before the war, it was not until 1919 that the first provisions of it were proclaimed, and advertised widely.

Adolescent Act.

The Act is divided into three sections:

(1) The Act raised the compulsory age limit from 14 to 16 years. This provision is now in force and children must attend school till they have reached the age of 16 years.

The only reasons for exemption from this provision are:

(a) The child's wages are needed badly at home.

(b) The child's services are needed at home (as in the case of an invalid mother.)

(c) The child has reached a standard of education equal nearly to 2nd year High school.

Before leaving school, however, for any of the above reasons, a permit must be obtained.

2. Children who are given exemption permits must put in 400 hours per year, day time work, in school time.

3. Children of 16 to 18 years old (whether working or not), unless they have reached that point of education set by the law, must put in 320 hours per year in evening classes. There is some discussion of raising this to 400 hours per year.

This Act has been enforced in England for some time. A Commission of Education, under Lord Fisher, inquired into educational conditions existing amongst children. The result was the Fisher Act, and so far it has proved a wonderful success.

This Adolescent Act has been enforced in the United States with success, so that it is really not a new fad, but a well proved educational movement.

Technical Education.

Year after year our universities are filled with those who would be lawyers, clergymen, teachers, doctors, etc. But the world could not keep going if there were not some who could handle the raw materials and turn them into finished products. Therefore we must have laborers, machinists, electricians, etc. Technical education is suited to help boys and girls 14 to 16 years old; to give them a knowledge of some trade, carpentering, care of machinery, millinery, chemistry of foods, cooking, etc., that will help them to earn a decent wage, and to give them, at the same time, academic training.

It is not to be expected, that any technical school will turn out your boy or girl as a trained worker. Only the fundamental principles of the trade which they choose will be given. But this fundamental training makes them of some value to their employer and when slack times come there is not so much chance of them finding themselves out of work. The community in which the technical school is built determines to a large etxent what the school shall teach. So that, by studying the things that will be useful in one's own community, there will be no need to find a position away from home. It is cheaper to build Technical schools than Public schools.

In closing Mrs. Morris stated that she felt confident that this movement was on the verge of being the biggest movement in education so far.

On behalf of the Association, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. J. Barnes thanked Mrs. Morris for her instructive address. This is a question which has puzzled many of the mothers, and therefore Mrs. Morris' timely address was much appreciated.

After the address, the ladies served light refreshments, and spent a pleasant social hour.

DANCE AT LAKEFIELD.

A SPECIAL DANCE AT LAKEFIELD PAVILION ON FRIDAY, JUNE 23RD. PAUL GLIDDON'S 4-PIECE ORCHESTRA. 4d147 4010

LOCAL BEEKEEPERS HAD GOOD MEETING

The renewed interest in the beekeeping industry in this district was evident at the demonstration held at the apiary of William Telford, Bridgenorth, yesterday afternoon, which was attended by a large number of beekeepers from different sections of the county. The demonstration was held by the county association and the lecture of Professor Millen of Guelph Agricultural College was of particular interest. Professor Millen discussed the dread disease that assails the honey bees known as foul brood and pointed out the treatment to be given when the disease is first noticed. Ernest Telford also spoke on this subject and James Thompson, Otonabee, a bee inspector added his knowledge of the condition. William Telford demonstrated the making of bee houses and T. Shields and Allan Brown discussed other phases of the industry. It was the first occasion such a demonstration has been held at Bridgenorth.

FIELD MARSHAL WILSON KILLED

Two Men Arrested—General Was Struck by Two Bullets.

LONDON, June 22 (Canadian Press). — Field-Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, former Chief of the British Imperial General Staff, and lately Military Adviser to the Ulster Government, was assassinated to-day near the door of his home in Eaton Place, London.

Two men fired upon the Field-Marshal as he was alighting from an automobile after attending a war memorial unveiling, where he delivered a speech.

Struck by two bullets, he staggered and fell.

He was carried into his house, where he died shortly afterwards, and before the arrival of physicians who were summoned.

The two assassins fled, closely pursued by the police, who had been guarding the Field-Marshal on the information that his life was likely to be attempted.

Both men were captured. One of them is reported to have attempted to commit suicide and to have inflicted serious injuries upon himself with his own revolver.

Their names were given as Connolly and McBrien.

Lady Wilson was in the dining-room when she heard the shot. She ran out to the street, and was horrified to find her husband prostrate on the pavement.

With the assistance of two labourers, a butler carried him into the house.

Lady Wilson threw herself on the body, and kissed her husband, exclaiming:

"You have died a soldier's death; God will be merciful to you."

The arrested men gave their names as James O'Brien, aged 24, no occupation, no address, and James Connelly, aged 24, no occupation, no address.

A Brilliant Record.

Field-Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was formerly Chief of the Imperial General Staff of the British Army. He retired from this post early in the present year, and stood for the Imperial Parliament as Unionist candidate for North Down, Ireland.

He was elected member for this Ulster district on 21st February, and shortly afterwards was appointed by Premier Craig as Ulster's prime agent for the restoration of order.

The Field-Marshal went to Belfast from England early in March with plans for the restoring of order.

Field-Marshal Wilson delivered a speech at Liverpool Street Station in the city this morning in connection with the unveiling of a war memorial. Apparently he had just returned home when the tragedy occurred.

PROVOKE REPRISALS.

BELFAST, June 22 (Canadian Press). — The news of the assassination of Field-Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson created a sensation in Belfast to-day, where it was feared it will provoke reprisals.

Sinn Feiners are popularly blamed for it.

HASTINGS CASE WAS DISMISSED

Court Decides it is Against Law to Step From Moving Train.

TORONTO, June 22.—The travelling public will be interested to know that in addition to being decidedly dangerous it is against the law to step from a moving train.

This fact was brought out by the decision of the Appellate Division Court when an appeal was allowed the Grand Trunk Railway from the decision of Judge Huycke and jury in awarding $175 damages to Mrs. E. M. Hill, of the village of Hastings.

Her action was dismissed with costs.

VILLAGES NOT INCLUDED IN ROAD SYSTEM

Solicitor's Opinion Will Relieve Them From Payment of the County Road Tax—Warden Gratified.

A LONG DEBATE

The opinion of Mr. A. E. Peck, solicitor of the County Council, that the villages of Norwood, Lakefield and Havelock were not included in the county roads system ended a long debate during the Wednesday afternoon session of the County Roads Committee. Obviously the chief effect of this interpretation and advice is the relief of the villages from paying the special tax levy for the construction and maintenance of the roads in the county group. The tax rate this year is three mills, but Warden Strickland hinted in the course of his objections that he saw visions of increasing rates, and he said he was not concerned alone about the present.

"You pledged yourselves to hand us back the three mills," said the Warden, "and we've been depending on that. We were quite satisfied with the way this was handled last year."

"We ought to have an interpretation of this," Reeve Rye suggested. "If you weren't in the county system there were no grounds for making any pledge."

Warden Strickland proposed a resolution that the Council be asked for the same conditions as last year, and that the rate be not struck on the villages. "We've already spent our money. Next January we can decide for that year."

"Why should we in Lakefield carry an additional burden of outside roads," he continued. "It has cost us $3,000 on our roads this year. We put up an oil-tank and we have a car of oil coming. We prefer to do this work ourselves. We're not asking the county to pay one cent on our roads."

Reeve Eason—If it's our road you'd better let us spend the money on it.

The road in question is a connecting link in Lakefield of a county road.

"Why should you ask us to pay our money into the system and spend none of it on our roads?" the Warden asked.

Mr. Eason suggested that the Warden should take a broader view of the county roads scheme. Otonabee would be satisfied to take care of its own roads without any cost to the other municipalities.

"What good would be your roads in Lakefield if there was a bog hole between there and Peterborough?" he asked.

It appeared that in the formation of the local good roads group of townships the villages were included by resolution, but in so far as the by-law went they were omitted. "I had it in mind," he said, "that you couldn't include the villages."

Warden Strickland said that in some municipalities the charge for county roads amounted to as high as eleven mills. In Peterborough it was now three mills, and in the event of it increasing the villages would be called upon to pay a tax that would more than cover the cost of the work done within their boundaries.

"I'll sleep easier to-night," said the Warden, who said that if Lakefield was not legally in the good roads group he would stand suit before he would pay the special road tax.

THE CONFLICT

Mr. Hatton phoned me to come over to his place stating to me that Mr. and Mrs. Marshall had been complaining to the Provincial authorities that nothing had been done. I myself told Mr. and Mrs. Marshall to complain to the Provincial authorities that I was receiving no assistance from the local authorities here. The next day I understand that Chief Newhall and Inspector Boyd went back to Burleigh. I can prove beyond all question that I would have cleaned up this matter long before it was cleaned up if I had been given the assistance to which I was entitled by the Crown Attorney here. I did not need any assistance from the city police, and there was no need whatever of the city police taking any part in the matter.

Since the police investigation two years ago when I apparently offended the local authorities here by telling the truth in the witness box, I have had my rights infringed upon time and again and been subjected to the humiliation of the police here interfering with my work and jumping over my head to do things which I was quite capable of doing myself. The police have seemed to take a pleasure right straight along in trying to edge in on my work and if they receieve any information with regard to county work, instead of passing the same to me as was their duty, they would go out and do the work themselves for no other reason than to cause me some humiliation. When the young Edwards boy was found by Mr. Puffer, the Norwood constable, communicated with Chief Newhall here, who should then have communicated with me. Instead of that I received no notification whatever and the city police butted in on my work without any necessity. If the Chief himself would also like to have my position as well as his own let him apply to the County Council and if they are willing to give him the position I will be only too glad to let him have it.

I am absolutely prepared to have a full investigation made into my work here as High County Constable. I can prove beyond question that I am quite capable of doing the work. I can also prove beyond any question that I have received no assistance from the Crown Attorney here for the last two years. I will prove, too, to the satisfaction of everybody concerned, that the Chief of Police here has interfered with my work in every conceivable manner since the time of the police investigation and it will give the greatest possible pleasure to have everything connected with all these matters brought to the light so that the public can judge for themselves.

I have been a constable in the county for the last thirty-five years and am prepared to stand upon my record.

You will please give this letter the same prominence given to your article of the 14th inst.

Yours truly,
ARCHIE R. MOORE.

CITY HALL PICNIC.

Large Number Went to Gore's Landing To-Day For Annual Event.

The City Hall staff held their annual picnic this afternoon, travelling by motor to Gore's Landing, where supper will be served and sports held. Early in the afternoon the City Buildings seethed with unusual activity as the various parties made ready. Staid officials were noticed tinkering with grease cups and oil cans, and the drivers were evidently not going to take any chances on getting stranded. A large representation was expected, and in view of the favorable weather a splendid time was anticipated.

G. K. FRASER RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF TRENT ASSN.

Plans Are Formulated For Systematic Advertising of the Trent Valley.

TO HANDLE FREIGHT.

LINDSAY, June 22.—The annual meeting of the Trent Waterway Development Association was held in Elsmure Hotel to-day with twenty representatives present from points along the canal. The Lindsay Board of Trade tendered the delegates a banquet at which His Worship Mayor O'Reilly tendered those present a civic welcome.

The President's annual report told the story of a year of splendid activity in advertising the waterway, especially on U. S. centres.

The election of officers resulted in re-election as follows: Hon. President, Senator Bennett, Midland; President, S. K. Fraser, Peterborough; 1st Vice-President, F. D. Kerr, Peterborough; 2nd Vice-President, J. C. Miller, Orillia; Secretary-Treasurer, L. Frazer, Peterborough.

The chief item of discussion was plans for a more systematic and effective publicity campaign with a view to reaching out for a larger share of the summer tourist business—improvements along routes of waterway by proper lighting, at points of interest, billboards or signs advertising centres and giving all necessary information to tourists. Suggestions bodied will be carried into effect by the different centres along the waterway as a result of the discussion.

Secretary Overend of the Orillia Board of Trade, gathered a resolution memorializing the Department of Railways and Canals to instal larger cages on the Marine Railway at Big Chute and Swift Rapids on the northern section of Canada.

Mr. F. D. Kerr introduced a resolution of thanks to members of the Federal House in the district for efforts put forth in the interests of the development of waterways.

Mr. St. George, Bobcaygeon, spoke on the possibilities of the waterway as an avenue for handling freight. He had been in correspondence with American interests relative to traffic by barges through canal and instanced the shipment of pulpwood as an important item. He promised to submit a complete report to the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary L. Frazer read a communication from the Minister of Railways and Canals relative to charts of waterways. A resolution was passed memorializing the department to complete charts under contemplation immediately. Secretary Frazer further reported that an excellent chart of the lower stretch of the canal had been widely and effectively distributed. Results from distribution had been most satisfactory.

Mayor Meyers, Campbellford, extended an invitation to the association to meet in Campbellford next year. The invitation was accepted.

Aldermen Jones and Morrison, representing the Peterborough City Council, in brief addresses referred to the splendid work done by the association.

PRIEST DROPPED DEAD AT PRAYER.

WINDSOR, Ont., June 22.—Kneeling in prayer at Assumption Church at Sandwich, shortly after 7.30 o'clock yesterday morning, Rev. Father F. Semande, C.S.B., assistant pastor at the church, was heard by members of the congregation to utter a groan and seen to fall over—dead

Death was due to heart disease. He was carried into the parish house, where life was found to be extinct.

Father Semande had been ailing for about two months. He was born in Loiselleville, near here, 67 years ago, and was one of the oldest members of the Community of St Basil.

STILL SEARCHING BOTTOM OF WYE FOR BURIED GOLD

Hole 104 Feet Across Has Been Dug—Treasure Just a Little Further Down.

A MUSEUM.

MIDLAND, June 22.— At noon yesterday the old dredge Baltic had moved some 2,000 cubic yards of Wye River bottom in the effort to locate treasure supposed to be relics of the early Jesuit regime at Fort St. Marie.

The shifting of the silt with the current make predictions on the part of the dredgers difficult, but some result is expected to-day or to-morrow. It was first thought a hole of a diameter of 75 feet would be sufficient to allow for a natural slope to the buried object. The hole now has a diameter of 104 feet, and the chest, or whatever it is, still remains a couple of feet below the excavation.

The Historical Society formed here Tuesday evening decided on immediate steps to secure a museum to house any relics that might be found and whatever other curiosities may be available. The present search is being conducted on practically the borders of the town.

It is understood that James Play fair, who owns the site of old Fort Ste. Marie and who is interested in practically all the town's large industries, as well as the Thirty Thouand Island Transportation Company, has a plan for restoring this ruin which was once the bulwark of France in these regions and creating the ground around it into a park.

OXFORD WINS AT TENNIS.

OXFORD, England, June 22.—(Canadian Press.)—Oxford defeated Cambridge in the singles of the Inter-Varsity Lawn Tennis tournament here yesterday. The Oxford players won six games to the three scored by Cambridge.

DELORME KNEW WAY TO CHURCH AND THEATRE

Frequented Notorious Burlesque Theatre While a Student in Theology.

WOMEN EXCLUDED.

MONTREAL, June 22.—(Canadian Press.)—Adelard Delorme, the ex-priest under charge of murder of his half brother Raoul here last January, when a student in theology and on vaaction in Montreal, told one of his fellow students that "he knew the way to Theatre Royal as well as he did the way to church." The Theatre Royal was a notorious burlesque theatre here which was eventually closed by the police. Arthur Leveille, member of the same school class as Delorme, so testified at yesterday afternoon's proceedings at the Delorme inquiry concluding at the King's Bench Court here yesterday afternoon.

The women, who were excluded from the morning hearing, took advantage of the court officials' absence at lunch, to regain their seats in the afternoon. They were again excluded.

Mr. Leveille went into details concerning Delorme's life at the theology college they both attended. He said the ex-priest was a poor student, though gifted with a good memory, whilst his good conduct enabled him to get through the college.

Mr. Justice Monette, counsel for the defence, stated at the close of the hearing yesterday afternoon that he had finished the proof as to Delorme's mental inability to stand trial except as regards the testimony of alienists who would be called today and the court adjourned.

LORD BYNG AT BRANDON.

BRANDON, Man., June 22. (Canadian Press.) — Brandon yesterday honored the Governor-General and Lady Byng upon their first visit to this city. Their excellencies, Lady Boscawan, and the members of the Vice-Regal party were met at the station by Mayor Catorf, following which a civic welcome was extended at the City Hall.

CONSERVATIVES AT WARKWORTH NOMINATED REV. J. F. B. BELFORD

East Northumberland Convention Animated By Determination to Regain the Riding in Provincial Arena and Re-assert Conservative Principles.

Was Largely Attended.

WARKWORTH, June 21.—Adopting a policy of preparedness, East Northumberland Liberal-Conservatives met in convention here this afternoon and nominated Rev. J. F. B. Belford of Brighton, an Anglican clergyman, to carry the Conservative standard in the riding in the Provincial election which some expect to take place this year, although the majority do not look for until the Drury Government finishes its term next year. Speakers whipped up the ranks, officers were elected and the Conservative house set in order generally for the next battle at the polls.

The convention held in the Town Hall was attended by upwards of three hundred representatives from all parts of the riding. The section along the front was particularly well represented, and the candidate is assured of strong support in that section, where he is a popular minister and farmer. The meeting was not prolonged and was marked by the sincerity of the delegates to get the Conservative forces strongly organized. In a little over two hours after the convention was called to order the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

The last convention was held June 25th, 1919, when Alex. Hume of Seymour Township, who was defeated by Wesley Montgomery of Brighton by 35 votes, was nominated. At the meeting yesterday the association took the responsibility for the loss of the riding through over-confidence, but Mr. Hume said if anyone should take the responsibility it was himself. Rev. Belford is confident of being elected at the next contest, and Sam. J. Nesbitt, ex-M.P.P., of Brighton, whose predictions had, he said, with the exception of the time he under-estimated C. A. Munson's vote, been invariably correct, gave him a majority of from 1,000 to 1,500.

Officers Elected.

President James Armstrong, Warkworth, opened the convention by urging that a new president be elected. "Don't elect a man because he's a jolly good fellow, but elect him because he can work," he said. He declared that in the last election Alex. Hume would have been elected had the organization not fallen down. In the absence of Secretary H. L. Walker, P. S. Ewing of Warkworth was appointed pro tem, and the election of officers proceeded. The results were:

President—Reeve George Van Volkenburg, Seymour Township. Nominated by Alex. Hume, seconded by S. G. M. Nesbitt.

Vice-President—Mrs. William Vincent, Brighton. Nominated by James Armstrong, second by Mr. Nesbitt.

Secretary-Treasurer—H. L. Walker, Warkworth.

President Van Volkenburg in a brief address pressed home the thought that he would expect every Conservative to work, and if they did he felt success was assured.

The Nominations.

There were five nominated for the candidacy as follows:

Rev. J. F. B. Belford—Nominated by Samuel McCall, township of Brighton, and Dr. J. N. Richards, Warkworth.

Alex. Hume—Nominated by Norman Masson, Seymour, and C. Davidson, Campbellford.

Warden Harry B. Phillips of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham and President of the county Liberal-Conservative Association—Nominated by George Dunnett and A. Thorne of the township of Brighton.

Dr. J. R. Hancock, Colborne—Nominated by S. Goodrich, township of Cramahe, and R. Snetchinger, Colborne.

Sam. G. M. Nesbitt, Brighton—Nominated by George Sorrell, township of Brighton, and A. R. McMaster, township of Brighton.

Warden Phillips, Dr. Hancock and Mr. Nesbitt declined to stand, but Alex. Hume said he desired his name to go before the meeting. "If anyone was to blame in the last election it was me," he said. "We worked along quietly instead of going at it for all we were worth. If I've been beaten I don't like to stay beaten, and I'd like to have my name placed before the convention. At any rate, whoever is nominated will get my support," he said.

Unanimous Choice.

The meeting was divided on having a standing vote between Mr. Hume and Rev. Belford or taking a strict vote of the delegates. To clear the air Sam. Nesbitt of Bethany suggested a standing vote, and it went overwhelmingly for the clergyman. Mr. Hume showed a fine sporting spirit in at once moving that Rev. Belford be the unanimous choice of the convention, which was seconded by Dr. W. E. Wilson of Hastings. Rev. Belford was given an ovation that threatened to bring down the ancient Town Hall when he took the platform for the second time, acknowledging the tribute to his ability and popularity.

Sam. Nesbitt in his five-minute address commended Rev. Belford to the delegates. He was an outstanding man in the community, he said, and his agricultural connections must be taken into consideration, for Mr. Nesbitt was of the opinion that the Progressive movement must be combatted by putting in farmer candidates. He declared he would not give his support to any Tory whose coat was of changeable colors. He stood for the Toryism, he said, wherein personal animosities were submerged for the sake of the party. He predicted a larger majority for the Conservative candidate in the next Provincial election than in any election outside of the war issue that gave C. A. Munson a majority of 3,500.

"I assure you I appreciate the kindly way you have treated me since I've come amongst you and I appreciate the confidence you have shown in nominating me", said Rev. Belford. "If I take it up there'll be no doubt about the issue. A Tory will be elected no matter who else is in the field—Liberal, U.F.O. or anyone. Surely we've had enough of the sort of thing that's been going on in Toronto. We're not only going to carry East Northumberland but we're going to carry the rest of Ontario. (Applause). After the war at polls last time he said people "were thinking strange thoughts and doing strange things." The next election he characterized as a cyclone to sweep out the "encumberances now in office."

No Antipathetic to U.F.O.

"I've got no personal antipathy to the U.F.O." he said. "The U. F.O. is composed of men of good intentions. Other things have been built on good intentions. They told you the patronage system was going to be done away with along with all the other so-called evils of the two party system. They told you a new reign was going to be ushered in by the U.F.O. The patronage system didn't die out. We had more appointments than the Liberals or Conservatives would have ever dared to make."

"I charge the U.F.O. with establishing a sectional government" said Rev. Belford and he went on to maintain that Western Ontario had benefitted more from government than Eastern Ontario. "I was up in St. Mary's which is Hon. Peter Smith's town and asked where he lived. They said just take the cement road. It ends at his place. That's the way with all the U.F.O. cabinet ministers—the cement roads end at their places," declared the nominated candidate.

Rev. Belford charged the U.F.O. with being extravagant in their conceptions of their ability and extravagant in the administration of people's money. Instead of building roads within their means they launched into immense schemes and in all conduct of affairs if it had not been for the counsel and curbing tendency of Oppostion, affairs, said the speaker would have been in a hopeless muddle. They had endeavored to govern without ability or experience and "it is time we had a real government" said Rev. Belford.

Sees Strenous Campaign.

Warden Harry Philips congratulated the association on its election of officers. "I believe it will be a severe campaign and every effort must be put forth" he said. "It is not my intention to allow my name to stand but it is my intention to support however is nominated. So long as you allow me to be a private in the ranks Harry Phillips will be satisfied." The speaker referred to the showing made by M. E. Maybee in the Dominion contest and he commended the organizing ability of I. A. Humphries of Campbellford as largely responsible for the victory. He was confident of success in the Provincial battle and in his remarks paid a warm tribute to the pioneer work of staunch Conservatives of the riding, four of whom have gone to their rest: Edward Cochrane, Dr. Willoughby, C. S. Owen H. J. Walker, C. A Munson, M. E. Maybee and S. G. M. Nesbitt. He suggested and action was taken to express the condolence of the association to the widow of the late C. A. Munson, Ex-M.P. in her loss.

London Gives the Prince A Royal Welcome Home

IN TRIUMPH

LONDON, June 22. (Canadian Press.) — England gave an affectionate and joyous welcome to the Prince of Wales upon his return yesterday afternoon from his third Imperial tour of the world.

London, which he left eight months ago, greeted him with a fervor and a spontaneity befitting a royal ambassador of the Empire returning from a series of diplomatic triumphs.

Throughout his half hour ride from Paddington Station to Buckingham Palace, the Prince was acclaimed by jubilant multitudes, who showered upon him salutations of affection and loyalty.

Although he had been the recipient of endless stirring ovations on previous occasions, the Prince was profoundly affected by London's ringing welcome, his pride and gratitude showing through tears of joy.

His reception by London's millions was exceeded in depth and emotion only by the ardent family greeting when he stepped from the train. The King grasped him by both hands, and the Queen embraced him with motherly affection. Princess Mary, who was married during his absence, disregarding royal decorum, threw both arms around him and hugged him. Dowager Queen Alexandra and other relatives then embraced him.

The Prince's greeting to Viscount Lascelles, whom he met for the first time consisted of a formal handshake with no effort at conversation.

Observing the Prime Minister among the group of Cabinet members, generals and ambassadors, the Prince advanced rapidly and greeted him effusively, Mr. Lloyd George returning the salutations with vigorous congratulations at the success of the Prince's tour.

After the Prince had shaken hands with the members of the Cabinet and inspected the guards of honor with the King, a choir in the station sang "God Bless the Prince of Wales," the tuneful strains of the popular melody resounding throughout the great glass-covered railroad terminal. The Prince then entered an open carriage with the King and his two brothers.

The formal official welcome being ended, it was now the turn for the people's welcome which came a few minutes later, when the Prince seated at the left of his father and opposite the Duke of York and Prince Henry, emerged from the station.

Rounds of cheers went up from the thousands who had lined the route to Buckingham palace since early in the morning. Along Edgewear Road, under the marble arch, across Hyde Park and down Constitution Hill to the Palace, the cheers were taken up with an eagerness and vigor that proved how glad and thankful Londoners were to have their Prince back again. The Queen had hurried to the Palace from the station to welcome her son home.

Bronze-faced and fresh looking the Prince wore a serious expression at first but this soon softened into an all-engaging smile when the public thundered its welcome. His state landau was followed by a procession of Cabinet members, generals, admirals, high colonial officials, and his personal entourage in carriages and automobiles.

London had donned her gayest raiment for the memorable occasion, the city was a forest of flags and decorations, the three feathers of the Prince being the pervading symbol.

So as to give the public the fullest view of the royal idol there were no troops along the route, but 7000 policemen preserved order and kept the lines of traffic open. When the the Prince arrived at the Palace an even more intimate greeting was given him by the members of his family, his other and sister hugging him and beaming with joy and thanksgiving at his safe return. A great banquet was given in his honor last night.

The King issued the following message from Buckingham Palace—

"The Queen and I are greatly touched at to-days' remarkable demonstration; our joy in welcoming our dear son was increased by the affection and enthusiasm of his reception from the vast crowds assembled to greet him. He has safely returned from a long and responsible tour, and I am confident that my people share in our humble thanks to God for this happy and memorable day."

Dish Towels and Aprons
Let Them Soak Clean in Rinso.

THEY should be CLEAN, shouldn't they, all those kitchen things—aprons, towels, dusters, wash cloths etc.? But there are so many and you are so tired! Alright, let Rinso wash them. It will—every stain and speck of dirt will rinse away after a good soaking in the cleansing Rinso suds.

Rinso is the new modern method for the family wash—but use it properly—do not pour the Rinso direct from package to tub—make the Rinso solution first as per directions on the package. Then it guarantees wonderful results.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE

Soak your clothes in the Rinso suds as usual—for one hour, two hours, overnight, or as long as convenient, add more Rinso solution and work the machine. Rinse thoroughly and dry—you will have a clean, sweet, snow-white wash.

REDISTRIBUTION.

There does not seem much ground for the worry expressed by a number of western newspapers as to the delay of the Dominion Government in taking up the question of redistribution. The west, of course, is entitled to larger representation in Parliament, but there is no particular need of hurry in the matter, and especially of endeavouring to have redistribution dealt with during the present session. It will have to come before there is another election, of course, but at the present time there is no indication of such an event taking place, nor is there any evidence that any of the political parties want an election just now. The Government, however, should not delay the matter of redistribution too long. It should form part of the programme for the next session of the House so that the new alignment of seats can be made before there is any possibility of a general appeal to the electors. An election without redistribution first would be a political crime, of which there is little chance of the Government being guilty, and so far as can be seen now, the anxiety of the west, while not, of course, difficult to understand, is nevertheless unnecessary.
